For each percentage increase in earnings per share from 15% to 20%, Mr. Weingarten will receive bonuses of $8,500, $9,500 and $10,500, in 1997, 1998 and 1999, respectively. A bonus of $90,000 was accrued in 1997 pursuant to this agreement. Mr. Weingarten's agreement contains a non-competition provision substantially the same as Mr. Stratton's and Ms. Sica's.

1990 Stock Option Plan

.....The Company's 1990 Stock Option Plan, as amended (the "1990 Plan"), enables a committee of the Board of Directors (the "Option Committee") to grant options to employees, directors or consultants of the Company for the purchase of up to an aggregate of 1,122,319 shares of Common Stock. There will be presented at the Annual Meeting a proposal to approve the Sixth Amendment to the 1990 Plan, which would increase the total number of shares of Common Stock for which options may be granted under the 1990 Plan. The 1990 Plan is administered by the Option Committee which has complete discretion to select the eligible individuals who receive option grants. In determining the eligibility of an individual to be granted an option, as well as in determining the number of options to be granted to an individual, the Option Committee considers the position and responsibilities of the individual being considered, the nature and value to the Company of his or her service and accomplishments, his or her present and potential contribution to the success of the Company and such other factors as the Option Committee may deem relevant. The 1990 Plan provides for the issuance of either non-qualified options or incentive stock options, provided that incentive stock options must be granted with an exercise price of not less than fair market value at the time of grant. All options are non-transferable other than by will or the laws of descent and distribution. Options are exercisable for a period of up to ten years from the date of grant, provided the optionee remains an employee of the Company, or prior to the last day of the third month following the date of termination of employment. If an optionee dies or becomes disabled while in the employ of the Company, the option is exercisable prior to the last day of the twelfth month following the date of termination of employment. Any options which are exercisable following termination of employment are only exercisable to the extent the optionee was entitled to exercise the option on the date of termination. Options currently outstanding vest over a three or four-year period.

.....Since the inception of the 1990 Plan, options to purchase a total of 1,032,082 shares of Common Stock have been granted to certain employees and options to purchase a total of 54,306 shares have been granted to certain directors. All options to date have been granted at the fair market value of the underlying shares at the date of grant, ranging from $1.15 to $21.00 per share. As of December 31, 1997, options for an aggregate of 49,455 shares with a weighted average exercise price of $5.91 per share have been canceled due to the termination of employment of the option holder. As of December 31, 1997 options for an aggregate of 293,826 shares with a weighted average exercise price of $7.99 per share have been exercised. As of December 31, 1997, options for a total of 743,108 shares of Common Stock were outstanding. During 1997, options for an aggregate of 46,250 shares were granted with an average exercise price of $16.27 per share. Of such amount, options for an aggregate 30,000 shares were granted to an executive officer and options for an aggregate of 8,000 shares were granted to the non-employee directors at an exercise price of $20.38 per share, under the 1990 stock option plan.

Stock Option Plan for Non-Employee Directors

.....On April 28, 1995, the Company's stockholders approved a Stock Option Plan for Non-Employee Directors (the "Non-Employee Directors' Plan") which provides for the grant of non-qualified options for the purchase of 5,513 shares of the Company's Common Stock to each non-employee director of the Company serving on the Board at the time the Non-Employee Directors' Plan was approved, and to each new non-employee director elected in the five-year period commencing on the date of the adoption of the Non-Employee Directors' Plan. The maximum number of shares for which options may be granted under the Non-Employee Directors' Plan is 66,150 shares, subject to adjustment for stock splits, dividends payable in capital stock and other changes in capitalization. As of December 31, 1997, 18,377 of such options were outstanding. The exercise price of the options granted under the Non-Employee Directors' Plan is the fair market value of the shares of Common Stock covered by the option on the date of grant. Options granted under the Non-Employee Directors' Plan are not exercisable prior to the first year anniversary of the date of grant, and are exercisable thereafter on a cumulative basis as to one-third of the shares covered thereby on each of the first, second and third anniversaries of the date of grant. No option is exercisable after ten years from the date of grant. Options granted under the Non-Employee Directors' Plan are not assignable or transferable by the optionee otherwise than by will or the laws of descent and distribution or pursuant to a qualified domestic relations order. The exercise price of the options granted under the Non-Employee Directors' Plan must be paid in full, in cash or shares of Common Stock of the Company already owned for a period of at least six months by the person exercising the option, valued at fair market value on the date of exercise. In the event of death or disability of an optionee, the option may be exercised within one year after the date of death or termination of the optionee's directorship with the Company on account of disability or, if earlier, prior to the date on which the option expires by its terms. In the event the optionee ceases to be a director of the Company other than by reason of death or disability, the option may be exercised within one month after the optionee ceases to be a director of the Company, unless such termination was for cause, in which case the option shall terminate at the time the optionee ceases to be a director of the Company. In no event may an option be exercised except to the extent that the right to exercise has accrued and is in effect at the time of death or termination of service as a director.

Tax Consequences

.....Options granted under the 1990 Plan are intended to be either incentive stock options, as defined in Section 422 of the Code, or non-qualified stock options. All options granted under the Non-Employee Directors Plan are non qualified stock options.Except as provided below with respect to the alternative minimum tax, the optionee will not recognize taxable income upon the grant or exercise of an incentive stock option. In addition, if the optionee holds the shares received pursuant to the exercise of the option for at least two years after the date the option is granted and one year after the date of exercise, the optionee will recognize long-term capital gain or loss upon the disposition of the stock measured by the difference between the option exercise price and the amount received for such shares upon disposition.

.....In the event that the optionee disposes of the stock prior to the expiration of the required holding periods (a "disqualifying disposition"), the optionee will realize ordinary income to the extent of the lesser of (i) the fair market value of the stock at the time of exercise over the exercise price, or (ii) the amount received for the stock upon disposition over the exercise price. The basis in the stock acquired upon exercise of the option will equal the amount of income recognized by the optionee plus the option exercise price. Upon eventual disposition of the stock, the optionee will recognize long-term or short-term capital gain or loss, depending on the holding period of the stock and the difference between the amount realized by the optionee upon disposition of the stock and his basis in the stock.

.....For alternative minimum tax purposes, the excess of the fair market value of stock on the date of the exercise of the incentive stock option over the exercise price of the option is included in alternative minimum taxable income, giving rise to potential alternative minimum tax liability, in the event that the alternative minimum tax applies to the optionee. If the alternative minimum tax does apply to the optionee, an alternative minimum tax credit may reduce the regular tax upon eventual disposition of the stock.

.....Under proposed regulations issued by the Internal Revenue Service, the exercise of an option with previously acquired stock of the Company will be treated as, in effect, two separate transactions. Pursuant to Section 1036 of the Code, the first transaction will be a tax-free exchange of the previously acquired shares for the same number of new shares. The new shares will retain the basis and, except as provided below, the holding periods of the previously acquired shares. The second transaction will be the issuance of additional new shares having a value equal to the difference between the aggregate fair market value of all of the new shares being acquired and the aggregate option exercise price for those shares. Because the exercise of the incentive stock option does not result in the recognition by the optionee of income, this issuance will also be tax-free (unless the alternative minimum tax applies, as described above). The optionee's basis in these additional shares will be zero and the optionee's holding period for these shares will commence on the date on which the shares are transferred. For purposes of the 1-year and 2-year holding period requirements which must be met for favorable incentive stock option tax treatment to apply, the holding periods of previously acquired shares are disregarded.

.....The Company is not allowed a deduction for income tax purposes upon the grant or exercise of an incentive stock option. Upon a disqualifying disposition of shares by the optionee acquired upon exercise of the incentive stock option, the Company will be allowed a deduction in the amount equal to the amount of ordinary income recognized by the optionee.

.....No income is recognized by the optionee on the grant of a non-qualified stock option. On the exercise by an optionee of a non-qualified option, the excess of the fair market value of the stock when the option is exercised over its cost to the optionee will be (a) taxable to the optionee as ordinary income and (b) generally deductible for income tax purposes by the Company.

.....The Internal Revenue Service will treat the exercise of a non-qualified stock option with already-owned stock of the Company as two transactions. First, there will be a tax-free exchange of the old shares for a like amount of new shares under Section 1036 of the Code, with the new shares retaining the bases and holding periods of the held shares. Second, the issuance of additional new shares (representing the spread between the fair market value of all the new shares the option price) is taxable to the employee as ordinary income under Section 83 of the Code, as is the case with any non-qualified stock option. The new shares will have a basis equal to the spread between the fair market value of all of the new shares and their option price.

.....The optionee's tax basis in his stock will equal his cost for the stock plus the amount of ordinary income he had recognized with respect to the non-qualified stock option. Accordingly, upon a subsequent disposition of stock acquired upon the exercise of a non-qualified stock option, the optionee will recognize short-term or long-term capital gain or loss, depending upon the holding period of the stock, equal to the difference between the amount realized upon disposition of the stock by the optionee and his basis in the stock.

Compensation of Directors

.....Each outside director receives an annual retainer of $6,000, a $600 ($750 beginning October 1997) fee for each meeting attended and reimbursement of expenses. In addition, each of Messrs. Ferrari and Segel have been granted options to purchase 8,682, 8,682, 5,789, 5,513 and 2,000 shares of Common Stock at exercise prices of $4.61, $6.19, $11.23, $12.02 and $20.38 per share, respectively. Each of Messrs. Costa and Westra have been granted options to purchase 5,513 shares of Common Stock at an exercise price of $12.02 per share and 2,000 shares at $20.38 per share.

bonus equal to his base salary for such year if the Company's earnings per share for such year equal 118% of the earnings per share of the Company for the previous year. A bonus totaling $225,000 was accrued in 1997 pursuant to this agreement.

Annual Compensation

.....The Company sets base salary levels for other executive officers comparable to the salary levels of executive officers in other companies within the financial services industry or other companies of comparable size, taking into consideration the position's complexity, responsibility and need for special expertise.
