Item 5. OTHER EVENTS

Today NIKE, Inc. issued the following press release:

NIKE REVISES THIRD QUARTER AND FISCAL YEAR 2001 EPS GUIDANCE

Beaverton, OR (February 26, 2001) -- NIKE, Inc. (NYSE: NKE) today reported that it expects to earn between $0.34 and $0.38 per share for the third quarter ending February 28, 2001, versus its previously stated guidance of $0.50 to $0.55 per share. The Company reaffirmed its previously announced earnings per share guidance for the fourth quarter ending May 31, 2001 of $0.60 to $0.65 per share. While the Company does not expect to achieve its mid-teens earnings per share growth target, it does anticipate positive earnings per share growth for the full fiscal year.*

Philip H. Knight, Chairman and CEO, said, "We were anticipating a flat year-over-year third quarter largely because of weakness in our U.S. footwear revenues. During the quarter, we also experienced complications arising from the impact of implementing our new demand and supply planning systems and processes which resulted in product shortages and excesses as well as late deliveries. While we are disappointed by the impact it has had on our third quarter, we believe that we have addressed the issues around this implementation and that over the long term, we will achieve significant financial and organizational benefit from our global supply chain initiative."*

Mr. Knight continued, "Nike's business is healthy in every area except one. We are enjoying strong results in all of our international regions, and in U.S. apparel and equipment; however, our U.S. footwear business continues to pose challenges. The recent success of NikeShox, our Women's Initiative, and Presto provide encouraging signs that our U.S. footwear strategy is taking hold, but we have more work to do. We intend to build on this success by aggressively targeting growth in our share of the important, but under-served, mid-priced segment of the market. Overall, I am confident in both our strategy and our ability to achieve positive, sustainable results for our U.S. footwear business. Combined with the robust strength of our international business, we will strive to deliver strong returns and long-term value."
