Tortoise Capital Resources Corp. Adds To Its Investment in Mowood, LLC

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LEAWOOD, Kan. – Aug. 8, 2008 – Tortoise Capital Resources Corp. (NYSE: TTO) today announced that it has invested an additional $1.5 million of equity in Mowood, LLC (“Mowood”), a TTO portfolio company with interests in gas distribution and landfill gas collection systems. The investment will be used by Mowood’s subsidiary, Timberline Energy, LLC (“Timberline”) to complete landfill gas to energy projects in Butler, Ne. and Hernando, Fl.

Timberline currently operates a landfill gas to energy subsidiary in Oklahoma City, Ok. The Oklahoma City facility, which came online in May 2008, produces high Btu gas that is piped to a local cogeneration plant and a local interconnect on the Southern Star pipeline. The Butler facility, which is substantially complete, is expected to begin commercial operations later this year, and is designed as a direct use facility that will pipe gas to an international food producer. The Hernando facility also is substantially complete and is expected to begin selling electricity into the local power grid before year-end. With the completion of these facilities, Timberline will operate a high Btu facility, a direct use facility and an electricity generation facility - one of each of the three types of landfill gas to energy projects feasible under current technology.

“We are excited to see the transformation of Timberline from a development company to an operational company. We believe that Timberline’s ability to successfully complete three different types of landfill gas projects will position the company as an industry expert and create the opportunity for significant expansion,” said Tortoise Capital Resources’ President Ed Russell. “In addition, we believe that Timberline will continue to have opportunities for growth as interest in green and renewable energy sources becomes more prevalent.”
