Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure - News Release

IntelGenx Corp. (“IntelGenx”) today announced that the United States District Court of Delaware has dismissed the lawsuit against IntelGenx that was initiated by Biovail Laboratories International SLR (“Biovail”) in August 2009.

The dismissal of the litigation follows IntelGenx’ previous announcement on January 4th, 2011 that the court had ruled in favor of IntelGenx regarding claim construction for the two patent terms at issue in the patent infringement action brought forward by Biovail under the Drug Price Competition and Patent Term Restoration Act (“Hatch-Waxman Act”). The ruling arose from a special proceeding required under U.S. patent law called a “Markman Hearing” where both sides presented to the court their arguments on how they believed the patent terms at issue should be interpreted. Subsequent to the ruling on the Markman Hearing, Biovail agreed to dismissal of the action.

IntelGenx Announces Dismissal of Patent Litigation Relating To Its Once Daily High Dose 450 mg Bupropion Hydrochloride Tablet

SAINT LAURENT, QUEBEC--(Marketwire – February 03, 2011) - IntelGenx Corp. (TSX VENTURE: IGX) (OTCBB: IGXT) (“IntelGenx”) today announced that the United States District Court of Delaware has dismissed the lawsuit against IntelGenx that was initiated by Biovail Laboratories International SLR (“Biovail”) in August 2009.

The dismissal of the litigation follows IntelGenx’ previous announcement on January 4th, 2011 that the court had ruled in favor of IntelGenx regarding claim construction for the two patent terms at issue in the patent infringement action brought forward by Biovail under the Drug Price Competition and Patent Term Restoration Act (“Hatch-Waxman Act”). The ruling arose from a special proceeding required under U.S. patent law called a “Markman Hearing” where both sides presented to the court their arguments on how they believed the patent terms at issue should be interpreted. Subsequent to the ruling on the Markman Hearing, Biovail agreed to dismissal of the action.

“The litigation was a major obstacle in our partnership discussions for CPI-300, so we are delighted to have this legal process behind us,” commented Horst Zerbe, President and CEO of IntelGenx. “We are in the final steps of accumulating the data necessary to address FDA’s questions from the Complete Response Letter and submit our response to the Agency in the coming months.”

About CPI-300

CPI-300 is a novel, high strength formulation of Bupropion hydrochloride (“HCl”), the active ingredient in Wellbutrin XL®. CPI-300 would be the only single pill, high strength, formulation of Bupropion hydrochloride on the market. At present, patients requiring a high dosage are prescribed multiples of the lower strengths of HCl tablets.

About IntelGenx:

IntelGenx is a drug delivery company focused on the development of oral controlled-release products as well as novel rapidly disintegrating delivery systems. IntelGenx uses its unique multiple layer delivery system to provide zero-order release of active drugs in the gastrointestinal tract. IntelGenx has also developed novel delivery technologies for the rapid delivery of pharmaceutically active substances in the oral cavity based on its experience with rapidly disintegrating films.
