On August 21, 2013, Mr. Blake entered into an agreement with the Company (the “Blake Agreement”) whereby, at the effective time of Mr. Blake’s resignation and subject to his execution of a general release of claims, Mr. Blake will be entitled to receive certain benefits including a 10-month pro rata cash payment related to a bonus for which he is eligible under our Management Performance Incentive Plan for 2013; continued coverage for medical benefits under the Company’s health care plan for active employees up through December 31, 2013 or earlier if Mr. Blake fails to pay his share of the coverage costs; 18 months of Company-paid COBRA benefits; and 18 months of outplacement services. Under the Brlas Agreement, in exchange for Ms. Brlas’s execution of a general release of claims, Ms. Brlas is entitled to receive certain benefits, including a cash payment equal to the sum of two years of base salary and incentive bonus at target; an additional cash payment related to the bonus for which she is eligible under our Executive Management Performance Incentive Plan for 2013, which shall not be pro rata; continued coverage for medical benefits for Ms. Brlas and her family under the Company’s health care plan for active employees up to the earlier of the second anniversary of her retirement, she fails to pay her share of the coverage costs or her death; and 24 months of outplacement services.
