PROXY STATEMENT

This Proxy Statement is furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the Board of Directors of Conseco, Inc. (“Conseco” or the “Company”) for the Annual Meeting of Shareholders (the “Annual Meeting”) to be held at the Conseco Conference Center, 530 College Drive, Carmel, Indiana on May 22, 2007, at 10:00 a.m., Eastern Daylight Time. It is expected that this Proxy Statement and proxy will be mailed to the shareholders on or about April 16, 2007. The enclosed proxy is solicited by our Board of Directors. Proxies are being solicited principally by mail. Directors, officers and regular employees of Conseco may also solicit proxies in person, through the mail or by telecommunications. All expenses relating to the preparation and mailing to the shareholders of the Notice, Proxy Statement and form of proxy are to be paid by Conseco.

If the enclosed form of proxy is properly executed and returned in time for the meeting, the named proxy holders will vote the shares represented by the proxy in accordance with the instructions marked on the proxy. Proxies returned unmarked will be voted for each of the nominees for director (Proposal 1) and for the ratification of the appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as the Company’s independent registered public accounting firm for 2007 (Proposal 2). A shareholder may revoke a proxy at any time before it is exercised by mailing or delivering to Conseco a written notice of revocation or a later-dated proxy, or by attending the meeting and voting in person.

Only holders of record of shares of Conseco’s common stock as of the close of business on April 4, 2007, will be entitled to vote at the meeting. On such record date, Consecro had 151,075,407 shares of common stock outstanding and entitled to vote. Each share of common stock will be entitled to one vote with respect to each matter submitted to a vote at the meeting. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of common stock entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting is necessary to constitute a quorum.

The election of directors (Proposal 1) will be determined by the plurality of the votes cast by the holders of shares represented (in person or by proxy) and entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting provided a quorum is present. Consequently, the 10 nominees who receive the greatest number of votes cast will be elected as directors of the Company. The vote required to approve the ratification of the appointment of our independent registered public accounting firm (Proposal 2) is the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares represented and entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting provided a quorum is present. Shares present which are properly withheld as to voting, and shares present with respect to which a broker indicates that it does not have authority to vote (“broker non-votes”), will not be counted for any purpose other than determining the presence of a quorum at the Annual Meeting. As a result, abstentions from voting or broker non-votes will have the same legal effect as voting against Proposal 2.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Our board of directors is currently comprised of eight members, divided into two classes as follows: Messrs. Prieur, Roberts and Tokarz and Ms. Perry are Class I Directors, and Messrs. Hilliard, Schneider, Shannon and Turner are Class II Directors. The terms of office of the current Class I Directors and the current Class II Directors expire at our 2007 annual meeting of shareholders. Other than the term of office of the initial Class II Directors (which was two years), the term of office of each class of directors will expire at the next succeeding annual meeting of shareholders. Accordingly, all directors are now elected annually for one-year terms. All directors will serve until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

Our board of directors has decided to increase its membership to 10 directors, effective at the annual meeting of shareholders. In addition to the eight current directors who have been nominated, the board has nominated Donna A. James for election as a Class I director and Doreen A. Wright for election as a Class II director. The board of directors engaged a third-party search firm to work with the Governance and Strategy Committee to identify potential board candidates. Ms. James and Ms. Wright were among the potential board candidates identified by the search firm and after conclusion of the search process were unanimous nominees for the board.

Unless authority is specifically withheld, the shares of common stock represented by the enclosed form of proxy will be voted in favor of all nominees. Should any of the nominees become unable to accept election, the persons named in the proxy will exercise their voting power in favor of such person or persons as the board of directors of Conseco may recommend. All of the nominees have consented to being named in this Proxy Statement and to serve if elected. The board of directors knows of no reason why any of its nominees would be unable to accept election.

THE BOARD RECOMMENDS THAT YOU VOTE “FOR” THE ELECTION OF EACH OF THE NOMINEES FOR DIRECTOR.

- (4) The other compensation shown above for Mr. Hilliard represents the amount paid to him as reimbursement for office expenses in accordance with his agreement with the Company described below.
- (5) The amounts shown for Mr. Hilliard under “stock awards” and “option awards” include expenses recorded in 2006 for awards made in 2003 and 2004 pursuant to the terms of Mr. Hilliard’s agreement with the Company described below.

On June 18, 2003, our predecessor entered into an agreement with Mr. Hilliard pursuant to which he provided consulting services to our predecessor during the pendency of the Chapter 11 cases and agreed to serve as our non-executive chairman for an initial term of four years following our emergence from bankruptcy. This agreement, which became effective upon our emergence from bankruptcy on September 10, 2003, was negotiated with our predecessor’s creditors committee and was approved by the Bankruptcy Court in connection with the approval of the plan of reorganization. The agreement provided for (i) an annual director’s fee of $1,000,000 for the first two years of the term, and director’s fees similar to those paid to similarly situated non-executive chairmen for the latter two years of the term; (ii) a signing bonus of 98,119 shares of common stock, which were issued shortly after our emergence from bankruptcy; (iii) a retention bonus of $1,500,000, which was paid following the first anniversary of our emergence from bankruptcy; (iv) a retention bonus of $750,000, which was paid following the second anniversary of our emergence from bankruptcy; and (v) a fee of $60,000 per month to be paid during the period from May 15, 2003 until the Company’s emergence from bankruptcy on September 10, 2003 (this monthly fee was waived by Mr. Hilliard on December 30, 2003 in order to avoid any issues with his status as an independent director at that time). Under his agreement, we also issued Mr. Hilliard 500,000 shares of restricted stock and options to purchase 500,000 shares of common stock, all of which were subject to vesting, pursuant to the 2003 Plan. By the terms of that agreement, Mr. Hilliard was also entitled to receive on the one-year anniversary of our emergence from bankruptcy shares of restricted stock and stock options, each in an amount equal to .25% of the outstanding shares of common stock on the one-year anniversary. In connection with the agreement described in the following paragraph, Mr. Hilliard agreed to receive 255,000 shares of restricted stock and options to purchase an additional 255,000 shares (compared to the approximately 375,000 shares of restricted stock and 375,000 options to which he would have been entitled to receive under his initial agreement).

In August 2004, Mr. Hilliard was elected Executive Chairman, and he entered into a revised agreement with Conesco pursuant to which he agreed to serve as Executive Chairman through September 10, 2005. The financial terms of Mr. Hilliard’s agreement with the Company did not change materially after he was elected Executive Chairman. The revised agreement provided for Mr. Hilliard to receive an annual salary of $1,000,000 and to receive retention bonuses of $1,500,000 in September 2004 and $750,000 in September 2005, as had been provided in his original agreement. Effective September 10, 2005, Mr. Hilliard again became Non-Executive Chairman and in accordance with his agreement now receives director’s fees comparable to those paid to similarly situated non-executive chairs of other corporations as determined by the Board, which the Board has set at 150% of the base cash fees and equity awards paid to the other, non-management directors. Under the agreement, Mr. Hilliard is entitled to a gross-up for excise tax payments under Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code. In addition, upon a qualifying termination, vesting of previously granted options and restricted stock will occur as if Mr. Hilliard continued to serve through the next September 10th following his separation. Mr. Hilliard is subject to a non-solicitation and non-competition clause throughout the term of the agreement and for one year thereafter.

Board Meetings and Attendance

During 2006, the board of directors met on 14 occasions. All directors attended at least 92 percent of the aggregate meetings of the board and the committees on which they served. The non-management directors regularly meet in executive session without the CEO or any other member of management. Mr. Hilliard presides at such executive sessions. The independent directors also meet periodically in executive session without Mr. Prieur or Mr. Hilliard. Mr. Turner presides at such sessions.

Director Independence

The Board annually determines the independence of directors based on a review by the directors. Although the board of directors has not adopted categorical standards of materiality for independence purposes, no director is considered independent unless the board has determined that he or she has no material relationship with Consec, either directly or as an officer, shareholder or partner of an organization that has a material relationship with Consec. Material relationships can include commercial, industrial, banking, consulting, legal, accounting, charitable and familial relationships, among others. The board considers the New York Stock Exchange guidelines in making its determination regarding independence and the materiality of any relationships with Consec. The board has determined that all current directors other than Mr. Prieur and Mr. Hilliard are independent and that Ms. James and Ms. Wright will also be independent directors.

Approval of Related Party Transactions

Transactions and agreements with related persons (directors and executive officers or members of their immediate families or shareholders owning five percent or more of the Company's outstanding stock) that meet the minimum threshold for disclosure in the proxy statement under applicable SEC rules (generally transactions involving amounts exceeding $120,000 in which a related person has a direct or indirect material interest) must be approved by the board of directors or a committee comprised of only independent directors. In considering the transaction or agreement, the board or committee will consider all relevant factors including the business reason for the transaction, available alternatives on comparable terms, actual or apparent conflicts of interest and the overall fairness of the transaction to the Company. Any proposed transactions that might be considered a related person transaction are to be raised with the Chairman of the Board or the Chairman of the Governance and Strategy Committee. They will jointly determine whether the proposed transaction should be considered by the full board (recusing any directors with conflicts) or by a board committee of independent directors. Related person transactions are to be approved in advance whenever practicable, but if not approved in advance are to be ratified (if the board or committee considers it appropriate to do so) as soon as practicable after the transaction.

Various Company policies and procedures, including the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics and annual questionnaires completed by all company directors, officers and employees, require disclosure of transactions or relationships that may constitute conflicts of interest or otherwise require disclosure under applicable SEC rules. Any related person transactions that are identified under these additional policies and procedures are to be considered under the policy and procedures described above.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Compensation Objectives and Strategy

The primary objective of Conseco's executive compensation program is to create a meaningful rewards system that balances the interests of executives and shareholders. Specifically, the following are goals of our program:

- Reinforce our commitment to our mission and core values by embedding them in all that we do. Our values of Integrity and Customer Focus are essential to all of our customer interactions, and our values of Excellence and Teamwork are essential to how we work. These values, along with the results and behaviors that drive our individual performance, provide the foundation for all our people policies and practices, including our compensation philosophy and programs.
- Create a Company culture that encourages executives to make decisions that create value for shareholders by having a meaningful portion of compensation delivered through equity-based incentives;
- Use a clear, understandable reward design that allows the Company to attract and retain the top management talent required to continue to improve the Company's performance and build long-term shareholder value;
- Offer the opportunity to earn above-market pay when Company and individual performance exceeds expectations; and
- Support our compensation programs with strong performance management and communications efforts.

Our compensation programs are administered by our Human Resources and Compensation Committee (the "Committee") of the Board of Directors, which is comprised solely of independent, non-employee Directors of Conseco. By working with management and its independent compensation advisors (described below), the Committee has developed a comprehensive compensation and benefits strategy that rewards group and individual performance in a manner that the Company believes will drive our long-term success.

- Our compensation program is designed to focus on shareholder value creation. This means that we reward performance in areas that are valued by investors, and which tend to improve the Company share price.
- Our compensation program is designed to promote a performance-based culture that rewards both overall Company performance and individual accountability. This means that in addition to assessing Company performance as a whole, the Committee considers individual performance and contributions in determining pay levels. For 2006, individual goals represented 20% of an individual's annual incentive (Pay for Performance ("P4P") plan) opportunity.
- In addition to an objective review of external factors, the Committee also considers internal equity among colleagues in determining compensation levels. This means that while the Committee looks at competitive pay data for specific positions, market data is not the sole factor considered in setting pay levels. The Committee also considers factors such as Conseco's organizational structure, and the relative roles and responsibilities of individuals. The Committee believes that this approach fosters an environment of cooperation among executives and employees that helps improve sales growth, profitability, and customer satisfaction.
- Our compensation program is designed to reward sustainable operational and productivity improvements. This means that (i) our P4P performance goals are set at levels that represent improvement over the prior year and (ii) we set multi-year goals for our Performance Share ("P-Share") plan.

Table of Contents

- Our compensation strategy is to place a significant amount of total compensation at risk in the form of variable pay. This means that for senior executives, a major portion of their total compensation is tied to either financial or stock price performance. As illustrated in our Summary Compensation Table on page 22, base salaries for our named executive officers (“NEOs”) represent between 20% and 50% of total compensation. For the NEOs, target annual incentive opportunities under our P4P plan range from 100% to 125% of the executive’s base salary (see chart below), while long-term incentive targets generally comprise at least 50% of total compensation for NEOs.
- Our compensation strategy is to provide competitive compensation opportunities commensurate with performance. This means that the Committee assesses the relative pay opportunities vis-à-vis relative performance. If performance goals are met or exceeded, pay should be at or above median. Similarly, if performance targets are not satisfied, actual compensation earned should trail market median levels.
- When we make individual compensation decisions, we retain the discretion to make adjustments and modifications based on how well individual associates meet our performance standards — for expected achievement of business results, as well as upholding of values or behaviors.
- Our compensation strategy is to promote a long-term commitment to the Company. This means that while we believe compensation should have a strong performance link, we also believe the Company benefits from creating a team of tenured, seasoned professionals with significant industry experience. To encourage this long-term commitment, we historically have granted significant awards of stock options that vest over 3 to 4 years, and performance shares and restricted stock which are eligible for delivery after no less than 2 years.

Role of the Compensation Committee

The Committee determines the amounts and elements of compensation for our executive officers and provides overall guidance for our executive compensation policies and programs. Four members of our Board of Directors sit on the Committee, each of whom is an independent director under the New York Stock Exchange listing requirements, the exchange upon which our stock trades. Other Board members may also participate in our consideration of how we pay our employees. The Committee’s function is more fully described in its charter which has been approved by our full Board of Directors, and can be found on our website at www.conseco.com.

In making executive compensation decisions, the Committee is generally advised by our independent compensation consultant, Pearl Meyer & Partners (“PM&P”). PM&P was hired by and reports directly to the Committee, and performs all services for our Company at the Committee’s direction. PM&P has no contract with the Committee and may be terminated without notice by the Committee at any time. PM&P had no prior relationship with the CEO or any of our Company’s senior management at the time of its hiring.

Though retained directly by the Committee, PM&P often interacts with our CEO, EVP of Human Resources, internal securities counsel and the Chief Financial Officer and their staffs to provide the Committee with relevant compensation and performance data for our executives and the Company. In addition, PM&P may seek direct input and feedback from management in preparing their consulting work product prior to presentation to the Committee to confirm information, identify data questions, exchange ideas or other similar issues.

In making its decisions, the Committee collects and considers input from multiple sources. The Committee may ask one or more of our senior executives or non-Committee Board members to attend Committee meetings where executive compensation and Company and individual performance are discussed and evaluated. During these meetings, executives provide insight, suggestions or recommendations regarding executive compensation. Deliberations generally occur with input from the compensation advisor, members of management and other Board members. However, only the four independent Committee members vote on decisions made regarding executive compensation, which is done in executive session, with no members of management present.

The next section of this Compensation Discussion and Analysis describes each aspect of our compensation and benefits structure:

- Pay level — determination of the appropriate pay opportunity;
- Pay mix — determination of each element of compensation, its purpose and design, and its relationship to the overall pay program; and
- Pay-for-performance — determination of the performance measures and goals used in the pay programs.

Compensation and Benefits Structure

Pay Level

All employee pay levels, including our NEOs, are determined based on a number of factors, including each individual’s roles and responsibilities within our Company, the individual’s experience and expertise, the pay levels for peers within the Company, pay levels for similar job functions in the marketplace, the individual’s business unit, and our Company as a whole. The Committee is responsible for approving pay levels for our executive officers. In determining executive pay levels, the Committee considers all forms of compensation and benefits, and uses appropriate tools — such as tally sheets and market studies — to review the value delivered to each executive through each element of pay.

The Committee assesses “competitive market” compensation using a number of sources. The primary data source used in setting competitive market levels for our NEOs (and any other positions for which there is sufficient disclosure) is the information publicly disclosed by the companies in the S&P Life and Health Insurance Index and the Russell 3000 Life Insurance Industry Index (together, the “Peer Group”). Currently, the Peer Group consists of the 17 companies listed below, however, if changes are made to the indexes, the Committee anticipates that the Peer Group will reflect those changes. The Committee periodically reviews the Peer Group to ensure the companies are appropriate for both pay and performance comparisons. Peer company information is supplemented with general and industry specific survey data that provides position-based compensation levels across broad industry segments. For corporate staff positions, such as the VP Human Resources, we consider survey data based on companies of similar size, with less emphasis on industry specific data. However, for industry specific positions, such as a division head, we consider insurance industry survey data for positions with similar size.

Relative to the competitive market data, our Committee intends overall total compensation opportunity for the executive group to be approximately 50th percentile for the achievement of target performance, with additional compensation opportunities for the achievement of above targeted results, up to the 75th percentile of the market.

Table of Contents

While the compensation philosophy stated above is true on an aggregate basis, it is possible that pay levels for specific individuals may be above or below the targeted competitive benchmark based on a number of factors. In fact, we avoid automatic adjustments based on annual competitive benchmarking data, since we believe a given executive's compensation should also reflect Company-specific factors such as the importance of the role within the organization and the compensation for other positions at the same level and individual factors such as experience, expertise, personal performance and tenure. Realized total compensation in any year may be significantly above or below the target compensation levels depending on whether our operating goals were attained and whether shareholder value was created. In some cases, the amount and structure of compensation results from negotiations with executives, which may reflect competitive pressures to attract and hire quality managerial talent in the insurance industry. To help attract and retain such talent, the Committee also seeks to provide a level of benefits in line with those of comparable publicly traded companies, though avoids matching such benefits item by item. This is evidenced by the absence of a supplemental executive retirement plan for executive officers at Conseco, despite the prevalence of such retirement plans in the insurance industry.

Pay Mix

The Committee believes each element of the executive pay package should be assessed relative to the overall compensation and benefits program. As part of this process, the Committee reviews tally sheets for each of the executive officers. The tally sheets give the Committee members a variety of information regarding the executive's pay history, including historic grants (since emergence from bankruptcy), salary progression, annual equity awards, target and actual bonus levels by year, and severance information under a variety of scenarios. Other information provided includes an overview of benefits and perquisites, as well as potential severance and/or change-in-control payment obligations. The Committee considers all of this information, in combination with market data, in making decisions regarding changes to Company programs or individual pay levels.

Our compensation program consists of each of the following components:

- Base Salary — fixed pay amount determined based upon an individual's role and responsibilities at Conseco, their experience, competencies, and demonstrated level of individual performance.
- Annual Incentive Bonus — our "P4P" or annual variable pay plan is designed to reward achievement of annual business goals, with threshold, target and maximum award opportunities. Target P4P opportunities are generally expressed as a percentage of an employee's base salary, and vary significantly by responsibility level, from 5% to 125% of base salary.
- Long-term Incentives — stock based awards tied to increases in shareholder value over periods longer than one year, which tie the interests of executives to those of shareholders, reward achievement of our strategic initiatives, and provide critical stability among management through retention features. At Conseco, long-term incentives include stock options, restricted stock, and most recently, performance share awards.
- Benefits — additional programs offered to provide tax advantaged wealth accumulation, appropriate health care coverage and other benefits necessary to promote a level of safety and security for employees and their families which assists our Company in its mission to attract and retain the best employees.

Base Salaries

In establishing base salaries, the Committee begins by targeting the 50th percentile, and adjusts upwards or downwards as appropriate to reflect each individual's experience level, unique skills or competencies. Final salaries generally range from as low as 25th percentile (for recently promoted employees or those who otherwise lack experience) to as high as the 75th percentile (for a high performer with best in class industry experience). While salaries outside this range may occur, they are rare. Annual adjustments to employees' base pay levels are determined based upon numerous factors, including

- Job responsibilities;
- Impact on the development and achievement of our strategic initiatives;
- Competitive labor market pressures;
- Company performance for the prior 12 months;
- Individual performance for the prior 12 months, as expressed on the employee's performance review; and
- Salaries paid for comparable positions within our identified compensation peer group.

No specific weighting of these factors is used. However, given our desire for a performance-based culture, the Committee's use of its discretion generally results in superior increases for our top performers, and little or no increases for average or lower performing employees.

Annual Incentive Program

Our annual incentive plan, the "P4P" plan, was approved by our shareholders in 2005, and is designed to focus on and reward achievement of annual performance goals. It is the broadest of our management incentive programs, covering more than 160 employees in 2006, including all of our senior executives. Management is generally assigned to one of four Tiers and each has unique target incentive opportunities (expressed as a percentage of base salary) within the guideline applicable to that Tier. Consistent with our Company's pay level strategy, these annual incentive levels are set to generate target annual cash compensation (i.e. , the sum of base salary plus target annual incentive amount) at competitive market median levels, on average. For example, the CEO is in Tier I, with a target of 125% of base salary; and EVPs are in Tier II, where targets range from 50% to 100% of base salary.

In 2006, our P4P payout was based on a weighted scorecard tabulation across a variety of performance metrics, including earnings per share, new annualized premiums and expense reduction. Aggregate awards for 2006 generally were below target, as performance during this period, including EPS, did not meet the targets established by the Committee at the beginning of the year.

Though our Company has a large net operating loss carry forward (as a result of our emergence from bankruptcy in 2003), the Committee continues to administer the P4P and Long Term Incentive Plans so that payments qualify as "performance based" compensation under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code. However, the Committee does reserve the right to make non-complying awards to the extent it deems it necessary or advisable to do so.

Named Executive Officer	Threshold Payout (as % of Salary)	Target Payout (as % of Salary)	Maximum Payout (as % of Salary)
C. James Prieur	31.25%	125%	250%
Eugene M. Bullis	25%	100%	200%
Michael J. Dubes	25%	100%	200%
Eric R. Johnson	25%	100%	200%
Scott R. Perry	25%	100%	200%

Long-Term Incentive Program

The Committee uses long-term incentives to balance the short-term focus of the P4P program by tying rewards to performance achieved over multi-year periods. Under the 2003 Amended and Restated Long-Term Incentive Plan (the “LTIP Plan”), which our shareholders approved at the 2005 Annual Meeting, the Committee may grant a variety of long-term incentive vehicles, including stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock or restricted stock units, and performance shares or units, settled in cash or stock. The Company is progressively migrating away from a long-term compensation scheme that relied on grants of stock options and restricted stock (some of which were approved by the bankruptcy court upon our emergence from bankruptcy in 2003) — to a current program which will continue to use stock options (or other appreciation rights), increase performance share use, and decrease our use of restricted stock grants, except in special circumstances.

Our Committee believes that combining these two types of awards (i.e., options and performance shares) provides significant incentive to perform while retaining our key executives. Also, using multi-year awards settled in stock helps balance the cash-based focus of our short-term incentive pay programs (i.e., base salary and annual incentives).

In general, stock option grants vest in equal installments over 3 to 4 years, and performance shares will generally be earned over a 3-year performance period. Employees generally must continue to work for the Company through the vesting dates. However, the LTIP Plan does give the Committee the right to make grants with a different vesting schedule. Unless otherwise noted, grants to our NEOs have identical vesting schedules as other executives.

Our current granting process involves developing option grant ranges (by Tier) for groups of executives, and then adjusting those awards for each individual based on their cash compensation, amount of equity needed to achieve median competitive pay levels, and individual performance during the prior year. Through this method, the Committee believes it is mindful of total cost, keeps compensation competitive with market, and promotes internal equity among colleagues.

As with base salaries and annual incentive targets, target long-term incentive award levels are set to generally fall in a range between market median and 75th percentile levels. The Committee also assesses aggregate share usage and dilution levels in comparison to the peer group companies and general industry norms. Within these general grant guidelines, individual awards may be adjusted up or down to reflect the performance of the executive and his or her potential to contribute to the success of our initiatives to create shareholder value and other individual considerations.

The Committee reviews and approves individual grants for the NEOs as well as all stock options, P-Shares and restricted stock grants made to other employees. The annual grants are generally reviewed and approved at the Committee’s scheduled meeting in March. Administration of all equity awards is managed by our human resources department.

“Burn Rate” Limitation

In 2005, the Committee approved a policy to conform to Institutional Shareholder Services’ (“ISS”) “burn rate” guidelines (as they existed at that time) which limit annual equity grant levels. Under the agreement with ISS, our average annual burn rate for the three-year period from January 1, 2005 through December 31, 2007 will not exceed the greater of two percent of the Company’s shares outstanding or the mean of its Global Industry Classification Standards Peer Group (4030 Insurance). This policy will apply to shares we issue under the LTIP Plan. Using ISS’ methodology, our burn rate will be calculated as (i) the number of shares granted in each fiscal year by the Compensation Committee and reported in the Company’s periodic reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and includes (a) stock options, (b) stock-settled stock appreciation rights, (c) restricted stock (or units) and (d) performance shares (actually earned or deferred during this time frame), to employees and directors divided by (ii) the fiscal year end basic shares outstanding. Stock appreciation rights, full value shares settled in cash and performance shares or units settled in cash will not be included in the burn rate calculation. For purposes of performing the calculation consistent with ISS methodology, one full value share (such as a share of restricted stock) may equal up to as many as four option shares. The actual conversion rate is determined by ISS based upon recent volatility of Consecos common stock, which may change during the commitment period. Our burn rate for 2005 and 2006 was .81% and 1.59%, respectively, using ISS' calculation methodology. The Committee anticipates the Company will be in compliance with its commitment to ISS with respect to the burn rate.

Other Benefits and Perquisites

As employees of the Company, our NEOs are eligible to participate in all of the broad-based Company-sponsored benefits programs on the same basis as other full-time employees. These include the Company's health and welfare benefits (e.g., medical/dental plans, disability plans, life insurance, etc.). The Company does not have any supplemental executive health and welfare programs. Executives may also participate in the Company's 401(k) Plan. During 2006, the Committee approved the adoption of a non-qualified deferred compensation plan. This plan is primarily intended as a "restoration" plan, giving participants the ability to defer their own compensation above the IRS limits imposed on the 401(k) plan. At present, the Company does not make any contribution to the non-qualified deferred compensation plan. In addition, Mr. Bullis has a supplemental retirement benefit of $250,000 per annum as part of the employment contract he signed upon our emergence from bankruptcy.

Pay-for-Performance

The Company uses several vehicles to create a strong link between pay and performance:

- The annual incentive program rewards participants for the achievement of short-term, operational goals. As mentioned above, the Company uses the P4P plan as a means to focus the organization on the achievement of operational goals. For 2006, the Company performance measures included earnings per share, new annualized premiums and expense reduction. The Committee believes these are strong indicators of our financial performance, and that these metrics are closely monitored by our investor community.
- Stock options reward participants for long-term improvement in the Company's stock price. Although the options are given a value at grant for reporting purposes, the actual value of the option to the Participant is entirely based on future increases in stock price. If the stock price does not increase over the term of the option, the participant receives no value.
- P-Shares have been granted in very limited cases in the past, but the Committee intends to use P-Shares more widely in 2007 and beyond. P-Share performance measures may change over time, but the 2007 P-Share awards will vest based on a combination of Return on Equity and Total Shareholder Return for periods ending in 2009.

The Committee believes the overall program, particularly after the shift from restricted stock to performance shares, illustrates the Committee's commitment to pay-for-performance.

Performance measures for both the annual incentive plan and the performance share plan have "threshold" requirements, below which no awards are earned or paid. Currently, the maximum amount that can be earned under either plan is 200% of the target award opportunity, though the Committee reviews and approves these performance levels on an annual basis and they remain subject to change. In setting the threshold, target and maximum performance levels, the Committee considers a number of factors, including the Company's historical performance, the current budget and the long-term forecasts, peer company performance, and general economic trends and conditions. As noted earlier, the Committee intends target performance levels to be consistent with the 50th percentile target pay levels, but wants executives to have the opportunity to earn considerably more for above-market performance. Accordingly, P-Share awards are targeted to provide the opportunity to increase total compensation to as high as 75th percentile of market, but only when performance is outstanding. Threshold performance levels are meant to represent moderately acceptable performance. Except under extraordinary circumstances, threshold performance levels must represent an improvement over prior year actual performance. Maximum performance levels are intended to represent superior performance.

Clawback Rights

Our LTI Plan contains specific “recapture” rights that permit our Company to recover all or part of any performance-based compensation in the event that the financial information used by the Committee to determine the amount of the award earned or vested is restated or turns out to be false.

2006 Compensation Actions

We generally review salary levels for all employees annually. For 2006, merit increases were budgeted at 3.3% in aggregate; however, not all employees received a merit increase, nor were high performing employees necessarily limited to this amount. Increases for the NEOs who are currently employed by the Company averaged 1.4%.

For 2006, the Company paid total annual incentives of $10.0 million to a total of 165 employees under the annual incentive plan. This payout represented 74% of target, based on performance relative to the goals established at the beginning of the year.

In 2006, the Company granted a total of 1,294,950 stock options, and 57,763 restricted shares to a total of 130 employees, including the NEOs.

In addition to these regular compensation decisions, there were a number of actions taken with regard to individual NEOs during 2006:

- William S. Kirsch resigned his position as CEO effective May 23, 2006 and agreed to remain as an employee and provide transition assistance through August 31, 2006. Upon the termination of his employment, Mr. Kirsch received a cash payment of $975,000 (equal to one year of his base salary), plus the value of his unused vacation. He continued to be eligible to receive medical benefits for up to 24 months, or until he received similar benefits from a subsequent employer. Mr. Kirsch’s equity awards continued to vest through August 31, 2006. All remaining unvested equity — 275,000 stock options, 200,000 shares of restricted stock, and 75,000 performance units, remained unvested and were forfeited in their entirety after Mr. Kirsch’s departure. Impact of Tax and Accounting on Compensation Decisions

As a general matter, the Committee considers the various tax and accounting implications of compensation vehicles employed by the Company.

When determining amounts of Long-Term Incentive grants to executives and employees, the Committee considers the accounting cost associated with the grants. Under SFAS 123R, grants of stock options, restricted stock, restricted stock units and other share-based payments result in an accounting charge for the Company. The accounting charge is based on the grant date fair value of the instruments being issued as determined under SFAS 123R. This expense is amortized over the requisite service or vesting period. However, if the award is subject to a performance condition as determined under SFAS 123R, the cost will vary based on our estimate of the number (and ultimately the actual number) of shares that will vest.

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code generally prohibits any publicly held corporation from taking a federal income tax deduction for compensation paid in excess of $1 million in any taxable year to the chief executive officer and the next four highest compensated officers. Exceptions are made for qualified performance-based compensation, among other things. It is the Committee's policy to maximize the effectiveness of our executive compensation plans in this regard. However, the Committee believes that compensation and benefits decisions should be primarily driven by the needs of the business, rather than by tax policy. Therefore, the Committee may make pay decisions (such as the determination of the CEO's base salary) that result in compensation expense that is not fully deductible under Section 162(m).

Report of the Audit and Enterprise Risk Committee

In accordance with its written charter adopted by the Board of Directors, the Audit and Enterprise Risk Committee provides assistance to the Board of Directors in fulfilling its responsibilities for oversight of the integrity of the financial statements, public disclosures and financial reporting practices of the Company. The Audit and Enterprise Risk Committee is comprised entirely of independent directors meeting the requirements of applicable rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the New York Stock Exchange.

In order to discharge its oversight function, the Audit and Enterprise Risk Committee works closely with management and with Conesco's independent registered public accounting firm, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP. Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the Company's financial statements and for maintaining effective internal controls. Management is also responsible for assessing and maintaining the effectiveness of internal controls over the financial reporting process in compliance with the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. The independent registered public accounting firm is responsible for auditing the Company's annual financial statements and expressing an opinion as to whether the statements are fairly stated in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. In addition, the independent registered public accounting firm is responsible for auditing the Company's internal controls over financial reporting and for expressing opinions on both the effectiveness of the controls and management's assertion as to this effectiveness.

The Audit and Enterprise Risk Committee has implemented procedures to ensure that during the course of each fiscal year it devotes the attention that it deems necessary or appropriate to each of the matters assigned to it under the Committee's charter. To carry out its responsibilities, the Audit and Enterprise Risk Committee met eight times during 2006. The members identified below have served throughout 2006 and 2007.

In overseeing the preparation of the Company's financial statements, the Audit and Enterprise Risk Committee has met with management and the Company's independent registered public accounting firm to review and discuss the consolidated financial statements prior to their issuance and to discuss significant accounting issues.
