KHD HUMBOLDT WEDAG INTERNATIONAL LTD.
APPOINTS JOUNI SALO CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

HONG KONG (April 13, 2009) . . . KHD Humboldt Wedag International Ltd (NYSE:KHD) announced today that its Board of Directors has appointed Chief Operating Officer ("COO"), Jouni Salo, 49, to be the Company's President and Chief Executive Officer. Our new CEO will be located at the Company's headquarters in Vienna, to enable a more collegial relationship among top managers, most of whom have been located in Vienna for over a year. Mr Salo, who was appointed President of the Company's Cement Division in 2008, has been serving as COO since November 2008. He replaces Jim Busche who left to pursue other interests.

Michael J Smith, Chairman of the Board of Directors said, "Jouni Salo has been a strong driver of our core cement operations, and has a sense of vision and opportunity that we think will serve KHD and our shareholders well in these difficult times. In addition to the expense-cutting and cash-maximizing steps that we announced recently and that were discussed on our recent conference call, Jouni will be leading the Company into the future with proactive steps to address the changes in the economic environment and in our markets. Although the overall demand for greenfield capital equipment may have decreased, we see opportunity in refocusing on our well-established cement business, which has many decades of local relationships in economies around the world, including in Russia and central Asia, southeast Asia, the Middle East, North Africa, and the Indian subcontinent. The population of KHD equipment globally is quite substantial, and we are placing a renewed emphasis on helping existing customers to expand in their current locations, to clean up their operations environmentally, and to maximize output at a time when global stimulus programs are likely to be consumers of cement. We will also be dedicating resources to significantly expand the service segment."
