SemCrude Announces Project to Expand its Platteville Truck Unloading Terminal

Tulsa, OK—November 14, 2011 — SemCrude[®], L.P., a subsidiary of SemGroup[®] Corporation (NYSE:SEMG), announced today the expansion of its Platteville, CO truck unloading terminal as part of an agreement with Anadarko Petroleum Corporation. The expansion of the Platteville unloading terminal will increase capacity by up to 60%, and is designed to support Anadarko's anticipated increase in production in the region.

The Platteville Terminal, located northeast of Denver, is the origination point of the White Cliffs Pipeline, a 526-mile crude oil pipeline terminating in Cushing, OK. Crude oil from the Denver-Julesberg basin is currently delivered to SemCrude's Platteville Terminal via transport trucks and unloaded through 10 existing truck bays. The expansion is expected to be complete by the end of 2012.

“Significant, increased demand continues for transporting crude through the White Cliffs Pipeline,” said Pete Schwiering, President of SemCrude. “We are excited about this expansion and working with Anadarko to meet its rising production needs.”

Forward-Looking Statements

Certain matters contained in this Press Release include “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. We make these forward-looking statements in reliance on the safe harbor protections provided under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

All statements, other than statements of historical fact, included in this Press Release including the prospects of our industry, our anticipated financial performance, management’s plans and objectives for future operations, business prospects, outcome of regulatory proceedings, market conditions and other matters, may constitute forward-looking statements. Although we believe that the expectations reflected in these forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot assure you that these expectations will prove to be correct. These forward-looking statements are subject to certain known and unknown risks and uncertainties, as well as assumptions that could cause actual results to differ materially from those reflected in these forward-looking statements. Factors that might cause actual results to differ include, but are not limited to, our ability to comply with the covenants contained in and maintain certain financial ratios required by our credit facilities; the possibility that our hedging activities may result in losses or may have a negative impact on our financial results; any sustained reduction in demand for the petroleum products we gather, transport, process and store; our ability to obtain new sources of supply of petroleum products; our failure to comply with new or existing environmental laws or regulations or cross border laws or regulations; the possibility that the construction or acquisition of new assets may not result in the corresponding anticipated revenue increases; any future impairment to goodwill resulting from the loss of customers or business; changes in currency exchange rates; and the risks and uncertainties of doing business outside of the U.S., including political and economic instability and changes in local governmental laws, regulations and policies, as well as other risk factors discussed from time to time in each of our documents and reports filed with the SEC.

Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements contained in this Press Release, which reflect management’s opinions only as of the date hereof. Except as required by law, we undertake no obligation to revise or publicly release the results of any revision to any forward-looking statements.
