industry and the good faith estimates of management. Consistent with industry practice, in measuring our television station group we have not applied the ultrahigh frequency (“UHF”) “discount,” (the “UHF Discount”) referred to in the FCC’s national television ownership rules which permits television station groups to discount by 50% the reach of their UHF stations for purposes of determining compliance with the FCC’s national cap on such a group’s audience reach.

In this prospectus, we refer to the Nielsen ratings terms “television households,” which means those households that have one or more television receivers whether the set(s) may be out of order or not used, and “pay-TV households,” which means those households that have the ability to receive cable channels via a wire to the home from a cable head-end located in the community or via any other alternate delivery source such as C-Band Satellite Dish, Direct Broadcast Satellite TV systems and wireless cable. “U.S. Hispanic television households” and “U.S. Hispanic pay-TV households” means television households or pay-TV households, respectively, in the U.S. in which the head-of-household is Hispanic.

MISSION STATEMENT

Our mission is to inform, entertain, and empower Hispanic America.

OVERVIEW

Univision is the leading media company serving Hispanic America. We produce and deliver content across multiple media platforms to inform, entertain, and empower Hispanic America. We have an over 50 year multi-generational relationship with our audience and are the most recognized and trusted brand in Hispanic America. We earned the highest brand equity score among U.S. media brands in a brand equity research study conducted by Burke in 2013. We reach over 49 million unduplicated media consumers monthly and our commitment to high-quality, culturally-relevant programming combined with our multi-platform media properties has enabled us to become the #1 destination for entertainment, sports, and news among U.S. Hispanics. Our flagship network, Univision Network, has been the most-watched U.S. Spanish-language broadcast network since its ratings were first measured by Nielsen in 1992. We have a strategic relationship with Grupo Televisa, S.A.B. and its affiliates (“Televisa”), the largest media company in the Spanish-speaking world and a top programming producer, for exclusive, long-term access to its premium entertainment and sports content in the U.S.

We serve a young, digitally savvy and socially engaged community. U.S. Hispanics are the youngest demographic as of 2012, have experienced the largest growth as of 2012 and have rapidly growing buying power as of February 2014. Marketers are increasingly targeting Hispanic America and its expanding economic, cultural and political influence. We own the leading and growing portfolio of Spanish-language media platforms in the U.S. across broadcast and cable television, digital and radio, enhancing our value to both our distribution and marketing partners as the gateway to Hispanic America. Our local television and radio stations are among the leading stations in their markets, regardless of language, and provide us with a unique ability to connect with our audiences and target advertisers at the local level. Our “must-see” content coupled with our ownership of local television stations allows us to maximize subscription fees from multichannel video programming distributors (“MVPDs”), and to benefit from the largest broadcast spectrum portfolio of any broadcaster in the U.S. as measured by the number of people reached by each megahertz of spectrum (“MHz-Pops”) according to data from BIA/Kelsey. We believe we are well-positioned for growth and have the opportunity to continue to expand our audience and to monetize our attractive audience demographics, leading content across multiple platforms and spectrum assets.

Table of Contents

Hispanic America continues to be a highly attractive audience demographic, exhibiting strong growth and economic and political influence in the U.S., representing:

- 57 million people as of December 2014, growing to an estimated 77 million by 2030;
- $1.3 trillion of buying power in 2014, projected to grow to $1.7 trillion by 2019;
- 40% of projected new U.S. household formation from 2015 to 2025;
- approximately 75% of expected U.S. employment growth from 2020 to 2034;
- the youngest demographic in the U.S. with 60% of the U.S. Hispanic population being 34 or younger as of June 2012; and
- a registered voter base of 15.7 million U.S. Hispanics, which is approximately 10% of the total voter base as of March 2015, up 14% from 2012 as compared to a 3% increase for non-Hispanic voters over the same period.

We operate our business through two segments: Media Networks and Radio

- Media Networks: Our principal segment is Media Networks, which includes our broadcast and cable networks, local television stations, and digital and mobile properties. We operate two broadcast television networks. Univision Network is the most-watched U.S. Spanish-language broadcast television network, available in approximately 94% of U.S. Hispanic television households. UniMás is among the leading Spanish-language broadcast television networks. In addition, we operate nine cable networks, including Galavisión, the most-watched U.S. Spanish-language cable network, and Univision Deportes, the most-watched Spanish-language sports cable network. We own and operate 60 local television stations, including stations located in the largest markets in the U.S., which represent the largest number of owned and operated local television stations among the major U.S. broadcast networks. In addition, we provide programming to 74 broadcast network station affiliates. Our digital properties include online and mobile websites, which generate, on average, 540 million page views per month. Univision.com is our flagship digital property and is the #1 most visited Spanish-language website among U.S. Hispanics. UVideos is our bilingual digital video network providing on-demand delivery of our programming across multiple devices. Our Media Networks segment accounted for approximately 90% of our revenues in 2014.
- Radio: We have the largest Spanish-language radio group in the U.S. and our stations are frequently ranked #1 regardless of language in many major markets. We own and operate 67 radio stations including stations in 16 of the top 25 DMAs. Our radio stations reach over 15 million listeners per week and cover approximately 75% of the U.S. Hispanic population. Our Radio segment also includes Uforia, a comprehensive digital music platform, which includes more than 65 live radio stations and a library of more than 20 million songs. Our Radio segment accounted for approximately 10% of our revenues in 2014.

We have a long standing strategic relationship with Televisa, which owns a significant equity interest in us. Under our program license agreement with Televisa, as amended on July 1, 2015 (the "Televisa PLA"), we have exclusive long-term U.S. broadcast and digital rights (with limited exceptions) to Televisa's programming, including premium Spanish-language telenovelas, sports, sitcoms, reality series, news programming, and feature films. In 2014, Televisa produced over 94,000 hours of programming. Our long-term collaborative relationship with Televisa provides us with the opportunity to take advantage of the demands of our target demographic, and access to digital media, telenovelas and the broadcast of additional Mexican soccer league games. We utilize this programming to help establish new cable networks and digital platforms. Upon consummation of our initial public offering the term of the Televisa PLA will continue until the later of 2030 or 7.5 years after Televisa has voluntarily sold a specified portion of its shares of our common stock, unless certain change of control events happen, in which case the Televisa PLA will expire on the later of 2025 or 7.5 years after Televisa has voluntarily sold a specified portion of its shares of our common stock. See “—Our Relationship with Televisa.”

We are led by a seasoned executive management team with deep industry knowledge. Mr. Falco has served as our President and Chief Executive Officer since 2011. Under Mr. Falco’s leadership, we have fortified our unique relationship with Hispanic America, expanded our portfolio of cable networks and built our digital and mobile platforms. We have grown our revenue and adjusted operating income before depreciation and amortization (“OIBDA”) (as further described in “—Summary Historical Financial and Other Data”) by approximately 30% since 2011 and maintained a stable cost structure enabling us to generate free cash flow and reinvest in our business. Under our management team and through our strategic relationship with Televisa, we have continued our transformation from a single broadcast network into the leading media company serving Hispanic America.

We generate revenue from advertising on our media networks and radio stations as well as subscription fees, which include retransmission and affiliate fees, paid by our distribution partners. We expect our advertising revenue growth to continue to outperform our English-language media peers and our recurring subscription fees to make up an increasingly larger percentage of our total revenue. For the years ended December 31, 2012, 2013, and 2014 we generated revenue of $2.4 billion, $2.6 billion and $2.9 billion; OIBDA of $0.9 billion, $1.1 billion, and $1.2 billion; Levered Free Cash Flow (as defined in “—Summary Historical Financial and Other Data”) of $69.7 million, $(92.4) million and $335.6 million; and a net loss of $14.4 million, net income of $216.0 million, and net income of $0.9 million, respectively. For the three months ended March 31, 2015, we generated revenue of $624.7 million, OIBDA of $266.5 million, Levered Free Cash Flow of $90.4 million and a net loss of $142.4 million.

THE HISPANIC AMERICA MARKET OPPORTUNITY

Our market opportunity is driven by highly attractive trends within Hispanic America and the power of “must-see” content in today’s media landscape.

- Hispanic population growth and increased buying power.

There are more than 57 million U.S. Hispanics comprising more than 17% of the total U.S. population. U.S. Hispanics have experienced the largest growth of any group in the U.S. in recent years, accounting for more than half of the growth of the total population from 2010 to 2015. By 2030, it is estimated that there will be over 77 million U.S. Hispanics, representing nearly 22% of the total U.S. population. In addition, the estimated buying power of U.S. Hispanics is projected to increase from $1.3 trillion in 2014 to $1.7 trillion by 2019.

- U.S. Hispanics’ preference for Spanish-language content.

Spanish is the primary language in the homes of most U.S. Hispanics and the number of U.S. Hispanics who speak Spanish in the home is projected to increase from 37 million in 2014 to 55 million by 2034. U.S. Hispanics speaking Spanish in the home are estimated to comprise approximately 65% of the U.S. Hispanic population by 2034. U.S. Hispanics exhibit a strong preference to watch television in their native language. Between 2001 and 2013, the percentage of Spanish-speaking households consuming Spanish-language television rose from 65% to 70%. Over the same period, the percentage of bilingual U.S. Hispanic households consuming Spanish-language television also increased from 36% to 46%. On account of these trends, we believe advertisers and media distributors will increasingly seek to reach U.S. Hispanics through Spanish-language media platforms.

- Attractive advertising market dynamics of Hispanic America.

We believe Hispanic America is an attractive demographic for advertisers as a result of the growing population and increased buying power of U.S. Hispanics and that advertisers will continue to increase the amount they spend on Spanish-language advertising targeting U.S. Hispanic consumers. Based on a 2014 Nielsen brand effectiveness study, ads on Spanish-language broadcasts had a higher brand likability score among U.S. Hispanics than ads for the same brand on English-language broadcasts. In addition, the growing size and importance of the U.S. Hispanic voting base, representing approximately 10% of the total voter base as of March 2015, up 14% from 2012 as compared to a 3% increase for non-Hispanic voters over the same period, should result in increased spending on political/advocacy advertising targeted at Hispanic America. While U.S. Hispanic households represented approximately 10% of the total U.S. disposable income, spending in Spanish-language media was only approximately 5% of total advertising in 2014 based on Kantar Media Intelligence. Given the market dynamics of this audience, we believe advertisers will allocate a higher proportion of their advertising dollars targeting Hispanic America as they gain a better understanding of the importance and influence of this audience.

- Hispanic pay-TV penetration growth.

U.S. Hispanic pay-TV subscribers are expected to continue to grow significantly, driven by the rapid growth in U.S. Hispanic households and historic trends of pay-TV adoption among U.S. Hispanics. In fact, U.S. Hispanic pay-TV subscribers increased nearly 25% from 2008 to 2014, more than five times greater than the increase in overall U.S. pay-TV subscribers during the same period. This growth also significantly outpaced the U.S. Hispanic television household growth, signaling an increase in demand for pay-TV subscriptions among Hispanic households. As of 2014, 83% of U.S. Hispanic households were pay-TV subscribers. We believe Hispanic pay-TV penetration growth will continue to drive increasing subscription fees for Spanish-language media networks from MVPDs.

- Favorable media industry dynamics, subscription fee growth and media consumption trends.

We believe “must-see” content delivered at scale is particularly important in today’s fragmented media environment. Content providers delivering large and loyal audiences who prefer live “event” viewing have the ability to generate increased demand and drive growth in advertising revenue and subscription fees (including retransmission and affiliate fees) from MVPDs. Over the next few years, retransmission revenues for the top four English-language broadcast networks are projected to grow on a percentage basis in the low twenties annually and affiliate fees for the top cable networks are projected to grow on a percentage basis in the high single digits annually. We believe that networks with “must-see” content should capture a disproportionate share of the projected increases in subscription fees.

Media consumption trends are shifting as audiences use media across multiple platforms. Content providers are responding by making their content more broadly available on digital platforms, particularly targeting the millennial audiences who are increasingly seeking to consume content online via smartphones and tablets. The delivery of content on multiple platforms continues to be particularly attractive to Hispanic America. U.S. Hispanics are nearly 10 years younger than the national average of non-Hispanics, they are highly connected (with over 80% owning a smartphone which is higher than the rate among the overall U.S. population) and technologically proficient (as reflected by the higher per user rate of consumption of digital video among U.S. Hispanics as compared to the overall U.S. population). Additionally, U.S. Hispanics are twice as likely to share information via social media as non-Hispanics. We believe that established content providers delivering media across multiple platforms are well-positioned to benefit from these shifting media consumption trends, particularly with respect to younger consumers.

OUR COMPETITIVE STRENGTHS

- Trusted brand that fosters unique and deep relationship with the Hispanic audience.

We have an over 50 year multi-generational relationship with Hispanic America. We earned the highest brand equity score among U.S. media brands in a brand equity research study conducted by Burke in 2013 and our score ranked us among the top-tier global brands. We also have the strongest brand likeability for Hispanic audiences among the top five broadcast networks and we have a 55% share of U.S. Spanish-language viewing across the top five broadcast networks. Additionally, Univision has 17 of the top 20 primetime programs across both the U.S. Spanish-speaking and bilingual U.S. Hispanic viewing audiences for the current television season. We believe the strength of our brand combined with our “must-see” Spanish and English-language content enables us to sustain our leading position and offer the platform of choice for marketers seeking to connect with Hispanic America. Our brand and our large footprint of owned and operated local television and radio stations also enable us to inform, empower and serve as a vital resource for important civic, cultural and political information in the national and local communities that we serve. We also work with community-based organizations, government agencies and corporate sponsors to empower U.S. Hispanics and provide access to vital information and resources. From citizenship and voter registration to education, health and personal finance, we support causes that matter to Hispanic America. The effectiveness of our brand has been instrumental in enabling us to launch our media brand extensions across multiple platforms, as well as new products, services and events. In 2014, we enrolled over 3.4 million consumers to our branded products and services that are available in more than 70,000 retail outlets and over 4.6 million people attended our consumer and empowerment events.

- Leader in Hispanic media with extensive multi-platform distribution.

We are the leading media company serving Hispanic America and we align our television, radio and digital presence to deliver a Univision branded experience across multiple platforms. Our total unduplicated average monthly audience across our television, radio and digital platforms grew 11% from 2013 to 2014 and we reached over 49 million unduplicated media consumers monthly in the first quarter of 2015. Our audience and multi-platform distribution network position us as the premier gateway to Hispanic America for advertisers and media distributors. Univision Network is the most-watched Spanish-language broadcast television network in the U.S., consistently ranked first among U.S. Hispanic viewers. Additionally, our average primetime television viewer is 40 years old as compared to an average age of 54 for the top four English-language broadcast networks. We own the leading U.S. Spanish-language general entertainment cable network Galavisión, which is available in approximately 68 million households, and we successfully launched our sports network, Univision Deportes. We have long operated the largest Spanish-language television station group in the U.S. with 60 owned and operated local stations. Our owned and operated television stations ranked first among Spanish-language stations during total day in 16 of the 17 DMAs for which such data is available and in primetime viewing in 15 of 17 DMAs for which such data is available among adult viewers aged 18-49. We also own the #1 U.S. Hispanic online platform, which includes Univision.com, the most visited Spanish-language website among U.S. Hispanics. We averaged 24 million video views a month across our online, mobile and apps platforms. Among our social media platforms, we generated organic growth across Facebook, Instagram and Twitter of over 500% since the beginning of 2013. Our radio business has long been the #1 Hispanic radio network in the U.S. with 62 stations in 16 of the top 25 DMAs and we promote key programming events on our other platforms to our radio audience. Our advertising sales strategy is focused on offering advertising solutions across our local TV stations, radio stations and online and mobile websites, allowing us to deliver more effective and integrated solutions to our audiences and advertising partners.

- Access to highly differentiated content with a low risk and scalable cost structure.

Our strategic relationship with Televisa gives us exclusive long-term U.S. broadcast and digital rights (with limited exceptions) to Televisa’s programming, including premium Spanish-language telenovelas, sports, sitcoms, reality series, news programming, and feature films. This content is critical to our ability to provide “must-see” programming and results in 91% of our audience consuming our content live as compared to 65% of the audience of the top four English-language broadcast networks. Additionally, 96% of our audience does not change channels during commercial breaks as compared to 81% of the audience for the top four English-language broadcast networks. The Televisa PLA also provides important predictability on our content costs and creates a scalable cost structure as we pay Televisa a fee based on a percentage of our revenue generated by our Spanish-language media networks business. We believe the Televisa PLA reduces the risks associated with procuring and developing premium content, since it limits our failure costs as we are able to select popular content previously aired in Mexico and Latin America. We can also cease airing unsuccessful programs without paying incrementally for unused episodes. Under the Televisa PLA, we can also utilize this programming to help launch new cable networks and digital platforms.

- Well-positioned to benefit from media industry trends.

We believe the combination of our exclusive, “must-see” content delivered across all of our media platforms to our audience anytime and anywhere and our track record of innovation and investment, positions us to take advantage of prevailing media industry trends. Our strong brand equity and loyal audience allows us to successfully launch new products and introduce emerging platforms. We have been successful in obtaining significant distribution for the recently launched Univision Deportes and UVideos as well as our English-language cable networks El Rey and Fusion, which have been developed through our strategic relationships with filmmaker Robert Rodriguez and Disney, respectively. Our integrated, cross-platform solutions allow advertisers to reach U.S. Hispanics at scale and on all devices. Our strong relationships with our distribution partners enable us to expand our distribution footprint and drive increased subscription revenues. Ultimately, we believe that we are well-positioned to continue to capture a significant share of the economic value chain, including subscription fees, revenues from digital properties and other emerging channels.

- Attractive and resilient business model with compelling long-term cash flow generation.

We have a proven track record of driving revenue growth while maintaining attractive operating margins and generating significant cash flow. Our revenue growth coupled with our focus on operational efficiency has provided us with strong cash flows that have allowed us to continue to invest and drive future growth. Our television ratings have historically remained strong relative to the market, our advertising revenues have continued to increase and our business has demonstrated resilience throughout recent economic cycles. We anticipate that our ratings and audience will increase our recurring subscription revenues paid to us by MVPDs resulting in an increased proportion of our revenue governed by long-term distribution contracts, which will positively impact our profitability and improve our visibility into future revenue. We have also maintained a stable cost structure and our strategic relationship with Televisa has provided access to compelling content under a low-risk, scalable cost structure. Our cash flow potential is further enhanced because we have approximately $1.6 billion in net operating loss carry-forwards that provide for favorable tax attributes and a re-aligned balance sheet with lower borrowing costs as a result of repaying a portion of our outstanding debt with proceeds from this offering.

- Experienced management team with proven industry expertise.

Our President and Chief Executive Officer Randy Falco has led our company since 2011. Mr. Falco and his management team are highly experienced with deep industry knowledge. Under their leadership, we have fortified our brand with Hispanic America, expanded our portfolio of cable networks and built our digital and mobile platforms. Over the same period, we have expanded our total unduplicated average monthly media audience reach by 17% to over 49 million unduplicated media consumers monthly across our platforms as of March 2015. Since 2011, our management team has increased revenue and OIBDA by approximately 30% while maintaining a stable cost structure. At the local level, our management team has been focused on ensuring that we remain the “go-to” resource in Hispanic America. Under our management team and through our strategic relationship with Televisa, we have continued our transformation from a single broadcast network into the leading media company serving Hispanic America.

OUR GROWTH STRATEGIES

We believe we are well-positioned for growth and have an opportunity to continue to expand our audience and to monetize our attractive audience demographics, leading content across multiple platforms and our spectrum assets.

- Grow audience share and extend the reach of the Univision brand.

We believe we are well-positioned to grow our audience and the reach of our brands by strengthening the bond with our audience and expanding across platforms, languages and brands. We enhance our unique relationship with our audience by ensuring that we are the “go-to” resource anywhere and anytime for Hispanic America. We continue to develop new networks, expand access to our content across multiple platforms and utilize our local reach to offer branded products, services and events that extend beyond our traditional media outlets. We have launched specialized networks in the U.S. targeting specific audience preferences, including sports ( Univision Deportes ), soap operas ( Univision tlnovelas ), legacy entertainment ( Bandamax, Clasico ) and news ( ForoTV ), and have invested in strategic relationships to launch networks targeted at millennials seeking English-language content ( El Rey and Fusion ). We have also recently introduced several Univision branded products and services, including Univision Mobile , a service to provide affordable wireless plans and Univision Farmacia , a leading prescription drug discount program available at more than 49,000 retail outlets. In addition, we continue to expand our digital reach to include numerous mobile applications, digital streaming video services and internet music players and apps to deliver content to Hispanic America online and on-the-go.

- Increase recurring subscription revenue.

We believe we have a meaningful opportunity to capture increased subscription fees from MVPDs. Broadcasters are expected to experience growth in retransmission fees and we are well-positioned to capture an increased share of these growing fees. As we engage in the next iteration of retransmission fee negotiations with MVPDs, we are confident that we will negotiate increased fees because of our loyal audience, our “must-see” content, and our large number of owned and operated local stations and affiliates. Univision Network has 74 station affiliates in 40 markets across the U.S. We offer 24 programming hours daily to our affiliates, which we believe is significantly more than the top four English-language broadcast networks provide to their affiliates, enabling us to retain a higher percentage of the subscription fees that we negotiate on behalf of our local broadcast TV affiliates. We also believe that our differentiated portfolio of cable networks and increasing size of our cable network audience will enable us to capture growth in affiliate fees from MVPDs.

- Expand share of advertising market.

We have an opportunity to continue to improve the monetization of advertising across our media platforms. Revenue from media advertising targeting Hispanic America was over $8 billion in 2014, with leading brands having increased their advertising spend targeting this demographic. Growth of the population, buying power and political influence of Hispanic America are driving marketers to increase their focus on this demographic. We believe our brands offer a compelling way to reach Hispanic America in an effective and trusted manner. We deliver our advertisers a 73% unduplicated audience as compared to an average 10% unduplicated audience among the top four English-language broadcast networks and a 91% live viewing audience as compared to a 65% live viewing audience, on average, for the top four English-language broadcast networks. In addition, the advertising time we air per hour is significantly lower than English-language broadcast networks, suggesting we deliver a less cluttered advertising experience. As a result, we believe we have an opportunity to sell more advertising inventory and increase our advertising pricing across all platforms. We continue to add new brand advertisers every year, reaching more than 495 brands across our national media networks in 2014. However, there are many more brands that have yet to do business with us and we believe we can continue to add more brands and improve advertising monetization across our media networks and platforms.

- Expand our content across digital and mobile products and platforms.

We continue to be focused on making our Media Networks and Radio content available virtually anywhere and anytime throughout the evolving media landscape. We leverage our existing content across our digital and mobile initiatives to continue to drive growth as audiences consume content and utilize services across an increasing number of platforms. We are focused on continuing to invest and enhance our digital and mobile distribution platforms, including online and mobile properties. Univision.com and UVideos are our key online and mobile distribution platforms and have driven our advertising revenue growth and established our brand online and on-the-go. We recently launched digital ventures La Fabrica, Variety Latino, and Flama and acquired The Root to expand on the offerings of our digital portfolio. We are investing significantly in mobile products and applications, the fastest growing platform for consuming content, particularly among our target audience, resulting in 58% growth in our mobile unique visitors across all of our digital properties from March 2014 to March 2015. Our digital distribution also includes subscription streaming services. We recently entered into an agreement with Sling TV that includes over-the-top (“OTT”) multi-stream rights for live and Video-On-Demand content. We were one of the initial launch partners on Sling TV, demonstrating the “must-see” nature of our content. In addition, we partnered with DirecTV as its anchor content supplier for its recently launched Spanish-language subscription video service, Yaveo. We expect additional third party streaming services to launch in the future and we believe that our content will be an important part of these offerings.

- Evaluate potential monetization of our spectrum assets.

We hold the most broadcast spectrum of any broadcaster in the U.S. (determined on a MHz-Pops basis) and we hold multiple licenses in most of the largest markets in the U.S. Spectrum is a strategic asset, which we believe has significant option value. With the success of the recent AWS-3 spectrum auction, which generated $45 billion of proceeds, the underlying value of our spectrum is substantial. We believe we have an opportunity to realize significant value from our spectrum assets without adversely affecting our existing networks or stations. As the FCC’s planned broadcast TV spectrum incentive auction (the “Broadcast Incentive Auction”) approaches in 2016, we will consider participating in the auction and monetizing a portion of our spectrum assets. If we participate in the Broadcast Incentive Auction, we will work to ensure that our ability to operate our broadcast business will not be adversely affected. In most of our largest markets, we believe we can contribute a 6 MHz channel to the auction and combine our Univision and UniMás networks on the other 6 MHz channel, creating a self-sufficient solution. Beyond the upcoming auction, we believe there are additional opportunities to utilize our spectrum to generate significant value. These opportunities include broadcast delivery of mobile video, data, linear networks, and non-linear content direct to consumers or through relationships with our distribution partners and consumer product manufacturers.

OUR RELATIONSHIP WITH TELEVISA

We have a long standing strategic relationship with Televisa. Under the Televisa PLA, we have significant exclusive long-term U.S. broadcast and digital rights (with limited exceptions) to all of Televisa’s programming (for which it has U.S. rights), which includes premium Spanish-language programming, including telenovelas, sports, sitcoms, reality series, news programming, and feature films. At the time of this offering, Televisa beneficially owns _____ shares, or approximately % ( % if the underwriters’ option is exercised in full) of our outstanding shares of common stock, _____ and _____ shares, or approximately % ( % if the underwriters’ option is exercised in full) of our outstanding common stock on a fully diluted basis. In addition, Televisa owns convertible debentures that, prior to the consummation of this offering, will be exchanged for warrants exercisable for the number of shares of common stock that Televisa would have received upon the conversion of such debentures. Upon the exercise of these warrants, Televisa would beneficially own _____ shares, or approximately % ( % if the underwriters’ option is exercised in full) of our outstanding common stock and _____ shares, or approximately % ( % if the underwriters’ option is exercised in full) of our outstanding common stock on a fully diluted basis. See “Description of Capital Stock” and “Principal Stockholders.” Our collaborative relationship with Televisa provides us with the opportunity to take advantage of the demands of our target demographic, including digital media, telenovelas and the broadcast of additional Mexican soccer league games. We utilize this programming to help establish new cable networks and digital platforms. Upon consummation of this offering the term of the Televisa PLA will continue until the later of 2030 or 7.5 years after Televisa voluntarily sells at least two-thirds of the _____ shares (including the _____ shares issuable upon the exercise of the warrants) that it held immediately following its investment in us (the “Televisa Sell-Down”), unless certain change of control events happen, in which case the Televisa PLA will expire on the later of 2025 or 7.5 years following a Televisa Sell-Down.

OUR PRINCIPAL STOCKHOLDERS

In March 2007, Univision was acquired by a consortium of private equity sponsors including Madison Dearborn Partners, Providence Equity Partners, Texas Pacific Group, Thomas H. Lee Partners and Saban Capital Group and their respective affiliates (collectively, the “Investors”). In December 2010, Televisa invested $1.2 billion in us and assigned certain other interests to us for a 5% equity stake in us, and debentures convertible into an additional 30% equity stake in us, subject to applicable laws and regulations and certain contractual limitations. On July 1, 2015, we entered into a memorandum of understanding (the “MOU”) with the Investors and Televisa and other specified parties, in which it was agreed that Televisa’s convertible debentures would be exchanged for warrants exercisable for the number of shares of common stock that Televisa would have received upon the conversion of its convertible debentures (the “Televisa Warrants”), the contractual limitations on Televisa’s ownership would be revised and our existing stockholder arrangements and our certificate of incorporation would be amended to effect the Equity Recapitalization. See “Business—Corporate Structure” “Certain Relationships and Related Person Transactions” and “Description of Capital Stock” for more information regarding our corporate structure.”

Madison Dearborn . Madison Dearborn Partners, LLC (“Madison Dearborn” or “MDP”), based in Chicago, is a leading private equity investment firm that has raised over $18 billion of capital. THL . Thomas H. Lee Partners, L.P. ("THL"), is one of the world's oldest and most experienced private equity firms. Founded in 1974, THL has raised approximately $21 billion of equity capital and invested in more than 130 portfolio companies with an aggregate value of over $150 billion. THL invests in growth-oriented businesses, headquartered primarily in North America, across three sectors: business and financial services, consumer and healthcare, and media and information services. The firm partners with portfolio company management to identify and implement operational and strategic improvements for long-term growth.

Televisa . Televisa is the largest media company in the Spanish speaking world and is a top programming producer of premium entertainment and sports content and the largest multimedia company in Latin America. It operates four broadcast channels in Mexico City, produces and distributes 24 pay-TV brands for distribution in Mexico and the rest of the world, and exports most of its programs and formats to the U.S. through us and to other television networks in over 50 countries. Televisa is also an active participant in Mexico's telecommunications industry. It has a majority interest in Sky, a leading direct-to-home satellite television system operating in Mexico, the Dominican Republic and Central America. Televisa also participates in Mexico's telecommunications industry in many regions of the country where it offers video, voice, and broadband services. Televisa also has interests in magazine publishing and distribution, radio production and broadcasting, professional sports and live entertainment, feature-film production and distribution, the operation of a horizontal Internet portal, and gaming. We have a long standing strategic relationship with Televisa and have exclusive long-term U.S. broadcast and digital rights (with limited exceptions) to Televisa's programming (for which it has U.S. rights) under the Televisa PLA.

(1) OIBDA represents operating income before depreciation, amortization and certain additional adjustments to operating income. In calculating OIBDA our operating income is adjusted for share-based compensation and other non-cash charges, restructuring and severance charges, management and technical assistance agreement fees as well as other non-operating related items. Bank Credit OIBDA represents OIBDA with certain additional adjustments permitted under our senior secured credit facilities including specified business optimization expenses, income from unrestricted subsidiaries as defined in our senior secured credit facilities and certain other expenses. Levered Free Cash Flow represents OIBDA less specified cash and non-cash items deducted in calculating OIBDA and less capital expenditures plus the net change in working capital. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—How We Assess Performance of Our Business." OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow eliminate the effects of certain items that we do not consider indicative of our core operating performance. OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow are supplemental measures of our operating performance that are not required by, or presented in accordance with, GAAP.

OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow are not measurements of our operating performance under GAAP, should not be considered as alternatives to net income, operating income or any other performance measures derived in accordance with GAAP or as alternatives to cash flow from operating activities as measures of our liquidity, and our calculations of OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow may not be comparable to those or other similar metrics reported by other companies.

We believe that OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow provide management and investors with additional information to measure our operating performance, valuation and our potential for growth. Management uses OIBDA and Bank Credit OIBDA or comparable metrics to evaluate our operating performance, for planning and forecasting future business operations and to measure our ability to service debt and meet our other cash needs. Management uses Levered Free Cash Flow or comparable metrics to assess our cash needs, in particular our capacity to reduce our debt and fund investments. We believe that OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow are used in the media industry by analysts, investors and lenders and serve as a valuable performance assessment metric for investors.

The primary material limitations associated with the use of OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow as compared to GAAP results are (i) they may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by other companies in our industry, and (ii) they exclude financial information that some may consider important in evaluating our performance. Because of these limitations, OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow should not be considered as measures of discretionary cash available to us to invest in the growth of our business. We compensate for these limitations by relying primarily on our GAAP results and using OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow only supplementally. In addition, we reconcile OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow to the most directly comparable GAAP measure, net (loss) income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. Further, we also review GAAP measures and evaluate individual measures that are not included in OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA or Levered Free Cash Flow. By providing OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA and Levered Free Cash Flow with reconciliations to GAAP results, we believe we are enhancing investors' understanding of our business and our results of operations, as well as assisting investors in evaluating how well we are executing strategic initiatives.

- (G) Management and technical assistance agreement fees relate to management, consulting, advisory and technical assistance services provided by our Investors and Televisa. Effective as of March 31, 2015 we entered into agreements with affiliates of our Investors and Televisa, respectively, to terminate these agreements. See Note 8 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and Note 6 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 contained elsewhere in this prospectus.
- (H) Other adjustments to operating income primarily relate to gains and losses on asset dispositions and letter of credit fees.
- (I) Business optimization expense relates to our efforts to streamline and enhance our operations and primarily include legal, consulting and advisory costs and costs associated with the rationalization of facilities.
- (J) Represents the results of early stage ventures which are designated as “unrestricted subsidiaries” under our senior secured credit facilities and excluded from Bank Credit OIBDA under these facilities and the indentures governing our senior notes. The amount for unrestricted subsidiaries above represents the residual adjustments to eliminate the full results of these entities not otherwise eliminated in the other exclusions from Bank Credit OIBDA above.
- (K) Contractual adjustments permitted under our senior secured credit facilities relate to adjustments to operating income permitted under our senior secured credit facilities and indentures governing our senior notes primarily related to the treatment of the accounts receivable facility under GAAP that existed when the credit facilities were originally entered into.
- (L) Other primarily relates to dividends from unconsolidated investments and costs related to our accounts receivable facility.
- (M) Non-cash deferred advertising revenue relates to that portion of deferred contractually committed advertising and promotion time which is recognized when the related advertising and promotion is provided.
- (N) Cash interest expense represents the interest on our debt instruments and interest rate swaps that will be settled in cash.
- (O) Cash taxes received/(paid) relates to taxes that have been, or that we expect to be, paid in cash.

RISK FACTORS

Investing in our Class A common stock involves a high degree of risk. You should consider carefully the following risks and all of the information in this prospectus, including our historical financial statements and related notes thereto before purchasing our Class A common stock. If any of the following risks actually occur, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected. In that case, the trading price of our Class A common stock could decline, perhaps significantly and you may lose all or some of your investment.

Risks Relating to Our Business and Our Industry

Cancellations, reductions or postponements of advertising, or reduced spending in advertising could reduce our revenues and have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have in the past derived, and we expect to continue to derive, a significant amount of our revenues from our advertisers, particularly television advertisers. Other than some television network advertising that is presold on an annual basis, we generally have not obtained, and we do not expect to obtain, long-term commitments from advertisers. Therefore, advertisers generally may cancel, reduce or postpone advertising orders without penalty. Cancellations, reductions or postponements in purchases of advertising could, and often do, occur as a result of a general economic downturn; an economic downturn in one or more industries that have historically invested in advertising on our platforms; an economic downturn in one or more major markets such as Los Angeles, New York or Miami-Fort Lauderdale; a strike; changes in population, demographics, audience preferences and other factors beyond our control or a failure to agree on contractual terms with advertisers. Whether as a result of such factors or the desire to preserve more budgetary flexibility, to the extent advertisers reduce their upfront commitments or advertising spending in the earlier part of a year, postponements or reductions would have an impact on timing for our advertising revenues and results of operations. In addition, major incidents of terrorism, war, natural disasters or similar events may require us to program without any advertising which could also lead to reduced advertising revenues. These and other factors could also cause advertisers to lower the rates that they are willing to pay to advertise generally, which could also have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Advertisers' willingness to purchase advertising from us may also be affected by a decline in audience ratings of our programming, local market dynamics, our inability to retain the rights to popular programming, increasing audience fragmentation caused by new program channels and the proliferation of new media formats, including the Internet and video-on-demand and the deployment of portable digital devices and new services and technologies. Although we continue to develop more opportunities through our digital platforms for advertisers to satisfy their increasing demand for a larger portion of their advertising budgets to shift from television networks to digital advertising to account for the changing viewing habits of consumers, there can be no assurance that we will successfully replace reduced television advertising revenue with revenue from our digital platforms. The range of advertising choices across digital products and platforms and the large inventory of available digital advertising space have also historically resulted in significantly lower rates for digital advertising than television advertising, which may add additional pricing pressure on our television advertising rates and our related revenues. Any material cancellations, reductions or postponements of advertising or reduced advertising rates for any of the foregoing reasons would adversely affect our advertising revenues and could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Adverse global economic conditions may have a negative impact on our industry and on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Adverse global economic conditions could have a negative effect on our industry or the industry of those customers who advertise on our platforms, including, among others, the consumer package goods, telecommunications, retail, automotive, restaurant and financial industries, which provide a significant amount of our advertising revenue. There can be no assurance that we will not experience a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations as a result of adverse economic conditions or that any actions that the U.S. Government, Federal Reserve or other governmental and regulatory bodies have taken or may take for the reported purpose of improving the economy or financial markets, such as changes to fiscal or monetary policy, will achieve their intended effect. Additionally, some of these actions may adversely affect financial institutions, capital providers, advertisers or other consumers or our financial condition or results of operations or the trading price of our securities. Potential consequences of a global financial crisis could include:

- our ability to borrow capital on terms and conditions that we find acceptable, or at all, may be limited, which could limit our ability to refinance our existing debt or fund our operations;
- the possibility that our business partners and our ability to maintain our business relationships with them could be negatively impacted;
- the financial condition of companies that advertise on our stations, including, among others, those in the consumer package goods, telecommunications, retail, automotive, restaurant and financial industries, may deteriorate and they may file for bankruptcy protection or face severe cash flow issues, which may result in a significant decline in our advertising revenue;
- our ability to pursue the acquisition or divestiture of television or radio assets may be limited;
- the possible impairment of some or all of the value of our syndicated programming, goodwill and other intangible assets, including our broadcast licenses; and
- the possibility that one or more of the lenders under the credit agreement governing our senior secured credit facilities could refuse to fund its commitment to us or could fail, and we may not be able to replace the financing commitment of any such lenders on favorable terms, or at all.

Any of these consequences could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are focused on serving Hispanic America and the demand for our programming and our business, financial condition and results of operations are affected by changes that impact Hispanic America.

Anticipated Growth of the U.S. Hispanic Population and Buying Power

We believe a substantial portion of our growth will result from projected increases in the U.S. Hispanic population and by projected increases in their buying power. Factors that impact the U.S. Hispanic population, including a slow-down in immigration into the U.S. in the future, the impact of federal and state immigration legislation and policies on both the U.S. Hispanic population and persons emigrating from Latin America could affect the growth of the U.S. Hispanic population and, as a result the demand for our Spanish-language programming. If the U.S. Hispanic population grows more slowly than anticipated, the projected buying power of the U.S. Hispanic population may not grow as anticipated. In addition, economic conditions, such as unemployment, that disproportionately impact the U.S. Hispanic population could slow the growth of, or reduce, the projected buying power of U.S. Hispanics. If the U.S. Hispanic population or its buying power grows more slowly than anticipated, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Demand for Spanish-Language Programming Among U.S. Hispanics

We primarily target our Hispanic audience through Spanish-language programming. As U.S. Hispanics become bilingual and as more U.S. Hispanic households subscribe for pay-TV services, demand for our Spanish-language programming could be adversely impacted by competing English-language programming, including programming primarily in English-language targeting the bilingual U.S. Hispanic population. In addition, a shift in policy towards encouraging English-language fluency among U.S. Hispanic immigrants could also impact demand for Spanish-language programming. While El Rey, Fusion and Flama target the bilingual or English-language speaking U.S. Hispanic market, they may not be successful in attracting a significant audience or in offsetting any decline in demand for our Spanish-language programming. If we are unable to create more programming and networks targeted to this audience, we may lose audience share to competing English-language or bilingual programming which could lead to lower ratings and consequently, lower advertising revenues, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Geographic Concentration

The U.S. Hispanic population is concentrated geographically. Nielsen estimates for 2015 approximately 28% of all U.S. Hispanics will live in the Los Angeles, New York and Miami markets and the top ten U.S. Hispanic markets collectively will account for approximately 50% of the U.S. Hispanic population. We therefore expect our revenues to continue to be concentrated in these key markets. As a result, an economic downturn, increased competition or another significant negative condition in these markets could reduce our revenues and affect our business, financial condition and results of operations more dramatically than other companies that are not as dependent on these markets.

Lack of audience acceptance of our content could decrease our ratings and, therefore, our revenues.

Television and radio content production and distribution are inherently risky businesses because the revenues derived from the production and distribution of a television or radio program, and from the licensing of rights to the intellectual property associated with the program, depend primarily upon their acceptance by the public, which is difficult to predict. The commercial success of a television or radio program also depends upon the quality and acceptance of other competing programs released into the marketplace at or near the same time, the availability of alternative forms of entertainment and leisure time activities, general or specific geographic economic conditions and other tangible and intangible factors, many of which are outside our control. Other television and radio stations may change their formats or programming, a new station may adopt a format to compete directly with one or more of our stations, or stations might engage in aggressive promotional campaigns. Certain of the English-language networks and others are producing Spanish-language programming and simulcasting certain programming in English and Spanish.

A decrease in our audience acceptance, whether because of these factors or otherwise, can lead to lower ratings. Rating points are the primary factors that are weighed when determining the advertising rates that we receive. Advertisers' willingness to purchase advertising from us may be adversely affected by lower audience ratings. Advertising sales and rates also are dependent on audience measurement methodologies and could be negatively affected if methodologies do not accurately reflect actual viewership levels. The use of new ratings technologies and measurements, and viewership on new platforms or devices that is not being measured, could have an impact on our program ratings. For example, while C3, a current television industry ratings system, measures live commercial viewing plus three days of DVR and video-on-demand playback, the growing viewership occurring on subsequent days of DVR and video-on-demand playback is excluded from C3 ratings. Poor ratings can lead to a reduction in pricing and advertising revenues. As a result of the unpredictability of program performance and of competition for viewership, our stations' audience ratings, market shares and advertising revenues may decline, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

If the popularity of our programming declines or we lose or are otherwise unable to obtain the rights to popular programming, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. We may also incur an impairment loss in connection with prepayments for certain programming if our prepayments exceed the fair value of such programming.

Our results of operations are impacted by the acceptance of our programming by the public, which is difficult to predict. From time to time, our prime time programming may not be as popular as anticipated or it has been in past seasons. When this happens, we often launch new programming to replace our under-performing programming. Our new programming may not be successful or result in an increase in ratings. If our programming is not as popular as anticipated or declines in popularity, it could negatively affect our advertising revenue and, if prolonged, our subscription revenue, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we may lose rights to popular programming and may not be able to replace such programming with comparably popular programming. Any shortfall, now or in the future, in the expected popularity of the sports events for which we have acquired rights, or in the television programming we expect to air, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. For example, we had media rights to the 2014 World Cup, which significantly affected our results of operations in a positive manner in 2014 (and the periods in that year in which we recognized revenue connected with the 2014 World Cup). We will not carry the World Cup in 2018, 2022 and 2026, and therefore cannot expect an impact on our results of operations in those years similar to the impact we experienced in 2014.

We acquire programming (including sports programming) and make long-term commitments in advance of a television season and in some cases make multi-year programming commitments even though we cannot predict the ratings the programming will generate. We make prepayments for our rights to broadcast certain periodic sports programming prior to such programming being available. Under applicable accounting rules, as was the case with the 2010 World Cup media rights and the 2014 World Cup media rights, we are sometimes required to take an impairment charge on such programming rights if the prepayment amount for such rights exceeds the fair value of such rights, which is dependent on the amount of advertising sales for such programming. For example, at December 31, 2009, we recognized an impairment charge of $79.6 million in connection with the 2010 World Cup media rights and at September 30, 2013, we recognized an impairment charge of approximately $82.5 million in connection with the 2014 World Cup media rights. We may also incur an impairment loss on our programming rights in future fiscal periods, which may negatively impact our results of operations in such future fiscal periods.

In addition, we must still pay the program license fees pursuant to the Televisa PLA even if the programming supplied under the Televisa PLA is no longer popular or is not utilized to the same extent as previously utilized. We may replace unpopular programming before we recapture any significant portion of the costs incurred in connection with the programming or before we have fully amortized the costs which would negatively impact our results of operations.

Our failure to renew existing subscription or retransmission consent agreements or reach new subscription or retransmission consent agreements with MVPDs on acceptable terms could significantly reduce our carriage and therefore revenues, business, financial condition and results of operations.

We negotiate with MVPDs pursuant to multi-year carriage agreements that provide for the level of carriage that our networks will receive, and if applicable, for annual rate increases. Carriage of our networks is generally determined by package, such as whether our networks are included in the more widely distributed, general entertainment packages or lesser-distributed, specialized packages such as Hispanic or Spanish-language targeted packages, sports packages and movie/music packages. Subscription revenues are largely dependent on the rates negotiated in the subscription agreements, the number of subscribers that receive our networks or content, and the market demand for the content that we provide. The loss of one or more of these arrangements could reduce the distribution of our cable networks and reduce revenues we receive from subscriber fees and advertising, as applicable. Further, the loss of favorable packaging, positioning, pricing or other marketing opportunities with any MVPD could reduce revenues from subscriber fees.

We also periodically negotiate retransmission consent with MVPDs. The Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the “Communications Act”) prohibits MVPDs from retransmitting commercial broadcast television signals without first obtaining the broadcaster’s consent. Granting retransmission consent may involve compensation from the MVPD to the broadcaster for the use of the station’s signal. Alternatively, a local commercial television broadcast station can elect to require an MVPD to carry its signal, which is commonly referred to as “must-carry.” If the broadcast station elects to assert its must-carry rights in a particular market, the broadcaster cannot demand compensation from the MVPDs in that market.

In each case where we elect retransmission consent, we negotiate a written agreement with the MVPD governing the terms on which our stations will be carried, including compensation from the MVPD. These agreements are renewed or renegotiated periodically. We have reached agreements with MVPDs that, collectively, service substantially all pay-TV households. While we anticipate negotiating increased rates from MVPDs as we renew our agreements, we may not be able to negotiate anticipated rate increases and we cannot predict whether we will be able to renew these agreements or reach new agreements on acceptable terms or on a timely basis. If we are unable to reach agreement with an MVPD, we may choose to require that MVPD to cease carriage of our stations. The non-renewal or termination of retransmission agreements with MVPDs, or continued distribution to MVPDs on less favorable terms, could adversely affect our revenues and our ability to distribute our programming to a broad audience and our ability to sell advertising, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

On December 19, 2014, the FCC issued a notice of proposed rulemaking that would expand the definition of MVPD under the FCC’s rules to include certain OTT distributors of video programming that stream content to consumers over the Internet. The proposal, if adopted, could result in changes to how both our television stations’ signals and cable networks are distributed, and to how viewers access our content. We cannot predict the outcome of the rulemaking proceeding or the effect of such a change on our revenues from carriage agreements and from advertising.

Future consolidation in the cable or satellite MVPD industry could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

AT&T Inc. and DirecTV, and Charter Communications, Inc. (“Charter”) and Time Warner Cable, Inc. have entered into agreements to merge their respective companies. In addition, Charter has entered into an agreement to acquire Bright House Networks LLC. The transactions are subject to the prior approval of the FCC and the Department of Justice, which is pending. The AT&T Inc.–DirecTV merger, if approved and consummated, would result in the combination of two of the ten largest cable and satellite MVPDs. The Time Warner Cable - Charter - Bright House merger, if approved and consummated would result in the combination of three of the ten largest cable and satellite MVPDs. The MVPDs involved in these proposed transactions individually and collectively have access to a large percentage of the U.S. Hispanic population. Future consolidation may take place among MVPDs, further concentrating a large percentage of U.S. Hispanic population with fewer MVPDs. As a consequence, we may have less leverage in negotiating with MVPDs for distribution of our networks, which could impact our subscription revenues and have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Additionally, some cable and satellite MVPDs are affiliated with competitors of ours (Comcast owns and operates Telemundo, for example), which may negatively affect our negotiations with such MVPDs. If we are not successful in negotiating with such MVPDs for carriage of our networks, we may not be able to reach certain key demographics of the U.S. Hispanic population and this may affect our ability to attract advertisers and generate advertising revenues, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We face increased competition from digital and mobile distribution of media and if we are unable to successfully launch such services or if our digital and mobile distribution services do not gain market acceptance, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Technology used by consumers to access media is changing rapidly. Alternate distribution technologies, such as the Internet and wireless networks, are now viable platforms for the sale, viewing of and listening to content, and we expect that additional distribution technologies will continue to be developed. These alternate distribution technologies enable both the entry of new competitors in the entertainment space, as well as new products and services from existing competitors. These alternate distribution technologies, new competitors, and new products and services are also driving changes in consumer behavior as consumers seek, and are often given, more control over when, where and how they view or listen to content. Examples of these advances in technologies include delivery of content over the Internet, wireless and mobile platforms, both in linear and on-demand models; satellite radio; place-shifting content from the home to portable devices for viewing or listening outside the home; additional technologies that enable time-shifting both television and radio programs; and online distribution of over-the-air signals, whether authorized or unauthorized. Alternate distribution technologies, new competitors, new products and services, and new consumer behavior could have a material adverse effect on our viewership, and could affect the attractiveness of our programming to advertisers, all of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

As alternate technologies enable new distribution, new competitors and new products and services, they also enable new behavior from consumers. Use of live and video streaming sites that provide unauthorized access to copyrighted content has increased as has the use of wireless devices (e.g., iPhones, iPads and Kindles) that allow consumers to view or listen to content in locations and at times of their choosing while avoiding viewership measurement or traditional commercial advertisements. Consumers, as well, have begun creating their own content, made available on user-generated content sites like YouTube. As more competitors, enabled by alternate distribution technologies, enter the market, and more original programming from myriad sources becomes available, consumers may choose to discontinue subscribing to MVPDs' television services, and may instead choose to pay for less content from another provider (e.g., Netflix, Amazon, Hulu), or may instead choose to simply consume content available for free (e.g., YouTube, Vine). These shifting behaviors may, individually or collectively, adversely affect our viewership, our licensing revenue, our subscription revenue or our television and radio advertising revenues, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our failure to successfully compete with other broadcasters and other entertainment and news media for our share of advertising revenue could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We compete with other broadcasters and other entertainment and news media for advertising revenue. There have also been an increasing number of competitors targeting the U.S. Hispanic population. The success of our television networks and radio stations is primarily dependent upon their share of overall advertising revenues within their markets, especially in the New York, Los Angeles and Miami-Fort Lauderdale markets. Our radio stations compete in their respective markets for audiences and advertising revenues with other stations of all formats, as well as with other media, such as satellite radio, cable services, television, digital, and mobile and direct mail, newspapers, magazines, and outdoor advertising. If we fail to compete successfully for our share of advertising revenue, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Damage to our brands, particularly the Univision brand, or our reputation could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We believe that our brands, particularly the Univision brand, are among our most valuable assets. We believe that our brand image, brand awareness and reputation foster our relationship with Hispanic America and have contributed significantly to the success of our business. We believe that the extension of our brands will contribute to the growth of our business. Maintaining, further enhancing and extending our brands may require us to make significant investments in marketing, programming or new products, services or events. These investments may not be successful. If we are not successful in maintaining or enhancing the image or awareness of our brands, or if our reputation is harmed for any reason, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our quarterly results of operations may fluctuate significantly, making it difficult to rely on period-to-period comparisons of our results of operations as an indication of our future performance.

Our results of operations may fluctuate from period to period as a result of numerous factors, including, but not limited to:

- demand for advertising on our platforms;
- global economic conditions;
- seasonal advertising patterns and seasonal influences on people’s viewing, reading and listening habits;
- changes in ratings;
- local market dynamics;
- increased consumption of our programming on digital or mobile devices;
- coverage of the major soccer tournaments, such as the World Cup or Gold Cup, by us or our competitors;
- competing English-language or Spanish-language programming;
- elections and other unique programming events;
- the timing of retransmission or affiliate agreement renewals; and
- other factors impacting the results of operations discussed in “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.”

Many of the above factors are discussed in more detail elsewhere in this “Risk Factors” section and in the sections titled “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” and “Business.” Many of these factors are outside of our control, and the variability and unpredictability of these factors could cause our results of operations to vary significantly from period-to-period and could cause us to fail to meet our expectations for revenues or results of operations for a given period. As a result of the variability of our results of operations, you should not rely on period to period comparisons of our results of operations as an indication of our future performance.

We may need to retain the rights to sports programming to attract advertising revenues, and, even if we retain such rights, there is no assurance that our sports programming will continue to be popular or that associated advertising revenue will generate sufficient revenue to offset the associated costs.

We have traditionally relied, in part, on the broadcasting of certain sports programming to attract advertising revenues. We are facing increasing competition for sports programming from other Spanish-language networks and from companies owning English and Spanish-language networks, and we may have to increase the price we are willing to pay or risk being outbid by our competitors for popular content. For example, while we had the rights to the 2014 World Cup, we did not obtain the rights to the 2018, 2022 and 2026 World Cups and, accordingly, we will not benefit from the expected audience for those events during those years. Moreover, particularly with long-term contracts for sports programming rights, our results of operations and cash flows over the term of a contract depend on a number of factors, including the strength of the advertising market, our audience size for the related programming and the ability to secure distribution from, and impose surcharges or obtain carriage on, MVPDs for the content, and the timing and amount of our rights payments. If we are unable to compete effectively with other networks or distribution channels for sports programming, this could affect our ratings, and result in a decline in advertising revenue. Even if we are able to secure rights to sports programming, there is no assurance that such programming will generate the expected advertising revenue or that the revenue generated by the related programming will exceed our cost, as well as the other costs of producing and distributing the programming. Under the Televisa PLA, we received the U.S. rights to broadcast Mexican First Division soccer league games for which Televisa owns or controls the U.S. rights. However, there is no assurance as to how the soccer teams will perform or if the Mexican soccer league games will continue to be popular in the U.S. There can be no guarantee that Televisa will maintain the U.S. broadcast rights to Mexican First Division soccer league games to the extent it currently possesses such rights, or at all. If Mexican soccer league games do not continue to be popular or, in the case of the teams not owned by Televisa, if the rights to such games cannot be obtained by us at an acceptable cost or at all, this could affect our ratings, and result in a decline in advertising revenue. In addition, the costs of some rights may increase. If the sports programming we have does not achieve sufficient consumer acceptance, or if we or Televisa cannot obtain or retain rights to popular sports programming on acceptable terms, or at all, this could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We receive a significant amount of our network programming from Televisa and if such programming is not as popular as it has been in the past or we were to lose access to such programming, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We receive a significant amount of programming for our broadcast television networks and cable offerings from Televisa pursuant to the Televisa PLA. The programming we receive under the Televisa PLA accounts for a majority of our primetime programming on the Univision Network and a substantial portion of the overall programming on our broadcast television networks, cable channels and our media networks digital platforms. Upon consummation of this offering, the Televisa PLA is not set to expire until the later of 2030 or 7.5 years after a Televisa Sell-Down, unless certain change of control events happen, in which case the Televisa PLA will expire on the later of 2025 or 7.5 years following a Televisa Sell-Down. If Televisa were to stop providing us programming for any reason or if the programming Televisa provides to us is not as popular as anticipated or it has been in the past, and if we are unable to replace such programming with new popular programming, this could lead to lower ratings and a decline in advertising revenues. We may also incur increased programming costs if we had to obtain new programming from other third parties or produce it ourselves. The loss or decline in popularity of programming from Televisa could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. For a description of the terms of the Televisa PLA, see “Business—Programming—Televisa.”

Scheduled increases in royalty payments under the Televisa PLA could have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

Under the Televisa PLA, Televisa receives royalties from us, based on 11.84% of substantially all of our Spanish-language media networks revenues through December 2017. Additionally, Televisa receives an incremental 2% in royalty payments on any of such media networks revenues above a contractual revenue base of $1.66 billion. After December 2017, the royalty payments to Televisa will increase to 16.13%, and commencing later in 2018, the rate will further increase to 16.45% until the expiration of the Televisa PLA. Additionally, Televisa will receive an incremental 2% in royalty payments (with the revenue base decreasing to $1.63 billion with the second rate increase). If we are not able to take advantage of the increased digital rights we received under the Televisa PLA or otherwise increase our overall margins, the increased royalties could have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

We produce our own programming and have launched new networks, and there is no assurance that our audience will accept our new programming or our new networks.

We launched Univision Studios in 2010 to produce our own programming and have produced limited programming to date. If we choose to increase the use of our own programming instead of using programming from Televisa or other parties, we will have to incur additional costs associated with producing our programming, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. The revenues derived from the production of such programming will depend primarily upon its acceptance by the public, and our own programming will have to compete with other Spanish-language programming. If our programming is not as popular as programming we receive from Televisa under the Televisa PLA, or from other third parties, this may lead to lower ratings and a decline in our advertising revenues and any such revenues may not offset the costs of producing such programming, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Table of Contents

Since 2012, we have launched Univision tlnovelas, Univision Deportes and ForoTV, and have invested in strategic partnerships that launched the Fusion television and digital networks, El Rey and Flama. If these networks are unable to attract or retain a large audience, we may not be able to garner favorable ratings and generate significant advertising revenues from such networks and we may record losses on our investments in these networks. In the three months ended March 31, 2015, the year ended December 31, 2014 and the year ended December 31, 2013, we recorded losses on equity method investments related to our investments in El Rey and Fusion. See Note 7 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and Note 5 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 contained elsewhere in this prospectus. In addition, we will need to make additional investments in such networks. If these networks are not successful, we may not be able to generate net gains on our investment, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may not be able to monetize our content on our digital platforms effectively, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Univision.com is our flagship digital property and our largest digital platform. In 2012 we launched our UVideos Digital Network, which is a new video platform providing on-demand delivery of our programming, which are accessible through multiple devices and platforms including game consoles, smart phones, tablets and Internet-enabled televisions. While we receive digital business revenues from display advertising, we expect that video advertising, subscriber fees for our digital content that is provided on an authenticated basis on Univision.com and UVideos Digital Network digital content licensing, digital sponsorship advertising and other long form video content initiatives will play a larger role in our business going forward. However, our online video initiatives may not be successful in generating sufficient public acceptance or generate significant online revenue. In addition, some of our programming, such as telenovelas, which are often watched live and on a daily basis, may not successfully translate to digital platforms or obtain a significant audience on such platforms. If we are not able to gain a sufficient audience on our digital platforms and monetize our programming on these platforms successfully, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. We also face competition for online advertising from websites such as Telemundo.com, Yahoo!, en Español, MSN Latino, MaximumTV and ButacaTV and mobile applications, such as BuzzFeed and Vice, which provide Spanish-language digital content, and other online video providers such as Hulu, Netflix and Amazon Prime, for audience share and online advertising revenues, and if we are unable to compete successfully with such providers, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may not be successful in monetizing our broadcast spectrum assets or receiving the anticipated proceeds from any such monetization.

We are evaluating the potential opportunity to monetize certain of our broadcast spectrum assets by participating in the Broadcast Incentive Auction or otherwise monetizing such assets. The Broadcast Incentive Auction is scheduled to occur in 2016, but may be cancelled, delayed or materially altered. Accordingly, we may not have an opportunity to participate in the Broadcast Incentive Auction on terms that are acceptable to us, or at all. If we do participate, the auction may not generate anticipated proceeds that would justify our participation in the auction. Moreover, any other efforts to monetize such assets that we undertake may not be successful.

The monetization of our spectrum assets could have an adverse effect on our television stations and require us to incur additional costs, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

If we decide to monetize certain of our spectrum assets in the Broadcast Incentive Auction, we may elect to migrate certain of our television broadcast operations on a “shared” basis to spectrum already licensed to us or to third parties or otherwise modify our transmission facilities. This could result in new interference to our signals from other stations, reduce our over-the-air signal coverage or cause other service impairments to our television stations, or require us to incur relocation costs, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The failure or destruction of satellites and transmitter facilities that we depend upon to distribute our programming could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We use satellite systems to transmit our broadcast and cable networks to affiliates. The distribution facilities include uplinks, communications satellites and downlinks. Transmissions may be disrupted as a result of local disasters including extreme weather that impair on-ground uplinks or downlinks, or as a result of an impairment of a satellite. Currently, there are a limited number of communications satellites available for the transmission of programming. If a disruption occurs, we may not be able to secure alternate distribution facilities in a timely manner. Failure to secure alternate distribution facilities in a timely manner could have a material adverse effect on our businesses and results of operations. Each of our television and radio stations and cable networks uses studio and transmitter facilities that are subject to damage or destruction. Failure to restore such facilities in a timely manner in the event of such damage could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We rely on network and information systems and other technologies for our business activities and certain events, such as computer hackings, viruses or other destructive or disruptive software or activities may disrupt our operations, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Network and information systems and other technologies are important to our business activities and operations. Network and information systems-related events, such as computer hackings, cyber threats, security breaches, viruses, or other destructive or disruptive software, process breakdowns or malicious or other activities could result in a disruption of our services and operations or improper disclosure of personal data or confidential information, which could damage our reputation and require us to expend resources to remedy any such breaches. Moreover, the amount and scope of insurance we maintain against losses resulting from any such events or security breaches may not be sufficient to cover our losses or otherwise adequately compensate us for any disruptions to our businesses that may result, and the occurrence of any such events or security breaches could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations. The risk of these systems-related events and security breaches occurring has intensified, in part because we maintain certain information necessary to conduct our businesses in digital form stored on cloud servers. While we develop and maintain systems seeking to prevent systems-related events and security breaches from occurring, the development and maintenance of these systems is costly and requires ongoing monitoring and updating as technologies change and efforts to overcome security measures become more sophisticated. Despite these efforts, there can be no assurance that disruptions and security breaches will not occur in the future. Moreover, we may provide certain confidential, proprietary and personal information to third parties in connection with our businesses, and while we obtain assurances that these third parties will protect this information, there is a risk that this information may be compromised. The occurrence of any of such network or information systems-related events or security breaches could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have a significant amount of goodwill and other intangible assets. We may never realize the full value of our intangible assets and any further impairment of a significant portion of our goodwill and other intangible assets could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Goodwill and intangible assets totaled approximately $8.2 billion at March 31, 2015 and $8.2 billion at December 31, 2014. At least annually, we test our goodwill and non-amortizable intangible assets for impairment and we continue to assess whether factors or indicators, such as a general economic slowdown, become apparent that would require an interim test. Impairment may result from, among other things, deterioration in our performance, adverse changes in applicable laws and regulations, including changes that restrict the activities of or affect the products or services sold by our businesses and a variety of other factors.

The amount of any quantified impairment must be expensed immediately as a charge to operations. During the three months ended March 31, 2015, we recorded a non-cash impairment loss of $0.3 million related to the write-down of program rights. During the year ended December 31, 2014, we recorded non-cash impairment losses of $340.5 million, which consisted primarily of $182.9 million related to the impairment of Venevision International Enterprises LLC (“Venevision”) related prepaid programming assets made in conjunction with the amendment of the program license agreement with Venevision (the “Venevision PLA”), $133.4 million related to the write-down of broadcast radio licenses, $9.0 million related to the write-down of a trade name, $8.2 million related to the write-down of program rights and $7.0 million related to the write-down of property held for sale. During the year ended December 31, 2013, we recorded non-cash impairment losses of $439.4 million, which consisted primarily of $307.8 million related to the write-off of Radio segment goodwill, approximately $82.5 million related to the write-down of World Cup program rights prepayments, $43.4 million related to the write-down of broadcast radio licenses, and $2.5 million related to the residual write-off of the TeleFutura trade name as the network completed its rebranding as UniMás. During the year ended December 31, 2012, we recorded non-cash impairment losses of $90.4 million, including $47.6 million related to the write-down of a trade name, as a result of a decision to rebrand the TeleFutura Network as UniMás.

Appraisals of any of our segments impacting fair value of our assets or changes in estimates of our future cash flows could affect our impairment analysis in future periods and cause us to record either an additional expense for impairment of assets previously determined to be impaired or record an expense for impairment of other assets. Depending on future circumstances, we may never realize the full value of intangible assets. Any future determination or impairment of a significant portion of our goodwill and other intangibles could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Our ability to utilize our net operating loss carryforwards and certain other tax attributes may be limited.

We have incurred significant cumulative net taxable losses in the past. Our unused losses generally carry forward to offset future taxable income, if any, until such unused losses expire. We may be unable to use these losses to offset income before such unused losses expire. In addition, if a corporation undergoes an “ownership change” (generally defined as a greater than 50-percentage-point cumulative change in the equity ownership of certain stockholders over a rolling three-year period) under Sections 382 and 383 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), the corporation’s ability to use its pre-change net operating loss carryforwards, or NOLs, and other pre-change tax attributes to offset future taxable income or taxes may be limited. We may experience ownership changes as a result of this offering or future changes in our stock ownership (including dispositions of our stock by the Investors), some of which changes may not be within our control. If we are unable to use our net operating loss carryforwards before they expire, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our business depends on the performance of our senior executives.

Our business depends on the efforts, abilities and expertise of our senior executives. These individuals are important to our success because they have been instrumental in setting our strategic direction, operating our business, identifying, recruiting and training key personnel and identifying business opportunities. The loss of one or more of these key individuals could impair our business until qualified replacements are found. We cannot assure you that these individuals could quickly be replaced with persons of equal experience and capabilities. Although we have employment agreements with certain of these individuals, we could not prevent them from terminating their employment with us.

Strikes or other union job actions could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are directly or indirectly dependent upon highly specialized union members who are essential to our local news programs. We have collective bargaining agreements covering our union employees with varying expiration dates through 2018. If expiring collective bargaining agreements are not able to be renewed, it is possible that the affected unions could take action in the form of strikes or work stoppages. A strike by, or a lockout of, one or more of the unions could affect our ability to produce our local news programs, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Piracy of our programming and other content, including digital piracy, may decrease revenue received from the exploitation of our programming and other content, and could adversely affect our businesses, financial condition and operating results.

Piracy of programming and other unauthorized uses of content are made easier, and the enforcement of intellectual property rights more challenging, by technological advances allowing the conversion of programming and other content in to digital formats, which facilitates the creation, transmission and sharing of high quality unauthorized copies of our content. Technological advances, which facilitate the streaming of programming via the Internet to television screens and other devices, may increase piracy. In particular, piracy of programming and other content through unauthorized distribution on peer-to-peer computer networks and other platforms continues to present challenges of us. The proliferation of unauthorized access to programming has an adverse effect on our businesses and profitability because these unauthorized actions reduce the revenue that we potentially could receive from the legitimate sale and distribution of our services and products. Also, while legal protections exist, piracy and technological tools with which to carry it out continue to escalate, evolve and present challenges for enforcement. If legal protections fail to adapt to new technologies that facilitate piracy, we may be unable to effectively protect our rights, which could negatively impact our value and further increase our enforcement costs.

Our operations and properties are subject to environmental, health and safety laws and regulations that result in substantial costs and other risks.

Our facilities and operations, like those of other companies engaged in similar businesses, are subject to the requirements of various federal, state and local environmental and occupational safety and health laws and regulations, including those relating to the management, use, storage, disposal, emission and remediation of, and exposure to regulated substances, materials and wastes. We may be subject to fines or penalties if we fail to comply with any of these requirements. In addition, we may be liable for costs of investigation, removal or remediation of soil and groundwater contaminated by hazardous materials as the owner, lessee or operator of real property and facilities, without regard to whether we, as the owner, lessee or operator, knew of, or were responsible for, the contamination. We may also be liable for certain costs of remediating contamination at third party sites to which we sent waste for disposal. The requirements of these laws and regulations are complex, change frequently, and could become more stringent in the future. It is possible that these requirements will change or that liabilities will arise in the future in a manner that could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Relating to our Federal Regulatory Framework

The Communications Act and FCC regulations limit the ability of non-U.S. citizens and certain other persons to invest in us.

The acquisition and ownership of our securities, directly or indirectly, by a foreign party could cause us to be in violation of the foreign investment limitations of the Communications Act which generally prohibit foreign parties from owning more than 25% of the equity or voting interests of a company owning a broadcast station licensee without the prior authorization of the FCC. Pursuant to the MOU, Televisa and Univision have agreed jointly to file a petition for declaratory ruling with the FCC seeking (a) an increase in the authorized aggregate foreign ownership of Univision's issued and outstanding shares of common stock from 25% to 49% and (b) to authorize Televisa to hold up to 40% of Univision's issued and outstanding shares of common stock (in both cases on a voting and an equity basis). Univision and Televisa have agreed to file the petition by the earlier of 30 days after the consummation of Univision's proposed initial public offering and January 5, 2016. A decision by the FCC not to grant, in whole or in part, the relief requested in the joint petition, could limit the ability of foreign investors to acquire and hold our securities. Separately, under the FCC's media ownership rules, a direct or indirect owner of our securities could violate the FCC's structural media ownership limitations if that person owned or acquired an "attributable" interest in certain other television stations nationally or in certain types of media properties in the same market as one or more of our broadcast stations. Under the FCC's "attribution" policies the following relationships and interests generally are cognizable for purposes of the substantive media ownership restrictions: (1) ownership of 5% or more of a media company's voting stock (except for investment companies, insurance companies and bank trust departments, whose holdings are subject to a 20% voting stock benchmark); (2) officers and directors of a media company and its direct or indirect parent(s); (3) any general partnership or limited liability company manager interest; (4) any limited partnership interest or limited liability company member interest that is not "insulated," pursuant to FCC-prescribed criteria, from material involvement in the management or operations of the media company; (5) certain same-market time brokerage agreements; (6) certain same-market joint sales agreements ("JSAs"); and (7) under the FCC's "equity/debt plus" standard, otherwise non-attributable equity or debt interests in a media company if the holder's combined equity and debt interests amount to more than 33% of the "total asset value" of the media company and the holder has certain other interests in the media company or in another media property in the same market.

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation includes provisions that permit us to take certain actions in order to comply with the Communications Act and FCC regulations, as applicable, regarding ownership of securities by such persons, including, but not limited to, the right to refuse to permit the transfer of shares of common stock, to suspend the rights of stock ownership, to require the conversion of shares of common stock into any other class of our common stock or warrants and to redeem shares of common stock. Non-U.S. citizen investors and investors with "attributable" interests in certain types of media properties should consider carefully these provisions in our amended and restated certificate of incorporation prior to investing in our Class A common stock, particularly given Televisa's ownership of our Class T-3 common stock, which gives Televisa substantial voting rights. These restrictions may decrease the liquidity and value of our Class A common stock by reducing the pool of potential investors in our company and making the acquisition of control of us by third parties more difficult. In addition, these restrictions could adversely affect our ability to attract additional equity financing in the future or consummate an acquisition using shares of our capital stock. See "Description of Capital Stock—Federal Communications Laws Restrictions."

Compliance with, and/or changes in, U.S. communications laws or other regulations may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The television and radio industries in the U.S. are highly regulated by U.S. federal laws and regulations issued and administered by various federal agencies, including the FCC. See "Business—Federal Regulation." The television and radio broadcasting industry is subject to extensive regulation by the FCC under the Communications Act. For example, we are required to obtain licenses from the FCC to operate our radio and television stations with maximum terms of eight years, renewable upon application. We cannot assure you that the FCC will approve our future license renewal applications or that the renewals will be for full terms or will not include special operating conditions or qualifications. The non-renewal, or renewal with substantial conditions or modifications, of one or more of our licenses could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The U.S. Congress and the FCC currently have under consideration, and may in the future adopt, new laws, regulations and policies regarding a wide variety of matters that could, directly or indirectly, affect the operation of each of our segments and ownership of our radio and television properties. For example, from time to time, proposals have been advanced in the U.S. Congress and at the FCC to shorten license terms for broadcast stations to less than eight years, to mandate the origination of certain levels and types of local programming, or to require radio and television broadcast stations to provide free advertising time to political candidates. Any restrictions on political/advocacy advertising may adversely affect our advertising revenues. In addition, some policymakers maintain that cable MVPDs should be required to offer a la carte programming to subscribers on a network by network basis or “family friendly” programming tiers. Unbundling packages of program services may increase both competition for carriage on distribution platforms and marketing expenses, which could adversely affect our cable networks’ business, financial condition and results of operations. Legislation could be enacted, which could require broadcasters to pay a performance royalty to record companies and performers of music which is broadcast on radio stations and increase the cost of music programming on our radio stations.

In addition, in a pending rulemaking proceeding, the FCC is seeking comment on a proposal to eliminate the UHF Discount, pursuant to which the audience reach attributed to UHF television stations is discounted by 50% for purposes of determining compliance with the FCC’s 39% national audience reach cap. If the UHF Discount were eliminated, our current reach would exceed the national cap. The FCC has proposed to “grandfather” existing station portfolios, like ours, that would exceed the cap upon elimination of the UHF Discount. However, absent a waiver, a grandfathered station group would have to come into compliance with the cap upon a sale or transfer of control. While this proceeding is pending and we cannot predict its outcome, or whether other similar proposals may be enacted in the future, upon elimination of the UHF Discount we may be required to divest television stations or take other steps to comply with the national cap in the event of a transfer of control of Univision, including a transfer of control to the public stockholders of Univision, or as otherwise may be required, pursuant to the MOU. Elimination of the UHF Discount may also adversely affect our ability to acquire additional television stations. See “Business—Federal Regulation—Ownership Restrictions” and “Certain Relationships and Related Person Transactions—Agreement on FCC Petition and FCC Transfer of Control Application.”

New laws or regulations with respect to retransmission consent or “must-carry” rights could significantly reduce our ability to obtain carriage and therefore revenues.

A number of entities have commenced operation, or announced plans to commence operation, of Internet protocol video systems or internet protocol television (“IPTV”) systems, using digital subscriber line (“DSL”), fiber optic to the home (“FTTH”) and other distribution technologies. In most cases, we have entered into retransmission consent agreements with such entities for carriage of our eligible stations. However, the issue of whether those services are subject to cable television regulations, including must carry or retransmission consent obligations, has not been resolved. If IPTV systems gain a significant share of the video distribution marketplace, and new laws and regulations fail to provide adequate must carry and/or retransmission consent rights, our ability to distribute our programming to the maximum number of potential viewers and to be compensated for such distribution may be limited.

As noted above, on December 19, 2014, the FCC issued a notice of proposed rulemaking that would expand the definition of MVPD under the FCC’s rules to include certain OTT distributors of video programming that stream content to consumers over the Internet. The proposal, if adopted, could result in changes to how both our television stations’ signals and cable networks are distributed, and to how viewers access our content. We cannot predict the outcome of the rulemaking proceeding or the effect of such a change on our revenues from carriage agreements and from advertising.

In early 2010, a number of cable and satellite MVPDs joined in a petition to urge the FCC to initiate a rulemaking proceeding to consider amending its retransmission consent rules. In March 2011, the FCC initiated a formal rulemaking proceeding to evaluate the proposals raised by the petitioners and more broadly to review its retransmission consent rules. Acknowledging its limited jurisdiction, the FCC solicited comments on a series of preliminary proposals intended to clarify certain rules, and provide guidance to the parties, concerning or affecting retransmission consent negotiations. In March 2014, the FCC adopted a rule prohibiting the joint negotiation of retransmission consent agreements by top-4 rated non-commonly-owned stations in the same market, and sought comment on possible changes to its rules regarding television stations’ rights to territorial exclusivity with respect to network and syndicated programming. However, in the STELA Reauthorization Act ("STELAR"), enacted in December 2014, Congress directed the FCC to undertake additional rulemakings concerning retransmission consent issues, including to adopt regulations to prohibit a television station from coordinating retransmission consent negotiations or negotiating retransmission consent on a joint basis with any other television station in the same market, irrespective of ratings, unless the stations are under common control. The FCC adopted such a rule in February 2015. The rule prohibits Univision and Entravision Communications Corporation ("Entravision"), from negotiating retransmission consent jointly, or from coordinating such negotiations, in six markets where both companies own television stations. Separately, on June 2, 2015, the FCC adopted an order implementing a further directive of STELAR that the FCC streamline its "effective competition" rules for small cable operators. Under the Communications Act, local franchising authorities (LFAs) may regulate a cable operator's basic cable service tier rates and equipment charges only if the cable operator is not subject to effective competition. Historically the FCC presumed the absence of effective competition unless and until a cable operator rebutted the presumption. The FCC's order reversed that approach and adopted a rebuttable presumption that all cable operators, regardless of size, are subject to effective competition. Some cable operators have taken the position that cable systems found to be subject to effective competition are not required to place television stations, like ours, that have elected retransmission consent on the basic cable service tier. The FCC's order does not address this issue. The FCC also must implement other provisions in STELAR that could affect retransmission consent negotiations, including a proceeding launched in March 2015 concerning procedures for modification of a station's "market" for purposes of determining its entitlement to cable and/or satellite carriage in certain circumstances. We cannot predict the outcome of future rulemakings on these matters.

Increased enforcement or enhancement of FCC indecency and other program content rules could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

FCC rules prohibit the broadcast of obscene material at any time and/or indecent or profane material on television or radio broadcast stations between the hours of 6 a.m. and 10 p.m. Several years ago, the FCC stepped up its enforcement activities as they apply to indecency, and indicated that it would consider initiating license revocation proceedings for "serious" indecency violations. In the past several years, the FCC has found indecent content in a number of cases and has issued fines to the offending licensees. The current maximum permitted fines per station if the violator is determined by the FCC to have broadcast obscene, indecent or profane material are $350,000 per incident and $3,300,000 for a continuing violation, and the amount is subject to periodic adjustment for inflation. Fines have been assessed on a station-by-station basis, so that the broadcast of network programming containing allegedly indecent or profane material has resulted in fines levied against each station affiliated with that network which aired the programming containing such material. In June 2012, the U.S. Supreme Court struck down, on due process grounds, FCC Notices of Apparent Liability issued against stations affiliated with the FOX and ABC television networks in connection with their broadcast of "fleeting" or brief broadcasts of expletives or nudity and remanded the case to the FCC for further proceedings consistent with the Court's opinion. In September 2012, the Chairman of the FCC directed FCC staff to commence a review of the FCC's indecency policies, and to focus indecency enforcement on egregious cases while reducing the backlog of pending broadcast indecency complaints. On April 1, 2013, the FCC issued a public notice seeking comment on whether the FCC should make changes to its current broadcast indecency policies or maintain them as they are. The proceeding to review the FCC's indecency policies is pending, and we cannot predict the timing or outcome of the proceeding. The determination of whether content is indecent is inherently subjective and therefore it can be difficult to predict whether particular content could violate indecency standards, particularly where programming is live and spontaneous. Our violation of the indecency rules could lead to sanctions that could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The impact of legislation that could result in the reallocation of broadcast spectrum may result in additional costs and affect our ability to provide competitive services, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Federal legislation was enacted in February 2012 that, among other things, authorizes the FCC to conduct a voluntary "incentive auction" in order to reallocate certain spectrum currently occupied by television broadcast stations to mobile wireless broadband services, to repack television stations into a smaller portion of the existing television spectrum band and to require television stations that do not participate in the auction to modify their transmission facilities, subject to reimbursement for reasonable relocation costs up to an industry-wide total of $1.75 billion.

The FCC has adopted rules concerning the incentive auction and the repacking of the television band, and it has indicated it expects the auction to occur during 2016. Meanwhile, the FCC is expected to adopt additional rules and procedures to implement the February 2012 legislation. Under the auction design proposed by the FCC, television stations will be given an opportunity to offer spectrum for sale to the government in a “reverse” auction while wireless providers will bid to acquire spectrum from the government in a simultaneous “forward” auction.

If some or all of our television stations are required to change frequencies, otherwise modify their operations in a repacking, or accept new interference from other stations, our stations could incur conversion costs, reduction of over-the-air signal coverage or other service impairments, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Relating to Our Indebtedness

If we were to experience net losses in the future and for an extended period of time, our ability to comply with the credit agreement governing our senior secured credit facilities, the indentures governing our senior notes, including financial covenants and ratios, could be adversely affected, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have in the past and may in the future experience net losses. If we were to experience net losses in the future and for an extended period of time, there could be an adverse effect on our liquidity and capital resources, including but not limited to, an adverse effect as a result of our failure to comply with the financial covenants or ratios in the credit agreement governing our senior secured credit facilities. In addition, if events or circumstances occur such that we were not able to generate positive cash flow and operate our business as it is presently conducted, we may be required to seek a waiver from our banks if we are unable to comply with our financial covenants or ratios, or we will have to take actions such as reducing or delaying capital investments, selling assets, restructuring or refinancing our debt or seeking additional equity capital. We may not, if necessary, be able to effect these actions on commercially reasonable terms, or at all. In addition, the indentures governing our senior notes and the credit agreement governing our senior secured credit facilities may restrict us from taking some of these actions. Any default under the credit agreement governing our senior secured credit facilities, inability to renegotiate such agreement if required, obtain additional financing if needed, or obtain waivers for any failure to comply with financial covenants and ratios would have a material adverse effect on our overall business and financial condition.

Our substantial indebtedness could adversely affect our business and your investment in our Class A common stock.

As of March 31, 2015, after giving pro forma effect to this offering and the application of the net proceeds as described in the “Use of Proceeds,” we estimated that we would have had outstanding total long-term indebtedness of approximately $            billion (excluding discount and premium), including approximately $            million of senior secured indebtedness (including $            million of capital leases but excluding $            million of letters of credit), approximately $            million of borrowings under our accounts receivable sale facility and approximately $            million of senior unsecured indebtedness. Our substantial level of indebtedness and other financial obligations increase the possibility that we may be unable to generate cash sufficient to pay, when due, the principal of, interest on, or other amounts due, in respect of our indebtedness or refinance our existing debt prior to it becoming due. Our substantial debt could also have other significant consequences. For example, it could:

- increase our vulnerability to general adverse economic, competitive and industry conditions;

- limit our ability to obtain additional financing in the future for working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions, general corporate purposes or other purposes on satisfactory terms or at all;
- require us to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to the payment of our indebtedness, thereby reducing the funds available to us for operations and any future business opportunities;
- expose us to the risk of increased interest rates as certain of our borrowings, including borrowings under our senior secured credit facilities, will be at variable rates of interest;
- restrict us from making strategic acquisitions or cause us to make non-strategic divestitures;
- limit our planning flexibility for, or ability to react to, changes in our business and the industries in which we operate;
- limit our ability to adjust to changing market conditions; and
- place us at a competitive disadvantage with competitors who may have less indebtedness and other obligations or greater access to financing.

If we fail to make any required payment under our senior secured credit facilities or to comply with any of the financial and operating covenants included in our senior secured credit facilities, we will be in default. Lenders under such facilities could then vote to accelerate the maturity of the indebtedness and foreclose upon our and our subsidiaries' assets securing such indebtedness. Other creditors might then accelerate other indebtedness. If any of our creditors accelerate the maturity of the portion of our indebtedness held by such creditors, we may not have sufficient assets to satisfy our obligations under our senior secured credit facilities or our other indebtedness.

Despite our substantial indebtedness, we and our subsidiaries may still be able to incur substantially more debt. This could further exacerbate the risks associated with our substantial leverage.

We and our subsidiaries may be able to incur substantial additional indebtedness in the future. Although our senior secured credit facilities and the indentures governing our senior notes contain restrictions on the incurrence of additional indebtedness, these restrictions are subject to a number of qualifications and exceptions, and the indebtedness we can incur in compliance with these restrictions could be substantial. For example, we may, at our option and subject to certain conditions, increase our senior secured credit facilities in an aggregate amount not to exceed $750.0 million. Moreover, none of our indentures impose any limitation on our incurrence of liabilities that are not considered "Indebtedness" under the indentures, nor do they impose any limitation on liabilities incurred by subsidiaries, such as our subsidiary that operates Flama, that are designated as "unrestricted subsidiaries." Further, although Televisa has certain approval rights with respect to our ability to incur additional indebtedness, we and our subsidiaries may still be able to incur substantially more debt. If we incur additional debt, the risks associated with our substantial leverage would increase.

Restrictive covenants in the credit agreement governing our senior secured credit facilities and the indentures governing our senior notes may restrict our ability to pursue our business strategies.

The credit agreement governing our senior secured credit facilities and the indentures governing our senior notes contain a number of restrictive covenants that impose significant operating and financial restrictions on us and may limit our ability to engage in acts that may be in our long-term best interests. These agreements governing our indebtedness include covenants restricting, among other things, our ability to:

- incur or guarantee additional debt or issue certain preferred stock;
- pay dividends or make distributions on our capital stock or redeem, repurchase or retire our capital stock or subordinated debt;
- make certain investments;

---

Table of Contents

- create liens on our or our subsidiary guarantors' assets to secure debt;
- create restrictions on the payment of dividends or other amounts to us from our restricted subsidiaries that are not guarantors of the notes;
- enter into transactions with affiliates;
- merge or consolidate with another person or sell or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of our assets;
- sell assets, including capital stock of our subsidiaries;
- alter the business that we conduct; and
- designate our subsidiaries as unrestricted subsidiaries.

In addition, under the credit agreement governing our senior secured revolving credit facility we are required to maintain a first-lien secured leverage ratio to the extent that usage under our senior secured revolving credit facility exceeds 25% of the commitments thereunder at the end of the applicable fiscal quarter. Our ability to meet that financial ratio can be affected by events beyond our control, and we cannot assure you that we will be able to meet that ratio. We were in compliance with such financial covenants as of March 31, 2015, but there can be no assurance that we will continue to be in compliance with such covenants in the future. A breach of any covenant or restriction contained in either our senior secured credit facilities or the indentures governing the senior notes could result in a default under those agreements. If any such default occurs, the lenders under our senior secured credit facilities or the holders of the senior notes, as the case may be, may elect (after the expiration of any applicable notice or grace periods) to declare all outstanding borrowings, together with accrued and unpaid interest and other amounts payable thereunder, to be immediately due and payable. In addition, an event of default under the indentures governing the senior notes would cause an event of default under our senior secured credit facilities, and the acceleration of debt under our senior secured credit facilities or the failure to pay that debt when due would cause an event of default under the indentures governing the notes and the existing senior notes (assuming the amount of that debt is in excess of $100.0 million for the senior notes). The lenders under our senior secured credit facilities also have the right upon an event of default thereunder to terminate any commitments they have to provide further borrowings. Further, following an event of default under our senior secured credit facilities, the lenders under these facilities will have the right to proceed against the collateral granted to them to secure that debt. If the debt under our senior secured credit facilities or the senior notes were to be accelerated, our assets may not be sufficient to repay in full that debt or any other debt that may become due as a result of that acceleration.

We are dependent upon our lenders for financing to execute our business strategy and meet our liquidity needs. If our lenders are unable to fund borrowings under their credit commitments or we are unable to borrow, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

During periods of volatile credit markets, there is risk that any lenders, even those with strong balance sheets and sound lending practices, could fail or refuse to honor their legal commitments and obligations under existing credit commitments, including but not limited to, extending credit up to the maximum permitted by a credit facility. If our lenders are unable to fund borrowings under their revolving credit commitments or we are unable to borrow (such as having insufficient capacity under our borrowing base), it could be difficult in such environments to obtain sufficient funding to execute our business strategy or meet our liquidity needs, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Volatility and weakness in capital markets may adversely affect credit availability and related financing costs for us.

Bank and capital markets can experience periods of volatility and disruption. If the disruption in these markets is prolonged, our ability to refinance, and the related cost of refinancing, some or all of our debt could be adversely affected. Although we can currently access the bank and capital markets, there is no assurance that such markets will continue to be a reliable source of financing for us. In addition, our access to and cost of borrowing can be affected by our short and long term debt ratings assigned by ratings agencies. These factors, including the tightening of credit markets, or a decrease in our debt ratings, could adversely affect our ability to obtain cost-effective financing. Increased volatility and disruptions in the financial markets also could make it more difficult and more expensive for us to refinance outstanding indebtedness and obtain financing. In addition, the adoption of new statutes and regulations, the implementation of recently enacted laws or new interpretations or the enforcement of older laws and regulations applicable to the financial markets or the financial services industry could result in a reduction in the amount of available credit or an increase in the cost of credit. Disruptions in the financial markets can also adversely affect our lenders, insurers, customers and other counterparties.

Risks Related to This Offering and Ownership of Our Class A Common Stock

An active, liquid trading market for our Class A common stock may not develop.

Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for our Class A common stock. We cannot predict the extent to which investor interest in our company will lead to the development of an active trading market or how liquid that market may become. If an active trading market does not develop, you may have difficulty selling any of our shares that you purchase. The initial public offering price of our Class A common stock will be determined by negotiation between us and the underwriters and may not be indicative of prices that will prevail after the completion of this offering. The market price of our Class A common stock may decline below the initial public offering price, and you may not be able to resell your shares at, or above, the initial public offering price.

The price of our Class A common stock may be volatile and you could lose all or part of your investment.

Securities markets worldwide have experienced in the past, and are likely to experience in the future, significant price and volume fluctuations. This market volatility, as well as general economic, market or political conditions could reduce the market price of our Class A common stock regardless of our results of operations. The trading price of our Class A common stock is likely to be highly volatile and could be subject to wide price fluctuations in response to various factors, including, among other things, the risk factors described herein, and other factors beyond our control. Factors affecting the trading price of our Class A common stock could include:

- market conditions in the broader stock market;
- actual or anticipated variations in our quarterly financial and operating results;
- variations in operating results of similar companies;
- introduction of new services by us, our competitors or our customers;
- issuance of new, negative or changed securities analysts' reports or recommendations or estimates;
- investor perceptions of us and the industries in which we or our customers operate;
- sales, or anticipated sales, of our stock, including sales by existing stockholders;
- additions or departures of key personnel;
- regulatory or political developments;
- stock-based compensation expense under applicable accounting standards;
- litigation and governmental investigations; and
- changing economic conditions.

These and other factors may cause the market price and demand for shares of our Class A common stock to fluctuate substantially, which may limit or prevent investors from readily selling their shares of Class A common stock and may otherwise negatively affect the liquidity of our Class A common stock. In addition, in the past, when the market price of a stock has been volatile, holders of that stock have sometimes instituted securities class action litigation against the company that issued the stock. Securities litigation against us, regardless of the merits or outcome, could result in substantial costs and divert the time and attention of our management from our business, which could significantly harm our business, profitability and reputation.

Televisa has a significant equity interest in us and various approval rights, which could conflict with our interests or the interests of the other holders of our Class A common stock.

In 2010, Televisa acquired a 5% equity stake in us, and debentures convertible into an additional 30% equity stake in us (which, prior to the consummation of this offering, will be exchanged for the Televisa Warrants), subject to applicable laws and regulations and certain contractual limitations. In addition, pursuant to the MOU, Televisa has the right to designate and elect four members of our board of directors for as long as our board of directors consists of 22 members. Televisa also has approval rights with respect to certain matters as a lender or minority investor, including with respect to certain dividends and distributions, certain stock repurchases, bankruptcy, incurrence of indebtedness above specified levels and changing our core business. Further, certain matters, including entry or modification of material agreements and acquisition and sale of assets require the approval of at least four of the group comprised of Televisa and the Investors and holders of a majority of the shares held by such group. As a result, Televisa may have approval rights with respect to certain important decisions. The interests of Televisa could conflict with our or your interests in certain material respects. See “Certain Relationships and Related Person Transactions.”

Our Investors’ interests may not be aligned with the interests of our public stockholders.

Upon completion of this offering, our Investors will own approximately _____ shares of Class S-1 common stock, representing _____ % of our outstanding common stock and approximately _____ % of the voting power of our outstanding common stock (or approximately _____ % of our outstanding common stock and approximately _____ % of the voting power of our outstanding common stock, if the underwriters exercise their option to purchase additional shares in full). As such, our Investors will have significant influence over our reporting and corporate management and affairs, and our Investors will continue to control a majority of the combined voting power of our common stock and therefore be able to control all matters submitted to our stockholders for approval. Matters over which the Investors will, directly or indirectly, exercise control following this offering include:

- the election of our board of directors and the appointment and removal of our officers;
- mergers and other business combination transactions, including proposed transactions that would result in our stockholders receiving a premium price for their shares;
- other acquisitions or dispositions of businesses or assets;
- incurrence of indebtedness and the issuance of equity securities;
- repurchase of stock and payment of dividends; and
- the issuance of shares to management under our equity incentive plans.

In addition, the Investors have certain director and committee member designation rights. Even if the Investors’ ownership of our shares falls below a majority, they will have certain rights to designate directors and board committee members and may continue to be able to strongly influence or effectively control our decisions. In addition, under our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, the Investors and their affiliates will not have any obligation to present to us, and the Investors may separately pursue corporate opportunities of which they become aware, even if those opportunities are ones that we would have pursued if granted the opportunity, except in the case of Saban Capital Group, which has agreed to inform us of certain business opportunities in limited circumstances.

Our directors, officers or stockholders, with certain exceptions, do not have obligations to present business opportunities to us and may compete with us.

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation provides that our directors, officers and stockholders (except for such persons who are also our employees, and Saban Capital Group, which has agreed to inform us of certain business opportunities in the Hispanic market, in limited circumstances) do not have any obligation to offer us an opportunity to participate in business opportunities presented to them even if the opportunity is one that we might reasonably have pursued (and therefore may be free to compete with us in the same business or similar businesses), and that, to the extent permitted by law, such directors, officers and stockholders will not be liable to us or our stockholders for breach of any duty by reason of any such activities.

As a result, our stockholders, certain officers and directors and their respective affiliates will not be prohibited from investing in competing businesses or doing business with our customers. Therefore, we may be in competition with our stockholders, certain officers and directors or their respective affiliates, and we may not have knowledge of, or be able to pursue, transactions that could potentially be beneficial to us. Accordingly, we may lose certain corporate opportunities or suffer competitive harm, which could negatively impact our business or prospects. See “Description of Capital Stock—Corporate Opportunities.”

Future sales of our Class A common stock, or the perception in the public markets that these sales may occur, could cause the market price for our Class A common stock to decline.

Upon consummation of this offering, there will be _____ shares of our Class A common stock outstanding. All shares of Class A common stock sold in this offering will be freely transferable without restriction or further registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”). At the time of this offering, we will also have registered _____ shares of Class A common stock reserved for issuance under our equity incentive plans of which _____ shares, options to purchase _____ shares and _____ restricted stock units are outstanding, which shares may be issued upon issuance and once vested, subject to any applicable lock-up restrictions then in effect. We cannot predict the effect, if any, that market sales of shares of our Class A common stock or the availability of shares of our common stock for sale will have on the market price of our Class A common stock prevailing from time to time. Sales of substantial amounts of shares of our Class A common stock in the public market, or the perception that those sales will occur, could cause the market price of our Class A common stock to decline. Of the remaining shares of common stock outstanding, _____ will be restricted securities within the meaning of Rule 144 under the Securities Act and subject to certain restrictions on resale following the consummation of this offering, restricted securities may be sold in the public market only if they are registered under the Securities Act or are sold pursuant to an exemption from registration such as Rule 144 or Rule 701, as described in “Shares Eligible for Future Sale.” An additional _____ shares of our common stock are issuable upon conversion of the Televisa Warrants. See “Certain Relationships and Related Person Transactions—Televisa Commercial Arrangements.” The Investors, Televisa, certain of our executive officers and certain other parties will have registration rights with respect to the shares of Class A common stock that they hold.

We, each of our officers and directors, the Investors and certain of our other stockholders have agreed that (subject to certain exceptions), for a period of 180 days from the date of this prospectus (subject to extension in certain circumstances), we and they will not, without the prior written consent of _____ dispose of or hedge any shares or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for our Class A common stock. _____ in its sole discretion may release any of the securities subject to these lock-up agreements at any time, which, in the case of officers and directors, shall be with notice. See “Underwriting.” Following the expiration of the applicable lock-up period, all of the issued and outstanding shares of our Class A common stock will be eligible for future sale, subject to the applicable volume, manner of sale, holding period and other limitations of Rule 144. See “Shares Eligible for Future Sale” for a discussion of the shares of Class A common stock that may be sold into the public market in the future.

If you purchase shares of Class A common stock sold in this offering, you will incur immediate and substantial dilution.

The initial public offering price per share is substantially higher than the pro forma net tangible book value per share immediately after this offering. As a result, you will pay a price per share that substantially exceeds the book value of our assets after subtracting the book value of our liabilities. Based on our net tangible book value as of _____ and assuming an offering price of $ _____ per share, the midpoint of the range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, you will incur immediate and substantial dilution in the amount of $ _____ per share. See “Dilution.”

We have elected to take advantage of the “controlled company” exemption to the corporate governance rules for publicly-listed companies, which could make our Class A common stock less attractive to some investors or otherwise harm our stock price.

Because we qualify as a “controlled company” under the corporate governance rules for publicly-listed companies, we are not required to have a majority of our board of directors be independent, nor are we required to have a compensation committee or a board committee performing the board nominating function comprised solely of independent directors or in the event we elect to have a compensation committee, it is not required to be comprised solely of independent directors. In light of our status as a controlled company, our board of directors has determined not to have a majority of our board of directors be independent. Accordingly, should the interests of our Investors differ from those of other stockholders, the other stockholders may not have the same protections afforded to stockholders of companies that are subject to all of the corporate governance rules for publicly-listed companies. Our status as a controlled company could make our Class A common stock less attractive to some investors or otherwise harm our stock price.

Anti-takeover protections in our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, our amended and restated bylaws or our contractual obligations may discourage or prevent a takeover of our company, even if an acquisition would be beneficial to our stockholders.

Provisions contained in our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws, as amended, as well as provisions of the Delaware General Corporation Law (the “DGCL”), could delay or make it more difficult to remove incumbent directors or could impede a merger, takeover or other business combination involving us or the replacement of our management or discourage a potential investor from making a tender offer for our Class A common stock, which, under certain circumstances, could reduce the market value of our Class A common stock, even if it would benefit our stockholders.

In addition, our board of directors has the authority to cause us to issue, without any further vote or action by the stockholders, up to _____ shares of preferred stock, par value $0.01 per share, in one or more series, to designate the number of shares constituting any series, and to fix the rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions thereof, including dividend rights, voting rights, rights and terms of redemption, redemption price or prices and liquidation preferences of such series. The issuance of shares of preferred stock or the adoption of a stockholder rights plan may have the effect of delaying, deferring or preventing a change in control of our company without further action by the stockholders, even where stockholders are offered a premium for their shares. See “Description of Capital Stock.”

In addition, under the indentures governing our notes, a change of control would require us to offer to repurchase the applicable notes at a price equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest. Under our senior secured credit facilities, a change of control would cause us to be in default and the lenders under our senior secured credit facilities would have the right to accelerate their loans, and if so accelerated, we would be required to repay all of our outstanding obligations under our senior secured credit facilities. In addition, from time to time we may enter into contracts that contain change of control provisions that limit the value of, or even terminate, the contract upon a change of control. Under our agreements with the Investors, we may not effect a change of control without written approval of 60% of our outstanding common stock held by the Investors and the approval of a majority of the Investors. In addition, our agreements with the Investors and Televisa contain provisions that may discourage interested parties from acquiring significant holdings of our common stock, such as transfer restrictions, approval rights and rights of first offer. In addition, specified change of control transactions may result in an earlier termination of the Televisa PLA. See “Business—Programming—Televisa,” “Description of Capital Stock—Approval Rights” and “Certain Relationships and Related Person Transactions—Stockholder Arrangements.” These change of control provisions may discourage a takeover of our company, even if an acquisition would be beneficial to our stockholders.

We will incur increased costs and obligations as a result of being a public company.

While we are in compliance with the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act as a privately held company, we were not required to comply with certain other corporate governance and financial reporting practices and policies required of a publicly traded company. As a publicly traded company, we will incur additional legal, accounting and other expenses that we were not required to incur in the recent past. After this offering, we will be required to file with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) annual and quarterly information and other reports that are specified in Section 13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”). We will also become subject to other reporting and corporate governance requirements, including the requirements of the NYSE or Nasdaq, and certain provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder, which will impose additional compliance obligations upon us. As a public company, we will, among other things:

- prepare and distribute periodic public reports and other stockholder communications in compliance with our obligations under the federal securities laws and applicable NYSE or Nasdaq rules;
- create or expand the roles and duties of our board of directors and committees of the board;
- institute more comprehensive financial reporting and disclosure compliance functions;
- enhance our investor relations function; and
- involve and retain to a greater degree outside counsel and accountants in the activities listed above.

These changes will require a commitment of additional resources and many of our competitors already comply with these obligations. We may not be successful in implementing these requirements and the commitment of resources required for implementing them could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The changes necessitated by becoming a public company require a significant commitment of resources and management oversight that has increased and may continue to increase our costs and might place a strain on our systems and resources. As a result, our management’s attention might be diverted from other business concerns. If we are unable to offset these costs through other savings then it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our failure to maintain effective internal control over financial reporting in accordance with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

As a privately held company, we currently document and test the compliance of our internal controls on a periodic basis in accordance with Section 404. If we are unable to maintain adequate internal control over financial reporting, we may be unable to report our financial information on a timely basis, may suffer adverse regulatory consequences or violations of applicable stock exchange listing rules, may breach the covenants under our credit facilities and incur additional costs. There could also be a negative reaction in the financial markets due to a loss of investor confidence in us and the reliability of our financial statements.

Table of Contents

We are a holding company and rely on dividends, distributions and other payments, advances and transfers of funds from our subsidiaries to meet our obligations.

We are a holding company that does not conduct any business operations of our own. As a result, we are largely dependent upon cash dividends and distributions and other transfers from our subsidiaries to meet our obligations. The agreements governing the indebtedness of our subsidiaries impose restrictions on our subsidiaries' ability to pay dividends or other distributions to us. The deterioration of the earnings from, or other available assets of, our subsidiaries for any reason could also limit or impair their ability to pay dividends or other distributions to us.

Because we do not intend to pay cash dividends in the foreseeable future, you may not receive any return on investment unless you are able to sell your Class A common stock for a price greater than your purchase price.

We do not intend in the foreseeable future to pay any dividends to holders of our Class A common stock. We currently intend to retain our future earnings, if any, for the foreseeable future, to repay indebtedness and to support our general corporate purposes. Therefore, you are not likely to receive any dividends on your Class A common stock for the foreseeable future, and the success of an investment in shares of our Class A common stock will depend upon any future appreciation in their value. There is no guarantee that shares of our Class A common stock will appreciate in value or even maintain the price at which our stockholders have purchased their shares. However, the payment of future dividends will be at the discretion of our board of directors, subject to applicable law, and will depend on, among other things, our earnings, financial condition, capital requirements, level of indebtedness, statutory and contractual restrictions apply to the payment of dividends and other considerations that our board of directors deems relevant. Our debt agreements limit the amounts available to us to pay cash dividends, and, to the extent that we require additional funding, sources may prohibit the payment of a dividend. In addition, our agreements with Televisa provide for certain approval rights that may restrict our ability to pay cash dividends on our Class A common stock. See "Dividend Policy." As a consequence of these limitations and restrictions, we may not be able to make, or may have to reduce or eliminate, the payment of dividends on our common stock.

If securities or industry analysts publish unfavorable research, about our business, the price of our common stock and our trading volume could decline.

The trading market for our common stock will depend in part on the research and reports that securities or industry analysts publish about us or our business. Securities and industry analysts do not currently publish research on our company. Once securities or industry analysts initiate coverage, if one or more of the analysts who cover us downgrade our common stock or publish unfavorable research about our business, the price of our common stock would likely decline. If one or more of these analysts cease coverage of our company or fail to publish reports on us regularly, demand for our common stock could decrease, which might cause the price of our common stock and trading volume to decline.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This prospectus contains forward-looking statements that are subject to risks and uncertainties. All statements other than statements of historical fact included in this prospectus are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements give our current expectations and projections relating to our financial condition, results of operations, plans, objectives, future performance and business. You can identify forward-looking statements by the fact that they do not relate strictly to historical or current facts. These statements may include words such as “anticipate,” “estimate,” “expect,” “project,” “plan,” “intend,” “believe,” “may,” “should,” “can have,” “likely” and other words and terms of similar meaning in connection with any discussion of the timing or nature of future operating or financial performance or other events.

The forward-looking statements contained in this prospectus are based on assumptions that we have made in light of our industry experience and our perceptions of historical trends, current conditions, expected future developments and other factors we believe are appropriate under the circumstances. As you read and consider this prospectus, you should understand that these statements are not guarantees of performance or results. They involve risks, uncertainties (many of which are beyond our control) and assumptions. Although we believe that these forward-looking statements are based on reasonable assumptions, you should be aware that many factors could affect our actual operating and financial performance and cause our performance to differ materially from the performance anticipated in the forward-looking statements. We believe these factors include, but are not limited to, the following:

- cancellation, reductions or postponements of advertising or other changes in advertising practices among our advertisers;
- any impact of adverse economic conditions on our business and financial condition, including reduced advertising revenue;
- changes in the size of the U.S. Hispanic population, including the impact of federal and state immigration legislation and policies on both the U.S. Hispanic population and persons emigrating from Latin America;
- lack of audience acceptance of our content;
- varying popularity for programming, which we cannot predict at the time we may incur related costs;
- the failure to renew existing agreements or reach new agreements with MVPDs on acceptable subscription or “retransmission consent” terms;
- consolidation in the cable or satellite MVPD industry;
- the impact of increased competition from new technologies;
- competitive pressures from other broadcasters and other entertainment and news media;
- damage to our brands or reputation;
- fluctuations in our quarterly results, making it difficult to rely on period-to-period comparisons;
- failure to retain the rights to sports programming to attract advertising revenue;
- the loss of our ability to rely on Televisa for a significant amount of our network programming;
- an increase in royalty payments pursuant to the Televisa PLA;
- the failure of our new or existing businesses to produce projected revenues or cash flows;
- failure to monetize our content on our digital platforms;
- failure to monetize our spectrum assets;
- the failure or destruction of satellites or transmitter facilities that we depend upon to distribute our programming;

---

Table of Contents

- disruption of our business due to network and information systems-related events, such as computer hackings, viruses, or other destructive or disruptive software or activities;
- inability to realize the full value of our intangible assets;
- failure to utilize our net operating loss carryforwards;
- the loss of key executives;
- possible strikes or other union job actions;
- piracy of our programming and other content;
- environmental, health and safety laws and regulations;
- FCC media ownership rules;
- compliance with, and/or changes in, the rules and regulations of the FCC;
- new laws or regulations concerning retransmission consent or “must carry” rights;
- increased enforcement or enhancement of FCC indecency and other programming content rules;
- the impact of legislation on the reallocation of broadcast spectrum which may result in additional costs and affect our ability to provide competitive services;
- net losses in the future and for an extended period of time;
- our substantial indebtedness;
- our failure to service our debt or inability to comply with the agreements contained in our senior secured credit facilities and our indentures, including any financial covenants and ratios;
- our dependency on lenders to execute our business strategy and our inability to secure financing on suitable terms or at all;
- volatility and weakness in the capital markets;
- risks related to our ownership; and
- the other factors set forth under “Risk Factors.”

Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should any of these assumptions prove incorrect, our actual operating and financial performance may vary in material respects from the performance projected in these forward-looking statements. You should evaluate all forward-looking statements made in this prospectus in the context of these risks and uncertainties.

Any forward-looking statement made by us in this prospectus speaks only as of the date on which we make it. Factors or events that could cause our actual operating and financial performance to differ may emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for us to predict all of them. We undertake no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise, except as may be required by law.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We estimate that the net proceeds to us from our sale of _____ shares of Class A common stock in this offering will be approximately $ _____ million, after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated expenses payable by us in connection with this offering. This assumes a public offering price of $ _____ per share, which is the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover of this prospectus.

We intend to use the net proceeds from this offering to repay indebtedness and for general corporate purposes.

A $1.00 increase (decrease) in the assumed initial public offering price of $ _____ per share would increase (decrease) the net proceeds to us from this offering by $ _____ million, assuming the number of shares offered by us, as set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, remains the same and after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated expenses payable by us.

DIVIDEND POLICY

We do not intend to pay cash dividends on our Class A common stock in the foreseeable future. We are a holding company that does not conduct any business operations of our own. As a result, our ability to pay cash dividends on our Class A common stock is dependent upon cash dividends and distributions and other transfers from our subsidiaries. The amounts available to us to pay cash dividends are restricted by our subsidiaries' debt agreements. Our ability to pay dividends on our Class A common stock is also subject to certain approval rights of Televisa and related limitations. See "Description of Capital Stock—Approval Rights." The declaration and payment of dividends also is subject to the discretion of our board of directors and depends on various factors, including our net income, financial condition, cash requirements, future prospects and other factors deemed relevant by our board of directors.

In addition, under Delaware law, our board of directors may declare dividends only to the extent of our surplus (which is defined as total assets at fair market value minus total liabilities, minus statutory capital) or, if there is no surplus, out of our net profits for the then current and/or immediately preceding fiscal year.

Any future determination to pay dividends will be at the discretion of our board of directors, and will take into account:

- restrictions in our debt instruments;
- general economic business conditions;
- our capital requirements and the capital requirements of our subsidiaries;
- our financial condition and results of operations;
- the ability of our operating subsidiaries to pay dividends and make distributions to us; and
- such other factors as our board of directors may deem relevant.

CAPITALIZATION

The following table sets forth our unaudited cash and cash equivalents and our unaudited capitalization as of March 31, 2015:

- on an actual basis;
- on a pro forma basis to give effect to (i) the issuance of $810.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the additional 2025 notes and the repurchase and redemption of the $750.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2020 notes outstanding as of March 31, 2015, (ii) the exchange of Televisa’s convertible debentures for the Televisa Warrants, (iii) a -for- stock split and the increase in authorized shares which will occur prior to the consummation of this offering and (iv) the Equity Recapitalization; and
- on a pro forma as adjusted basis to give effect to the sale of shares of our Class A common stock in this offering and the application of the net proceeds received by us from this offering as described under “Use of Proceeds.”

This table should be read in conjunction with “Use of Proceeds,” “Selected Historical Financial Data,” “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations,” “Description of Capital Stock” and our financial statements and the related notes thereto contained elsewhere in this prospectus.

- (1) Assuming the number of shares sold by us in this offering remains the same as set forth on the cover page, a $1.00 increase or decrease in the assumed initial public offering price would increase or decrease, as applicable, our total capitalization by approximately $ million.
- (2) Balances do not include outstanding letters of credit and undrawn capacity.
- (3) Amounts give pro forma effect to the issuance of $810.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the additional 2025 notes on April 21, 2015 and the repurchase and redemption of the $750.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 2020 notes outstanding as of March 31, 2015.

DILUTION

If you invest in our Class A common stock, your interest will be diluted to the extent of the difference between the initial public offering price per share of Class A common stock and the net tangible book value per share of our Class A common stock upon the consummation of this offering. Dilution results from the fact that the per share offering price of our Class A common stock is substantially in excess of the book value per share attributable to our existing investors.

Our net tangible book value as of March 31, 2015 would have been approximately $ , or $ per share, of our Class A common stock. Net tangible book value represents the amount of total tangible assets less total liabilities and net tangible book value per share represents net tangible book value divided by the number of shares of Class A common stock outstanding.

After giving effect to (i) the sale of shares of Class A common stock in this offering at the assumed initial public offering price of $ per share (the midpoint of the range set forth on the cover of this prospectus) and (ii) the application of the net proceeds from this offering, our pro forma net tangible book value would have been $ , or $ per share. This represents an immediate increase in pro forma net tangible book value of $ per share to our existing investors and an immediate dilution in pro forma net tangible book value of $ per share to new investors.

The following table illustrates this dilution on a per share of Class A common stock basis:

Assumed initial public offering price per share	$
Net tangible book value per share as of March 31, 2015	$
Increase in net tangible book value per share attributable to new investors	_____
Pro forma net tangible book value per share after this offering	_____
Dilution in pro forma net tangible book value per share to new investors	$ _____

The following table summarizes, as of March 31, 2015 after giving effect to this offering, the total number of shares of Class A common stock purchased from us, the total cash consideration paid to us and the average price per share paid by our existing investors and by new investors purchasing shares in this offering.

	Shares Purchased		Total Consideration		Average Price Per Share
	Number	Percent	Amount	Percent
Existing stockholders		%	$	%	$
New investors					$
Total	_____	100%	$ _____	100%	$ _____

If the underwriters were to fully exercise their option to purchase additional shares of our Class A common stock, the percentage of shares of our Class A common stock held by existing stockholders would be %, and the percentage of shares of our Class A common stock held by new investors would be %.

The above discussion and tables are based on the number of shares outstanding at March 31, 2015. In addition, we may choose to raise additional capital due to market conditions or strategic considerations even if we believe we have sufficient funds for our current or future operating plans. To the extent that additional capital is raised through the sale of equity or convertible debt securities, the issuance of such securities could result in further dilution to our stockholders.

SELECTED HISTORICAL FINANCIAL DATA

The following table sets forth our selected historical financial and other data for the periods and as of the dates indicated. The consolidated statement of operations data for each of the fiscal years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively, and our consolidated balance sheet data as of December 31, 2014 and 2013 are derived from our audited consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this prospectus. The consolidated statement of operations data for each of the fiscal years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010 and the consolidated balance sheet data as of December 31, 2012, 2011 and 2010 are derived from our audited consolidated financial statements which are not included elsewhere in this prospectus. The selected historical financial data as of March 31, 2015 and for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014 are derived from our unaudited consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this prospectus. In our opinion, such financial statements include all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments that we consider necessary for a fair presentation of the financial information set forth in those statements.

Our historical results are not necessarily indicative of future operating results. You should read the information set forth below in conjunction with “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations,” and our financial statements and the related notes thereto included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Overview

Univision is the leading media company serving Hispanic America. We have an over 50 year multi-generational relationship with our audience and are the most recognized and trusted brand in Hispanic America. We earned the highest brand equity score among U.S. media brands in a brand equity research study conducted by Burke in 2013. Our commitment to high-quality, culturally-relevant programming combined with our multi-platform media properties has enabled us to become the #1 destination for entertainment, sports, and news among U.S. Hispanics. We reach over 49 million unduplicated media consumers monthly making us increasingly valuable to both our distribution and marketing partners as the gateway to Hispanic America. We have a strategic relationship with Televisa, the largest media company in the Spanish-speaking world and a top programming producer for exclusive, long-term access to its premium entertainment and sports content in the U.S. We believe we are well-positioned for growth and have the opportunity to continue to expand our audience and to monetize our attractive audience demographics, leading content across multiple platforms and spectrum assets.

Our History

We have established a unique relationship with our audience that leverages our brand and reach across our leading media platforms. Over our history, we have developed and maintained leading U.S. Spanish-language television networks, including the Univision Network, UniMás, Galavisión and Univision Deportes, the leading U.S. Spanish-language radio group (Univision Radio) and the most visited U.S. Spanish-language website (Univision.com). The following chart shows some of the key milestones we have achieved as we expanded our media platforms and extended the reach of our brand to become the leading media company serving Hispanic America.

Our Segments

We operate our business through two segments: Media Networks and Radio.

- Media Networks: Our principal segment is Media Networks, which includes our broadcast and cable networks, local television stations, and digital and mobile properties. We operate two broadcast television networks. Univision Network is the most-watched U.S. Spanish-language broadcast television network, available in approximately 94% of U.S. Hispanic television households. UniMás is among the leading Spanish-language broadcast television networks. In addition, we operate nine cable networks, including Galavisión, the most-watched U.S. Spanish-language cable network, and Univision Deportes, the most-watched Spanish-language sports cable network. We own and operate 60 local television stations, including stations located in the largest markets in the U.S., which represent the largest number of owned and operated local television stations among the major U.S. broadcast networks. In addition, we provide programming to 74 broadcast network station affiliates. Our digital properties include online and mobile websites, which generate, on average, 540 million page views per month. Univision.com is our flagship digital property and is the #1 most visited Spanish-language website among U.S. Hispanics. UVideos is our bilingual digital video network providing on-demand delivery of our programming across multiple devices. Our Media Networks segment accounted for approximately 90% of our revenues in 2014.

- Radio: We have the largest Spanish-language radio group in the U.S. and our stations are frequently ranked #1 regardless of language in many major markets. We own and operate 67 radio stations including stations in 16 of the top 25 DMAs. Our radio stations reach over 15 million listeners per week and cover approximately 75% of the U.S. Hispanic population. Our Radio segment also includes Uforia, a comprehensive digital music platform, which includes more than 65 live radio stations and a library of more than 20 million songs. Our Radio segment accounted for approximately 10% of our revenues in 2014.

Additionally, we incur and manage shared corporate expenses related to human resources, finance, legal and executive and certain assets separately from our two segments.

The following table provides revenue and OIBDA for each of our segments for the periods presented.

How We Assess Performance of Our Business

In assessing our performance, we use a variety of financial and operational measures, including revenue, OIBDA, Bank Credit OIBDA, Levered Free Cash Flow and net income.

Revenue

Ratings

Our advertising and subscription revenues are impacted by the strength of our television and radio ratings. The ratings of our programs, which are an indication of market acceptance, directly affect our ability to generate advertising revenues during the airing of the program. In addition, programming with greater market acceptance is more likely to generate incremental revenues through increases in the subscription fees that we are able to negotiate with MVPDs.

Advertising

We generate advertising revenue from the sale of advertising on our broadcast and cable networks, our local television and radio stations and our digital properties and we have increasingly generated revenues by selling advertising across platforms.

---

Table of Contents

For our broadcast and cable networks, we sell advertising time in the upfront and scatter markets. In the upfront market, advertisers buy advertising time for the upcoming season in advance, often at discounted rates. A portion of many upfront advertising commitments includes options whereby advertisers may reduce their purchase commitments. In the scatter market, advertisers buy advertising time close to the time when the commercials will be run and often pay a premium. The mix between the upfront and scatter markets is based upon a number of factors, such as pricing, demand for advertising time, type of programming and economic conditions. In some cases, our network advertising sales are subject to ratings guarantees that require us to provide additional advertising time if the guaranteed audience levels are not achieved.

For our local television and radio stations, we sell national spot advertising and local advertising. National spot advertising represents time sold to advertisers that advertise in more than one DMA. Local advertising revenues are generated from both local merchants and service providers and regional and national businesses and advertising agencies located in a particular DMA. We often sell our local advertising as a package across our platforms, including our local television, radio and related digital properties. We act as the exclusive national sales representative for the sale of all national advertising on our broadcast network affiliate stations and we generally receive commission income equal to 9.4% of our affiliate stations' total net advertising sales for representing them on national sales.

We also generate Media Networks and Radio segment revenue from the sale of display, mobile and video advertising, as well as sponsorships, on our websites and mobile applications. This advertising is sold on a stand-alone basis and as part of advertising packages on multiple platforms.

Growth in advertising sales comes from increased viewership and pricing, expanded available inventory and the launch of new platforms. Advertising revenue is subject to seasonality, market-based variations, general economic conditions, political cycles and advocacy campaigns, and incremental revenue from major soccer tournaments, including the World Cup.

Subscription

Subscription revenue includes fees charged for the right to view our broadcast and cable networks as well as our content made available to customers through a variety of distribution platforms and viewing devices. Subscription revenue is principally comprised of fees received from MVPDs for carriage of our cable networks as well as for authorizing carriage ("retransmission consent") of our Univision and UniMás broadcast networks aired on our owned television stations. We also receive retransmission consent fees related to television stations affiliated with our Univision and UniMás broadcast networks that we do not own (referred to as "our affiliates"). We have agreements with substantially all of our affiliates whereby we negotiate the terms of retransmission consent agreements for their Univision and UniMás stations. As part of these arrangements, we share the retransmission consent fees that we receive with our affiliates. As we negotiate new contracts, retransmission fees may increase and may make up an increasingly larger percentage of our revenues. We also receive subscription revenue related to fees for our digital content provided on an authenticated basis.

Typically, our television networks are aired pursuant to multi-year carriage agreements that provide for the level of carriage that our networks will receive, and if applicable, for annual rate increases. Carriage of our networks is generally determined by package, such as whether our networks are included in the more widely distributed, general entertainment packages or lesser-distributed, specialized packages, such as U.S. Hispanic or Spanish-language targeted packages, sports packages, and movies or music packages. Subscription revenues are largely dependent on the rates negotiated in the agreements, the number of subscribers that receive our networks or content, and the market demand for the content that we provide.

Other Revenue

We generate other revenue from contractual commitments (including non-cash advertising and promotional revenue primarily related to Televisa). In addition we license television content initially aired on our networks for digital streaming and to other cable and satellite providers.

OIBDA

OIBDA represents operating income before depreciation, amortization and certain additional adjustments to operating income. In calculating OIBDA our operating income is adjusted for share-based compensation and other non-cash charges, restructuring and severance charges, management and technical assistance agreement fees as well as other non-operating related items. Management uses OIBDA or comparable metrics to evaluate our operating performance, for planning and forecasting future business operations and to measure our ability to service debt and meet our other cash needs. We believe that OIBDA is used in the broadcast industry by analysts, investors and lenders and serves as a valuable performance assessment metric for investors. For important information about OIBDA and a reconciliation of OIBDA to net (loss) income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc., see “Summary—Summary Historical Financial and Other Data.”

Bank Credit OIBDA

Bank Credit OIBDA represents OIBDA with certain additional adjustments permitted under our senior secured credit facilities including specified business optimization expenses, income from unrestricted subsidiaries as defined in our senior secured credit facilities and certain other expenses. See Note 9 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus for more information regarding how Bank Credit OIBDA is calculated in our senior secured credit facilities. Management uses Bank Credit OIBDA to evaluate our operating performance, for planning and forecasting future business operations and to measure our ability to service our debt and meet our other cash needs. For important information about Bank Credit OIBDA and a reconciliation of Bank Credit OIBDA to net (loss) income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc., see “Summary—Summary Historical Financial and Other Data.”

Levered Free Cash Flow

Levered Free Cash Flow represents OIBDA less specified cash and non-cash items deducted in calculating OIBDA and less capital expenditures plus the net change in working capital. We consider Levered Free Cash Flow as a measure of performance and as a tool to assist our investors in determining valuation and our potential for growth. Management also uses Levered Free Cash Flow to assess our cash needs, in particular our capacity to reduce our debt and fund investments. We believe that Levered Free Cash Flow is used in the media industry by analysts, investors and lenders and serves as a valuable performance assessment metric for investors. For important information about Levered Free Cash Flow and a reconciliation of Levered Free Cash Flow to net (loss) income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc., See “Summary—Summary Historical Financial and Other Data.”

Other Factors Affecting Our Results of Operations

Direct Operating Expenses

Direct operating expenses consist primarily of programming costs, including license fees, and technical costs. Programming costs also include sports and other special events, news and other original programming. Under the program license agreement with Televisa effective as of February 28, 2011 (the “2011 Televisa PLA”) until the Televisa PLA was amended in July 2015, we paid Televisa royalties, based on 11.91% of substantially all of our Spanish-language media networks revenues through December 2017. Additionally, Televisa received an incremental 2% in royalty payments on any of such media networks revenues above the 2009 revenue base of $1.65 billion. Under the amended terms of the Televisa PLA, effective January 1, 2015, we pay Televisa royalties, based on 11.84% of substantially all of our Spanish-language media networks revenues through December 2017. Additionally, Televisa receives an incremental 2% in royalty payments on any such media networks revenues above a contractual revenue base of $1.66 billion. After December 2017, the royalty payments to Televisa will increase to 16.13%, and commencing later in 2018, the rate will further increase to 16.45% until the expiration of the Televisa PLA. Additionally Televisa will receive an incremental 2% in royalty payments (with the revenue base decreasing to $1.63 billion with the second rate increase). In December 2014, we entered into a binding term sheet to, among other things, amend the Venevision PLA, which released us from future payment obligations to Venevision and certain other claims. In addition, we agreed to pay approximately $24.0 million per year through December 2017 and Venevision is no longer required to produce a certain number of program hours for us. See Notes 5 and 20 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and Notes 6 and 15 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

Selling, general and administrative expenses include salaries and benefits for our sales, marketing, management and administrative personnel, selling, research, promotions, management fees, professional fees and other general and administrative expenses. We expect to incur additional legal, accounting and other expenses in connection with being a public company following the consummation of this offering even though we are in compliance with the internal controls requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act at the time of this offering.

Impairment Loss

We test the value of our intangible assets for impairment annually, or more frequently if circumstances indicate that a possible impairment exists. Our intangible assets include goodwill, television and radio broadcast licenses and programming rights under various agreements, including agreements governing our World Cup rights. We record any non-cash write-down of the value of our intangible assets as an impairment loss. See Notes 1, 4, 5 and 18 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and Note 14 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus for information related to our impairment losses.

Restructuring, Severance and Related Charges

We incur restructuring, severance and related charges, principally in connection with restructuring activities that we have undertaken from time to time as part of broader-based cost-saving initiatives as well as initiatives to improve performance, collaboration and operational efficiencies across our local media platforms. These charges include employee termination benefits and severance charges, as well as expenses related to consolidating offices and other contract terminations. See Note 3 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and Note 3 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus for information related to our restructuring and severance activities.

Interest Rate Swaps

We utilize interest rate swaps as a means to add stability to interest expense and manage our exposure to interest rate movements. For interest rate swap contracts accounted for as cash flow hedges, the effective portion of the change in fair value is recorded in accumulated other comprehensive loss (“AOCL”), net of tax, and is reclassified to earnings as an adjustment to interest expense and the ineffective portion of the change in fair value, if any, is recorded directly to earnings through interest rate swap (income) expense. For interest rate swap contracts not designated as hedging instruments, the interest rate swaps are marked to market with the change in fair value recorded directly in earnings through interest rate swap (income) expense. See “—Debt and Financing Transactions—Interest Rate Swaps.”

Refinancing Transactions

We have concluded a number of debt refinancing transactions over the last few years. In connection with our debt refinancing transactions, to the extent that the transaction qualifies as a debt extinguishment, we write-off any unamortized deferred financing costs or unamortized discounts or premiums related to the extinguished debt instruments. These charges are included in the loss on extinguishment of debt in the periods in which the debt refinancing transactions occur. Costs related to the new debt instruments are capitalized as deferred financing costs and amortized over the term of the new debt. On April 21, 2015, we utilized the proceeds from the issuance of the additional 2025 notes to repurchase and retire $711.7 million aggregate principal amount of the 2020 notes. Also on April 21, 2015, we issued a redemption notice for the remaining outstanding $38.3 million aggregate principal amount of the 2020 notes. We will record charges related to these extinguishments of debt and costs related to the issuance of the additional 2025 notes for the three months ended June 30, 2015. See Note 9 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and Note 7 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

---

Share-based Compensation Expense

We recognize non-cash share-based compensation expense related to equity-based awards to employees and equity awards related to a non-employee consulting arrangement with an entity controlled by our Chairman of the board of directors. In compensation for the consulting services, equity units in various limited liability companies that hold a portion of our common stock owned by the Investors and Televisa were granted to that entity, entitling the entity to payments upon defined liquidation events based on the appreciation in their investments in us. Since the related consulting services were being provided to us, we record an expense upon the vesting of the equity units. A portion of these units vested in 2012 and we recorded non-cash share-based compensation expense of $18.5 million in 2012. Certain other units will only vest at the time of the defined liquidation event and we will record an additional non-cash share-based compensation expense at that time. See Note 15 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and Note 12 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus for information related to our share-based compensation.

Three Months Ended March 31, 2015 Compared to Three Months Ended March 31, 2014

In comparing our results of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2015 (“2015”) with the three months ended March 31, 2014 (“2014”), in addition to the factors referenced above affecting our results, the following should be noted:

- In 2015, we had expenses that did not exist in 2014 associated with the termination effective March 31, 2015 of the management agreement among us, our indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary Univision Communications Inc. (“UCI”) and affiliates of the Investors (the “Sponsor Management Agreement”) and the technical assistance agreement with Televisa. Pursuant to such termination agreements, we paid termination fees of $112.4 million and $67.6 million to affiliates of the Investors and Televisa, respectively, on April 14, 2015 (which were accrued as of March 31, 2015). Under the termination agreements we will continue to pay quarterly aggregate service fees to affiliates of the Investors and Televisa at the same aggregate rate as under the Sponsor Management Agreement and the technical assistance agreement with Televisa until no later than December 31, 2015.

- In 2015 and 2014, we recorded $6.2 million and $3.3 million, respectively, in restructuring, severance and related charges. These charges relate to restructuring and severance agreements with employees and executives, as well as costs related to consolidating offices and other contract terminations in 2015 and 2014 (related to restructuring activities across local media platforms initiated in 2014 and other continuing restructuring activities initiated in 2012).
- In 2015 and 2014, we recorded a loss on extinguishment of debt of $73.2 million and $17.2 million, respectively, as a result of refinancing our debt. The loss includes a premium, fees, the write-off of certain unamortized deferred financing costs and the write-off of certain unamortized discount and premium related to instruments that were repaid.

Revenue. Revenue was $624.7 million in 2015 compared to $621.1 million in 2014, an increase of $3.6 million or 0.6%, which reflected an increase of 1.6% in the Media Networks segment and a decrease of 7.4% in the Radio segment.

Advertising revenue was $408.8 million in 2015 compared to $427.1 million in 2014, a decrease of $18.3 million or 4.3%. Advertising revenue in 2015 included political/advocacy advertising revenue of $14.1 million. Advertising revenue in 2014 included (i) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $23.5 million and (ii) estimated incremental World Cup advertising revenue of $4.6 million. Non-advertising revenue (which was primarily comprised of subscriber fee revenue, other contractual revenue and content licensing revenue) was $215.9 million in 2015 compared to $194.0 million in 2014, an increase of $21.9 million or 11.3% primarily due to an increase in subscriber fees of $13.6 million primarily due to contractual rate increases and additional distribution of the Univision Deportes network and higher content licensing revenue of $6.6 million. Subscriber fee revenue was $172.2 million in 2015 compared to $158.6 million in 2014.

Media Networks segment revenues were $560.9 million in 2015 compared to $552.2 million in 2014, an increase of $8.7 million or 1.6%. Advertising revenue was $348.4 million in 2015 as compared to $362.3 million in 2014, a decrease of $13.9 million or 3.8%. Advertising revenue in 2015 included political/advocacy advertising revenue of $11.6 million. Advertising revenue in 2014 included (i) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $19.8 million and (ii) estimated incremental World Cup advertising revenue of $4.6 million. Advertising revenue for our television platforms was $334.2 million in 2015 compared to $348.6 million in 2014, a decrease of $14.4 million or 4.1%. Advertising revenue in 2015 for our television platforms included political/advocacy advertising revenue of $11.1 million. Advertising revenue in 2014 for our television platforms included (i) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $19.8 million and (ii) estimated incremental World Cup advertising revenue of $4.4 million. Advertising revenue for the Media Networks digital platform was $14.2 million in 2015 compared to $13.7 million in 2014, an increase of $0.5 million. Advertising revenue for the Media Networks digital platform included political/advocacy revenue of $0.5 million in 2015 and estimated incremental World Cup advertising revenue of $0.2 million in 2014. Non-advertising revenue (which was primarily comprised of subscriber fee revenue, other contractual revenue and content licensing revenue) in the Media Networks segment was $212.5 million in 2015 compared to $189.9 million in 2014, an increase of $22.6 million or 11.9% primarily due to an increase in subscriber fee revenue of $13.6 million and an increase in content licensing revenue of $6.6 million.

Radio segment revenues were $63.8 million in 2015 compared to $68.9 million in 2014, a decrease of $5.1 million or 7.4%. Advertising revenue was $60.4 million in 2015 as compared to $64.8 million in 2014, a decrease of $4.4 million or 6.8%, primarily due to advertising market declines. Advertising revenue in 2015 and 2014 included political/advocacy advertising revenue of $2.5 million and $3.7 million, respectively. Non-advertising revenue in the Radio segment (which was primarily comprised of other contractual revenue) was $3.4 million in 2015 compared to $4.1 million in 2014, a decrease of $0.7 million or 17.1%.

Table of Contents

Direct operating expenses—programming excluding variable program license fees. Programming expenses excluding variable program license fees increased to $116.3 million in 2015 from $110.0 million in 2014, an increase of $6.3 million or 5.7%. As a percentage of revenue, our programming expenses excluding variable program license fees increased to 18.6% in 2015 from 17.7% in 2014. Media Networks segment programming expenses excluding variable program license fees were $103.6 million in 2015 compared to $95.7 million in 2014, an increase of $7.9 million or 8.3%, primarily due to increased entertainment programming costs of $10.9 million, partially offset by $2.4 million related to 2014 World Cup programming costs and $0.6 million in other net cost decreases. Radio segment programming expenses were $12.7 million in 2015 and $14.3 million in 2014, a decrease of $1.6 million or 11.2%, primarily due to decreased programming employee related costs.

Direct operating expenses—variable program license fees. The variable program license fees recorded on our Media Networks segment decreased to $59.9 million in 2015 from $79.4 million in 2014, a decrease of $19.5 million or 24.6% primarily as a result of the amendment to the Venevision PLA. On a consolidated basis, as a percentage of revenue, variable program license fees decreased to 9.6% in 2015 from 12.8% in 2014.

Direct operating expenses—other. Other direct operating expenses decreased to $21.4 million in 2015 from $23.0 million in 2014, a decrease of $1.6 million or 7.0%. As a percentage of revenue, our other direct operating expenses decreased to 3.4% in 2015 from 3.7% in 2014. Media Networks segment other direct operating expenses were $17.7 million in 2015 compared to $18.8 million in 2014, a decrease of $1.1 million or 5.9%, primarily due to lower technical related costs. Radio segment other direct operating expenses were $3.7 million in 2015 and $4.2 million in 2014, a decrease of $0.5 million primarily due to lower technical related costs.

Selling, general and administrative expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses remained relatively flat at $170.9 million in 2015 from $170.8 million in 2014. Media Networks segment selling, general and administrative expenses were $107.5 million in 2015 compared to $104.8 million in 2014, an increase of $2.7 million or 2.6%. Radio segment had selling, general and administrative expenses of $32.2 million in 2015 compared to $36.4 million in 2014, a decrease of $4.2 million or 11.5% primarily due to employee related sales costs. Corporate selling, general and administrative expenses were $31.2 million in 2015 compared to $29.6 million in 2014, an increase of $1.6 million or 5.4%, primarily due to an increase in employee related costs. On a consolidated basis, as a percentage of revenue, our selling, general and administrative expenses decreased to 27.4% in 2015 from 27.5% in 2014.

Impairment loss. In 2015, we recorded non-cash impairment losses of $0.3 million related to the write-down of program rights in the Media Networks segment.

Restructuring, severance and related charges. In 2015, we incurred restructuring, severance and related charges in the amount of $6.2 million. This amount includes a $3.4 million charge related to broader-based cost-saving restructuring initiatives and $2.8 million related to severance charges for individual employees. The severance charge of $2.8 million is related to miscellaneous severance agreements primarily with corporate employees. The restructuring charge of $3.4 million consisted of a $3.4 million charge in the Radio segment and $0.6 million of corporate expenses, partially offset by a $0.6 million benefit in the Media Networks segment, related to employee termination benefits, costs related to consolidating offices, and other contract terminations. In late 2014, we initiated restructuring activities to improve performance, collaboration, and operational efficiencies across our local media platforms. The $3.4 million charge recognized during the period includes $3.0 million resulting from the restructuring activities across local media platforms initiated in 2014 and $0.4 million resulting from other restructuring activities that were initiated in 2012. In 2014, we incurred restructuring, severance and related charges in the amount of $3.3 million. This amount includes a $3.6 million charge related to broader-based cost-saving restructuring initiatives, partially offset by a $0.3 million benefit related to the adjustment of severance charges for individual employees. The severance benefit of $0.3 million was related to miscellaneous severance agreements with corporate employees as well as employees in the Media Networks and Radio segments. The restructuring charge of $3.6 million consists of a $2.1 million charge in the Media Networks segment, $1.3 million in the Radio segment and $0.2 million of corporate expenses, related to employee termination benefits, costs related to consolidating offices, and other contract terminations. See Note 3 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization increased to $42.6 million in 2015 from $39.3 million in 2014, an increase of $3.3 million or 8.4%. Our depreciation expense increased to $28.1 million in 2015 from $24.7 million in 2014, an increase of $3.4 million, primarily related to depreciation on newly acquired assets. We had amortization of intangible assets of $14.5 million in 2015 and $14.6 million in 2014. Depreciation and amortization expense for the Media Networks segment increased by $1.2 million to $35.4 million in 2015 from $34.2 million in 2014. Depreciation and amortization expense for the Radio segment was $1.9 million in 2015 and 2014. Corporate depreciation expense increased by $2.1 million to $5.3 million in 2015 from $3.2 million in 2014.

Operating income. As a result of the factors discussed above and in the results of operations overview, we had operating income of $27.1 million in 2015 and $195.3 million in 2014, a decrease of $168.2 million. The Media Networks segment had operating income of $237.0 million in 2015 and $217.3 million in 2014, an increase of $19.7 million. The Radio segment had operating income of $9.9 million in 2015 and $10.9 million in 2014, a decrease of $1.0 million. Corporate operating loss was $219.8 million and $32.9 million in 2015 and 2014, respectively, an increase in loss of $186.9 million. Contributing to the increase in corporate operating loss was the $180.0 million expense associated with the termination of management and technical assistance agreements, discussed above. The impact of revenue recognition related to certain content licensing agreements contributed $6.4 million in 2015 and $0.7 million in 2014. Political/advocacy advertising contributed $11.7 million in 2015 and $20.4 million in 2014. The estimated incremental impact of the World Cup tournament contributed $1.5 million in 2014.

Interest expense. Interest expense decreased to $143.4 million in 2015 from $147.1 million in 2014, a decrease of $3.7 million. The decrease was primarily due to lower interest expense on the senior secured notes and variable rate debt as a result of refinancing transactions in 2014 and 2015. See Notes 7 and 8 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and Note 9 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Interest income. In 2015 and 2014, we recorded interest income of $2.2 million and $1.4 million, respectively, an increase of $0.8 million, primarily related to investments in convertible debt with El Rey.

Interest rate swap expense. In 2014, for interest rate swap contracts that are not designated as cash flow hedges and the ineffective portion of interest rate swap contracts that are designated as cash flow hedges, we recorded expense of approximately $0.7 million, related to interest expense, partially offset by net fair value adjustments. See Note 8 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Amortization of deferred financing costs. Amortization of deferred financing costs was $3.9 million in 2015 and 2014. See Note 7 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and Note 9 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Loss on extinguishment of debt. In 2015 and 2014, we recorded a loss on the extinguishment of debt in the amount of $73.2 million and $17.2 million, respectively, as a result of our refinancing transactions. See Note 7 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Loss on equity method investments. In 2015, we recorded a loss on equity method investments of $14.9 million, primarily related to losses at the two early stage businesses Fusion and El Rey, of $9.6 million and $5.3 million, respectively. In 2014, we recorded a loss on equity method investments of $20.5 million, primarily related to a loss of $15.2 million for El Rey and a loss of $5.3 million for Fusion. These charges are based on our share of equity loss in unconsolidated subsidiaries and costs funded by us which were incurred prior to our investment in an equity method investee. For El Rey, additionally all losses in these periods have been attributed to us based on the terms of the agreement governing the investment. See Note 5 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

(Benefit) provision for income taxes. In 2015, we reported an income tax benefit of $64.0 million related to the pre-tax loss for the three months ended March 31, 2015 multiplied by the estimated annual effective tax rate and adjusted for discrete items. In 2014, we reported an income tax provision of $2.3 million related to the pre-tax income for the three months ended March 31, 2014 multiplied by the estimated annual effective tax rate and adjusted for discrete items. Our current estimated effective tax rate adjusted for discrete items as of March 31, 2015 was approximately 31%, which differs from the statutory rate primarily due to permanent tax differences, discrete items and state and local taxes. Our estimated effective tax rate adjusted for discrete items as of March 31, 2014 was approximately 39%, which differs from the statutory rate primarily due to permanent tax differences, discrete items and state and local taxes.

Net (loss) income. As a result of the above factors, we reported a net loss of $142.4 million and net income of $3.6 million in 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Net loss attributable to non-controlling interest. Net loss attributable to non-controlling interest was $0.1 million and $0.2 million in 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Net (loss) income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. In 2015 and 2014, we reported a net loss attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. of $142.3 million and net income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. of $3.8 million, respectively.

OIBDA and Bank Credit OIBDA. As a result of the factors discussed above, OIBDA increased to $266.5 million in 2015 from $245.1 million in 2014, an increase of $21.4 million or 8.7% and Bank Credit OIBDA increased to $274.2 million in 2015 from $251.4 million in 2014, an increase of $22.8 million or 9.1%. On a consolidated basis, as a percentage of revenue, our OIBDA increased to 42.7% in 2015 from 39.5% in 2014 and Bank Credit OIBDA increased to 43.9% in 2015 from 40.5% in 2014. The impact of revenue recognition related to certain content licensing agreements contributed $6.4 million in 2015 and $0.7 million in 2014. Political/advocacy advertising contributed $11.7 million in 2015 and $20.4 million in 2014. The estimated incremental impact of the World Cup tournament contributed $1.5 million in 2014.

In comparing our results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2014 (“2014”) with that ended December 31, 2013 (“2013”), in addition to the factors referenced above affecting our results, the following should be noted:

- In 2014, we had revenues and expenses that did not exist in 2013 associated with the airing of the 2014 Fédération Internationale de Football Association (“FIFA”) World Cup soccer tournament. In 2014, we had consolidated estimated incremental World Cup advertising revenue of $174.2 million and consolidated estimated World Cup operating expenses of $152.1 million. In 2014, the estimated incremental impact of the 2014 World Cup tournament, considering incremental net advertising revenue and operating expenses, was an increase of $22.1 million in operating income, OIBDA and Bank Credit OIBDA.
- In 2014, we recorded a non-cash impairment loss of $340.5 million, which is comprised of $198.1 million in the Media Networks segment and $142.4 million in the Radio segment. In 2013, we recorded a non-cash impairment loss of $439.4 million, which is comprised of $87.6 million in the Media Networks segment and $351.8 million in the Radio segment.

- In 2014 and 2013, we reported an income tax benefit of $66.1 million and $462.4 million, respectively. The income tax benefit in 2014 primarily results from the pre-tax financial loss and the settlement of a significant uncertain tax position. The income tax benefit in 2013 primarily results from recording a reduction in our Federal and state deferred tax asset valuation allowance of $468.0 million, as our deferred tax assets became realizable on a more-likely-than-not basis, based upon the realization of our capital loss carryforwards and a portion of our net operating loss carryforwards in 2013, coupled with projections of future taxable income over the period in which the deferred tax assets are recoverable. The reduction in the valuation allowance was partially offset by an increase we recorded in our valuation allowance of $34.5 million relating to our foreign deferred tax assets.
- In 2014 and 2013, we recorded $41.2 million and $29.4 million, respectively, in restructuring, severance and related charges. These charges relate to restructuring and severance agreements with employees and executives, as well as costs related to consolidating offices and other contract terminations in 2014 and 2013 (related to restructuring activities across local media platforms initiated in 2014 and other restructuring activities initiated in 2012).
- In 2014 and 2013, we recorded a loss on extinguishment of debt of $17.2 million and $10.0 million, respectively, as a result of refinancing our debt. The loss in 2014 includes a premium, fees, the write-off of certain unamortized deferred financing costs and the write-off of certain unamortized discount and premium related to instruments that were repaid. The loss in 2013 includes fees and the write-off of certain unamortized deferred financing costs related to instruments that were repaid.

Revenue. Revenue was $2,911.4 million in 2014 compared to $2,627.4 million in 2013, an increase of $284.0 million or 10.8%, which reflects an increase of 13.5% in the Media Networks segment and a decrease of 7.6% in the Radio segment.

Advertising revenue was $2,101.0 million in 2014 compared to $1,979.5 million in 2013, an increase of $121.5 million or 6.1%. Advertising revenue in 2014 included (i) estimated incremental World Cup advertising revenue of $174.2 million and (ii) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $79.2 million. Advertising revenue in 2013 included (i) Confederation Cup and Gold Cup advertising revenue of $68.0 million and (ii) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $59.1 million.

Non-advertising revenue (which was primarily comprised of subscriber fee revenue, other contractual revenue and content licensing revenue) was $810.4 million in 2014 compared to $647.9 million in 2013, an increase of $162.5 million or 25.1%. The increase in non-advertising revenue was primarily a result of increased subscriber fee revenue of $145.3 million which was primarily due to contractual increases and additional distribution of the Univision Deportes network and increased content licensing revenue of $8.6 million. Subscriber fee revenue was $642.5 million in 2014 compared to $497.2 million in 2013. In 2013, non-advertising revenue included non-cash contractual revenue associated with the commitments to provide advertising made in the sale of our recorded music business which were completely satisfied in the second quarter of 2013 of $7.7 million.

Media Networks segment revenues were $2,601.8 million in 2014 compared to $2,292.4 million in 2013, an increase of $309.4 million or 13.5%. Advertising revenue was $1,812.8 million in 2014 as compared to $1,664.1 million in 2013, an increase of $148.7 million or 8.9%. Advertising revenue in 2014 included (i) estimated incremental World Cup advertising revenue of $181.8 million and (ii) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $62.7 million. Advertising revenue in 2013 included (i) Confederation Cup and Gold Cup advertising revenue of $68.0 million and (ii) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $47.5 million. Advertising revenue for our television platforms was $1,730.3 million in 2014 as compared to $1,606.1 million in 2013, an increase of $124.2 million or 7.7%. Advertising revenue in 2014 for our television platforms included (i) estimated incremental World Cup advertising revenue of $163.3 million and (ii) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $59.1 million. Advertising revenue in 2013 for our television platforms included (i) Confederation Cup and Gold Cup advertising revenue of $65.3 million and (ii) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $47.5 million. Advertising revenue through the Media Networks digital platform was $82.5 million in 2014 compared to $57.9 million in 2013, an increase of $24.6 million or 42.4%. Advertising revenue through the Media Networks digital platform in 2014 included (i) estimated incremental World Cup advertising revenue of $18.4 million and (ii) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $3.6 million. Advertising revenue through the Media Networks digital platform in 2013 included Confederation Cup and Gold Cup advertising revenue of $2.7 million.

Media Networks non-advertising revenue (which was primarily comprised of subscriber fee revenue, other contractual revenue and content licensing revenue) was $789.0 million in 2014 compared to $628.3 million in 2013, an increase of $160.7 million or 25.6% primarily due to an increase in subscriber fee revenue of $145.3 million and an increase in content licensing revenue of $8.6 million. In 2013, non-advertising revenue included non-cash contractual revenue related to the sale of our recorded music business which was completely satisfied in the second quarter of 2013 of $7.7 million.

Radio segment revenues were $309.6 million in 2014 compared to $335.0 million in 2013, a decrease of $25.4 million or 7.6%. Advertising revenue was $288.2 million in 2014 as compared to $315.4 million in 2013, a decrease of $27.2 million or 8.6%, due to lower ratings, market revenue declines and the impact of estimated World Cup advertising revenue of $7.5 million shifting from the Radio segment to the Media Networks segment. Advertising revenue included political/advocacy advertising revenue of $16.5 million in 2014 and $11.6 million in 2013. Non-advertising revenue (which was primarily comprised of other contractual revenue), was $21.4 million in 2014 compared to $19.6 million in 2013, an increase of $1.8 million or 9.2%.

Direct operating expenses—programming excluding variable program license fees. Programming expenses excluding variable program license fees increased to $540.5 million in 2014 from $438.2 million in 2013, an increase of $102.3 million or 23.3%. As a percentage of revenue, our programming expenses excluding variable program license fees increased to 18.6% in 2014 from 16.7% in 2013. Media Networks segment programming expenses excluding the variable program license fees were $488.2 million in 2014 compared to $376.2 million in 2013, an increase of $112.0 million or 29.8%. The increase was primarily associated with the 2014 World Cup, including programming costs of $116.5 million and an increase in other programming costs of $24.9 million, partially offset by decreases in sports programming of $29.4 million associated with the 2013 Confederation Cup and Gold Cup soccer tournaments. Radio segment programming expenses were $52.3 million in 2014 compared to $62.0 million in 2013, a decrease of $9.7 million or 15.6%, primarily due to a decrease in programming employee related costs.

Direct operating expenses—variable program license fees. Media Networks segment variable program license fees increased to $380.4 million in 2014 from $338.1 million in 2013, an increase of $42.3 million or 12.5% as a result of increased revenue. The impact on the variable program license fees of the associated estimated incremental 2014 World Cup advertising revenue and political/advocacy advertising revenue was an increase of $25.4 million and $0.3 million, respectively. The impact on the variable program license fees associated with the 2013 Confederation Cup and Gold Cup soccer tournaments and non-cash contractual advertising revenue associated with commitments to provide advertising made in the sale of our recorded music business which were completely satisfied in the second quarter of 2013 was a decrease of $9.5 million and $1.4 million, respectively.

Direct operating expenses—other. Other direct operating expenses decreased to $92.2 million in 2014 from $95.9 million in 2013, a decrease of $3.7 million or 3.9%. As a percentage of revenue, other direct operating expenses increased to 3.2% in 2014 from 3.6% in 2013. Media Networks segment other direct operating expenses were $74.4 million in 2014 compared to $79.5 million in 2013, a decrease of $5.1 million or 6.4%, primarily related to a decrease in technical costs. Radio segment other direct operating expenses were $17.8 million in 2014 compared to $16.4 million in 2013, an increase of $1.4 million or 8.5%, primarily due to an increase in technical and employee related costs.

Selling, general and administrative expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses increased to $718.8 million in 2014 from $712.6 million in 2013, an increase of $6.2 million or 0.9%. Media Networks segment selling, general and administrative expenses were $440.5 million in 2014 compared to $440.0 million in 2013, an increase of $0.5 million or 0.1%. Radio segment selling, general and administrative expenses were $149.9 million in 2014 compared to $149.3 million in 2013, an increase of $0.6 million. Corporate selling, general and administrative expenses were $128.4 million in 2014 compared to $123.3 million in 2013, an increase of $5.1 million or 4.1%, primarily due to an increase in employee related costs of $5.0 million and other net cost increases of $0.1 million. On a consolidated basis, as a percentage of revenue, our selling, general and administrative expenses decreased to 24.7% in 2014 from 27.1% in 2013.

Impairment loss. In 2014 and 2013, we recorded non-cash impairment losses of $340.5 million and $439.4 million, respectively. The loss in 2014 is comprised of $198.1 million in the Media Networks segment and $142.4 million in the Radio segment. In the Media Networks segment, we recorded approximately $182.9 million related to the impairment of Venevision-related prepaid programming assets made in conjunction with the amendment of the Venevision PLA, $8.2 million related to the write-down of program rights and $7.0 million related to the write-down of property held for sale. In the Radio segment, we recorded $133.4 million related to the write-down of broadcast licenses and $9.0 million related to the write-down of a trade name. The loss in 2013 is comprised of $87.6 million in the Media Networks segment and $351.8 million in the Radio segment. In the Media Networks segment, we recorded approximately $82.5 million related to the write-down of World Cup program rights prepayments, $2.5 million related to the residual write-off of the TeleFutura trade name, as the network has completed its rebranding as UniMás, $2.4 million related to the write-off of other program rights and $0.2 million related to the write-down of assets held for sale. In the Radio segment, based on a review of market conditions and management's assessment of long-term growth rates, we recorded $307.8 million related to the write-off of goodwill and $43.4 million related to the write-down of broadcast licenses. We also recorded a loss of $0.6 million related to the write-down of other assets in the Radio segment.

Restructuring, severance and related charges. In 2014, we incurred restructuring, severance and related charges in the amount of $41.2 million. This amount includes a $41.4 million charge related to broader-based cost-saving restructuring initiatives, partially offset by a $0.2 million benefit related to the adjustment of severance charges for individual employees. The severance benefit of $0.2 million is related to miscellaneous severance agreements with employees in the Media Networks and Radio segments. The restructuring charge of $41.4 million consists of a $28.3 million charge in the Media Networks segment, an $11.4 million charge in the Radio segment and $1.7 million of corporate expenses related to employee termination benefits, costs related to consolidating offices, and other contract terminations. During 2014, we initiated restructuring activities to improve performance, collaboration, and operational efficiencies across our local media platforms. The $41.4 million charge recognized during the period includes $7.1 million resulting from the restructuring activities across local media platforms initiated in 2014 and $34.3 million resulting from other restructuring activities that were initiated in 2012. In 2013, we incurred restructuring, severance and related charges in the amount of $29.4 million. Of this amount, $5.8 million is related to severance charges for individual employees and $23.6 million related to broader-based cost-saving restructuring initiatives. The severance charge of $5.8 million is related to miscellaneous severance agreements with corporate employees as well as employees in the Media Networks and Radio segments. The restructuring charge of $23.6 million was primarily related to other restructuring activities initiated in 2012 and consists of a $17.6 million charge in the Media Networks segment, a $5.5 million charge in the Radio segment and $0.5 million of corporate expenses, related to employee termination benefits and costs related to consolidating offices. For Media Networks, the $17.6 million charge includes expenses of $19.2 million related to employee termination benefits and costs related to consolidating offices, partially offset by a benefit of $1.6 million related to the elimination of a lease obligation from restructuring activities that were initiated in 2009. For Radio, the $5.5 million charge includes expenses of $7.7 million related to employee termination benefits and costs related to consolidating offices, partially offset by a benefit of $2.2 million related to the elimination of lease obligations. See Note 3 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization increased to $163.8 million in 2014 from $145.9 million in 2013, an increase of $17.9 million or 12.3%. Our depreciation expense increased to

$105.5 million in 2014 from $87.6 million in 2013, an increase of $17.9 million, primarily related to depreciation on newly acquired assets. We had amortization of intangible assets of $58.3 million in 2014 and 2013. Depreciation and amortization expense for the Media Networks segment increased by $16.2 million to $138.9 million in 2014 from $122.7 million in 2013. Depreciation and amortization expense for the Radio segment decreased by $3.5 million to $7.8 million in 2014 from $11.3 million in 2013 due to vacating a facility in 2013. Corporate depreciation expense increased by $5.2 million to $17.1 million in 2014 from $11.9 million in 2013.

Operating income. As a result of the factors discussed above and in the results of operations overview, we had operating income of $634.0 million in 2014 and $427.9 million in 2013, an increase of $206.1 million. The Media Networks segment had operating income of $853.1 million in 2014 and $830.2 million in 2013, an increase of $22.9 million. The Radio segment had an operating loss of $71.9 million in 2014 and $261.7 million in 2013, an increase in operating income of $189.8 million. Corporate operating loss was $147.2 million and $140.6 million in 2014 and 2013, respectively, an increase in operating loss of $6.6 million. The impact of revenue recognition related to certain content licensing agreements contributed $18.3 million in 2014 and $10.8 million in 2013. Political/advocacy advertising contributed $67.8 million in 2014 and $48.6 million in 2013. Non-cash contractual revenue associated with the commitments to provide advertising made in the sale of our recorded music business contributed $6.3 million in 2013. The estimated incremental impact of the 2014 World Cup tournament, considering incremental advertising revenue and operating expenses, was an increase of $22.1 million in operating income.

Interest expense. Interest expense decreased to $587.2 million in 2014 from $618.2 million in 2013, a decrease of $31.0 million. The decrease was primarily due to lower interest expense on our variable rate debt as a result of our refinancing transactions in 2013 and 2014 and a decrease in the amortization of fair value adjustments in AOCL related to interest rate swap contracts that are no longer designated as cash flow hedges. This decrease was partially offset by an increase in interest expense related to our senior notes as a result of the additional notes offered in 2013. See Notes 9 and 10 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Interest income. In 2014 and 2013, we recorded interest income of $6.0 million and $3.5 million, respectively, an increase of $2.5 million, primarily related to investments in convertible debt with an equity method investee.

Interest rate swap income. In 2014 and 2013, for interest rate swap contracts that are not designated as cash flow hedges and the ineffective portion of interest rate swap contracts that are designated as cash flow hedges, we recorded income of approximately $0.5 million and $3.8 million, respectively, related to net fair value adjustments partially offset by interest expense. See Note 10 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Amortization of deferred financing costs. Amortization of deferred financing costs increased to $15.5 million in 2014 from $14.1 million in 2013, an increase of $1.4 million. The increase is a result of our refinancing transactions. See Note 9 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Loss on extinguishment of debt. In 2014 and 2013, we recorded a loss on the extinguishment of debt in the amount of $17.2 million and $10.0 million, respectively, as a result of the refinancing of our debt. See Note 9 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Loss on equity method investments. In 2014, we recorded a loss on equity method investments of $85.2 million, primarily related to losses at the two early stage businesses El Rey and Fusion, of $73.3 million and $11.9 million, respectively. In 2013, we recorded a loss on equity method investments of $36.2 million, primarily related to a loss of $22.7 million for El Rey and a loss of $13.7 million for Fusion. This charge includes our share of equity loss in unconsolidated subsidiaries and costs funded by us which were incurred prior to our investment in an equity method investee. For El Rey, additionally all losses in these periods have been attributed to us based on the terms of the agreement governing the investment. See Note 7 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Benefit for income taxes. In 2014, we reported an income tax benefit of $66.1 million. In 2013, we reported an income tax benefit of $462.4 million. Our annual effective tax rate as of December 31, 2014 was approximately (101.4%), which differs from the statutory rate primarily due to permanent tax differences, the settlement of a significant uncertain tax position resulting in a significant reduction in the liability for unrecognized tax benefits, state and local taxes, and the amount of these items as compared to book loss. Our annual effective tax rate as of December 31, 2013 was approximately (187.7%), which differs from the statutory rate primarily due to the change in valuation allowance, permanent tax differences, state and local taxes and the amount of these items as compared to book loss. The income tax benefit and high negative effective tax rate in 2013 primarily result from recording a reduction in our Federal and state deferred tax asset valuation allowance of $468.0 million, as our deferred tax assets became realizable on a more-likely-than-not basis, based upon the realization of our capital loss carryforwards and a portion of our net operating loss carryforwards in 2013, coupled with projections of future taxable income over the period in which the deferred tax assets are recoverable. We have approximately $1.6 billion in net operating loss carry-forwards remaining. The reduction in the valuation allowance was partially offset by an increase we recorded in our valuation allowance of $34.5 million relating to our foreign deferred tax assets. We anticipate our annual effective tax rate to be approximately 36%-38% in 2015.

Net income. As a result of the above factors, we reported net income of $0.9 million and $216.0 million in 2014 and 2013, respectively.

Net loss attributable to non-controlling interest. Net loss attributable to non-controlling interest was $1.0 million and $0.2 million in 2014 and 2013, respectively.

Net income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. In 2014 and 2013, we reported net income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. of $1.9 million and $216.2 million, respectively.

OIBDA and Bank Credit OIBDA. As a result of the factors discussed above, OIBDA increased to $1,223.8 million in 2014 from $1,078.9 million in 2013, an increase of $144.9 million or 13.4% and Bank Credit OIBDA increased to $1,253.8 million in 2014 from $1,120.4 million in 2013, an increase of $133.4 million or 11.9%. On a consolidated basis, as a percentage of revenue, our OIBDA increased to 42.0% in 2014 from 41.1% in 2013 and Bank Credit OIBDA increased to 43.1% in 2014 from 42.6% in 2013. The impact of revenue recognition related to certain content licensing agreements contributed $18.3 million in 2014 and $10.8 million in 2013. Political/advocacy advertising contributed $67.8 million in 2014 and $48.6 million in 2013. Non-cash contractual revenue associated with the commitments to provide advertising made in the sale of our recorded music business contributed $6.3 million in 2013. The estimated incremental impact of the 2014 World Cup tournament, considering incremental advertising revenue and operating expenses, was an increase of $22.1 million.

In comparing our results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2013 with that ended December 31, 2012 (“2012”), in addition to the factors referenced above affecting our results, the following should be noted:

- In 2013, we recorded a non-cash impairment loss of $439.4 million, which is comprised of $87.6 million in the Media Networks segment and $351.8 million in the Radio segment. In 2012, we recorded a non-cash impairment loss of $90.4 million, which is comprised of $83.9 million in the Media Networks segment and $6.5 million in the Radio segment.
- In 2013 and 2012, we reported an income tax benefit of $462.4 million and an income tax provision of $58.9 million, respectively. The income tax benefit in 2013 primarily results from recording a reduction in our Federal and state deferred tax asset valuation allowance of $468.0 million, as our deferred tax assets became realizable on a more-likely-than-not basis, based upon the realization of our capital loss carryforwards and a portion of our net operating loss carryforwards in 2013, coupled with projections of future taxable income over the period in which the deferred tax assets are recoverable. The reduction in the valuation allowance was partially offset by an increase we recorded in our valuation allowance of $34.5 million relating to our foreign deferred tax assets.

- In 2013 and 2012, we recorded $29.4 million and $44.2 million, respectively, in restructuring, severance and related charges. These charges relate to restructuring and severance agreements with employees and executives, as well as costs related to consolidating offices in 2013 (related to other restructuring activities initiated in 2012) and 2012.
- In 2013 and 2012, we recorded a loss on extinguishment of debt of $10.0 million and $2.6 million, respectively, as a result of refinancing our debt. The loss includes fees and the write-off of certain unamortized deferred financing costs.

Revenue. Revenue was $2,627.4 million in 2013 compared to $2,442.0 million in 2012, an increase of $185.4 million or 7.6%, which reflects an increase of 9.0% in the Media Networks segment and a decrease of 1.0% in the Radio segment.

Advertising revenue was $1,979.5 million in 2013 compared to $1,858.4 million in 2012, an increase of $121.1 million or 6.5%. Advertising revenue in 2013 included (i) Confederation Cup and Gold Cup advertising revenue of $68.0 million and (ii) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $59.1 million. Advertising revenue in 2012 included political/advocacy advertising revenue of $60.5 million.

Non-advertising revenue (which was primarily comprised of subscriber fee revenue, other contractual revenue and content licensing revenue) was $647.9 million in 2013 compared to $583.6 million in 2012, an increase of $64.3 million or 11.0%. The increase in non-advertising revenue was primarily due to an increase in subscriber fees of $85.0 million primarily due to contractual increases partially offset by a decrease in content licensing revenue of $23.5 million due to the timing of revenue recognition of certain content licensing agreements. Subscriber fee revenue was $497.2 million in 2013 compared to $412.2 million in 2012. Non-advertising revenue included non-cash contractual revenue associated with the commitments to provide advertising made in the sale of our recorded music business which were completely satisfied in the second quarter of 2013 of $7.7 million in 2013 and $23.4 million in 2012.

Media Networks segment revenues were $2,292.4 million in 2013 compared to $2,103.5 million in 2012, an increase of $188.9 million or 9.0%. Advertising revenue was $1,664.1 million in 2013 as compared to $1,538.4 million in 2012, an increase of $125.7 million or 8.2%. Advertising revenue in 2013 included (i) Confederation Cup and Gold Cup advertising revenue of $68.0 million and (ii) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $47.5 million. Advertising revenue in 2012 included political/advocacy advertising revenue of $43.6 million. Advertising revenue for our television platforms was $1,606.1 million in 2013 as compared to $1,483.0 million in 2012, an increase of $123.1 million or 8.3%. Advertising revenue in 2013 for our television platforms included (i) Confederation Cup and Gold Cup advertising revenue of $65.3 million and (ii) political/advocacy advertising revenue of $47.5 million. Advertising revenue in 2012 for our television platforms included political/advocacy advertising revenue of $42.1 million. Advertising revenue through the Media Networks digital platform was $57.9 million in 2013 compared to $55.4 million in 2012, an increase of $2.5 million or 4.5%. Advertising revenue through the Media Networks digital platform in 2013 included Confederation Cup and Gold Cup advertising revenue of $2.7 million. Advertising revenue through the Media Networks digital platform included political/advocacy advertising revenue of $1.5 million in 2012. Non-advertising revenue (which was primarily comprised of subscriber fee revenue, other contractual revenue and content licensing revenue) was $628.3 million in 2013 compared to $565.1 million in 2012, an increase of $63.2 million or 11.2% primarily due to an increase in subscriber fee revenue of $85.0 million primarily due to contractual increases partially offset by a decrease in content licensing of $23.5 million due to the timing of revenue recognition of certain content licensing agreements. Non-advertising revenue included non-cash contractual revenue associated with the commitments to provide advertising made in the sale of our recorded music business which were completely satisfied in the second quarter of 2013 of $7.7 million in 2013 and $23.4 million in 2012.

Radio segment revenues were $335.0 million in 2013 compared to $338.5 million in 2012, a decrease of $3.5 million or 1.0%. Advertising revenue was $315.4 million in 2013 as compared to $320.0 million in 2012, a decrease of $4.6 million or 1.4%. Advertising revenue included political/advocacy advertising revenue of $11.6 million in 2013 and $16.9 million in 2012. Non-advertising revenue (which was primarily comprised of other contractual revenue) was $19.6 million in 2013 compared to $18.5 million in 2012, an increase of $1.1 million or 5.9%.

Direct operating expenses—programming excluding variable program license fees . Programming expenses excluding variable program license fees increased to $438.2 million in 2013 from $388.4 million in 2012, an increase of $49.8 million or 12.8%. As a percentage of revenue, our programming expenses excluding variable program license fees increased to 16.7% in 2013 from 15.9% in 2012. Media Networks segment programming expenses excluding variable program license fees were $376.2 million in 2013 compared to $321.3 million in 2012, an increase of $54.9 million or 17.1%. The increase was primarily related to an increase of $29.4 million related to the 2013 Confederation Cup and Gold Cup soccer tournaments and an increase in other programming costs, primarily sports related programming, of $25.5 million. Radio segment programming expenses were $62.0 million in 2013 compared to $67.1 million in 2012, a decrease of $5.1 million or 7.6%, primarily due to decreases in programming employee related costs.

Direct operating expenses—variable program license fees . The variable program license fees recorded on our Media Networks segment increased to $338.1 million in 2013 from $311.1 million in 2012, an increase of $27.0 million or 8.7% as a result of increased revenue. The impact on the variable program license fees of the 2013 Confederations Cup and Gold Cup soccer tournaments was an increase of $9.5 million, while the impact on the variable program license fees associated with political/advocacy advertising revenue, non-cash contractual advertising revenue associated with commitments to provide advertising made in the sale of our recorded music business which were completely satisfied in the second quarter of 2013 and the timing of revenue recognition of certain content licensing agreements as content is delivered was a decrease of $3.6 million, $3.1 million and $3.3 million, respectively.

Direct operating expenses—other . Other direct operating expenses decreased to $95.9 million in 2013 from $98.4 million in 2012, a decrease of $2.5 million or 2.5%. As a percentage of revenue, other direct operating expenses decreased to 3.6% in 2013 from 4.0% in 2012. Media Networks segment other direct operating expenses were $79.5 million in 2013 compared to $83.9 million in 2012, a decrease of $4.4 million or 5.2%, primarily related to a decrease in technical costs. Radio segment other direct operating expenses were $16.4 million in 2013 compared to $14.5 million in 2012, an increase of $1.9 million or 13.1%, primarily due to an increase in technical costs.

Selling, general and administrative expenses . Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased to $712.6 million in 2013 from $750.4 million in 2012, a decrease of $37.8 million or 5.0%. Media Networks segment selling, general and administrative expenses were $440.0 million in 2013 compared to $450.3 million in 2012, a decrease of $10.3 million or 2.3%. The decrease was primarily due to a decrease of employee related expenses of $12.3 million, partially offset by other net cost increases of $2.0 million. Radio segment selling, general and administrative expenses were $149.3 million in 2013 compared to $161.0 million in 2012, a decrease of $11.7 million or 7.3% primarily related to a decrease in sales related costs of $8.2 million and other net costs decreases of $3.5 million. Corporate selling, general and administrative expenses were $123.3 million in 2013 compared to $139.1 million in 2012, a decrease of $15.8 million or 11.4% primarily due to a decrease of $15.8 million in share-based compensation (resulting from non-employee compensation of $18.5 million in 2012 which did not occur in 2013). On a consolidated basis, as a percentage of revenue, our selling, general and administrative expenses decreased to 27.1% in 2013 from 30.7% in 2012.

Impairment loss. In 2013 and 2012, we recorded non-cash impairment losses of $439.4 million and $90.4 million, respectively. The loss in 2013 is comprised of $87.6 million in the Media Networks segment and $351.8 million in the Radio segment. In the Media Networks segment, we recorded approximately $82.5 million related to the write-down of World Cup program rights prepayments, $2.5 million related to the residual write-off of the TeleFutura trade name as the network had completed its rebranding as UniMás, $2.4 million related to the write-off of other program rights and $0.2 million related to the write-down of assets held for sale. In the Radio segment, based on a review of market conditions and management's assessment of long-term growth rates, we recorded $307.8 million related to the write-off of goodwill and $43.4 million related to the write-down of broadcast licenses. We also recorded a loss of $0.6 million related to the write-down of other assets in the Radio segment. The loss in 2012 is comprised of $83.9 million in the Media Networks segment and $6.5 million in the Radio segment. In the Media Networks segment, we recorded $47.6 million related to the write-down of a trade name, $31.9 million related to the write-off of television program rights, $2.5 million related to the write-down of land and buildings held for sale, $0.8 million related to the write-off of a broadcast license, $0.8 million related to the write-off of other assets and $0.3 million related to the write-off of an investment. In the Radio segment, we recorded $5.7 million related to the write-down of broadcast licenses, $0.7 million related to the write-off of investments and $0.1 million related to the write-off of other assets.

Restructuring, severance and related charges. In 2013, we incurred restructuring, severance and related charges in the amount of $29.4 million. Of this amount, $5.8 million related to severance charges for individual employees and $23.6 million related to broader-based cost-saving restructuring initiatives. The severance charge of $5.8 million is related to miscellaneous severance agreements with corporate employees as well as employees in the Media Networks and Radio segments. The restructuring charge of $23.6 million is primarily related to other restructuring activities initiated in 2012 and consists of a $17.6 million charge in the Media Networks segment, a $5.5 million charge in the Radio segment and $0.5 million of corporate expenses related to employee termination benefits and costs related to consolidating offices. For Media Networks, the $17.6 million charge includes expenses of $19.2 million related to employee termination benefits and costs related to consolidating offices, partially offset by a benefit of $1.6 million related to the elimination of a lease obligation from restructuring activities that were initiated in 2009. For Radio, the $5.5 million charge includes expenses of $7.7 million related to employee termination benefits and costs related to consolidating offices, partially offset by a benefit of $2.2 million related to the elimination of lease obligations. In 2012, we incurred restructuring, severance and related charges in the amount of $44.2 million. Of this amount, $7.4 million related to severance charges for individual employees and $36.8 million related to broader-based cost-saving restructuring initiatives. The severance charge of $7.4 million is primarily related to miscellaneous severance agreements with corporate employees as well as employees in the Media Networks segment. The restructuring charge of $36.8 million consists of a $24.7 million charge in the Media Networks segment, a $9.1 million charge in the Radio segment and $3.0 million of corporate expenses related to employee termination benefits and costs related to consolidating offices. See Note 3 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization increased to $145.9 million in 2013 from $130.3 million in 2012, an increase of $15.6 million or 12.0%. Our depreciation expense increased to $87.6 million in 2013 from $75.3 million in 2012, an increase of $12.3 million, primarily related to depreciation on newly acquired assets. We had amortization of intangible assets of $58.3 million and $55.0 million in 2013 and 2012, respectively, an increase of $3.3 million, primarily related to amortization on the launch rights acquired in 2013. Depreciation and amortization expense for the Media Networks segment increased by $11.6 million to $122.7 million in 2013 from $111.1 million in 2012. Depreciation and amortization expense for the Radio segment increased by $0.8 million to $11.3 million in 2013 from $10.5 million in 2012. Corporate depreciation expense increased by $3.2 million to $11.9 million in 2013 from $8.7 million in 2012.

Operating income. As a result of the factors discussed above and in the results of operations overview, including the impact of the impairment loss in 2013, we had operating income of $427.9 million in 2013 and $628.8 million in 2012, a decrease of $200.9 million. The Media Networks segment had operating income of $830.2 million in 2013 and $713.1 million in 2012, an increase of $117.1 million. The Radio segment had an operating loss of $261.7 million in 2013 and operating income of $69.7 million in 2012, a decrease of $331.4 million. Corporate operating loss was $140.6 million and $154.0 million in 2013 and 2012, respectively, a decrease of operating loss of $13.4 million. The impact of revenue recognition related to certain content licensing agreements contributed $10.8 million in 2013 and $31.1 million in 2012. Political/advocacy advertising contributed $48.6 million in 2013 and $51.2 million in 2012. Non-cash contractual revenue associated with the commitments to provide advertising made in the sale of our recorded music business contributed $6.3 million in 2013 and $19.2 million in 2012.

Interest expense. Interest expense increased to $618.2 million in 2013 from $573.2 million in 2012, an increase of $45.0 million. The increase is primarily due to an increase in interest expense related to our senior notes, including the additional notes offered in 2012 and 2013, and the amortization of fair value adjustments in AOCL related to interest rate swap contracts that are no longer designated as cash flow hedges. This was partially offset by lower interest expense on our variable rate debt as a result of our refinancing transactions in 2012 and 2013 and by a decrease in interest charges on the interest rate swap contracts. For contracts that are not designated as cash flow hedges and the ineffective portion of interest rate swap contracts that are designated as cash flow hedges, interest charges are recorded to interest rate swap expense rather than interest expense. See Notes 9 and 10 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Interest income. Interest income increased to $3.5 million in 2013 from $0.2 million in 2012, an increase of $3.3 million. The interest income in 2013 is primarily related to a convertible note investment with an equity method investee.

Interest rate swap income. In 2013, for interest rate swap contracts that are not designated as cash flow hedges and the ineffective portion of interest rate swap contracts that are designated as cash flow hedges, we recorded income of approximately $3.8 million related to income from net fair value adjustments, partially offset by net interest expense. No interest rate swap income was recognized in 2012. See Note 10 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Amortization of deferred financing costs. Amortization of deferred financing costs increased to $14.1 million in 2013 from $8.3 million in 2012, an increase of $5.8 million. The increase is a result of our refinancing transactions. See Note 9 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014.

Loss on extinguishment of debt. In 2013 and 2012, we recorded a loss on the extinguishment of debt in the amount of $10.0 million and $2.6 million, respectively, as a result of the refinancing of our debt. See Note 9 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Loss on equity method investments. In 2013, we recorded a loss on equity method investments of $36.2 million, primarily related to a loss of $22.7 million for El Rey and a loss of $13.7 million for Fusion. In 2012, we recorded a loss on equity method investments of $0.9 million, primarily related to Fusion. This charge includes our share of equity loss in unconsolidated subsidiaries and costs funded by us which were incurred prior to our investment in an equity method investee. See Note 7 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014.

(Benefit) provision for income taxes. In 2013, we reported an income tax benefit of $462.4 million. In 2012, we reported an income tax provision of $58.9 million. Our annual effective tax rate as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, respectively, was approximately (187.7%) and 132.3%, which differs from the statutory rate primarily due to the change in valuation allowance, permanent tax differences, and the amount of these items as compared to estimated book income (loss). The income tax benefit and high negative effective tax rate in 2013 primarily result from recording a reduction in our Federal and state deferred tax asset valuation allowance of $468.0 million, as our deferred tax assets became realizable on a more-likely-than-not basis, based upon the realization of our capital loss carryforwards and a portion of our net operating loss carryforwards in 2013, coupled with projections of future taxable income over the period in which the deferred tax assets are recoverable. The reduction in the valuation allowance was partially offset by an increase we recorded in our valuation allowance of $34.5 million relating to our foreign deferred tax assets.

Net income (loss). As a result of the above factors, we reported net income of $216.0 million in 2013 and a net loss of $14.4 million 2012.

Net loss attributable to non-controlling interest. In 2013, net loss attributable to non-controlling interest was $0.2 million. There was no non-controlling interest in 2012.

Net income (loss) attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. In 2013, we reported net income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. of $216.2 million. In 2012, we reported a net loss attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. of $14.4 million.

OIBDA and Bank Credit OIBDA. As a result of the factors discussed above, OIBDA increased to $1,078.9 million in 2013 from $945.9 million in 2012, an increase of $133.0 million or 14.1% and Bank Credit OIBDA increased to $1,120.4 million in 2013 from $1,003.2 million in 2012, an increase of $117.2 million or 11.7%. See Note 18 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus. On a consolidated basis, as a percentage of revenue, our OIBDA increased to 41.1% in 2013 from 38.7% in 2012 and Bank Credit OIBDA increased to 42.6% in 2013 from 41.1% in 2012. The impact of revenue recognition related to certain content licensing agreements contributed $10.8 million in 2013 and $31.1 million in 2012. Political/advocacy advertising contributed $48.6 million in 2013 and $51.2 million in 2012. Non-cash contractual revenue associated with the commitments to provide advertising made in the sale of our recorded music business contributed $6.3 million in 2013 and $19.2 million in 2012.

Quarterly Results

The following table sets forth our historical unaudited quarterly consolidated statement of operations data for the first quarter of 2015 and each of the fiscal quarters of 2014 and 2013. This unaudited quarterly information has been prepared on the same basis as our annual audited consolidated financial statements appearing elsewhere in this prospectus, and includes all adjustments, consisting of normal recurring adjustments, that we consider necessary to present fairly the financial information for the fiscal quarters presented. This unaudited quarterly information should be read in conjunction with our audited consolidated financial statements and the related notes appearing elsewhere in this prospectus.

(a) 2015 first quarter revenue was impacted by several factors. Content licensing revenue contributed $7.4 million of revenue and political/advocacy advertising revenue contributed $14.1 million of advertising revenue.

(b) 2014 revenue was impacted by several factors. The most significant of which was the World Cup soccer tournament, which contributed $277.1 million (an estimated $174.2 million on an incremental basis) in advertising revenue in 2014. Other factors impacting revenue in 2014 were political/advocacy advertising revenue which contributed $79.2 million of advertising revenue and content licensing revenue which contributed $21.2 million of revenue. On a quarterly basis, the World Cup soccer tournament contributed $7.3 million (an estimated $4.6 million on an incremental basis) to advertising revenue in the first quarter, $184.5 million (an estimated $115.5 million on an incremental basis) in the second quarter and $85.3 million (an estimated $54.1 million on an incremental basis) in the third quarter. There was no contribution in the fourth quarter. Political/advocacy advertising revenue was $23.5 million in the first quarter, $11.2 million in the second quarter, $16.2 million in the third quarter and $28.3 million in the fourth quarter. Content licensing revenue was $0.8 million in the first quarter, $2.1 million in the second quarter, $3.0 million in the third quarter and $15.3 million in the fourth quarter.

(c) 2014 direct operating expenses were impacted by the World Cup soccer tournament. Direct expenses related to the World Cup were $141.9 million including $25.4 million related to the program license fee. World Cup direct expenses were $3.1 million (program license fee $0.7 million) in the first quarter, $95.9 million (program license fee $16.9 million) in the second quarter, $43.1 million (program license fee $7.8 million) in the third quarter and ($0.2) million in the fourth quarter.

(d) Impairment losses during the fourth quarter of 2014 include approximately $182.9 million related to the impairment of Venevision-related prepaid programming assets and $133.4 million related to the write-down of radio broadcast licenses.

- (e) 2013 revenue was impacted by several factors. The Confederation Cup and the Gold Cup soccer tournaments occurred in 2013. The Confederation Cup soccer tournament contributed $22.9 million in advertising revenue to the second quarter. The Gold Cup soccer tournament contributed $45.1 million in advertising revenue to the third quarter. Other factors impacting revenue in 2013 were political/advocacy advertising revenue which contributed $59.1 million of advertising revenue and content licensing revenue which contributed $12.6 million of revenue. Political/advocacy advertising revenue was $5.3 million in the first quarter, $15.1 million in the second quarter, $17.7 million in the third quarter and $21.0 million in the fourth quarter. Content licensing revenue was $2.9 million in the first quarter, $3.7 million in the second quarter, $4.6 million in the third quarter and $1.4 million in the fourth quarter.
- (f) 2013 direct operating expenses were impacted by the Confederation Cup and Gold Cup soccer tournaments. Direct expenses in the second quarter related to the Confederation Cup were $14.2 million including $3.2 million related to the program license fee. Direct expenses in the third quarter related to the Gold Cup were $24.8 million including $6.3 million related to the program license fee.
- (g) Impairment losses during the third quarter of 2013 include approximately $82.5 million related to the write-off of World Cup program rights prepayments. Impairment losses during the fourth quarter of 2013 include $307.8 million related to the write-off of Radio segment goodwill and $43.4 million related to the write-down of radio broadcast licenses.
- (h) The income tax benefit in the fourth quarter of 2013 was impacted by a reduction in our Federal and state deferred tax asset valuation allowance of $468.0 million. The aforementioned goodwill impairment was a permanent tax difference and therefore did not impact the income tax benefit.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Cash Flows

Cash Flows from Operating Activities . Cash flows from operating activities for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014 and for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012 were as follows:

Cash flows from operating activities for the three months ended March 31, 2015 were $53.5 million compared to cash flows from operating activities for the three months ended March 31, 2014 of $73.6 million. Excluding the impact of the accrual of the management and technical assistance termination payment obligations and the charge taken for such obligations, the most significant factors leading to the decrease in cash provided by operating activities in 2015 compared to 2014, after further excluding the impact of the non-cash items, were the changes in net income, spending for program rights and accrued interest. The difference in spending for program rights was primarily related to sports programming (not related to the World Cup) and the difference in accrued interest was due to debt refinancings that impacted these periods.

Cash flows from operating activities for the year ended December 31, 2014 were $274.9 million compared to cash flows from operating activities for the year ended December 31, 2013 of $79.3 million. Excluding the impact of non-cash items, the increase in cash provided by operating activities in 2014 as compared to 2013 reflects higher net income and improvements in working capital. Net income in 2014 was favorably impacted by the World Cup which ended in July 2014. The activity in 2014 reflects the collection of World Cup accounts receivable as well as lower prepaids, program rights and accounts payable balances. In addition, during 2014, we incurred approximately $177.5 million in program rights prepayments associated with our amendment of the Venevision PLA. In 2013, we incurred approximately $136.8 million related to World Cup program rights prepayments. In 2013, deferred revenue primarily related to our facility-sharing agreement with Fusion .

Cash flows from operating activities for the year ended December 31, 2013 were $79.3 million compared to cash flows from operating activities for the year ended December 31, 2012 of $169.1 million. The decrease in cash from operating activities in 2013 as compared to 2012 was primarily due to the payment schedule associated with the 2014 World Cup. In 2013, we incurred approximately $136.8 million related to World Cup program rights prepayments. In 2012, we incurred approximately $86.8 million in World Cup and other soccer property program rights prepayments. In 2013, deferred revenue primarily related to our facility-sharing agreement with Fusion . In 2012, deferred revenue primarily related to our former music business.

Cash Flows Used in Investing Activities. Cash flows used in investing activities for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014 and for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012 were as follows:

Cash flows used in investing activities were $69.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015 compared to cash flows used in investing activities of $38.8 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014.

Table of Contents

The increase in cash used in investing activities was due primarily to increased contributions to El Rey and Fusion of $30.0 million and $12.8 million, respectively. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in capital expenditures of $13.6 million.

Cash flows used in investing activities were $154.8 million for the year ended December 31, 2014 compared to cash flows used in investing activities of $335.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2013. The reduction in cash used for investing activities was due primarily to lower capital expenditures of $45.8 million, lower investments primarily in El Rey and no launch rights acquired in 2014.

Cash flows used in investing activities were $335.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2013 as compared to cash flows used in investing activities of $102.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2012. The increase in cash used in investing activities was due primarily to higher capital expenditures of $79.7 million, investments in 2013 in both El Rey and Fusion and the acquisition of launch rights in 2013 for $81.3 million.

Cash Flows from (Used in) Financing Activities. Cash flows from (used in) financing activities for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014 and the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012 were as follows:

Cash flows from financing activities were $208.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015 compared to cash flows from financing activities of $0.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014. The cash flows provided by financing activities reflected net borrowings related to our debt of $208.7 million in 2015. Cash flows from financing activities for the three months ended March 31, 2014 included replacing term loans under our senior secured credit facility with term loans with a lower interest rate as a result of an amendment to our senior secured credit facilities in January 2014.

Cash flows used in financing activities were $107.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2014 compared to cash flows from financing activities of $263.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2013. The cash flows used in financing activities reflect net repayments related to our debt of $232.6 million in 2014, partially offset by the issuance of equity of $124.3 million and other items. Cash flows used in financing activities for the year ended December 31, 2014 include an amendment to our senior secured credit facilities in January 2014 which facilitated the incurrence of replacement term loans at a modified interest rate. Overall borrowings under our senior secured credit facilities decreased by approximately $46.4 million in 2014. In addition, we redeemed approximately $119.8 million of our 6.75% senior secured notes due 2022 (the “2022 notes”) and reduced our borrowings under the accounts receivable facility by $60.0 million.

Cash flows from financing activities were $263.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2013 compared to cash flows used in financing activities of $89.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2012. The cash flows from financing activities primarily reflect net proceeds from debt borrowings of $263.7 million in 2013. Cash flows from financing activities in 2013 include the issuance of $700.0 million 5.125% senior secured notes due 2023 (the “2023 notes”) and amendments to our senior secured credit facilities in February and May 2013 which extended our term loans. Overall borrowings under our senior secured credit facilities decreased by approximately $324.7 million in 2013. In addition, we reduced our borrowings under the accounts receivable facility by $55.0 million.

Anticipated Cash Requirements . Our current financing strategy is to fund operations through our cash flow from operations, our bank senior secured revolving credit facility, our accounts receivable sale facility and anticipated access to public and private debt markets. We monitor our cash flow liquidity, availability, fixed charge coverage, capital base, programming acquisitions and leverage ratios with the long-term goal of maintaining our credit worthiness.

Capital Expenditures

Capital expenditures for the three months ended March 31, 2015 totaled $21.8 million, not reflecting the impact of approximately $5.0 million of accruals as of March 31, 2015. These expenditures included $7.5 million related to normal capital purchases or improvements, $6.7 million related to information technology, $6.6 million related to facilities upgrades, including those related to consolidation of operations and $1.0 million related to television station transmitter projects. Our capital expenditures excluded the expenditures financed with capitalized lease obligations.

Capital expenditures for the year ended December 31, 2014 totaled $133.4 million. These expenditures included $71.6 million related to normal capital purchases or improvements, $45.5 million related to information technology, $11.8 million related to television station transmitter and HDTV conversion projects and $4.5 million related to new facilities. Our capital expenditures excluded the expenditures financed with capitalized lease obligations. The capital expenditures for the year ended December 31, 2014 included $32.5 million of accruals as of December 31, 2013, but excluded $15.1 million of accruals as of December 31, 2014.

For the full fiscal year 2015, our capital expenditure plan is for approximately $107.0 million, plus approximately $15.1 million of capital purchases that were accrued as of December 31, 2014. These anticipated expenditures include $48.1 million related to normal capital purchases or improvements, $37.5 million related to facilities upgrades, including those related to consolidation of operations, $33.9 million related to information technology, and $2.6 million related to television station transmitter projects.

Restrictions on Dividends

As a holding company, our investments in our operating subsidiaries constitute all of our operating assets. Our subsidiaries conduct all of our consolidated operations and own substantially all of our consolidated assets. As a result, we must rely on dividends and other advances and transfers of funds from our subsidiaries to meet our debt obligations. The ability of our subsidiaries to pay dividends or make other advances and transfers of funds will depend on their respective results of operations and may be restricted by, among other things, applicable laws limiting the amount of funds available for payment of dividends and agreements of those subsidiaries. The credit agreement governing our senior secured credit facilities and the indentures governing the senior notes create restrictions on the ability of UCI to pay dividends or make distributions on its capital stock.

(b) On July 1, 2015, we entered into the MOU in which it was agreed that, prior to the consummation of this offering, Televisa’s convertible debentures would be exchanged for the Televisa Warrants.

For further information regarding our indebtedness, see “Description of Certain Indebtedness.” See also Note 9 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and Note 7 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Our senior secured credit facilities are guaranteed by Broadcast Media Partners Holdings, Inc. (“Holdings”) and UCI’s material, wholly-owned restricted domestic subsidiaries (subject to certain exceptions). Our senior secured notes and senior notes are guaranteed by all of the current and future domestic subsidiaries that guarantee the senior secured credit facilities. The senior secured notes and senior notes are not guaranteed by Holdings.

Our senior secured credit facilities are secured by, among other things:

- a first priority security interest, subject to permitted liens, in substantially all of the assets of UCI and Univision of Puerto Rico Inc. (“UPR”), as borrowers, Holdings and UCI’s material restricted domestic subsidiaries (subject to certain exceptions), including without limitation, all receivables, contracts, contract rights, equipment, intellectual property, inventory and other tangible and intangible assets, but excluding, among other things, cash and cash equivalents, deposit and securities accounts, motor vehicles, FCC licenses to the extent that applicable law or regulation prohibits the grant of a security interest therein, equipment that is subject to restrictions on liens pursuant to purchase money obligations or capital lease obligations, interests in joint ventures and non-wholly owned subsidiaries that cannot be pledged without the consent of a third party, trademark applications and receivables subject to our accounts receivable securitization;

- a pledge of (i) the present and future capital stock of each of UCI's, UPR's, and each subsidiary guarantor's direct domestic subsidiaries (other than interests in joint ventures and non-wholly owned subsidiaries that cannot be pledged without the consent of a third party or to the extent a pledge of such capital stock would cause us to be required to file separate financial statements for such subsidiary with the SEC) and (ii) 65% of the voting stock of each of UCI's, UPR, and each subsidiary guarantor's material direct foreign subsidiaries (other than interests in non-wholly owned subsidiaries that cannot be pledged without the consent of a third party), in each case, subject to certain exceptions; and
- all proceeds and products of the property and assets described above.

Our senior secured notes are secured by substantially all of UCI's and the guarantors' property and assets that secure our senior secured credit facilities. The senior secured notes are not secured by the assets of Holdings, including a pledge of the capital stock of UCI.

The agreements governing the senior secured credit facilities and the senior notes contain various covenants, which, among other things, limit the incurrence of indebtedness, making of investments, payment of dividends, transactions with affiliates, asset sales, acquisitions, mergers and consolidations, prepayments of other indebtedness, liens and encumbrances and other matters customarily restricted in such agreements. The credit agreement and the indentures governing the senior notes thereunder allow UCI to make certain pro forma adjustments for purposes of calculating certain financial ratios, some of which would be applied to Bank Credit OIBDA. UCI is in compliance with these covenants under the agreements governing its senior secured credit facilities and the existing senior notes as of March 31, 2015.

A breach of any covenant could result in an event of default under those agreements. If any such event of default occurs, the lenders of the senior secured credit facilities or the holders of the existing senior notes or other notes may elect (after the expiration of any applicable notice or grace periods) to declare all outstanding borrowings, together with accrued and unpaid interest and other amounts payable thereunder, to be immediately due and payable. In addition, an event of default under the indentures governing the existing senior notes or the notes would cause an event of default under the senior secured credit facilities, and the acceleration of debt under the senior secured credit facilities or the failure to pay that debt when due would cause an event of default under the indentures governing the existing senior notes or the notes (assuming certain amounts of that debt were outstanding at the time). The lenders under the senior secured credit facilities also have the right upon an event of default thereunder to terminate any commitments they have to provide further borrowings. Further, following an event of default under the senior secured credit facilities, the lenders will have the right to proceed against the collateral.

UCI owns several wholly-owned early stage ventures, including the subsidiary that operates Flama, which have been designated as "unrestricted subsidiaries" for purposes of its credit agreement governing the senior secured credit facilities and indentures governing the senior notes. The results of these unrestricted subsidiaries are excluded from Bank Credit OIBDA in accordance with the definition in the credit agreement and the indentures governing the senior notes. As unrestricted subsidiaries, the operations of these subsidiaries are excluded from, among other things, covenant compliance calculations and compliance with the affirmative and negative covenants of the credit agreement governing the senior secured credit facilities and indentures governing the senior notes. UCI may redesignate these subsidiaries as restricted subsidiaries at any time at its option, subject to compliance with the terms of its credit agreement governing the senior secured credit facilities and indentures governing the senior notes.

UCI and its subsidiaries, affiliates or significant shareholders may from time to time, in their sole discretion, purchase, repay, redeem or retire certain of our debt or equity securities (including any publicly traded debt securities), in privately negotiated or open market transactions, by tender offer or otherwise.

Interest Rate Swaps

Our objectives in using interest rate derivatives are to add stability to interest expense and to manage our exposure to interest rate movements. To accomplish these objectives, we primarily use interest rate swaps as part of our interest rate risk management strategy. These interest rate swaps involve the receipt of variable amounts from a counterparty in exchange for us making fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreements without exchange of the underlying notional amount. We have agreements with each of our interest rate swap counterparties which provide that we could be declared in default on our derivative obligations if repayment of the underlying indebtedness is accelerated by the lender due to our default on the indebtedness.

As of March 31, 2015, we had two effective cash flow hedges with a combined notional amount of $2.5 billion. These contracts mature in February 2020. Our current interest rate swap contracts designated in cash flow hedging relationships effectively convert the interest payable on $2.5 billion of variable rate debt into fixed rate debt, at a weighted-average rate of approximately 2.25%.

As of March 31, 2015, we had three interest rate swap contracts not designated as hedges (“nondesignated instruments”). These contracts mature in June 2016. Two of these interest rate swap contracts were originally designated in cash flow hedging relationships, but we ceased applying cash flow hedge accounting as a result of refinancing the senior secured credit facilities. Subsequent to the discontinuation of cash flow hedge accounting, those interest rate swap contracts are marked to market, with the change in fair value recorded directly in earnings. The unrealized gain/loss up to the point cash flow hedge accounting was discontinued is being amortized from AOCL into earnings. The third nondesignated instrument (“reverse swap”) was entered into to offset the effect of the other nondesignated instruments. The effective notional amount of these three instruments is zero. The first two nondesignated instruments have a combined notional amount of $1.25 billion and pay fixed interest and receive floating interest, while the reverse swap has a notional amount of $1.25 billion and receives an offsetting amount of floating interest while paying fixed interest.

Other

General

Based on our current level of operations, planned capital expenditures and major contractual obligations, we believe that our cash flow from operations, together with available cash and availability under our senior secured revolving credit facility and the revolving component of our accounts receivable sale facility will provide sufficient liquidity to fund our current obligations, projected working capital requirements and capital expenditures for a period that includes at least the next year.

Acquisitions

We continue to explore acquisition and joint venture opportunities to complement and capitalize on our existing business and management. The purchase price for any future acquisitions and investments in joint ventures may be paid with cash derived from operating cash flow, proceeds available under our senior secured revolving credit facility, proceeds from future debt offerings or any combination thereof.

Amounts do not give pro forma effect to (i) the issuance of $1,250.0 million in aggregate principal amount of senior notes on February 19, 2015, (ii) the purchase and redemption of the $1,200.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 6.875% senior secured notes due 2019 (the “2019 notes”) outstanding as of December 31, 2014, (iii) the issuance of $810.0 million in aggregate principal amount of additional 2025 notes on April 21, 2015, (iv) the purchase and redemption of the $750.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 2020 notes outstanding as of March 31, 2015, and (v) the exchange of Televisa’s convertible debentures for the Televisa Warrants, which exchange will occur prior to the consummation of this offering.
- (b) Amounts represent anticipated cash interest payments related to our fixed rate debt, which includes the senior notes and Televisa convertible debentures. Amounts do not give pro forma effect to (i) the issuance of $1,250.0 million in aggregate principal amount of senior notes on February 19, 2015, (ii) the purchase and redemption of the $1,200.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 2019 notes outstanding as of December 31, 2014, (iii) the issuance of $810.0 million in aggregate principal amount of additional 2025 notes on April 21, 2015, (iv) the purchase and redemption of the $750.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 2020 notes outstanding as of March 31, 2015, and (v) the exchange of Televisa’s convertible debentures for the Televisa Warrants, which exchange will occur prior to the consummation of this offering.
- (c) Amounts are based on anticipated cash payments. See Note 16 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus for reconciliation to the capital lease obligations recognized on our balance sheet as of December 31, 2014.
- (d) Amounts reflect our accounts receivable sale facility which matures in 2018. The outstanding balance is classified as current debt due to the revolving nature of the facility.

Table of Contents

(e) Amounts exclude the license fees that will be paid in accordance with the Televisa PLA and the amended Venevision PLA.

Our tax liability for uncertain tax positions as of December 31, 2014 is $18.1 million, including $3.6 million of accrued interest and penalties. Until formal resolutions are reached between us and the tax authorities, the timing and amount of a possible settlement for uncertain tax benefits is not determinable. Therefore, the obligation is not included in the table of major contractual obligations above. See Note 14 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

As of March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, we do not have any off-balance sheet transactions, arrangements or obligations (including contingent obligations) that would have a material effect on our results of operations.

Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

We are exposed to fluctuations in interest rates. Our primary interest rate exposure results from short-term interest rates applicable to our variable interest rate loans. To partially mitigate this risk, we have entered into interest rate swap contracts. As of March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, we had approximately $2.0 billion in principal amount in variable interest rate loans outstanding in which our exposure to variable interest rates is not limited by interest rate swap contracts. As of both March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, a hypothetical change of 10% in the floating interest rate that we receive would result in a change to interest expense of less than approximately $0.1 million on pre-tax earnings and pre-tax cash flows over a one-year period related to the borrowings in excess of the hedged contracts. See “—Debt and Financing Transactions—Interest Rate Swaps.”

Critical Accounting Policies

Our discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based on our consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The preparation of these consolidated financial statements require us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Certain of our accounting policies require the application of significant judgment by management in selecting the appropriate assumptions for calculating financial estimates. These estimates, assumptions and judgments are based on our historical experience, terms of existing contracts, our evaluation of trends in the industry, information provided by our customers and suppliers/partners and information available from other outside sources, as appropriate. However, they are subject to an inherent degree of uncertainty. As a result, our actual results in these areas may differ significantly from these estimates. We believe that the following critical accounting policies are critical to an understanding of our financial condition and results of operations and require the most significant judgments and estimates used in the preparation of our consolidated financial statements and changes in these judgments and estimates may impact future results of operations and financial condition.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is comprised of gross revenues from the Media Networks and Radio segments, including advertising revenue, subscriber fees, content licensing revenue, sales commissions on national advertising aired on Univision and UniMás affiliated television stations, less agency commissions and volume and prompt payment discounts. Media Networks television and Radio station advertising revenues are recognized when advertising spots are aired and performance guarantees, if any, are achieved. The achievement of performance guarantees is based on audience ratings from an independent research company. Subscriber fees received from cable and satellite MVPDs are recognized as revenue in the period that services are provided. The digital platform recognizes revenue primarily from video and display advertising, subscriber fees where digital content is provided on an authenticated basis, digital content licensing and sponsorship advertisement revenue. Video and display advertising revenue is recognized as “impressions” are delivered and sponsorship revenue is recognized ratably over the contract period and as performance guarantees, if any, are achieved. “Impressions” are defined as the number of times that an advertisement appears in pages viewed by users of our Internet properties. We view the licensing of digital content as a separate earnings process and content licensing revenue is recognized when the content is delivered, all related obligations have been satisfied and all other revenue recognition criteria have been met. All revenue is recognized only when collection of the resulting receivable is reasonably assured.

We have certain contractual commitments, with Televisa and others, to provide a future annual guaranteed amount of advertising and promotion time. The obligation associated with each of these commitments was recorded as deferred revenue at an amount equal to the fair value of the advertising and promotion time as of the date of the agreements providing for these commitments. Deferred revenue is earned and revenue is recognized as the related advertising and promotion time is provided. For the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, we recognized revenue of $15.2 million and $15.0 million, respectively, related to these commitments. Our deferred revenue, which is primarily related to the commitments with Televisa, resulted in revenue of $60.1 million, $67.8 million and $83.7 million respectively, for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Pursuant to the Televisa PLA, we will have the right, on an annual basis, to reduce the minimum amount of advertising we have to provide to Televisa by up to 20% for our use to sell advertising or satisfy ratings guarantees to certain advertisers. See Note 8 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and Note 6 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Accounting for Goodwill, Other Intangibles and Long-Lived Assets

Goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite lives are tested annually for impairment on October 1 or more frequently if circumstances indicate a possible impairment exists.

We have the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether it is necessary to perform the two-step quantitative goodwill impairment test. If the qualitative assessment determines that it is more likely than not that the fair value of the segment is more than its carrying amount, then we conclude that goodwill is not impaired. If we do not choose to perform the qualitative assessment, or if the qualitative assessment determines that it is more likely than not that the fair value of the segment is less than its carrying amount, then we proceed to the first step of the two-step quantitative goodwill impairment test.

If a quantitative test is performed for goodwill, the estimated fair value of a segment is compared to its carrying value, including goodwill (the “Step 1 Test”). In the Step 1 Test, we estimate the fair value of our segments using a combination of discounted cash flows and market-based valuation methodologies. Developing estimates of fair value requires significant judgments, including making assumptions about appropriate discount rates, perpetual growth rates, relevant comparable market multiples and the amount and timing of expected future cash flows. The cash flows employed in the valuation analysis are based on our best estimates considering current marketplace factors and risks as well as assumptions of growth rates in future years. The fair value of our segments is classified as a Level 3 measurement. There is no assurance that actual results in the future will approximate these forecasts. If the calculated fair value is less than the current carrying value, impairment of the segment goodwill may exist.

When the Step 1 Test indicates potential impairment, a second test is required to measure the impairment loss (the “Step 2 Test”). In the Step 2 Test, we will calculate an implied fair value of goodwill for the segment. The implied fair value of goodwill is determined in a manner similar to how goodwill is calculated in a business combination, where the fair value of the segment is allocated to all of the assets and liabilities of the segment with any residual value being allocated to goodwill. If the implied fair value of goodwill is less than the carrying value of goodwill assigned to the segment, the excess amount is recorded as an impairment charge. An impairment charge cannot exceed the carrying value of goodwill assigned to a segment, but may indicate that certain long-lived and intangible assets associated with the segment may require additional impairment testing.

If a qualitative assessment is performed for goodwill, we consider relevant events and circumstances that could affect a segment's fair value. Considerations may include macroeconomic conditions, industry and market considerations, cost factors, overall financial performance, and entity-specific events, business plans, and strategy. We consider the same key assumptions that would have been used in a quantitative test. We consider the totality of these events, in the context of the segment, and determine if it is more likely than not that the fair value of the segment is less than its carrying amount.

We also have indefinite-lived intangible assets, such as trade names and television and radio broadcast licenses. We have the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that an indefinite-lived intangible asset is impaired as a basis for determining whether it is necessary to perform the quantitative impairment test.

If the qualitative assessment determines that it is more likely than not that the fair value of the intangible asset is more than its carrying amount, then we conclude that the intangible asset is not impaired. If we do not choose to perform the qualitative assessment, or if the qualitative assessment determines that it is more likely than not that the fair value of the intangible asset is less than its carrying amount, then we calculate the fair value of the intangible asset and compare it to the corresponding carrying value. If the carrying value of the indefinite-lived intangible asset exceeds its fair value, an impairment loss is recognized for the excess carrying value over the fair value.

If a quantitative test is performed, we will calculate the fair value of the intangible assets. The fair value of the television and radio broadcast licenses is determined using the direct valuation method, for which the key assumptions are market revenue growth rates, market share, profit margin, duration and profile of the build-up period, estimated start-up capital costs and losses incurred during the build-up period, the risk-adjusted discount rate and terminal values. For trade names, we assess recoverability by utilizing the relief from royalty method to determine the estimated fair value. Key assumptions used in this model include discount rates, royalty rates, growth rates, sales projections and terminal value rates. The fair value of the intangible assets is classified as a Level 3 measurement. When a qualitative test is performed, we consider the same key assumptions that would have been used in a quantitative test to determine if these factors would negatively affect the fair value of the intangible assets.

Univision Network and UniMás network programming is broadcast on our television stations. FCC broadcast licenses associated with the Univision Network and UniMás stations are tested for impairment at their respective network level. Broadcast licenses for television stations that are not dependent on network programming are tested for impairment at the local market level. Radio broadcast licenses are tested for impairment at the local market level.

Long-lived assets, such as property and equipment, intangible assets with definite lives and program right prepayments are reviewed for impairment annually or whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to its estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its estimated undiscounted future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized by the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset.

Program and Sports Rights for Television Broadcast

Televisa and Venevision provide our two broadcast television networks ( Univision and UniMás ) and nine of our cable offerings ( Galavisión , De Película , De Película Clásico , Bandamax , Ritmoson , Telehit , Univision )

tnovelas, Univision Deportes and ForoTV) with a substantial amount of programming. Effective December 20, 2010, Televisa made a substantial investment in our business and entered into a revised program license agreement with Televisa, amending the program license agreement then in effect. The 2011 Televisa PLA, the Televisa PLA and all other agreements with Televisa are related party transactions following December 20, 2010. See Note 8 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and Note 6 to our unaudited consolidated financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2015 included elsewhere in this prospectus. In December 2014, we entered into a binding term sheet to, among other things, amend the Venevision PLA to eliminate Venevision's obligation to provide a minimum number of hours of programming per year.

We acquire rights to programming to exhibit on our broadcast and cable networks. Costs incurred to acquire television programs are capitalized when (i) the cost of the programming is reasonably determined, (ii) the programming has been accepted in accordance with the terms of the agreement, (iii) the programming is available for its first showing or telecast and (iv) the license period has commenced. Costs incurred in connection with the production of or purchase of rights to programs that are available and scheduled to be broadcast within one year are classified as current assets, while costs of those programs to be broadcast beyond a one-year period are considered non-current. Program rights and prepayments on our balance sheet are subject to regular recoverability assessments.

The costs of programming rights for television shows, novelas and movies licensed under programming agreements are capitalized and classified as programming prepayments if the rights payments are made before the related economic benefit has been received. Program rights for television shows and movies are amortized over the program's life, which is the period in which an economic benefit is expected to be generated, based on the estimated relative value of each broadcast of the program over the program's life. Program costs are charged to operating expense as the programs are broadcast.

The costs of programming rights licensed under multi-year sports programming agreements are capitalized and classified as programming prepayments if the rights payments are made before the related economic benefit has been received. Program rights for multi-year sports programming arrangements are amortized over the license period based on the ratio of current-period direct revenues to estimated remaining total direct revenues over the remaining contract period. Program costs are charged to operating expense as the programs are broadcast.

The accounting for program rights and prepayments requires judgment, particularly in the process of estimating the revenues to be earned over the life of the contract and total costs to be incurred ("ultimate revenues"). These judgments are used in determining the amortization of, and any necessary impairment of, capitalized costs. Estimated revenues are based on factors such as historical performance of similar programs, actual and forecasted ratings and the genre of the program. Such measurements are classified as Level 3 within the fair value hierarchy as key inputs used to value program and sports rights include ratings and undiscounted cash flows. If planned usage patterns or estimated relative values by year were to change significantly, amortization of our rights costs may be accelerated or slowed. See further discussion regarding the review of program rights prepayments for impairment above in "—Accounting for Goodwill, Other Intangibles and Long-Lived Assets."

Share-Based Compensation

Compensation expense relating to share-based payments is recognized in earnings using a fair-value measurement method. We use the straight-line attribution method of recognizing compensation expense over the vesting period. The estimated fair value of employee awards is expensed on a straight-line basis over the period from grant date to remaining requisite service period which is generally the vesting period. The fair value of each new stock option award is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes-Merton option-pricing model. Restricted stock units classified as liability awards are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period until vested. The fair value of equity units awarded to non-employees, including units issued under our consulting arrangement, is estimated as the units vest using a Monte Carlo simulation analysis.

Income taxes

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. Valuation allowances are established when management determines that it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax asset will not be realized. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. We recognize the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained. Recognized income tax positions are measured at the largest amount that is greater than 50% likely of being realized. Changes in recognition or measurement are reflected in the period in which the change in judgment occurs. We recognize interest and penalties, if any, related to uncertain income tax positions in income tax expense. There is considerable judgment involved in assessing whether deferred tax assets will be realized and in determining whether positions taken on our tax returns are more likely than not of being sustained.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2013, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) 2013-04, which amended Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 405, Liabilities. The amendments provide guidance for the recognition, measurement, and disclosure of obligations resulting from joint and several liability arrangements for which the total amount of the obligation (within the scope of this guidance) is fixed at the reporting date. Examples of obligations within the scope of ASU 2013-04 include debt arrangements, other contractual obligations, and settled litigation and judicial rulings. We adopted ASU 2013-04 during the first quarter of 2014. The adoption of ASU 2013-04 did not have a significant impact on our consolidated financial statements or disclosures.

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (ASC 606). The amendments provide guidance to clarify the principles for recognizing revenue and to develop a common revenue standard for U.S. GAAP and International Financial Reporting Standards. For public entities, the amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2016, including interim periods within that reporting period. The FASB has proposed a one year delay of ASU 2014-09 implementation. We are currently evaluating the impact ASU 2014-09 will have on our consolidated financial statements and disclosures.

BUSINESS

Overview

Univision is the leading media company serving Hispanic America. We produce and deliver content across multiple media platforms to inform, entertain, and empower Hispanic America. We have an over 50 year multi-generational relationship with our audience and are the most recognized and trusted brand in Hispanic America. We earned the highest brand equity score among U.S. media brands in a brand equity research study conducted by Burke in 2013. We reach over 49 million unduplicated media consumers monthly and our commitment to high-quality, culturally-relevant programming combined with our multi-platform media properties has enabled us to become the #1 destination for entertainment, sports, and news among U.S. Hispanics. Our flagship network, Univision Network, has been the most-watched U.S. Spanish-language broadcast network since its ratings were first measured by Nielsen in 1992. We have a strategic relationship with Televisa, the largest media company in the Spanish-speaking world and a top programming producer, for exclusive, long-term access to its premium entertainment and sports content in the U.S.

We serve a young, digitally savvy and socially engaged community. U.S. Hispanics are the youngest demographic as of 2012, have experienced the largest growth as of 2012 and have rapidly growing buying power as of February 2014. Marketers are increasingly targeting Hispanic America and its expanding economic, cultural and political influence. We own the leading and growing portfolio of Spanish-language media platforms in the U.S. across broadcast and cable television, digital and radio, enhancing our value to both our distribution and marketing partners as the gateway to Hispanic America. Our local television and radio stations are among the leading stations in their markets, regardless of language, and provide us with a unique ability to connect with our audiences and target advertisers at the local level. Our “must-see” content coupled with our ownership of local television stations allows us to maximize subscription fees from MVPDs, and to benefit from the largest broadcast spectrum portfolio of any broadcaster in the U.S. as measured by MHz-Pops according to data from BIA/Kelsey. We believe we are well-positioned for growth and have the opportunity to continue to expand our audience and to monetize our attractive audience demographics, leading content across multiple platforms and spectrum assets.

Hispanic America continues to be a highly attractive audience demographic, exhibiting strong growth and economic and political influence in the U.S., representing:

- 57 million people as of December 2014, growing to an estimated 77 million by 2030;
- $1.3 trillion of buying power in 2014, projected to grow to $1.7 trillion by 2019;
- 40% of projected new U.S. household formation from 2015 to 2025;
- approximately 75% of expected U.S. employment growth from 2020 to 2034;
- the youngest demographic in the U.S. with 60% of the U.S. Hispanic population being 34 or younger as of June 2012; and
- a registered voter base of 15.7 million U.S. Hispanics, which is approximately 10% of the total voter base as of March 2015, up 14% from 2012 as compared to a 3% increase for non-Hispanic voters over the same period.

We operate our business through two segments: Media Networks and Radio

- Media Networks: Our principal segment is Media Networks, which includes our broadcast and cable networks, local television stations, and digital and mobile properties. We operate two broadcast television networks. Univision Network is the most-watched U.S. Spanish-language broadcast television network, available in approximately 94% of U.S. Hispanic television households. UniMás is among the leading Spanish-language broadcast television networks. In addition, we operate nine cable networks, including Galavisión, the most-watched U.S. Spanish-language cable network, and Univision Deportes, the most-watched Spanish-language sports cable network. We own and operate 60 local television stations, including stations located in the largest markets in the U.S., which represent the largest number of owned and operated local television stations among the major U.S. broadcast networks. In addition, we provide programming to 74 broadcast network station affiliates. Our digital properties include online and mobile websites, which generate, on average, 540 million page views per month. Univision.com is our flagship digital property and is the #1 most visited Spanish-language website among U.S. Hispanics. UVideos is our bilingual digital video network providing on-demand delivery of our programming across multiple devices. Our Media Networks segment accounted for approximately 90% of our revenues in 2014.

- Radio: We have the largest Spanish-language radio group in the U.S. and our stations are frequently ranked #1 regardless of language in many major markets. We own and operate 67 radio stations including stations in 16 of the top 25 DMAs. Our radio stations reach over 15 million listeners per week and cover approximately 75% of the U.S. Hispanic population. Our Radio segment also includes Uforia, a comprehensive digital music platform, which includes more than 65 live radio stations and a library of more than 20 million songs. Our Radio segment accounted for approximately 10% of our revenues in 2014.

We have a long standing strategic relationship with Televisa, which owns a significant equity interest in us. Under the Televisa PLA, we have exclusive long-term U.S. broadcast and digital rights (with limited exceptions) to Televisa's programming, including premium Spanish-language telenovelas, sports, sitcoms, reality series, news programming, and feature films. In 2014, Televisa produced over 94,000 hours of programming. Our long-term collaborative relationship with Televisa provides us with the opportunity to take advantage of the demands of our target demographic, and access to digital media, telenovelas and the broadcast of additional Mexican soccer league games. We utilize this programming to help establish new cable networks and digital platforms. Upon consummation of this offering, the term of the Televisa PLA will continue until the later of 2030 or 7.5 years after a Televisa Sell-Down, unless certain change of control events happen, in which case the Televisa PLA will expire on the later of 2025 or 7.5 years after a Televisa Sell-Down. See "Summary—Our Relationship with Televisa."

We are led by a seasoned executive management team with deep industry knowledge. Mr. Falco has served as our President and Chief Executive Officer since 2011. Under Mr. Falco's leadership, we have fortified our unique relationship with Hispanic America, expanded our portfolio of cable networks and built our digital and mobile platforms. We have grown our OIBDA (as further described in "Summary—Summary Historical Financial and Other Data") by approximately 30% since 2011 and maintained a stable cost structure enabling us to generate free cash flow and reinvest in our business. Under our management team and through our strategic relationship with Televisa, we have continued our transformation from a single broadcast network into the leading media company serving Hispanic America.

We generate revenue from advertising on our media networks and radio stations as well as subscription fees, which include retransmission and affiliate fees, paid by our distribution partners. We expect our advertising revenue growth to continue to outperform our English-language media peers and our recurring subscription fees to make up an increasingly larger percentage of our total revenue. For the years ended December 31, 2012, 2013, and 2014 we generated revenue of $2.4 billion, $2.6 billion and $2.9 billion; OIBDA of $0.9 billion, $1.1 billion, and $1.2 billion; Levered Free Cash Flow (as defined in "Summary—Summary Historical Financial and Other Data") of $69.7 million, $(92.4) million and $335.6 million; and a net loss of $14.4 million, net income of $216.0 million, and net income of $0.9 million, respectively. For the three months ended March 31, 2015, we generated revenue of $624.7 million, OIBDA of $266.5 million, Levered Free Cash Flow of $90.4 million and a net loss of $142.4 million.

The Hispanic America Market Opportunity

Our market opportunity is driven by highly attractive trends within Hispanic America and the power of “must-see” content in today’s media landscape.

- Hispanic population growth and increased buying power.

There are more than 57 million U.S. Hispanics comprising more than 17% of the total U.S. population. U.S. Hispanics have experienced the largest growth of any group in the U.S. in recent years, accounting for more than half of the growth of the total population from 2010 to 2015. By 2030, it is estimated that there will be over 77 million U.S. Hispanics, representing nearly 22% of the total U.S. population. In addition, the estimated buying power of U.S. Hispanics is projected to increase from $1.3 trillion in 2014 to $1.7 trillion by 2019.

- U.S. Hispanics’ preference for Spanish-language content.

Spanish is the primary language in the homes of most U.S. Hispanics and the number of U.S. Hispanics who speak Spanish in the home is projected to increase from 37 million in 2014 to 55 million by 2034. U.S. Hispanics speaking Spanish in the home are estimated to comprise approximately 65% of the U.S. Hispanic population by 2034. U.S. Hispanics exhibit a strong preference to watch television in their native language. Between 2001 and 2013, the percentage of Spanish-speaking households consuming Spanish-language television rose from 65% to 70%. Over the same period, the percentage of bilingual U.S. Hispanic households consuming Spanish-language television also increased from 36% to 46%. On account of these trends, we believe advertisers and media distributors will increasingly seek to reach U.S. Hispanics through Spanish-language media platforms.

- Attractive advertising market dynamics of Hispanic America.

We believe Hispanic America is an attractive demographic for advertisers as a result of the growing population and increased buying power of U.S. Hispanics and that advertisers will continue to increase the amount they spend on Spanish-language advertising targeting U.S. Hispanic consumers. Based on a 2014 Nielsen brand effectiveness study, ads on Spanish-language broadcasts had a higher brand likability score among U.S. Hispanics than ads for the same brand on English-language broadcasts. In addition, the growing size and importance of the U.S. Hispanic voting base, representing approximately 10% of the total voter base as of March 2015, up 14% from 2012 as compared to a 3% increase for non-Hispanic voters over the same period, should result in increased spending on political/advocacy advertising targeted at Hispanic America. While U.S. Hispanic households represented approximately 10% of the total U.S. disposable income, spending in Spanish-language media was only approximately 5% of total advertising in 2014 based on Kantar Media Intelligence. Given the market dynamics of this audience, we believe advertisers will allocate a higher proportion of their advertising dollars targeting Hispanic America as they gain a better understanding of the importance and influence of this audience.

- Hispanic pay-TV penetration growth.

U.S. Hispanic pay-TV subscribers are expected to continue to grow significantly, driven by the rapid growth in U.S. Hispanic households and historic trends of pay-TV adoption among U.S. Hispanics. In fact, U.S. Hispanic pay-TV subscribers increased nearly 25% from 2008 to 2014, more than five times greater than the increase in overall U.S. pay-TV subscribers during the same period. This growth also significantly outpaced the U.S. Hispanic television household growth, signaling an increase in demand for pay-TV subscriptions among Hispanic households. As of 2014, 83% of U.S. Hispanic households were pay-TV subscribers. We believe Hispanic pay-TV penetration growth will continue to drive increasing subscription fees for Spanish-language media networks from MVPDs.

- Favorable media industry dynamics, subscription fee growth and media consumption trends.

We believe “must-see” content delivered at scale is particularly important in today’s fragmented media environment. Content providers delivering large and loyal audiences who prefer live “event” viewing have the ability to generate increased demand and drive growth in advertising revenue and subscription fees (including retransmission and affiliate fees) from MVPDs. Over the next few years, retransmission revenues for the top four English-language broadcast networks are projected to grow on a percentage basis in the low twenties annually and affiliate fees for the top cable networks are projected to grow on a percentage basis in the high single digits annually. We believe that networks with “must-see” content should capture a disproportionate share of the projected increases in subscription fees.

Media consumption trends are shifting as audiences use media across multiple platforms. Content providers are responding by making their content more broadly available on digital platforms, particularly targeting the millennial audiences who are increasingly seeking to consume content online via smartphones and tablets. The delivery of content on multiple platforms continues to be particularly attractive to Hispanic America. U.S. Hispanics are nearly 10 years younger than the national average of non-Hispanics, they are highly connected (with over 80% owning a smartphone which is higher than the rate among the overall U.S. population) and technologically proficient (as reflected by the higher per user rate of consumption of digital video among U.S. Hispanics as compared to the overall U.S. population). Additionally, U.S. Hispanics are twice as likely to share information via social media as non-Hispanics. We believe that established content providers delivering media across multiple platforms are well-positioned to benefit from these shifting media consumption trends, particularly with respect to younger consumers.

Our Competitive Strengths

- Trusted brand that fosters unique and deep relationship with the Hispanic audience.

We have an over 50 year multi-generational relationship with Hispanic America. We earned the highest brand equity score among U.S. media brands in a brand equity research study conducted by Burke in 2013 and our score ranked us among the top-tier global brands. We also have the strongest brand likeability for Hispanic audiences among the top five broadcast networks and we have a 55% share of U.S. Spanish-language viewing across the top five broadcast networks. Additionally, Univision has 17 of the top 20 primetime programs across both the U.S. Spanish-speaking and bilingual U.S. Hispanic viewing audiences for the current television season. We believe the strength of our brand combined with our “must-see” Spanish and English-language content enables us to sustain our leading position and offer the platform of choice for marketers seeking to connect with Hispanic America. Our brand and our large footprint of owned and operated local television and radio stations also enable us to inform, empower and serve as a vital resource for important civic, cultural and political information in the national and local communities that we serve. We also work with community-based organizations, government agencies and corporate sponsors to empower U.S. Hispanics and provide access to vital information and resources. From citizenship and voter registration to education, health and personal finance, we support causes that matter to Hispanic America. The effectiveness of our brand has been instrumental in enabling us to launch our media brand extensions across multiple platforms, as well as new products, services and events. In 2014, we enrolled over 3.4 million consumers to our branded products and services that are available in more than 70,000 retail outlets and over 4.6 million people attended our consumer and empowerment events.

- Leader in Hispanic media with extensive multi-platform distribution.

We are the leading media company serving Hispanic America and we align our television, radio and digital presence to deliver a Univision branded experience across multiple platforms. Our total unduplicated average monthly audience across our television, radio and digital platforms grew 11% from 2013 to 2014 and we reached over 49 million unduplicated media consumers monthly in the first quarter of 2015. Our audience and multi-platform distribution network position us as the premier gateway to Hispanic America for advertisers and media distributors. Univision Network is the most-watched Spanish-language broadcast television network in the U.S., consistently ranked first among U.S. Hispanic viewers. Additionally, our average primetime television viewer is 40 years old as compared to an average age of 54 for the top four English-language broadcast networks. We own the leading U.S. Spanish-language general entertainment cable network Galavisión, which is available in approximately 68 million households, and we successfully launched our sports network, Univision Deportes. We have long operated the largest Spanish-language television station group in the U.S. with 60 owned and operated local stations. Our owned and operated television stations ranked first among Spanish-language stations during total day in 16 of the 17 DMAs for which such data is available and in primetime viewing in 15 of 17 DMAs for which such data is available among adult viewers aged 18-49. We also own the #1 U.S. Hispanic online platform, which includes Univision.com, the most visited Spanish-language website among U.S. Hispanics. We averaged 24 million video views a month across our online, mobile and apps platforms. Among our social media platforms, we generated organic growth across Facebook, Instagram and Twitter of over 500% since the beginning of 2013. Our radio business has long been the #1 Hispanic radio network in the U.S. with 62 stations in 16 of the top 25 DMAs and we promote key programming events on our other platforms to our radio audience. Our advertising sales strategy is focused on offering advertising solutions across our local TV stations, radio stations and online and mobile websites, allowing us to deliver more effective and integrated solutions to our audiences and advertising partners.

- Access to highly differentiated content with a low risk and scalable cost structure.

Our strategic relationship with Televisa gives us exclusive long-term U.S. broadcast and digital rights (with limited exceptions) to Televisa's programming, including premium Spanish-language telenovelas, sports, sitcoms, reality series, news programming, and feature films. This content is critical to our ability to provide "must-see" programming and results in 91% of our audience consuming our content live as compared to 65% of the audience of the top four English-language broadcast networks. Additionally, 96% of our audience does not change channels during commercial breaks as compared to 81% of the audience for the top four English-language broadcast networks. The Televisa PLA also provides important predictability on our content costs and creates a scalable cost structure as we pay Televisa a fee based on a percentage of our revenue generated by our Spanish-language media networks business. We believe the Televisa PLA reduces the risks associated with procuring and developing premium content, since it limits our failure costs as we are able to select popular content previously aired in Mexico and Latin America. We can also cease airing unsuccessful programs without paying incrementally for unused episodes. Under the Televisa PLA, we can also utilize this programming to help launch new cable networks and digital platforms.

- Well-positioned to benefit from media industry trends.

We believe the combination of our exclusive, "must-see" content delivered across all of our media platforms to our audience anytime and anywhere and our track record of innovation and investment, positions us to take advantage of prevailing media industry trends. Our strong brand equity and loyal audience allows us to successfully launch new products and introduce emerging platforms. We have been successful in obtaining significant distribution for the recently launched Univision Deportes and UVideos as well as our English-language cable networks El Rey and Fusion, which have been developed through our strategic relationships with filmmaker Robert Rodriguez and Disney, respectively. Our integrated, cross-platform solutions allow advertisers to reach U.S. Hispanics at scale and on all devices. Our strong relationships with our distribution partners enable us to expand our distribution footprint and drive increased subscription revenues. Ultimately, we believe that we are well-positioned to continue to capture a significant share of the economic value chain, including subscription fees, revenues from digital properties and other emerging channels.

- Attractive and resilient business model with compelling long-term cash flow generation.

We have a proven track record of driving revenue growth while maintaining attractive operating margins and generating significant cash flow. Our revenue growth coupled with our focus on operational efficiency has provided us with strong cash flows that have allowed us to continue to invest and drive future growth. Our television ratings have historically remained strong relative to the market, our advertising revenues have continued to increase and our business has demonstrated resilience throughout recent economic cycles. We anticipate that our ratings and audience will increase our recurring subscription revenues paid to us by MVPDs resulting in an increased proportion of our revenue governed by long-term distribution contracts, which will positively impact our profitability and improve our visibility into future revenue. We have also maintained a stable cost structure and our strategic relationship with Televisa has provided access to compelling content under a low-risk, scalable cost structure. Our cash flow potential is further enhanced because we have approximately $1.6 billion in net operating loss carry-forwards that provide for favorable tax attributes and a re-aligned balance sheet with lower borrowing costs as a result of repaying a portion of our outstanding debt with proceeds from this offering.

- Experienced management team with proven industry expertise.

Our President and Chief Executive Officer Randy Falco has led our company since 2011. Mr. Falco and his management team are highly experienced with deep industry knowledge. Under their leadership, we have fortified our brand with Hispanic America, expanded our portfolio of cable networks and built our digital and mobile platforms. Over the same period, we have expanded our total unduplicated average monthly media audience reach by 17% to over 49 million unduplicated media consumers monthly across our platforms as of March 2015. Since 2011, our management team has increased revenue and OIBDA by approximately 30% while maintaining a stable cost structure. At the local level, our management team has been focused on ensuring that we remain the “go-to” resource in Hispanic America. Under our management team and through our strategic relationship with Televisa, we have continued our transformation from a single broadcast network into the leading media company serving Hispanic America.

Our Growth Strategies

We believe we are well-positioned for growth and have an opportunity to continue to expand our audience and to monetize our attractive audience demographics, leading content across multiple platforms and our spectrum assets.

- Grow audience share and extend the reach of the Univision brand.

We believe we are well-positioned to grow our audience and the reach of our brands by strengthening the bond with our audience and expanding across platforms, languages and brands. We enhance our unique relationship with our audience by ensuring that we are the “go-to” resource anywhere and anytime for Hispanic America. We continue to develop new networks, expand access to our content across multiple platforms and utilize our local reach to offer branded products, services and events that extend beyond our traditional media outlets. We have launched specialized networks in the U.S. targeting specific audience preferences, including sports ( Univision Deportes ), soap operas ( Univision tlnovelas ), legacy entertainment ( Bandamax, Clasico ) and news ( ForoTV ), and have invested in strategic relationships to launch networks targeted at millennials seeking English-language content ( El Rey and Fusion ). We have also recently introduced several Univision branded products and services, including Univision Mobile , a service to provide affordable wireless plans and Univision Farmacia , a leading prescription drug discount program available at more than 49,000 retail outlets. In addition, we continue to expand our digital reach to include numerous mobile applications, digital streaming video services and internet music players and apps to deliver content to Hispanic America online and on-the-go.

- Increase recurring subscription revenue.

We believe we have a meaningful opportunity to capture increased subscription fees from MVPDs. Broadcasters are expected to experience growth in retransmission fees and we are well-positioned to capture an increased share of these growing fees. As we engage in the next iteration of retransmission fee negotiations with MVPDs, we are confident that we will negotiate increased fees because of our loyal audience, our “must-see” content, and our large number of owned and operated local stations and affiliates. Univision Network has 74 station affiliates in 40 markets across the U.S. We offer 24 programming hours daily to our affiliates, which we believe is significantly more than the top four English-language broadcast networks provide to their affiliates, enabling us to retain a higher percentage of the subscription fees that we negotiate on behalf of our local broadcast TV affiliates. We also believe that our differentiated portfolio of cable networks and increasing size of our cable network audience will enable us to capture growth in affiliate fees from MVPDs.

- Expand share of advertising market.

We have an opportunity to continue to improve the monetization of advertising across our media platforms. Revenue from media advertising targeting Hispanic America was over $8 billion in 2014, with leading brands having increased their advertising spend targeting this demographic. Growth of the population, buying power and political influence of Hispanic America are driving marketers to increase their focus on this demographic. We believe our brands offer a compelling way to reach Hispanic America in an effective and trusted manner. We deliver our advertisers a 73% unduplicated audience as compared to an average 10% unduplicated audience among the top four English-language broadcast networks and a 91% live viewing audience (as compared to a 65% live viewing audience, on average, for the top four English-language broadcast networks). In addition, the advertising time we air per hour is significantly lower than English-language broadcast networks, suggesting we deliver a less cluttered advertising experience. As a result, we believe we have an opportunity to sell more advertising inventory and increase our advertising pricing across all platforms. We continue to add new brand advertisers every year, reaching more than 495 brands across our national media networks in 2014. However, there are many more brands that have yet to do business with us and we believe we can continue to add more brands and improve advertising monetization across our media networks and platforms.

- Expand our content across digital and mobile products and platforms.

We continue to be focused on making our Media Networks and Radio content available virtually anywhere and anytime throughout the evolving media landscape. We leverage our existing content across our digital and mobile initiatives to continue to drive growth as audiences consume content and utilize services across an increasing number of platforms. We are focused on continuing to invest and enhance our digital and mobile distribution platforms, including online and mobile properties. Univision.com and UVideos are our key online and mobile distribution platforms and have driven our advertising revenue growth and established our brand online and on-the-go. We recently launched digital ventures La Fabrica, Variety Latino, and Flama and acquired The Root to expand on the offerings of our digital portfolio. We are investing significantly in mobile products and applications, the fastest growing platform for consuming content, particularly among our target audience, resulting in 58% growth in our mobile unique visitors across all of our digital properties from March 2014 to March 2015. Our digital distribution also includes subscription streaming services. We recently entered into an agreement with Sling TV that includes OTT multi-stream rights for live and Video-On-Demand content. We were one of the initial launch partners on Sling TV, demonstrating the “must-see” nature of our content. In addition, we also partnered with DirecTV as its anchor content supplier for its recently launched Spanish-language subscription video service, Yaveo. We expect additional third party streaming services to launch in the future and we believe that our content will be an important part of these offerings.

- Evaluate potential monetization of our spectrum assets.

We hold the most broadcast spectrum of any broadcaster in the U.S. (determined on a MHz-Pops basis) and we hold multiple licenses in most of the largest markets in the U.S. Spectrum is a strategic asset, which we believe has significant option value. With the success of the recent AWS-3 spectrum auction, which generated $45 billion of proceeds, the underlying value of our spectrum is substantial. We believe we have an opportunity to realize significant value from our spectrum assets without adversely affecting our existing networks or stations. As the Broadcast Incentive Auction approaches in 2016, we will consider participating in the auction and monetizing a portion of our spectrum assets. If we participate in the Broadcast Incentive Auction, we will work to ensure that our ability to operate our broadcast business will not be impacted. In most of our largest markets, we believe we can contribute a

Table of Contents

6 MHz channel to the auction and combine our Univision and UniMás networks on the other 6 MHz channel, creating a self-sufficient solution. Beyond the upcoming auction, we believe there are a number of additional opportunities to utilize our spectrum to generate significant value. These opportunities include broadcast delivery of mobile video, data, linear networks, and non-linear content direct to consumers or through relationships with our distribution partners and consumer product manufacturers.

Our Businesses

We operate our business through two segments, Media Networks and Radio. The following table sets forth our principal properties:

Media Networks

Broadcast Networks

Univision Network is the #1 Spanish-language broadcast television network in the U.S.

UniMás is a 24-hour general-interest Spanish-language broadcast network.

Cable Networks

Galavisión is the leading Spanish-language cable television network.

Univision Deportes is the most-watched Spanish-language sports network.

De Película is a 24-hour Spanish-language cable television network dedicated to movies.

De Película Clásico is a 24-hour Spanish-language cable television network dedicated to movies of the 1930s, 1940s, 1950s and 1960s.

Bandamax is a 24-hour Spanish-language cable television network dedicated to music.

Ritmoson is a 24-hour Spanish-language cable television network dedicated to music videos.

Telehit is a 24-hour Spanish-language cable television network dedicated to music and general-interest content for youth.

Univision tnovelas is a 24-hour Spanish-language cable television network dedicated to telenovelas.

ForoTV is a 24-hour Spanish-language cable television network dedicated to international news.

Local Stations

We own and operate 60 television stations in the U.S. and Puerto Rico, the largest Spanish-language television station group among the major U.S. broadcast networks.

Digital and Mobile

Univision.com is the #1 most visited Spanish-language website for U.S. Hispanics.

UVideos is our bilingual digital video network serving Hispanic America.

Flama is an English-language digital media network dedicated to general entertainment, including comedy, music, lifestyle, sports and documentaries.

The Root is a leading online news, opinion and culture destination for African-Americans.

Table of Contents

Strategic Investments

El Rey is a 24-hour English-language cable television network dedicated to general entertainment targeting young, adult, English-speaking Hispanic audiences.

Fusion is a 24-hour English-language news and lifestyle cable television network and digital network targeting young English-speaking Hispanics and their peers.

Radio

Univision Radio is the leading Hispanic radio group in the U.S.

Uforia is a digital music platform featuring multimedia music content.

Media Networks

Our principal segment is Media Networks, which includes our broadcast and cable television networks, local television stations, and digital and mobile properties.

Broadcast Networks

Univision Network is our flagship network and is the most-watched Spanish-language television network in the U.S., available in approximately 94% of all U.S. Hispanic television households. Univision Network programming primarily consists of entertainment, news and sports. Univision Network also features talent and content familiar to the U.S. Hispanic audience. Univision Network is consistently ranked first among all U.S. Hispanic viewers. Univision Network provides its affiliates with 24 hours per day of Spanish-language programming which includes novelas, reality series and competitions, daily national news shows, entertainment news shows and movies with a primetime schedule of substantially all first-run programming (i.e., no re-runs) throughout the year. On an average monthly basis, Univision Network was distributed to 94 million households during the 12 months ended March 31, 2015. Univision Network is available in all of our local television markets and is provided to all of our MVPD subscribers.

UniMás (formerly TeleFutura), a 24-hour, general-interest, Spanish-language broadcast network was launched in 2002 and is available in approximately 88% of all U.S. Hispanic television households. UniMás aims to bring a fresh perspective to Spanish-language television and its primetime schedule primarily consists of alternative television series (non-Mexican productions), marquee sports events and movie packages. During the current season, UniMás delivered more viewers aged 18-49 during primetime than the combined audience of Azteca America, Estrella TV and MundoFox. UniMás offers original Spanish-language movies, primetime Hollywood movies dubbed in Spanish, primetime game shows and sports, including Mexican First Division soccer league games. On an average monthly basis, UniMás was distributed to 69.8 million households during the 12 months ended March 31, 2015.

Cable Networks

In addition to our broadcast networks, we have nine cable networks, including Galavisión and Univision Deportes. Galavisión is the leading U.S. Spanish-language general entertainment cable television network. Galavisión is programmed for the modern U.S. Hispanic family with programming featuring reality shows, family dramas, comedies and docufictions. As of March 2015, it was available in approximately 68.2 million U.S. pay-TV households and more than 10 million, or approximately 85% of U.S. Hispanic pay-TV households. As of March 2015, Galavisión is available in approximately 38% more U.S. Hispanic homes than its nearest competitor.

Table of Contents

Univision Deportes is the most-watched U.S. Spanish-language sports cable television network. Univision Deportes is dedicated to live broadcasting, debating and analyzing sports. Its portfolio includes sports that we believe the U.S. Hispanic audience is passionate about, including soccer, Formula 1 and boxing. Univision Deportes obtains rights to major soccer tournaments including Gold Cup and the CONCACAF Champions League. As of March 2015, Univision Deportes was available in approximately 41.1 million U.S. pay-TV households and 7 million or approximately 56% of U.S. Hispanic pay-TV households.

Our other seven cable television offerings are De Película, De Película Clásico, Bandamax, Ritmoson, Telehit, Univision tlnovelas, and ForoTV. These additional cable networks provide a variety of content to balance out our portfolio of programming offerings and expand our reach and frequency of interaction with Hispanic America.

Local Television Stations

We own and operate 60 television stations in 26 DMAs, which are generally the largest markets in the U.S. Our stations comprise the largest number of owned local television stations among the major U.S. broadcast networks. As of March 31, 2015, our owned television stations consisted of 41 full-power and 19 low-power stations (full power stations operate at a higher power level and serve a larger geographic area than low power stations). We have a longstanding relationship with Entravision, a Spanish language media company, which is our largest local affiliate. Entravision provides us with certain operational services and support to six of our owned stations located in the Boston, Washington, Tampa, Orlando, Albuquerque and Denver DMAs pursuant to joint sales and marketing agreements. All but one of our full-power stations broadcast our programming, and most produce local news and other programming of local importance and cover special events. One of our full-power stations is a MyNetworkTV affiliate. 35 of our full-power stations are located in the top 15 DMAs in terms of number of U.S. Hispanic households. Our full-power stations include three television stations in Puerto Rico.

Our television stations are ranked first in total day and primetime viewing among Spanish-language stations among adult viewers aged 18-34 in 16 of 17 DMAs in which we own and operate stations and for which audience data is available. In total day viewing, our owned and operated television stations ranked first among all other broadcast stations in the market (Spanish and English-language) among adult viewers aged 18-34 and adult viewers aged 18-49 in Los Angeles, Houston, Dallas and Fresno.

Affiliates

In addition to our owned and operated stations, we provide programming to our broadcast network station affiliates. As of March 31, 2015, we had 24 full-power and 50 low-power broadcast network station affiliates in 40 markets and approximately 1,774 cable affiliate systems. Entravision is our largest local affiliate with 48 stations. Each broadcast network affiliation agreement (including the master affiliation agreements we have with Entravision, for certain Entravision stations) grants the affiliate the right to broadcast over the air the entire program schedule of Univision Network or UniMás Network. Each of our broadcast network affiliates has the right to preempt (i.e., to decline to broadcast at all or at the time scheduled by us), without our prior permission, any and all of our programming that it deems unsatisfactory, unsuitable or contrary to the public interest or to substitute programming it believes is of greater local or national importance. We may direct an affiliate to reschedule substituted programming. The broadcast network affiliation agreements generally provide that a percentage of all advertising time be retained by us to sell as network advertising and the remaining amount is allocated to the affiliate for local and national spot advertising sales. This allocation may be modified at our discretion. We also receive commission income equal to a percentage of national sales by our broadcast affiliates. We may, from time to time, enter into affiliation agreements with additional stations in new DMAs based upon the market's potential growth and opportunity for Spanish-language television.

We also have cable affiliates that enable us to reach communities that cannot support a broadcast affiliate because of the relatively small number of U.S. Hispanic television households. These cable affiliation agreements may cover an individual system operator or a multiple system operator. Our cable affiliation agreements are all non-exclusive, which give us the right to license all forms of distribution in cable markets. Cable affiliates generally receive our programming for a fee based on the number of subscribers.

Digital and Mobile Properties

We have digital properties including online and mobile websites and mobile applications and products. Our digital properties include Univision.com, the #1 most visited Spanish-language website among U.S. Hispanics for the last 11 years, which features comprehensive entertainment, news and information. In 2014, Univision.com generated over 27 million visits per month on average across desktop and mobile, which is more than seven times the number of visits generated by our closest U.S. Spanish-language competitor.

Our other digital properties include:

- UVideos, our bilingual digital video network providing on-demand delivery of our programming and available on connected devices across multiple platforms, including iOS, Android and Kindle Fire;
- Flama, our first online-only media network with original short form content, predominantly English-language based, targeting a general 15-to-34 year old audience interested in Latin culture;
- The Root, our leading online news, opinion and culture destination targeting African-Americans, which we acquired in May 2015 and which has reached an average of five million mobile unique users per month in 2015, according to comScore;
- online and mobile websites associated with our local television and radio stations; and
- Univision Partner Group, a specialized advertising and publisher network (“UPG”).

This collection of online and mobile sites and applications provides advertisers with turnkey marketing solutions to effectively extend their reach in targeting U.S. Hispanics. We are able to further extend the reach beyond the Univision properties through UPG. UPG provides advertisers seeking both a broad and targeted online and mobile U.S. Hispanic audience a network of third party controlled websites in addition to the Univision sites. During the three months ended March 31, 2015, our digital properties generated on average 540 million page views and 24 million video views per month. We receive advertising, distribution and sponsorship revenue from our digital properties and in connection with the third party sites accessed through the UPG network.

Strategic Investments

We also offer two additional cable networks through strategic relationships. Through a joint venture with Walt Disney Company’s ABC News, we launched Fusion, a 24-hour English-language news and lifestyle TV and digital network targeted at young English-speaking U.S. Hispanics and their peers in October 2013. Our most recent investments in Fusion have included amounts to enhance its digital presence.

Through a strategic relationship with maverick filmmaker Robert Rodriguez and FactoryMade Ventures, we invested in El Rey, a 24-hour English-language general entertainment cable network targeting young adult audiences in December 2013.

Radio

We own and operate 67 radio stations, including 62 stations in 16 of the top 25 U.S. Hispanic DMAs and own and operate five radio stations in Puerto Rico. Our stations cover approximately 75% of the U.S. Hispanic population. We program 57 individual or simulcast radio stations in the U.S. Most music formats are primarily variations of regional Mexican, Latin adult, tropical, reggaetón, tejano and contemporary music styles. In addition, we offer Uforia, a digital platform music application featuring multimedia music content, including 65 radio stations, videos, exclusive digital channels, and a custom radio offering with more than 20 million songs.

Ratings and Total Media Reach

As of December 26, 2005, Univision Network ratings became available on Nielsen's national ratings service, Nielsen Television Index ("NTI"), which provides television ratings for all of the major U.S. networks. NTI is based on the Nielsen National People Meter ("NPM") sample which is comprised of over 21,000 households and is subscribed to by broadcast networks, cable networks, syndicators, advertisers and advertising agencies nationwide. Effective August 27, 2007, the NPM sample became the sole sample for both English-language media and Spanish-language media. From this sample, Nielsen continues to measure Hispanic viewing, calling the new service NTI-H (Nielsen Television Index—Hispanic).

Television

During the last six years, Univision Network has consistently ranked first in primetime television among all Hispanic 18 to 49 year olds and has consistently had between 80% and 95% of the 20 most widely watched programs among all U.S. Hispanic television households according to Nielsen.

In the 2013-2014 season, 43% or more of all Hispanic viewers aged 18 to 34, and 47% of all Hispanic viewers aged 18 to 49 in the U.S. who watch television in primetime watch Spanish-language programs. The following table shows that our total combined networks' share was nearly twice that of all other Spanish-language networks combined.

During the last five years, our total Spanish-language share of primetime television among adults 18-49 has risen from 8.31% total share to 8.56% total share. Over the same period despite increased competition across Spanish-language networks, our share remained stable as compared to the English-language broadcast networks in general. In the 2013-2014 season, approximately 6% of the U.S. primetime television audience 18-49 watched our NTI-rated networks.

In addition, Univision Network had a higher rating than one or more of the top four English-language broadcast networks in primetime among viewers aged 18-34 every night during the first quarter of 2015, as compared to 74 nights in the first quarter of 2014. Univision Network also had a higher rating than one or more of the top four English-language broadcast networks in primetime among viewers aged 18-49 during 66 nights in the first quarter of 2015, as compared to 59 nights in the first quarter of 2014.

In addition, according to the February 2015 Nielsen Station Index:

- Among the 17 DMAs for which such data is available, our owned and operated stations ranked first in 16 of 17 DMAs among Spanish-language television stations in “total day;”
- Among the 17 DMAs for which such data is available, our owned and operated stations ranked first in four DMAs in “total day,” English or Spanish-language; and
- Among the 24 DMAs for which such data is available our affiliate stations ranked first in 21 DMAs among Spanish-language television stations in “total day.”

No audience data is available for two of our owned and operated stations and 14 affiliate stations.

Radio

Radio ratings are measured by Nielsen Audio (previously Arbitron), a marketing and research firm serving primarily the media industry and specializing in audience ratings-measurement for marketing to advertisers. Nielsen Audio measures radio station listening by market, in various day-parts and demographics, with data collected from areas throughout a given market. In 2007, Arbitron (now Nielsen Audio) began implementing a new electronic measurement system called Portable People Meter (“PPM”), which replaced the diary-based method that had been used historically in top markets. This methodology is available nationwide, including Houston, New York, Los Angeles and Miami-Fort Lauderdale. Audience trend data is now available on a weekly basis and ratings books are released on a monthly basis. The PPM rating system that was introduced in most of our radio markets, including New York, Los Angeles and Miami-Fort Lauderdale, was challenged by the PPM Coalition, which claimed that the PPM methodology undercounted and misrepresented the number and loyalty of minority radio listeners. In April 2010, the PPM Coalition and Arbitron (now Nielsen Audio) agreed on a plan that, when fully implemented over the next several years, we expect will address many of our concerns about the PPM system and deliver a more reliable ratings system for the radio industry. Because we believed the PPM ratings system did not accurately reflect our audience, we did not subscribe to the PPM ratings in 2009 and most of 2010 in the PPM-rated radio markets in which we operated to sell advertising time, except Houston. As a result of lack of ratings to use in negotiating advertising rates, advertising sales in 2009 and for most of 2010 in the PPM-rated radio markets in which we operated were adversely affected. In November 2010, we signed an agreement with Arbitron (now Nielsen Audio) to subscribe to the PPM ratings in 12 of our radio markets starting in December 2010 (in addition to our ongoing subscription to PPM in Houston which is accredited by the Media Rating Council).

While many of the improvements have been made, Nielsen Audio has not yet met accreditation standards in several of our radio markets and our ratings could decline as a result of sample quality. Our radio group is the leading Hispanic radio group in the U.S. with 62 radio stations in 16 of the top 25 U.S. Hispanic markets and our stations deliver over 15 million listeners every week, covering approximately 75% of the U.S. Hispanic population.

Digital

We use comScore to measure the number of visitors to our websites across desktop and mobile, Adobe Analytics to measure the number of page views and video views across our online, mobile and apps platforms and ShareThis to measure our followers on social media.

Univision.com is our flagship digital property and is the #1 most visited Spanish-language website among U.S. Hispanics. In 2014, Univision.com generated over 27 million visits per month on average across desktop and mobile, which is more than seven times the number of visits generated by our closest U.S. Spanish-language competitor. In addition, we averaged 24 million video views a month across our online, mobile and apps platforms and our digital properties generated, on average, 540 million page views per month. In May 2015, we acquired the online magazine The Root, which has reached an average of five million mobile unique users per month in 2015, according to comScore. Among our social media platforms, we generated organic growth across Facebook, Instagram and Twitter of over 500% since the beginning of 2013.

Total Media Reach

In the first quarter of 2015 our television platforms reached an average unduplicated monthly total television audience (“Television Reach”) of 41 million media consumers, our radio platforms reached an average unduplicated monthly total radio audience (“Radio Reach”) of 20 million media consumers and our digital platforms reached an average unduplicated monthly total digital audience (“Digital Reach”) of 15 million media consumers. Our “Total Media Reach” is defined as our average monthly total unduplicated reach across all our media platforms. Based on Experian Marketing Services’ “Fall 2014 Simmons Hispanic National Consumer Study, 12 Months” we estimate that on average our total Television Reach represented approximately 84% of our Total Media Reach. Therefore, we estimate that our Total Media Reach was 49 million unduplicated media consumers per month in the first quarter of 2015. Our Total Media Reach was approximately 42 million, 41 million, 43 million and 47 million for 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014, respectively. We also engage our audience through consumer and empowerment events and branded products and services. Although not included in our unduplicated audience measurement, 4.6 million people participated in our consumer and empowerment events in 2014 and we have enrolled over 3.4 million consumers to branded products and services that are available in more than 70,000 retail outlets.

The following chart shows Total Media Reach for our television, radio and digital platforms:

Advertising and Marketing

Our television and radio advertising revenues are derived from network advertising, national spot advertising and local advertising, and come from diverse industries, with advertising for food and beverages, personal care products, automobiles, other household goods and telephone services representing the majority of network advertising revenues. National spot advertising primarily represents time sold to advertisers that advertise in more than one DMA and is the means by which most new national and regional advertisers begin marketing. To a lesser degree, national spot advertising comes from advertisers wanting to enhance network advertising in a given market. Local advertising revenues are generated from both local merchants and service providers and regional and national businesses and advertising agencies located in a particular DMA. During the last three years, no single advertiser has accounted for more than 10% of our advertising revenues.

In some cases our local television and radio stations do not receive advertising revenues commensurate with their share of the local audience. We have addressed this by emphasizing a cross-platform marketing approach and continuing to educate local businesses on the importance of the Hispanic consumer in their markets. Across our local markets we have integrated our local sales teams to approach advertisers with a broad portfolio offering including television, radio and digital advertising opportunities. We believe this approach is simpler for advertisers and will help us generate increasing local advertising revenue.

Media Networks

Our television network and station marketing sales account executives are divided into three groups: network sales, multi-market sales and single market sales. The network sales force is responsible for accounts that advertise nationally. The multi-market sales force represents the owned-and-operated stations and broadcast affiliates and is responsible for accounts that buy in more than one market. The single market sales force represents the owned-and-operated stations and is responsible for accounts with large growth potential in a single market.

In addition, our television network and station marketing sales departments utilize research, including both ratings and demographic information, to negotiate sales contracts as well as target major national advertisers that are not purchasing advertising time or who are under-purchasing advertising time on Spanish-language television. We also market our products across our digital and mobile platforms, generating advertising revenues from top tier advertisers and data services in the U.S., and are represented by a cross platform sales force.

Radio

Our radio network and station marketing account executives are divided into three groups: network sales, multi-market sales and single market sales. The network sales force is responsible for accounts that advertise nationally. The multi-market sales force is responsible for accounts that buy in more than one market. The single market sales force is responsible for accounts with large growth potential in a single market. In addition, Univision Radio stations’ sales departments utilize research to negotiate sales contracts as well as target major local, regional, and national advertisers that are not purchasing advertising time or that are under-purchasing advertising time on Spanish-language and Hispanic-targeted radio stations. The owned-and-operated stations also derive sales from the sponsorship and organization of various special events.

Retail Direct

Our retail direct account executives represent our owned-and-operated television and radio stations and local interactive properties and develop and manage advertising sales from local, small and medium sized clients within a single market. These executives focus on new clients and sell packages across all of our local platforms.

Subscription

We negotiate with MVPDs pursuant to multi-year agreements that provide for retransmission and affiliate fees. We also negotiate the level of carriage that our broadcast and cable networks will receive, and if applicable, for annual rate increases.

Every three years, each of our operated television stations must elect, with respect to its retransmission by MVPDs within its DMA, either “must carry” status, pursuant to which the MVPD’s carriage of the station is mandatory, or “retransmission consent,” pursuant to which the station gives up its right to mandatory retransmission in order to negotiate consideration in return for consenting to retransmission. We elected the retransmission consent option in substantially all cases for the three-year periods beginning January 1, 2009, January 1, 2012 and January 1, 2015, and continued to pursue a systematic process of seeking monetary consideration for retransmission consent. Electing the retransmission consent option provides us with opportunities to capture increased subscription fees from distributors. We have subsequently reached agreements with MVPDs that, collectively, service substantially all pay-TV households. The multi-year agreements with these MVPDs have different expiration dates. Under certain conditions, we may renew these agreements prior to their expiration date.

We also negotiate retransmission consents on behalf of 74 affiliates in 40 markets across the U.S. We supply 24 hours of daily programming to our affiliates, which we believe is significantly more than the top four English-language broadcast networks provide their affiliates, enabling us to retain a higher percentage of the subscription fees that we negotiate on behalf of our local TV broadcast affiliates.

Carriage of our cable networks is generally determined by package, such as whether our cable networks are included in the more widely distributed, general entertainment packages or lesser-distributed, specialized packages such as Hispanic or Spanish-language targeted packages, sports packages and movie packages.

Licensing

We negotiate licensing agreements with OTT and video-on-demand services that include linear and on-demand entertainment, news and sports content from across our portfolio. These agreements provide rights for live and video-on-demand content from Univision Network, UniMás, Univision Deportes Network, Galavisión, El Rey, Bandamax, De Película, De Película Clásico, Telehit, tnovelas, ForoTV, as well as, in certain cases, Univision and UniMás broadcast stations nationwide. We recently entered into a licensing agreement with Sling TV that includes OTT multi-stream rights for live and Video-On-Demand content and we anticipate pursuing agreements with other OTT providers.

Under our license agreement with an affiliate of Televisa, we have granted Televisa the exclusive right for the term of the Televisa PLA, to broadcast in Mexico all Spanish-language programming produced by or for us (with limited exceptions) (the “Mexico License”). The terms for the Mexico License are generally reciprocal to those under the Televisa PLA, except, among other things, the only royalty payable by Televisa to us is a $17.3 million annual payment through December 31, 2025 for the rights to our programming that is produced for or broadcast on the UniMás network, and we only have the right to purchase advertising on Televisa channels at certain preferred rates to advertise our businesses. See “—Programming—Televisa.”

In connection with entering into the Mexico License, we engaged Televisa to act as our exclusive sales agent for the term of the Mexico License to sell or license worldwide outside of the U.S. and Mexico our programming originally produced in the Spanish language or with Spanish subtitles to the extent we have rights in the applicable territories and to the extent we choose to make such programming available to third parties in such territories (subject to limited exceptions). Televisa will receive a fee equal to 20% of gross receipts actually received from licensees and reimbursement of certain expenses. We have no obligation to pay a fee or reimburse expenses with respect to any direct broadcast by us of our programming or under certain non-exclusive worldwide arrangements we enter into for its programming. We have not recognized any revenue or expense related to this arrangement.

Programming

Our programming is a combination of licensed and original programming that includes primetime novelas, exclusive sports rights, award winning news programs, annual award shows, reality television, daily magazine shows and variety shows that are culturally relevant for our audience. The majority of our programming is provided through our strategic relationship with Televisa. Our relationship has allowed us historically to work closely with Televisa in developing and evaluating our programming schedule. Recently we have worked with Televisa to enable key novelas to have a high probability of success in our markets. We are working with their teams to monitor key talent pipeline planning as well as to develop storylines that are relevant for U.S. Hispanic audiences.

Televisa

Through the Televisa PLA, we have the exclusive right to broadcast in the U.S. all Spanish-language programming produced by or for them for which they have U.S. rights (with limited exceptions). In 2014, this represented over 94,000 hours of Spanish-language programming, including premium telenovelas, sports, sitcoms, reality series, news programming, and feature films. Upon consummation of this offering, the Televisa PLA will expire on the later of 2030 or 7.5 years after a Televisa Sell-Down, unless certain change of control events happen, in which case the Televisa PLA will expire on the later of 2025 or 7.5 years following a Televisa Sell-Down. The Televisa PLA provides our television and cable networks with access to programming that could fill a significant amount of our networks' daily schedules.

The Televisa PLA allows us long-term access to Televisa programming, the ability to choose Televisa programming based upon its success in Mexico and the ability to cease airing programs that prove to be unsuccessful in the U.S. and replace it with other Televisa programming without paying incrementally for the episodes that are not broadcast. This program availability and flexibility permits us to, effectively, pre-screen Televisa programming in Mexico and to later adjust our programming on all of our networks to best meet the tastes of our viewers.

Under the Televisa PLA, we have exclusive access to an extensive suite of U.S. Spanish-language broadcast rights, and, in addition, we have exclusive U.S. Spanish-language digital rights to Televisa's audiovisual programming (with limited exceptions), including the U.S. rights owned or controlled by Televisa to broadcast Mexican First Division soccer league games. We have the ability to use Televisa online, network and pay-television programming on our current and future Spanish-language television networks (including Univision, UniMás and Galavisión) and on current and future digital platforms (Univision.com, UVideos and Video on Demand). Televisa programming available to us under the Televisa PLA includes, among other things, all audiovisual programming produced by or for Televisa originally produced in the Spanish language or with Spanish subtitles subject to certain exceptions, including certain content produced for websites associated with magazines published by Televisa, certain rights for movies whose U.S. rights are controlled by an affiliate of Televisa, the right to distribute Televisa content by physical home video products (such as DVDs), and certain programs which are co-produced or acquired by Televisa. Televisa and its affiliates have agreed to certain obligations with respect to different types of co-produced and acquired programming ranging from assisting us in acquiring rights in such programming to, in the case of novelas, making all such co-produced and acquired programming that Televisa broadcasts in Mexico and that is originally produced in the Spanish language or with Spanish subtitles included as programming under the Televisa PLA (with limited exceptions). Under the Televisa PLA, we are allowed to sublicense English-language rights to the Televisa owned or controlled U.S. rights to Mexican First Division soccer league games and revenue received from licensing English-language Mexican soccer (including the rights obtained from Televisa) is subject to the royalty payable to Televisa under the Televisa PLA.

In addition, Televisa must use good faith efforts not to structure arrangements or agreements with respect to programs in a manner intended to cause such programs not to be available to us pursuant to the Televisa PLA.

In consideration for access to the programming of Televisa, we pay royalties to Televisa. Televisa receives royalties, based on 11.84% of substantially all of our Spanish-language media networks revenues through December 2017. Additionally, Televisa receives an incremental 2% in royalty payments on any such media networks revenues above a contractual revenue base of $1.66 billion. After December 2017, the royalty payments to Televisa will increase to 16.13%, and commencing later in 2018, the rate will further increase to 16.45% until the expiration of the Televisa PLA. Additionally, Televisa will receive an incremental 2.0% in royalty payments (with the revenue base decreasing to $1.63 billion with the second rate increase). In addition, pursuant to the Televisa PLA, we are committed to provide Televisa a specified minimum amount of advertising on certain of our media properties at no cost to Televisa. In 2014, we were obligated to provide approximately $73.5 million of such advertising to Televisa. This amount will increase for each year through the term by a factor that approximates the annual consumer price index. Pursuant to the Televisa PLA, we will have the right, on an annual basis to reduce the minimum amount of advertising we have to provide to Televisa by up to 20% for our use to sell advertising or satisfy ratings guarantees to certain advertisers. In addition, Televisa will have the right to use, without cost to Televisa and subject to limitations, a portion of the advertising time that we do not either sell to advertisers or use for our own purposes.

The obligations of Televisa and its affiliates have been guaranteed by Grupo Televisa S.A.B. Pursuant to its respective guarantee, Televisa has agreed to produce each year for our use at least 8,531 hours of programs, which will be of the quality of programs produced by Televisa during the calendar year 2010.

Other Programming

In addition to the content that we license from Televisa, we also produce original entertainment, sports and news programming. Our original programming is allocated across platforms and features talent and content familiar to our audience. Our original programming diversifies our portfolio of content and complements the programming that we receive from Televisa.

Entertainment

Our entertainment programming ranges from our early morning programming, such as Despierta America, to daytime entertainment news shows, such as El Gordo Y La Flaca and Sal y pimienta, to our primetime reality competition series, such as Nuestra Belleza Latina and La Banda, set to debut in September 2015. Additionally, we continue to invest in special events that engage our audience, including the Latin Grammy's, Premio Lo Nuestro and Premios Juventud. Additionally, our cable channels produce and co-produce reality shows, dramatic series and other programming. Our strategic investment in El Rey and Fusion also produce original programming. We also produce original content for our digital platform that supplements our television content for special events such as red-carpet exclusives and behind the scenes footage. Additionally, we produce original content for regular visitors to our sites that is not tied to any corresponding television content, such as entertainment news, horoscopes and slideshows.

Sports

We frequently obtain the rights to sports programming, including major soccer tournaments, such as the Gold Cup. We currently have the rights to broadcast the Gold Cup, CONCACAF Champions League games, U.S. Men's National Team soccer games and Formula 1 racing through at least 2022 and to broadcast Mexican Men's National Team soccer games through at least 2017. We also have the rights to the 2016 Centennial Copa America and the 2016 Copa Centroamericana. Under the Televisa PLA, we have the right to broadcast Mexican First Division soccer league games for which Televisa owns or controls the U.S. rights. We also produce sports discussion programs, such as Republica Deportivo on multiple broadcast cable networks and real-time clips from each soccer game for use by our digital platform. In addition, we create digitally-only best-of-videos, interviews and must-see plays from around the world. We have recently signed agreements with the MLS, NFL and NBA to produce digital-only content for those brands.

News

Our award-winning news division offers a blend of in-depth coverage of the issues that are important to U.S. Hispanics and more immediate U.S. national and local content that U.S. Hispanics rely on to stay informed and connected to their communities. Our in-depth coverage focuses on topics that impact U.S. Hispanic viewers including, but not limited to politics and immigration policy as well as topics that are loosely tied to our community empowerment platforms. Our news programming includes national programs such as the flagship Noticiero Univision, Primer Impacto, Al Punto and our local news programs servicing the largest top U.S. Hispanic DMAs. Our digital news content is generally unique to our digital platforms due in part to the real time nature of news. In addition to covering breaking news, we create content related to editorials, investigative journalism, data-driven projects and special features. We provide news content in both article and video formats and enhance our content using data, infographics and social media.

Spectrum

We hold the most broadcast spectrum of any broadcaster in the U.S. (determined on a MHz-Pops basis) and we hold multiple licenses in most of the largest markets in the U.S. Our spectrum holdings are a strategic asset, which we believe has significant option value. With the success of the recent AWS-3 spectrum auction, which generated $45 billion of proceeds, the underlying value of our spectrum is substantial. We believe we have an opportunity to realize significant value from our spectrum assets without adversely affecting our existing networks or stations. As the Broadcast Incentive Auction approaches in 2016, we will consider participating in the auction and monetizing a portion of our spectrum assets. If we participate in the Broadcast Incentive Auction, we will work to ensure that our ability to operate our broadcast business will not be adversely affected. In most of our largest markets, we believe we can contribute a 6 MHz channel to the auction and combine our Univision and UniMás networks on the other 6 MHz channel, creating a self-sufficient solution. Beyond the upcoming auction, we believe there are additional opportunities to utilize our spectrum to generate significant value. These opportunities include broadcast delivery of mobile video, data, linear networks, and non-linear content direct to consumers or through relationships with our distribution partners and consumer product manufacturers.

Competition

Our Media Networks business is highly competitive. Competition for advertising revenues is based on the size of the market that the particular medium can reach, the cost of such advertising and the effectiveness of such medium.

Our television business competes for viewers and revenues with other Spanish-language and English-language television stations and networks, including five English-language broadcast television networks (ABC, CBS, NBC, FOX, and CW) and four Spanish-language broadcast television networks (TEL, ETV, AZA and MFX) as well as 100+ daily-measured ad-supported cable networks. Many of these competitors are owned by companies much larger than us. Additionally, some English-language networks are producing Spanish-language programming and simulcasting certain programming in English and Spanish. Several MVPDs offer Spanish-language programming options as well. Our television affiliates located near the Mexican border also compete for viewers with television stations operated in Mexico, many of which are affiliated with a Televisa network and are owned by Televisa but outside of our exclusivity rights.

The television broadcasting industry is subject to competition from video-on-demand, DVD and Blu-ray players, other personal video systems and fragmentation of viewership driven by the ever expanding cable-network landscape. Additionally, consumers continue to change viewing habits, increasingly gravitating towards wireless devices (e.g., iPhones, iPads and Kindles), live streaming of short-form and long-form content from the Internet and online video services. Our broadcast, cable and digital networks compete with pay content providers such as Netflix, Amazon and Hulu and free content providers such as YouTube and Vine.

Our share of overall television audience has remained stable over the past five years. We attribute this to the growth of the U.S. Hispanic population, the quality of our programming and the quality and experience of our management. Telemundo, a subsidiary of NBC, a division of Comcast Corporation, is our largest television competitor that broadcasts Spanish-language television programming. In most of our DMAs, our affiliates compete for advertising dollars directly with a station owned by or affiliated with Telemundo, as well as with other Spanish-language and English-language stations.

Univision.com and other websites face various competitors, including websites such as Telemundo.com, Yahoo! en Español, MSN Latino, MaximumTV and ButacaTV and mobile applications, such as BuzzFeed and Vice, which feature Spanish-language digital content. We also compete for online advertising dollars with social media providers such as Facebook and Twitter, search engines such as Google, Yahoo! or Bing and other websites.

Our Radio business competes for audiences and advertising revenues with other radio stations of all formats. iHeart Media (formerly Clear Channel), the largest radio operator in the U.S., CBS Radio, Spanish Broadcasting System, Liberman Broadcasting and Entravision are our largest radio competitors that broadcast Spanish-language radio programming in several of our DMAs. Additionally, we face competition from English-language stations that offer programming targeting Hispanic audiences. iHeart Radio converted several stations to Hispanic targeted formats, and has established a Hispanic radio division creating its own iHeart Hispanic Radio Network as of 2014. Spanish Broadcasting Systems created a new Spanish-language network in 2013, called AIRE Radio Networks, to syndicate popular Hispanic content and personalities nationally and in markets where we compete. In addition, the radio broadcasting industry is subject to competition from (1) Sirius XM Satellite Radio and other satellite radio services; (2) audio programming by MVPDs and other digital audio providers and (3) streaming music businesses such as Spotify and Pandora.

Many of our competitors have more television and radio stations, more Internet platforms, greater resources (financial or otherwise) and broader relationships with advertisers than we do. Furthermore, because our English-language competitors are perceived to reach a broader audience than we do, they have been able to attract more advertisers and command higher advertising rates than we have.

We also compete for audience and revenues with other media, newspapers, magazines and other forms of entertainment and advertising.

The rules and policies of the FCC encourage increased competition among different electronic communications media. As a result of rapidly developing technology, we may experience increased competition from other free or pay systems by which information and entertainment are delivered to consumers, such as direct broadcast satellite and video dial tone services.

Employees

As of March 31, 2015, we employed approximately 3,778 full-time employees. Approximately 6.3% of these employees are represented by unions and are located in Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Bakersfield, New Jersey, New York and Puerto Rico. We have collective bargaining agreements covering the union employees with varying expiration dates through 2018. We are negotiating collective bargaining agreements, which have expired, at our New York television station, New York radio station, and our Chicago television station, which account for 1.1% of our full-time employees. Management believes that its relations with its non-union and union employees, as well as with the union representatives, are generally good.

The Miami owned facilities primarily house Univision Network and UniMás administration, operations (including uplink facilities), sales, production and news as well as Fusion operations. In addition, Galavisión operations occupy space in Univision Network's facilities. Our Miami television stations, WLTV and WAMI, occupy leased facilities. We broadcast our programs to our affiliates on three separate satellites from four transponders. In addition, we use a fifth transponder for news feeds.

We own or lease remote antenna space and microwave transmitter space near each of our owned-and-operated stations. Also, we lease space in public warehouses and storage facilities, as needed, near some of our owned-and-operated stations.

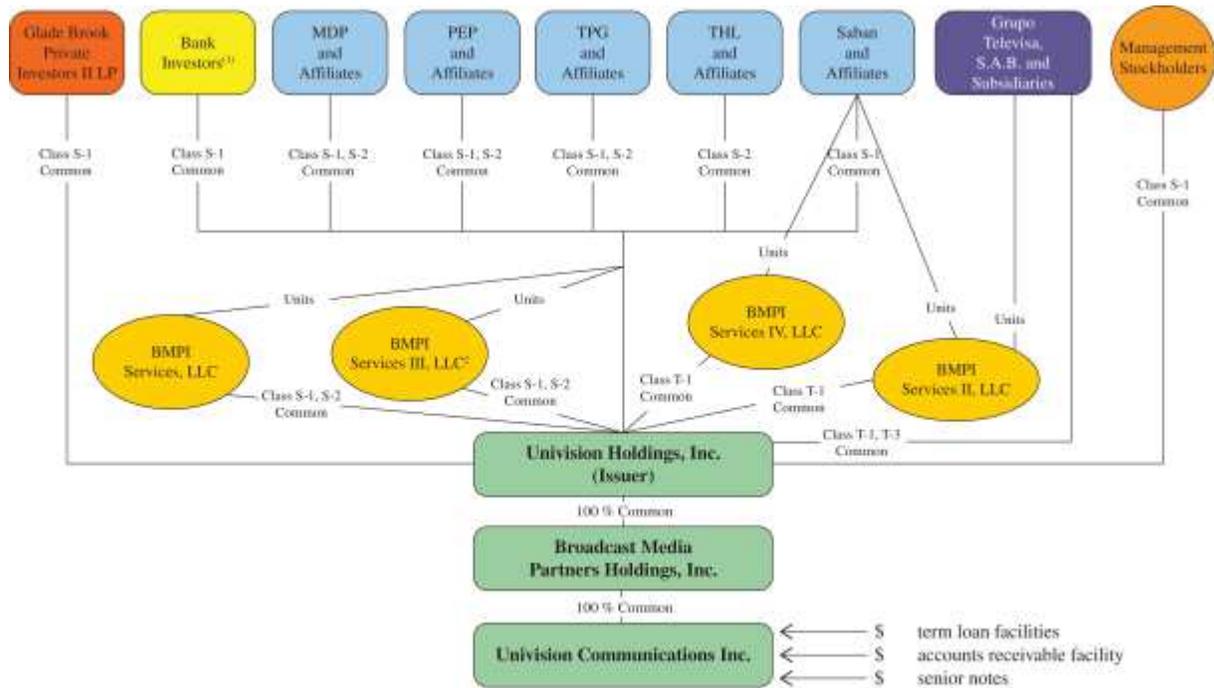

We believe that our principal properties, whether owned or leased, are suitable and adequate for the purposes for which they are used and are suitably maintained for such purposes. Except for the inability to renew any leases of property on which antenna towers stand or under which we lease transponders, the inability to renew any lease would not have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations since we believe alternative space on reasonable terms is available in each city.

Corporate Structure

In March 2007, Univision was acquired by the Investors. In December 2010, Televisa invested $1.2 billion in us and contributed its equity interest in certain jointly owned cable networks for a 5% equity stake in us, debentures convertible into an additional 30% equity stake in us (which prior to the consummation of this offering will be exchanged for the Televisa Warrants), subject to applicable laws and regulations and certain contractual limitations. Concurrently, Univision and Televisa amended the program license agreement then in effect, extending it to at least 2025. In July 2015, the 2011 Televisa PLA was amended to extend the term of the program license agreement, upon consummation of this offering to at least 2030 (unless a change of control event accelerates the minimum term to 2025).

Table of Contents

The following chart shows our organizational structure immediately prior to the consummation of this offering and having given effect to the Equity Recapitalization:

Legal Proceedings

We are subject to various lawsuits and other claims in the normal course of business. In addition, from time to time, we receive communications from government or regulatory agencies concerning investigations or allegations of noncompliance with law or regulations in jurisdictions in which we operate. We are not involved in any legal proceedings that would reasonably be expected to have a material effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

Federal Regulation

The ownership, operation and sale of television and radio broadcast stations are subject to the jurisdiction of the FCC under the Communications Act. The Communications Act and FCC regulations establish an extensive system of regulation to which our stations are subject. The FCC may impose substantial penalties for violation of its regulations, including fines, license revocations, denial of license renewal or renewal of a station's license for less than the normal term.

Licenses and Applications. Each television and radio station that we own must be licensed by the FCC. Licenses are granted for periods of up to eight years and we must obtain renewal of licenses as they expire in order to continue operating the stations. We must also obtain FCC approval prior to the acquisition or disposition of a station, the construction of a new station or modification of the technical facilities of an existing station. Interested parties may petition to deny or object to such applications and the FCC may decline to renew or approve the requested authorization in certain circumstances. Although we have generally received such renewals and approvals in the past, there can be no assurance that we will continue to do so in the future.

Programming and Operation. The Communications Act requires broadcasters to serve the public interest through programming that is responsive to local community needs, interests and concerns. Our stations must also adhere to various content regulations that govern, among other things, political and commercial advertising, payola and sponsorship identification, contests and lotteries, television programming and advertising addressed to children, and obscene and indecent broadcasts.

Ownership Restrictions. Under the FCC’s “Local Television Multiple Ownership Rule” (the “TV Duopoly Rule”), we may own up to two television stations within the same DMA (i) provided certain specified signal contours of the stations do not overlap, (ii) where certain specified signal contours of the stations overlap but no more than one of the stations is a top 4-rated station and the market will continue to have at least eight independently-owned full-power stations after the station combination is created or (iii) where certain waiver criteria are met. The FCC’s Local Radio Ownership Rule limits the number of radio stations that we may own in any single market (defined by Nielsen Audio or by certain signal strength contours), pursuant to a sliding scale based on market size. The FCC’s “Radio-Television Cross-Ownership Rule” permits us to own both television and radio stations in the same local market in certain cases, depending primarily on the number of independent media voices in that market and subject to compliance with each of the TV Duopoly Rule and the Local Radio Multiple Ownership Rule. The “National Television Multiple Ownership Rule” prohibits us from owning television stations that, in the aggregate, reach more than 39% of total U.S. television households, subject to the UHF Discount. These structural ownership rules are applied to certain “attributable” interests generally including (i) voting stock interests of at least five percent; (ii) any equity interest in a limited partnership or limited liability company, unless properly “insulated” from management activities; (iii) equity and/or debt interests that in the aggregate exceed 33 percent of a licensee’s total assets, if the interest holder supplies more than 15 percent of the station’s total weekly programming or is a same-market broadcast licensee or daily newspaper publisher; (iv) certain same-market time brokerage agreements; (v) certain same-market JSAs; and (vi) officer or director positions in a licensee or its direct or indirect parent(s). We believe that we comply with the FCC’s structural ownership restrictions pursuant to the terms of prior FCC decisions. Certain of these structural ownership restrictions are subject to FCC review as part of a statutorily-mandated quadrennial regulatory review process. The FCC issued a notice of proposed rulemaking in April 2014 to begin the latest quadrennial review. We cannot predict the outcome of this proceeding. Also in April 2014, the FCC released an order making attributable all same-market television JSAs that account for more than 15 percent of the weekly advertising time of the brokered television station. (A similar rule was already in effect for radio JSAs.) Pursuant to that order and related legislation, existing JSAs that create impermissible duopolies must be unwound or revised to come into compliance by December 19, 2016. A judicial appeal of the order is pending. Certain of our television stations receive sales services under JSAs with Entravision. Based on current market conditions, we believe that Entravision is permitted to have attributable interests in the pertinent television stations and that the JSAs accordingly may remain in place. On September 26, 2013, the FCC issued a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking seeking public comment on a proposal to eliminate the UHF Discount. If the UHF Discount were eliminated, our current reach would exceed the 39% national cap. The FCC has proposed to “grandfather” existing station portfolios, like ours, that would exceed the 39% cap upon elimination of the UHF Discount. However, under the FCC’s proposal, absent a waiver, a grandfathered station group would have to come into compliance with the modified cap upon a sale or transfer of control. The proceeding is pending. We cannot predict whether the FCC will adopt this or other changes to the current rules, or whether any such changes would have an adverse impact on our operations.

Foreign Ownership. The Communications Act prohibits foreign parties from owning more than 20% of the equity or voting interests of a broadcast station licensee. The FCC has discretion under the Communications Act to permit foreign parties to own more than 25% of the equity or voting interests of the parent company of a broadcast licensee, but has rarely done so. In a Declaratory Ruling released on November 14, 2013, the FCC announced that it will exercise its discretion to consider, on a case-by-case basis, proposals for foreign investment in broadcast licensee parent companies above the 25% benchmark. In May 2015, the FCC issued a declaratory ruling authorizing foreign investors to hold up to an aggregate of 49.99% in voting and/or equity interests in Pandora Media Inc., a publicly-traded company which proposed, through a subsidiary, to acquire a radio broadcast license. We believe that, as presently organized, we comply with the FCC’s foreign ownership restrictions.

Network Regulation. FCC rules affect the network-affiliate relationship. Among other things, these rules require that network affiliation agreements (i) prohibit networks from requiring affiliates to clear time previously scheduled for other use, (ii) permit affiliates to preempt network programs that they believe are unsuitable for their audience and (iii) permit affiliates to substitute programs that they believe are of greater local or national importance for network programs. We believe that our network affiliation agreements are in material conformity with those rules, as presently interpreted.

Cable and Satellite MVPD Carriage. FCC rules permit television stations to make an election every three years between either “must-carry” or “retransmission consent” with respect to carriage of their signals on cable MVPDs. Stations which fail to make a carriage election are deemed to have elected “must-carry.” Stations electing must-carry may require carriage on certain channels on cable MVPDs within their market if certain conditions are met. MVPDs are prohibited from carrying the signals of a station electing retransmission consent until a written agreement is negotiated with that station. We have made retransmission consent elections with respect to substantially all MVPDs in the markets where we own television stations and have subsequently reached agreements with cable MVPDs that, collectively, service substantially all cable pay-TV households.

Satellite MVPDs provide television programming on a subscription basis to consumers that have purchased and installed a satellite signal receiving dish and associated decoder equipment. Under the Satellite Home Improvement Act and subsequent extensions of and amendments thereto, satellite MVPDs are permitted to retransmit a local television station’s signal into its local market with the consent of the local television station. If a satellite MVPD elects to carry one local station in a market, it must carry the signals of all local television stations that also request mandatory carriage. Stations which fail to make a carriage election in the satellite MVPD context are deemed to have elected retransmission consent. We have made retransmission consent elections with respect to satellite MVPDs in most of the markets where we own television stations and have reached agreement with satellite MVPDs with respect to carriage of those stations.

A number of entities have commenced operation or announced plans to commence operation of Internet protocol video systems, using DSL, FTTH and other distribution technologies, some of which claim they are not subject to regulation as MVPDs. The issue of whether those services are subject to the existing MVPD regulations, including must-carry obligations, has not been resolved. In most cases, we have entered into retransmission consent agreements with such entities for carriage of our eligible stations. On December 19, 2014, the FCC issued a notice of proposed rulemaking that would expand the definition of MVPD under the FCC’s rules to include certain OTT distributors of video programming that stream content to consumers over the open Internet. The proposal, if adopted, could result in changes to how both our television stations’ signals and cable networks are distributed, and to how viewers access our content. We cannot predict the outcome of the rulemaking proceeding or the effect of such a change on our revenues from carriage agreements and from advertising.

In early 2010, a number of cable and satellite MVPDs joined in a petition to urge the FCC to initiate a rulemaking proceeding to consider amending its retransmission consent rules. In March 2011, the FCC initiated a formal rulemaking proceeding to evaluate the proposals raised by the petitioners and more broadly to review its retransmission consent rules. Acknowledging its limited jurisdiction, the FCC solicited comments on a series of preliminary proposals intended to clarify certain rules, and provide guidance to the parties, concerning or affecting retransmission consent negotiations. In March 2014, the FCC adopted a rule prohibiting the joint negotiation of retransmission consent agreements by top-4 rated non-commonly-owned stations in the same market, and sought comment on possible changes to its rules regarding television stations’ rights to territorial exclusivity with respect to network and syndicated programming. However, in STELAR, enacted in December 2014, Congress directed the FCC to undertake additional rulemakings concerning retransmission consent issues, including to adopt (within nine months) regulations that will prohibit a television station from coordinating retransmission consent negotiations or negotiating retransmission consent on a joint basis with another television station in the same market, irrespective of ratings, unless such stations are under common control. The FCC adopted such a rule in February 2015. The rule will prohibit Univision and Entravision from negotiating retransmission consent jointly, or from coordinating such negotiations, in any market where both companies own television stations on a going forward basis. Separately, on June 2, 2015, the FCC adopted an order implementing a further directive of STELAR that the FCC streamline its “effective competition” rules for small cable operators. Under the Communications Act, local franchising authorities (LFAs) may regulate a cable operator’s basic cable service tier rates and equipment charges only if the cable operator is not subject to effective competition. Historically the FCC presumed the absence of effective competition unless and until a cable operator rebutted the presumption. The FCC’s order reversed that approach and adopted a rebuttable presumption that all cable operators, regardless of size, are subject to effective competition. Some cable operators have taken the position that cable systems found to be subject to effective competition are not required to place television stations, like ours, that have elected retransmission consent on the basic cable service tier. The FCC’s order does not address this issue. The FCC also must implement other provisions in STELAR that could affect retransmission consent negotiations, including a proceeding launched in March 2015 concerning procedures for modification of a station’s “market” for purposes of determining its entitlement to cable and/or satellite carriage in certain circumstances. We cannot predict the outcome of future rulemakings on these matters.

Other Matters. The FCC has numerous other regulations and policies that affect its licensees, including rules requiring closed-captioning and video description to assist television viewing by the hearing- and visually-impaired; sponsorship identification rules requiring disclosure of any consideration paid or promised for the broadcast of any content; an equal employment opportunities rule which, among other things, requires broadcast licensees to provide equal opportunity in employment to all qualified job applicants and prohibits discrimination against any person by broadcast stations based on race, color, religion, national origin or gender; and a requirement that all broadcast station advertising contracts contain nondiscrimination clauses. Licensees are required to collect, submit to the FCC and/or maintain for public inspection extensive documentation regarding a number of aspects of their station operations. Television broadcasters are required to post most of the material in their existing public inspection files, including political/advocacy advertising information, online at the FCC’s website. In August 2014, the FCC sought comments on whether to expand the online public file system to radio stations. We cannot predict the outcome of this proceeding. Other decisions permit unlicensed wireless operations on television channels in so-called “White Spaces,” subject to certain requirements. We cannot predict whether such operations will result in interference to broadcast transmissions.

Federal legislation was enacted in February 2012 that, among other things, authorizes the FCC to conduct voluntary “incentive auctions” in order to reallocate certain spectrum currently occupied by television broadcast stations to mobile wireless broadband services, to “repack” television stations into a smaller portion of the existing television spectrum band, and to require television stations that do not participate in the auction to modify their transmission facilities, subject to reimbursement for reasonable relocation costs up to an industry-wide total of $1.75 billion.

The FCC has adopted rules concerning the incentive auction and the repacking of the television band, and it has indicated it expects the auction to occur during 2016. Meanwhile, the FCC is expected to adopt additional rules and procedures to implement the February 2012 legislation. Under the auction design tentatively proposed by the FCC, television stations will be given an opportunity to offer spectrum for sale to the government in a “reverse” auction while wireless providers will bid to acquire spectrum from the government in a simultaneous “forward” auction. In June 2015, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit denied separate appeals by the National Association of Broadcasters and Sinclair Broadcast Group of certain aspects of the FCC’s auction rules. In February 2015, jointly with certain other major broadcast station group owners, we advised the FCC that our evaluation of whether and how to participate in the incentive auction depends on the adoption of clear and effective auction implementation rules, including with respect to spectrum clearing targets, reserve prices, bidding methodology and post-auction channel sharing, that maximize the value of the potential opportunity for all broadcasters.

If some or all of our television stations are required to change frequencies or otherwise modify their operations, our stations could incur substantial conversion costs, reduction or loss of over-the-air signal coverage or an inability to provide high definition programming and additional program streams, including mobile video services. More generally, we cannot predict the likelihood, timing or outcome of any additional FCC regulatory action in this regard or its impact upon our business.

The foregoing does not purport to be a complete summary of all of the provisions of the Communications Act, or of the regulations and policies of the FCC thereunder. Proposals for additional or revised regulations and requirements are pending before, and are considered by, Congress and federal regulatory agencies from time to time. We generally cannot predict whether new legislation, court action or regulations, or a change in the extent of application or enforcement of current laws and regulations, would have an adverse impact on our operations.

Board of Directors

Our business and affairs are managed under the direction of our board of directors. Our bylaws provide that our board of directors shall have 20 members or such number as may be fixed from time to time by resolution of at least a majority of our board of directors then in office. The amended and restated principal investor agreement (“PIA”) that we entered into with the Investors and Televisa grants each of the Investors and Televisa the right to appoint directors based on the dollar amount of their investment in our common stock. As of the date of this prospectus, each of the Investors may appoint three directors to the board of directors except for Saban Capital Group, which may appoint two directors. Since 2007, THL has elected not to appoint any members to the board of directors and instead has appointed three observers to the board of directors. Pursuant to the PIA, Televisa has the right to appoint three directors to the board of directors until such time as Televisa holds less than 95% of the shares of our common stock held by Televisa immediately following the closing of Televisa’s investment in us on December 20, 2010 (The “Televisa Closing”). Our board also included two independent directors. In 2011, our board of directors was expanded to 22 members pursuant to the resolutions of our board of directors and the consent of our stockholders in order to appoint an independent director and an additional Televisa designee. Due to certain vacancies and THL’s decision not to appoint any members to our board of directors, our board of directors is currently composed of seventeen directors. Our executive officers and key employees serve at the discretion of our board of directors. For more information regarding the director designation rights of the Investors and Televisa, please see “Description of Capital Stock—Director Designation Rights.”

Background and Experience of Directors

The members of our board of directors were selected to serve as directors for the following reasons:

Mr. Saban—was nominated to our board of directors by Saban pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Mr. Alsikafi—was nominated to our board of directors by Madison Dearborn pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Mr. Angoitia—was nominated to our board of directors by Televisa pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Mr. Azcárraga—was nominated to our board of directors by Televisa pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Mr. Bastón Patiño—was nominated to our board of directors by Televisa pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Mr. Chesnoff—was nominated to our board of directors by Saban pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Mr. Cisneros—was elected to our board of directors based on his extensive history with and knowledge of Univision through his prior service as President and Chief Operating Officer, his business experience both before and after he joined us and his experience serving on the boards of other companies.

Mr. Cole—was nominated to our board of directors by Madison Dearborn pursuant to their rights under the PIA;

Mr. Davis—was nominated to our board of directors by TPG Capital pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Mr. Falco—was elected to our board of directors based on his service as President and Chief Executive Officer and his business experience both before and after he joined us.

Mr. Goel—was elected to our board of directors based on his strong business experience and leadership skills, including as co-founder and Managing General Partner of Matrix Capital Management Company.

Mr. Gray—was nominated to our board of directors by Providence Equity pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Mr. Perry—was nominated to our board of directors by Madison Dearborn pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Mr. Senior Hernández—was elected to our board of directors based on his strong business experience and leadership skills, including as Managing Director of Allen & Company, and his experience serving on the boards of other companies.

Mr. Trujillo—was nominated to our board of directors by TPG Capital pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Mr. Vinciguerra—was nominated to our board of directors by TPG Capital pursuant to their rights under the PIA.

Director Independence

Our board of directors has affirmatively determined that _____ are independent directors under the applicable rules of the NYSE or Nasdaq.

Board Committees

Our board of directors has the authority to appoint committees to perform certain management and administration functions. Pursuant to the PIA, each committee of the board of directors shall be comprised of at least one director appointed by each Investor and Televisa, unless the Investor or Televisa waive such requirement. Since THL has elected not to appoint any directors, they are not represented on any committees.

Audit Committee

The primary purpose of our audit committee is to assist the board’s oversight of our accounting and financial reporting processes. David Trujillo, Zaid Alsikafi, Alfonso de Angoitia, Adam Chesnoff and Michael Gray serves on the audit committee and James Carlisle, a THL appointee, serves as an observer. _____ qualifies as an “audit committee financial expert” as such term has been defined by the SEC in Item 401(h)(2) of Regulation S-K. Our board of directors has affirmatively determined that _____ meet the definition of an “independent director” for the purposes of serving on the audit committee under applicable SEC and NYSE or Nasdaq rules. Our audit committee is not currently comprised entirely of independent members. We intend to comply with these independence requirements for all members of the audit committee within the time periods specified therein. The audit committee is governed by a charter that complies with the applicable rules of NYSE or Nasdaq.

Compensation Committee

The primary purpose of our compensation committee is to determine, approve and administer compensation policies and programs. Michael Gray, Alfonso de Angoitia, Adam Chesnoff, Michael Cole and Kelvin Davis serves on the compensation committee and James Carlisle serves as an observer. Upon the consummation of this offering, our compensation committee will meet the requirements of the applicable rules of NYSE or Nasdaq. The compensation committee is governed by a charter that complies with the applicable rules of NYSE or Nasdaq.

Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee

The primary purposes of our nominating and corporate governance committee are to identify and screen individuals qualified to serve as directors and recommend to the board of directors candidates for nomination for election; evaluate, monitor and make recommendations to the board of directors with respect to our corporate governance guidelines; coordinate and oversee the annual self-evaluation of the board of directors and its committees and management; and review our overall corporate governance and recommend improvements for approval by the board of directors where appropriate. Upon the consummation of this offering, _____ will serve on the nominating and corporate governance committee, and _____ will serve as the chairman. The nominating and corporate governance committee is governed by a charter that complies with the applicable rules of NYSE or Nasdaq.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

None of our executive officers serves, or in the past year has served, as a member of the board of directors or compensation committee (or other committee performing equivalent functions) of any entity that has one or more executive officers serving on our board of directors or compensation committee. No interlocking relationship exists between any member of the compensation committee (or other committee performing equivalent functions) and any executive, member of the board of directors or member of the compensation committee (or other committee performing equivalent functions) and of any other company.

Code of Conduct

We have adopted a code of conduct that applies to all of our employees, officers and directors, including those officers responsible for financial reporting. These standards are designed to deter wrongdoing and to promote honest and ethical conduct. The code of conduct will be available on our website at www.univision.net. After this offering, any waiver to or amendment of the code for directors or executive officers may be made only by our board of directors and will be promptly disclosed to our stockholders as required by applicable U.S. federal securities laws and the corporate governance rules of the NYSE or Nasdaq, as applicable. We will make any legally required disclosures regarding amendments to, or waivers of, provisions of our code of conduct on our website.

Corporate Governance Guidelines

Our board of directors will adopt corporate governance guidelines in accordance with the corporate governance rules of the NYSE or Nasdaq, as applicable, that serve as a framework within which our board of directors and its committees operate. A copy of our corporate governance guidelines will be posted on our website.

Indemnification of Officers and Directors

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation provides that we will indemnify our directors and officers to the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL. We have established directors' and officers' liability insurance that insures such persons against the costs of defense, settlement or payment of a judgment under certain circumstances. Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation further provides that our directors will not be liable for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty, except to the extent that exculpation from liability is not permitted under the DGCL. We have also entered into indemnification agreements with each of our directors. These agreements, among other things, require us to indemnify each director to the fullest extent permitted by Delaware law, including indemnification of expenses such as attorneys' fees, judgments, fines and settlement amounts incurred by the director in any action or proceeding, including any action or proceeding by or in right of us, arising out of the person's services as a director.

EXECUTIVE AND DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

The following discussion and analysis of compensation arrangements should be read with the compensation tables and related disclosures set forth below. This discussion contains forward-looking statements that are based on our current plans and expectations regarding future compensation programs. The actual compensation programs that we adopt may differ materially from the programs summarized in this discussion.

Overview

This compensation discussion and analysis discusses our executive compensation philosophy, objectives, and design; our compensation-setting process, our executive compensation program components; and decisions made in 2014 with respect to the compensation of each of our named executive officers. Our named executive officers for 2014 were:

- Randel A. Falco, President and Chief Executive Officer;
- Andrew W. Hobson, former Senior Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer;
- Jonathan Schwartz, General Counsel and Executive Vice President, Government Relations;
- Roberto Llamas, Executive Vice President, Chief Human Resources and Community Empowerment Officer; and
- Peter H. Lori, Executive Vice President, Deputy Chief Financial Officer and Chief Accounting Officer.

Mr. Hobson resigned effective February 13, 2015. Peter H. Lori, who held the position of Executive Vice President-Finance and Chief Accounting Officer since January 2010, also served as Interim Chief Financial Officer from February 13, 2015 until May 6, 2015. On May 7, 2015, Francisco J. Lopez-Balboa was named Chief Financial Officer and Executive Vice President, effective immediately. See “— Management.”

Executive Compensation Program Objectives and Philosophy

We place great importance on our ability to attract, retain, motivate and reward experienced executives who enable us to achieve strong financial and operational performance and sustainable increases in stockholder value. To achieve our objectives, we need a highly talented team comprised of managers and employees experienced in cable programming, broadcast networks, digital or other media. Our named executive officers have extensive experience in each of these and related areas.

We offer both short-term and long-term incentive compensation programs in which overall compensation is tied to key strategic, operational and financial goals such as our Bank Credit OIBDA, subscription revenue and comparative market performance based on advertising revenue.

As we transition from being a privately-held company, we will evaluate our executive compensation programs, including both the design of direct and indirect compensation plans, as well as the magnitude of total compensation opportunities as circumstances require, based on our business objectives and the competitive environment for talent. In doing so, we will maintain an appropriate balance between (1) short-term and long-term compensation, (2) cash and equity-based compensation and (3) awards tied to specific performance objectives versus those tied to continued service. It is our intention to continue our emphasis on pay-for-performance and long-term incentive compensation for our executive officers. We plan to adopt a new equity incentive plan as discussed further below.

Setting Compensation

Role of Compensation Committee

Our executive compensation program is overseen by our compensation committee. Among other responsibilities, the compensation committee (1) directs our executive compensation policies and practices, (2) reviews and determines the compensation of our President and Chief Executive Officer and other executive officers and (3) oversees our executive compensation policies and plans including reviewing, approving and administering compensation plans, policies and programs and determining the size and structure of equity awards.

Role of Compensation Consultant

The compensation committee has the authority to engage outside consultants and advisers to assist in the performance of its duties and responsibilities. The compensation committee did not retain the services of an outside compensation consultant to provide advice with respect to executive compensation programs for 2014. The compensation committee has engaged Frederic W. Cook & Co., Inc. as its independent compensation consultant to assist the compensation committee in designing and establishing compensation programs and determining decisions for 2015 and future periods.

Role of Management

From time to time, our President and Chief Executive Officer, our Chief Financial Officer, our General Counsel and Executive Vice President, Government Relations and our Executive Vice President, Chief Human Resources and Community Empowerment Officer attend meetings of the compensation committee to present information and answer questions. Our President and Chief Executive Officer makes recommendations to the compensation committee regarding compensation for the other named executive officers. Other members of senior management provide support to the compensation committee as needed. No executive officer participated directly in the deliberations or determinations regarding his or her own compensation package.

Reference Book

The compensation committee annually reviews an executive reference book that is provided by our Executive Vice President, Chief Human Resources Officer. The reference book serves to provide a “tally sheet” summary of base salary, bonus and equity awards granted to the named executive officers for the completed fiscal year. The reference book also sets forth individual performance highlights, employment contract details and historical compensation. For 2014, the compensation committee considered the reference book and other internal factors, including experience, skills, position, level of responsibility, historic and current compensation levels, internal relationship of compensation levels between executives, as well as attraction and retention of executive talent to determine appropriate level of compensation. In determining 2014 compensation, the compensation committee did not use a formula for taking into account these different factors and the total compensation for our named executive officers was not determined based on any pre-set or specified percentile of market. Rather, we sought to compensate our executive officers at a level that would allow us to successfully recruit and retain the best possible talent for our executive team at a market-competitive and affordable level of cost that is supported by performance. We rely heavily on the knowledge and experience of the compensation committee in determining the appropriate compensation levels and mix for our executive officers.

Benchmarking

The compensation committee did not undertake any formal benchmarking in 2014. However, from time to time, the compensation committee and our senior management takes into consideration the aggregated survey results from the CTHRA Cable Programmers / Broadcast Networks Compensation Survey, a participant-only compensation survey conducted annually to provide compensation data for positions in television broadcast and programming. The identity of individual companies comprising the survey data is not disclosed to or considered by, the compensation committee or senior management in its evaluation process. Therefore, the compensation committee does not consider the identity of the companies comprising the survey data to be material for this purpose.

Elements of Compensation

Our executive compensation program consists of three principal elements, each of which is important to our desire to attract, retain, motivate and reward highly-qualified executives and to support our primary objective of aligning pay with performance. The three principal compensation elements are base salary, annual cash incentive bonuses and long-term equity incentives. In addition, each executive officer is also eligible to receive certain benefits, which are generally provided to all other eligible employees, and certain perquisites described below.

The compensation committee reviews our historical compensation and other information provided by senior management and other factors such as experience, performance and length of service to determine the appropriate level and mix of compensation for executive officers, by position and grade level. In support of our pay-for-performance philosophy, a significant percentage of total compensation opportunity is allocated to incentive compensation. To ensure that the executives who are most responsible for developing and executing our short- and long-term strategic plan are held most accountable for the outcome, the portion of total compensation opportunity delivered through variable incentives varies in direct proportion to each executive's level and role within the organization.

The table below summarizes the current elements of our executive compensation program and what each element is designed to reward:

Compensation Element	Description
Base Salary	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Fixed level of compensation</li><li>• Determined within a competitive range</li><li>• Provides minimum level of cash compensation to attract and retain executives</li></ul>
Annual Incentive Bonus	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Performance-based cash incentive opportunity</li><li>• Motivates executives to achieve specific company and individual performance goals and objectives in each fiscal year</li></ul>
Long-Term Equity Incentive Award (Restricted Stock Units and Stock Options)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Aligns the executive's interest with long-term stockholder interests</li><li>• Variable pay based on increases in our stock price over time</li><li>• Motivates executives to achieve long-term objectives</li></ul>
Other Compensation and Benefits	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Health and welfare benefits and perquisites provide a cost-efficient manner to attract and retain executives</li><li>• 401(k) Plan provides an opportunity for tax-efficient savings and long-term financial security</li></ul>

The compensation committee believes that the combination of these elements offers the best approach to achieving our compensation goals, including attracting and retaining talented and capable executive officers and motivating them to expend maximum effort to improve business results, earnings and the overall value of our business.

Base Salaries

The compensation committee is responsible for setting the base salaries of the named executive officers. Base salaries for these executives have been set at levels that are intended to reflect the competitive marketplace in attracting and retaining talented executives. The employment agreements of each of the named executive officers contain a minimum base salary level. For information regarding these minimum base salary levels, please see “—Employment Agreements” below. The compensation committee currently reviews the salaries of the named executive officers on an annual basis and may increase executive salaries. Based on an evaluation of the executive’s performance, experience, grade level and the competitive marketplace, and in accordance with the terms of the employment agreements, the compensation committee, in its discretion, has increased base salaries for the named executive officers typically at 12 to 15 month intervals. The compensation committee reviewed the base salaries of the named executive officers in 2014 and based on its evaluation, increased the annualized base salaries in 2014 over 2013 as follows:

Named Executive Officer	2014 Base Salary	2013 Base Salary
Jonathan Schwartz <sup>(3)</sup>	$ 968,750	$ 950,000
Peter H. Lori <sup>(5)</sup>	$ 581,799	$ 560,833

Annual Incentive Bonus

The compensation committee has the authority to award annual performance bonuses to our named executive officers. We believe that annual bonuses based on performance serve to align the interests of senior management and stockholders, and our annual bonus program is primarily designed to reward increases in Bank Credit OIBDA, subscription revenue and market performance. We consider these to be key measures of our operating performance.

Annual incentive compensation for 2014 for our named executive officers was allocated from a target incentive bonus pool for all of our senior management established in the first fiscal quarter of 2014, 70% of which was based on our Bank Credit OIBDA for the year ended December 31, 2014, 15% of which is based on comparative market performance based on advertising revenue reported by third-party sources and 15% of which is based on the subscription revenue for the year ended December 31, 2014.

Bank Credit OIBDA represents operating income before depreciation, amortization and certain additional adjustments to operating income permitted under our senior secured credit facilities. Management uses Bank Credit OIBDA to evaluate our operating performance, for planning and forecasting future business operations and to measure our ability to service our debt and meet our other cash needs. A reconciliation of Bank Credit OIBDA to net (loss) income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc., which is the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure, is presented in “Summary—Summary Historical Financial and Other Data.”

Table of Contents

For 2014, our target and actual performance across the components used to determine our incentive bonus pool for all of our senior management were as follows:

	Target	Actual	% of Target Earned
Performance Components:
Bank Credit OIBDA (70%)	$1,250.0 million	$1,253.8 million	100.3%
Comparative market performance based on advertising revenue reported by third-party sources (15%)	425.0 bps	301.7 bps	71.0%
Subscription revenue (15%)	$691.0 million	$694.0 million	100.4%
Incentive Bonus Pool <sup>(1)</sup>	$34.0 million	$33.6 million	98.8%

- (1) Our 2014 incentive bonus pool for all of our senior management was subject to an overall cap of $47.7 million. The actual payout of our 2014 incentive compensation pool was $33.6 million.

Individual bonuses are performance based and as such, can be highly variable from year to year. The annual incentive bonuses for our named executive officers are determined by our compensation committee and, except with respect to his own bonus, our President and Chief Executive Officer. The annual incentive award targets for named executive officers are generally based on a percentage of annual base salary. The employment agreement of each named executive officer contains a target bonus level. For information regarding these target bonus levels, please see “—Employment Agreements” below.

The compensation committee currently reviews the target bonus levels of the named executive officers on an annual basis. The compensation committee evaluates each executive’s performance, experience and grade level and may adjust, upward or downward, executive target bonus levels accordingly. While the compensation committee uses each executive’s target bonus as a guideline, the actual bonus paid out under the plan is determined by the compensation committee in a discretionary manner based on its evaluation of the executive’s performance during the year, taking into account the recommendation of our President and Chief Executive Officer (except with respect to his own compensation), based on his annual evaluation of each executive’s performance and contributions during the year.

For 2014, each of our named executive officers earned the following annual incentive award:

Named Executive Officer	2014 Annual Incentive
	2014 Target Bonus	Bonus

Jonathan Schwartz <sup>(3)</sup>	$ 1,384,500	$ 1,385,000
Peter H. Lori <sup>(5)</sup>	$ 585,000	$ 615,000

- (1) Mr. Falco’s 2014 target bonus was 166% of his effective base salary as of January 1, 2014.
(2) Mr. Hobson’s 2014 target bonus was 140% of his effective base salary as of March 1, 2014.
(3) Mr. Schwartz’s 2014 target bonus was 142% of his effective base salary as of April 1, 2014.
(4) Mr. Llamas’ 2014 target bonus was 100% of his effective base salary as of July 1, 2014.

Long-Term Equity Incentive Awards

The named executive officers received awards under our long-term incentive program in 2014, which consisted of time-based vesting nonqualified stock option awards, issued in connection with the settlement of a portion of the restricted stock unit awards granted in 2013. We believe restricted stock units and stock options provide the named executive officers with an incentive to improve our stock price performance and create a direct alignment with stockholders’ interests, as well as a continuing stake in our long-term success.

Restricted Stock Units

We did not grant any restricted stock unit awards to our named executive officers in 2014. We granted restricted stock unit awards in 2013, which vested 25% on July 15, 2014 and will vest 25% on each July 15, 2015, 2016 and 2017 as long as the recipient is continuously employed on the applicable vesting date, provided that all or a portion of a recipient's award may vest upon termination of employment under certain circumstances. Information regarding restricted stock units granted prior to 2014 for the named executive officers appears in the "Outstanding Equity Awards at December 31, 2014" and "Potential Payments upon Termination or Change in Control" tables below.

Stock Options

Each nonqualified stock option granted to our named executive officers in 2014 was issued in connection with the settlement of a portion of the restricted stock unit awards granted in 2013. Each such nonqualified stock option was granted with respect to the number of shares surrendered to cover such officers' withholding tax obligations upon net settlement of the vested restricted stock units at an exercise price no less than the fair market value of the shares of common stock underlying such option on the grant date of such option. This grant of nonqualified stock options enabled the named executive officers to maintain their percentage ownership in us in connection with the net settlement of their restricted stock units. Such nonqualified stock options vest over three years, at a rate of 33.3% per year, beginning on July 15, 2015. Nonqualified stock options granted in 2014 fully vest upon a liquidity event (including a change of control or the commencement of this offering) or termination of employment under certain circumstances. Information regarding nonqualified stock options granted for the named executive officers is set forth under "2014 Summary Compensation Table" and "2014 Grants of Plan Based Awards" below. More information regarding nonqualified stock option granted during and prior to 2014 for the named executive officers appears in the "Outstanding Equity Awards at December 31, 2014" and "Potential Payments upon Termination or Change in Control" tables below.

In 2014, our compensation committee made grants of stock options to our named executive officers in the following amounts:

Randel A. Falco	$ 699,974
Andrew W. Hobson	$ 280,312
Jonathan Schwartz	$ —
Roberto Llamas	$ 82,496
Peter H. Lori	$ 86,599

- (1) Amounts shown in the column "2014 Option Awards" presents the aggregate grant date fair value of option awards granted in the fiscal year in accordance with ASC 718, Compensation—Stock Compensation. The estimated grant date fair value was based on a valuation of $264.40 per share. For a description of the assumptions used in calculating the fair value of equity awards in 2014 under ASC 718, see Notes 1 and 15 to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 included elsewhere in this prospectus. These amounts reflect our cumulative accounting expense over the vesting period and do not correspond to the actual values that were to be realized by the named executive officers. The estimated fair value of our stock was based on a valuation made by an independent third-party that took into consideration the lack of control and limited marketability of the securities.

Other Compensation and Benefits

Health and Welfare Benefits

The named executive officers are eligible to participate in the same health and welfare benefit plans made available to the other benefits-eligible employees, including, for example, medical, dental, vision, life insurance and disability coverage. In addition to the standard life insurance available to all employees (based on a multiple of base salary, up to a $4.0 million cap on the total amount of life insurance), in 2014, we provided Mr. Hobson with term life insurance coverage in an amount of $3.0 million and long-term disability benefits of $561,000 per year and in 2015 and future periods, will provide Mr. Falco with term life insurance coverage in an amount of $3.0 million and long-term disability benefits of $561,000 per year. The expected death benefits are expected to grow over time to the extent that the dividends payable on the policy values exceed the premiums required to fund the death benefit. Information regarding premiums paid by us are set forth in the “2014 Summary Compensation Table” below.

Perquisites

We provide perquisites to certain executive officers, which may include financial and tax services, commuting expenses, automobile allowance, de minimis holiday gifts and reimbursement for annual physical examinations. The aggregate value of perquisites received by the named executive officers is set forth in the “2014 Summary Compensation Table” below.

401(k) Plan

Under the Univision Savings Tax Advantage Retirement Plan (the “401(k) Plan”), a tax-qualified retirement savings plan, participating employees, including executive officers, may contribute into their plan accounts a percentage of their eligible pay on a before-tax basis as well as a percentage of their eligible pay on an after-tax basis. In 2014, we made a matching contribution of $0.50 for each $1.00 for the first 3% of eligible pay contributed by participating employees and, in 2015, will continue to make matching contributions of $0.50 for each $1.00 for the first 3% of eligible pay contributed (up to a cap of $3,975 per participating employee). Our matching contributions are not subject to vesting limitations. Matching contributions made by us under the 401(k) Plan to the named executive officers in 2014 are set forth in the “2014 Summary Compensation Table” below.

Post-Termination Compensation

Our executives have helped build us into the successful enterprise that we are today and we believe that post-termination benefits are integral to our ability to attract and retain talented executives.

Under certain circumstances, payments or other benefits may be provided to employees upon the termination of their employment with us. The amount and type of any payment or benefit will depend upon the circumstances of the termination of employment. These may include termination by us without “cause,” termination by the employee for “good reason,” voluntary resignation by the employee without “good reason,” death, disability, or termination following a change in control. The definitions of “cause” and “good reason” vary among the different employment agreements with the named executive officers and the equity award agreements.

For a description and quantification of the severance and other benefits payable to each of the named executive officers and accelerated equity award vesting under the different circumstances of termination, please see “Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Change in Control” below.

Employment Agreements

We have written employment agreements with our current named executive officers and had an employment agreement with Mr. Hobson, who resigned effective February 13, 2015. For a description of the terms and provisions of the employment agreements, see “—Employment Agreements” below.

Parachute Tax Gross-Up

If the Company's stock is readily tradable on an established securities market or otherwise for purposes of Section 280G of the Code, Mr. Falco is entitled to tax gross-up payments in the event that any payment or benefit to such individual would be an "excess parachute payment" as defined in Section 280G of the Code and subject to the excise tax imposed by Section 4999 of the Code, as well as indemnification by the Company for any interest, penalties or additions to tax payable by the executive as a result of the imposition of such excise tax or gross-up payment.

Tax Deductibility of Compensation

Section 162(m) of the Code generally disallows publicly held companies a tax deduction for compensation in excess of $1 million paid to their chief executive officer and the next three most highly compensated executive officers (other than the chief financial officer) unless such compensation qualifies for an exemption for certain compensation that is based on performance. Section 162(m) of the Code provides transition relief for privately held companies that become publicly held, pursuant to which the foregoing deduction limit does not apply to any remuneration paid pursuant to compensation plans or agreements in existence during the period in which the corporation was not publicly held if, in connection with an initial public offering, the prospectus accompanying the initial public offering discloses information concerning those plans or agreements that satisfies all applicable securities laws then in effect. If the transition requirements are met in connection with an initial public offering, the transition relief continues until the earliest of (i) the expiration of the plan or agreement, (ii) the material modification of the plan or agreement, (iii) the issuance of all employer stock and other compensation that has been allocated under the plan or (iv) the first meeting of the stockholders at which directors are to be elected that occurs after the close of the third calendar year following the calendar year in which the initial public offering occurs. Our intent generally is to design and administer executive compensation programs in a manner that will preserve the deductibility of compensation paid to our executive officers, and we believe that a substantial portion of our current executive compensation program will satisfy the requirements for exemption from the $1 million deduction limitation, to the extent applicable. However, we reserve the right to design programs that recognize a full range of performance criteria important to our success, even where the compensation paid under such programs may not be deductible. The compensation committee will monitor the tax and other consequences of our executive compensation program as part of its primary objective of ensuring that compensation paid to our executive officers is reasonable, performance based and consistent with our goals and the goals of our stockholders.

Pension Benefits

Our named executive officers did not participate in any defined benefit pension plan during 2014.

Nonqualified Deferred Compensation

Our named executive officers did not receive nonqualified deferred compensation and had no deferred compensation benefits during 2014.

Employment Agreements

Randel A. Falco

We entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Falco on January 14, 2011, which was amended effective as of June 29, 2011, and then again effective as of February 19, 2014. Mr. Falco's contract period continues until January 31, 2018 and automatically renews thereafter on an annual basis, unless he is terminated by certain agreed upon terms or either we or Mr. Falco provide notice of nonrenewal at least six months prior to the end of the then current term. The agreement provides that Mr. Falco will receive an initial annualized base salary of $1,750,000. Mr. Falco's annual base salary will be reviewed annually (but will not be decreased) by the board of directors with respect to any term of employment under the agreement following the initial term ending January 31, 2018. The agreement also provides that Mr. Falco is eligible for an annual cash performance bonus with an annual target of 166% of his annual base salary, subject to satisfaction of performance and other criteria (including discretionary components in accordance with our practices) established and approved by the compensation committee. Pursuant to the agreement, Mr. Falco is also eligible for consideration for equity grants, including an initial grant of a nonqualified stock option.

If we terminate Mr. Falco's employment without "cause," Mr. Falco resigns for "good reason," or if we elect not to renew the then-current employment term under the terms of the employment agreement, then, in addition to any accrued but unpaid base salary, we must provide Mr. Falco with, subject to his execution of a release of claims and his continued compliance with the restrictive covenants under his employment agreement, (i) an amount equal to the sum of 24 months' base salary and his annual target bonus for the fiscal year of termination, payable in substantially equal installments over 24 months, (ii) any earned but unpaid annual bonus with respect to a prior fiscal year, (iii) a pro-rata portion of his annual target bonus for the fiscal year of termination (determined by multiplying the amount of such annual target bonus which would be due for the full fiscal year by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in such fiscal year through the date of termination and the denominator of which is 365), (iv) two years of continued life insurance coverage (ceasing earlier if Mr. Falco becomes eligible for life insurance with a subsequent employer), (v) monthly cash payments for a period of two years (ceasing earlier if Mr. Falco becomes eligible for medical coverage from a subsequent employer) equal to the monthly amount, grossed-up for taxes, of the COBRA continuation coverage premiums due under our group medical plans for Mr. Falco and his eligible dependents less an amount equal to the portion of the premium Mr. Falco would have paid were he an active employee, and (vi) any other amounts or benefits due executive in accordance with our benefit plans, programs or policies (other than severance). Mr. Falco shall also be entitled to treatment of his equity awards as provided in the applicable equity plan or award agreement. Upon termination due to death or disability, in addition to any accrued but unpaid base salary, we must provide Mr. Falco (or his estate) with (ii), (iii) and (vi) above.

For purposes of the termination provisions described above, “good reason” means, without the executive’s written consent, any of the following, provided, that the executive provides notice to the board of directors within 90 days of executive’s knowledge of the specific facts and circumstances constituting “good reason” stating such specific facts and circumstances and we are provided a reasonable opportunity to cure such circumstances (if curable) within 30 days of receipt of such notice and, if not cured, executive’s employment shall terminate for good reason on the day following expiration of such 30-day cure period:

- a failure of executive to hold the title of President and Chief Executive Officer other than by reason of the executive’s termination of employment;
- a significant diminution of the executive’s duties in executive’s role as President and Chief Executive Officer;
- any change in the reporting structure so that executive reports to someone other than the board;
- any willful, material breach of any material obligation of us to the executive under the executive’s employment agreement or any equity agreements;
- failure of a successor to all or substantially all of our assets to assume the employment contract; and
- any requirement that the executive relocate his principal place of employment from the New York, NY metropolitan area.

For purposes of the termination provisions described above, “cause” means any of the following, provided that the board of directors has provided notice to the executive, within 90 days of obtaining knowledge of specific facts and circumstances constituting “cause”, stating such specific facts and circumstances and executive is provided a reasonable opportunity to cure such circumstances (if curable) within 90 days after any such notice:

- executive’s willful failure to perform executive’s services under the executive’s employment agreement in any material way or willful, material breach of fiduciary duty;
- executive’s conviction of (or pleading guilty to or nolo contendere in respect of) a felony (other than driving while intoxicated) or any lesser, willful, material offense involving dishonesty, moral turpitude or our or our affiliates’ property; and
- material willful misconduct or willful material breach by executive of any of the provisions of the executive’s employment agreement.

Andrew W. Hobson

We entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Hobson as of December 30, 2008, which was amended effective as of April 29, 2011, and then again effective as of October 16, 2014. The agreement provides that Mr. Hobson will receive an initial annualized base salary of $1,350,000 effective as of March 1, 2014. Mr. Hobson’s annual base salary will be reviewed annually by the board of directors and may be increased (but will not decrease). The agreement also provides that Mr. Hobson is eligible for an annual cash performance bonus with an annual target of 140% of his annual base salary, subject to performance goals established by the board of directors in good faith. Pursuant to the agreement, Mr. Hobson was also eligible for consideration for equity grants, including an initial grant of a nonqualified stock option.

Mr. Hobson resigned effective February 13, 2015. The Company and Mr. Hobson are currently discussing the terms of Mr. Hobson's separation.

Jonathan Schwartz

We entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Schwartz on November 13, 2012. Mr. Schwartz's contract provides for an initial term through December 31, 2015 and automatically renews thereafter on an annual basis unless either party provides six months' notice that the term of employment will not be extended. The agreement provides that Mr. Schwartz will receive an annualized base salary of $950,000, subject to annual review by our President and Chief Executive Officer and compensation committee, who have discretion to increase (but not decrease) the base salary level then in effect. The agreement also provides that Mr. Schwartz is eligible for an annual cash performance bonus with a target of 142% of his annual base salary, subject to satisfaction of performance and other criteria (including discretionary components in accordance with our practices) established and approved by the President and Chief Executive Officer and compensation committee who have discretion to increase (but not decrease) the target. Pursuant to the agreement, Mr. Schwartz is also eligible for consideration for equity grants, including an initial grant of a nonqualified stock option.

If we terminate Mr. Schwartz's employment without "cause" or Mr. Schwartz resigns for "good reason," then, in addition to any accrued but unpaid base salary, we must provide Mr. Schwartz with, subject to his execution of a release of claims and his continued compliance with the restrictive covenants under his employment agreement, (i) an amount equal to his annual base salary, (ii) any earned but unpaid annual bonus with respect to a prior fiscal year, (iii) (a) within 30 days of termination, a 70% pro-rata portion of his annual target bonus for the fiscal year of termination (determined by multiplying the amount of such annual target bonus which would be due for the full fiscal year by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in such fiscal year through the date of termination and the denominator of which is 365) and (b) at such time as bonuses are determined and paid to other executives, the remaining pro-rata portion of his annual target bonus (which portion may be reduced to be consistent with the percentage of the target bonus paid to other executives) and (iv) monthly cash payments for a period of one year (ceasing earlier if Mr. Schwartz becomes eligible for medical coverage from a subsequent employer) equal to the monthly amount of the COBRA continuation coverage premiums due under our group medical plans for Mr. Schwartz and his eligible dependents less an amount equal to the portion of the premium Mr. Schwartz would have paid were he an active employee. Mr. Schwartz shall also be entitled to treatment of his equity awards as provided in the applicable equity plan or award agreement. Upon termination due to death or disability, in addition to any accrued but unpaid base salary, we must provide Mr. Schwartz (or his estate) with (ii), (iii) and (iv) above.

For purposes of the termination provisions described above, "good reason" means, without the executive's written consent, any of the following, provided, that the executive provides notice to us within 90 days of executive's knowledge of the specific facts and circumstances constituting "good reason" stating such specific facts and circumstances and we are provided a reasonable opportunity to cure such circumstances (if curable) within 30 days of receipt of such notice and, if not cured, executive terminates his employment no later than six months after the initial occurrence of such facts and circumstances:

- any material reduction in the executive's duties, responsibilities or authorities;
- no longer reporting to the President and Chief Executive Officer;
- an adverse change in title;
- a relocation of the executive's primary office location at least 50 miles farther from both executive's then primary office location and the executive's then primary residence; and
- a material breach by us of the executive's employment or other agreements.

Table of Contents

For purposes of the termination provisions described above, “cause” means any of the following:

- willful misconduct in connection with the performance of the executive’s duties;
- gross negligence that is materially damaging to us;
- theft, fraud or other illegal conduct in connection with the performance of the executive’s duties;
- willful refusal or unwillingness to perform material duties;
- sexual or other unlawful harassment in connection with the performance of the executive’s duties;
- conviction (or pleading guilty to or nolo contendere) of a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude;
- material violation of a fiduciary duty or of the duty of loyalty; and
- material breach of the executive’s employment agreement, which is not cured within twenty days of written notice.

Francisco J. Lopez-Balboa

We entered into an amended and restated employment agreement with Mr. Lopez-Balboa on June 30, 2015. Mr. Lopez-Balboa’s contract period continues until May 31, 2018 and automatically renews thereafter on an annual basis until May 31, 2020, unless he is terminated by certain agreed upon terms or either we or Mr. Lopez-Balboa provide notice of nonrenewal at least six months prior to the end of the then current term. The agreement provides that Mr. Lopez-Balboa will receive an initial annualized base salary of $1,000,000. Mr. Lopez-Balboa’s annual base salary will be reviewed annually (but will not decrease, except in the event of an across-the-board proportionate reduction applicable to substantially all senior executives of the Company) by the board of directors. The agreement also provides that Mr. Lopez-Balboa is eligible for an annual cash performance bonus with an annual target of 100% of his annual base salary, subject to satisfaction of performance goals established and approved by the compensation committee in consultation with the Chief Executive Officer. Pursuant to the agreement, Mr. Lopez-Balboa is also eligible for consideration for equity grants. In connection with the consummation of Mr. Lopez-Balboa’s employment, Mr. Lopez-Balboa was granted nonqualified stock options to purchase 13,755 shares of our Class A common stock with an exercise price of $592 per share and 3,000 restricted stock units each of which vest in substantially equal installments on the first three anniversaries of the dates of grant. Such options were subsequently cancelled and, at the time of this offering, we intend to grant new options to purchase shares of our Class A common stock (and/or such other form of equity incentive award) with a value at the time of this offering equal to $5,272,000 reduced by the product of (i) the number of shares of our Class A common stock covered by Mr. Lopez-Balboa’s restricted stock units described above and (ii) the offering price of the Class A common stock issued in this offering.

If we terminate Mr. Lopez-Balboa’s employment without “cause” or Mr. Lopez-Balboa resigns for “good reason,” then, in addition to any accrued but unpaid base salary, we must provide Mr. Lopez-Balboa with, subject to his execution of a release of claims and his continued compliance with the restrictive covenants under his employment agreement, (i) an amount equal to the sum of 12 months’ base salary and his annual target bonus for the fiscal year of termination, payable in substantially equal installments over 12 months, (ii) any earned but unpaid annual bonus with respect to a prior fiscal year, (iii) a pro-rata portion of his annual bonus for the fiscal year of termination based on actual corporate results for such year (determined by multiplying the amount of such annual bonus which would be due for the full fiscal year if Mr. Lopez-Balboa had been continually employed for the full fiscal year by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in such fiscal year through the date of termination and the denominator of which is 365), (iv) monthly cash payments equal to the monthly amount of the COBRA continuation coverage premiums due under the Company’s group medical plans for Mr. Lopez-Balboa less an amount equal to the portion of the premium Mr. Lopez-Balboa would have paid were he an active employee until the earliest of (x) 18 months after the date of termination of employment, (y) the date Mr. Lopez-Balboa obtains other employment that offers medical benefits for which he is then eligible and (z) the date Mr. Lopez-Balboa ceases to be eligible for COBRA coverage, and (v) any other amounts or benefits due executive in accordance with the Company's benefit plans, programs or policies (other than severance). Mr. Lopez-Balboa shall also be entitled to treatment of his equity awards as provided in the applicable equity plan or award agreement. Upon termination due to death or disability, in addition to any accrued but unpaid base salary, we must provide Mr. Lopez-Balboa (or his estate) with (ii), (iii), (iv) and (v) above.

For purposes of the termination provisions described above, "good reason" means, without the executive's written consent, any of the following, provided, that the executive provides notice to the Company within 60 days of the initial occurrence of such Good Reason event stating the specific facts and circumstances constituting "good reason" and the Company is provided a reasonable opportunity to cure such circumstances (if curable) within 30 days of receipt of such notice and, if not cured, executive's employment shall terminate for Good Reason on the day following expiration of such 30-day cure period:

- any significant diminution in the executive's responsibilities, authorities or duties, or reporting lines;
- any material reduction in executive's salary or target bonus opportunity percentage of base salary;
- a relocation of executive's office by more than fifty (50) miles from its then location; or
- any material breach by the Company of the employment agreement.

For purposes of the termination provisions described above, "cause" means any of the following:

- willful failure to perform duties or to follow the lawful direction of the Chief Executive Officer, which is not cured, if curable, within ten (10) days of written notice thereof;
- indictment for, conviction of (or pleading guilty or nolo contendere in respect of) a felony or any lesser offense involving dishonesty, fraud or moral turpitude;
- willful misconduct or material breach of the Company's Code of Conduct or similar written policies, with regard to the Company, any of its affiliates, or any employees, officers or directors thereof, including theft, fraud, dishonesty or breach of fiduciary duty;
- willful misconduct unrelated to the Company or its affiliates having, or likely to have, a material negative impact on the Company (economically or reputation-wise) in the good faith opinion of the Chief Executive Officer;
- material breach of any of the provisions of the employment agreement which (if curable) is not cured within ten (10) days of written notice; or
- misrepresentation that the execution of the employment agreement and the performance of the duties thereunder do not constitute a breach of any terms of any other agreement to which the executive is a party.

Roberto Llamas

We entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Llamas effective on October 1, 2013. Mr. Llamas's contract provides for an initial term through July 31, 2016. The agreement provides that Mr. Llamas will receive an annualized base salary of $700,000, subject to annual review by our President and Chief Executive Officer and compensation committee, who have discretion to increase the base salary level then in effect. The agreement also provides that Mr. Llamas is eligible for an annual cash performance bonus with a target of 100% of his annual base salary, subject to the satisfaction of individual and our performance as determined by the President and Chief Executive Officer and compensation committee.

If we terminate Mr. Llamas's employment without "cause" then, in addition to any accrued but unpaid base salary, we must provide Mr. Llamas with, subject to his execution of a release of claims and his continued compliance with the restrictive covenants under his employment agreement, (i) an amount equal to his annual base salary (or less if Mr. Llamas finds alternative employment within one year of his termination and we elect to waive the restrictive non-competition covenants under his employment agreement) and (ii) an amount equal the pro-rata portion of Mr. Llamas's annual bonus for the fiscal year in which his termination occurs based on actual results (determined by multiplying the amount of such annual bonus which would be due for the full fiscal year by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in such fiscal year through the date of termination and the denominator of which is 365).

For purposes of the termination provisions described above, "cause" includes any of the following:

- habitual neglect of the duties that executive is required to perform;
- willful misconduct or gross negligence;
- theft, fraud or other illegal conduct;
- refusal or unwillingness to perform duties;
- failure to perform all his duties and obligations in a manner that is satisfactory to us;
- sexual or other unlawful harassment;
- conduct that reflects adversely upon us, any of our affiliates, or any of our or our affiliates' officers, directors or boards, including, making disparaging remarks;
- arrest for or conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude;
- insubordination;
- any willful act that is likely to or does in fact have the effect of injuring the reputation of the executive or the reputation, business, or a business relationship of ours, any of our affiliates, or any of our or our affiliates' officers, directors or boards;
- violation of any fiduciary duty;
- violation of any duty of loyalty; or
- breach of the executive's employment agreement.

Peter H. Lori

We entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Lori effective on March 1, 2014. Mr. Lori's contract provides for an initial term through January 1, 2017. The agreement provides that Mr. Lori will receive an annualized base salary of $585,000, subject to annual review by our President and Chief Executive Officer and compensation committee, who have discretion to increase the base salary level then in effect. The agreement also provides that Mr. Lori is eligible for an annual cash performance bonus with a target of 100% of his annual base salary, subject to the satisfaction of individual and our performance as determined by the President and Chief Executive Officer and compensation committee.

If we terminate Mr. Lori's employment without "cause" then, in addition to any accrued but unpaid base salary, we must provide Mr. Lori with, subject to his execution of a release of claims and his continued compliance with the restrictive covenants under his employment agreement, an amount equal to his annual base salary (or less if Mr. Lori finds alternative employment within one year of his termination and we elect to waive the restrictive non-competition covenants under his employment agreement). If such termination of employment occurs within 12 months following a "change of control" (as defined in the employment agreement), we must provide Mr. Lori with double the amount that would be payable upon a termination without "cause".

For purposes of the termination provisions described above, "cause" includes any of the following:

- habitual neglect of the duties that executive is required to perform;
- willful misconduct or gross negligence;

Non-Competition, Non-Solicitation and Confidentiality

The employment agreements of our named executive officers contain non-competition, non-solicitation and confidentiality covenants. Pursuant to such covenants, these executive officers have agreed not to compete with us for a specified period following such executive officer’s date of termination. In addition, these executive officers may not solicit any of our employees during the term of his employment or for a specified period thereafter or disclose any confidential information provided by our employment.

Equity Incentive Plan

In connection with this offering, our board of directors expects to adopt, and our stockholders expect to approve, the 2015 Equity Incentive Plan prior to the completion of this offering.

Director Compensation

During 2014, our directors who were either our employees or affiliated with the Sponsors did not receive any fees or other compensation for their services as our directors. We reimburse all of our directors for travel expenses and other out-of-pocket costs incurred in connection with attendance at meetings of the board.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED PERSON TRANSACTIONS

Set forth below is a description of certain relationships and related person transactions, which are transactions between us or our subsidiaries, and (i) our directors (including director nominees) or executive officers, (ii) any 5% record or beneficial owner of our voting securities or (iii) any immediate family member of any person specified in (i) and (ii) above, each a “related person.”

Televisa Commercial Agreements

On December 20, 2010, we entered into a revised program license agreement with Televisa, amending the program license agreement then in effect, the Mexico License and a sales agency agreement with Televisa whereby we act as its exclusive sales agent to sell or license certain of our programming worldwide outside of the U.S. and Mexico (the “Sales Agency Agreement”). Both the program license agreement with Televisa and Mexico License were amended and restated as of February 28, 2011. The 2011 Televisa PLA and Mexico License were further amended on July 1, 2015 and in connection therewith, together with the other documents entered into at the same time, including the MOU, we are making a one-time payment of $4.5 million to Televisa. For a description of the terms of the Televisa PLA, Mexico License, and Sales Agency Agreement, see “Business—Licensing” and “Business—Programming—Televisa.” In addition, in connection with the assignment on December 20, 2010 to us of Televisa’s 50% interest in our joint venture that owned five cable networks operated by us, we agreed to continue engaging Televisa for existing services and granted a right of first negotiation for new services to be provided to these networks— De Película , De Película Clásico , Bandamax , Ritmoson and Telehit . Televisa is also providing similar services to Univision tlnovelas. Televisa and one of its subsidiaries also represent us in Mexico in connection with our advertising sales to Mexico-based clients on a non-exclusive basis and we pay Televisa a commission based on a certain percentage of revenue received by us from the sale of such advertising. Televisa and one of our subsidiaries also entered into a representation agreement pursuant to which we act as Televisa’s exclusive sales agent for certain consumer products owned or controlled by Televisa, and we receive a license fee based on certain percentages of the revenue generated, in Canada, the U.S. and Puerto Rico by reducing the amount of our revenue received from the customer remitted to Televisa. From time to time, we have granted and received waivers under the 2011 Televisa PLA. We have also, from time to time, entered into production, co-production, program license, advertising, technical services and other ordinary course agreements with Televisa and its affiliates, that are not amendments or waivers of the 2011 Televisa PLA or the Mexico License, which have resulted in payments to or from Televisa. We made aggregate payments to Televisa, net of withholdings, under our commercial agreements with them, including the 2011 Televisa PLA, of $64.7 million, $313.2 million, $343.0 million and $241.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively. We received aggregate payments from Televisa under our commercial agreements with them, including the Mexico License, of $3.0 million, $21.2 million, $17.8 million and $17.6 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively.

2011 Televisa PLA Amendments

Since 2012, we have entered in the following agreements that amended or modified certain terms of the 2011 Televisa PLA:

- In 2013, the 2011 Televisa PLA was amended to permit Univision to sublicense to third parties English-language broadcast rights to certain Mexican First Division soccer matches owned or controlled by Televisa. In consideration, Univision agreed that the revenue received by Univision from licenses to third parties of any English-language broadcast rights to soccer matches, whether or not such rights are licensed to Univision by Televisa, was to be included in the revenue subject to the royalty payable by Univision to Televisa under the 2011 Televisa PLA. The terms of this arrangement have been included as part of the Televisa PLA.
- In 2014, Televisa notified Univision that the cost to acquire the rights to certain Mexican First Division soccer league games not owned or controlled by Televisa were greater than expected. We agreed to pay Televisa a fixed license fee per season for the U.S. rights to these games. Over the term of the license these fees are expected to be in aggregate approximately $2.4 million more than the amounts that would have been payable for these rights under the 2011 Televisa PLA.

- In 2014, Univision and Televisa entered into an amendment to the 2011 Televisa PLA related to provisions that gave Univision free television rights and certain rights of first negotiation/refusal for other rights to motion pictures produced or acquired by Pantelion Films (“Pantelion”), a Televisa affiliate. In order to better allow Pantelion to bid against other distributors effectively, Univision agreed to waive its free television rights related to Pantelion’s motion pictures (subject to a right to withdraw the waiver) in exchange for, among other things, a credit that will result in at least a 30% reduction to the license fee for any rights acquired pursuant to the first negotiation/refusal rights.

Since 2012, Univision has also entered into the following agreements with Televisa: (i) an agreement pursuant to which Televisa licenses certain scripted programming to Univision, (ii) an agreement in 2013 and an agreement in 2014 for Televisa’s production of branded entertainment segments for one of our advertising clients, for which Univision paid Televisa $205,000 in 2013 and $207,000 in 2014; (iii) an agreement in 2013 to license to Televisa the broadcast rights in Mexico to a World Cup qualifying match in exchange for a payment by Televisa to Univision of $2.0 million and Televisa’s provision of broadcast rights to another World Cup qualifying match; (v) an agreement in 2013 for Televisa’s production of a singing competition series for which Univision paid $6.5 million to Televisa; (vi) an agreement in 2014 for Televisa’s provision of satellite and fiber optic services in Brazil for the World Cup to Univision in exchange for a payment of $214,270; and (vii) an extension in 2014 of a technical services agreement with an affiliate of Televisa to insert virtual integrations sold by Univision into programming airing on Univision networks in exchange for 15% of the amount generated from the sale by Univision of such virtual integrations.

Televisa Convertible Debentures and Warrants

Pursuant to the Televisa transactions, we issued convertible debentures to Televisa, maturing in 2025, with an aggregate principal amount of $1,125.0 million. The debentures accrue interest at a fixed rate of 1.5% per annum payable quarterly in arrears in cash. Subject to applicable laws and regulations and certain contractual limitations, the debentures are convertible at the election of Televisa into _____ shares of our Class T-1 common stock (originally our Class C common stock). If a person other than Televisa converted the debentures, the holder would receive shares of our Class A common stock. We made interest payments to Televisa under the convertible debentures of $3.6 million, $14.3 million, $14.3 million and $14.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively.

Prior to the consummation of this offering, Televisa will convert its debentures into the Televisa Warrants which will be exercisable, for nominal consideration, into the same number of shares of our common stock that Televisa would have received upon conversion of the Televisa debentures on the date of the receipt of the Televisa Warrants, provided that the Televisa Warrants will be exercisable into Class T common stock as of the closing of this offering. If a person other than Televisa exercises the Televisa Warrants, the holder would receive shares of our Class A common stock. In connection with the conversion of the Televisa debentures, we will pay Televisa a total of $135.1 million.

Prior to the consummation this offering, Televisa will exercise a portion of the Televisa Warrants for shares of Class T-1 common stock in order to increase its direct ownership percentage of our common stock to 10% on a pro forma basis for the issuance of shares in this offering.

Stockholder Arrangements

Investor and Televisa Memorandum of Understanding

On July 1, 2015, we entered into the MOU to, among other things, amend our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, amended and restated bylaws, the PIA, the Stockholders Agreement (as defined below), the PRRCA (as defined below) and the Investment Agreement with Televisa (as defined below). The following description of our stockholder agreements and the description of our capital stock reflect the agreed upon amendments to the aforementioned documents.

Principal Investor Agreement

On December 20, 2010, we entered into the PIA with the Investors and Televisa, which together with the amendments to the PIA contemplated by the MOU, contains various provisions described below.

Director Designation Rights

Pursuant to the PIA, the Investors and Televisa have certain director designation rights. See “Description of Capital Stock—Director Designation Rights.”

Approval Rights of the Investors and Televisa

Pursuant to the PIA, the Investors and Televisa have approval rights with respect to certain matters. See “Description of Capital Stock—Approval Rights.”

Indemnification Rights

The PIA provides each of the Investors and Televisa with certain indemnification rights.

Agreement on FCC Petition and FCC Transfer of Control Application

Pursuant to the MOU, we and Televisa have agreed to jointly file a petition for declaratory ruling at the FCC seeking (a) an increase in our permitted ownership by non-U.S. persons from the current 25% ownership limitation (the “Current FCC Foreign Ownership Cap”) to 49% of our common stock (on a voting and equity basis) and (b) to authorize Televisa to hold up to 40% of our common stock (on a voting and equity basis) (the “FCC Petition”). We and Televisa have agreed to file this petition no later than the earlier of 30 days after the consummation or abandonment of this offering and January 5, 2016. Pursuant to the MOU, we may be required to file subsequent petitions if the FCC Petition is not granted or is withdrawn.

Pursuant to the MOU, promptly after the Investors have transferred at least 75% of the shares of our common stock held by the Investors immediately following the time of the closing of Televisa’s investment in us on December 20, 2010 (the “Calculation Date”), we shall submit the FCC TOC Application for any required FCC approval of a transfer of control of the Company to the public stockholders of the Company or as otherwise may be required. In the event that the FCC grants approval of the FCC TOC Application (the “TOC Approval”), the Investors may, but are not obligated to continue to transfer our common stock. If the FCC denies or otherwise fails to approve the FCC TOC Application, the FCC TOC Application may be dismissed with the consent of Televisa and the Majority Principal Investors or we may (but shall not be required to) submit any other FCC TOC Application. In that circumstance, the Investors may not transfer more than 98% of the shares of our common stock held by the Investors on the Calculation Date without Televisa’s approval until TOC Approval has been obtained which approval shall not be required following a Televisa Sell-Down.

Stockholders Agreement

On December 20, 2010, we entered into that certain amended and restated stockholders agreement (the “Stockholders Agreement”) with the Investors, Televisa, Bank of America, Credit Suisse, Deutsche Bank,

Lehman Brothers, Royal Bank of Scotland, Wachovia and certain individuals (the “Holders”), which together with the amendments to the PIA contemplated by the MOU, contains various provisions including those described below.

Televisa Ownership Limitations

Pursuant to the Stockholders Agreement, Televisa may not hold more than, for the period of time described in the Stockholders Agreement, 10% of our outstanding common stock (the “Maximum Equity Percentage”). The remaining amount of non-U.S. ownership available under the Current FCC Foreign Ownership Cap will be available to the Investors and our other stockholders. Notwithstanding that Televisa is limited to the Maximum Equity Percentage, Televisa will hold shares of our common stock that provide Televisa with enhanced voting power (at least 22% of our common stock) on matters other than for the election of directors to be elected exclusively by the separate vote of our Class S-1 common stock and Class T-1 common stock. See “Description of Capital Stock — Common Stock — Voting Rights.”

In addition, subject to certain exceptions provided for in the Stockholders Agreement, Televisa may not hold more than, for the period of time described in the Stockholders Agreement, 40% of our outstanding common stock including for this purpose shares of our common stock underlying our convertible securities held by Televisa (“Maximum Capital Percentage”).

Upon approval by the FCC of any increase in or elimination of the Current FCC Foreign Ownership Cap, Televisa will be allocated 83.33% of the approved foreign ownership capacity above the Current FCC Foreign Ownership Cap, up to an amount that would entitle Televisa to hold directly our common stock equal to the Maximum Capital Percentage, subject to any lower percentage ownership limitation on our common stock adopted by the FCC and applicable to Televisa (the “FCC Individual Cap”). The Maximum Equity Percentage will be increased by Televisa’s share of the increase in such foreign ownership capacity. The remaining portion of the increase in the Current FCC Foreign Ownership Cap shall be available to our other stockholders, including without limitation, any portion of the excess that Televisa cannot use due to the FCC Individual Cap.

The Maximum Equity Percentage shall not apply after the Investor Exit (as defined and discussed in “Description of Capital Stock — Common Stock — Election of Directors”) and receipt of a TOC Approval and, to the extent permitted by law, Televisa may convert any convertible securities or shares of our non-voting common stock into our voting common stock. The termination of the Maximum Capital Percentage limitation is described below.

Transfer Restrictions

The Stockholders Agreement restricts transfers of our shares by the Investors, Televisa and the Holders to certain of our competitors without the prior written approval of our board of directors or as otherwise permitted under the Stockholders Agreement. In addition, the Investors and the Holders may not transfer their shares to certain restricted persons without the approval of Televisa or as otherwise permitted under the Stockholders Agreement, provided that this transfer restriction shall expire upon the Televisa Sell-Down.

For a period of 18 months (subject to reduction under limited circumstances) commencing on the later of (i) the filing of the FCC Petition and (ii) the date on which we make an underwritten public offering of our common stock that, in the aggregate with any previous underwritten offering of our common stock, exceeds $500.0 million and meets certain other conditions under our Stockholders Agreement (the “Lock-up Start Date”), Televisa shall not transfer (other than to certain permitted transferees) any equity interest in the Company, including shares of our common stock and convertible securities.

In the event that the FCC approves the FCC Petition to permit Televisa to hold and vote directly at least 33% of our issued and outstanding common stock, for a period of two years from the later of such FCC approval and 12 months from the Lock-up Start Date, Televisa may not transfer (other than to certain permitted transferees) any equity interest in the Company exceeding, in the aggregate for all such transfers, 30% of its fully converted equity interest in the Company at the time of such approval.

- In the event that the FCC approves the FCC Petition to permit Televisa to hold and vote directly more than 25% of our issued and outstanding common stock, but less than 33% of the issued and outstanding common stock, Televisa has agreed, for a number of months following the later of such FCC approval and 12 months from the Lock-up Start Date equal to 24 times a fraction with (x) a numerator equal to the percentage of our direct equity Televisa is allowed to hold and vote after the FCC approval less 25% and (y) a denominator equal to eight percent, not to transfer (other than to certain permitted transferees) any equity interest in the Company exceeding in the aggregate for all such transfers, 30% of its fully converted equity interest in the Company as of the time of such approval.

Televisa is not obligated to accept any condition that may be imposed by the FCC in order for Televisa to increase its level of ownership of our common stock (except for any total ownership cap imposed by the FCC).

In the event that Televisa transfers any interest in our capital stock or convertible securities, Televisa must first transfer the shares underlying the Televisa warrants before transferring shares of our common stock.

Drag-Along Rights

Pursuant to the Stockholders Agreement, the members of the group comprised of the Investors that, in the aggregate, hold at least sixty percent of shares of our common stock held by the Investors (the “Majority Principal Investors”) may at any time compel the Investors and the Holders, but not Televisa, to sell all or a portion of their shares in a change of control transaction (the “Change of Control Drag-Along”). Further, the members of the group comprised of the Investors and Televisa that, in the aggregate, hold the majority of outstanding common stock held by all of the members of such group (provided that such calculation shall only include the shares of our common stock held directly by Televisa that do not exceed 10% of the aggregate shares of our outstanding common stock) (the “Majority PITV Investors”) may, at any time, require the Investors and the Holders, but not Televisa, to exchange, convert or transfer all of a portion of their shares in a recapitalization transaction (the “Recapitalization Drag-Along”). The Change of Control Drag-Along and the Recapitalization Drag-Along expire at the time the Investors collectively sell 66 <sup>2</sup>/<sub>3</sub> % of the shares of our common stock held by the Investors immediately following the Calculation Date (the “Principal Investor Two-Thirds Sell-Down”).

Right of First Offer

If a stockholder party to the Stockholders Agreement proposes to sell any of our shares in a private sale, subject to certain exceptions, the selling stockholder must first offer to the Investors and Televisa the opportunity to purchase such shares (the “ROFO”), provided that this right shall not apply to a change of control transaction initiated by the Investors or us in compliance with the terms of the Stockholders Agreement. Televisa may not exercise the ROFO until at least one Investor exercises the ROFO on the proposed sale of shares. In addition, Televisa’s ROFO rights shall expire if Televisa transfers our shares to any person (other than certain permitted transferees under the Stockholders Agreement) in an amount equal to, or greater than, 1% of our shares held by Televisa immediately following the Calculation Date. The ROFO terminates upon the Principal Investor Two-Thirds Sell-Down.

Tag-Along Rights

If any stockholder party to the Stockholders Agreement proposes to sell our shares in a private sale, each of the other stockholder parties to the Stockholders Agreement, except for management stockholders, shall have the opportunity to participate in such sale on the same terms and conditions as the selling stockholder. The tag-along rights for the stockholder parties to the Stockholders Agreement (except for Televisa) expire upon the earlier of (i) a change of control and (ii) the Principal Investor Two-Thirds Sell-Down, provided that the tag-along rights for certain bank investors shall only expire upon the Principal Investor Two-Thirds Sell-Down.

Investor Sale of Control

Pursuant to the Stockholders Agreement and subject to the Televisa sale process rights described below, the Investors have the right to sell their shares of our common stock or effectuate a merger to transfer control of the Company to a purchaser and, in each case, deliver the collective rights and obligations of the Investors to the purchaser, including the Investors' rights and obligations under the Stockholders Agreement, PRRCA, PIA, our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws. The Investors' right to effectuate such a change of control transaction in accordance with the Stockholders Agreement expires upon the Principal Investor Two-Thirds Sell-Down.

Televisa Sale Process Rights

In the event that the Investors or the Company effectuate a change of control transaction in compliance with the terms of the Stockholders Agreement, Televisa will have the right to tag-along on such sale as described above or Televisa may retain their shares or, if applicable, roll-over their shares into the acquiring entity, provided that these tag-along and roll-over rights shall expire upon a Televisa Sell-Down. In addition, the Stockholders Agreement provides Televisa with certain information and access rights in connection with a change of control transaction initiated by the Investors or the Company, including the opportunity to meet with the prospective purchaser prior to their final bid and establishing an arbitration process to resolve any disputes between the Company or the Investors, on the one hand, and Televisa, on the other hand, related to the sale process.

Televisa Post-IPO Participation Right

Pursuant to the Stockholders Agreement, Televisa will have the opportunity to purchase from the Investors up to 50% of the shares of our common stock being transferred by the Investors following this offering up to an agreed maximum number of shares. See "Description of Capital Stock—Pre-emptive Rights; Post-IPO Sale Participation Right."

Voting Agreement

Subject to the terms of the Stockholders Agreement, each Investor and each Holder, but not Televisa, has agreed to vote their shares as instructed by the Majority Principal Investors or Majority PITV Investors, as applicable, with respect to a change of control transaction, recapitalization transaction, the election of the board of directors and any amendments to our certificate of incorporation.

Televisa Standstill

On December 20, 2010, we entered into an investment agreement (the "Investment Agreement") with Televisa pursuant to which Televisa purchased their interest in our capital stock and convertible debentures. Pursuant to the Investment Agreement, following the consummation of this offering, Televisa will be subject to standstill provisions that restrict Televisa from making certain shareholder proposals, soliciting proxies and engaging in certain actions in order to increase its ownership of our capital stock above the Maximum Equity Percentage or Maximum Capital Percentage, including through third party purchases, or as part of a group that would collectively own, directly or indirectly, more than the Maximum Equity Percentage or the Maximum Capital Percentage (the "Televisa Standstill"). However, the Televisa Standstill shall not prevent (i) the directors of our board of directors appointed by Televisa from serving and acting in their capacity as directors consistent with their fiduciary duties, (ii) Televisa from submitting, on a confidential basis, proposals to our board of directors or the Investors relating to any matter including, without limitation, the actions prohibited by the Televisa Standstill and (iii) Televisa from exercising its convertible securities, preferential rights or any of its other rights under our certificate of incorporation, the PIA, the Stockholders Agreement, the Investment Agreement and the PRRCA.

Pursuant to the MOU, the Televisa Standstill provisions will expire upon the earlier of (a) 180 days after an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval and (b) the first date at or following both an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval on which a person other than Televisa solicits proxies or consents, proposes a competing director slate or makes a tender offer for our common stock, or we put ourselves up for sale. However, upon the expiration of the Televisa Standstill, Televisa, whether alone or as part of a group, may not acquire more than the Maximum Capital Percentage unless Televisa, alone or as part of a group, makes a public offer to our shareholders to acquire all of our outstanding shares that Televisa does not already own and such offer is accepted or approved by the holders of a majority of shares of our common stock not held by Televisa. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Televisa acquires a controlling stake in our equity interests from the Investors and as a result would exceed the Maximum Capital Percentage, Televisa will not be required to make an offer to acquire all of our outstanding shares that Televisa does not already own.

Participation, Registration Rights and Coordination Agreement

On December 20, 2010, we entered into that certain amended and restated participation, registration rights and coordination agreement (the “PRRCA”) with the Investors, Televisa and certain other holders of our common stock which contains various provisions including those described below.

Televisa Participation Right

Pursuant to the PRRCA, Televisa has certain participation rights with respect to sales of our capital stock. See “Description of Capital Stock—Pre-emptive Rights; Post-IPO Sale Participation Right.”

Registration Rights

Pursuant to the PRRCA, the parties thereto have certain registration rights with respect to our common stock. See “Description of Capital Stock—Registration Rights.”

Sale Coordination

Pursuant to the PRRCA, the parties thereto may be required to coordinate the sale of their shares of our common stock. See “Description of Capital Stock—Sale Coordination.”

Sponsor Management Agreement

On March 27, 2007, we entered into the Sponsor Management Agreement, which was amended and restated on December 20, 2010, with the Investors under which certain affiliates of the Investors agreed to provide us with management, consulting and advisory services. Effective as of March 31, 2015, we entered into an agreement with the Investors to terminate the Sponsor Management Agreement. Under that agreement, we agreed to pay a reduced termination fee and quarterly service fees in full satisfaction of our obligations to the Investors under the Sponsor Management Agreement. Pursuant to such termination agreement, we paid a termination fee of $112.4 million in April 2015 (which was accrued as of March 31, 2015) to the Investors and will continue to pay a quarterly aggregate service fee of 1.26% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, until the earlier of (i) the consummation of this offering or (ii) December 31, 2015.

Prior to termination, the Investors received a quarterly aggregate service fee based on operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. The management fee was $3.6 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and $16.3 million, $14.6 million and $13.0 million for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively. The out-of-pocket expenses were $0.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and $1.0 million, $0.8 million and $1.0 million for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively. The management service fees and out-of-pocket expenses are recorded as selling, general and administrative expenses.

Televisa Technical Assistance Agreement

Televisa entered into an agreement with Univision under which Televisa provides us with technical assistance related to our business. Effective as of March 31, 2015, we entered into an agreement with Televisa to terminate the technical assistance agreement. Under this agreement, we agreed to pay a reduced termination fee and quarterly service fees in full satisfaction of our obligations to Televisa under the technical assistance agreement. Pursuant to such termination agreement, we paid a termination fee of $67.6 million in April 2015 (which was accrued as of March 31, 2015) to Televisa and will continue to pay a quarterly aggregate service fee of 0.74% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, until the earlier of (i) the consummation of this offering or (ii) December 31, 2015.

Prior to termination, Televisa received a quarterly fee based on operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. The fee for the three months ended March 31, 2015 was $1.9 million. The fees for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012 were $8.8 million, $7.8 million and $7.0 million, respectively. The technical assistance fee and out-of-pocket expenses are recorded as selling, general and administrative expenses.

Consulting Arrangement

We have a consulting arrangement with SCG Investments IIB LLC (“SCG”), an entity controlled by the Chairman of our board of directors. In compensation for the consulting services provided by our Chairman, equity units in various LLCs that hold a portion of our common stock on behalf of the Investors and Televisa were granted to SCG. The equity grants provide for payments to SCG upon defined liquidation events based on the appreciation realized by the Investors and Televisa in their investments in us in excess of certain preferred returns and performance thresholds. A portion of these equity grants have vested and the remainder will only vest, and their related payments will only be made, if our Chairman is providing services to us at the time of the defined liquidity event. The term of the consulting arrangement is indefinite, subject to the right of either party to terminate the arrangement for any reason on thirty days’ notice. We recorded non-cash share-based compensation expense of $18.5 million in 2012. We will record an additional non-cash compensation expense upon the vesting of the remaining units.

In addition, under the consulting arrangement, SCG is entitled to reimbursement for reasonable expenses incurred by SCG in connection with Mr. Saban’s services, including his direct operating costs for use of a private plane in connection with his performance of such services, not to exceed $720,000 in any calendar year. The out-of-pocket expenses reimbursed to SCG in connection with Mr. Saban’s services are included in the out-of-pocket expense amounts referenced above under “—Stockholder Arrangements—Sponsor Management Agreement.” SCG is also entitled to certain indemnification protections under the consulting arrangement.

Transactions with other Sponsor-affiliated companies

The Investors are private investment firms that have investments in companies that may do business with Univision. No individual Sponsor has a controlling ownership interest in us. However, the Investors may have a controlling ownership interest or an ownership interest with significant influence in companies that do business with us. Since January 1, 2012, in the ordinary course of business, we received goods and services from, and made payments for technology, talent agency and other services, on an arm’s length basis from such companies.

In addition, in the ordinary course of business, we received advertising revenues on an arm’s length basis from such companies. Notably, we received ratings services from Nielsen Company/Nielsen Media Research for which we paid $59.2 million in 2012 and $67.8 million in 2013. THL, one of the Investors, had more than a 10% equity interest in Nielsen Company/Nielsen Media Research at that time. In addition, Univision has previously announced plans for a musical competition television show scheduled to be broadcast on the Univision Network in the fall season of 2015, based on an agreement with the owners of the rights to the program, including an entity controlled by Saban Capital Group. In connection with this arrangement, the owners of the program have agreed to grant to Televisa certain broadcast rights in Mexico to the show, together with certain format and exploitation rights. In 2014, we entered into an agreement with an affiliate of Providence Equity to develop and market research panels and provide marketing services for the panels, pursuant to which we received a fee in the form of a revenue share with a minimum guarantee of $250,000 and up to $1.25 million annually. Through the first quarter of 2015, we received $150,000 in fees of the $250,000 minimum guarantee. With respect to affiliates of Investors for which we made payments in excess of $120,000 per year under commercial agreements, we made aggregate payments to such affiliates of $14.1 million, $95.5 million and $72.6 million for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively. We made aggregate payments to such affiliates of $5.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015.

In 2013, Univision entered into two agreements with a sales representation company owned by the spouse of one of our directors, pursuant to which the company serves as our exclusive national sales representative for particular advertising and infomercials on certain networks and channels in exchange for a commission based on net sales of such advertisements and infomercials and related services. The fees for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013 were $0.2 million, $0.7 million and $0.1 million, respectively.

Launch Rights

In March 2013 we entered into agreements with Televisa and Emilio Azcarraga Jean, Televisa's chairman and one of our directors, as a result of which we obtained for our benefit the right to launch certain networks on the carriage platform of an MVPD that distributes our broadcast and cable networks. Pursuant to these agreements we paid an aggregate of $81 million to Mr. Azcarraga and Televisa and agreed to provide Televisa, for promotion of Televisa's and its affiliates' businesses, certain unsold advertising inventory at no cost on two of the networks to be carried by this MVPD.

Indemnification Agreements

We have entered into indemnification agreements with each of our directors. These agreements, among other things, require us to indemnify each director to the fullest extent permitted by Delaware law, including indemnification of expenses such as attorneys' fees, judgments, fines and settlement amounts incurred by the director in any action or proceeding, including any action or proceeding by or in right of us, arising out of the person's services as a director.

Policies for Approval of Related Person Transactions

The related person transactions as described above have been approved by our board of directors. In connection with this offering, we will adopt a written policy relating to the identification, review and approval and/or ratification of related person transactions. In addition to the description above, related person transactions also include: (i) transactions in which we participate with an entity that employs or is controlled by (or under common control with) a related person, and (ii) transactions in which we participate with an entity in which a related person has an ownership or material financial interest.

Our policy will require that all related persons report all potential transactions or arrangements that could be related person transactions in advance (or otherwise at the earliest possible opportunity) to our general counsel or his designee for review and consideration. The general counsel will determine whether a proposed transaction is a related person transaction, and if he or she determines that a transaction is a related person transaction, he or she will submit such transaction for review and approval to the board of directors or a committee thereof, pursuant to this policy. If a member of the board of directors has an interest in or is involved in a related person transaction, such person will be recused from the voting and discussion on such transaction by the board of directors.

In connection with approving or ratifying a related person transaction, the board of directors or a committee thereof will consider, in light of the relevant facts and circumstances, whether or not the transaction is in, or not inconsistent with, our best interests, including consideration of the following factors, to the extent pertinent:

- the position within or relationship of the related person with us;

Table of Contents

- the materiality of the transaction to the related person and us, including the dollar value of the transaction, without regard to profit or loss and the nature of the related person's interest in the transaction;
- the business purpose for and reasonableness of the transaction (including the anticipated profit or loss from the transaction), taken in the context of the alternatives available to us for attaining the purposes of the transaction;
- whether the transaction is comparable to a transaction that could be available on an arms-length basis or is on terms that we offer generally to persons who are not related persons;
- whether the transaction is in the ordinary course of our business and was proposed and considered in the ordinary course of business; and
- the effect of the transaction on our business and operations, including on our internal control over financial reporting and system of disclosure controls and procedures, and any additional conditions or controls (including reporting and review requirements) that should be applied to such transaction.

In addition, the board of directors or a committee thereof may, from time to time, delegate to the general counsel, the authority to approve certain related person transactions, subject to notification or ratification by the board of directors as determined in its sole discretion.

PRINCIPAL STOCKHOLDERS

Security Ownership

The following table shows information regarding the beneficial ownership of our common stock (1) immediately following the Equity Recapitalization but prior to this offering and (2) as adjusted to give effect to this offering by:

- each person or group who is known by us to own beneficially more than 5% of our common stock;
- each of our named executive officers and each member of our board of directors; and
- all of our named our executive officers and members of our board of directors as a group.

For further information regarding material transactions between us and certain of our selling stockholders, see “Certain Relationships and Related Person Transactions.”

Beneficial ownership of shares is determined under rules of the SEC and generally includes any shares over which a person exercises sole or shared voting or investment power. Except as noted by footnote, and subject to community property laws where applicable, we believe based on the information provided to us that the persons and entities named in the table below have sole voting and/or investment power with respect to all shares of our common stock shown as beneficially owned by them. The shares of Class A common stock, Class S-1 common stock, Class T-1 common stock and Class T-3 common stock carry voting rights as further described in “Description of Capital Stock.” Percentage of beneficial ownership is based on _____ shares of common stock outstanding as of _____, 2015 and _____ shares of common stock outstanding after giving effect to this offering, assuming no exercise of the underwriters’ option to purchase additional shares, or _____ shares of common stock, assuming the underwriters exercise their option to purchase additional shares in full. Shares of common stock subject to options currently exercisable or exercisable within 60 days of the date of this prospectus are deemed to be outstanding and beneficially owned by the person holding the options for the purposes of computing the percentage of beneficial ownership of that person and any group of which that person is a member, but are not deemed outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage of beneficial ownership for any other person. Except as otherwise indicated, the persons named in the table below have sole voting and investment power with respect to all shares of capital stock held by them.

Unless otherwise indicated, the address for each holder listed below is 605 Third Avenue, 33rd Floor, New York, NY 10158. Unless otherwise indicated, the address of each beneficial holder is c/o Univision Holdings, Inc. 605 Third Avenue, 33rd Floor, New York, NY 10158.

DESCRIPTION OF CERTAIN INDEBTEDNESS

Senior Secured Credit Facilities

UCI, along with UPR, as borrowers, are parties to a credit agreement governing our senior secured credit facilities with Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch, as administrative agent, various lenders, and other financial institutions party thereto. As a result of amendments we entered into in February and May 2013, our previously existing revolving credit facilities were refinanced and replaced in full with a revolving credit facility of $550.0 million that will mature on March 1, 2018. Loans under our 2013 revolving credit facility bear interest at a floating rate, which can be either an adjusted LIBOR rate plus an applicable margin (ranging from 275-350 basis points) or, at our option, an alternate base rate (defined as the highest of (x) the Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch prime rate, (y) the federal funds effective rate plus 0.50% per annum and (z) the one-month adjusted LIBOR rate plus 1% plus an applicable margin (ranging from 175-250 basis points)).

As a result of the 2013 amendments, the existing term loans were converted into and/or refinanced with the proceeds of $2,350.0 million new term loans maturing on March 1, 2020 of which approximately $1,250.0 million constituted new or converted incremental term loans (the "2013 incremental loans"). As a result of the amendment we entered into in March 2014, the then-existing term loans (other than the 2013 incremental loans) were converted into and/or refinanced with the proceeds of replacement term loans of approximately $3,376.7 million maturing on March 1, 2020. The 2014 replacement term loans (together with the 2013 incremental loans, the "current term loans") bear interest at a floating rate, which can either be an adjusted LIBOR rate (subject to a floor of 100 basis points) plus an applicable margin of 300 basis points or, at our option, an alternate base rate (as described above) plus an applicable margin of 200 basis points.

The credit agreement governing our senior secured credit facilities also provides that we may increase our existing revolving credit facilities and/or term loans facilities by up to $750.0 million if certain conditions are met. Additionally, we are permitted to further refinance (whether by repayment, conversion or extension) our existing senior secured credit facilities (including the current term loans described above) with certain permitted additional first-lien, second-lien, senior and/or subordinated indebtedness, in each case if certain conditions are met.

Our senior secured credit facilities are secured by, among other things:

- a first priority security interest, subject to permitted liens, in substantially all of the assets of UCI, UPR, Holdings and UCI's material restricted domestic subsidiaries (subject to certain exceptions), including without limitation, all receivables, contracts, contract rights, equipment, intellectual property, inventory and other tangible and intangible assets, but excluding, among other things, cash and cash equivalents, deposit and securities accounts, motor vehicles, FCC licenses to the extent that applicable law or regulation prohibits the grant of a security interest therein, equipment that is subject to restrictions on liens pursuant to purchase money obligations or capital lease obligations, interests in joint ventures and non-wholly owned subsidiaries that cannot be pledged without the consent of a third party, certain trademark applications and receivables subject to our accounts receivable securitization;
- a pledge of (i) the present and future capital stock of each of UCI's, UPR's, and each subsidiary guarantor's direct domestic subsidiaries (other than interests in joint ventures and non-wholly owned subsidiaries that cannot be pledged without the consent of a third party or to the extent a pledge of such capital stock would cause us to be required to file separate financial statements for such subsidiary with the SEC) and (ii) 65% of the voting stock of each of UCI's, UPR's, and each subsidiary guarantor's material direct foreign subsidiaries (other than interests in non-wholly owned subsidiaries that cannot be pledged without the consent of a third party), in each case, subject to certain exceptions; and
- all proceeds and products of the property and assets described above.

The priority of security interests and related creditors' rights are set forth in an intercreditor agreement.

Table of Contents

Our senior secured credit facilities are guaranteed by Holdings and UCI's material, wholly-owned restricted domestic subsidiaries (subject to certain exceptions).

For adjusted LIBOR loans, we may select interest periods of one, two, three or six months or, with the consent of all relevant affected lenders, nine or twelve months. Interest will be payable at the end of the selected interest period, but no less frequently than every three months within the selected interest period.

Our senior secured credit facilities also require payment of a commitment fee on the difference between committed amounts and amounts actually borrowed under the revolving credit facility and customary letter of credit fees. Prior to the applicable maturity date, funds borrowed or utilized under the revolving credit facility may be borrowed, repaid and reborrowed, without premium or penalty.

The current term loans are subject to amortization in equal quarterly installments of principal in an aggregate annual amount equal to 1.0% per annum of the original principal balance of the current term loans, with the remaining balance payable at the relevant date of maturity.

In addition, mandatory prepayments will be required to prepay amounts outstanding under our senior secured credit facilities in an amount equal to:

- 100% (which percentage will be reduced upon the achievement of specified performance targets) of net cash proceeds from certain asset dispositions by us or any of our restricted subsidiaries, subject to certain exceptions, ratable offer provisions and reinvestment provisions;
- 100% of the net cash proceeds from the issuance or incurrence after the closing date of any additional debt by us or any of our restricted subsidiaries (excluding debt permitted under our senior secured credit facilities, other than any indebtedness which serves to refinance or extend indebtedness then outstanding under our senior secured credit facilities, which shall be required to prepay loans (or reduce revolving commitments, as applicable) as set forth in our credit agreement); and
- 50% (which percentage will be reduced upon the achievement of specified performance targets) of excess cash flow, as defined in our senior secured credit facilities.

Voluntary prepayments of principal amounts outstanding under our senior secured credit facilities are permitted at any time; however, if a prepayment of principal is made with respect to an adjusted LIBOR loan on a date other than the last day of the applicable interest period, the lenders will require compensation for any funding losses and expenses incurred as a result of the prepayment.

Our senior secured credit facilities contain certain restrictive covenants which, among other things, limit the incurrence of additional indebtedness, investments, dividends, transactions with affiliates, asset sales, acquisitions, mergers and consolidations, prepayments of other indebtedness, liens and encumbrances and other matters customarily restricted in such agreements. In addition, under the senior secured revolving credit facility, we are required to maintain a first-lien secured leverage ratio as of the end of each fiscal quarter, to the extent that, as of the last day of such fiscal quarter, usage under the senior secured revolving credit facility exceeds 25% of the commitments thereunder. The Issuer and Holdings are not subject to the covenants listed here.

Our senior secured credit facilities contain customary events of default, including without limitation, payment defaults, breaches of representations and warranties, covenant defaults (with special provisions applicable to the financial covenant applicable to the revolving facility), cross-defaults to certain other indebtedness in excess of specified amounts, certain events of bankruptcy and insolvency, judgment defaults in excess of specified amounts, failure of any material provision of any guaranty or security document supporting our senior secured credit facilities to be in full force and effect, and a change of control.

2021 Notes

UCI issued, pursuant to an Indenture, as supplemented from time to time, dated November 23, 2010 among UCI, the guarantors party thereto and Wilmington Trust, National Association, as successor by merger to Wilmington Trust FSB, as trustee, $500.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 8.50% senior notes due 2021 (the “2021 notes”). UCI issued an additional $315.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2021 notes on January 13, 2011. The 2021 notes bear interest at 8.50% and pay interest on May 15th and November 15th of each year.

Maturity . The 2021 notes mature on May 15, 2021.

Guarantee . All of our current and future domestic subsidiaries that guarantee our senior secured credit facilities, the 5.125% senior secured notes due 2025 (the “2025 notes”), the 2023 notes and the 2022 notes guarantee the 2021 notes. The 2021 notes are not guaranteed by Holdings. Each guarantor provides a full and unconditional guarantee of payment of principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the 2021 notes.

Ranking . The 2021 notes and the guarantees are our and the guarantors’ senior unsecured obligations. Accordingly, they:

- rank equal in right of payment with all of our and our guarantors’ existing and future senior debt and other obligations that are not, by their terms, expressly subordinated in right of payment to the 2021 notes;
- rank senior in right of payment to our and our guarantors’ future debt and other obligations that are, by their terms, expressly subordinated in right of payment to the 2021 notes;
- be effectively subordinated in right of payment to all of our and our guarantors’ existing and future senior secured debt and other obligations (including our senior secured credit facilities, the 2025 notes, the 2023 notes and the 2022 notes), to the extent of the value of the collateral securing such indebtedness; and
- are structurally subordinated to all obligations of each of our subsidiaries that is not a guarantor of the 2021 notes.

Mandatory Redemption; Offer to Purchase; Open Market Purchases . We are not required to make any sinking fund payments with respect to the 2021 notes. However, under certain circumstances in the event of an asset sale or, as described under “Change of Control” below, we may be required to offer to purchase the 2021 notes. We may from time to time purchase the 2021 notes in the open market or otherwise.

Optional Redemption . We may redeem some or all of the 2021 notes at any time prior to November 15, 2015 at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of 2021 notes redeemed and an applicable premium as of the date of redemption, plus accrued and unpaid interest to the redemption date. The applicable premium means, with respect to the 2021 notes on any redemption date, the greater of: (a) 1.0% of the principal amount of the 2021 notes on such redemption date; and (b) the excess, if any, of (i) the present value at such redemption date of (A) the redemption price of 2021 notes at November 15, 2015 (such redemption price being set forth in the table below), plus (B) all required interest payments due on the 2021 notes through November 15, 2015 (excluding accrued but unpaid interest to the redemption date) computed using a discount rate equal to the treasury rate as of such redemption date plus 50 basis points; over (ii) the principal amount of 2021 notes on such redemption date.

Table of Contents

On and after November 15, 2015, the 2021 notes may be redeemed, at our option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the applicable redemption prices (expressed as percentages of principal amount of the 2021 notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date, subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date, if redeemed during the twelve-month period beginning on November 15 of each of the years indicated below:

Year	Percentage
2015	104.250%
2016	102.833%
2018 and thereafter	100.000%

In addition, until November 15, 2013, we could have, at our option, redeemed up to 35% of the then outstanding aggregate principal amount of 2021 notes at a redemption price equal to 108.500% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date, subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date, with the net cash proceeds of one or more equity offerings to the extent such net cash proceeds are contributed to us; provided that at least 50% of the sum of the aggregate principal amount of 2021 notes originally issued and any additional 2021 notes issued under the indenture after the original issue date remains outstanding immediately after the occurrence of each such redemption; provided further that each such redemption occurs within 180 days of the date of closing of each such equity offering or sale.

We may provide in such notice that payment of the redemption price and performance of our obligations with respect thereto may be performed by another person.

Change of Control . If we experience a change of control (as defined in the 2021 notes indenture), we must give holders of the 2021 notes the opportunity to sell us their 2021 notes at 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date of purchase.

Covenants . The 2021 notes indenture contains covenants limiting our ability and the ability of our restricted subsidiaries to, among other things:

- incur additional debt or issue certain preferred stock;
- pay dividends or make distributions on our capital stock or redeem, repurchase or retire our capital stock or subordinated debt;
- make certain investments;
- create liens on our or our subsidiary guarantors' assets to secure debt;
- create restrictions on the payment of dividends or other amounts to us from our restricted subsidiaries that are not guarantors of the 2021 notes;
- enter into transactions with affiliates;
- merge or consolidate with another person or sell or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of our assets;
- sell assets, including capital stock of our subsidiaries; and
- designate our subsidiaries as unrestricted subsidiaries.

The Issuer and Holdings are not subject to the covenants listed above.

Table of Contents

Events of Default. The 2021 notes indenture also provides for customary events of default, including, without limitation, payment defaults, covenant defaults, cross-defaults to certain other indebtedness in excess of specified amounts, certain events of bankruptcy and insolvency, judgment defaults in excess of specified amounts and the failure of any guaranty by a significant party to be in full force and effect. If any such event of default occurs, it may permit or require the principal, premium, if any, interest and any other monetary obligations on all the then outstanding 2021 notes issued under the 2021 notes indenture to be due and payable immediately.

2022 Notes

UCI issued, pursuant to an Indenture, as supplemented from time to time, dated August 29, 2012 among UCI, the guarantors party thereto and Wilmington Trust, National Association, as trustee, $625.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2022 notes on August 29, 2012. UCI issued an additional $600.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2022 notes on September 19, 2012. The 2022 notes bear interest at 6.750% and pay interest on March 15th and September 15th of each year, commencing on March 15, 2013. On March 20, 2014, UCI redeemed $117.1 million aggregate principal amount of the 2022 notes at a redemption price equal to 106.750% of the aggregate principal amount of the 2022 notes redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon.

Security. The 2022 notes are secured by a first-priority security interest in the collateral (subject to permitted liens) granted to the collateral agent for the benefit of the holders of the 2022 notes and the trustee for the 2022 notes. These liens are pari passu with certain of the liens securing our senior secured credit facilities, the 2025 notes and the 2023 notes and any liens securing future pari passu obligations. The collateral securing the 2022 notes are substantially all of UCI's and the guarantors' property and assets that secure our senior secured credit facilities. The 2022 notes are not secured by the assets of Holdings, including a pledge of the capital stock of UCI. To the extent the collateral agent for the lenders under our senior secured credit facilities releases any liens on any collateral, subject to limited exceptions, the liens on such collateral securing the obligations under the 2022 notes and its guarantees will also be released.

Guarantee. All of our current and future domestic subsidiaries that guarantee our senior secured credit facilities, the 2025 notes, the 2023 notes and the 2021 notes guarantee the 2022 notes. The 2022 notes are not guaranteed by Holdings. Each guarantor provides a full and unconditional guarantee of payment of principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the 2022 notes.

Ranking. The 2022 notes and the guarantees are our and the guarantors' senior obligations. Accordingly, they:

- are secured by a first-priority security interest, subject to permitted liens, in the collateral granted to the collateral agent for the benefit of the holders of the 2022 notes, which liens are pari passu (subject to intervening liens) with certain of the liens securing our senior secured credit facilities, the 2023 notes and the 2025 notes;
- rank equal in right of payment with all of our and our guarantors' existing and future senior debt (including our senior secured credit facilities, the 2025 notes, the 2023 notes and the 2021 notes) and other obligations that are not, by their terms, expressly subordinated in right of payment to the 2022 notes;
- rank senior in right of payment to our and our guarantors' future debt and other obligations that are, by their terms, expressly subordinated in right of payment to the 2022 notes;
- are effectively equal in right of payment with all of our and our guarantors' existing and future secured debt and other obligations (including our senior secured credit facilities the 2025 notes, the 2023 notes and the 2021 notes) (subject to intervening liens) that are secured on a pari passu basis by the collateral to the extent of the value of the collateral securing the 2022 notes and such indebtedness;

- are effectively senior in right of payment to all of our and our guarantors' existing and future unsecured debt and other obligations (including the 2021 notes) (subject to intervening liens) to the extent of the value of the collateral securing the 2022 notes;
- are structurally subordinated to all obligations of each of our subsidiaries that is not a guarantor of the 2022 notes; and
- are effectively subordinated in right of payment to all of our and our guarantors' secured debt and other secured obligations to the extent of the collateral securing such indebtedness which is not also secured by the 2022 notes (including liens that secure our senior secured credit facilities but which do not secure the 2022 notes).

Mandatory Redemption; Offer to Purchase; Open Market Purchases. We are not required to make any sinking fund payments with respect to the 2022 notes. However, under certain circumstances in the event of an asset sale or, as described under "Change of Control" below, we may be required to offer to purchase 2022 notes. We may from time to time purchase 2022 notes in the open market or otherwise.

Optional Redemption. We may redeem some or all of the 2022 notes at any time prior to September 15, 2017 at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of 2022 notes redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest to the redemption date and premium equal to the greater of (i) 1.0% of the principal amount of the 2022 notes redeemed on the redemption date and (ii) the excess, if any, of (a) the present value at the redemption date, of the redemption price of such 2022 notes at September 15, 2017 (such redemption price being set forth in the table appearing below) and all required interest payments due on such 2022 notes through September 15, 2015 (excluding accrued but unpaid interest to the redemption date) computed using a discount rate equal to the treasury rate as of the redemption date plus 50 basis points, over (b) the principal amount of such 2022 notes on the redemption date, and without duplication, accrued and unpaid interest on to the redemption date.

On and after September 15, 2017, the 2022 notes may be redeemed, at our option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the redemption prices set forth below. The 2022 notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as percentages of principal amount of the 2022 notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date, subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date, if redeemed during the twelve-month period beginning on September 15 of each of the years indicated below:

Year Percentage
2018	102.250%
2019	101.125%
2020 and thereafter	100.000%

In addition, until September 15, 2015, we may, at our option, redeem up to 40% of the then outstanding aggregate principal amount of 2022 notes at a redemption price equal to 106.750% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date, subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date, with the net cash proceeds of one or more equity offerings to the extent such net cash proceeds are contributed to us; provided that at least 50% of the sum of the aggregate principal amount of 2022 notes originally issued and any additional 2022 notes issued under the indenture after the original issue date remains outstanding immediately after the occurrence of each such redemption; provided further that each such redemption occurs within 180 days of the date of closing of each such equity offering or sale.

Table of Contents

We may provide in such notice that payment of the redemption price and performance of our obligations with respect thereto may be performed by another person.

Change of Control . If we experience a change of control (as defined in the 2022 notes indenture), we must give holders of the 2022 notes the opportunity to sell us their 2022 notes at 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date of purchase.

Covenants . The 2022 notes indenture contains covenants limiting our ability and the ability of our restricted subsidiaries to, among other things:

- incur additional debt or issue certain preferred stock;
- pay dividends or make distributions on our capital stock or redeem, repurchase or retire our capital stock or subordinated debt;
- make certain investments;
- create liens on our or our subsidiary guarantors' assets to secure debt;
- create restrictions on the payment of dividends or other amounts to us from our restricted subsidiaries that are not guarantors of the 2022 notes;
- enter into transactions with affiliates;
- merge or consolidate with another person or sell or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of our assets;
- sell assets, including capital stock of our subsidiaries; and
- designate our subsidiaries as unrestricted subsidiaries.

The Issuer and Holdings are not subject to the covenants listed above.

Events of Default . The 2022 notes indenture also provides for customary events of default, including, without limitation, payment defaults, covenant defaults, cross-defaults to certain other indebtedness in excess of specified amounts, certain events of bankruptcy and insolvency, judgment defaults in excess of specified amounts and the failure of any guaranty by a significant party to be in full force and effect. If any such event of default occurs, it may permit or require the principal, premium, if any, interest and any other monetary obligations on all the then outstanding 2022 notes issued under the 2022 notes indenture to be due and payable immediately.

2023 Notes

UCI issued, pursuant to an Indenture, as supplemented from time to time, dated May 21, 2013 among UCI, the guarantors party thereto and Wilmington Trust, National Association, as trustee, $700.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2023 notes on May 21, 2013. UCI issued an additional $500.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2023 notes on February 19, 2015 (the "additional 2023 notes"). The 2023 notes bear interest at 5.125% and pay interest on May 15th and November 15th of each year, commencing on May 15, 2015 for the additional notes.

Security. The 2023 notes are secured by a first-priority security interest in the collateral (subject to permitted liens) granted to the collateral agent for the benefit of the holders of the 2023 notes and the trustee for the 2023 notes. These liens are pari passu with certain of the liens securing our senior secured credit facilities, the 2025 notes and the 2022 notes and any liens securing future pari passu obligations. The collateral securing the 2023 notes is substantially all of UCI's and the guarantors' property and assets that secure our senior secured credit facilities. The 2023 notes are not secured by the assets of Holdings, including a pledge of the capital stock of UCI. To the extent the collateral agent for the lenders under our senior secured credit facilities releases any liens on any collateral, subject to limited exceptions, the liens on such collateral securing the obligations under the 2023 notes and its guarantees will also be released.

- are effectively subordinated in right of payment to all of our and our guarantors' secured debt and other secured obligations to the extent of the collateral securing such indebtedness which is not also secured by the 2023 notes (including liens that secure our senior secured credit facilities but which do not secure the 2023 notes).

Mandatory Redemption; Offer to Purchase; Open Market Purchases. We are not required to make any sinking fund payments with respect to the 2023 notes. However, under certain circumstances in the event of an asset sale or, as described under "Change of Control" below, we may be required to offer to purchase 2023 notes. We may from time to time purchase 2023 notes in the open market or otherwise.

Optional Redemption. We may redeem some or all of the 2023 notes at any time prior to May 15, 2018 at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of 2023 notes redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest to the redemption date and premium equal to the greater of (i) 1.0% of the principal amount of the 2023 notes redeemed on the redemption date and (ii) the excess, if any, of (a) the present value at the redemption date, of the redemption price of such 2023 notes at May 15, 2018 (such redemption price being set forth in the table appearing below) and all required interest payments due on such 2023 notes through May 15, 2018 (excluding accrued but unpaid interest to the redemption date) computed using a discount rate equal to the treasury rate as of the redemption date plus 50 basis points, over (b) the principal amount of such 2023 notes on the redemption date, and without duplication, accrued and unpaid interest on to the redemption date.

On and after May 15, 2018, the 2023 notes may be redeemed, at our option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the redemption prices set forth below. The 2023 notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as percentages of principal amount of the 2023 notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date, subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date, if redeemed during the twelve-month period beginning on September 15 of each of the years indicated below:

specified amounts, certain events of bankruptcy and insolvency, judgment defaults in excess of specified amounts and the failure of any guaranty by a significant party to be in full force and effect. If any such event of default occurs, it may permit or require the principal, premium, if any, interest and any other monetary obligations on all the then outstanding 2023 notes issued under the 2023 notes indenture to be due and payable immediately.

2025 Notes

UCI issued, pursuant to an Indenture, as supplemented from time to time, dated February 19, 2015 among UCI, the guarantors party thereto and Wilmington Trust, National Association, as trustee, $750.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2025 notes on February 19, 2015. UCI issued an additional $810.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2025 notes on April 13, 2015. The 2025 notes bear interest at 5.125% and pay interest on February 15th and August 15th of each year, commencing on August 15, 2015.

Security. The 2025 notes are secured by a first-priority security interest in the collateral (subject to permitted liens) granted to the collateral agent for the benefit of the holders of the 2025 notes and the trustee for the 2025 notes. These liens are pari passu with certain of the liens securing our senior secured credit facilities, the 2023 notes and the 2022 notes and any liens securing future pari passu obligations. The collateral securing the 2025 notes is substantially all of UCI's and the guarantors' property and assets that secure our senior secured credit facilities. The 2025 notes are not secured by the assets of Holdings, including a pledge of the capital stock of UCI. To the extent the collateral agent for the lenders under our senior secured credit facilities releases any liens on any collateral, subject to limited exceptions, the liens on such collateral securing the obligations under the 2025 notes and its guarantees will also be released.

Maturity. The 2025 notes mature on February 15, 2025

Guarantee. All of our current and future domestic subsidiaries that guarantee our senior secured credit facilities, the 2023 notes, the 2022 notes and the 2021 notes guarantee the 2025 notes. The 2025 notes are not guaranteed by Holdings. Each guarantor provides a full and unconditional guarantee of payment of principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the 2025 notes.

Ranking. The 2025 notes and the guarantees are our and the guarantors' senior obligations. Accordingly, they:

- are secured by a first-priority security interest, subject to permitted liens, in the collateral granted to the collateral agent for the benefit of the holders of the 2025 notes, which liens are pari passu (subject to intervening liens) with certain of the liens securing our senior secured credit facilities, the 2022 notes and the 2023 notes;
- rank equal in right of payment with all of our and our guarantors' existing and future senior debt (including our senior secured credit facilities, the 2023 notes, the 2022 notes, the 2021 notes and other obligations that are not, by their terms, expressly subordinated in right of payment to the 2025 notes);
- rank senior in right of payment to our and our guarantors' future debt and other obligations that are, by their terms, expressly subordinated in right of payment to the 2025 notes;
- are effectively equal in right of payment with all of our and our guarantors' existing and future secured debt and other obligations (including our senior secured credit facilities the 2023 notes, the 2022 notes and the 2021 notes) (subject to intervening liens) that are secured on a pari passu basis by the collateral to the extent of the value of the collateral securing the 2025 notes and such indebtedness;
- are effectively senior in right of payment to all of our and our guarantors' existing and future unsecured debt and other obligations (including the 2021 notes) (subject to intervening liens) to the extent of the value of the collateral securing the 2025 notes;

- are structurally subordinated to all obligations of each of our subsidiaries that is not a guarantor of the 2025 notes; and
- are effectively subordinated in right of payment to all of our and our guarantors' secured debt and other secured obligations to the extent of the collateral securing such indebtedness which is not also secured by the 2025 notes (including liens that secure our senior secured credit facilities but which do not secure the 2025 notes).

Mandatory Redemption; Offer to Purchase; Open Market Purchases. We are not required to make any sinking fund payments with respect to the 2025 notes. However, under certain circumstances in the event of an asset sale or, as described under "Change of Control" below, we may be required to offer to purchase 2023 notes. We may from time to time purchase 2023 notes in the open market or otherwise.

Optional Redemption. We may redeem some or all of the 2025 notes at any time prior to February 15, 2020 at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of 2025 notes redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest to the redemption date and premium equal to the greater of (i) 1.0% of the principal amount of the 2025 notes redeemed on the redemption date and (ii) the excess, if any, of (a) the present value at the redemption date, of the redemption price of such 2025 notes at February 15, 2020 (such redemption price being set forth in the table appearing below) and all required interest payments due on such 2025 notes through February 15, 2020 (excluding accrued but unpaid interest to the redemption date) computed using a discount rate equal to the treasury rate as of the redemption date plus 50 basis points, over (b) the principal amount of such 2025 notes on the redemption date, and without duplication, accrued and unpaid interest on to the redemption date.

On and after February 15, 2020, the 2025 notes may be redeemed, at our option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the redemption prices set forth below. The 2025 notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as percentages of principal amount of the 2025 notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date, subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date, if redeemed during the twelve-month period beginning on February 15 of each of the years indicated below:

Year Percentage

2021	101.708%
2023 and thereafter	100.000%

In addition, until February 15, 2018, we may, at our option, redeem up to 40% of the then outstanding aggregate principal amount of 2025 notes at a redemption price equal to 105.125% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date, subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date, with the net cash proceeds of one or more equity offerings to the extent such net cash proceeds are contributed to us; provided that at least 50% of the sum of the aggregate principal amount of 2025 notes originally issued and any additional 2025 notes issued under the indenture after the original issue date remains outstanding immediately after the occurrence of each such redemption; provided further that each such redemption occurs within 180 days of the date of closing of each such equity offering or sale.

We may provide in such notice that payment of the redemption price and performance of our obligations with respect thereto may be performed by another person.

Change of Control. If we experience a change of control (as defined in the 2025 notes indenture), we must give holders of the 2025 notes the opportunity to sell us their 2025 notes at 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date of purchase.

Table of Contents

Covenants. The 2025 notes indenture contains covenants limiting our ability and the ability of our restricted subsidiaries to, among other things:

- incur additional debt or issue certain preferred stock;
- pay dividends or make distributions on our capital stock or redeem, repurchase or retire our capital stock or subordinated debt;
- make certain investments;
- create liens on our or our subsidiary guarantors' assets to secure debt;
- create restrictions on the payment of dividends or other amounts to us from our restricted subsidiaries that are not guarantors of the 2025 notes;
- enter into transactions with affiliates;
- merge or consolidate with another person or sell or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of our assets;
- sell assets, including capital stock of our subsidiaries; and
- designate our subsidiaries as unrestricted subsidiaries.

The Issuer and Holdings are not subject to the covenants listed above.

Events of Default. The 2025 notes indenture also provides for customary events of default, including, without limitation, payment defaults, covenant defaults, cross-defaults to certain other indebtedness in excess of specified amounts, certain events of bankruptcy and insolvency, judgment defaults in excess of specified amounts and the failure of any guaranty by a significant party to be in full force and effect. If any such event of default occurs, it may permit or require the principal, premium, if any, interest and any other monetary obligations on all the then outstanding 2025 notes issued under the 2025 notes indenture to be due and payable immediately.

Convertible Debenture

The convertible debentures are 15 year debentures maturing December 31, 2025, totaling $1,125.0 million in aggregate principal amount. Interest on the debentures accrues at a fixed rate of 1.5% per annum and is payable quarterly in arrears in cash. The Issuer's obligation to pay interest under the debentures is supported by a letter of credit, as required by the terms of the debentures, as more fully described below. In connection with Televisa's investment in the Issuer, the Issuer issued these debentures, which are convertible into 4,858,485 shares (subject to adjustment as provided in the debentures) of Class C common stock (or, in certain circumstances, Class A or Class D common stock or warrants convertible into Class A, Class C or Class D common stock, as applicable, of the Issuer) (which represents 30% of the equity interests of the Issuer on a fully-diluted, as-converted basis). The debentures are held by an affiliate of Televisa, by BMPI Services II, LLC and by BMPI Services IV, LLC and, in each case, their successors and permitted assigns.

Conversion of the debentures is subject to applicable laws and regulations and certain contractual limitations. Generally, the holder of the debentures may convert the debentures, subject to certain limitations, as follows:

- at any time after December 20, 2011, provided that if such holder is a Non-U.S. Holder (as defined in the debentures) that is not a Televisa Investor (as defined in the debentures), such holder must transfer the shares received upon conversion to a third party who is a U.S. Person (as defined in the debentures) within two business days of such conversion;
- at any time if such conversion would not cause Televisa to exceed the ownership caps set forth in the Amended and Restated Stockholders' Agreement dated as of December 20, 2010 by and among the Issuer, Holdings, UCI and certain stockholders of the Issuer (the "Stockholders Agreement") or the shares resulting from the conversion are sold to a U.S. Person other than a Televisa Investor;

Table of Contents

- into warrants exercisable for shares of Class A, Class C or Class D, as applicable, common stock at any time, if (a) a Televisa Investor notifies the Issuer that holding debentures instead of warrants would have a significant negative economic or regulatory impact on Televisa and (b) the board of directors of the Issuer determines that Televisa's ownership of warrants would be permitted under applicable laws (including FCC foreign ownership restrictions) and would not impact the FCC's approval of a change of control transaction;
- into warrants on the second business day prior to the Issuer's redemption of the debentures; and
- at any time after the 60th day prior to the maturity date of December 31, 2025.

The holders of the debentures receive certain anti-dilution protections, including an adjustment of the conversion price in the event of a stock split, dividend, recapitalization or reclassification of certain classes of the Issuer's stock and certain distributions made in respect of certain classes of the Issuer's stock. Additionally the Issuer is subject to certain restrictive covenants preventing it from taking certain actions, including without limitation, issuing preferred stock and entering into certain business combinations. The Issuer is also subject to certain information reporting requirements.

In certain circumstances, the Issuer is required to pay a make-whole payment to the holders of the debentures in an amount equal to the present value of all required interest payments payable through the maturity date. These circumstances include, but are not limited to (i) an acceleration of all payments due under the debentures due to the existence of an event of default, (ii) our exercise of our right to redeem the debentures on or after December 31, 2024 and prior to maturity or after a change of control (or Televisa's exercise of its right to convert the debentures prior to such redemption), and (iii) in the event of a change of control of the Issuer in which Televisa rolls its interest into ownership interests in the acquiring entity, and the receipt of such ownership interests would cause Televisa to exceed the ownership caps set forth in the Stockholders' Agreement. The fair value of the Issuer's make-whole obligation was estimated by management and was determined to be immaterial.

In connection with the debentures, on December 20, 2010, the Issuer entered into an agreement with Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas ("Deutsche Bank") relating to the issuance of standby letters of credit. Under that agreement, Deutsche Bank agreed to issue a letter of credit with an initial face amount of $90.0 million to support the payment of the Issuer's interest obligations under the debentures. The letter of credit may only be drawn by the holders of the debentures under limited circumstances, including a payment event of default or bankruptcy event of default under the debentures. The Issuer's payment obligations under the letter of credit are fully cash collateralized by $92.7 million held in an interest-bearing account which is reflected as restricted cash on our balance sheet as of March 31, 2015. The Issuer's agreement with Deutsche Bank contains certain restrictions on the activities of the Issuer, including making certain modifications to the debentures and engaging in material business activities or having material liabilities other than those associated with its ownership of its subsidiaries and obligations in respect of the letter of credit documents and the Televisa transaction documents.

On July 1, 2015, we entered into the MOU, in which it was agreed that, prior to the consummation of this offering, Televisa's convertible debentures would be exchanged for the Televisa Warrants.

Accounts Receivable Sale Facility

On June 28, 2013, we entered into an amendment to the accounts receivable sale facility, which, among other things, (i) extended the maturity date of the accounts receivable sale facility to June 28, 2018 (or, if earlier, the ninetieth (90th) day prior to the scheduled maturity of any indebtedness in an aggregate principal amount greater than or equal to $250,000,000 outstanding under our senior secured credit facilities, (ii) increased the borrowing capacity under the accounts receivable sale facility by $100.0 million, to $400.0 million, (iii) reduced the term component of the accounts receivable sale facility to $100.0 million and increased the borrowing capacity under the revolving component to $300.0 million, subject to the availability of qualifying receivables, (iv) lowered the interest rate on the borrowings under the accounts receivable sale facility to a LIBOR rate (without a floor) plus a margin of 2.25% per annum and (v) lowered the commitment fee on the unused portion of the accounts receivable sale facility to 0.50% per annum. Interest is paid monthly on the accounts receivable sale facility.

Under the terms of the accounts receivable sale facility, certain of our subsidiaries sell accounts receivable on a true sale and non-recourse basis to their respective wholly-owned special purpose subsidiaries, and these special purpose subsidiaries in turn sell such accounts receivable to Univision Receivables Co., LLC, a bankruptcy-remote subsidiary in which Univision Holdings, Inc. and certain special purpose subsidiaries, each holds a 50% voting interest (the “Receivables Entity”). Thereafter, the Receivables Entity sells to investors, on a revolving non-recourse basis, senior undivided interests in such accounts receivable pursuant to the receivables purchase agreement relating to the receivables sale facility (the “Receivables Purchase Agreement”). UCI (through certain special purpose subsidiaries) holds a 100% economic interest in the Receivables Entity. The assets of the special purpose entities and the Receivables Entity are not available to satisfy the obligations of Univision or its other subsidiaries.

The accounts receivable sale facility is comprised of a $100.0 million term component and a $300.0 million revolving component subject to the availability of qualifying receivables. In addition, the Receivables Entity is obligated to pay a commitment fee to the purchasers, such fee to be calculated based on the unused portion of the accounts receivable sale facility. The Receivables Purchase Agreement contains customary default and termination provisions, which provide for the early termination of the accounts receivable sale facility upon the occurrence of certain specified events including, but not limited to, failure by the Receivables Entity to pay amounts due, defaults on certain indebtedness, change in control, bankruptcy and insolvency events. The Receivables Entity is consolidated in our consolidated financial statements.

DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STOCK

The following is a description of the material terms of our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, amended and restated bylaws, the PIA, the Stockholders Agreement and the PRRCA as they will be in effect at the time of the consummation of this offering and which implement certain changes thereto reflected in the MOU. We refer you to our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, amended and restated bylaws, the PIA, the Stockholders Agreement and the PRRCA, copies of which will be filed as exhibits to the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part.

Authorized Capitalization

Our authorized capital stock shall consist of:

- shares of Class A common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which shares are issued and outstanding;
- shares of Class S-1 common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which shares are issued and outstanding;
- shares of Class S-2 common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which shares are issued and outstanding;
- shares of Class T-1 common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which shares are issued and outstanding;
- shares of Class T-2 common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which shares are issued and outstanding;
- one share of Class T-3 common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which one share is issued and outstanding; and
- shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which no shares are issued and outstanding.

All outstanding shares are, and all shares of Class A common stock offered by this prospectus will be, when sold, validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable.

Common Stock

Holders of our common stock are entitled to the following rights.

Voting Rights

Holders of Class A common stock, Class S-1 common stock, Class T-1 common stock and Class T-3 common stock have all voting powers and voting rights. Class S-2 common stock and Class T-2 common stock do not have any voting power or voting rights other than as required by applicable law.

Holders of Class A common stock, Class S-1 common stock and Class T-1 common stock shall be entitled to one vote per share, provided that pursuant to our amended and restated certificate of incorporation the voting rights of Class A common stock held by non-U.S. persons (other than Televisa and the Investors) will be automatically eliminated or suspended (in whole or in part) in order to maintain our compliance with federal communications laws. Under the Current FCC Foreign Ownership Cap, because the Class T-1 and Class T-3 common stock will collectively be entitled to at least 22% of the outstanding voting power of the Company, as further described below, and some portion of the Class S-1 common stock may be deemed to be held by non-U.S. persons, the voting rights of the Class A common stock held by such non-U.S. persons are highly likely to be entirely or almost entirely eliminated or suspended in order to comply with the federal communications laws. For information on actions that our board of directors may take to maintain the Company's compliance with federal communications laws, see "Description of Capital Stock — Federal Communications Laws Restrictions."

Table of Contents

Except as (i) required by law and (ii) for the election of certain directors (as discussed below under “Election of Directors”), the Class A common stock, Class S-1 common stock, Class T-1 common stock and Class T-3 common stock shall vote together as a single class.

The Class T-3 common stock provides its holder with special voting rights that, in the absence of a significant increase in the Current FCC Foreign Ownership Cap, will result in Televisa’s voting power being significantly greater than its ownership percentage of our outstanding common stock. Such voting power will be equal to (a) (1) the FCC foreign percentage ownership limitation on voting capital stock of corporations that own broadcast licensees that may be held by non-U.S. persons (as amended or modified from time to time, the “FCC Voting Cap”) or (2) if higher than the percentage referred to in clause (1), any FCC Voting Cap adopted by the FCC and applicable to Televisa less (b) the percentage of our voting common stock held by the Investors, Glade Brook and certain bank investors that is attributable to non-U.S. persons for FCC purposes at such time (but in no event greater than 3%) less (c) the percentage of our voting common stock (other than Class T-3 common stock) held by Televisa. As our common stock held by the Investors, Glade Brook and certain bank investors that is attributable to non-U.S. persons for FCC purposes is sold to third parties, Televisa’s voting power will increase on a share-for-share basis. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Televisa’s voting power provided by the Class T-3 common stock may not result in Televisa’s percentage of the voting power of our common stock exceeding (x) Televisa’s percentage ownership of our common stock (assuming, for this purpose, that Televisa has exercised all of its warrants for our common stock) or (y) the then applicable FCC aggregate percentage limitation on voting power of corporations that own broadcast licensees that may be held by non-U.S. persons that may be adopted by the FCC and applicable to Televisa. The Class T-3 common stock shall convert into one share of T-1 common stock at such time as Televisa holds its entire equity interest (including being allowed to convert its warrants) in the form of Class T-1 common stock and/or Class T-2 common stock.

Directors will be elected by a plurality of the votes present in person or represented by proxy at a stockholders’ meeting and entitled to be cast with respect to a particular director as set forth below and pursuant to the PIA. Except as required by law, all matters to be voted on by our stockholders (other than matters relating to the election and removal of directors to be elected exclusively by the holders of Class S-1 common stock and Class T-1 common stock, as described below) must be approved by a majority of the shares present in person or by proxy at the meeting and entitled to vote on the subject matter with each share (other than Class T-3 common stock) entitled to one vote and Class T-3 common stock entitled to the number of votes described above or by a written resolution of the stockholders representing the number of affirmative votes required for such matter at a meeting.

Election of Directors

Our board of directors shall initially consist of 22 members or such other number as shall be fixed in accordance with our bylaws and the PIA. Upon the consummation of this offering, our board of directors shall be comprised of 14 directors appointed by holders of our Class S-1 common stock, four directors appointed by holders of our Class T-1 common stock, our chief executive officer and three independent directors (see “Director Designation Rights” below). Our board of directors shall be reduced to 11 members or such other number as shall be fixed in accordance with our bylaws and the PIA upon the earliest of (i) the transfer by the Investors of at least 95% of our common stock held collectively by the Investors on the Calculation Date (the “Principal Investor 95% Sell-Down”), (ii) 36 months after the transfer by the Investors of at least 85% of our common stock held collectively by the Investors on the Calculation Date and (iii) any time after the transfer by the Investors of at least 85% of our common stock held collectively by the Investors on the Calculation Date if at such time our remaining common stock then held by the Investors is not held by (A) at least three of the Investors who each hold at least 15% of the collective remaining interest of the Investors in our common stock, or (B) if the Saban Capital Group continues to hold more than a de minimis amount of our common stock at such time, at least two of the Investors who each hold at least 15% of the collective remaining interest of the Investors in our common stock (the earliest of clauses (i), (ii) and (iii), the “Investor Exit”).

Election of Directors – Prior to an Investor Exit

Prior to an Investor Exit, the holders of our Class S-1 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect 14 directors to our board of directors (collectively, the “Class S Directors”), provided that, following an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval, the holders of our Class S-1 common stock shall not have the right to elect any of our directors. After an Investor Exit and prior to receipt of a TOC Approval, the number of directors will be reduced and elected as set forth below under “Election of Directors – After an Investor Exit, but Prior to Receipt of a TOC Approval.” The holders of our Class S-1 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall have the right to remove any Class S Director with or without cause. Prior to an Investor Exit, any vacancy in the office of a Class S director shall be filled solely by the holders of our Class S-1 common stock, voting as a separate class. The 14 Class S Directors will be designated by the Investors as described below in “Director Designation Rights.”

Prior to an Investor Exit, the holders of our Class T-1 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect four directors to our board of directors (collectively, the “Class T Directors”). The holders of our Class T-1 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall have the right to (i) remove any Class T Director with or without cause and (ii) fill any vacancy in the office of a Class T director. Televisa shall lose its right to appoint one or more directors to our board of directors upon certain voluntary transfers of our common stock as described below in “Director Designation Rights.”

Prior to an Investor Exit, the holders of our Class S-1 common stock and Class T-1 common stock, voting together as a single class, shall be entitled to elect one director who shall be our chief executive officer (the “CEO Director”). The holders of our Class S-1 common stock and Class T-1 common stock shall have the right, voting together as a single class, (a) to remove the CEO Director in the event that such individual is no longer our chief executive officer and (b) fill any vacancy in the office of the CEO Director.

The holders of our Class S-1 common stock, Class T-1 common stock and Class T-3 common stock, voting together as a single class, shall be entitled to elect one director (the “GB Director”) who shall be designated by Glade Brook, provided that (i) this right (the “GB Designation Right”) shall expire if Glade Brook transfers any of our shares to a person other than an affiliate of Glade Brook and (ii) the GB Director must meet the NYSE or Nasdaq standard for independence, as applicable (the “Independence Standard”). Upon the termination or expiration of the GB Designation Right, the GB Director shall be re-designated as an Independent Director (as defined below) and the holders of our Class A common stock, Class S-1 common stock, Class T-1 common stock and Class T-3 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall be entitled to fill this board seat and shall not be required to elect a Glade Brook designee. Unless the position of the GB Director has been re-designated as a position for an Independent Director, the holders of our Class S-1 common stock and Class T-1 common stock shall have the right, voting together as a single class, to fill any vacancy in the office of the GB Director.

Prior to an Investor Exit, the holders of our Class A common stock, Class S-1 common stock, Class T-1 common stock and Class T-3 common stock, voting together as a single class, shall be entitled to elect the number of directors equal to the then authorized number of directors constituting our board of directors less the total numbers of director that the holders of our Class S-1 common stock and Class T-1 common stock are entitled to elect (whether as a separate class or together as a single class) at such time, as discussed above (the “Independent Directors”). At the time of this offering, holders of our Class A common stock, Class S-1 common stock, Class T-1 common stock and Class T-3 common stock, voting as a single class, shall be entitled to elect two directors to our board of directors. Prior to an Investor Exit, each individual elected as an Independent Director (including as a result of a re-designation of the GB Director position) shall (i) meet the Independence Standard and be recommended by a unanimous vote of our nominating committee, provided that if a candidate for an Independent Director position is not approved by our nominating committee on one of the first three votes for such position then the next candidate for such position will be recommended by a majority vote of the nominating committee. Upon the approval of the nominating committee, each Independent Director candidate will be presented to our board of directors and must be approved by the majority vote of our board of directors.

Table of Contents

The holders of our Class A common stock, Class S-1 common stock, Class T-1 common stock and Class T-3 common stock, voting as a single class, shall have the right to (a) remove an Independent Director with or without cause and (b) fill any vacancy in the office of an Independent Director or any newly created directorship.

Election of Directors – After an Investor Exit, but Prior to Receipt of a TOC Approval

Our board of directors shall be fixed at 11 directors after an Investor Exit, but prior to receipt of a TOC Approval, the holders of our Class S-1 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect six directors to our board of directors (collectively, the “Investor Exit Investor Directors”), provided that five of such directors must be independent of the Company, the Investors and any stockholder holding more than 15% of our common or voting stock in accordance with the Independence Standard. Each Investor shall have the right to appoint one of the Investor Exit Investor Directors and the remaining Investor Exit Investor Directors shall be selected by the Majority Principal Investors (see “Director Designation Rights”). The holders of our Class S-1 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall have the right to remove any Investor Exit Investor Directors with or without cause. Prior to both an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval, any vacancy in the office of an Investor Exit Investor Director shall be filled solely by the holders of our Class S-1 common stock, voting as a separate class. Following an Investor Exit and a TOC Approval, the holders of our Class S-1 common stock shall not have the right to elect any of our directors.

Following an Investor Exit, but prior to receipt of a TOC Approval, the holders of our Class T-1 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect three directors (the “Investor Exit Televisa Directors”), provided that (a) upon a Televisa Sell-Down, Televisa’s minimum number of board designees shall be reduced from three to two and (b) upon the voluntary the transfer by Televisa of at least 80% of the shares of our common stock (including shares issuable upon conversion of our convertible securities) held by Televisa on the Calculation Date (“Televisa 80% Sell-Down”), Televisa shall lose all rights to designate directors to our board of directors. The holders of our Class T-1 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall have the right to (i) remove any Investor Exit Televisa Directors with or without cause and (ii) fill any vacancy in the office of an Investor Exit Televisa Director.

The remaining board seats shall be filled by (i) the CEO Director elected as described above in “Election of Directors – Prior to an Investor Exit” and (ii) an independent director who shall meet the Independence Standard and will be recommended for nomination, nominated and elected in the same manner as the Independent Directors (the “Pre-TOC Approval Independent Director”).

In the event that an Investor Exit is triggered pursuant to clause (iii) of the definition of an Investor Exit, the changes to our board of directors described in this section will not occur immediately and instead shall occur upon a date determined by the Investors, provided that such date must be no later than one year from the date of such event.

Election of Directors – Upon the Occurrence of Both an Investor Exit and Receipt of a TOC Approval

Our board of directors shall be fixed at 11 directors upon the occurrence of both an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval. Following the occurrence of both an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval, the holders of our Class T-1 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect that number of directors equal to the greater of (i) three and (ii) such number of directors that would represent a percentage of our entire board of directors equivalent to Televisa’s percentage ownership of our outstanding voting common stock at such time (the “Post-TOC Approval Televisa Directors”), provided that (a) upon a Televisa Sell-Down, Televisa’s minimum number of board designees shall be reduced from three to two and (b) upon a Televisa 80% Sell-Down, Televisa shall lose its rights to designate directors to our board of directors. The holders of our Class T-1 common stock, voting as a separate class, shall have the right to (i) remove any Post-TOC Approval Televisa Directors with or without cause and (ii) fill any vacancy in the office of a Post-TOC Approval Televisa Director.

The board seats that the holders of our Class T-1 common stock do not have the right to designate shall be filled by (i) the CEO Director and (ii) independent directors that meet the Independence Standard (the “Post-Investor Exit Independent Directors”). The Post-Investor Exit Independent Directors shall be elected by a vote of the holders of our Class A common stock, Class T-1 common stock and Class T-3 common stock, voting as a single class. The Post-Investor Exit Independent Directors shall be recommended for nomination by majority approval of all of the members of our nominating committee and, until a Televisa Sell-Down, nominated by the unanimous approval of all of the members of our board of directors. Following the occurrence of both an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval, our nominating committee shall be comprised of three independent directors, one of whom shall be a director designated by directors elected by the separate class vote of the Class T-1 common stock.

Following the occurrence of both an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval, all shareholder action shall be taken at a meeting called for such purpose, and not by the written consent of the shareholders. In all cases, a restricted person (as defined in our Stockholders Agreement) shall not serve on our board of directors until the transfer by the Investors of at least 98% of our common stock held collectively by the Investors on the Calculation Date.

Dividend Rights

Holders of our Class A, Class S and Class T common stock will share, on a pro rata basis, in any dividend declared by our board of directors, subject to the rights of the holders of any outstanding preferred stock, the approval rights in the PIA and our amended and restated certificate of incorporation described below.

Stock Split, Reverse Stock Splits, Stock Dividends and Stock Buybacks

In the event of a subdivision, increase or combination in any manner (by stock split, reverse stock split, stock dividend or other similar manner) of the outstanding shares of any one class of common stock, the outstanding shares of the other classes of common stock will be adjusted proportionally, subject to the approval rights in our amended and restated certificate of incorporation described below.

In the event the Company effects any buybacks of shares and the buyback results in Televisa’s ownership of our common stock exceeding any FCC ownership limit or FCC Individual Cap applicable to Televisa, Televisa’s equity interests in excess of such limitation shall be held as non-voting common stock (to the maximum extent such limitation permits) and the balance shall be held as warrants.

If as a result of a buyback of our shares, Televisa’s fully converted equity interest in the Company exceeds the Maximum Capital Percentage then Televisa’s equity interests in excess of the Maximum Capital Percentage shall be held by Televisa, at our election, as non-voting common stock and/or warrants.

Conversion Rights

Optional Conversions . Each outstanding share of Class S-1 common stock may, at the option of the holder thereof, be converted at any time into one share of Class S-2 common stock, and subject to stock ownership limits on non-U.S. persons under the federal communications laws and our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, each outstanding share of Class S-2 common stock may, at the option of the holder thereof, be converted into one share of Class S-1 common stock. Each outstanding share of Class T-1 common stock may, at the option of the holder thereof, be converted at any time into one share of Class T-2 common stock, and subject to stock ownership limits on non-U.S. persons under the federal communications laws and our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, each outstanding share of Class T-2 common stock may, at the option of the holder thereof, be converted into one share of Class T-1 common stock.

Mandatory Conversions . Each share of Class S-1 common stock and Class S-2 common stock acquired by Televisa shall automatically convert to one share of Class T-1 common stock or, if such conversion would exceed Televisa's Maximum Equity Percentage, to one share of Class T-2 common stock. Each share of Class T-1 common stock and Class T-2 common stock automatically converts to one share of Class A common stock immediately upon any transfer of such Class T common stock from Televisa to a third party, with limited exceptions. Each outstanding share of Class T-1 common stock automatically converts to one share of Class T-2 common stock upon any event that would cause Televisa's voting equity percentage to exceed its Maximum Equity Percentage. Each share of Class S-1 common stock and Class S-2 common stock held by an Investor shall automatically convert to one share of Class A common stock upon any transfer of such share to any person that is not an Investor or Televisa or an affiliate thereof. Upon an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval, each share of Class S common stock outstanding shall automatically convert into Class A common stock. Once Televisa holds its entire equity interest in the Company in common stock, the share of Class T-3 common stock shall automatically convert into one share of Class T-1 common stock. The share of Class T-3 common stock also shall automatically convert into one share of T-1 common stock upon a transfer of Class T-3 common stock to a third party, with limited exceptions.

Liquidation Rights

In the event of any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of our affairs, holders of our common stock would be entitled to share ratably in our assets that are legally available for distribution to stockholders after payment of liabilities. If we have any preferred stock outstanding at such time, holders of the preferred stock may be entitled to distribution and/or liquidation preferences. In either such case, we must pay the applicable distribution to the holders of our preferred stock before we may pay distributions to the holders of our common stock.

Director Designation Rights

The PIA provides that prior to an Investor Exit we will have a 22 member board of directors and grants each Investor and Televisa the right to appoint directors. Pursuant to the PIA, each of the Investors may designate three Class S Directors to the board of directors except for Saban Capital Group, which may designate two Class S Directors. Since 2007, THL has elected not to appoint any members to the board of directors and instead has appointed three observers to the board of directors. THL could elect to appoint its three Class S Directors in the future. Each of the Investors shall have the right to appoint such directors until such Investor sells more than 95% of the shares of our common stock held by such Investor on the Calculation Date (98% in certain cases, as described below) and thereafter shall no longer have a right to designate any directors to our board of directors. Prior to an Investor Exit, if an Investor is no longer entitled to appoint any director to our board of directors, the resulting vacancies for Class S Directors shall be filled upon the approval of both (a) the majority of the remaining Investors and (z) Investors holding at least 60% of the shares our common stock held by the remaining Investors at such time, provided that if there are only two Investors at such time, then the vacancy shall be filled with solely the approval of the Investors holding at least 60% of the shares of our common stock held by such remaining Investors.

Following an Investor Exit, but prior to receipt of a TOC Approval, the Investors, as holders of Class S-1 common stock, shall have the right to elect six directors to our board of directors, provided that five of the directors must meet the Independence Standard. Each Investor shall have the right to appoint one of the Investor Exit Investor Directors and the remaining Investor Exit Investor Directors shall be selected by the Majority Principal Investors. A holder of Class S-1 common stock shall lose its right to elect directors to our board of directors upon the occurrence of both an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval.

Prior to an Investor Exit, Televisa shall have the right to designate four directors to our board of directors. Prior to an Investor Exit, Televisa shall no longer be entitled to appoint any directors to our board of directors if Televisa voluntarily transfers any shares of our common stock (other than to a permitted transferee) and after giving effect to such transfer Televisa holds less than 95% our common stock held by Televisa as of the Calculation Date and Televisa fails to increase its ownership of our common stock to such 95% ownership threshold within 60 days of receiving notice from the Company of falling below such threshold. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Televisa may assign its right to designate (i) a Class T Director to a person if such person acquires from Televisa less than 10% of our fully-diluted shares of common stock as of the Calculation Date, (ii) two Class T Directors to a person if such person acquires from Televisa 10% or more, but less than 20% of our fully-diluted shares of our common stock as of the Calculation Date and (iii) three Class T Directors to a person if such person acquires from Televisa 20% or more, but less than 30% of our fully-diluted shares of our common stock as of the Calculation Date.

Following an Investor Exit, but prior to receipt of a TOC Approval, Televisa shall have the right to designate three directors to our board of directors, provided that (a) upon a Televisa Sell-Down, Televisa's minimum number of board designees shall be reduced from three to two and (b) upon a Televisa 80% Sell-Down, Televisa loses all rights to designate directors to our board of directors.

Upon the occurrence of both an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval, Televisa shall have the right to designate a number of directors to our board of directors equal to the greater of (i) three and (ii) such number of directors that would represent a percentage of our entire board of directors equivalent to Televisa's percentage ownership of our outstanding voting common stock at such time, provided that (a) upon a Televisa Sell-Down, Televisa's minimum number of board designees shall be reduced from three to two and (b) upon a Televisa 80% Sell-Down, Televisa loses all rights to designate directors to our board of directors.

The Investors and Televisa's voting agreement with Glade Brook requires that one directorship be filled by the GB Director as described above. The PIA requires the Investors and Televisa to (a) prior to an Investor Exit, cause the chief executive officer to be elected as a director, and fill two directorships (three directorships if Glade Brook no longer has the right to appoint a GB Director) with Independent Directors and (b) following an Investor Exit but prior to a TOC Approval, to cause the chief executive officer to be elected as a director, and to elect one Independent Director (other than the five Independent Directors to be designated by the Investors as described above). Prior to an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval, each Investor and Televisa has the right to appoint a director to serve on each committee of the board of directors.

In the case of any vacancy on our board of directors, prior to both an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval, created by the removal or resignation of a director appointed by an Investor or Televisa, the applicable Investor or Televisa will have the right to fill the vacancy with its own designee, provided that an Investor's right to fill a vacancy shall expire when such Investor sells more than 95% (98% if TOC Approval is not obtained following an Investor Exit) of the shares of our common stock held by such Investor on the Calculation Date and Televisa's right to fill a vacancy with its own designee shall expire upon a Televisa 80% Sell-Down. Subject to the terms of the PIA, the Investors and Televisa have agreed to vote their shares in favor of the election of the directors nominated by the other Investors and Televisa.

Approval Rights

Approval Rights of Majority PITV Investors

Under the PIA, the Investors and/or Televisa have approval rights with respect to certain business matters. Specifically, we are required to obtain the approval of both (i) at least four members of the group comprised of Televisa and the Investors and (ii) the Majority PITV Investors, in connection with, among other things, the following actions:

- Any amendment to the certificate of incorporation, bylaws and certain governing documents of Univision;
- Authorize or issue new equity securities or convertible securities of Univision other than in certain limited circumstances;

- Incur indebtedness or issue debt securities in an aggregate amount in excess of $100,000,000, other than borrowings under Univision's then existing debt documents or any other debt agreement approved by the Majority PITV Investors;
- Voluntarily prepay debt of Univision in excess of $100,000,000 in any 12 month period or amend or waive the provisions of any agreement or instrument governing indebtedness with a principal amount in excess of $100,000,000;
- Commence a voluntary case under any applicable bankruptcy or insolvency laws;
- Enter into, modify or amend any agreement providing for the payment to or by Univision of more than $100,000,000 other than in certain limited circumstances;
- Enter into transactions involving the purchase or sale of (i) any assets having a fair market value in excess of $250,000,000 other than certain ordinary course of business transactions, (ii) any radio station or television station in a top 20 designated market area for consideration having a fair market value in excess of $100,000,000 or (iii) any programming involving payments in excess of $100,000,000; or
- Make any loan, advance or capital contribution to any third party in an amount in excess of $250,000,000 per transaction or in certain circumstances in excess of $100,000,000.

The approval rights of the Majority PITV Investors will expire upon the earlier to occur of (i) a Principal Investor Two-Thirds Sell-Down and (ii) the Televisa Sell-Down.

Approval Rights of the Majority Principal Investors

We are also required to obtain the approval of both (i) at least three of the five Investors and (ii) the Majority Principal Investors, in order to, among other things, enter into a change of control transaction, exercise any right of the Majority Principal Investors under the Company's governing documents, exercise drag-along rights under the Stockholders Agreement or modify the Televisa PLA, Mexico License, the Sales Agency Agreement or enter into agreements with Televisa related to similar programming. The approval rights of the Majority Principal Investors will expire upon an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval.

Approval Rights on Certain Related Party Transactions

In order for us to enter into a transaction with an Investor or Televisa, the PIA requires that we receive the approval of both (i) the majority of members of the group comprised of the Investors and Televisa who are not involved in the applicable transaction and (ii) the members of such unaffiliated group who hold a majority of our common stock held by such group, provided that this approval shall not be necessary if each of the Investors and Televisa are participating in the transaction on pro rata basis. This approval requirement expires upon the earlier to occur of (i) both an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval and (ii) the Televisa Sell-Down.

Following an Investor Exit and receipt of a TOC Approval, we will be required to obtain the approval of our audit committee (or other committee comprised solely of Independent Directors) in order to enter into an agreement or a transaction with Televisa or an affiliate of Televisa. Each director serving on such committee shall meet the Independence Standard and shall evaluate the transaction to determine if it is in our best interest.

Approval Rights of the Investors and Televisa

The PIA provides (i) each Investor customary minority approval rights over the amendment or modification of certain provisions of the PIA, Stockholders Agreement and the PRRCA which shall continue until none of the Investors are subject to the PIA and (ii) Televisa approval rights over certain amendments to our governing documents that would adversely affect Televisa's rights under such governing documents; provided that such approval rights shall expire upon a Televisa Sell-Down except for certain Televisa approval rights that continue for so long as Televisa owns any of our shares or retains the right to designate at least one director to our board of directors.

Televisa Approval Rights

Pursuant to our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, Televisa has, subject to continuing to hold a specified minimum interest in us, approval rights with respect to various matters, including, but not limited to, the payment and declaration of dividends and distributions, certain stock repurchases, bankruptcy filings, any amendment to our certificate of incorporation or by-laws that discriminates against Televisa, incurrence of indebtedness above specified levels, changing Univision's core business and equity issuances to certain restricted persons. Televisa's approval rights with respect to bankruptcy filings and incurrence of indebtedness above a specified level will terminate at the time Televisa converts all of our convertible securities that it holds into our common stock. Further, Televisa's approval rights with respect to dividends and distributions, spin-offs and split-offs and stock repurchases shall not apply at any time that Televisa does not hold convertible securities exercisable for our common stock.

Prior to a Televisa 80% Sell-Down, unless required by law or applicable stock exchange rules in the case of clauses (vi) (in respect of procedural matters) and (ix) below, we will not take any of the following actions without Televisa's prior written consent (i) implement a poison pill that would limit Televisa's ownership stake in the Company, (ii) issue equity securities of the Company that entitle their holder to multiple votes per security or similar special voting rights, (iii) seek a court or regulatory approval to void or limit a right of Televisa under our governing documents and the Televisa investment documents to invalidate or make unenforceable such right (e.g. on the basis of it being against public policy), (iv) petition the FCC, or take any action support any petition filed by a third party, to request a reduction in the Current FCC Foreign Ownership Cap including any FCC Voting Cap, as increased from time to time, or in the FCC Individual Cap (whether on equity or voting interests) applicable to Televisa, (v) amend our amended and restated certificate of incorporation or the bylaws to permit the removal of a director other than for cause (other than directors appointed exclusively by the Investors), (vi) limit Televisa's right to call a special meeting of the Company's stockholders, (vii) create any new requirements for approvals by a supermajority of the board or stockholders or a separate class of directors or stock, (viii) amend our amended and restated certificate of incorporation to implement a classified board of directors, (ix) add new director qualification requirements that would result in excluding the Televisa designees to our board of directors or (x) amend the provisions of our amended and restated certificate of incorporation that prohibit us from using against Televisa or securities held by Televisa certain remedies to reduce foreign ownership.

Transfer Restrictions

If the Investors or Televisa transfer our shares of common stock to certain permitted transferees in accordance with the Stockholders Agreement, the permitted transferees must enter into an agreement to be bound by the PIA. If the Investors sell their shares in a change of control transaction in compliance with the Stockholders Agreement, the Investors' collective rights and obligations under our certificate of incorporation, the PIA, the Stockholders Agreement, the Investment Agreement, and the PRRCA will be transferred to and assumed by the acquirer.

Televisa may not transfer our Class T-3 common stock, with limited exceptions, until after an Investor Exit has occurred at which time Televisa may transfer Class T-3 common stock in connection with a transfer of all of our Class T common stock to a non-U.S. person. Subject to certain exceptions provided for in the Stockholders Agreement, Televisa may not transfer its other contractual rights under the PIA, the Stockholders Agreement, the Investment Agreement and the PRRCA. In the event that Televisa transfers all of the Class T common stock after an Investor Exit, the Investors shall have the right to sell their common stock to the acquirer in such transfer on terms and conditions consistent with the Investors' tag-along rights in the Stockholders Agreement.

Until TOC Approval has been obtained, without Televisa's approval, the Investors shall not transfer more than 98% of the shares of our common stock held by the Investors on the Calculation Date, provided that such approval shall not be required following a Televisa Sell-Down.

For a description of additional transfer restrictions under the Stockholders Agreement, see “Certain Relationships and Related Person Transactions — Stockholders Agreement — Transfer Restrictions.”

Federal Communications Laws Restrictions

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation requires us to restrict the rights and ownership or proposed ownership of a public stockholder or any other stockholder (excluding Televisa, the Investors or their permitted transferees) if such rights or ownership would (i) be inconsistent with or violate federal communications laws, (ii) limit or impair any of our business activities or proposed business activities under federal communication laws, (iii) could subject us to any law, regulation or policy under federal communications laws which we would not be subject to, but for such ownership or proposed ownership (collectively, “FCC Regulatory Limitations”) or (iv) cause or could cause Televisa’s ownership or proposed ownership of any of our securities to result in an FCC Regulatory Limitation. If we believe that the rights or ownership or proposed ownership of our capital stock may result in a FCC Regulatory Limitation, the applicable stockholder or potential stockholder must furnish any information that we request. Following this offering, if a stockholder or potential stockholder does not furnish the requested information or if we conclude in our sole discretion that such person’s rights or ownership would result in a FCC Regulatory Limitation, we may take steps to prevent the FCC Regulatory Limitation, including (a) refusing to permit the sale of our capital stock to such person, (b) suspending, reducing or eliminating the rights of such person’s capital stock, (c) redeeming such person’s capital stock, (d) requiring the conversion of all or any of such person’s shares to non-voting stock, warrants or other securities, (e) transferring such person’s shares to an FCC approved trust or (f) seeking any and all appropriate remedies, at law or in equity, as necessary to prevent or cure the FCC Regulatory Limitation.

Given the special voting rights provided to our Class T-3 common stock, it is highly likely that the voting rights of our Class A common stock held by non-U.S. persons (other than Televisa and the Investors) will be entirely or almost entirely eliminated or suspended in order to comply with the FCC Regulatory Limitations for the foreseeable future unless the Current FCC Foreign Ownership Cap is increased significantly. Further, at the time of this offering, because Televisa (a non-U.S. person) is expected to own 10% of our common stock, other non-U.S. persons may only own 15% of our outstanding common stock under applicable law. As a result, our board of directors may be required to take additional actions to reduce ownership of our common stock by non-U.S. persons (other than Televisa). Pursuant to our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, the aforementioned actions may not be taken against Televisa, the Investors or their permitted transferees.

In 2013, the FCC announced that it would consider proposals to exceed the current 25% foreign ownership limitation for media companies on a case by case basis. We plan to file a petition for declaratory ruling with the FCC requesting an increase in our aggregate permitted foreign ownership to 49% of our common stock (on a voting and equity basis) and Televisa’s permitted ownership to 40% of our common stock (on a voting and equity basis).

Pre-emptive Rights; Post-IPO Sale Participation Right

Except for certain excluded transactions, the PRRCA provides Televisa with the right to participate in any issuance by the Company or any Company subsidiary of shares of its capital stock (common stock, preferred stock or otherwise) (the “Televisa Participation Right”), provided that (x) Televisa may not purchase shares in excess of its contractual ownership limitations in the Stockholders Agreement and (y) following this offering the Televisa Participation Right shall not apply to any issuances for cash. Televisa has waived its right to exercise its pre-emptive rights in connection with this offering. The Televisa Participation Right shall expire upon a Televisa Sell-Down.

Upon any transfer (other than to permitted transferees) by the Investors after the IPO (“Post-IPO Sale”), Televisa shall have the right to acquire a number of shares equal to 50% of the shares of our common stock (or warrants if acquiring shares would result in Televisa being above the FCC Individual Cap or any contractual limitation in the Stockholders Agreement) being proposed to be transferred by the Investors in such Post-IPO Sale at the same price and terms being offered to the buyer, less, in the case of a registered public sale or block trade, any underwriting or placement fees payable by the Investors with respect to the portion of the shares that Televisa is not acquiring in connection with such Post-IPO Sale. Televisa will be eligible to acquire from the Investors in the Post-IPO Sale a number of shares of our common stock that, in the aggregate, will allow Televisa to acquire the same aggregate percentage ownership (approximately 39%) that Televisa would have been able to acquire if it exercised its existing preferential and participation rights under the PRRCA in connection with this offering.

We have agreed to cooperate with Televisa to the extent requested to exchange any Class A common stock and Class S common stock acquired by Televisa for Class T-1 common stock and Class T-2 common stock or warrants therefor.

Preferred Stock

Subject to certain approval rights of the Investors and Televisa provided for in the PIA and our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, our board of directors is authorized to provide for the issuance of preferred stock in one or more series and except in respect of the particulars fixed for a series by our board of directors as permitted by our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, all shares of preferred stock shall be alike in every particular, except that shares of any one series issued at different times may differ as to the dates of the preferred stock from which dividends thereon shall be cumulative. Our board of directors may fix the preferences, powers and relative, participating, optional or other special rights and qualifications, limitations or restrictions of the preferred stock, including the dividend rate, conversion rights, voting rights, redemption rights and liquidation preference and fix the number of shares to be included in any such series without any further vote or action by our stockholders. Any preferred stock so issued may rank senior to our common stock with respect to the payment of dividends or amounts upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up, or both. In addition, any such shares of preferred stock may have class or series voting rights. The issuance of preferred stock may have the effect of delaying, deferring or preventing a change in control of our company without further action by the stockholders and may adversely affect the voting and other rights of the holders of our common stock.

Registration Rights

The PRRCA provides the stockholders party thereto with specified (i) demand registration rights, which require us to effect the registration of the offer and sale of shares of common stock held by the Investors and Televisa, (ii) shelf registration rights, which require us to amend or supplement a shelf-registration statement, if in effect, to register the offer and sale of shares of common stock held by any such stockholder(s) pursuant to the shelf registration statement and (iii) piggyback registration rights, which require us to include shares of common stock held by such stockholders in a registration statement filed by us on our or another stockholder's behalf. We are required to pay all registration expenses, other than underwriting discounts and commission and transfer taxes, in connection with any registration of shares by the Investors, Televisa and the other stockholder parties to the PRRCA. In addition, we have agreed to indemnify the Investors, Televisa and the other stockholder parties to the PRRCA against specified liabilities in connection to registrations made pursuant to the above-mentioned registration rights.

Sale Coordination

The PRRCA requires the stockholder parties to the PRRCA to transfer their shares pursuant to Rule 144 under the Securities Act ("Rule 144"), in a block sale to a financial institution or in a private transfer in accordance with the Stockholders Agreement, provided that the selling stockholders may be required to make reasonable efforts to coordinate their sales as determined by the coordination committee established in accordance with the PRRCA. The coordination committee is comprised of one designee from each of the Investors and Televisa. In addition, the selling stockholders must comply with the PRRCA's volume limitations in connection with such sales other than certain private transfers. If the coordination committee requires coordination, the selling stockholders may only sell the number of our shares that the stockholder would have been permitted to transfer under Rule 144 as part of a group that includes the parties to the PRRCA. If the coordination committee does not require coordination, the selling stockholders may sell in a given calendar year, the lesser of (i) 2% of our total capital stock outstanding and (ii) 20% of our total capital stock owned by the selling stockholder, in each case, as calculated on the first day of such calendar year. The PRRCA's coordination requirements and volume limitations expire five years from the consummation of this offering, provided that the coordination committee can exclude the stockholder parties to the PRCCA from the coordination requirements and volume limitations at any time.

Section 203 of the DGCL

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation provides that the provisions of Section 203 of the DGCL, which relate to business combinations with interested stockholders, do not apply to us. Section 203 of the DGCL prohibits a publicly held Delaware corporation from engaging in a business combination transaction with an interested stockholder (a stockholder who owns more than 15% of our common stock) for a period of three years after the interested stockholder became such unless the transaction fits within an applicable exemption, such as board approval of the business combination or the transaction that resulted in such stockholder becoming an interested stockholder. These provisions would apply even if the business combination could be considered beneficial by some stockholders. Although we have elected to opt out of the statute's provisions, we could elect to be subject to Section 203 in the future.

Corporate Opportunities

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation provides that our directors, officers and stockholders (except for such persons who are also our employees) do not have any obligation to offer us an opportunity to participate in business opportunities presented to such directors, officers and stockholders even if the opportunity is one that we might reasonably have pursued (and therefore may be free to compete with us in the same business or similar businesses), and that, to the extent permitted by law, such directors, officers and stockholders will not be liable to us or our stockholders for breach of any duty by reason of any such activities.

Pursuant to our amended and restated services agreement with SCG, Saban Capital Group and our chairman must inform us of certain business opportunities in the Hispanic market that are presented to them, and offer us the option to participate in such opportunities. Specifically, Saban Capital Group and the Chairman of our board of directors must inform us of any business opportunities that either (i) presently generates at least 50% of its revenue from the Hispanic market in the U.S., or (ii) is projected to or reasonably expected to generate at least 50% of its revenues from the Hispanic market in the United States in the current fiscal year or in the next five succeeding years. Saban Capital Group's and our chairman's obligations continue for the term of the amended and restated services agreement and for one year thereafter.

Listing

We intend to apply to have our common stock listed on the NYSE or Nasdaq under the symbol "UVN."

Transfer Agent and Registrar

The transfer agent and registrar for our common stock is .

SHARES ELIGIBLE FOR FUTURE SALE

Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for our Class A common stock. Future sales of our Class A common stock in the public market, or the perception that sales may occur, could materially adversely affect the prevailing market price of our Class A common stock at such time and our ability to raise equity capital in the future.

Sale of Restricted Securities

Upon consummation of this offering, we will have _____ shares of our Class A common stock outstanding (or _____ shares, if the underwriters exercise their option to purchase additional shares in full). Of these shares, all shares sold in this offering will be freely tradable without further restriction or registration under the Securities Act, except that any shares purchased by our affiliates may generally only be sold in compliance with Rule 144, which is described below. Of the remaining outstanding shares, _____ shares will be deemed “restricted securities” under the Securities Act.

Lock-Up Arrangements and Registration Rights

In connection with this offering, we, each of our directors, executive officers and the selling stockholders, as well as certain other stockholders, will enter into lock-up agreements described under “Underwriting” that restrict the sale of our securities for up to 180 days after the date of this prospectus, subject to certain exceptions or an extension in certain circumstances.

In addition, following the expiration of the lock-up period, certain stockholders will have the right, subject to certain conditions, to require us to register the sale of their shares of our Class A common stock under federal securities laws. See “Certain Relationships and Related Person Transactions—Stockholders Agreement.” If these stockholders exercise this right, our other existing stockholders may require us to register their registrable securities.

Following the lock-up periods described above, all of the shares of our Class A common stock that are restricted securities or are held by our affiliates as of the date of this prospectus will be eligible for sale in the public market in compliance with Rule 144 under the Securities Act.

Rule 144

The shares of our Class A common stock sold in this offering will generally be freely transferable without restriction or further registration under the Securities Act, except that any shares of our Class A common stock held by an “affiliate” of ours may not be resold publicly except in compliance with the registration requirements of the Securities Act or under an exemption under Rule 144 or otherwise. Rule 144 permits our Class A common stock that has been acquired by a person who is an affiliate of ours, or has been an affiliate of ours within the past three months, to be sold into the market in an amount that does not exceed, during any three-month period, the greater of:

- one percent of the total number of shares of our Class A common stock outstanding; or
- the average weekly reported trading volume of our Class A common stock for the four calendar weeks prior to the sale.

Such sales are also subject to specific manner of sale provisions, a six-month holding period requirement, notice requirements and the availability of current public information about us.

Approximately _____ shares of our Class A common stock that are not subject to lock-up arrangements described above will be eligible for sale under Rule 144 immediately upon the closing.

Table of Contents

Rule 144 also provides that a person who is not deemed to have been an affiliate of ours at any time during the three months preceding a sale, and who has for at least six months beneficially owned shares of our Class A common stock that are restricted securities, will be entitled to freely sell such shares of our Class A common stock subject only to the availability of current public information regarding us. A person who is not deemed to have been an affiliate of ours at any time during the three months preceding a sale, and who has beneficially owned for at least one year shares of our Class A common stock that are restricted securities, will be entitled to freely sell such shares of our Class A common stock under Rule 144 without regard to the current public information requirements of Rule 144.

Additional Registration Statements

We intend to file a registration statement on Form S-8 under the Securities Act to register _____ shares of our Class A common stock to be issued or reserved for issuance under our equity incentive plans. Such registration statement is expected to be filed soon after the date of this prospectus and will automatically become effective upon filing with the SEC. Accordingly, shares registered under such registration statement will be available for sale in the open market, unless such shares are subject to vesting restrictions with us or the lock-up restrictions described above.

MATERIAL U.S. FEDERAL INCOME AND ESTATE TAX CONSIDERATIONS FOR NON-U.S. HOLDERS

The following is a discussion of the material U.S. federal income and estate tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of our Class A common stock that may be relevant to you if you are a non-U.S. Holder (as defined below), and is based upon the Code, the Treasury Department regulations promulgated thereunder, and administrative and judicial interpretations thereof, all as of the date hereof and all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect. This discussion is limited to non-U.S. Holders who hold shares of our Class A common stock as capital assets within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code. Moreover, this discussion does not address all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to you in light of your particular circumstances, nor does it discuss special tax provisions, which may apply to you if you are subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax laws, such as for certain financial institutions or financial services entities, insurance companies, tax-exempt entities, dealers in securities or currencies, traders in securities that elect to apply a mark-to-market method of tax accounting, entities that are treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes (and investors in such entities), “controlled foreign corporations,” “passive foreign investment companies,” former U.S. citizens or long-term residents, persons deemed to sell Class A common stock under the constructive sale provisions of the Code, and persons that hold Class A common stock as part of a straddle, hedge, conversion transaction, or other integrated investment or Class A common stock received as compensation. In addition, this discussion does not address the Medicare tax on certain investment income, any state, local or foreign tax laws or any U.S. federal tax law other than U.S. federal income and estate tax law (such as gift tax laws). We have not sought and will not seek any rulings from the Internal Revenue Service regarding the matters discussed below. There can be no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service will not take positions concerning the purchase, ownership and disposition of our Class A common stock that are different from that discussed below.

As used in this discussion, the term “non-U.S. Holder” means a beneficial owner of our Class A common stock that is not, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

- an individual who is a citizen or resident of the U.S.;
- a corporation (or other entity taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) that is created or organized in or under the laws of the U.S., any state thereof or the District of Columbia;
- an estate the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source;
- a trust if (i) a court within the U.S. is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (ii) it has a valid election in effect under applicable Treasury Department regulations to be treated as a domestic trust for U.S. federal income tax purposes; or
- an entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

If you are an individual, you may be deemed to be a resident alien, as opposed to a nonresident alien, by virtue of being present in the U.S. (1) for at least 183 days during the calendar year or (2) for at least 31 days in the calendar year and for an aggregate of at least 183 days during a three-year period ending in the current calendar year. For purposes of (2), all the days present in the current year, one-third of the days present in the immediately preceding year, and one-sixth of the days present in the second preceding year are counted. You are also a resident alien if you are a lawful permanent resident of the U.S. (i.e., a “green card” holder). Resident aliens are subject to U.S. federal income tax as if they were U.S. citizens.

If any entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes is a holder of our Class A common stock, the tax treatment of a partner in the partnership will generally depend upon the status of the partner, the activities of the partnership and certain determinations made at the partner level. A holder that is a partnership, and the partners in such partnership, should consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of our Class A common stock.

EACH PROSPECTIVE PURCHASER OF OUR CLASS A COMMON STOCK IS ADVISED TO CONSULT A TAX ADVISOR WITH RESPECT TO CURRENT AND POSSIBLE FUTURE TAX CONSEQUENCES OF PURCHASING, OWNING AND DISPOSING OF OUR CLASS A COMMON STOCK, AS WELL AS ANY TAX CONSEQUENCES THAT MAY ARISE UNDER THE LAWS OF ANY U.S. STATE, MUNICIPALITY OR OTHER TAXING JURISDICTION, IN LIGHT OF THE PROSPECTIVE PURCHASER'S PARTICULAR CIRCUMSTANCES.

U.S. Trade or Business Income

For purposes of the discussion below, dividends and gains on the sale, exchange or other disposition of our Class A common stock will be considered to be "U.S. trade or business income" if such income or gain is:

- effectively connected with the non-U.S. Holder's conduct of a U.S. trade or business; and
- in the case where an income tax treaty requires, attributable to a permanent establishment (or, in the case of an individual, a fixed base) maintained by the non-U.S. Holder in the U.S. within the meaning of such treaty.

Generally, U.S. trade or business income is subject to U.S. federal income tax on a net income basis at regular graduated U.S. federal income tax rates. Any U.S. trade or business income received by a non-U.S. Holder that is a corporation also may, under specific circumstances, be subject to an additional "branch profits tax" at a 30% rate (or a lower rate that may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty).

Distributions on Class A Common Stock

We do not anticipate making any distributions on our Class A common stock. See "Dividend Policy." If distributions (other than certain stock distributions) are paid on shares of our Class A common stock, such distributions will constitute dividends for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent paid from our current or accumulated earnings and profits, as determined under U.S. federal income tax principles. If a distribution exceeds our current and accumulated earnings and profits, such excess will constitute a return of capital that reduces, but not below zero, a non-U.S. Holder's tax basis in our Class A common stock. Any remainder will constitute gain from the sale or exchange of our Class A common stock (as described in "—Dispositions of Class A Common Stock" below). If dividends are paid, as a non-U.S. Holder, you will be subject to withholding of U.S. federal income tax at a 30% rate, or a lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty (unless the dividends are considered U.S. trade or business income as described below). To claim the benefit of a lower rate under an income tax treaty, you must properly file with the payor an Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN, W-8BEN-E or other applicable form, claiming an exemption from or reduction in withholding tax under the applicable income tax treaty. Such form must be provided to us or our paying agent prior to the payment of dividends and must be updated periodically.

If dividends are considered U.S. trade or business income, those dividends will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on a net basis at applicable graduated individual or corporate rates and potential branch profits tax (as described in "—U.S. Trade or Business Income" above) but will not be subject to withholding tax, provided a properly executed Internal Revenue Service Form W-8ECI, or other applicable form, is filed with the payor. Such form must be provided to us or our paying agent prior to the payment of dividends and must be updated periodically.

You must comply with the certification procedures described above, or, in the case of payments made outside the U.S. with respect to an offshore account, certain documentary evidence procedures, directly or, under certain circumstances, through an intermediary, to obtain the benefits of a reduced withholding rate under an income tax treaty with respect to dividends paid on your Class A common stock. In addition, if you are required to provide an Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN, W-8BEN-E or other applicable form to claim income tax treaty benefits or Internal Revenue Service Form W-8ECI or other applicable form, both as discussed above, you may also be required to provide your U.S. taxpayer identification number.

Table of Contents

If you are eligible for a reduced rate of U.S. federal withholding tax with respect to a distribution on our Class A common stock, you may obtain a refund from the Internal Revenue Service of any excess amounts withheld by timely filing an appropriate claim for refund with the Internal Revenue Service.

Dispositions of Class A Common Stock

Subject to the discussion below under “—Information Reporting and Backup Withholding Tax” and “—Other Withholding Requirements,” as a non-U.S. Holder, you generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income or withholding tax on any gain recognized on a sale or other disposition of Class A common stock unless:

- the gain is U.S. trade or business income;
- you are an individual who is present in the U.S. for 183 or more days in the taxable year of the sale or other disposition and certain other conditions are met; or
- we are, or have been, a U.S. real property holding corporation (a “USRPHC”) for U.S. federal income tax purposes at any time during the shorter of the five-year period ending on the date of disposition of our Class A common stock and the non-U.S. Holder’s holding period for our Class A common stock.

If you are a non-U.S. Holder described in the first bullet above, you generally will be subject to tax as described in “—U.S. Trade or Business Income.” If you are a non-U.S. Holder described in the second bullet point above, you generally will be subject to a flat tax at a 30% rate (or lower applicable income tax treaty rate) on the gain, which may be offset by certain U.S. source capital losses.

Generally, a corporation is a USRPHC if the fair market value of its “United States real property interests” equals 50% or more of the sum of the fair market value of (a) its worldwide property interests and (b) its other assets used or held for use in a trade or business. We believe that we are not currently, and do not anticipate becoming, a USRPHC for U.S. federal income tax purposes. However, no assurance can be given that we will not become a USRPHC.

The tax relating to the disposition of stock in a USRPHC does not apply to a non-U.S. Holder whose holdings, actual and constructive, amount to 5% or less of our Class A common stock at all times during the applicable period, provided that our Class A common stock is regularly traded on an established securities market for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

No assurance can be given that we will not be a USRPHC or that our Class A common stock will be considered regularly traded on an established securities market when a non-U.S. Holder disposes of shares of our Class A common stock. Non-U.S. Holders are urged to consult with their tax advisors to determine the application of these rules to their disposition of our Class A common stock.

Federal Estate Tax

Individuals who are not citizens or residents of the U.S. (as defined for U.S. federal estate tax purposes), or an entity the property of which is includable in an individual’s gross estate for U.S. federal estate tax purposes, should note that Class A common stock held at the time of such individual’s death will be included in such individual’s gross estate for U.S. federal estate tax purposes and may be subject to U.S. federal estate tax, unless an applicable estate tax treaty provides otherwise.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding Tax

We must report annually to the Internal Revenue Service and to you the amount of dividends paid to you and the tax withheld with respect to those dividends, regardless of whether withholding was required. Copies of the information returns reporting those dividends and withholding may also be made available to the tax authorities in the country in which you reside under the provisions of an applicable income tax treaty or other applicable agreements.

Table of Contents

Backup withholding is generally imposed (currently at a 28% rate) on certain payments to persons that fail to furnish the necessary identifying information to the payor. You generally will be subject to backup withholding tax with respect to dividends paid on your Class A common stock unless you certify to the payor your non-U.S. status. Dividends subject to withholding of U.S. federal income tax as described above in “—Distributions on Class A Common Stock” would not be subject to backup withholding.

The payment of proceeds of a sale of Class A common stock effected by or through a U.S. office of a broker is subject to both backup withholding and information reporting unless you provide the payor with your name and address and you certify your non-U.S. status or you otherwise establish an exemption. In general, backup withholding and information reporting will not apply to the payment of the proceeds of a sale of Class A common stock by or through a foreign office of a broker. If, however, such broker is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a U.S. person or has certain enumerated relationships with the U.S., backup withholding will not apply but such payments will be subject to information reporting, unless such broker has documentary evidence in its records that you are a non-U.S. Holder and certain other conditions are met or you otherwise establish an exemption.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules generally will be allowed as a refund or a credit against your U.S. federal income tax liability provided the required information is furnished in a timely manner to the Internal Revenue Service.

Other Withholding Requirements

Under an information reporting regime commonly referred to as the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, or FATCA, a 30% U.S. federal withholding tax generally will be imposed on dividends paid by U.S. issuers, and on the gross proceeds from the disposition of stock of U.S. issuers, paid to or through a “foreign financial institution” (as specially defined under these rules; whether or not such foreign financial institution is the beneficial owner with respect to the payments), unless such institution (i) enters into an agreement with the U.S. Treasury Department to collect and provide to the U.S. Treasury Department substantial information regarding U.S. account holders, including certain account holders that are foreign entities with U.S. owners, with such institution or (ii) is deemed compliant with, or otherwise exempt from, FATCA. In certain circumstances, the information may be provided to local tax authorities pursuant to intergovernmental agreements between the U.S. and a foreign country. FATCA also generally imposes a U.S. federal withholding tax of 30% on the same types of payments to or through a non-financial foreign entity (whether or not such foreign entity is the beneficial owner with respect to the payments) unless such entity (i) provides the withholding agent with a certification that it does not have any substantial U.S. owners (as defined under these rules) or a certification identifying the direct and indirect substantial U.S. owners of the entity or (ii) is deemed compliant with, or otherwise exempt from, FATCA. FATCA would apply to any dividends paid on our Class A common stock, and to the gross proceeds from the sale or other disposition of our Class A common stock after December 31, 2016. Under certain circumstances, a holder may be eligible for refunds or credits of such taxes. Intergovernmental agreements and laws adopted thereunder may modify or supplement the rules under FATCA. You should consult your tax advisor regarding the possible implications of FATCA on your investment in our Class A common stock.

UNDERWRITING

Under the terms and subject to the conditions in an underwriting agreement dated the date of this prospectus, the underwriters named below, for whom Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Deutsche Bank Securities Inc. are acting as representatives, have severally agreed to purchase, and we have agreed to sell to them, severally, the number of shares indicated below:

Name	Number of Shares
Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC
Goldman, Sachs & Co.
Deutsche Bank Securities Inc.
Total:

The underwriters and the representatives are collectively referred to as the “underwriters” and the “representatives,” respectively. The underwriters are offering the shares of Class A common stock subject to their acceptance of the shares from us and subject to prior sale. The underwriting agreement provides that the obligations of the several underwriters to pay for and accept delivery of the shares of Class A common stock offered by this prospectus are subject to the approval of certain legal matters by their counsel and to certain other conditions. The underwriters are obligated to take and pay for all of the shares of Class A common stock offered by this prospectus if any such shares are taken. However, the underwriters are not required to take or pay for the shares covered by the underwriters’ option to purchase additional shares described below.

The underwriters initially propose to offer part of the shares of Class A common stock directly to the public at the offering price listed on the cover page of this prospectus and part to certain dealers. After the initial offering of the shares of Class A common stock, the offering price and other selling terms may from time to time be varied by the representatives.

We have granted to the underwriters an option, exercisable for 30 days from the date of this prospectus, to purchase up to additional shares of Class A common stock at the public offering price listed on the cover page of this prospectus, less underwriting discounts and commissions. To the extent the option is exercised, each underwriter will become obligated, subject to certain conditions, to purchase about the same percentage of the additional shares of Class A common stock as the number listed next to the underwriter’s name in the preceding table bears to the total number of shares of Class A common stock listed next to the names of all underwriters in the preceding table.

The following table shows the per share and total public offering price, underwriting discounts and commissions, and proceeds before expenses to us. These amounts are shown assuming both no exercise and full exercise of the underwriters’ option to purchase up to an additional            shares of Class A common stock.

	Per Share	Total
		No Exercise	Full Exercise
Public offering price	$	$	$
Underwriting discounts	$	$	$
Proceeds, before expenses, to the Company	$	$	$

The estimated offering expenses payable by us, exclusive of the underwriting discounts, are approximately $           . We have agreed to reimburse the underwriters for expense relating to clearance of this offering with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority up to $           .

The underwriters have informed us that they do not intend sales to discretionary accounts to exceed 5% of the total number of shares of Class A common stock offered by them.

We intend to apply to list our Class A common stock for listing on the NYSE or Nasdaq under the trading symbol “UVN.”

We and all directors and officers and the holders of all of our outstanding stock and stock options have agreed that, without the prior written consent of _____ on behalf of the underwriters, we and they will not, subject to certain limited exceptions, during the period ending 180 days after the date of this prospectus (the “restricted period”):

- offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, lend or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Class A common stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for shares of Class A common stock;
- file any registration statement with the SEC relating to the offering of any shares of Class A common stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Class A common stock; or whether any such transaction described above is to be settled by delivery of Class A common stock or such other securities, in cash or otherwise. In addition, we and each such person agree that, without the prior written consent of the representatives on behalf of the underwriters, we or such other person will not, during the restricted period, make any demand for, or exercise any right with respect to, the registration of any shares of Class A common stock or any security convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Class A common stock.
- enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of the Class A common stock.

The restricted period described in the preceding paragraph will be extended if:

- during the last 17 days of the restricted period we issue an earnings release or material news event relating to us occurs, or
- prior to the expiration of the restricted period, we announce that we will release earnings results during the 16-day period beginning on the last day of the restricted period or provide notification to of any earnings release or material news or material event that may give rise to an extension of the initial restricted period, in which case the restrictions described in the preceding paragraph will continue to apply until the expiration of the 18-day period beginning on the issuance of the earnings release or the occurrence of the material news or material event.

The representatives, in their sole discretion, may release the Class A common stock and other securities subject to the lock-up agreements described above in whole or in part at any time.

In order to facilitate the offering of the Class A common stock, the underwriters may engage in transactions that stabilize, maintain or otherwise affect the price of the Class A common stock. Specifically, the underwriters may sell more shares than they are obligated to purchase under the underwriting agreement, creating a short position. A short sale is covered if the short position is no greater than the number of shares available for purchase by the underwriters under the option to purchase additional shares. The underwriters can close out a covered short sale by exercising the option to purchase additional shares or purchasing shares in the open market. In determining the source of shares to close out a covered short sale, the underwriters will consider, among other things, the open market price of shares compared to the price available under the option to purchase additional shares. The underwriters may also sell shares in excess of the option to purchase additional shares, creating a naked short position. The underwriters must close out any naked short position by purchasing shares in the open market. A naked short position is more likely to be created if the underwriters are concerned that there may be downward pressure on the price of the Class A common stock in the open market after pricing that could adversely affect investors who purchase in this offering. As an additional means of facilitating this offering, the underwriters may bid for, and purchase, shares of Class A common stock in the open market to stabilize the price of the Class A common stock. These activities may raise or maintain the market price of the Class A common stock above independent market levels or prevent or retard a decline in the market price of the Class A common stock. The underwriters are not required to engage in these activities and may end any of these activities at any time.

We and the underwriters have agreed to indemnify each other against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act.

A prospectus in electronic format may be made available on websites maintained by one or more underwriters, or selling group members, if any, participating in this offering. The representatives may agree to allocate a number of shares of Class A common stock to underwriters for sale to their online brokerage account holders. Internet distributions will be allocated by the representatives to underwriters that may make Internet distributions on the same basis as other allocations.

Other Relationships

The underwriters and their respective affiliates are full service financial institutions engaged in various activities, which may include securities trading, commercial and investment banking, financial advisory, investment management, investment research, principal investment, hedging, financing and brokerage activities.

Certain of the underwriters and their affiliates have provided in the past to us and our affiliates and may provide from time to time in the future certain commercial banking, financial advisory, investment banking and other services for us and such affiliates in the ordinary course of their business, for which they have received and may continue to receive customary fees and commissions. From time to time, certain of the underwriters and their affiliates may effect transactions for their own account or the account of customers, and hold on behalf of themselves or their customers, long or short positions in our debt or equity securities or loans, and may do so in the future. Specifically, Deutsche Bank Securities Inc. or its affiliates acted as arrangers and an affiliate of Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch serves as administrative agent and first-lien collateral agent under our senior secured credit facilities. In addition, affiliates of Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, Goldman Sachs & Co. and Deutsche Bank Securities, Inc. or their respective affiliates serve as lenders under our senior secured credit facilities. See “Description of Certain Indebtedness—Senior Secured Credit Facilities.” To the extent a portion of the net proceeds of this offering are used to repay borrowings under our senior secured credit facilities, affiliates of the underwriters will receive their pro rata portion of such net proceeds. See “Use of Proceeds” and “Capitalization.” In addition, Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC and Deutsche Bank Securities, Inc. or their respective affiliates acted as initial purchasers of certain of our outstanding notes, for which they received customary discounts and commissions. See “Description of Certain Indebtedness.”

In addition, in the ordinary course of their various business activities, the underwriters and their respective affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments, including serving as counterparts to certain derivative or hedging arrangements, and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers and may at any time hold long and short positions in such securities and instruments. Such investment and securities activities may involve our securities and instruments. The underwriters and their respective affiliates may also make investment recommendations or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or instruments and may at any time hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long or short positions in such securities and instruments.

Pricing of the Offering

Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for our Class A common stock. The initial public offering price was determined by negotiations between us and the representatives. In addition to prevailing market conditions, the factors to be considered in determining the initial public offering are: the valuation multiples of publicly traded companies that the representatives believe to be comparable to us, our financial information, the history of, and the prospects for, our company and the industry in which we compete, an assessment of our management, its past and present operations, and the prospects for, and timing of, our future revenues, the present state of our development, the general condition of the securities markets at the time of this offering and the foregoing factors in relation to market values and various valuation measures of other companies engaged in activities similar to ours.

Selling Restrictions

European Economic Area

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a “Relevant Member State”) an offer to the public of any shares of our Class A common stock may not be made in that Relevant Member State, except that an offer to the public in that Relevant Member State of any shares of our Class A common stock may be made at any time under the following exemptions under the Prospectus Directive, if they have been implemented in that Relevant Member State:

- (a) to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Directive;
- (b) to fewer than 150, natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Directive), subject to obtaining the prior consent of the representatives for any such offer; or
- (c) in any other circumstances falling within Article 3(2) of the Prospectus Directive, provided that no such offer of shares of our Class A common stock shall require us or any underwriter to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 16 of the Prospectus Directive.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an “offer to the public” in relation to any shares of our Class A common stock in any Relevant Member State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and any shares of our Class A common stock to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase any shares of our Class A common stock, as the same may be varied in that Relevant Member State by any measure implementing the Prospectus Directive in that Relevant Member State. The expression “Prospectus Directive” means Directive 2003/71/EC (as amended, including by Directive 2010/73/EU), and includes any relevant implementing measure in the Relevant Member State.

United Kingdom

Each underwriter has represented and agreed that:

- (a) it has only communicated or caused to be communicated and will only communicate or cause to be communicated an invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of Section 21 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (“FSMA”) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of the shares of our Class A common stock in circumstances in which Section 21(1) of the FSMA does not apply to us; and
- (b) it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to the shares of our Class A common stock in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

MANAGEMENT’S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting. Our internal control over financial reporting is a process designed under the supervision of our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of our financial statements for external reporting purposes in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

As of the end of our 2014 fiscal year, management conducted an assessment of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting based on the framework in Internal Control-Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations for the Treadway Commission (1992 framework). Based on our evaluation under that framework, management concluded our internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2014 was effective.

Our internal control over financial reporting includes policies and procedures that pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect transactions and dispositions of assets; provide reasonable assurances that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and the directors of the Company; and provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of the Company’s assets that could have a material effect on our financial statements.

The consolidated financial statements included in this Registration Statement on Form S-1 have been audited by our independent registered public accounting firm, Ernst & Young LLP, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States and, accordingly, they have expressed their professional opinion on the financial statements in their report included herein. The attestation report issued by Ernst & Young LLP on our internal control over financial reporting is also included herein.

Because of their inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect all misstatements. Therefore, even those systems, controls and procedures determined to be effective can only provide reasonable assurance with respect to financial statement preparation and presentation.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

Board of Directors and Stockholders of
Univision Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Univision Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the related consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive (loss) income, changes in stockholders' deficit and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2014. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Univision Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries at December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the consolidated results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2014, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

We also have audited, in accordance with standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), Univision Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries' internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2014, based on criteria established in Internal Control—Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (1992 framework) and our report dated July 1, 2015 expressed an unqualified opinion thereon.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

Board of Directors and Stockholders of
Univision Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries

We have audited Univision Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries' internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2014, based on criteria established in Internal Control—Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (1992 framework) (the COSO criteria). Univision Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries' management is responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting, and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, included in the accompanying Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the company's internal control over financial reporting based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audit included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk, and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention, or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, Univision Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2014, based on the COSO criteria.

We also have audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the consolidated balance sheets of Univision Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2014 and 2013 and the related consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive (loss) income, changes in stockholders' deficit and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2014 and our report dated July 1, 2015 expressed an unqualified opinion thereon.

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of operations —Univision Holdings, Inc. is a holding company and the ultimate parent of Univision Communications Inc. Univision Holdings, Inc. (formerly known as Broadcasting Media Partners, Inc.) owns Broadcast Media Partners Holdings, Inc. (“Broadcast Holdings”) which owns Univision Communications Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, collectively referred to herein as “UCI”). Univision Holdings, Inc., together with its subsidiaries are collectively referred to herein as the “Company” or “Univision.” The Company has no operations outside of UCI. The Company is controlled by Madison Dearborn Partners, LLC, Providence Equity Partners Inc., Saban Capital Group, Inc., TPG Capital, Thomas H. Lee Partners, L.P. (collectively, the “Original Sponsors”) and their respective affiliates and Grupo Televisa S.A.B. and its affiliates (“Televisa”). Univision is the leading media company serving Hispanic America and has operations in two segments: Media Networks and Radio.

The Company’s Media Networks segment includes Univision Network; UniMás (formerly Telefutera); nine cable networks, including Galavisión and Univision Deportes Network; and the Company’s owned and/or operated television stations. The Media Networks segment also includes digital properties consisting of online and mobile websites and applications including Univision.com and UVideos, a bilingual digital video network. The Radio segment includes the Company’s owned and operated radio stations; Uforia, a comprehensive digital music platform; and any audio-only elements of Univision.com. Additionally, the Company incurs and manages corporate expenses separate from the two segments which include general corporate overhead and unallocated, shared company expenses related to human resources, finance, legal and executive which are centrally managed and support the Company’s operating and financing activities. In addition, unallocated assets include deferred financing costs and fixed assets that are not allocated to the segments.

Principles of consolidation —The consolidated financial statements include the accounts and operations of the Company and its majority owned and controlled subsidiaries. The Company has consolidated the special purpose entities associated with its accounts receivable facility and the four limited liability corporations associated with the Company’s consulting arrangement with its chairman of the Board of Directors, as the Company has determined that they are variable interest entities for which the Company is the primary beneficiary. This determination was based on the fact that these special purpose entities lack sufficient equity to finance their activities without additional support from the Company and, additionally, that the Company retains the risks and rewards of their activities. The consolidation of these special purpose entities does not have a significant impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

The Company accounts for investments over which it has significant influence but not a controlling financial interest using the equity method of accounting. Accordingly, the Company’s share of the earnings and losses of these companies is included in loss on equity method investments in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations of the Company. For certain equity method investments, the Company’s share of earnings and losses is based on contractual liquidation rights. For investments in which the Company does not have significant influence, the cost method of accounting is used. Under the cost method of accounting, the Company does not record its share in the earnings and losses of the companies in which it has an investment. Investments are reviewed for impairment when events or circumstances indicate that there may be a decline in fair value that is other than temporary.

Use of estimates —The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses, including impairments, during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include the useful lives of fixed assets; allowances for doubtful accounts; the valuation of derivatives, deferred tax assets, program rights and prepayments, fixed assets, intangibles, goodwill and share-based compensation; and reserves for income tax uncertainties and other contingencies.

Fair Value Measurements —The Company utilizes valuation techniques that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs to the extent possible. The Company determines fair value based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability in the principal or most advantageous market. When considering market participant assumptions in fair value measurements, the following fair value hierarchy distinguishes between observable and unobservable inputs, which are categorized in one of the following levels:

- Level 1 Inputs: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities accessible to the reporting entity at the measurement date.
- Level 2 Inputs: Other than quoted prices included in Level 1 inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.
- Level 3 Inputs: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability used to measure fair value to the extent that observable inputs are not available, thereby allowing for situations in which there is little, if any, market activity for the asset or liability at measurement date.

Revenue recognition —Revenue is comprised of gross revenues from the Media Networks and Radio segments, including advertising revenue, subscriber fees, content licensing revenue, sales commissions on national advertising aired on Univision and UniMás affiliated television stations, less agency commissions and volume and prompt payment discounts. The amounts deducted from gross revenues for agency commissions and volume and prompt payment discounts aggregate to $361.1 million, $343.5 million and $323.3 million for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively. Media Networks television and Radio station advertising revenues are recognized when advertising spots are aired and performance guarantees, if any, are achieved. The achievement of performance guarantees is based on audience ratings from an independent research company. Subscriber fees received from cable and satellite multichannel video programming distributors (“MVPDs”) are recognized as revenue in the period that services are provided. The digital platform recognizes revenue primarily from video and display advertising, subscriber fees where digital content is provided on an authenticated basis, digital content licensing, and sponsorship advertisement revenue. Video and display advertising revenue is recognized as “impressions” are delivered and sponsorship revenue is recognized ratably over the contract period and as performance guarantees, if any, are achieved. “Impressions” are defined as the number of times that an advertisement appears in pages viewed by users of the Company’s Internet properties. Content licensing revenue is recognized when the content is delivered, all related obligations have been satisfied and all other revenue recognition criteria have been met. All revenue is recognized only when collection of the resulting receivable is reasonably assured.

UCI has certain contractual commitments, with Televisa and others, to provide a future annual guaranteed amount of advertising and promotion time. The obligation associated with each of these commitments was recorded as deferred revenue at an amount equal to the fair value of the advertising and promotion time as of the date of the agreements providing for these commitments. Deferred revenue is earned and revenue is recognized as the related advertising and promotion time is provided. The Company’s deferred revenue, which is primarily related to the commitments with Televisa, resulted in revenue of $60.1 million, $67.8 million and $83.7 million, respectively, for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012.

Accounting for Goodwill, Other Intangibles and Long-Lived Assets — Goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite lives are tested annually for impairment on October 1 or more frequently if circumstances indicate a possible impairment exists.

The Company has the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether it is necessary to perform the two-step quantitative goodwill impairment test. If the qualitative assessment determines that it is more likely than not that the fair value of the segment is more than its carrying amount, then the Company concludes that goodwill is not impaired. If the Company does not choose to perform the qualitative assessment, or if the qualitative assessment determines that it is more likely than not that the fair value of the segment is less than its carrying amount, then the Company proceeds to the first step of the two-step quantitative goodwill impairment test.

If a quantitative test is performed for goodwill, the estimated fair value of a segment is compared to its carrying value, including goodwill (the “Step 1 Test”). In the Step 1 Test, the Company estimates the fair value of each of its segments using a combination of discounted cash flows and market-based valuation methodologies. Developing estimates of fair value requires significant judgments, including making assumptions about appropriate discount rates, perpetual growth rates, relevant comparable market multiples and the amount and timing of expected future cash flows. The cash flows employed in the valuation analysis are based on the Company’s best estimates considering current marketplace factors and risks as well as assumptions of growth rates in future years. The fair value of the segments is classified as a Level 3 measurement. There is no assurance that actual results in the future will approximate these forecasts. If the calculated fair value is less than the current carrying value, impairment of the segment goodwill may exist.

When the Step 1 Test indicates potential impairment, a second test is required to measure the impairment loss (the “Step 2 Test”). In the Step 2 Test, the Company will calculate an implied fair value of goodwill for the segment. The implied fair value of goodwill is determined in a manner similar to how goodwill is calculated in a business combination, where the fair value of the segment is allocated to all of the assets and liabilities of the segment with any residual value being allocated to goodwill. If the implied fair value of goodwill is less than the carrying value of goodwill assigned to the segment, the excess amount is recorded as an impairment charge. An impairment charge cannot exceed the carrying value of goodwill assigned to a segment but may indicate that certain long-lived and intangible assets associated with the segment may require additional impairment testing.

If a qualitative assessment is performed for goodwill, the Company considers relevant events and circumstances that could affect a segment’s fair value. Considerations may include macroeconomic conditions, industry and market considerations, cost factors, overall financial performance, and entity-specific events, business plans, and strategy. The Company considers the same key assumptions that would have been used in a quantitative test. The Company considers the totality of these events, in the context of the segment, and determines if it is more likely than not that the fair value of the segment is less than its carrying amount.

The Company also has indefinite-lived intangible assets, such as trade names and television and radio broadcast licenses. The Company has the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that an indefinite-lived intangible asset is impaired as a basis for determining whether it is necessary to perform the quantitative impairment test.

If the qualitative assessment determines that it is more likely than not that the fair value of the intangible asset is more than its carrying amount, then the Company concludes that the intangible asset is not impaired. If the Company does not choose to perform the qualitative assessment, or if the qualitative assessment determines that it is more likely than not that the fair value of the intangible asset is less than its carrying amount, then the Company calculates the fair value of the intangible asset and compares it to the corresponding carrying value. If the carrying value of the indefinite-lived intangible asset exceeds its fair value, an impairment loss is recognized for the excess carrying value over the fair value.

If a quantitative test is performed, the Company will calculate the fair value of the intangible assets. The fair value of the television and radio broadcast licenses is determined using the direct valuation method, for which the key assumptions are market revenue growth rates, market share, profit margin, duration and profile of the build-up period, estimated start-up capital costs and losses incurred during the build-up period, the risk-adjusted discount rate and terminal values. For trade names, the Company assesses recoverability by utilizing the relief from royalty method to determine the estimated fair value. Key assumptions used in this model include discount rates, royalty rates, growth rates, sales projections and terminal value rates. The fair value of the intangible assets is classified as a Level 3 measurement. When a qualitative test is performed, the Company considers the same key assumptions that would have been used in a quantitative test to determine if these factors would negatively affect the fair value of the intangible assets.

Univision Network and UniMás network programming is broadcast on the television stations. Federal Communication Commission (“FCC”) broadcast licenses associated with the Univision Network and UniMás stations are tested for impairment at their respective network level. Broadcast licenses for television stations that are not dependent on network programming are tested for impairment at the local market level. Radio broadcast licenses are tested for impairment at the local market level.

Long-lived assets, such as property and equipment, intangible assets with definite lives and program right prepayments are reviewed for impairment annually or whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to its estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its estimated undiscounted future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized by the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset.

Derivative instruments —The Company recognizes all derivative instruments as either assets or liabilities in the balance sheet at their respective fair values. Derivatives designated and qualifying as a hedge of the exposure to variability in expected future cash flows, or other types of forecasted transactions, are considered cash flow hedges. The Company may enter into derivative contracts that are intended to economically hedge certain of its risks, even though hedge accounting does not apply or the Company elects not to apply hedge accounting.

For all hedging relationships, the Company formally documents the hedging relationship and its risk-management objective and strategy for undertaking the hedge, the hedging instrument, the hedged transaction, the nature of the risk being hedged, how the hedging instrument’s effectiveness in offsetting the hedged risk will be assessed prospectively and retrospectively, and a description of the method used to measure ineffectiveness. The Company also formally assesses, both at the inception of the hedging relationship and on an ongoing basis, whether the derivatives that are used in hedging relationships are highly effective in offsetting changes in cash flows of hedged transactions. For derivative instruments that are designated and qualify as part of a cash flow hedging relationship, the effective portion of the gain or loss on the derivative is reported as a component of other comprehensive income (loss) and reclassified into earnings in the same period or periods during which the hedged transaction affects earnings. Gains and losses on the derivative representing either hedge ineffectiveness or hedge components excluded from the assessment of effectiveness are recognized in current earnings through interest rate swap (income) expense.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2014
(Dollars in thousands, except share and per-share data, unless otherwise indicated)

The Company discontinues hedge accounting prospectively when (i) it determines that the derivative is no longer effective in offsetting cash flows attributable to the hedged risk; (ii) the derivative expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised; (iii) the cash flow hedge is de-designated because a forecasted transaction is not probable of occurring; or (iv) management determines to remove the designation of the cash flow hedge. In all situations in which hedge accounting is discontinued and the derivative remains outstanding, the Company continues to carry the derivative at its fair value on the balance sheet and recognizes any subsequent changes in its fair value in earnings through interest rate swap (income) expense, and any associated balance in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) will be reclassified into earnings through interest expense in the same periods during which the forecasted transactions that originally were being hedged occur. When it is probable that a forecasted transaction will not occur, the Company discontinues hedge accounting and recognizes immediately in earnings gains and losses that were accumulated in other comprehensive income (loss) related to the hedging relationship.

Property and Equipment and Related Depreciation —Property and equipment are carried at historical cost. Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The Company removes the cost and accumulated depreciation of its property and equipment upon the retirement of such assets and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is then recognized. Land improvements are depreciated up to 15 years, buildings and improvements are depreciated up to 50 years, broadcast equipment over 5 to 20 years and furniture, computer and other equipment over 3 to 7 years. Property and equipment financed with capital leases are amortized over the shorter of their useful life or the remaining life of the lease. Repairs and maintenance costs are expensed as incurred.

Deferred financing costs —Deferred financing costs consist of payments made by the Company in connection with the Company's and UCI's debt offerings, primarily ratings fees, legal fees, accounting fees, private placement fees and costs related to the offering circular and other related expenses. Deferred financing costs are amortized over the life of the related debt using the effective interest method.

Program and sports rights for television broadcast —The Company acquires rights to programming to exhibit on its broadcast and cable networks. Costs incurred to acquire television programs are capitalized when (i) the cost of the programming is reasonably determined, (ii) the programming has been accepted in accordance with the terms of the agreement, (iii) the programming is available for its first showing or telecast and (iv) the license period has commenced. Costs incurred in connection with the production of or purchase of rights to programs that are available and scheduled to be broadcast within one year are classified as current assets, while costs of those programs to be broadcast beyond a one-year period are considered non-current. Program rights and prepayments on the Company's balance sheet are subject to regular recoverability assessments.

The costs of programming rights for television shows, novelas and movies licensed under programming agreements are capitalized and classified as programming prepayments if the rights payments are made before the related economic benefit has been received. Program rights for television shows and movies are amortized over the program's life, which is the period in which an economic benefit is expected to be generated, based on the estimated relative value of each broadcast of the program over the program's life. Program costs are charged to operating expense as the programs are broadcast.

The costs of programming rights licensed under multi-year sports programming agreements are capitalized and classified as programming prepayments if the rights payments are made before the related economic benefit has been received. Program rights for multi-year sports programming arrangements are amortized over the license period based on the ratio of current-period direct revenues to estimated remaining total direct revenues over the remaining contract period. Program costs are charged to operating expense as the programs are broadcast.

(Dollars in thousands, except share and per-share data, unless otherwise indicated)

The accounting for program rights and prepayments requires judgment, particularly in the process of estimating the revenues to be earned over the life of the contract and total costs to be incurred (“ultimate revenues”). These judgments are used in determining the amortization of, and any necessary impairment of, capitalized costs. Estimated revenues are based on factors such as historical performance of similar programs, actual and forecasted ratings and the genre of the program. Such measurements are classified as Level 3 within the fair value hierarchy as key inputs used to value program and sports rights include ratings and undiscounted cash flows. If planned usage patterns or estimated relative values by year were to change significantly, amortization of the Company’s rights costs may be accelerated or slowed.

Legal costs —Legal costs are expensed as incurred unless required by GAAP to be capitalized.

Advertising and promotional expenses —The Company expenses advertising and promotional costs in the period in which they are incurred.

Share-based compensation —Compensation expense relating to share-based payments is recognized in earnings using a fair-value measurement method. The Company uses the straight-line attribution method of recognizing compensation expense over the vesting period. The estimated fair value of employee awards is expensed on a straight-line basis over the period from grant date to remaining requisite service period which is generally the vesting period. The fair value of each new stock option award is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes-Merton option-pricing model. The Black-Scholes-Merton option-pricing model was developed for use in estimating the value of traded options that have no vesting restrictions and are fully transferable. In addition, option-pricing models require the input of highly subjective assumptions. Inherent in this model are assumptions related to stock price, expected stock-price volatility, expected term, risk-free interest rate and dividend yield. The risk-free interest rate is based on data derived from public sources. The estimated stock price is based on comparable public company information and the Company’s estimated discounted cash flows. The expected stock-price volatility is primarily based on comparable public company information. Expected term and dividend yield assumptions are based on management’s estimates. Restricted stock units classified as liability awards are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period until vested.

The fair value of equity units awarded to non-employees is measured as the units vest using a Monte Carlo simulation analysis. The Monte Carlo simulation approach models future liquidation proceeds under a risk-neutral framework. Under a risk-neutral framework, the total capital value of the Company is assumed to follow a random statistical process and is expected to grow at an annual rate of return (drift) equal to the appropriate risk-free interest rate. In constructing the Monte Carlo simulation model, certain input parameters such as the initial total equity-based capital value as of the valuation date, the expected annual equity-based capital volatility, the expected time until liquidation, the annual risk-free rate of return, and the annual dividend yield are obtained or calculated. The valuation is classified as a Level 3 measurement.

Income taxes —Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. Valuation allowances are established when management determines that it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax asset will not be realized. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. The Company recognizes the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained.

Recognized income tax positions are measured at the largest amount that is greater than 50% likely of being realized. Changes in recognition or measurement are reflected in the period in which the change in judgment occurs. The Company recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to uncertain income tax positions in income tax expense. There is considerable judgment involved in assessing whether deferred tax assets will be realized and in determining whether positions taken on the Company's tax returns are more likely than not of being sustained.

Concentration of credit risk —Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk include primarily cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables and financial instruments used in hedging activities. The Company considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Company's objective for its cash and cash equivalents is to invest in high-quality money market funds that are prime AAA rated, have diversified portfolios and have strong financial institutions backing them. The Company sells its services and products to a large number of diverse customers in a number of different industries, thus spreading the trade credit risk. No one customer represented more than 10% of revenue of the Company for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 or 2012. The Company extends credit based on an evaluation of the customers' financial condition. The Company monitors its exposure for credit losses and maintains allowances for anticipated losses. The counterparties to the agreements relating to the Company's financial instruments consist of major, international institutions. The Company does not believe that there is significant risk of nonperformance by these counterparties as the Company monitors the credit ratings of such counterparties and limits the financial exposure with any one institution.

Securitizations —Securitization transactions in connection with UCI's accounts receivable facility are classified as debt on the Company's balance sheet and the related cash flows from any advances or reductions are reflected as cash flows from financing activities. UCI sells to investors, on a revolving non-recourse basis, a percentage ownership interest in certain accounts receivable through wholly owned special purpose entities. UCI retains interests in the accounts receivable that have not been sold to investors. The retained interest is subordinated to the sold interest in that it absorbs 100% of any credit losses on the sold receivable interests. UCI services the receivables sold under the facility.

Reclassifications —Certain reclassifications have been made to the prior year financial statements to conform to the current period presentation.

New accounting pronouncements —In February 2013, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2013-04, which amended Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 405, Liabilities. The amendments provide guidance for the recognition, measurement, and disclosure of obligations resulting from joint and several liability arrangements for which the total amount of the obligation (within the scope of this guidance) is fixed at the reporting date. Examples of obligations within the scope of ASU 2013-04 include debt arrangements, other contractual obligations, and settled litigation and judicial rulings. The Company adopted ASU 2013-04 during the first quarter of 2014. The adoption of ASU 2013-04 did not have a significant impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements or disclosures.

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (ASC 606). The amendments provide guidance to clarify the principles for recognizing revenue and to develop a common revenue standard for GAAP and International Financial Reporting Standards. For public entities, the amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2016, including interim periods within that reporting period. The Company is currently evaluating the impact ASU 2014-09 will have on its consolidated financial statements and disclosures.

2. Property and Equipment

Property and equipment consists of the following:

	December 31, 2014	December 31, 2013
Land and improvements	$ 129,900	$ 149,500
Buildings and improvements	388,900	371,200
Broadcast equipment	399,300	371,100
Furniture, computer and other equipment	233,800	224,500
Land, building, transponder equipment and vehicles financed with capital leases	94,500	93,700
	1,246,400	1,210,000
Accumulated depreciation	(435,900)	(397,300)
	$ 810,500	$ 812,700

Depreciation expense on property and equipment was $105.5 million, $87.6 million and $75.3 million for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively. Accumulated depreciation related to assets financed with capital leases at December 31, 2014 and 2013 is $28.7 million and $22.5 million, respectively.

As of December 31, 2013, the Company classified $0.3 million of land and buildings in the Media Networks segment as held for sale, which is included in prepaid expenses and other on the consolidated balance sheet. The carrying value reflects the estimated selling price based on market data, which is a Level 2 input. There were no properties classified as held for sale as of December 31, 2014. During the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, the Company recorded an impairment loss of $7.0 million, $0.2 million and $2.5 million, respectively, related to the write-down of assets held for sale, as the book value of some of the properties was in excess of their fair value less costs to sell. All of the properties held for sale as of December 31, 2013 were sold during the first quarter of 2014.

3. Accounts Payable and Accrued Liabilities

Accounts payable and accrued liabilities consist of the following:

	December 31, 2014	December 31, 2013
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	$ 166,400	$ 159,600
Accrued compensation	66,700	82,200
	$ 233,100	$ 241,800

Restructuring, Severance and Related Charges

During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company incurred restructuring, severance and related charges in the amount of $41.2 million. This amount includes a $41.4 million charge related to broader-based cost-saving restructuring initiatives, partially offset by a $0.2 million benefit related to the adjustment of severance charges for individual employees. The severance benefit of $0.2 million is related to miscellaneous severance agreements with employees in the Media Networks and Radio segments.

Corporate	1,500	200	1,700
Consolidated	$ 33,100	$ 1,200	$34,300

All balances related to restructuring employee termination benefits are expected to be paid within twelve months from December 31, 2014. Balances related to restructuring lease obligations will be settled over the remaining lease term. As of December 31, 2014, future charges associated with the aforementioned restructuring activities cannot be reasonably estimated.

During the year ended December 31, 2013, the Company incurred restructuring, severance and related charges in the amount of $29.4 million. Of this amount, $5.8 million related to severance charges for individual employees and $23.6 million related to broader-based cost-saving restructuring initiatives. The severance charge of $5.8 million is related to miscellaneous severance agreements with corporate employees as well as employees in the Media Networks and Radio segments. The restructuring charge of $23.6 million includes a charge of $25.2 million related to restructuring activities initiated in 2012 (which includes a charge of $27.4 million and a benefit of $2.2 million in the Radio segment related to the elimination of lease obligations) and a benefit of $1.6 million in the Media Networks segment related to the elimination of a lease obligation from restructuring activities that were initiated in 2009. The restructuring charge consists of the following:

Of the $28.4 million accrued as of December 31, 2014 related to other restructuring activities initiated in 2012, $25.5 million is included in current liabilities and $2.9 million is included in non-current liabilities. The Company has paid substantially all of its liability related to restructuring activities initiated prior to 2012.

Of the $18.3 million accrued as of December 31, 2013 related to other restructuring activities initiated in 2012, $14.6 million is included in current liabilities and $3.7 million is included in non-current liabilities.

4. Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

Goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite lives, such as television and radio broadcast licenses and trade names, are not amortized and are tested for impairment annually or more frequently if circumstances indicate a possible impairment exists.

Goodwill is associated with the Company's Media Networks segment. The goodwill associated with the Company's Radio segment was fully impaired as of December 31, 2013. The fair value of the Company's segments is classified as a Level 3 measurement due to the significance of unobservable inputs based on company-specific information. The Company used the income approach to measure the fair value of each of its segments. Under the income approach, the Company calculated the fair value of each segment based on the present value of the estimated future cash flows. Cash flow projections were based on management's estimates of revenue growth rates and operating margins, taking into consideration industry and market conditions. The discount rate used for each segment was based on the weighted-average cost of capital ("WACC") adjusted for the relevant risk associated with business-specific characteristics and the uncertainty related to the segment's ability to execute on the projected cash flows. The discount rate also reflected adjustments required when comparing the sum of the fair values of the Company's segments to the Company's overall valuation. The unobservable inputs used to estimate the fair value of these segments included projected revenue growth rates, profitability and the risk factors added to the discount rate. For the Company's fiscal 2014 goodwill impairment testing, significant unobservable inputs utilized included discount rates ranging from 9.0% to 13.5% and a terminal growth rate of 3.0%.

The television and radio broadcast licenses have indefinite lives because the Company expects to renew them and renewals are routinely granted with little cost, provided that the licensee has complied with the applicable rules and regulations of the FCC. Historically, all material television and radio licenses that have been up for renewal have been renewed. The Company is unable to predict the effect that further technological changes will have on the television and radio industry or the future results of its television and radio broadcast businesses. The television and radio broadcast licenses and the related cash flows are expected to continue indefinitely, and as a result the broadcast licenses have an indefinite useful life. The fair value of the television and radio broadcast licenses is determined using the direct valuation method which is classified as a Level 3 measurement. Under the direct valuation method, the fair value of the television and radio broadcast licenses is calculated at the network or market level, as applicable. The application of the direct valuation method attempts to isolate the income that is properly attributable to the television and radio broadcast licenses alone (that is, apart from tangible and identified intangible assets and goodwill). It is based upon modeling a hypothetical "greenfield" build-up to a "normalized" enterprise that, by design, lacks inherent goodwill and whose only other assets have essentially been paid for (or added) as part of the build-up process. Under the direct valuation method, it is assumed that rather than acquiring television and radio broadcast licenses as part of a going concern business, the buyer hypothetically develops television and radio broadcast licenses and builds a new operation with similar attributes from inception. Thus, the buyer incurs start-up costs during the build-up phase. Initial capital costs are deducted from the discounted cash flow model which results in a value that is directly attributable to the indefinite-lived intangible assets. The key assumptions using the direct valuation method are market revenue growth rates, market share, profit margin, duration and profile of the build-up period, estimated start-up capital costs and losses incurred during the build-up period, the risk-adjusted discount rate and terminal values. The market revenue growth rate assumption is impacted by, among other things, factors affecting the local advertising market for television and radio stations. This data is populated using industry normalized information representing an average FCC license within a market. For the Company's fiscal 2014 broadcast license impairment testing, significant unobservable inputs utilized included a discount rate of 9.0% and terminal growth rates ranging from 0.5% to 3.0%.

For trade names assessed for impairment quantitatively, the Company assesses recoverability by utilizing the relief from royalty method to determine the estimated fair value for each indefinite-lived intangible asset which is classified as a Level 3 measurement. The relief from royalty method estimates the Company's theoretical royalty savings from ownership of the intangible asset. Key assumptions used in this model include discount rates, royalty rates, growth rates, sales projections and terminal value rates. Discount rates, royalty rates, growth rates and sales projections are the assumptions most sensitive and susceptible to change as they require significant management judgment. Discount rates used are similar to the rates estimated by the WACC considering any differences in Company-specific risk factors. Royalty rates are established by management and are periodically substantiated by third-party valuation consultants. Operational management, considering industry and Company-specific historical and projected data, develops growth rates and sales projections associated with the trademarks. Terminal value rate determination follows common methodology of capturing the present value of perpetual sales estimates beyond the last projected period assuming a constant WACC and constant long-term growth rates.

For the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company recognized impairment losses in the Radio segment of $133.4 million related to the write-down of broadcast licenses and $9.0 million related to the write-down of a trade name based on a review of market conditions and management's assessment of long-term growth rates. The fair value of the Media Networks segment's total assets exceeded the carrying value by more than 50%.

For the year ended December 31, 2013, the Company recognized an impairment loss of $2.5 million in the Media Networks segment related to the residual write-off of the TeleFutura trade name, as the network had completed its rebranding as UniMás by the end of 2013. Based on a review of market conditions and management's assessment of long-term growth rates in the Radio segment, the Company recognized an impairment loss of $307.8 million related to goodwill, resulting in a write off of the entire goodwill balance and $43.4 million related to the write-down of broadcast licenses. The fair value of the Media Networks segment's total assets exceeded the carrying value by more than 50%.

For the year ended December 31, 2012, in the Media Networks segment, the Company recognized impairment losses of $47.6 million related to the write-down of a trade name, as a result of a decision to rebrand the TeleFutura network as UniMás, and $0.8 million related to the write-off of a broadcast license. In the Radio segment, the Company recognized an impairment loss of $5.7 million related to the write-off of broadcast licenses.

The Company has various intangible assets with definite lives that are being amortized on a straight-line basis. Advertiser related intangible assets are primarily being amortized through 2026, and the multiple system operator contracts and relationships and broadcast affiliate agreements and relationships are primarily being amortized through 2027 and 2031, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, the Company incurred amortization expense of $58.3 million, $58.3 million and $55.0 million, respectively. The remaining weighted average amortization period for the amortizable intangible assets is approximately 15 years.

5. Program Rights and Prepayments Impairments

In December 2014, UCI entered into a binding term sheet to, among other things, amend the program license agreement (the “Venevision PLA”) between UCI and Venevision International, LLC (“Venevision”), pursuant to which UCI paid Venevision $177.5 million in December 2014 for amounts that would otherwise be due to Venevision through the December 2017 expiration of the Venevision PLA, and UCI received from Venevision a full release of payment and certain other claims under the Venevision PLA. The amendment releases Venevision from its obligation to produce a certain number of program hours per year for UCI and terminates UCI’s exclusive right to select and exploit Venevision produced or controlled content in the U.S., subject to limited exceptions. UCI will also pay a license fee to Venevision of approximately $24.0 million per year through December 2017 for the rights to certain programs. The amendment triggered an impairment review on Venevision-related prepaid assets which resulted in an impairment charge of approximately $182.9 million for the year-ended December 31, 2014. Fair value was determined using Level 3 inputs by assessing the discounted cash inflows associated with the advertising revenue retained and the direct cash outflows associated primarily with the licensing costs of such programming.

On November 2, 2005, UCI entered into a contract (as amended) to acquire the Spanish-language broadcast rights in the U.S. to the 2014 Fédération Internationale de Football Association (“FIFA”) World Cup soccer games and other FIFA events through 2014. As of December 31, 2013, UCI paid the full contractual amount of $170.8 million for the 2014 World Cup media rights. Because the World Cup games were not available for broadcast until 2014, the Company recorded these payments as program rights prepayments in the consolidated balance sheet. Based upon the Company’s then current financial estimates, the program rights prepayments were reviewed for impairment. The Company believed that the fair value of the 2014 World Cup media rights declined as compared to its carrying value. Fair value was determined using Level 3 inputs by assessing the incremental cash inflows associated with the World Cup games in excess of the direct cash outflows associated with production, licensing and media rights payments (all costs associated with advertising, promotion and broadcast of the World Cup games, as well as the production of certain television programming related to the World Cup games). Using a discounted cash flow model, the Company measured the fair value of the 2014 World Cup media rights, as compared to the amounts recorded on its balance sheet, and recorded an impairment loss of approximately $82.5 million during the year ended December 31, 2013.

During the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, the Company recognized impairment losses of $8.2 million, $2.4 million and $31.9 million, respectively, related to the write-off of other program related rights due to revised estimates of ultimate revenues.

6. Financial Instruments and Fair Value Measures

The carrying amounts of certain financial instruments, including cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their fair value.

Interest Rate Swaps —Currently, the Company uses interest rate swaps to manage its interest rate risk. The interest rate swap asset of $0.9 million and the interest rate swap liability of $51.9 million as of December 31, 2014 and the interest rate swap asset of $27.2 million and the interest rate swap liability of $29.5 million as of December 31, 2013 were measured at fair value primarily using significant other observable inputs (Level 2). In adjusting the fair value of its derivative contracts for the effect of nonperformance risk, the Company has considered the impact of netting and any applicable credit enhancements, such as collateral postings, thresholds, mutual puts, and guarantees.

The majority of inputs into the valuations of the Company's interest rate derivatives include market-observable data such as interest rate curves, volatilities, and information derived from, or corroborated by market-observable data. Additionally, a specific unobservable input used by the Company in determining the fair value of its interest rate derivatives is an estimation of current credit spreads to appropriately reflect both its own nonperformance risk and the respective counterparty's nonperformance risk in the fair value measurements. The inputs utilized for the Company's own credit spread are based on implied spreads from its privately placed debt securities with an established trading market. For counterparties with publicly available credit information, the credit spreads over the London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR") used in the calculations represent implied credit default swap spreads obtained from a third party credit data provider. Once these spreads have been obtained, they are used in the fair value calculation to determine the credit valuation adjustment ("CVA") component of the derivative valuation. The Company made an accounting policy election to measure the credit risk of its derivative financial instruments that are subject to master netting agreements on a net basis by counterparty portfolio.

The CVAs associated with the Company's derivatives utilize Level 3 inputs, such as estimates of current credit spreads to evaluate the likelihood of default by its counterparties. If the CVA is a significant component of the derivative valuation, the Company will classify the fair value of the derivative as a Level 3 measurement. If required, any transfer between Level 2 and Level 3 will occur at the end of the reporting period. At December 31, 2014 and 2013, the Company has assessed the significance of the impact of the CVAs on the overall valuation of its derivative positions and has determined that the CVAs are not significant to the overall valuation of its derivatives. As a result, the Company has determined that its derivative valuations in their entirety are classified as Level 2 measurements.

Available-for-Sale Securities —The Company's available-for-sale securities relate to its investment in convertible notes with an equity method investee. The convertible notes are recorded at fair value through adjustments to other comprehensive income (loss). The fair value of the convertible notes is classified as a Level 3 measurement due to the significance of unobservable inputs which utilize company-specific information. The Company uses an income approach to value the notes' fixed income component and the Black-Scholes model to value the conversion feature. Key inputs to the Black-Scholes model include the underlying security value, strike price, volatility, time-to-maturity and risk-free rate. See Note 7. Investments .

Fair Value of Debt Instruments —The carrying value and fair value of the Company’s and UCI’s debt instruments as of December 31, 2014 and 2013 are set out in the following tables. The fair values of the credit facilities are based on market prices (Level 1). The fair values of the senior notes are based on industry curves based on credit rating (Level 2). The fair value of the convertible debentures is estimated using a valuation method based on assumptions including expected volatility, risk-free interest rate, bond yield, recovery rate, and expected term (Level 3). The accounts receivable facility carrying value approximates fair value (Level 1).

Equity method investments primarily includes UCI's investment in Fusion Media Network, LLC ("Fusion"), a joint venture with Walt Disney Company's ABC News, which is a 24-hour English language news and lifestyle TV and digital network targeted at young English speaking Hispanics and their peers, and UCI's investment in El Rey Holdings LLC ("El Rey") which owns and operates, among other assets, the El Rey television network, a 24-hour English-language general entertainment cable network targeting young adult audiences.

Fusion (formerly known as Univision ABC News Network, LLC) was formed in July 2012 and provides programming on both linear and digital platforms. The Fusion linear network launched in October 2013. UCI holds a 50% non-controlling interest in the joint venture, which is accounted for as an equity method investment. During the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, UCI contributed $4.3 million, $11.2 million and $11.0 million, respectively, to the investment in Fusion. During the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, the Company recognized a loss of $11.9 million, $13.7 million and $0.9 million, respectively, related to its share of Fusion's net losses. As of December 31, 2014, UCI's share of Fusion's net losses exceeded UCI's equity investment in Fusion, resulting in an investment balance of zero. As of December 31, 2013, the net investment balance was $7.6 million. UCI is not obligated to fund any future losses of Fusion and will only recognize profits once the losses for which UCI did not participate in have been recovered.

The following table presents the summary financial information of Fusion for the period or as of the date indicated.

El Rey was formed in May 2013, and the El Rey television network launched in December 2013. On May 14, 2013, UCI invested approximately $2.6 million for a 4.99% equity and voting interest in El Rey. Additionally, UCI invested approximately $72.4 million in the form of a convertible note subject to restrictions on transfer. The convertible note is a twelve year note that bears interest at 7.5%. Interest is added to principal as it accrues annually. A portion of the initial principal of the note may be converted into equity after two years and the entire initial principal may be converted following four years after the launch of the network; provided that the maximum voting interest for UCI's combined equity interest cannot exceed 49% for the first six years after the network's launch. In November 2014, UCI invested an additional $25 million in El Rey in the form of a convertible note on the same terms as the original convertible note as contemplated under the El Rey limited liability company agreement. For a period following December 1, 2020 UCI has a right to call, and the initial majority equity owners have the right to put, in each case at fair market value, a portion of such owners' equity interest in El Rey. For a period following December 1, 2023 UCI has a similar right to call, and such owners have a similar right to put, all of such owners' equity interest in El Rey.

UCI accounts for its equity investment under the equity method of accounting due to the fact that although UCI has less than a 20% interest, it exerts significant influence over El Rey. UCI's share of earnings and losses is recorded based on contractual liquidation rights and not on relative equity ownership. To the extent that UCI's share of El Rey's losses exceeds UCI's equity investment, UCI reduces the carrying value of its investment in El Rey's convertible note. As a result, the carrying value of UCI's equity investment in El Rey does not equal UCI's proportionate ownership in El Rey's net assets. During the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, the Company recognized a loss of $73.3 million and $22.7 million, respectively, related to its share of El Rey's net losses.

The El Rey convertible notes are debt securities which are classified as available-for-sale securities. For the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company recorded unrealized gains of approximately $40.1 million to other comprehensive income (loss) to adjust the convertible debt, including all interest, to their fair value of $73.5 million. Through December 31, 2013, the Company recorded unrealized gains of approximately $20.1 million to other comprehensive income (loss) to adjust the convertible note entered into in May 2013 to its fair value of $72.4 million. During the year ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, the Company recorded interest income of $5.9 million, and $3.4 million, respectively, related to the convertible debt. As of December 31, 2014 and 2013, the net investment balance was $73.5 million and $75.8 million, respectively.

Long-term liabilities	$ 124,300	$ 72,400

During the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, the Company recognized an impairment loss of $1.3 million and $3.1 million, respectively, in other non-operating expense related to the impairment of a cost method investment in the Media Networks segment, as the Company determined that the investment incurred an other than temporary decline in fair value. During the year ended December 31, 2012, the Company recognized an impairment loss of $0.7 million in the Radio segment and $0.3 million in the Media Networks segment related to the write-off of cost method investments, as the Company determined that the investments incurred an other than temporary decline in fair value.

At December 31, 2014, the Company had 9.4 million shares of Entravision Communications Corporation ("Entravision") Class U shares which have limited voting rights and are not publicly traded but are convertible into Class A common stock. The investment is reviewed for impairment when events or circumstances indicate that there may be a decline in fair value that is other than temporary. The fair value of the Company's investment in Entravision is based on Level 1 inputs. The Company monitors Entravision's Class A common stock, which is publicly traded, as well as Entravision's financial results, operating performance and the outlook for the media industry in general for indicators of impairment. The fair value of the Company's investment in Entravision was approximately $60.6 million at December 31, 2014 based on the market value of Entravision's Class A common stock on that date.

Management Fee Agreement

Univision and the Original Sponsors entered into a management agreement with UCI (the "Sponsor Management Agreement") under which certain affiliates of the Original Sponsors provide UCI with management, consulting and advisory services for a quarterly aggregate service fee of 1.3% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. The management fee for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012 was $16.3 million, $14.6 million and $13.0 million, respectively. The out-of-pocket expenses for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012 were $1.0 million, $0.8 million and $1.0 million, respectively. The management fee and out-of-pocket expenses are included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the statements of operations. In addition, certain affiliates of the Original Sponsors will receive under this agreement an aggregate fee in connection with certain extraordinary transactions involving the Company, including certain change of control transactions, equal to 1% (minus the percentage paid to Televisa for such transaction as described below under "Technical Assistance Agreement") of the gross transaction value. The management agreement has a 10 year evergreen term. In the event of an initial public offering or a change of control transaction, this agreement will terminate (unless otherwise determined by a majority of the Original Sponsors and Televisa taken together) and UCI will have to pay to certain affiliates of the Original Sponsors (i) unpaid service fees and expenses if any and (ii) the net present values of the service fees that would have been payable to the Original Sponsors from the date of termination until the expiration date then in effect immediately prior to such termination based on an agreed assumed growth rate. No transaction fee was payable in connection with the refinancing transactions described in Note 9. Debt.

Other Agreements and Transactions

Univision has a consulting arrangement with an entity controlled by the Chairman of the Board of Directors. See Note 15. Performance Awards and Incentive Plans.

The Original Sponsors are private investment firms that have investments in companies that may do business with UCI. No individual Original Sponsor has a controlling ownership interest in UCI. The Original Sponsors have controlling ownership interests or ownership interests with significant influence with companies that do business with UCI.

UCI has previously announced plans for a musical competition television show scheduled to be broadcast on the Univision Network in the fall season of 2015, based on an agreement UCI has reached with the owners of the rights to the program, including an entity controlled by Saban Capital Group, Inc.

Televisa Related Transactions

On December 20, 2010, Televisa invested $1,255.0 million in Univision, sold its 50% interest in TuTV (now known as Univision Emerging Networks LLC), UCI's 50/50 joint venture with Televisa, to UCI for $55.0 million and completed the other transactions contemplated by an investment agreement with Univision and the other parties thereto (collectively the "Televisa transactions"). In exchange for Televisa's investment, Televisa received an initial 5% equity stake in Univision, which issued 526,336 shares of Class C common stock in connection therewith. In addition, Univision issued debentures, maturing in 2025, to Televisa which are convertible into an additional 30% equity stake, and Televisa also received an option to acquire an additional 5% equity stake in Univision at the fair market value at the time of exercise. Both the convertible debentures and additional equity are subject to applicable laws and regulations and certain contractual limitations, including without limitation the FCC's alien ownership and multiple ownership limitations. In connection with the Televisa transactions, Televisa contributed approximately 3% of the initial equity stake in Univision that it acquired to a limited liability corporation associated with the Company's consulting arrangement with its chairman of the Board of Directors.

As a result of the Televisa transactions, Televisa has, subject to continuing to hold a specified minimum interest in Univision, certain approval rights with respect to certain non-ordinary course of business matters consistent with customary lender or minority investor protections, including, but not limited to, certain dividends and distributions, certain stock repurchases, related party transactions, bankruptcy, incurrence of indebtedness above specified levels, changing the Company's core business and equity issuances to employees in excess of certain levels. Further, certain non-ordinary course of business matters, including entry or modification of material agreements and acquisition and sale of assets require the approval of both (i) the holders of a majority of the shares of Univision, as held by Televisa and the Original Sponsors, and (ii) at least four members of the group comprising Televisa and the five Original Sponsors.

With the closing of the Televisa transactions, Televisa became a related party to the Company as of such date. In connection with the Televisa transactions, UCI entered into the following agreements with Televisa:

Program License Agreement ("PLA")

In connection with the Televisa transactions, UCI entered into a new program license agreement with Televisa on December 20, 2010, as amended and restated as of February 28, 2011 (the "PLA"), replacing the prior program license agreement, as amended on January 22, 2009 that was in effect until December 31, 2010 (the "Prior PLA"), and certain other agreements with Televisa. Under the PLA, UCI has exclusive access to an extensive suite of U.S. Spanish-language broadcast rights, and, in addition, UCI has exclusive U.S. Spanish-language digital rights to Televisa's audiovisual programming (with limited exceptions), including the U.S. rights owned or controlled by Televisa to broadcast Mexican First Division soccer league games. UCI has the ability to use Televisa online, network and pay-television programming on its current and future Spanish-language networks and on current and future digital platforms. The PLA will expire the later of 2025 or seven and one-half years after Televisa has sold two thirds of its initial investment in Univision.

Under the PLA, Televisa receives royalties, which are based on 11.91% of substantially all of UCI's audiovisual and interactive revenues through December 2017. Additionally, Televisa receives an incremental 2% in royalty payments on any of UCI's annual audiovisual revenues above the 2009 revenue base of $1,648.9 million. After December 2017, the royalty payments to Televisa will increase to 16.22%, and commencing later in 2018, the rate will further increase to 16.54% until the expiration of the Televisa PLA. Additionally, after

December 2017 Televisa will continue to receive the same incremental 2% in royalty payments as it currently receives under the PLA.

Pursuant to the PLA and Prior PLA, UCI committed to provide future advertising and promotion time at no charge to Televisa with a cumulative historical fair value of $970.0 million. These commitments extend through 2025, the earliest fixed date for termination of the PLA. The advertising revenues from Televisa will be recognized into revenues through 2025 as UCI provides the advertising to satisfy the commitments. The book value remaining under these commitments as of December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 was $607.4 million and $667.4 million, respectively, based on the fair value of UCI's advertising commitments at the dates the Prior PLA and PLA were entered into. For the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013, and 2012, the Company recognized revenue of $60.0 million, $60.1 million, and $60.3 million, respectively, based on the fair value of UCI's advertising commitments at the dates the Prior PLA and PLA were entered into. UCI is contractually obligated to provide approximately $74.1 million of such advertising to Televisa in 2015. The amount will increase for each year thereafter and through 2025 by a factor that approximates the annual consumer price index.

In December 2013, the PLA was amended to (i) allow UCI to sublicense English language rights to the Televisa owned or controlled U.S. rights to Mexican First Division soccer league games and (ii) include revenue received from licensing English language rights to Mexican soccer in the revenues subject to the royalty under the PLA starting January 2013.

In 2014, Televisa notified UCI that the cost to acquire the rights to certain Mexican First Division soccer leagues games not owned or controlled by Televisa were greater than expected. As obtaining the U.S. rights to Mexican First Division soccer leagues games and other sports programming is important to the Company's strategy, UCI agreed to pay Televisa a fixed license fee per season for the U.S. rights to these games that over the term of the license is expected to be in aggregate approximately $2.4 million more than the amounts that would have been payable for these rights under the PLA.

For the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013, and 2012, of the Company's total license fees of $380.4 million, $338.1 million and $311.1 million, respectively, the license fee to Televisa related to the PLA was $289.5 million, $248.8 million and $224.1 million, respectively. The license fees are included in direct operating expenses on the statements of operations. As of December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, of the Company's total accrued license fees of $39.4 million and $38.8 million, respectively, the Company had accrued license fees to Televisa related to the PLA of $31.7 million and $31.1 million, respectively.

The PLA was amended in July 2015 to, among other things, extend the term of the agreement and revise the royalty payments to Televisa. See Note 20. Subsequent Events.

Mexico License Agreement

Under a program license agreement entered into with an affiliate of Televisa for the territory of Mexico (the "Mexico License"), UCI has granted Televisa the exclusive right for the term of the PLA to broadcast in Mexico all Spanish-language programming produced by or for UCI (with limited exceptions). The terms for the Mexico License are generally reciprocal to those under the PLA, except, among other things, the only royalty payable by Televisa to UCI is a $17.3 million annual payment through December 31, 2025 for the rights to UCI's programming that is produced for or broadcast on the UniMás network, and UCI has the right to purchase advertising on Televisa channels at certain preferred rates to advertise its businesses.

Sales Agency Arrangement

In connection with entering into the Mexico License, UCI engaged Televisa to act as its exclusive sales agent for the term of the Mexico License to sell or license worldwide outside of the United States and Mexico UCI's programming originally produced in the Spanish language or with Spanish subtitles to the extent UCI has rights in the applicable territories and to the extent UCI chooses to make such programming available to third parties in such territories (subject to limited exceptions). Following the agreement to terminate Venevision's rights to UCI's programming in Venezuela and other international territories in December 2014 in connection with the amendment of the Venevision PLA, Televisa's rights to sell UCI's programming now include Venezuela. Televisa will receive a fee equal to 20% of gross receipts actually received from licensees and reimbursement of certain expenses. UCI has no obligation to pay a fee or reimburse expenses with respect to any direct broadcast by UCI of its programming or under certain non-exclusive worldwide arrangements UCI enters into for its programming. The Company has not recognized any revenue or expense related to this arrangement.

Technical Assistance Agreement

In connection with its investment in Univision, Televisa entered into an agreement with Univision and UCI under which Televisa provides UCI with technical assistance related to UCI's business for a quarterly fee of 0.7% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. The fees for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012 were $8.8 million, $7.8 million and $7.0 million, respectively. The technical assistance fee and out-of-pocket expenses are included in selling, general, and administrative expenses on the statements of operations.

In addition, Televisa will receive under this agreement a fee in connection with certain extraordinary transactions involving the Company, including certain change of control transactions, equal to 0.35%, subject to certain adjustments, of the gross transaction value. The technical assistance agreement has a 10 year evergreen term. Upon the termination of the Sponsor Management Agreement, this agreement will terminate and UCI will have to pay to Televisa (i) unpaid service fees and expenses if any and (ii) the net present values of the service fees that would have been payable to Televisa from the date of termination until the expiration date then in effect immediately prior to such termination based on an agreed assumed growth rate. No transaction fee was payable in connection with the refinancing transactions described in Note 9. Debt.

Launch Rights

In March 2013, UCI paid approximately $81.0 million to Televisa and its chairman, a director of Univision, in an arrangement that resulted in UCI obtaining for its benefit certain launch rights to be provided by a multiple system operator that distributes UCI's networks on its carriage platform. The Company has recorded an intangible asset for the launch rights and will amortize the asset over its estimated economic life of approximately 20 years. During the twelve months ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, the Company recognized amortization expense of $4.1 million and $3.2 million, respectively. As of December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, the net asset value of the launch rights was $74.0 million and $78.1 million, respectively.

Other Televisa Transactions

From time to time UCI enters into licensing arrangements with respect to certain programming rights obtained by UCI from third parties and not covered by the Sales Agency Arrangement. In 2013, UCI sublicensed certain rights in Mexico to sports programming to Televisa in exchange for $2.0 million and authorization for UCI to sublicense certain rights outside of Mexico to a third party.

Capital Contribution

On January 30, 2014, a group of institutional investors invested $125.0 million in the Company in exchange for Class A common stock representing approximately 1.5% of the fully diluted equity pursuant to an Investment Agreement dated January 30, 2014 with the Company and the other parties named therein. The Company contributed $124.4 million, net of offering costs, to UCI. UCI used this contribution to repurchase a portion of its 6.75% senior secured notes due 2022. See Note 9. Debt.

Fusion

In connection with its investment in Fusion, UCI provides certain facilities support and capital assets, engineering and operations support, field acquisition/newsgathering and business services (the “support services”). In return, UCI receives reimbursement of certain costs. During the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, the Company recognized $10.5 million, $8.7 million and $0.3 million, respectively, related to the support services. As of December 31, 2014, and 2013, the Company has a receivable of $1.6 million and $6.9 million, respectively, due from Fusion. The Company has recorded a liability of $27.2 million and $31.6 million as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively, related to advance payments associated with the future use of certain facilities and capital assets. In addition, UCI licenses certain content and other intellectual property to Fusion on a royalty-free basis and UCI is reimbursed for third-party costs in connection with the use of such content.

El Rey

In connection with its investment in El Rey, UCI provides certain distribution, advertising sales and back office/technical services to El Rey for fees generally based on incremental costs incurred by UCI in providing such services, including compensation costs for certain dedicated UCI employees performing such services, an allocation of certain UCI facilities costs and a use fee during the useful life of certain UCI assets used by El Rey in connection with the provision of the services. UCI also receives an annual $3.0 million management fee which is recorded as a component of revenue. UCI has also agreed to provide certain English-language soccer programming in exchange for a license fee and promotional support to the El Rey television network. During the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, the Company recognized $12.4 million and $4.6 million, respectively, for the management fee and reimbursement of costs. As of December 2014 and 2013, the Company has a receivable of $2.2 million and $1.5 million, respectively, related to these management fees and costs.

January 2014 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities

On January 23, 2014, UCI entered into an amendment (the “January 2014 Amendment”) to its bank credit agreement governing UCI’s senior secured revolving credit facility and senior secured term loan facility, which are referred to collectively as the “Senior Secured Credit Facilities.” The January 2014 Amendment, among other things, facilitated the incurrence of replacement term loans in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $3,376.7 million (comprising (x) new replacement term loans in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $288.4 million and (y) converted replacement term loans in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $3,088.3 million) to refinance and/or modify the interest rate with respect to certain existing term loans due 2020. The replacement term loans mature on March 1, 2020 and bear interest, at UCI’s option, either at the alternate base rate plus an applicable margin of 2.0% per annum or an adjusted LIBO Rate (with an interest rate floor of 1.0%) plus an applicable margin of 3.0% per annum.

June 2013 Amendment to the Accounts Receivable Sale Facility

On June 28, 2013, UCI entered into an amendment to its accounts receivable sale facility (as amended, the “Facility”). The amendment, among other things, increased the borrowing capacity from $300.0 million to $400.0 million and extended the maturity date of the Facility from June 4, 2016 to June 28, 2018 (or, if earlier, the ninetieth (90th) day prior to the scheduled maturity of any indebtedness in an aggregate principal amount greater than or equal to $250,000,000 outstanding under UCI’s Credit Agreement (as defined in the receivables purchase agreement relating to the Facility (as amended, the “Receivables Purchase Agreement”))). The amendment also lowered the interest rate on the borrowings under the Facility to a LIBOR rate (without a floor) plus a margin of 2.25% per annum.

May 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities

On May 29, 2013, UCI entered into an amendment (the “May 2013 Amendment”) to its bank credit agreement governing UCI’s Senior Secured Credit Facilities. The May 2013 Amendment, among other things, (a) increased the commitments under the existing revolving credit facility from $487.6 million to $550.0 million and paid an upfront fee with respect to such new commitments under the existing revolving credit facility in an amount equal to 0.50% thereof; (b) increased the aggregate principal amount of term loans outstanding under the existing term loan facility by an aggregate principal amount of $400.0 million; and (c) facilitated the incurrence of $850.0 million of additional indebtedness to extend (by way of refinancing indebtedness) the maturity dates of UCI’s existing outstanding term loans due 2017, on terms and conditions substantially similar to UCI’s existing term loans due 2020 discussed below. The increased and newly extended term loans mature on March 1, 2020 and bear interest, at UCI’s option, either at the alternate base rate plus an applicable margin of 2.0% per annum or an adjusted LIBO Rate (with an interest floor of 1.0%) plus an applicable margin of 3.0% per annum. The increased revolving commitments were issued at and subject to the same terms as the new revolving credit commitments from the February 2013 Amendment discussed below. The May 2013 Amendment also included certain other non-economic modifications to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities.

May 2013 Offering of the 2023 Senior Secured Notes

On May 21, 2013, UCI issued $700.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 5.125% senior secured notes due 2023 (the “2023 senior secured notes”). The net proceeds from the sale of the 2023 senior secured notes were used to repay all of the remaining $153.1 million of UCI’s senior secured term loans due 2014 and $534.9 million of UCI’s senior secured term loans due 2017, plus, in each case, accrued and unpaid interest thereon plus any fees and expenses related thereto. See “Debt Instruments—Senior Secured Notes—5.125% due 2023” below.

February 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities

On February 28, 2013, UCI entered into an amendment (the “February 2013 Amendment”) to its credit agreement governing UCI’s Senior Secured Credit Facilities. The February 2013 Amendment, among other things, extended the maturity dates of all or a portion of its existing term loans having maturity dates in 2014 and 2017 and its existing revolving credit commitments having maturity dates in 2014 and 2016. Such extensions were achieved through a combination of rollovers (or cashless conversions) of its existing term loans and/or its existing revolving credit commitments and with the proceeds of new term loans and new revolving credit commitments made by one or more new or existing lenders. The newly extended term loans were issued at 99.5% of par value, mature on March 1, 2020 and bear interest, at UCI’s option, either at the alternate base rate plus an applicable margin of 2.5% per annum or an adjusted LIBO Rate (with an interest rate floor of 1.25%) plus an applicable margin of 3.5% per annum, in each case, subject to step-downs in the margin similar to those applicable to its existing term loan facility. The new revolving credit commitments were subject to an upfront fee of 0.50% of the amount of such facility, mature on March 1, 2018, are subject to an unused line fee consistent with that previously applicable to the existing revolving credit facility and bear interest, at UCI’s option, either at the alternate base rate plus an applicable margin of 2.5% per annum or an adjusted LIBO Rate (with no interest rate floor) plus an applicable margin of 3.5% per annum, in each case, subject to step-downs in the margin similar to those applicable to its previous revolving credit facility. The February 2013 Amendment also included certain other non-economic modifications to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities.

September 2012 Offering of the Additional 2022 Senior Secured Notes

On September 19, 2012, UCI issued an additional $600.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 6.75% senior secured notes due 2022 (the “additional 2022 senior secured notes,” and together with the initial 2022 senior secured notes issued in August 2012, the “2022 senior secured notes”). The proceeds from the sale of the additional 2022 senior secured notes were used to repay $45.6 million of UCI’s senior secured term loans due 2014 and $562.7 million of UCI’s senior secured term loans due 2017, plus, in each case, accrued and unpaid interest thereon plus any fees and expenses related thereto. See “Debt Instruments—Senior Secured Notes—6.75% due 2022” below.

August 2012 Offering of the Initial 2022 Senior Secured Notes

On August 29, 2012, UCI issued $625.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 6.75% senior secured notes due 2022 (the “initial 2022 senior secured notes”). The proceeds from the sale of the initial 2022 senior secured notes were used to repay $46.1 million of UCI’s senior secured term loans due 2014 and $569.5 million of UCI’s senior secured term loans due 2017, plus, in each case, accrued and unpaid interest thereon plus any fees and expenses related thereto. February 2012 Offering of the Additional 2019 Senior Secured Notes

On February 7, 2012, UCI issued an additional $600.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 6.875% senior secured notes due 2019 (the “additional 2019 senior secured notes,” and together with the initial 2019 senior secured notes issued in May 2011, the “2019 senior secured notes”). The net proceeds from the sale of the additional 2019 senior secured notes were used to repay $596.0 million of UCI’s senior secured term loans due 2014, plus related fees and expenses. See “Debt Instruments—Senior Secured Notes—6.875% due 2019” below.

Loss on Extinguishment of Debt

For the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, the Company recorded a loss on extinguishment of debt of $17.2 million, $10.0 million and $2.6 million, respectively, as a result of refinancing UCI’s debt. The loss includes a premium, fees, the write-off of certain unamortized deferred financing costs and the write-off of certain unamortized discount and premium related to instruments that were repaid.

Senior Secured Credit Facilities

Bank senior secured revolving credit facility —The February 2013 Amendment established a revolving credit facility of $487.6 million that will mature on March 1, 2018, replacing UCI’s prior revolving credit facility, discussed below under “—Extinguished Debt Instruments.” The size of the new revolving credit facility can be increased upon receipt of additional commitments therefor up to $550.0 million without otherwise impacting the amount available for revolving credit commitment increases under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities’ incremental facility provisions. The applicable margin payable as interest thereon is either 2.5% per annum with respect to revolving loans bearing interest at the alternate base rate or 3.5% per annum with respect to revolving loans bearing interest at an adjusted LIBO Rate, in each case, with no interest rate floor (subject to agreed-upon step-downs in such margins upon the achievement of certain leverage ratios). In May 2013, UCI achieved a step-down in the applicable margin of 0.25%.

The May 2013 Amendment increased the amount of commitments under the revolving credit facility that will mature on March 1, 2018 to $550.0 million. The applicable margin payable as interest thereon following the May 2013 Amendment is the same as the new applicable margin payable on the new revolving credit facility from the February 2013 Amendment described above.

At December 31, 2014, there were no loans outstanding on the revolving credit facility. At December 31, 2014, after giving effect to borrowings and outstanding letters of credit, UCI has $540.3 million available on the revolving credit facility.

Bank senior secured term loan facility maturing in 2020—The February 2013 Amendment established a new term loan facility maturing on March 1, 2020. The May 2013 Amendment then increased the aggregate principal amount outstanding under the term loan facility established by the February 2013 Amendment by $400 million and facilitated the incurrence of $850 million of additional indebtedness by extending (by way of refinancing indebtedness) the maturity dates of UCI's existing outstanding term loans due 2017 until March 1, 2020. The new term loans under the increased term loan facility and the refinanced term loans bear interest, at UCI's option, either at the alternate base rate plus an applicable margin of 2.0% per annum or an adjusted LIBO Rate (with an interest rate floor of 1.0%) plus an applicable margin of 3.0% per annum. Commencing June 28, 2013, UCI has been required to make a quarterly payment of 0.25% of the aggregate principal amount of this facility. As of December 31, 2014, the total aggregate principal amount was $1,228.0 million.

The January 2014 Amendment, among other things, facilitated the incurrence of replacement term loans in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $3,376.7 million (comprising (x) new replacement term loans in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $288.4 million and (y) converted replacement term loans in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $3,088.3 million) to refinance and/or modify the interest rate with respect to certain existing term loans due 2020. The replacement term loans mature on March 1, 2020 and bear interest, at UCI's option, either at the alternate base rate plus an applicable margin of 2.0% per annum or an adjusted LIBO Rate (with an interest rate floor of 1.0%) plus an applicable margin of 3.0% per annum. Commencing March 31, 2014, UCI has been required to make a quarterly payment of 0.25% of the aggregate principal amount of this facility. As of December 31, 2014, the total aggregate principal amount was $3,342.6 million and the remaining unamortized original issue discount (which had been associated with the term loans that were modified) was $12.9 million. The original issue discount is amortized over the term of the replacement term loans.

For the year ended December 31, 2014, the effective interest rate related to UCI's senior secured term loans in total was 4.76%, including the impact of the interest rate swaps, and 4.09% excluding the impact of the interest rate swaps.

The credit agreement governing the Senior Secured Credit Facilities also provides that UCI may increase its revolving credit facilities and/or term loan facilities by up to $750.0 million if certain conditions are met (including the receipt of commitments therefor). Additionally, UCI is permitted to further refinance (whether by repayment, conversion or extension) UCI's Senior Secured Credit Facilities (including the extended credit facilities) with certain permitted additional first-lien, second-lien, senior and/or subordinated indebtedness, in each case, if certain conditions are met.

The 2019 senior secured notes are eight year notes. UCI issued $600.0 million aggregate principal amount of the initial 2019 senior secured notes on May 9, 2011 pursuant to an indenture dated as of May 9, 2011. On February 7, 2012, UCI issued $600.0 million aggregate principal amount of the additional 2019 senior secured notes under the same indenture. The 2019 senior secured notes offered in May 2011 and February 2012 are treated as a single series and have the same terms. The 2019 senior secured notes mature on May 15, 2019 and pay interest on May 15 and November 15 of each year. Interest on the 2019 senior secured notes accrues at a fixed rate of 6.875% per annum and is payable in cash. At December 31, 2014, the outstanding principal balance of the 2019 senior secured notes was $1,200.0 million and the remaining unamortized original issue discount was $3.0 million. The 2019 senior secured notes are secured by a first priority lien (subject to permitted liens) on substantially all assets that currently secure UCI's Senior Secured Credit Facilities.

On and after May 15, 2015, the 2019 senior secured notes may be redeemed, at UCI's option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the redemption prices set forth below. The 2019 senior secured notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as percentages of principal amount of the 2019 senior secured notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date if redeemed during the twelve month period beginning on May 15 of each of the following years: 2015 (103.438%), 2016 (101.719%), 2017 and thereafter (100.0%). UCI also may redeem any of the 2019 senior secured notes at any time prior to May 15, 2015 at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount plus a make-whole premium and accrued interest. If UCI undergoes a change of control, it may be required to offer to purchase the 2019 senior secured notes from holders at a purchase price equal to 101% of the principal amount plus accrued interest. Subject to certain exceptions and customary reinvestment rights, UCI is required to offer to repay 2019 senior secured notes at par with the proceeds of certain assets sales.

The 7.875% senior secured notes due 2020 (the "2020 senior secured notes") are ten year notes maturing November 1, 2020 and paying interest on May 1 and November 1 of each year. Interest on the 2020 senior secured notes accrues at a fixed rate of 7.875% per annum and is payable in cash. The 2020 senior secured notes were issued on October 26, 2010. At December 31, 2014, the outstanding principal balance of the 2020 senior secured notes was $750.0 million. The 2020 senior secured notes are secured by a first priority lien (subject to permitted liens) on substantially all assets that currently secure UCI's Senior Secured Credit Facilities.

On or after November 1, 2015, the 2020 senior secured notes may be redeemed, at UCI's option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the redemption prices set forth below. The 2020 senior secured notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as percentages of principal amount of the 2020 senior secured notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date if redeemed during the twelve month period beginning on November 1 of each of the following years: 2015 (103.938%), 2016 (102.625%), 2017 (101.313%), 2018 and thereafter (100.0%). UCI also may redeem any of the 2020 senior secured notes at any time prior to November 1, 2015 at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount plus a make-whole premium and accrued interest. If UCI undergoes a change of control, it may be required to offer to purchase the 2020 senior secured notes from holders at a purchase price equal to 101% of the principal amount plus accrued interest. Subject to certain exceptions and customary reinvestment rights, UCI is required to offer to repay 2020 senior secured notes at par with the proceeds of certain assets sales.

Senior Notes—8.5% due 2021

The 8.5% senior notes due 2021 (the "2021 senior notes") are ten year notes. UCI issued $500.0 million aggregate principal amount of the initial 2021 senior notes (the "initial 2021 senior notes") on November 23, 2010 pursuant to an indenture dated as of November 23, 2010. On January 13, 2011, UCI issued an additional $315.0 million aggregate principal amount of the additional 2021 senior notes (the “additional 2021 senior notes” and together with the initial 2021 senior notes, the “2021 senior notes”) under the same indenture. The initial 2021 senior notes and the additional 2021 senior notes are treated as a single series and have the same terms. They mature on May 15, 2021 and pay interest on May 15 and November 15 of each year. Interest on the 2021 senior notes accrues at a fixed rate of 8.5% per annum and is payable in cash. At December 31, 2014, the outstanding principal balance of the 2021 senior notes was $815.0 million and the remaining unamortized premium was $3.9 million.

On or after November 15, 2015, the 2021 senior notes may be redeemed, at UCI’s option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the redemption prices set forth below. The 2021 senior notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as percentages of principal amount of the 2021 senior notes to be redeemed) plus accrued interest and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date if redeemed during the twelve-month period beginning on November 15 of each of the following years: 2015 (104.250%), 2016 (102.833%), 2017 (101.417%), 2018 and thereafter (100.0%). UCI also may redeem any of the 2021 senior notes at any time prior to November 15, 2015 at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount plus a make-whole premium and accrued interest. If UCI undergoes a change of control, it may be required to offer to purchase the 2021 senior notes from holders at a purchase price equal to 101% of the principal amount plus accrued interest. Senior Secured Notes—6.75% due 2022

The 2022 senior secured notes are ten year notes. UCI issued $625.0 million aggregate principal amount of the initial 2022 senior secured notes on August 29, 2012 pursuant to an indenture dated as of August 29, 2012. On September 19, 2012, UCI issued $600.0 million aggregate principal amount of the additional 2022 senior secured notes under the same indenture. The initial 2022 senior secured notes and the additional 2022 senior secured notes are treated as a single series and have the same terms. The 2022 senior secured notes mature on September 15, 2022 and pay interest on March 15 and September 15 of each year. Interest on the 2022 senior secured notes accrues at a fixed rate of 6.75% per annum and is payable in cash. On March 20, 2014 UCI redeemed $117.1 million aggregate principal amount of the 2022 senior secured notes at a redemption price equal to 106.750% of the aggregate principal amount of the 2022 senior secured notes redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon, pursuant to the Equity Claw (as defined below). At December 31, 2014, the outstanding principal balance of the 2022 senior secured notes was $1,107.9 million and the remaining unamortized premium was $12.9 million. The 2022 senior secured notes are secured by a first priority lien (subject to permitted liens) on substantially all assets that currently secure UCI’s Senior Secured Credit Facilities.

On and after September 15, 2017, the 2022 senior secured notes may be redeemed, at UCI’s option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the redemption prices set forth below. The 2022 senior secured notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as percentages of principal amount of the 2022 senior secured notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date if redeemed during the twelve month period beginning on September 15 of each of the following years: 2017 (103.375%), 2018 (102.250%), 2019 (101.125%), 2020 and thereafter (100.0%). In addition, until September 15, 2015, UCI may redeem up to 40% of the outstanding 2022 senior secured notes with the net proceeds it raises in one or more equity offerings at a redemption price equal to 106.750% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon, if any, to the applicable redemption

The 2023 senior secured notes are ten year notes. UCI issued $700.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2023 senior secured notes on May 21, 2013 pursuant to an indenture dated as of May 21, 2013. The 2023 senior secured notes mature on May 15, 2023 and pay interest on May 15 and November 15 of each year. Interest on the 2023 senior secured notes accrues at a fixed rate of 5.125% per annum and is payable in cash. At December 31, 2014, the outstanding principal balance of the 2023 senior secured notes was $700.0 million. The 2023 senior secured notes are secured by a first priority lien (subject to permitted liens) on substantially all assets that currently secure UCI’s Senior Secured Credit Facilities.

On and after May 15, 2018, the 2023 senior secured notes may be redeemed, at UCI’s option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the redemption prices set forth below. The 2023 senior secured notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as percentages of principal amount of the 2023 senior secured notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date if redeemed during the twelve month period beginning on May 15 of each of the following years: 2018 (102.563%), 2019 (101.708%), 2020 (100.854%), 2021 and thereafter (100.0%). In addition, until May 15, 2016, UCI may redeem up to 40% of the outstanding 2023 senior secured notes with the net proceeds it raises in one or more equity offerings at a redemption price equal to 105.125% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon, if any, to the applicable redemption date. UCI also may redeem any of the 2023 senior secured notes at any time prior to May 15, 2018 at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount plus a make-whole premium and accrued interest. If UCI undergoes a change of control, it may be required to offer to purchase the 2023 senior secured notes from holders at a purchase price equal to 101% of the principal amount plus accrued interest. Subject to certain exceptions and customary reinvestment rights, UCI is required to offer to repay 2023 senior secured notes at par with the proceeds of certain assets sales.

Convertible Debentures—1.5% due 2025

The convertible debentures are 15 year debentures maturing December 31, 2025, totaling $1,125.0 million in aggregate principal amount. Interest on the debentures accrues at a fixed rate of 1.5% per annum and is payable quarterly in arrears in cash. Univision’s obligation to pay interest under the debentures is supported by a letter of credit, as required by the terms of the debentures, as more fully described below. In connection with Televisa’s investment in Univision, Univision issued these debentures, which are convertible into 4,858,485 shares (subject to adjustment as provided in the debentures) of Class C common stock (or, in certain circumstances, Class A or Class D common stock or warrants convertible into Class A, Class C or Class D common stock, as applicable, of Univision) (which represents 30% of the equity interests of Univision on a fully-diluted, as-converted basis). The debentures are held by affiliates of Televisa, by limited liability corporations associated with the Company’s consulting arrangement with its chairman of the Board of Directors and, in each case, their successors and permitted assigns. At December 31, 2014, the outstanding principal balance of the convertible debentures was $1,125.0 million and the remaining unamortized premium was $25.5 million.

Conversion of the debentures is subject to applicable laws and regulations and certain contractual limitations. Generally, the holder of the debentures may convert the debentures, subject to certain limitations, as follows:

- at any time after December 20, 2011, provided that if such holder is a Non-U.S. Holder (as defined in the debentures) that is not a Televisa Investor (as defined in the debentures), such holder must transfer the shares received upon conversion to a third party who is a U.S. Person (as defined in the debentures) within two business days of such conversion;
- at any time if such conversion would not cause Televisa to exceed the ownership caps set forth in the Amended and Restated Stockholders' Agreement dated as of December 20, 2010 by and among Univision, Broadcast Holdings, UCI and certain stockholders of Univision (the "Stockholders Agreement");
- into warrants exercisable for shares of Class A, Class C or Class D, as applicable, common stock at any time, if (a) a Televisa Investor notifies Univision that holding debentures instead of warrants would have a significant negative economic or regulatory impact on Televisa and (b) the Board of Directors of Univision determines that Televisa's ownership of warrants would be permitted under applicable laws (including FCC foreign ownership restrictions) and would not impact the FCC's approval of a change of control transaction;
- into warrants on the second business day prior to Univision's redemption of the debentures; and
- at any time after the 60th day prior to the maturity date of December 31, 2025.

The holders of the debentures receive certain anti-dilution protections, including an adjustment of the conversion price in the event of a stock split, dividend, recapitalization or reclassification of certain classes of Univision's stock and certain distributions made in respect of certain classes of Univision's stock. Additionally Univision is subject to certain restrictive covenants preventing it from taking certain actions, including without limitation, issuing preferred stock and entering into certain business combinations. Univision is also subject to certain information reporting requirements.

In certain circumstances, Univision is required to pay a make-whole payment to the holders of the debentures in an amount equal to the present value of all required interest payments payable through the maturity date. These circumstances include, but are not limited to (i) an acceleration of all payments due under the debentures due to the existence of an event of default, (ii) the Company's exercise of its right to redeem the debentures on or after December 31, 2024 and prior to maturity or after a change of control (or Televisa's exercise of its right to convert the debentures prior to such redemption), and (iii) in the event of a change of control of Univision in which Televisa rolls its interest into ownership interests in the acquiring entity, and the receipt of such ownership interests would cause Televisa to exceed the ownership caps set forth in the Stockholders' Agreement. The fair value of Univision's make-whole obligation was estimated by management and was determined to be immaterial.

In connection with the debentures, on December 20, 2010, Univision entered into an agreement with Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas ("Deutsche Bank") relating to the issuance of standby letters of credit. Under that agreement, Deutsche Bank agreed to issue a letter of credit with an initial face amount of $90.0 million to support the payment of Univision's interest obligations under the debentures. The letter of credit may only be drawn by the holders of the debentures under limited circumstances, including a payment event of default or bankruptcy event of default under the debentures. Univision's payment obligations under the letter of credit are fully cash collateralized by $92.7 million held in an interest-bearing account which is reflected as restricted cash on the Company's balance sheet. Univision's agreement with Deutsche Bank contains certain restrictions on the activities of Univision, including making certain modifications to the debentures and engaging in material business activities or having material liabilities other than those associated with its ownership of its subsidiaries and obligations in respect of the letter of credit documents and the Televisa transaction documents.

Accounts Receivable Facility

On June 28, 2013, UCI entered into an amendment to the Facility, which, among other things, (i) extended the maturity date of the Facility to June 28, 2018 (or, if earlier, the ninetieth (90th) day prior to the scheduled maturity of any indebtedness in an aggregate principal amount greater than or equal to $250,000,000 outstanding under UCI's Credit Agreement (as defined in the Receivables Purchase Agreement)), (ii) increased the borrowing capacity under the Facility by $100.0 million, to $400.0 million, (iii) reduced the term component of the Facility to $100.0 million and increased the borrowing capacity under the revolving component to $300.0 million, subject to the availability of qualifying receivables, (iv) lowered the interest rate on the borrowings under the Facility to a LIBOR rate (without a floor) plus a margin of 2.25% per annum and (v) lowered the commitment fee on the unused portion of the Facility to 0.50% per annum. Interest is paid monthly on the Facility. At December 31, 2014, the amount outstanding under the Facility was $100.0 million and the interest rate was 2.41%.

Under the terms of the Facility, certain subsidiaries of UCI sell accounts receivable on a true sale and non-recourse basis to their respective wholly-owned special purpose subsidiaries, and these special purpose subsidiaries in turn sell such accounts receivable to Univision Receivables Co., LLC, a bankruptcy-remote subsidiary in which certain special purpose subsidiaries of UCI and its parent, Univision, each holds a 50% voting interest (the "Receivables Entity"). Thereafter, the Receivables Entity sells to investors, on a revolving non-recourse basis, senior undivided interests in such accounts receivable pursuant to the Receivables Purchase Agreement. UCI (through certain special purpose subsidiaries) holds a 100% economic interest in the Receivables Entity. The assets of the special purpose entities and the Receivables Entity are not available to satisfy the obligations of UCI or its other subsidiaries.

The Facility is comprised of a $100.0 million term component and a $300.0 million revolving component subject to the availability of qualifying receivables. At December 31, 2014, UCI had $100.0 million outstanding under the term component and no balance outstanding under the revolving component. In addition, the Receivables Entity is obligated to pay a commitment fee to the purchasers, such fee to be calculated based on the unused portion of the Facility. The Receivables Purchase Agreement contains customary default and termination provisions, which provide for the early termination of the Facility upon the occurrence of certain specified events including, but not limited to, failure by the Receivables Entity to pay amounts due, defaults on certain indebtedness, change in control, bankruptcy and insolvency events. The Receivables Entity is consolidated in the Company's consolidated financial statements.

During the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, the Company recorded interest expense of $3.0 million, $5.8 million and $8.9 million, respectively, related to the Facility.

of rollovers (or cashless conversions) of UCI's existing term loans and with the proceeds of new term loans made by one or more new or existing lenders. UCI converted $108.8 million and $2,193.4 million of borrowings under the non-extended and extended portions, respectively, of the original term loans and received $1,100.0 million in proceeds from the new senior secured term loans. The February 2013 Amendment required the payment of original issue discount in respect thereof of $17.0 million, which is 0.50% of the principal amount thereof, resulting in a lower effective yield. Prior to the January 2014 Amendment, the total aggregate principal amount was $3,376.7 million and the remaining unamortized original issue discount was $15.1 million. The facility was replaced by the January 2014 Amendment which, among other things, facilitated the incurrence of replacement term loans in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $3,376.7 million that will mature on March 1, 2020. See "Recent Financing Transactions—January 2014 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities" above.

Bank senior secured revolving credit facility maturing in 2014 or 2016—Prior to the February 2013 Amendment, UCI had borrowings under a previous bank senior secured revolving credit facility. The facility was bifurcated so that borrowings under the non-extended revolving credit facility would have matured on March 29, 2014 and borrowings under the extended revolving credit facility would have matured on March 29, 2016. The commitments in respect of the extended and non-extended revolving facility were $409.0 million and $43.2 million, respectively, prior to the February 2013 Amendment. The facility was replaced with a new revolving credit facility of $550.0 million that will mature in March 2018. See "Recent Financing Transactions—May 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities," "Recent Financing Transactions—February 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities" and "Debt Instruments—Senior Secured Credit Facilities" above.

Bank senior secured term loan facility maturing in 2014 or 2017—As of December 31, 2012, UCI had borrowings under a bank senior secured term loan facility which consisted of non-extended term loans maturing on September 29, 2014 and extended term loans maturing on March 31, 2017. The borrowings in respect of these term loans have since been refinanced into the bank senior secured term loan facility maturing in 2020, the 2023 senior secured notes, and the incremental bank senior secured term loan facility maturing in 2020 described above. The commitments in respect of the extended and non-extended term loans were $4,513.2 million and $365.6 million, respectively, prior to the refinancing. See "Recent Financing Transactions—May 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities," "Recent Financing Transactions—May 2013 Offering of the 2023 Senior Secured Notes" and "Recent Financing Transactions—February 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities" above.

Other Matters Related to Debt

Voluntary prepayment of principal amounts outstanding under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities is permitted at any time; however, if a prepayment of principal is made with respect to an adjusted LIBO loan on a date other than the last day of the applicable interest period, the lenders will require compensation for any funding losses and expenses incurred as a result of the prepayment. In addition, the Senior Secured Credit Facilities contain provisions requiring mandatory prepayments if UCI achieves certain levels of excess cash flow as defined in the credit agreement or from the proceeds of asset dispositions, casualty events or debt incurrences.

The agreements governing the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and the senior notes contain various covenants and a breach of any covenant could result in an event of default under those agreements. If any such event of default occurs, the lenders of the Senior Secured Credit Facilities or the holders of the senior notes may elect (after the expiration of any applicable notice or grace periods) to declare all outstanding borrowings, together with accrued and unpaid interest and other amounts payable thereunder, to be immediately due and payable. In addition, an event of default under the indentures governing the senior notes would cause an event of default under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities, and the acceleration of debt under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities or the failure to pay that debt when due would cause an event of default under the indentures governing the senior notes (assuming certain amounts of that debt were outstanding at the time). The lenders under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities also have the right upon an event of default thereunder to terminate any commitments they have to provide further borrowings. Further, following an event of default under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities, the lenders will have the right to proceed against the collateral. The Senior Secured Credit Facilities, the 2023 senior secured notes, the 2022 senior secured notes, the 2020 senior secured notes and the 2019 senior secured notes are secured by, among other things (a) a first priority security interest in substantially all of the assets of UCI, and UCI's material restricted domestic subsidiaries (subject to certain exceptions), as defined, including without limitation, all receivables, contracts, contract rights, equipment, intellectual property, inventory, and other tangible and intangible assets, subject to certain customary exceptions; (b) a pledge of (i) all of the present and future capital stock of each subsidiary guarantor's direct domestic subsidiaries and the direct domestic subsidiaries of UCI and (ii) 65% of the voting stock of each of UCI's and each guarantor's material direct foreign subsidiaries, subject to certain exceptions; and (c) all proceeds and products of the property and assets described above. In addition, the Senior Secured Credit Facilities (but not the 2023 senior secured notes, the 2022 senior secured notes, the 2020 senior secured notes or the 2019 senior secured notes) are secured by all of the assets of Broadcast Holdings and a pledge of the capital stock of UCI and all proceeds of the foregoing.

Additionally, the agreements governing the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and the senior notes include various restrictive covenants (including in the credit agreement when there are certain amounts outstanding under the senior secured revolving credit facility on the last day of a fiscal quarter, a first lien debt ratio covenant) which, among other things, limit the incurrence of indebtedness, making of investments, payment of dividends, transactions with affiliates, asset sales, acquisitions, mergers and consolidations, prepayments of other indebtedness, liens and encumbrances and other matters customarily restricted in such agreements. The credit agreement and the indentures governing the senior notes thereunder allow UCI to make certain pro forma adjustments for purposes of calculating certain financial ratios, some of which would be applied to adjusted operating income before depreciation and amortization ("Bank Credit OIBDA"). UCI is in compliance with these covenants under the agreements governing its Senior Secured Credit Facilities and senior notes.

UCI owns several wholly-owned early stage ventures which have been designated as "unrestricted subsidiaries" for purposes of its credit agreement governing the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and indentures governing the senior notes. The results of these unrestricted subsidiaries are excluded from Bank Credit OIBDA in accordance with the definition in the credit agreement and the indentures governing the senior notes. As unrestricted subsidiaries, the operations of these subsidiaries are excluded from, among other things, covenant compliance calculations and compliance with the affirmative and negative covenants of the credit agreement governing the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and indentures governing the senior notes. UCI may redesignate these subsidiaries as restricted subsidiaries at any time at its option, subject to compliance with the terms of its credit agreement governing the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and indentures governing the senior notes.

The subsidiary guarantors under UCI's Senior Secured Credit Facilities and senior notes are substantially all of UCI's domestic subsidiaries. The subsidiaries that are not guarantors include certain immaterial subsidiaries, special purpose subsidiaries that are party to UCI's Facility and the designated unrestricted subsidiaries. The guarantees are full and unconditional and joint and several. Univision Communications Inc. has no independent assets or operations.

(a) Includes UCI's revolving credit facility and accounts receivable sale facility which mature in 2018.

10. Interest Rate Swaps

The Company's objectives in using interest rate derivatives are to add stability to interest expense and to manage its exposure to interest rate movements. To accomplish these objectives, the Company primarily uses interest rate swaps as part of its interest rate risk management strategy. These interest rate swaps involve the receipt of variable amounts from a counterparty in exchange for the Company making fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreements without exchange of the underlying notional amount. UCI has agreements with each of its interest rate swap counterparties which provide that UCI could be declared in default on its derivative obligations if repayment of the underlying indebtedness is accelerated by the lender due to UCI's default on the indebtedness.

For interest rate swap contracts accounted for as cash flow hedges, the effective portion of the change in fair value is recorded in accumulated other comprehensive loss ("AOCL"), net of tax, and is reclassified to earnings as an adjustment to interest expense in the same period or periods that the hedged transactions impact earnings. The ineffective portion of the change in fair value, if any, is recorded directly to current period earnings through interest rate swap (income) expense. For interest rate swap contracts not designated as hedging instruments, the interest rate swaps are marked to market with the change in fair value recorded directly in earnings through interest rate swap (income) expense. While UCI does not enter into interest rate swap contracts for speculative purposes, three out of five of its interest rate swap contracts as of December 31, 2014 are not accounted for as cash flow hedges ("nondesignated instruments"). For two of the nondesignated instruments, the Company ceased applying hedge accounting as a result of debt refinancing. The third nondesignated instrument was entered into to offset the effect of the other nondesignated instruments.

UCI's current interest rate swap contracts as discussed below effectively convert the interest payable on $2.5 billion of variable rate debt into fixed rate debt, at a weighted-average rate of approximately 2.25% through the expiration of the term loans in the first quarter of 2020.

December 31, 2014
(Dollars in thousands, except share and per-share data, unless otherwise indicated)

Interest Rate Swaps Entered into in 2010 —In June 2010, UCI entered into three interest rate swap contracts related to UCI's senior secured term loan with a combined notional value of $4.0 billion (the "2010 interest rate swap contracts") which expired in June 2013. Initially, these interest rate swaps were accounted for as cash flow hedges. Due to the February 2013 Amendment and May 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities, the Company ceased applying hedge accounting on the 2010 interest rate swap contracts. Subsequent to the discontinuation of cash flow hedge accounting, the 2010 interest rate swap contracts were marked to market, with the change in fair value recorded directly in earnings, and the unrealized loss related to these interest rate swaps up to the point cash flow hedge accounting was discontinued was amortized from AOCL into earnings.

The amortization of unrealized loss in AOCL of $19.8 million occurred through the original maturity of the 2010 interest rate swap contracts (June 2013) as an increase to interest expense. All of the 2010 interest rate swap contracts expired during 2013. There are no amounts remaining on the balance sheet, and all amounts in AOCL have been amortized to earnings.

Interest Rate Swaps Entered into in 2011 —In November 2011, UCI entered into two interest rate swap contracts with notional amounts of $2.0 billion and $500.0 million, related to UCI's senior secured term loans, which were to become effective in June 2013 and expire in June 2016. Initially, these interest rate swap contracts were accounted for as cash flow hedges. On February 28, 2013, the Company ceased applying cash flow hedge accounting on both the $2.0 billion notional amount interest rate swap and the $500.0 million notional amount interest rate swap as a result of the February 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities. On March 4, 2013, the $2.0 billion notional amount interest rate swap was renegotiated, resulting in a partial termination and replacement of $1.25 billion of its notional amount with a new swap, discussed below under "Interest Rate Swaps Entered into in 2013." For the remaining portion of the original contract with a notional amount of $750.0 million and the $500.0 million notional amount interest rate swap (collectively referred to as the "2011 interest rate swap contracts"), UCI will pay weighted average fixed interest of 1.497% and receive in exchange LIBOR-based floating interest, which is equivalent to the Eurodollar rate. The 2011 interest rate swap contracts became effective at the end of June 2013 and expire in June 2016. The Company redesignated the 2011 interest rate swap contracts as cash flow hedges at the time of the February 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities.

On May 21, 2013, the Company ceased applying cash flow hedge accounting on the 2011 interest rate swap contracts as a result of the May 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities. Subsequent to the discontinuation of cash flow hedge accounting, the 2011 interest rate swap contracts were marked to market, with the change in fair value recorded directly in earnings. The unrealized loss up to the point cash flow hedge accounting was discontinued (inclusive of the unrealized losses from the discontinuation of cash flow hedge accounting at the time of the February 2013 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities noted above) is being amortized from AOCL into earnings. The amortization of $76.0 million of unrealized losses in AOCL will occur through the original maturity of the 2011 interest rate swap contracts (June 2016) as an increase to interest expense.

Interest Rate Swaps Entered into in 2013 —As discussed above, on March 4, 2013, UCI renegotiated the $2.0 billion notional amount interest rate swap contract entered into in November 2011, resulting in a partial termination and replacement with a new interest rate swap contract with a notional amount of $1.25 billion and a remaining portion of the original swap with a notional amount of $750.0 million. For the new interest rate swap contract with a notional amount of $1.25 billion, UCI will pay fixed interest of 2.563% and receive in exchange LIBOR-based floating interest, subject to a minimum of 1.25%. This contract became effective at the end of June 2013 and expires in February 2020. The Company designated this contract as a cash flow hedge at its inception. As part of the January 2014 Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Facilities, UCI renegotiated this interest rate swap contract in order to reflect the interest rate floor of 1.0% on the new term loans. Under the amended contract, UCI will pay fixed interest of 2.4465% and receive in exchange LIBOR-based floating interest, subject to a minimum of 1.0%. The contract was de-designated and redesignated at the time of the amendment on January 23, 2014. The amortization of $26.1 million of unrealized gains in AOCL at the time of de-designation will occur through the maturity date of the contract (February 2020) as a decrease to interest expense.

On May 29, 2013, UCI entered into two interest rate swap contracts. The first contract has a notional value of $1.25 billion, and UCI will pay LIBOR-based floating interest and receive in exchange fixed interest of 0.60% (the “reverse swap”). The reverse swap became effective at the end of June 2013 and expires in June 2016. The reverse swap is marked to market, with the change in fair value recorded directly in earnings. The reverse swap was executed to offset the future mark-to-market amounts that will be recognized in earnings on the 2011 interest rate swap contracts that were de-designated on May 21, 2013. UCI also entered into a second interest rate swap contract with a notional value of $1.25 billion (which together with the $1.25 billion notional amount interest rate swap discussed above that was executed in March 2013 are collectively referred to as the “2013 interest rate swap contracts”), and UCI will pay fixed interest of 2.0585% and receive in exchange LIBOR-based floating interest, subject to a minimum of 1.00%. This contract became effective at the end of June 2013 and expires in February 2020. The Company designated this contract as a cash flow hedge at its inception. The contract was then de-designated as of November 30, 2013 and redesignated as of December 1, 2013 to better align with UCI’s forecasted interest payments. The amortization of $11.0 million of unrealized gains in AOCL at the time of de-designation will occur through the maturity date of the contract (February 2020) as a decrease to interest expense.

Derivatives Designated as Hedging Instruments

As of December 31, 2014, the Company has two effective cash flow hedges, outlined below. These contracts mature in February 2020.

	Number of Instruments	Notional
Interest Rate Derivatives
2013 Interest Rate Swap Contracts	2	$2,500,000,000

Derivatives Not Designated as Hedging Instruments

As of December 31, 2014, the Company has three derivatives not designated as hedges, outlined below. These contracts mature in June 2016.

	Number of Instruments	Notional
Interest Rate Derivatives
2011 Interest Rate Swap Contracts and the Reverse Swap	3	$2,500,000,000

The effective notional amount of the above three instruments is zero. The 2011 interest rate swaps have a combined notional amount of $1.25 billion and pay fixed interest and receive floating interest, while the reverse swap has a notional amount of $1.25 billion and receives an offsetting amount of floating interest while paying fixed interest.

Impact of Interest Rate Derivatives on the Consolidated Financial Statements

The table below presents the fair value of the Company's derivative financial instruments (both designated and non-designated), as well as their classification on the consolidated balance sheets:

	Consolidated Balance Sheet Location	As of December 31, 2014	As of December 31, 2013
Derivatives Designated as Hedging Instruments
Interest Rate Swaps—Non-Current Asset	Other assets	$ —	$ 27,200
Interest Rate Swaps—Non-Current Liability	Other long-term liabilities	34,300	100
Derivatives Not Designated as Hedging Instruments
Interest Rate Swaps—Non-Current Asset	Other assets	900	—
Interest Rate Swaps—Non-Current Liability	Other long-term liabilities	17,600	29,400

The Company does not offset the fair value of interest rate swaps in an asset position against the fair value of interest rate swaps in a liability position on the balance sheet. As of December 31, 2014, UCI has not posted any collateral related to any of the interest rate swap contracts. If UCI had breached any of these default provisions at December 31, 2014, it could have been required to settle its obligations under the agreements at their termination value of $55.2 million.

The table below presents the effect of the Company's derivative financial instruments designated as cash flow hedges on the consolidated statements of operations and the consolidated statements of comprehensive income (loss) for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012:

Derivatives Designated as Cash Flow Hedges	Amount of Gain or (Loss) Recognized in Other Comprehensive Income (Loss) on Derivative (Effective Portion)	Location of Gain or (Loss) Reclassified from AOCL into Income (Effective Portion)	Amount of Gain or (Loss) Reclassified from AOCL into Income (Effective Portion) <sup>(a)</sup>	Location of Gain or (Loss) Recognized in Income on Derivative (Ineffective Portion and Amount Excluded from Effectiveness Testing)	Amount of Gain or (Loss) Recognized in Income on Derivative (Ineffective Portion and Amount Excluded from Effectiveness Testing)
For the year ended December 31, 2012	$ (73,100)	Interest expense	$ (58,100)	Interest rate swap income/(expense)	$ —

(a) The amount of gain or (loss) reclassified from AOCL into income includes amounts that have been reclassified related to current effective hedging relationships as well as amortizing AOCL amounts related to discontinued cash flow hedging relationships. For the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, the Company amortized $19.4 million and $32.3 million, respectively, of net unrealized losses on hedging activities from accumulated other comprehensive loss into interest expense. No amounts of net unrealized losses on hedging activities were amortized from accumulated other comprehensive loss into interest expense during the year ended December 31, 2012.

During the next twelve months, from December 31, 2014, approximately $51.2 million of net unrealized losses will be amortized to interest expense (inclusive of the amounts being amortized related to discontinued cash flow hedging relationships).

The table below presents the effect of the Company's derivative financial instruments not designated as hedging instruments on the consolidated statements of operations for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012:

Derivatives Not Designated as Hedging Instruments	Location of Gain or (Loss) Recognized in Income on Derivative	Amount of Gain or (Loss) Recognized in Income on Derivative

11. Earnings (Loss) Per Share

Basic earnings (loss) per share ("EPS") is calculated by dividing net income (loss) attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding. The diluted EPS calculation includes the dilutive effect of the Company's convertible debentures and shares issuable under the Company's equity-based compensation plans.

The table below presents a reconciliation of net income (loss) attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. and weighted average shares outstanding used in the calculation of basic and diluted EPS.

(in thousands)	2014	2013	2012
Net income (loss) attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. for basic EPS	$ 1,900	$216,200	$(14,400)
After tax impact of convertible debentures	—	9,200	—
Net income (loss) attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. for diluted EPS	$ 1,900	$225,400	$(14,400)
Weighted average shares outstanding for basic EPS	10,791	10,549	10,552
Dilutive effect of shares associated with convertible debentures	—	4,858	—
Dilutive effect of equity awards	119	35	—
Weighted average shares outstanding for diluted EPS	10,910	15,442	10,552

Approximately 0.5 million shares for each of the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012 which are issuable under the Company's equity-based compensation plans are excluded from the calculation of diluted EPS because their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive. The assumed conversion of the Company's convertible debentures was anti-dilutive during the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2012, and approximately 4.9 million shares are excluded from the calculation of diluted EPS for each of those periods.

12. Capital Stock

The Company's authorized capital stock consists of:

- 50,000,000 shares of Class A Common Stock, par value $0.001 per share ("Class A Common Stock"), of which 6,481,609 shares are issued and outstanding at December 31, 2014 and 6,228,600 shares are issued and outstanding at December 31, 2013;

- 50,000,000 shares of Class B Common Stock, par value $0.001 per share (“Class B Common Stock”), of which 3,477,917 shares are issued and outstanding at December 31, 2014 and 2013;
- 10,000,000 shares of Class C Common Stock, par value $0.001 per share (“Class C Common Stock”), of which 842,850 shares are issued and outstanding at December 31, 2014 and 2013;
- 10,000,000 shares of Class D Common Stock, par value $0.001 per share (“Class D Common Stock,” and, collectively with Class A Common Stock, Class B Common Stock and Class C Common Stock, the, “common stock”), of which no shares are issued and outstanding at December 31, 2014 and 2013; and
- 500,000 shares of Preferred Stock, par value $0.001 per share (“preferred stock”), of which no shares are issued and outstanding at December 31, 2014 and 2013.

Holders of the Company’s common stock are entitled to the following rights.

Voting Rights —Holders of Class A Common Stock and Class C Common Stock have all voting powers and voting rights, and vote together as a single class, with each share entitled to one vote. Class B Common Stock and Class D Common Stock do not have any voting power or voting rights.

Directors will be elected by the stockholders subject to the board designation rights of certain stockholders set forth in the Amended and Restated Principal Investor Agreement by and among Univision, Broadcast Holdings, UCI, Televisa, and the Original Sponsors, dated as of December 20, 2010 (the “Principal Investor Agreement”).

Dividend Rights —Holders of common stock will share, on a pro rata basis, in any dividend declared by Univision’s board, subject to the rights of the holders of any outstanding preferred stock and subject to Televisa’s approval rights with respect to certain stock dividends provided for in the Principal Investor Agreement and Univision’s amended and restated certificate of incorporation.

Stock Split, Reverse Stock Splits and Stock Dividends —In the event of a subdivision, increase or combination in any manner (by stock split, reverse stock split, stock dividend or other similar manner) of the outstanding shares of any class of common stock, the outstanding shares of the other classes of common stock will be adjusted proportionally, subject to Televisa’s approval rights with respect to certain dividends and distributions provided for in the Principal Investor Agreement and Univision’s amended and restated certificate of incorporation.

Conversion Rights —

Optional Conversions .The following conversion rights are exercisable at the holder’s option, subject in certain cases to federal stock ownership regulations applicable to U.S. broadcast companies and restrictions set forth in the Company’s certificate of incorporation and the Stockholders Agreement:

- Each share of Class A Common Stock may be converted at any time into one share of Class B Common Stock and each share of Class B Common Stock may be converted into one share of Class A Common Stock;
- Each share of Class C Common Stock may be converted at any time into one share of Class D Common Stock, and each share of Class D Common Stock may be converted into one share of Class C Common Stock; and

- Each share of Class C Common Stock may be converted into one share of Class A Common Stock and each share of Class D Common Stock may be converted into one share of Class A Common Stock in connection with certain transfers by Televisa of shares of Class C Common Stock or Class D Common Stock, and subject to certain stock ownership limitations in the Stockholders Agreement.

Mandatory Conversions . The following conversion rights occur automatically:

- Each share of Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock acquired by Televisa pursuant to Televisa's exercise of its preferential rights to acquire shares under the Stockholders Agreement (which includes, among other things, the right to acquire shares from the Company in connection with a new issuance or from other stockholders in connection with proposed transfers to third parties), or its participation rights under the Amended and Restated Participation, Registration Rights, and Coordination Agreement, dated as of December 20, 2010, by and among, Univision, Broadcast Holdings, UCI, Televisa and certain stockholders of Univision, will automatically convert to one share of Class C Common Stock or, if such conversion would exceed the cap on Televisa's equity ownership in the Stockholders Agreement, to one share of Class D Common Stock, so that Televisa always holds shares of either Class C Common Stock or Class D Common Stock;
- Each share of Class C Common Stock automatically converts to one share of Class A Common Stock and each share of Class D Common Stock automatically converts into one share of Class A Common Stock immediately upon any transfer of such Class C Common Stock or Class D Common Stock from Televisa to a third party;
- Each share of Class C Common Stock automatically converts to one share of Class D Common Stock upon any event that would cause Televisa's ownership to exceed the cap set forth in the Stockholders Agreement; and
- Each share of Class A Common Stock held by Televisa automatically converts to one share of Class C Common Stock and each share of Class B Common Stock held by Televisa automatically converts to one share of Class D Common Stock in the event of a change of control transaction that complies with the procedures and requirements set forth in the Stockholders Agreement (a "Compliant Change of Control Transaction"), that is structured as a merger and with respect to which Televisa does not exercise its right to sell as part of its tag along rights set forth in the Stockholders Agreement.

Liquidation Rights —In the event of voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company's affairs occurring prior to a certain public offering that complies with the requirements set forth in the Stockholders Agreement (a "Qualified Public Offering") or a Compliant Change of Control Transaction (any such event, a "Liquidation Event"), holders of shares of Class C Common Stock and Class D Common Stock are entitled to share in the Company's assets legally available for distribution to the stockholders (the "Proceeds"), prior to Class A Common Stock or Class B Common Stock, an amount per share equal to the Televisa Liquidation Preference Amount (defined, generally, as the aggregate amount paid by Televisa for its shares acquired in connection with its initial investment, the conversion of any convertible securities or the exercise of its preferential rights, divided by the number of shares held by it).

After distribution of the full Televisa Liquidation Preference Amount, each holder of Class A Common Stock and/or Class B Common Stock would be entitled to receive from the remaining Proceeds an amount per share equal to the Televisa Liquidation Preference Amount (the "Catch-Up Liquidation Preference Amount"). After distribution of the full Catch-Up Liquidation Preference Amount to the holders of Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock, any remaining Proceeds would be distributed ratably among the holders of common stock, based on the number of shares of common stock held by each such holder. Televisa and its affiliates' right to the Televisa Liquidation Preference Amount terminates upon the earlier of a Qualified Public Offering or a Compliant Change of Control.

Preferred Stock —Subject to the consent rights of various parties under the Principal Investor Agreement and Univision's amended and restated certificate of incorporation, the Company's board is authorized to provide for the issuance of preferred stock in one or more series.

13. Comprehensive Income (Loss)

Comprehensive income (loss) is reported in the Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive (Loss) Income and consists of net income (loss) and other gains (losses) that affect stockholders' equity but, under GAAP, are excluded from net income (loss). For the Company, items included in other comprehensive income (loss) are foreign currency translation adjustments, unrealized gain (loss) on hedging activities, the amortization of unrealized loss on hedging activities and unrealized gain on available for sale securities.

The following tables present the changes in accumulated other comprehensive loss by component. All amounts are net of tax.

The Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities as of December 31, 2014 and 2013 are as follows:

	2014	2013
Deferred tax assets:
Accrued liabilities	$ 22,100	$ 14,000
Tax loss carry-forwards	676,600	580,300
Investments related	74,500	68,800
Debt related costs	34,800	18,300
Deferred revenue	7,800	10,500
Programming impairment	14,600	43,800
Compensation related costs	17,000	13,400
Other	39,300	50,100
Valuation allowance	(125,800)	(120,100)
Total deferred tax assets	760,900	679,100
Deferred tax liabilities:
Property, equipment and intangible assets	(1,159,500)	(1,162,500)
Other	(34,600)	(17,100)
Total deferred tax liability	(1,194,100)	(1,179,600)
Net deferred tax liability	$ (433,200)	$ (500,500)

At December 31, 2014, the Company has net operating loss carryforwards for federal income tax purposes of $1.6 billion, which will expire in 2027-2034. Also, the Company has various state tax effected net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $65.0 million (based on the current state income apportionment, the Company would require approximately $1.5 billion of future taxable income to fully utilize such net operating loss carryforwards), which will begin to expire in 2015-2034.

The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities (including the impact of available carryback and carryforward periods), projected future taxable income, and tax-planning strategies in making this assessment. At December 31, 2014, the Company maintained a valuation allowance in the amount of $125.8 million primarily associated with foreign deferred tax assets of $64.5 million and deferred tax assets related to certain capital assets of $60.6 million as it is more likely than not that the benefits of these deductible differences will not be realized. During 2014, the Company recorded an increase in the valuation allowance of $5.7 million primarily associated with foreign deferred tax assets.

During 2013, the Company recorded a reduction in its federal and state deferred tax asset valuation allowance of $468.0 million. The reduction in the valuation allowance was partially offset by an increase in valuation allowance of $34.5 million relating to its foreign deferred tax assets and $2.1 million relating to certain capital assets. The remaining valuation allowance in the amount of $120.1 million is associated with foreign deferred tax assets of $58.9 million, deferred tax assets related to certain capital assets of $60.4 million and other deferred tax assets of $0.8 million.

During 2012, the Company recorded an increase in the valuation allowance of $92.1 million which consisted of $87.2 million associated with federal and state deferred tax assets and $4.9 million associated with foreign deferred tax assets.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2014
(Dollars in thousands, except share and per-share data, unless otherwise indicated)

A reconciliation of the beginning and ending amount of unrecognized tax benefits is as follows:

Balance at December 31, 2011	$ 21,300
Addition based on tax positions related to current year	7,400
Lapse in statute of limitations	(700)
Balance at December 31, 2012	$ 28,000
Addition based on tax positions related to current year	6,800
Reduction for tax position of prior years	(2,100)
Lapse in statute of limitations	(1,900)
Balance at December 31, 2013	$ 30,800
Addition based on tax positions related to current year	3,000
Reduction for tax position of prior years	(16,100)
Lapse in statute of limitations	(3,200)
Balance at December 31, 2014	$ 14,500

For the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012 the total amount of unrecognized tax benefits that, if recognized, would affect the effective tax rate is approximately $9.4 million, $9.0 million and $8.6 million in the aggregate respectively. The Company recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to uncertain income tax positions in income tax expense. The Company had approximately $2.9 million and $2.2 million of accrued interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively. The Company recognized interest expense and penalties of $0.7 million, $0.6 million and $1.0 million related to uncertain tax positions for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively. It is reasonably possible that certain income tax examinations may be concluded, or statutes of limitation may lapse, during the next twelve months, which could result in a decrease in unrecognized tax benefits of approximately $1.1 million that would, if recognized, impact the effective tax rate. The Company effectively settled a federal matter during 2014 which resulted in the recognition of a net tax benefit of $16.1 million.

The Company files a consolidated federal income tax return. The Company has substantially concluded all U.S. federal income tax matters for years through 2013. The Company has concluded substantially all income tax matters for all major jurisdictions through 2009.

15. Performance Awards and Incentive Plans

On December 1, 2010, Univision established the 2010 Equity Incentive Plan (the "2010 Plan"), which replaced the amended and restated 2007 Equity Incentive Plan (the "2007 Plan"). The 2010 Plan reflects a recapitalization of Univision and Broadcast Holdings whereby the original Class A common stock and Class L common stock of Univision and shares of preferred stock of Broadcast Holdings were converted to new classes of stock of Univision. Shares and strike prices for awards made under the 2007 Plan have been converted to reflect the new capital structure and remain outstanding. The 2010 Plan is administered by the Board of Directors or, at its election, by one or more committees consisting of one or more members who have been appointed by the Board of Directors (the "Plan Committee"). The Plan Committee shall have such authority and be responsible for such functions as may be delegated to it by the Board of Directors and any reference to the Board of Directors in the 2010 Plan shall be construed as a reference to the Plan Committee with respect to functions delegated to it. If no Plan Committee is appointed, the entire Board of Directors shall administer the 2010 Plan.

The 2010 Plan was adopted to attract, retain and motivate officers and employees of, consultants to, and non-employee directors of the Company. Under the original provisions of the 2010 Plan, the maximum number of shares that may be issued pursuant to awards made under the plan is 600,711 shares of common stock and such additional securities in such amounts as the Board of Directors or Plan Committee may approve. Additional awards may also be made under the 2010 Plan, in the Board of Directors or Plan Committee's sole discretion, in assumption of, or substitution for, outstanding awards previously granted by Univision or an affiliate or a company acquired by Univision or an affiliate or with which Univision combines. During 2013, the amount of authorized shares was increased by 92,850 to 693,561.

The price of the options granted pursuant to the 2010 and 2007 Plan may not be less than 100% of the fair market value of the shares on the date of grant. Award grants may be in the form of nonqualified stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock awards, restricted stock units, dividend equivalent rights or other stock-based awards. No nonqualified stock option or stock appreciation right award will be exercisable after ten years from the date granted. The number of shares subject to an award, the consequences of a participant's termination of service with Univision or any subsidiary or affiliate, and the dates and events on which all or any installment of an award shall be vested and nonforfeitable shall be set out in an individual award agreement.

Compensation expense relating to share-based payments is recognized in net income using a fair-value measurement method. Under the fair value method, the estimated fair value of awards is expensed on a straight-line basis over the period from grant date to remaining requisite service period which is generally the vesting period. See Note 1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies.

Stock Options

A summary of the Company's share-based compensation expense is presented below:

The weighted-average grant-date fair value of options granted during the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012 was $170.96, $101.84 and $60.35, respectively. The Company's stock options vest between three and five years. During the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, the Company recorded a cumulative adjustment to income of $0.6 million, $2.0 million and $1.0 million, respectively, related to an increase in the estimated forfeiture rate of equity awards. Total unrecognized compensation cost related to unvested stock option awards as of December 31, 2014 is $15.2 million, which is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 3.1 years.

The table below reflects the volatility, dividend, expected term and risk-free interest rate for grants made during 2014, 2013 and 2012. The Company calculated volatility based on an assessment of volatility for the Company's selected peer group, adjusted for the Company's leverage.

Volatility	84.0%	97.0%	88.0%
Dividend yield	0.00%	0.00%	0.00%

Restricted Stock Units

The Company awarded 92,850 restricted stock units to employees during the year ended December 31, 2013. The awards vest within four years from the date of grant. The Company determined that these awards should be classified as liabilities as they permit the holder to net share settle in an amount in excess of the minimum statutory requirement. The Company remeasured the awards at fair value as of December 31, 2014 and recorded incremental compensation cost of $4.2 million. The restricted stock units will be measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period until vested. No restricted stock units were granted during the years ended December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2012.

The following table presents the changes in the number of restricted stock unit awards during the year ended December 31, 2014:

	Restricted Stock	Weighted
	Unit Awards	Average Price
Outstanding at December 31, 2013	92,850	$ 139.69
Granted	—	—
Issued	(12,416)	$ 264.40
Surrendered/Canceled	(10,797)	$ 264.40
Outstanding at December 31, 2014	69,638	$ 264.40

Total unrecognized compensation cost related to unvested restricted stock units as of December 31, 2014 is $15.6 million, which is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.5 years.

Consulting Arrangement

Univision has a consulting arrangement with an entity controlled by Univision's Chairman of the Board of Directors. The term of the consulting arrangement is indefinite, subject to the right of either party to terminate the arrangement for any reason on thirty days' notice. In compensation for the consulting services provided by Univision's Chairman, equity units in various limited liability companies that hold a portion of Univision's common stock were granted to that entity. Certain of these units provide that upon a defined liquidation event, the entity will receive a payment based on a portion of the defined appreciation realized by the Original Sponsors, Televisa and co-investors on their investments in Univision in excess of certain preferred returns and performance thresholds. These units fully vested in 2012. Certain other units have substantially similar terms, except that these units have not vested and will only vest, and their related payments will only be made, if the Chairman is providing services to the Company at the time of the defined liquidation event.

Since the services for which the equity units were granted were being provided to the Company, the Company records an expense upon the vesting of the equity units. Any such expense is recorded as share-based compensation expense. As the services provided by the Chairman under the consulting arrangement are considered beyond the scope of the Chairman of the Board of Directors, the Company considers the grants of the equity units to be equity awards to a non-employee.

For the year ended December 31, 2012, the Company recorded share-based compensation expense related to the vested equity units of approximately $18.5 million, with a corresponding increase to accumulated paid-in-capital, as the grants were deemed to be equity awards. The Company did not recognize any related expense in the years ended December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013. Due to the contingent nature of the vesting, the Company will recognize the compensation expense associated with the unvested units only upon the occurrence of a defined liquidation event.

16. Contingencies and Commitments

Contingencies

The Company maintains insurance coverage for various risks, where deemed appropriate by management, at rates and terms that management considers reasonable. The Company has deductibles for various risks, including those associated with windstorm and earthquake damage. The Company self-insures its employee medical benefits and its media errors and omissions exposures. In management's opinion, the potential exposure in future periods, if uninsured losses were to be incurred, should not be material to the consolidated financial position or results of operations.

The Company is subject to various lawsuits and other claims in the normal course of business. In addition, from time to time, the Company receives communications from government or regulatory agencies concerning investigations or allegations of noncompliance with law or regulations in jurisdictions in which the Company operates.

The Company establishes reserves for specific liabilities in connection with regulatory and legal actions that the Company deems to be probable and estimable. The Company believes the amounts accrued in its financial statements are sufficient to cover all probable liabilities. In other instances, the Company is not able to make a reasonable estimate of any liability because of the uncertainties related to the outcome and/or the amount or range of loss. The Company does not expect that the ultimate resolution of pending regulatory and legal matters in future periods will have a material effect on our financial condition or result of operations.

Commitments

In the normal course of business, UCI enters into multi-year contracts for programming content, sports rights, research and other service arrangements and in connection with joint ventures.

UCI has long-term operating leases expiring on various dates for office, studio, automobile and tower rentals. UCI's operating leases, which are primarily related to buildings and tower properties, have various renewal terms and escalation clauses. UCI also has long-term capital lease obligations for its transponders that are used to transmit and receive its network signals.

Rent expense totaled $46.4 million, $44.4 million and $39.4 million for the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, respectively.

17. Employee Benefits

UCI has a 401(k) retirement savings plan (the "401(k) Plan") covering all eligible employees over the age of 21. The 401(k) Plan allows the employees to defer a portion of their annual compensation, and UCI may match a portion of the employees' contributions generally after one year of service. For 2014, 2013 and 2012, UCI matched 50% of the first 3% of eligible employee compensation that was contributed to the 401(k) Plan. For the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012, the Company recognized expense for matching cash contributions to the 401(k) Plan totaling $3.6 million, $3.4 million and $3.8 million, respectively.

18. Segments

The Company's segments have been determined in accordance with the Company's internal management structure, which is organized based on operating activities that are reviewed by the Company's chief operating decision maker. The Company evaluates performance based on several factors. In addition to considering primary financial measures including revenue, management evaluates operating performance for planning and forecasting future business operations, as well as measuring the Company's ability to service debt and meet other cash needs by considering Bank Credit OIBDA (as defined below). Based on its customers and type of content, the Company has operations in two segments, Media Networks and Radio. The Company's principal segment is Media Networks, which includes Univision Network; UniMás (formerly Telefutera); nine cable networks, including Galavisión and Univision Deportes Network; and the Company's owned and/or operated television stations. The Media Networks segment also includes digital properties consisting of online and mobile websites and applications including Univision.com and UVideos, a bilingual digital video network. The Radio segment includes the Company's owned and operated radio stations; Uforia, a comprehensive digital music platform; and any audio-only elements of Univision.com. Additionally, the Company incurs and manages shared corporate expenses related to human resources, finance, legal and executive and certain assets separately from its two segments. The segments have separate financial information which is used by the chief operating decision maker to evaluate performance and allocate resources. The segment results reflect how management evaluates its financial performance and allocates resources and are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations that each segment would have achieved had they operated as stand-alone entities during the periods presented.

Bank Credit OIBDA represents adjusted operating income before depreciation and amortization. Bank Credit OIBDA eliminates the effects of items that are not considered indicative of the Company's core operating performance. Bank Credit OIBDA is determined in accordance with the definition of earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA") in UCI's senior secured credit facilities and the indentures governing the senior notes, except that Bank Credit OIBDA from redesignated restricted subsidiaries only includes their results since the beginning of the quarter in which they were redesignated as restricted.

Bank Credit OIBDA is not, and should not be used as, an indicator of or alternative to operating income or net income as reflected in the consolidated financial statements. It is not a measure of financial performance under GAAP and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for measures of performance prepared in accordance with GAAP. Since the definition of Bank Credit OIBDA may vary among companies and industries, it should not be used as a measure of performance among companies. We are providing on a consolidated basis a reconciliation of the non-GAAP term Bank Credit OIBDA to net income (loss) attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc., which is the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure.

the write-off of goodwill, $43.4 million related to the write-down of broadcast licenses, and $0.6 million related to the write-down of other assets. For the year ended December 31, 2012, the impairment loss of $90.4 million includes $83.9 million in the Media Networks segment and $6.5 million in the Radio segment. In the Media Networks segment, the Company recorded $47.6 million related to the write-down of a trade name due to a decision to rebrand the TeleFutura network, $31.9 million related to the write-off of television program rights due to revised estimates of ultimate revenues, $2.5 million related to the write-down of land and buildings held for sale, $0.8 million related to the write-off of other assets, $0.8 million related to the write-off of a broadcast license and $0.3 million related to the write-off of an investment. In the Radio segment, the Company recorded $5.7 million related to the write-down of broadcast licenses, $0.7 million related to the write-off of investments and $0.1 million related to the write-off of other assets.

- (b) Business optimization expense relates to the Company's efforts to streamline and enhance its operations and primarily includes legal, consulting and advisory costs and costs associated with the rationalization of facilities.
- (c) UCI owns several wholly-owned early stage ventures which have been designated as "unrestricted subsidiaries" for purposes of the credit agreement governing UCI's Senior Secured Credit Facilities and indentures governing UCI's senior notes. The amount for unrestricted subsidiaries above represents the residual adjustment to eliminate the results of the unrestricted subsidiaries which are not otherwise eliminated in the other exclusions from Bank Credit OIBDA above. UCI may redesignate these subsidiaries as restricted subsidiaries at any time at its option, subject to compliance with the terms of the credit agreement and indentures. The Bank Credit OIBDA from redesignated restricted subsidiaries as presented herein only includes the results of restricted subsidiaries since the beginning of the quarter in which they were redesignated as restricted.
- (d) Other adjustments to operating income comprises adjustments to operating income provided for in the credit agreement governing UCI's Senior Secured Credit Facilities and indentures in calculating EBITDA.

The Company is providing the supplemental information below which is the portion of the Company's revenue equal to the royalty base used to determine the license fee payable by UCI under the PLA, as set forth below:

February 2015 Tender Offer and Offering of the 2025 Senior Secured Notes and Additional 2023 Senior Secured Notes

On February 11, 2015, UCI commenced a cash tender offer (the “February tender offer”) to purchase any and all of its outstanding 6.875% senior secured notes due 2019 (the “2019 senior secured notes”). The aggregate principal amount of the 2019 senior secured notes outstanding as of February 11, 2015 was $1,200.0 million. The February tender offer expired on February 18, 2015, and UCI utilized the proceeds from the issuance of $750.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 5.125% senior secured notes due 2025 (the “initial 2025 senior secured notes”) and an additional $500.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 5.125% senior secured notes due 2023 (the “additional 2023 senior secured notes”) to repurchase and retire $1,145.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2019 senior secured notes. UCI issued a redemption notice on February 19, 2015 for the remaining $55.0 million aggregate principal amount of 2019 senior secured notes, which redemption UCI effectuated on March 23, 2015.

The additional 2023 senior secured notes were issued under the same indenture governing the initial $700.0 million senior secured notes due 2023 which had been issued on May 21, 2013 (the “initial 2023 senior secured notes,” and together with the additional 2023 senior secured notes, the “2023 senior secured notes”). The additional 2023 senior secured notes were priced at 103%, with a premium of $15.0 million. After giving effect to the issuance of the additional 2023 senior secured notes, the Company has $1,200.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2023 senior secured notes outstanding. The additional 2023 senior secured notes are treated as a single series with the initial 2023 senior secured notes and have the same terms as the initial 2023 senior secured notes.

April 2015 Tender Offer and Offering of the Additional 2025 Senior Secured Notes

On April 13, 2015, UCI commenced a cash tender offer (the “April tender offer”) to purchase any and all of its outstanding 7.875% senior secured notes due 2020 (the “2020 senior secured notes”). The aggregate principal amount of the 2020 senior secured notes outstanding as of April 13, 2015 was $750.0 million. The April tender offer expired on April 20, 2015, and UCI utilized the proceeds from the issuance of $810.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 5.125% senior secured notes due 2025 (the “additional 2025 senior secured notes,” and together with the initial 2025 senior secured notes, the “2025 senior secured notes”) to repurchase and retire $711.7 million aggregate principal amount of the 2020 senior secured notes. UCI issued a redemption notice on April 21, 2015 for the remaining $38.3 million aggregate principal amount of 2020 senior secured notes, which redemption UCI effectuated on May 21, 2015.

The additional 2025 senior secured notes were issued under the same indenture governing the initial 2025 senior secured notes which had been issued on February 19, 2015. The additional 2025 senior secured notes were priced at 101.375%, with a premium of $11.1 million. After giving effect to the issuance of the additional 2025 senior secured notes, the Company has $1,560.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2025 senior secured notes outstanding. The additional 2025 senior secured notes are treated as a single series with the initial 2025 senior secured notes and have the same terms as the initial 2025 senior secured notes.

Investments in equity method investees

On February 23, 2015, UCI invested an additional $30 million in El Rey in exchange for convertible notes issued by El Rey. The new notes have substantially the same terms as the original notes, except that (i) the conversion of the new notes will be based upon a $0.40 / unit conversion price (as opposed to a $1.00 / unit conversion price for the original notes), and (ii) following conversion, the units received in respect of the new notes are entitled to proceeds in a priority position as compared to the units received in respect of the original and additional notes and are also entitled to a specified additional return once the investment on the original and additional notes is recouped.

On March 13, 2015, as part of a capital investment by the two joint venture partners, UCI invested $11.5 million in Fusion for general use and an additional $5.6 million for use solely in the development of Fusion’s digital business.

Termination of management and technical assistance agreements

Effective as of March 31, 2015, UCI and the Company entered into agreements with affiliates of the Original Sponsors and Televisa, respectively, to terminate as of such date the Sponsor Management Agreement under which certain affiliates of the Original Sponsors provide UCI with management, consulting and advisory services for a quarterly aggregate service fee of 1.3% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses and Televisa’s technical assistance agreement under which Televisa provides UCI with technical assistance related to UCI’s business for a quarterly fee of 0.7% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. Under these agreements, the Company agreed to pay reduced termination fees and certain quarterly service fees in full satisfaction of UCI's obligations to the affiliates of the Original Sponsors and Televisa under such agreements. Pursuant to the termination agreements, the Company paid termination fees of $112.4 million and $67.6 million on April 14, 2015 (which were accrued as of March 31, 2015) to affiliates of the Original Sponsors in the aggregate and to Televisa, respectively, and the Company will continue to pay quarterly service fees at the same aggregate rate as was required under the Sponsor Management Agreement and Televisa's technical assistance agreement, until no later than December 31, 2015.

Amendment of Program License Agreement and Memorandum of Understanding with Televisa

On July 1, 2015, the Company and Televisa entered into a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") and UCI entered into an amendment to the existing PLA (the "PLA Amendment").

Under the PLA Amendment, the terms of the existing strategic relationship between Univision and Televisa have been amended as follows:

- Term Extension—Upon consummation of Univision's initial public offering of its common stock, the PLA Amendment extends the term of the PLA from its current expiration date of the later of 2025 or 7.5 years after Televisa voluntarily sells at least two-thirds of the shares (including shares resulting from the conversion of its convertible debentures) that it held immediately following its investment in Univision (the "Televisa Sell-Down"), to the later of 2030 or 7.5 years after a Televisa Sell-Down.
- Reduced Royalty Rates; Additional Revenue Subject to Royalties—In exchange for UCI agreeing to make certain additional revenue subject to the royalty, effective January 1, 2015, Televisa receives reduced royalties from UCI based on 11.84 percent, compared to 11.91 percent under the prior terms, of substantially all of UCI's Spanish-language media networks revenues through December 2017. At that time, royalty payments to Televisa will increase by a comparable amount to 16.13 percent, compared to 16.22 percent. Additionally, Televisa will continue to receive an incremental 2 percent in royalty payments on such media networks revenues above an increased revenue base of $1.66 billion, compared to the prior revenue base of $1.65 billion. The PLA Amendment further states that the royalty rate will again increase by a comparable amount to 16.45 percent starting later in 2018, compared to the prior rate of 16.54 percent, for the remainder of the term. With this second rate increase, Televisa will receive an incremental 2 percent in royalty payments above a reduced revenue base of $1.63 billion.
- Advertising Commitment—UCI will have the right, on an annual basis to reduce the minimum amount of advertising it has committed to provide to Televisa by up to 20% for UCI's use to sell advertising or satisfy ratings guarantees to certain advertisers.

At the same time UCI and Televisa amended the Mexico License to conform to certain other amendments contained in the PLA Amendment.

In addition, under the terms of the MOU, Univision and Televisa have agreed to the following:

- FCC Matters—Televisa and Univision agreed jointly to file a petition for declaratory ruling with the FCC seeking (a) an increase in the authorized aggregate foreign ownership of Univision's issued and outstanding shares of common stock from 25% to 49% and (b) to authorize Televisa to hold up to 40% of Univision's issued and outstanding shares of common stock (in both cases on a voting and an equity basis). Univision and Televisa have agreed to file the petition by the earlier of 30 days after the consummation of Univision's recently announced proposed initial public offering and January 5, 2016. In addition, Univision agreed that, after its Original Sponsors have sold 75% of their common stock, Univision will file an application for any required FCC approval of a transfer of control of Univision.

- Equity Capitalization Amendment—The equity capitalization of Univision will be adjusted to realign the economic and voting interests of Televisa and Univision's other stockholders. As a result, Televisa will hold common stock with approximately 22% of the voting rights of Univision's common stock and may obtain additional voting rights depending on its future equity ownership and the outcome of the FCC petition process described above. The classes of Univision's shares of common stock to be held by Televisa will also provide Televisa the right to designate a minimum number of directors to Univision's board of directors.
- Conversion of Debentures—Televisa will convert $1.125 billion of the Company's debentures into warrants that are exercisable for new classes of Univision's common stock. Univision has agreed to pay Televisa a one-time fee of $135.1 million as consideration for the conversion.

In consideration for the PLA Amendment, the MOU and other agreements entered into at the same time, Univision is making a one-time payment of $4.5 million to Televisa.

UNIVISION HOLDINGS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

March 31, 2015

(Unaudited)

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of operations —Univision Holdings, Inc. is a holding company and the ultimate parent of Univision Communications Inc. Univision Holdings, Inc. (formerly known as Broadcasting Media Partners, Inc.) owns Broadcast Media Partners Holdings, Inc. (“Broadcast Holdings”) which owns Univision Communications Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, collectively referred to herein as “UCI”). Univision Holdings, Inc., together with its subsidiaries are collectively referred to herein as the “Company” or “Univision.” The Company has no operations outside of UCI. The Company is controlled by Madison Dearborn Partners, LLC, Providence Equity Partners Inc., Saban Capital Group, Inc., TPG Capital, Thomas H. Lee Partners, L.P. (collectively, the “Original Sponsors”) and their respective affiliates and Grupo Televisa S.A.B. and its affiliates (“Televisa”). Univision is the leading media company serving Hispanic America and has operations in two segments: Media Networks and Radio.

The Company’s Media Networks segment includes Univision Network; UniMás (formerly Telefutera); nine cable networks, including Galavisión and Univision Deportes Network; and the Company’s owned and/or operated television stations. The Media Networks segment also includes digital properties consisting of online and mobile websites and applications including Univision.com and UVideos, a bilingual digital video network. The Radio segment includes the Company’s owned and operated radio stations; Uforia, a comprehensive digital music platform; and any audio-only elements of Univision.com. Additionally, the Company incurs and manages corporate expenses separate from the two segments which include general corporate overhead and unallocated, shared company expenses related to human resources, finance, legal and executive which are centrally managed and support the Company’s operating and financing activities. In addition, unallocated assets include deferred financing costs and fixed assets that are not allocated to the segments.

Basis of presentation —The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) in the United States for interim financial statements. The interim financial statements are unaudited, but include all adjustments, which are of a normal recurring nature, that management considers necessary to fairly present the financial position, the results of operations and cash flows for such periods. Results of operations of interim periods are not necessarily indicative of results for a full year. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements in the Company’s 2014 Year End Financial Information.

Principles of consolidation —The consolidated financial statements include the accounts and operations of the Company and its majority owned and controlled subsidiaries. The Company has consolidated the special purpose entities associated with its accounts receivable facility and the four limited liability corporations associated with the Company’s consulting arrangement with its chairman of the Board of Directors, as the Company has determined that they are variable interest entities for which the Company is the primary beneficiary. This determination was based on the fact that these special purpose entities lack sufficient equity to finance their activities without additional support from the Company and, additionally, that the Company retains the risks and rewards of their activities. The consolidation of these special purpose entities does not have a significant impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

The Company accounts for investments over which it has significant influence but not a controlling financial interest using the equity method of accounting. Accordingly, the Company’s share of the earnings and losses of these companies is included in loss on equity method investments in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations of the Company. For certain equity method investments, the Company’s share of earnings and losses is based on contractual liquidation rights. For investments in which the Company does not have significant influence, the cost method of accounting is used. Under the cost method of accounting, the Company does not record its share in the earnings and losses of the companies in which it has an investment. Investments are reviewed for impairment when events or circumstances indicate that there may be a decline in fair value that is other than temporary.

Use of estimates —The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses, including impairments, during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include the useful lives of fixed assets; allowances for doubtful accounts; the valuation of derivatives, deferred tax assets, program rights and prepayments, fixed assets, intangibles, goodwill and share-based compensation; and reserves for income tax uncertainties and other contingencies.

Fair Value Measurements —The Company utilizes valuation techniques that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs to the extent possible. The Company determines fair value based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability in the principal or most advantageous market. When considering market participant assumptions in fair value measurements, the following fair value hierarchy distinguishes between observable and unobservable inputs, which are categorized in one of the following levels:

- Level 1 Inputs: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities accessible to the reporting entity at the measurement date.
- Level 2 Inputs: Other than quoted prices included in Level 1 inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.
- Level 3 Inputs: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability used to measure fair value to the extent that observable inputs are not available, thereby allowing for situations in which there is little, if any, market activity for the asset or liability at measurement date.

Revenue recognition —Revenue is comprised of gross revenues from the Media Networks and Radio segments, including advertising revenue, subscriber fees, content licensing revenue, sales commissions on national advertising aired on Univision and UniMás affiliated television stations, less agency commissions and volume and prompt payment discounts. Media Networks television and Radio station advertising revenues are recognized when advertising spots are aired and performance guarantees, if any, are achieved. The achievement of performance guarantees is based on audience ratings from an independent research company. Subscriber fees received from cable and satellite multichannel video programming distributors (“MVPDs”) are recognized as revenue in the period that services are provided. The digital platform recognizes revenue primarily from video and display advertising, subscriber fees where digital content is provided on an authenticated basis, digital content licensing, and sponsorship advertisement revenue. Video and display advertising revenue is recognized as “impressions” are delivered and sponsorship revenue is recognized ratably over the contract period and as performance guarantees, if any, are achieved. “Impressions” are defined as the number of times that an advertisement appears in pages viewed by users of the Company’s Internet properties. Content licensing revenue is recognized when the content is delivered, all related obligations have been satisfied and all other revenue recognition criteria have been met. All revenue is recognized only when collection of the resulting receivable is reasonably assured.

UCI has certain contractual commitments, with Televisa and others, to provide a future annual guaranteed amount of advertising and promotion time. The obligation associated with each of these commitments was recorded as deferred revenue at an amount equal to the fair value of the advertising and promotion time as of the date of the agreements providing for these commitments. Deferred revenue is earned and revenue is recognized as the related advertising and promotion time is provided. The Company's deferred revenue, which is primarily related to the commitments with Televisa, resulted in revenue of $15.2 million, and $15.1 million, respectively, for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014.

Program and sports rights for television broadcast—The Company acquires rights to programming to exhibit on its broadcast and cable networks. Costs incurred to acquire television programs are capitalized when (i) the cost of the programming is reasonably determined, (ii) the programming has been accepted in accordance with the terms of the agreement, (iii) the programming is available for its first showing or telecast and (iv) the license period has commenced. Costs incurred in connection with the production of or purchase of rights to programs that are available and scheduled to be broadcast within one year are classified as current assets, while costs of those programs to be broadcast beyond a one-year period are considered non-current. Program rights and prepayments on the Company's balance sheet are subject to regular recoverability assessments.

The costs of programming rights for television shows, novelas and movies licensed under programming agreements are capitalized and classified as programming prepayments if the rights payments are made before the related economic benefit has been received. Program rights for television shows and movies are amortized over the program's life, which is the period in which an economic benefit is expected to be generated, based on the estimated relative value of each broadcast of the program over the program's life. Program costs are charged to operating expense as the programs are broadcast.

The costs of programming rights licensed under multi-year sports programming agreements are capitalized and classified as programming prepayments if the rights payments are made before the related economic benefit has been received. Program rights for multi-year sports programming arrangements are amortized over the license period based on the ratio of current-period direct revenues to estimated remaining total direct revenues over the remaining contract period. Program costs are charged to operating expense as the programs are broadcast.

The accounting for program rights and prepayments requires judgment, particularly in the process of estimating the revenues to be earned over the life of the contract and total costs to be incurred ("ultimate revenues"). These judgments are used in determining the amortization of, and any necessary impairment of, capitalized costs. Estimated revenues are based on factors such as historical performance of similar programs, actual and forecasted ratings and the genre of the program. Such measurements are classified as Level 3 within the fair value hierarchy as key inputs used to value program and sports rights include ratings and undiscounted cash flows. If planned usage patterns or estimated relative values by year were to change significantly, amortization of the Company's rights costs may be accelerated or slowed.

Reclassifications—Certain reclassifications have been made to the prior year financial statements to conform to the current period presentation.

New accounting pronouncements—In February 2013, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2013-04, which amended Accounting Standards Codification

(“ASC”) 405, Liabilities. The amendments provide guidance for the recognition, measurement, and disclosure of obligations resulting from joint and several liability arrangements for which the total amount of the obligation (within the scope of this guidance) is fixed at the reporting date. Examples of obligations within the scope of ASU 2013-04 include debt arrangements, other contractual obligations, and settled litigation and judicial rulings. The Company adopted ASU 2013-04 during the first quarter of 2014. The adoption of ASU 2013-04 did not have a significant impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements or disclosures.

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (ASC 606). The amendments provide guidance to clarify the principles for recognizing revenue and to develop a common revenue standard for GAAP and International Financial Reporting Standards. For public entities, the amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2016, including interim periods within that reporting period. The FASB has proposed a one year delay of ASU 2014-09 implementation. The Company is currently evaluating the impact ASU 2014-09 will have on its consolidated financial statements and disclosures.

2. Property and Equipment

Property and equipment consists of the following:

Termination of management and technical assistance agreements

Effective as of March 31, 2015, UCI and the Company entered into agreements with affiliates of the Original Sponsors and Televisa, respectively, to terminate as of such date the management agreement among the Company, UCI, and the Original Sponsors (the “Sponsor Management Agreement”) under which certain affiliates of the Original Sponsors provide UCI with management, consulting and advisory services for a quarterly aggregate service fee of 1.3% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses and Televisa’s technical assistance agreement under which Televisa provides UCI with technical assistance related to UCI’s business for a quarterly fee of 0.7% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. Under these agreements, the Company agreed to pay reduced termination fees and certain quarterly service fees in full satisfaction of UCI’s obligations to the affiliates of the Original Sponsors and Televisa under such agreements. Pursuant to the termination agreements, the Company paid termination fees of $112.4 million and $67.6 million on April 14, 2015 (which were accrued as of March 31, 2015) to the affiliates of the Original Sponsors in the aggregate and to Televisa, respectively, and the Company will continue to pay quarterly service fees at the same aggregate rate as was required under the Sponsor Management Agreement and Televisa’s technical assistance agreement, until no later than December 31, 2015. See “Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements—6. Related Party Transactions .”

Restructuring, Severance and Related Charges

During the three months ended March 31, 2015, the Company incurred restructuring, severance and related charges in the amount of $6.2 million. This amount includes a $3.4 million charge related to broader-based cost-saving restructuring initiatives and $2.8 million related to severance charges for individual employees. The severance charge of $2.8 million is related to miscellaneous severance agreements primarily with corporate employees.

During 2014, the Company initiated restructuring activities to improve performance, collaboration, and operational efficiencies across its local media platforms. The $3.4 million charge recognized during the three months ended March 31, 2015 includes $3.0 million resulting from the restructuring activities across local media platforms and $0.4 million resulting from other restructuring activities that were initiated in 2012, as presented in the tables below:

	Restructuring Activities Across Local Media Platforms Initiated in 2014			Total

All balances related to restructuring employee termination benefits are expected to be paid within twelve months from March 31, 2015. Balances related to restructuring lease obligations will be settled over the remaining lease term. As of March 31, 2015, future charges associated with the aforementioned restructuring activities cannot be reasonably estimated.

During the three months ended March 31, 2014, the Company incurred restructuring, severance and related charges in the amount of $3.3 million. This amount includes a $3.6 million charge related to broader-based cost-saving restructuring initiatives, partially offset by a $0.3 million benefit related to the adjustment of severance charges for individual employees. The severance benefit of $0.3 million is related to miscellaneous severance agreements with corporate employees as well as employees in the Media Networks and Radio segments. The restructuring charge of $3.6 million consists of the following:

	Employee Termination Benefits	Contract Termination Costs	Other Qualifying Restructuring Costs	Total

Of the $28.4 million accrued as of December 31, 2014 related to the restructuring plan initiated in 2012, $25.5 million is included in current liabilities and $2.9 million is included in non-current liabilities.

4. Financial Instruments and Fair Value Measures

The carrying amounts of certain financial instruments, including cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their fair value.

Interest Rate Swaps —Currently, the Company uses interest rate swaps to manage its interest rate risk. The interest rate swap asset of $2.8 million and the interest rate swap liability of $72.4 million as of March 31, 2015 and the interest rate swap asset of $0.9 million and the interest rate swap liability of $51.9 million as of December 31, 2014 were measured at fair value primarily using significant other observable inputs (Level 2). In adjusting the fair value of its derivative contracts for the effect of nonperformance risk, the Company has considered the impact of netting and any applicable credit enhancements, such as collateral postings, thresholds, mutual puts, and guarantees.

The majority of inputs into the valuations of the Company's interest rate derivatives include market-observable data such as interest rate curves, volatilities, and information derived from, or corroborated by

UNIVISION HOLDINGS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Unaudited)

market-observable data. Additionally, a specific unobservable input used by the Company in determining the fair value of its interest rate derivatives is an estimation of current credit spreads to appropriately reflect both its own nonperformance risk and the respective counterparty's nonperformance risk in the fair value measurements. The inputs utilized for the Company's own credit spread are based on implied spreads from its privately placed debt securities with an established trading market. For counterparties with publicly available credit information, the credit spreads over the London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR") used in the calculations represent implied credit default swap spreads obtained from a third party credit data provider. Once these spreads have been obtained, they are used in the fair value calculation to determine the credit valuation adjustment ("CVA") component of the derivative valuation. The Company made an accounting policy election to measure the credit risk of its derivative financial instruments that are subject to master netting agreements on a net basis by counterparty portfolio.

The CVAs associated with the Company's derivatives utilize Level 3 inputs, such as estimates of current credit spreads to evaluate the likelihood of default by its counterparties. If the CVA is a significant component of the derivative valuation, the Company will classify the fair value of the derivative as a Level 3 measurement. If required, any transfer between Level 2 and Level 3 will occur at the end of the reporting period. At March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, the Company has assessed the significance of the impact of the CVAs on the overall valuation of its derivative positions and has determined that the CVAs are not significant to the overall valuation of its derivatives. As a result, the Company has determined that its derivative valuations in their entirety are classified as Level 2 measurements.

Available-for-Sale Securities —The Company's available-for-sale securities relate to its investment in convertible notes with an equity method investee. The convertible notes are recorded at fair value through adjustments to other comprehensive income (loss). The fair value of the convertible notes is classified as a Level 3 measurement due to the significance of unobservable inputs which utilize company-specific information. The Company uses an income approach to value the notes' fixed income component and the Black-Scholes model to value the conversion feature. Key inputs to the Black-Scholes model include the underlying security value, strike price, volatility, time-to-maturity and risk-free rate. See Note 5. Investments .

Fair Value of Debt Instruments —The carrying value and fair value of the Company’s and UCI’s debt instruments as of March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014 are set out in the following tables. The fair values of the credit facilities are based on market prices (Level 1). The fair values of the senior notes are based on industry curves based on credit rating (Level 2). The fair value of the convertible debentures is estimated using a valuation method based on assumptions including expected volatility, risk-free interest rate, bond yield, recovery rate, and expected term (Level 3). The accounts receivable facility carrying value approximates fair value (Level 1).

Equity method investments primarily includes UCI's investment in Fusion Media Network, LLC ("Fusion"), a joint venture with Walt Disney Company's ABC News, which is a 24-hour English language news and lifestyle TV and digital network targeted at young English speaking Hispanics and their peers, and UCI's investment in El Rey Holdings LLC ("El Rey") which owns and operates, among other assets, the El Rey television network, a 24-hour English-language general entertainment cable network targeting young adult audiences.

Fusion (formerly known as Univision ABC News Network, LLC) was formed in July 2012 and provides programming on both linear and digital platforms. The Fusion linear network launched in October 2013. UCI holds a 50% non-controlling interest in the joint venture, which is accounted for as an equity method investment. During the three months ended March 31, 2014, UCI contributed $4.3 million, respectively, to the investment in Fusion. During the three months ended March 31, 2015, as part of a capital investment by the two joint venture partners, UCI invested $11.5 million in Fusion for general use and an additional $5.6 million for use solely in the development of Fusion's digital business. During the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company recognized a loss of $9.6 million and $5.3 million, respectively, related to its share of Fusion's net losses. As of March 31, 2015, the net investment balance was $7.5 million. As of December 31, 2014, UCI's share of Fusion's net losses exceeded UCI's equity investment in Fusion, resulting in an investment balance of zero.

El Rey was formed in May 2013, and the El Rey television network launched in December 2013. On May 14, 2013, UCI invested approximately $2.6 million for a 4.99% equity and voting interest in El Rey. Additionally, UCI invested approximately $72.4 million in the form of a convertible note subject to restrictions on transfer. The convertible note is a twelve year note that bears interest at 7.5%. Interest is added to principal as it accrues annually. A portion of the initial principal of the note may be converted into equity after two years and the entire initial principal may be converted following four years after the launch of the network; provided that the maximum voting interest for UCI's combined equity interest cannot exceed 49% for the first six years after the network's launch. In November 2014, UCI invested an additional $25 million in El Rey in the form of a convertible note on the same terms as the original convertible note as contemplated under the El Rey limited liability company agreement. For a period following December 1, 2020 UCI has a right to call, and the initial majority equity owners have the right to put, in each case at fair market value, a portion of such owners' equity interest in El Rey. For a period following December 1, 2023 UCI has a similar right to call, and such owners have a similar right to put, all of such owners' equity interest in El Rey. On February 23, 2015, UCI invested an additional $30 million in El Rey in exchange for convertible notes issued by El Rey. The new notes have substantially the same terms as the original notes, except that (i) the conversion of the new notes will be based upon a $0.40 / unit conversion price (as opposed to a $1.00 / unit conversion price for the original notes), and (ii) following conversion, the units received in respect of the new notes are entitled to proceeds in a priority position as compared to the units received in respect of the original and additional notes and are also entitled to a specified additional return once the investment on the original and additional notes is recouped.

UCI accounts for its equity investment under the equity method of accounting due to the fact that although UCI has less than a 20% interest, it exerts significant influence over El Rey. UCI's share of earnings and losses is recorded based on contractual liquidation rights and not on relative equity ownership. To the extent that UCI's share of El Rey's losses exceeds UCI's equity investment, UCI reduces the carrying value of its investment in El Rey's convertible notes. As a result, the carrying value of UCI's equity investment in El Rey does not equal UCI's proportionate ownership in El Rey's net assets. During the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company recognized a loss of $5.3 million and $15.2 million, respectively, related to its share of El Rey's net losses.

The El Rey convertible notes are debt securities which are classified as available-for-sale securities. For the three months ended March 31, 2015, the Company recorded unrealized gains of approximately $45.1 million to other comprehensive income (loss) to adjust the convertible debt, including all interest, to their fair value of $145.5 million. During the three months ended March 31, 2014, the Company recorded unrealized gains of approximately $15.2 million to other comprehensive income (loss) to adjust the convertible note entered into in May 2013 to its fair value of $72.4 million. During the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company recorded interest income of $2.2 million, and $1.4 million, respectively, related to the convertible debt. As of March 31, 2015 and December 31 2014, the net investment balance was $145.5 million and $73.5 million, respectively.

Management Fee Agreement

The Company and affiliates of the Original Sponsors entered into the Sponsor Management Agreement with UCI under which certain affiliates of the Original Sponsors provide UCI with management, consulting and advisory services for a quarterly aggregate service fee of 1.3% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. The management fee for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014 was $3.6 million and $3.3 million, respectively. The out-of-pocket expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014 were $0.3 million and $0.4 million, respectively. Effective as of March 31, 2015, the Company and UCI entered into an agreement with affiliates of the Original Sponsors to terminate the Sponsor Management Agreement. Under this agreement, UCI agreed to pay a reduced termination fee and the quarterly service fees referenced below in full satisfaction of its obligations to the affiliates of the Original Sponsors under the Sponsor Management Agreement. Pursuant to such termination agreement, the Company paid a termination fee of $112.4 million on April 14, 2015 (which was accrued as of March 31, 2015) to affiliates of the Original Sponsors and will continue to pay a quarterly aggregate service fee of 1.26% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, until no later than December 31, 2015.

Other Agreements and Transactions

Univision has a consulting arrangement with an entity controlled by the Chairman of the Board of Directors. No compensation expense was recognized during the three months ended March 31, 2015 or 2014.

The Original Sponsors are private investment firms that have investments in companies that may do business with UCI. No individual Original Sponsor has a controlling ownership interest in UCI. The Original Sponsors have controlling ownership interests or ownership interests with significant influence with companies that do business with UCI.

Univision has previously announced plans for a musical competition television show scheduled to be broadcast on the Univision Network in the fall season of 2015, based on an agreement Univision has reached with the owners of the rights to the program, including an entity controlled by Saban Capital Group, Inc. In connection with this arrangement, the owners of the program have agreed to grant to Televisa certain broadcast rights in Mexico to the show, together with certain format and exploitation rights.

Televisa

Program License Agreement (“PLA”)

Pursuant to the program license agreement (the “PLA”) and a predecessor program license agreement (the “Prior PLA”) between Televisa and UCI, UCI committed to provide future advertising and promotion time at no charge to Televisa with a cumulative historical fair value of $970.0 million. The book value remaining under these commitments as of March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014 was $592.2 million and $607.4 million, respectively, based on the fair value of UCI’s advertising commitments at the dates the Prior PLA and PLA were entered into. For the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company recognized revenue of $15.2 million, and $15.0 million, respectively, based on the fair value of UCI’s advertising commitments at the dates the Prior PLA and PLA were entered into.

During the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, of the Company’s total license fees of $59.9 million, and $79.4 million, respectively, the license fee to Televisa related to the PLA was $59.9 million, and $58.8 million, respectively. As of March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, of the Company’s total accrued license fees of $30.9 million and $39.4 million, respectively, the Company had accrued license fees to Televisa related to the PLA of $30.9 million and $31.7 million, respectively.

The PLA was amended in July 2015 to, among other things, extend the term of the agreement and revise the royalty payments to Televisa. See Note 15. Subsequent Events.

Technical Assistance Agreement

In connection with its investment in Univision, Televisa entered into an agreement with Univision and UCI under which Televisa provides UCI with technical assistance related to UCI’s business for a quarterly fee of 0.7% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. The fees for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014 were $1.9 million and $1.8 million, respectively. Effective as of March 31, 2015, the Company and UCI entered into an agreement with Televisa to terminate the technical assistance agreement. Under this agreement, UCI agreed to pay a reduced termination fee and the quarterly service fees referenced below in full satisfaction of UCI’s obligations to Televisa under the technical assistance agreement. Pursuant to such termination agreement, the Company paid a termination fee of $67.6 million on April 14, 2015 (which was accrued as of March 31, 2015) to Televisa and will continue to pay a quarterly service fee of 0.74% of operating income before depreciation and amortization, subject to certain adjustments, until no later than December 31, 2015.

Capital Contribution

On January 30, 2014, a group of institutional investors invested $125.0 million in the Company in exchange for Class A common stock representing approximately 1.5% of the fully diluted equity pursuant to an Investment Agreement dated January 30, 2014 with the Company and the other parties named therein. The Company contributed $124.4 million, net of offering costs, to UCI. UCI used this contribution to repurchase a portion of its 6.75% senior secured notes due 2022. See Note 7. Debt.

Fusion

In connection with its investment in Fusion, UCI provides certain facilities support and capital assets, engineering and operations support, field acquisition/newsgathering and business services (the “support services”). In return, UCI receives reimbursement of certain costs. During the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company recognized $2.6 million and $3.2 million, respectively, related to the support services. As of March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, the Company has a receivable of $1.6 million, due from Fusion. The Company has recorded a liability of $26.0 million and $27.2 million as of March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, respectively, related to advance payments associated with the future use of certain facilities and capital assets. In addition, UCI licenses certain content and other intellectual property to Fusion on a royalty-free basis and UCI is reimbursed for third-party costs in connection with the use of such content.

El Rey

In connection with its investment in El Rey, UCI provides certain distribution, advertising sales and back office/technical services to El Rey for fees generally based on incremental costs incurred by UCI in providing such services, including compensation costs for certain dedicated UCI employees performing such services, an allocation of certain UCI facilities costs and a use fee during the useful life of certain UCI assets used by El Rey in connection with the provision of the services. UCI also receives an annual $3.0 million management fee which is recorded as a component of revenue. UCI has also agreed to provide certain English-language soccer programming in exchange for a license fee and promotional support to the El Rey television network. During the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company recognized $3.7 million and $2.7 million, respectively, for the management fee and reimbursement of costs. As of March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, the Company has a receivable of $2.4 million and $2.2 million, respectively, related to these management fees and costs.

February 2015 Tender Offer and Offering of the 2025 Senior Secured Notes and Additional 2023 Senior Secured Notes

On February 11, 2015, UCI commenced a cash tender offer (the “February tender offer”) to purchase any and all of its outstanding 6.875% senior secured notes due 2019 (the “2019 senior secured notes”). The aggregate principal amount of the 2019 senior secured notes outstanding as of February 11, 2015 was $1,200.0 million. The February tender offer expired on February 18, 2015, and UCI utilized the proceeds from the issuance of $750.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 5.125% senior secured notes due 2025 (the “initial 2025 senior secured notes”) and an additional $500.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 5.125% senior secured notes due 2023 (the “additional 2023 senior secured notes”) to repurchase and retire $1,145.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2019 senior secured notes. UCI issued a redemption notice on February 19, 2015 for the remaining $55.0 million aggregate principal amount of 2019 senior secured notes, which redemption UCI effectuated on March 23, 2015.

The additional 2023 senior secured notes were issued under the same indenture governing the initial $700.0 million senior secured notes due 2023 which had been issued on May 21, 2013 (the “initial 2023 senior secured notes,” and together with the additional 2023 senior secured notes, the “2023 senior secured notes”). The additional 2023 senior secured notes were priced at 103%, with a premium of $15.0 million. After giving effect to the issuance of the additional 2023 senior secured notes, the Company has $1,200.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2023 senior secured notes outstanding. The additional 2023 senior secured notes are treated as a single series with the initial 2023 senior secured notes and have the same terms as the initial 2023 senior secured notes. See “Debt Instruments—Senior Secured Notes—5.125% due 2025” below.

On April 13, 2015, UCI commenced a cash tender offer (the “April tender offer”) to purchase any and all of its outstanding 7.875% senior secured notes due 2020 (the “2020 senior secured notes”). The aggregate principal amount of the 2020 senior secured notes outstanding as of April 13, 2015 was $750.0 million. The April tender offer expired on April 20, 2015, and UCI utilized the proceeds from the issuance of $810.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 5.125% senior secured notes due 2025 (the “additional 2025 senior secured notes,” and together with the initial 2025 senior secured notes, the “2025 senior secured notes”) to repurchase and retire $711.7 million aggregate principal amount of the 2020 senior secured notes. UCI issued a redemption notice on April 21, 2015 for the remaining $38.3 million aggregate principal amount of 2020 senior secured notes, which redemption UCI effectuated on May 21, 2015.

The additional 2025 senior secured notes were issued under the same indenture governing the initial 2025 senior secured notes which had been issued on February 19, 2015. The additional 2025 senior secured notes were priced at 101.375%, with a premium of $11.1 million. After giving effect to the issuance of the additional 2025 senior secured notes, the Company has $1,560.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2025 senior secured notes outstanding. The additional 2025 senior secured notes are treated as a single series with the initial 2025 senior secured notes and have the same terms as the initial 2025 senior secured notes. Loss on Extinguishment of Debt

For the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company recorded a loss on extinguishment of debt of $73.2 million and $17.2 million, respectively, as a result of refinancing UCI's debt. The loss includes a premium, fees, the write-off of certain unamortized deferred financing costs and the write-off of certain unamortized discount and premium related to instruments that were repaid.

Debt Instruments

The 2025 senior secured notes are ten year notes. UCI issued $750.0 million aggregate principal amount of the initial 2025 senior secured notes on February 19, 2015 and $810.0 million aggregate principal amount of the additional 2025 senior secured notes on April 21, 2015, pursuant to an indenture dated as of February 19, 2015. The 2025 senior secured notes mature on February 15, 2025 and pay interest on February 15 and August 15 of each year. Interest on the 2025 senior secured notes accrues at a fixed rate of 5.125% per annum and is payable in cash. At March 31, 2015, the outstanding principal balance of the 2025 senior secured notes was $750.0 million. The 2025 senior secured notes are secured by a first priority lien (subject to permitted liens) on substantially all assets that currently secure UCI's senior secured revolving credit facility and senior secured term loan facility, which are referred to collectively as the "Senior Secured Credit Facilities."

On and after February 15, 2020, the 2025 senior secured notes may be redeemed, at the UCI's option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the redemption prices set forth below. The 2025 senior secured notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as percentages of principal amount of the 2025 senior secured notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable redemption date if redeemed during the twelve month period beginning on February 15 of each of the following years: 2020 (102.563%), 2021 (101.708%), 2022 (100.854%), 2023 and thereafter (100.0%). In addition, until February 15, 2018, UCI may redeem up to 40% of the outstanding 2025 senior secured notes with the net proceeds it raises in one or more equity offerings at a redemption price equal to 105.125% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon, if any, to the applicable redemption date. UCI also may redeem any of the 2025 senior secured notes at any time prior to February 15, 2020 at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount plus a make-whole premium and accrued interest. If UCI undergoes a change of control, it may be required to offer to purchase the 2025 senior secured notes from holders at a purchase price equal to 101% of the principal amount plus accrued interest. Subject to certain exceptions and customary reinvestment rights, UCI is required to offer to repay 2025 senior secured notes at par with the proceeds of certain assets sales.

8. Interest Rate Swaps

The Company's objectives in using interest rate derivatives are to add stability to interest expense and to manage its exposure to interest rate movements. To accomplish these objectives, the Company primarily uses interest rate swaps as part of its interest rate risk management strategy. These interest rate swaps involve the receipt of variable amounts from a counterparty in exchange for the Company making fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreements without exchange of the underlying notional amount. UCI has agreements with each of its interest rate swap counterparties which provide that UCI could be declared in default on its derivative obligations if repayment of the underlying indebtedness is accelerated by the lender due to UCI's default on the indebtedness.

UNIVISION HOLDINGS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
March 31, 2015
(Unaudited)

(Dollars in thousands, Except share and per-share data, unless otherwise indicated)

For interest rate swap contracts accounted for as cash flow hedges, the effective portion of the change in fair value is recorded in accumulated other comprehensive loss (“AOCL”), net of tax, and is reclassified to earnings as an adjustment to interest expense in the same period or periods that the hedged transactions impact earnings. The ineffective portion of the change in fair value, if any, is recorded directly to current period earnings through interest rate swap (income) expense. For interest rate swap contracts not designated as hedging instruments, the interest rate swaps are marked to market with the change in fair value recorded directly in earnings through interest rate swap (income) expense. While UCI does not enter into interest rate swap contracts for speculative purposes, three out of five of its interest rate swap contracts as of March 31, 2015 are not accounted for as cash flow hedges (“nondesignated instruments”). For two of the nondesignated instruments, the Company ceased applying hedge accounting as a result of debt refinancing. The third nondesignated instrument was entered into to offset the effect of the other nondesignated instruments.

UCI’s current interest rate swap contracts as discussed below effectively convert the interest payable on $2.5 billion of variable rate debt into fixed rate debt, at a weighted-average rate of approximately 2.25% through the expiration of the term loans in the first quarter of 2020. For the three months ended March 31, 2015, the effective interest rate related to UCI’s senior secured term loans was 5.09% including the impact of the interest rate swaps, and 3.97%, excluding the impact of the interest rate swaps.

Some interest rate swap contracts were originally designated in cash flow hedging relationships, but the Company ceased applying cash flow hedge accounting as a result of UCI refinancing the Senior Secured Credit Facilities. Subsequent to the discontinuation of cash flow hedge accounting, those interest rate swap contracts are marked to market, with the change in fair value recorded directly in earnings. The unrealized gain/loss up to the point cash flow hedge accounting was discontinued is being amortized from AOCL into earnings.

Derivatives Designated as Hedging Instruments

As of March 31, 2015, the Company has two effective cash flow hedges, outlined below. These contracts mature in February 2020.

	Number of Instruments	Notional
Interest Rate Derivatives
Interest Rate Swap Contracts	2	$2,500,000,000

Derivatives Not Designated as Hedging Instruments

As of March 31, 2015, the Company has three derivatives not designated as hedges, outlined below. These contracts mature in June 2016.

	Number of Instruments	Notional
Interest Rate Derivatives
Interest Rate Swap Contracts	3	$2,500,000,000

The effective notional amount of the above three instruments is zero. Two swaps have a combined notional amount of $1.25 billion and pay fixed interest and receive floating interest, while the third has a notional amount of $1.25 billion and receives an offsetting amount of floating interest while paying fixed interest.

Impact of Interest Rate Derivatives on the Consolidated Financial Statements

The table below presents the fair value of the Company's derivative financial instruments (both designated and non-designated), as well as their classification on the consolidated balance sheets:

	Consolidated Balance Sheet Location	As of March 31, 2015	As of December 31, 2014
Derivatives Designated as Hedging Instruments
Interest Rate Swaps—Non-Current Asset	Other assets	$ —	$ —
Interest Rate Swaps—Non-Current Liability	Other long-term liabilities	55,700	34,300
Derivatives Not Designated as Hedging Instruments
Interest Rate Swaps—Non-Current Asset	Other assets	2,800	900
Interest Rate Swaps—Non-Current Liability	Other long-term liabilities	16,700	17,600

The Company does not offset the fair value of interest rate swaps in an asset position against the fair value of interest rate swaps in a liability position on the balance sheet. As of March 31, 2015, UCI has not posted any collateral related to any of the interest rate swap contracts. If UCI had breached any of these default provisions at March 31, 2015, it could have been required to settle its obligations under the agreements at their termination value of $73.4 million.

The table below presents the effect of the Company's derivative financial instruments designated as cash flow hedges on the consolidated statements of operations and the consolidated statements of comprehensive income (loss) for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014:

	Amount of Gain or (Loss) Recognized in Other Comprehensive Income (Loss) on Derivative (Effective Portion)		Location of Gain or (Loss) Reclassified from AOCL into Income (Effective Portion)	Amount of Gain or (Loss) Reclassified from AOCL into Income (Effective Portion) <sup>(a)</sup>		Location of Gain or (Loss) Recognized in Income on Derivative (Ineffective Portion and Amount Excluded from Effectiveness Testing)	Amount of Gain or (Loss) Recognized in Income on Derivative (Ineffective Portion and Amount Excluded from Effectiveness Testing)

(b) The amount of gain or (loss) reclassified from AOCL into income includes amounts that have been reclassified related to current effective hedging relationships as well as amortizing AOCL amounts related to discontinued cash flow hedging relationships. For the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company amortized $4.8 million and $4.9 million, respectively, of net unrealized losses on hedging activities from accumulated other comprehensive loss into interest expense.

During the next twelve months, from March 31, 2015, approximately $51.5 million of net unrealized losses will be amortized to interest expense (inclusive of the amounts being amortized related to discontinued cash flow hedging relationships).

9. Earnings (Loss) Per Share

Basic earnings (loss) per share ("EPS") is calculated by dividing net income (loss) attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding. The diluted EPS calculation includes the dilutive effect of the Company's convertible debentures and shares issuable under the Company's equity-based compensation plans.

The table below presents a reconciliation of net (loss) income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. and weighted average shares outstanding used in the calculation of basic and diluted EPS.

(in thousands)	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2015	2014
Net (loss) income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. for basic EPS	$ (142,300)	$ 3,800
After tax impact of convertible debentures	—	—
Net (loss) income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc. for diluted EPS	$ (142,300)	$ 3,800
Weighted average shares outstanding for basic EPS	10,802	10,791
Dilutive effect of shares associated with convertible debentures	—	—
Dilutive effect of equity awards	—	121
Weighted average shares outstanding for diluted EPS	10,802	10,912

Approximately 0.5 million shares for the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014 which are issuable under the Company's equity-based compensation plans are excluded from the calculation of diluted EPS because their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive. The assumed conversion of the Company's convertible debentures was anti-dilutive during the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, and approximately 4.9 million shares are excluded from the calculation of diluted EPS for each of those periods.

10. Comprehensive (Loss) Income

Comprehensive (loss) income is reported in the Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive (Loss) Income and consists of net loss (income) and other gains (losses) that affect stockholders' equity but, under GAAP, are excluded from net (loss) income. For the Company, items included in other comprehensive (loss) income are foreign currency translation adjustments, unrealized gain (loss) on hedging activities, the amortization of unrealized loss on hedging activities and unrealized gain on available for sale securities.

11. Income Taxes

The Company's current estimated effective tax rate as of March 31, 2015 was approximately 31%, which differs from the statutory rate primarily due to permanent tax differences, discrete items and state and local taxes. The Company's estimated effective tax rate as of March 31, 2014 was approximately 39%, which differs from the statutory rate primarily due to permanent tax differences, discrete items and state and local taxes.

The effective tax rate is based on expected income or losses, statutory tax rates and tax planning opportunities applicable to the Company. For interim financial reporting, the Company estimates the annual tax rate based on projected taxable income or loss for the full year and records a quarterly income tax provision or benefit in accordance with the anticipated annual rate adjusted for discrete items. As the year progresses, the Company refines the estimates of the year's taxable income or loss as new information becomes available, including year-to-date financial results. This continual estimation process often results in a change to the expected effective tax rate for the year. When this occurs, the Company adjusts the income tax provision or benefit during the quarter in which the change in estimate occurs so that the year-to-date provision or benefit reflects the expected annual tax rate. Significant judgment is required in determining the effective tax rate and in evaluating the tax positions.

The Company had total gross unrecognized tax benefits of $19.3 million as of March 31, 2015, which would impact the effective tax rate, if recognized. The Company recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to uncertain income tax positions in income tax expense. As of March 31, 2015, the Company has approximately $4.0 million of accrued interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions.

The Company is subject to U.S. federal income tax as well as multiple state jurisdictions. The Company has substantially concluded all U.S. federal income tax matters for years through 2013. The Company has concluded substantially all income tax matters for all major jurisdictions through 2009.

During the three months ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company recorded share-based compensation expense of $4.3 million and $2.9 million, respectively.

Compensation expense relating to share-based payments is recognized in earnings using a fair-value measurement method. The Company uses the straight-line attribution method of recognizing compensation expense over the vesting period. The estimated fair value of employee awards is expensed on a straight-line basis over the period from grant date through the requisite service period which is generally the vesting period. Restricted stock units classified as liability awards are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period until vested. During the three months ended March 31, 2015 the Company recorded a cumulative adjustment to income of $0.6 million, related to an increase in the estimated forfeiture rate of equity awards.

Contingencies

The Company maintains insurance coverage for various risks, where deemed appropriate by management, at rates and terms that management considers reasonable. The Company has deductibles for various risks, including those associated with windstorm and earthquake damage. The Company self-insures its employee medical benefits and its media errors and omissions exposures. In management's opinion, the potential exposure in future periods, if uninsured losses were to be incurred, should not be material to the consolidated financial position or results of operations.

The Company is subject to various lawsuits and other claims in the normal course of business. In addition, from time to time, the Company receives communications from government or regulatory agencies concerning investigations or allegations of noncompliance with law or regulations in jurisdictions in which the Company operates.

The Company establishes reserves for specific liabilities in connection with regulatory and legal actions that the Company deems to be probable and estimable. The Company believes the amounts accrued in its financial statements are sufficient to cover all probable liabilities. In other instances, the Company is not able to make a reasonable estimate of any liability because of the uncertainties related to the outcome and/or the amount or range of loss. The Company does not expect that the ultimate resolution of pending regulatory and legal matters in future periods will have a material effect on our financial condition or result of operations.

Commitments

In the normal course of business, UCI enters into multi-year contracts for programming content, sports rights, research and other service arrangements and in connection with joint ventures.

UCI has long-term operating leases expiring on various dates for office, studio, automobile and tower rentals. UCI's operating leases, which are primarily related to buildings and tower properties, have various renewal terms and escalation clauses. UCI also has long-term capital lease obligations for land and facilities and for its transponders that are used to transmit and receive its network signals.

14. Segments

The Company's segments have been determined in accordance with the Company's internal management structure, which is organized based on operating activities that are reviewed by the Company's chief operating decision maker. The Company evaluates performance based on several factors. In addition to considering primary financial measures including revenue, management evaluates operating performance for planning and forecasting future business operations, as well as measuring the Company's ability to service debt and meet other cash needs by considering Bank Credit OIBDA (as defined below). Based on its customers and type of content, the Company has operations in two segments, Media Networks and Radio. The Company's principal segment is Media Networks, which includes Univision Network; UniMás (formerly Telefutera); nine cable networks, including Galavisión and Univision Deportes Network; and the Company's owned and/or operated television stations. The Media Networks segment also includes digital properties consisting of online and mobile websites and applications including Univision.com and UVideos, a bilingual digital video network. The Radio segment includes the Company's owned and operated radio stations; Uforia, a comprehensive digital music platform; and any audio-only elements of Univision.com. Additionally, the Company incurs and manages shared corporate expenses related to human resources, finance, legal and executive and certain assets separately from its two segments. The segments have separate financial information which is used by the chief operating decision maker to evaluate performance and allocate resources. The segment results reflect how management evaluates its financial performance and allocates resources and are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations that each segment would have achieved had they operated as stand-alone entities during the periods presented.

Bank Credit OIBDA represents adjusted operating income before depreciation and amortization. Bank Credit OIBDA eliminates the effects of items that are not considered indicative of the Company's core operating performance. Bank Credit OIBDA is determined in accordance with the definition of earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA") in UCI's senior secured credit facilities and the indentures governing the senior notes, except that Bank Credit OIBDA from redesignated restricted subsidiaries only includes their results since the beginning of the quarter in which they were redesignated as restricted.

Bank Credit OIBDA is not, and should not be used as, an indicator of or alternative to operating income or net (loss) income as reflected in the consolidated financial statements. It is not a measure of financial performance under GAAP and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for measures of performance prepared in accordance with GAAP. Since the definition of Bank Credit OIBDA may vary among companies and industries, it should not be used as a measure of performance among companies. We are providing on a consolidated basis a reconciliation of the non-GAAP term Bank Credit OIBDA to net (loss) income attributable to Univision Holdings, Inc., which is the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure. 15. Subsequent Events

On July 1, 2015, the Company and Televisa entered into a Memorandum of Understanding (“MOU”) and UCI entered into an amendment to the existing PLA (the “PLA Amendment”).

Under the PLA Amendment, the terms of the existing strategic relationship between Univision and Televisa have been amended as follows:

- Term Extension—Upon consummation of Univision’s initial public offering of its common stock, the PLA Amendment extends the term of the PLA from its current expiration date of the later of 2025 or 7.5 years after Televisa voluntarily sells at least two-thirds of the shares (including shares resulting from the conversion of its convertible debentures) that it held immediately following its investment in Univision (the “Televisa Sell-Down”) to the later of 2030 or 7.5 years after a Televisa Sell-Down.
- Reduced Royalty Rates; Additional Revenue Subject to Royalties—In exchange for UCI agreeing to make certain additional revenue subject to the royalty, effective January 1, 2015, Televisa receives reduced royalties from UCI based on 11.84 percent, compared to 11.91 percent under the prior terms, of substantially all of UCI’s Spanish-language media networks revenues through December 2017. At that time, royalty payments to Televisa will increase by a comparable amount to 16.13 percent, compared to 16.22 percent. Additionally, Televisa will continue to receive an incremental 2 percent in royalty payments on such media networks revenues above an increased revenue base of $1.66 billion, compared to the prior revenue base of $1.65 billion. The PLA Amendment further states that the royalty rate will again increase by a comparable amount to 16.45 percent starting later in 2018, compared to the prior rate of 16.54 percent, for the remainder of the term. With this second rate increase, Televisa will receive an incremental 2 percent in royalty payments above a reduced revenue base of $1.63 billion.
- Advertising Commitment—UCI will have the right, on an annual basis to reduce the minimum amount of advertising it has committed to provide to Televisa by up to 20% for UCI’s use to sell advertising or satisfy ratings guarantees to certain advertisers.

At the same time UCI and Televisa amended the program license agreement entered into with an affiliate of Televisa for the territory of Mexico to conform to certain other amendments contained in the PLA Amendment.

In addition, under the terms of the MOU, Univision and Televisa have agreed to the following:

- FCC Matters—Televisa and Univision agreed jointly to file a petition for declaratory ruling with the FCC seeking (a) an increase in the authorized aggregate foreign ownership of Univision’s issued and outstanding shares of common stock from 25% to 49% and (b) to authorize Televisa to hold up to 40% of Univision’s issued and outstanding shares of common stock (in both cases on a voting and an equity basis). Univision and Televisa have agreed to file the petition by the earlier of 30 days after the consummation of Univision’s recently announced proposed initial public offering and January 5, 2016. In addition, Univision agreed that, after its Original Sponsors have sold 75% of their common stock, Univision will file an application for any required FCC approval of a transfer of control of Univision to the public stockholders or as otherwise may be required.
- Equity Capitalization Amendment—The equity capitalization of Univision will be adjusted to realign the economic and voting interests of Televisa and Univision’s other stockholders. As a result, Televisa will hold common stock with approximately 22% of the voting rights of Univision’s common stock and may obtain additional voting rights depending on its future equity ownership and the outcome of the FCC petition process described above. The classes of Univision’s shares of common stock to be held by Televisa will also provide Televisa the right to designate a minimum number of directors to Univision’s board of directors.
- Conversion of Debentures—Televisa will convert $1.125 billion of the Company’s debentures into warrants that are exercisable for new classes of Univision’s common stock. Univision has agreed to pay Televisa a one-time fee of $135.1 million as consideration for the conversion.

In consideration for the PLA Amendment, the MOU and other agreements entered into at the same time, Univision is making a one-time payment of $4.5 million to Televisa.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

The Board of Directors and Members
El Rey Holdings LLC

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of El Rey Holdings LLC, which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the related consolidated statements of operations, changes in members' deficit and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2014 and the period from May 8, 2013 (inception) through December 31, 2013, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles; this includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of El Rey Holdings LLC at December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the consolidated results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2014 and the period from May 8, 2013 (inception) through December 31, 2013, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

EL REY HOLDINGS LLC

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(Dollars in thousands, except unit data, unless otherwise indicated)

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of operations —El Rey Holdings LLC (together with its subsidiaries, the “Company”) was formed as a Delaware limited liability company on May 8, 2013 to serve as a holding company with no independent operations. The Company, directly and/or through its wholly-owned subsidiaries owns and operates the El Rey television network (the “El Rey Network”) and the Tres Pistoleros television studio (“Tres Pistoleros”). Effective May 14, 2013, the Company’s owners, Univision Networks & Studios, Inc. (the “Class A Member” and together with its affiliates, including Univision Communications Inc., “UCI”) and ERN/TP Holdings, LLC (the “Class B Member”) entered into an Amended and Restated Limited Liability Company Agreement of El Rey Holdings LLC (the “LLC Agreement”). The Class B Member is owned by El Rey Chingon, LLC (“El Rey Chingon”) and FactoryMade Ventures, LLC (“FactoryMade”). On March 19, 2014, the Company’s Board of Directors approved an amended and restated LLC Agreement of the Company, which eliminated the Class D ownership interests (none were issued as of March 19, 2014) and authorized the Class R ownership interest. See Note 5. Equity .

The Company’s operations include El Rey Network, which is a 24-hour English-language general entertainment cable network launched in December 2013. Curated by filmmaker Robert Rodriguez, El Rey Network showcases signature dramas, feature films, grindhouse genre, cult classic action, and horror/sci-fi content. It also includes Tres Pistoleros, a television production studio that owns several original scripted and non-scripted shows produced to air on El Rey Network and licensed to other international distributors on a variety of platforms. The Company primarily operates in New York, Los Angeles, Austin, and Miami, and outsources a majority of its non-creative functions such as sales, broadcast operations, finance, and human resources through a Master Services Agreement with UCI.

Principles of consolidation —The consolidated financial statements include the accounts and operations of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which assumes that the Company will be able to meet their obligations in the next twelve months. Consistent with its business plan, the Company has incurred losses and cumulative negative cash flows from operations since its inception and for the year ended December 31, 2014. The Company anticipates that it will continue to generate negative cash flows for the next several years. During the first quarter of 2015, the Company was able to secure additional capital from the Class A Member to assist in funding the Company’s operations for at least the next twelve months. See Note 9. Subsequent Events .

Reporting period— The Company was formed on May 8, 2013. The Company’s fiscal year ends on December 31. This resulted in fiscal year 2013 being shortened to the period from May 8, 2013 through December 31, 2013. The Company’s fiscal year was and will be twelve months, beginning on January 1 and ending on December 31.

Use of estimates —The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and footnotes thereto. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include the useful lives of fixed assets, allowances for doubtful accounts, the valuation and amortization of program inventory and prepayments, the valuation of fixed assets, the valuation of share-based compensation, and reserves for contingencies.

Fair Value Measurements —The Company utilizes valuation techniques that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs to the extent possible. The Company determines fair value

EL REY HOLDINGS LLC
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(Dollars in thousands, except unit data, unless otherwise indicated)

based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability in the principal or most advantageous market. When considering market participant assumptions in fair value measurements, the following fair value hierarchy distinguishes between observable and unobservable inputs, which are categorized in one of the following levels:

- Level 1 Inputs: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities accessible to the reporting entity at the measurement date.
- Level 2 Inputs: Other than quoted prices included in Level 1 inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.
- Level 3 Inputs: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability used to measure fair value to the extent that observable inputs are not available, thereby allowing for situations in which there is little, if any, market activity for the asset or liability at measurement date.

Revenue recognition—Net revenue is comprised of advertising revenue, subscriber fees, and content licensing revenue. Advertising revenues are recognized when advertising spots are aired and when guarantees, if any, are met. Subscriber fees received from cable systems and satellite operators are recognized as revenue in the period that services are provided. Content licensing revenues are recognized when the content is delivered, all related obligations have been satisfied, and all other revenue recognition criteria have been met. All revenue is recognized only when collection of the resulting receivable is reasonably assured.

Cash—Cash consists of cash on hand, and cash in various depository and demand deposit accounts. Deposits generally exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insurance limit.

Accounts receivable—Trade accounts receivable are recorded at the invoiced amount and do not bear interest. Amounts collected on trade accounts receivable are included in net cash used in operating activities in the consolidated statement of cash flows.

The Company periodically assesses the adequacy of valuation allowances for uncollectible accounts receivable by evaluating the collectability of outstanding receivables and general factors such as historical collection experience, length of time individual receivables are past due, and the economic environment.

Restricted cash—The Company classifies cash as restricted when the cash is unavailable for withdrawal or usage. Restrictions include legally restricted deposits held as compensating balances against short-term borrowings arrangements with a lending institution.

Property and Equipment and Related Depreciation—Property and equipment are carried at historical cost. Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The Company removes the cost and accumulated depreciation of its property and equipment upon the retirement of such assets and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is then recognized. The estimated useful life of leasehold improvements is the shorter of their useful life or the remaining life of the lease. The estimated useful lives of broadcast equipment is 5 to 15 years and the estimated useful lives of furniture, computer and other equipment is 3 to 7 years. Repairs and maintenance costs are expensed as incurred.

Property and equipment are periodically reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to its estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its estimated undiscounted future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized by the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset.

Programming inventory and prepayments —Programming inventory and prepayments include costs related to original programming, and acquired library programming and acquired original programming, collectively, “acquired programming”. Original programming costs include capitalizable production costs and development costs and are stated at the lower of cost, less accumulated amortization, or net realizable value. Costs for acquired programming are stated at the lower of cost, less accumulated amortization, or net realizable value. Acquired programming licenses and rights are recorded when (i) the cost of the programming is reasonably determined, (ii) the programming has been accepted in accordance with the terms of the agreement, (iii) the programming is available for its first showing or telecast and (iv) the license period has commenced. Costs incurred in connection with the production of or purchase of rights to programs that are available and scheduled to be broadcast within one year are classified as current assets, while costs of those programs to be broadcast beyond a one-year period are considered non-current. Acquired programming costs are expensed over the license period, which is the period in which an economic benefit is expected to be generated. Marketing, distribution and general and administrative costs related to programming inventory and prepayments are expensed as incurred.

Capitalized original programming, participation and residual costs are expensed over the applicable product life based upon the ratio of the current period’s revenues to estimated remaining total revenues (“ultimate revenues”) for each production. Until the Company has established secondary markets (defined as non-initial licensing deal revenues in a territory or platform), capitalized costs for each television series episode do not exceed an amount equal to the amount of revenue contracted for that episode. The Company expenses as incurred original programming costs in excess of this threshold on an episode-by-episode basis. The costs of acquired program licenses and rights for movies, series and other programs are expensed based on the number of times the program is expected to be aired or on a straight-line basis over the useful life, as appropriate.

The Company expenses exploitation costs as incurred. These costs include marketing, advertising, publicity, promotion and other distribution expenses incurred in connection with the distribution of the original produced content. These costs are recorded in selling, general and administrative expenses in the accompanying statements of operations.

Programming inventory and original programming on the Company’s balance sheet are subject to regular recoverability assessments where ultimate revenue estimates are reviewed and updated, as necessary. If planned usage patterns or estimated relative values by year were to change significantly, amortization of the Company’s programming costs may be accelerated or slowed, or an immediate impairment charge may be recognized.

Deferred financing costs —Deferred financing costs consist of payments made by the Company in connection with its convertible notes and revolving credit facility. These costs include legal fees, up-front fees, arrangement fees and other related expenses. Deferred financing costs are amortized over the life of the related debt using the effective interest method.

Legal costs —Legal costs are expensed as incurred unless required by U.S. GAAP to be capitalized.

Advertising and promotional expenses —The Company expenses advertising and promotional costs in the period in which they are incurred. The Company recorded advertising and promotional expense of $8,241 and $634 for the year ended December 31, 2014 and for the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013, respectively, in direct operating expenses and selling, general and administrative expenses in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

EL REY HOLDINGS LLC

(Dollars in thousands, except unit data, unless otherwise indicated)

Share-based compensation — Compensation expense relating to share-based payments is recognized based on the fair value of the award. The Company uses the accelerated attribution method of recognizing compensation expense over the vesting period.

Income taxes — The Company is treated as a partnership for federal and state tax purposes. Therefore, such taxes are the liability of the partners. However, the Company is subject to certain local income taxes including a New York City unincorporated business tax (“UBT”).

Concentration of credit risk — Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk primarily includes cash. Concentration of credit risk with respect to cash is limited as the Company maintains primary banking relationships with only large nationally recognized financial institutions. The Company also experiences concentration in revenue from particular products and customers due to the volume of business transacted with particular customers. For the year ended December 31, 2014, four customers each represented more than $4,503 or 10% of net revenue of the Company. Because El Rey Network currently has several subscriber fee contracts and is just beginning to generate advertising sales, revenues for the year ended December 31, 2014 are not representative of revenues that are expected to be achieved in future years. The Company expects to spread trade credit risk by entering into agreements with additional cable systems and satellite operators, by selling advertising to a diversified group of customers in a number of different industries, and by licensing the Company’s content to different licensees in territories around the world. The Company extends credit based on an evaluation of the customers’ financial condition. The Company monitors its exposure for credit losses and maintains allowances for anticipated losses.

Reclassifications — Certain reclassifications have been made to the prior year financial statements to conform to the current period presentation.

New accounting pronouncements — In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) 2014-09, which amended Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 606 Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The amendments provide guidance to clarify the principles for recognizing revenue and to develop a common revenue standard for GAAP and International Financial Reporting Standards. For public entities, the amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2016, including interim periods within that reporting period. For non-public entities, the amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2017, and interim periods within annual periods beginning after December 15, 2018. Non-public entities are permitted to adopt as early as public entities. The Company is currently evaluating the impact ASU 2014-09 will have on its consolidated financial statements and disclosures.

Subsequent events — The Company evaluates subsequent events and the evidence they provide about conditions existing at the date of the balance sheet as well as conditions that arose after the balance sheet date but before the financial statements are issued. The effects of conditions that existed at the balance sheet date are recognized in the financial statements. Events and conditions arising after the balance sheet date but before the financial statements are issued are evaluated to determine if disclosure is required to keep the financial statements from being misleading. To the extent such events and conditions exist, disclosures are made regarding the nature of events and the estimated financial effects for those events and conditions. For purposes of preparing the accompanying consolidated financial statements and the following notes to these financial statements, the Company evaluated subsequent events through February 27, 2015, the date the financial statements were issued. See Note. 9. Subsequent Events.

(Dollars in thousands, except unit data, unless otherwise indicated)

2. Property and Equipment

Property and equipment consists of the following:

	December 31, 2014	December 31, 2013
Broadcast equipment	$ 287	$ 286
Furniture, computer and other equipment	293	149
Leasehold improvements	859	—
	1,439	435
Accumulated depreciation	(157)	(25)
	$ 1,282	$ 410

Depreciation expense on property and equipment was $132 and $25 for the year ended December 31, 2014 and for the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013, respectively.

3. Programming Inventory, Prepayments and Accrued Participation Liability

Programming inventory and prepayments consist of the following:

	December 31, 2014	December 31, 2013
Original produced programming in preproduction	$ 2,583	$ 9,523
Original produced programming in production	247	—
Original produced programming completed <sup>(a)</sup>	1,205	—
Acquired original programming	5,966	—
Acquired library programming <sup>(b)</sup>	4,515	4,338
Total programming inventory and prepayments	14,516	13,861
Less current portion	(12,096)	(12,668)
Long-term programming inventory and prepayments	$ 2,420	$ 1,193

(a) The Company expects to amortize 100% of the original produced completed programming asset during the next twelve—month period ending December 31, 2015.

(b) The Company expects to amortize the unamortized balance of acquired library programming asset within five years from December 31, 2014.

During the year ended December 31, 2014 and the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013, the Company recognized $6,247 and $121, respectively, of amortization expense on acquired original and library programming inventory. During the year ended December 31, 2014 and for the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013, the Company recognized $58,628 and $2,339, respectively, of programming expense on original produced programming inventory. These amounts are recorded in direct operating expenses in the accompanying statements of operations.

The Company recorded an accrued participation liability of $1,210 at December 31, 2014, which is expected to be paid within the next fiscal year ending December 31, 2015. This liability is recorded in accounts payable and accrued expenses in the accompanying balance sheet. No participation liability was recorded during the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013.

4. Debt

UCI Convertible Notes

The Company's long-term debt consists mainly of the convertible notes with UCI subject to restrictions on transfer. The balances related to the convertible debt as of December 31, 2014 and 2013 are $102,787 and $72,374, respectively. The Company issued a $72,374 convertible note in May 2013 (the "Initial convertible note") and an additional $25,000 convertible note in November 2014 (the "Additional convertible note"), (collectively, "the notes") to the Class A Member. Each of these notes is a twelve year note which bears interest at 7.5% per annum. Interest is added to principal annually as it accrues. Only the original principal amounts of the notes are convertible into equity. At any time after two years following the launch of the El Rey Network which occurred on December 17, 2013 (the "Launch Date"), a portion of the initial principal of the two notes may be converted into equity, and the entire principal may be converted following four years after the Launch Date; provided that the maximum voting interest for UCI's combined equity interest cannot exceed 49% for the first six years after the Launch Date. The convertible notes are secured by a pledge of stock or units in wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company. See Note 9. Subsequent events.

While the convertible debt is outstanding, distributions (other than tax distributions) will require approval of the Board of the Company and consent of UCI as holder of the notes.

In connection with the issuance of the Initial convertible note, the Company paid fees of $430 in 2013, which are included on the balance sheet as current and non-current deferred financing costs. These fees will be amortized over the term of the debt. For the year ended December 31, 2014 and the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013, the Company recognized $36 and $23, respectively, related to the amortization of these costs.

Bank Senior Secured Revolving Credit Facility

On April 7, 2014, the Company obtained a four-year senior secured revolving credit facility in the amount of $100,000, which may be increased to $150,000 in accordance with its terms, which will be used, among other things, to fund the production, distribution or other exploitation of made-for-television scripted programming. It is primarily secured by territory, market, and platform licensing revenue contracts, production tax incentives, and 90% of the proceeds from the Additional convertible note, which is disclosed as restricted cash collateral on the consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2014. The facility bears an interest rate of LIBOR plus 2.75% basis points, or the alternate base rate plus 1.75%. The facility matures on April 6, 2018.

At December 31, 2014, there was $43,917 outstanding on the revolving credit facility. The outstanding loan balance has a three month maturity period but the Company has the intent and the ability to refinance a portion of the debt for a longer period of time. Therefore, the Company has classified $29,596 as a current liability and $14,321 as long-term on the consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2014. At December 31, 2014, the Company has $56,083 available for borrowing on the revolving credit facility, subject to borrowing base collateral availability.

In connection with obtaining the secured revolving credit facility, the Company paid fees of $4,422, which are included on the consolidated balance sheet as prepaid expenses and other and non-current deferred financing costs. These fees will be amortized over the four-year term of the facility. For the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company recognized $798 of amortization expense related to these costs.

5. Equity

On May 14, 2013, in addition to the $72,374 contributed by the Class A Member in exchange for the Initial convertible note, the Class A Member contributed $2,626 in exchange for 2,626,039 Class A Units. As stated in the LLC Agreement, the Class A Units are entitled to a liquidation preference of $2,626 upon liquidation of the Company, following payment of all debt, including any convertible note. The convertible notes are convertible into Class A-1 Units which are identical in all respects to the Class A Units, except the Class A-1 Units are entitled to a liquidation preference equal to their conversion price (currently $1.00 of principal amount of the convertible notes) plus $.087.

Also on May 14, 2013, the Class B Member contributed their interests in El Rey Network LLC and Tres Pistoleros LLC (both Delaware limited liability companies), and TTP Texas Tres Pistoleros, LLC (a Texas limited liability company) (collectively the “Initial Subsidiaries”) to the Company in exchange for 50,000,000 Class B Units. The Class B Units are entitled to a liquidation preference of $50,000 less prior distributions of free cash flow as approved by the Board and tax distributions upon liquidation of the Company, following payment of all debt and any Class A or Class A-1 Unit liquidation preferences. The assets of the Initial Subsidiaries at the time of the contribution included, among other things, certain rights to trademarks and domain names contributed to the Initial Subsidiaries by Robert Rodriguez and FactoryMade (together, the “Founders”), certain rights relating to Lucha Libre AAA programming contained in an agreement between FactoryMade and the holder of the rights to such programming, and an existing affiliate distribution agreement with Comcast Cable Communications. These non-cash asset contributions were recorded at carryover basis, which was zero.

Class A and Class B Units have voting rights in the Company.

For a period following December 1, 2020 the Class A Member has a right to call, and the Class B Member has the right to put, in each case at fair market value, a portion of the Class B Member’s equity interest in the Company. For a period following December 1, 2023 the Class A Member has a similar right to call, and the Class B Member has a similar right to put, all of the Class B Member’s equity interest in the Company.

The Company can also issue Class P Units pursuant to its LLC Agreement. Class P Units do not have any voting rights and any issuance of Class P Units require approval of the Board of the Company. On March 19, 2014, the Company granted 6,250,000 Class P Units to the Company’s Vice Chairman representing service-based profits interests of the Company. The Class P Units are subject to a time-based vesting schedule of four years contingent upon the Vice Chairman’s continuous employment with the Company. The Company determined that the Class P Units fair value per unit was $0.34 on the grant date. As of December 31, 2014, 937,500 Class P units were vested and 5,312,500 units remain unvested.

The Company can also issue Class R Units pursuant to its LLC Agreement. Class R Units do not have any voting rights and any issuance of Class R Units requires approval of the Board of the Company. On March 19, 2014, the Company granted 1,562,500 Class R Units to non-employee executive producers of Matador, representing performance-based profits interests of the Company. The Company determined that the Class R Units fair value per unit was $0.23 on the grant date. The vesting of the Class R Units is based on performance conditions related to achieving defined production budgets and the production of seasons 3, 4 and 5. During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company did not record any share-based compensation because the performance conditions were not met, in accordance with ASC 505-50 Equity-Based Payments to Non-Employees. During the fourth quarter of 2014, the Company determined that the Class R equity awards were forfeited as a result of the Company cancelling Matador.

The fair value of equity units awarded to employees and non-employees was measured at the grant date by first determining the Business Enterprise Value (“BEV”) of the Company using a Discounted Cash Flow (“DCF”) method under the income approach. The DCF method follows three steps. The first step is the estimation of annual cash flows over a discrete projection period. The second step is to estimate the terminal value of the business or the value of the business that remains beyond the discrete projection period. The third step is to discount the discrete period cash flows and the terminal value to present value, as of the valuation date, at a rate of return that considers the relative risk of achieving the cash flows and the time value of money. The Company then utilized the Black-Scholes option pricing model to determine the fair value of the units. The key inputs for the Black-Scholes model include the total equity value as of the valuation date, the exercise price (breakpoint), the expected annual equity volatility, the expected time to a liquidation event, and the annual risk-free rate of return. To allocate the BEV, the Company considered two liquidity event scenarios, one in 2020 and another in 2023, which are based on the put/call terms of the LLC Agreement. The results of the two scenarios were averaged to arrive to the fair value of the units. The valuation is classified as a Level 3 measurement.

The following key assumptions were used in the Black-Scholes valuation model to value the fair value per unit for both the Class P and Class R Units:

Average Volatility	35%
Risk Free Interest Rates	2.24% to 2.75%
Time to liquidity event (years)	6.7 to 9.7

During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company recorded share-based compensation expense of $1,042 related to the Class P Units grants. The Company did not record any share-based compensation expense for the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013. Total unrecognized compensation cost related to unvested Class P Units awards as of December 31, 2014 is $1,083, which is expected to be recognized over a period of 2.5 years.

6. Related Party Transactions

Robert Rodriguez, El Rey Chingon & FactoryMade

On May 14, 2013, the Founders entered into services agreements (the “Founders Services Agreements”) with the Company. These Founders Services Agreements, in addition to providing for certain services to be rendered by the Founders to the Company, granted the Company certain television exclusivity rights for Robert Rodriguez and FactoryMade programming during the term of such agreements.

Under FactoryMade’s services agreement, FactoryMade will provide non-writing executive producer and certain other services to the Company in exchange for an annual payment of $2,000, payable in monthly installments. The Company also reimburses FactoryMade for facilities and other amenities expenses. During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company recorded $2,119 for the services fees and reimbursements of costs to FactoryMade. During the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013, the Company recorded $1,739 for the services fees and reimbursements of costs to FactoryMade. As of December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, the Company had a payable of $170 and $42, respectively, related to these services fees and costs. As of December 31, 2014 the Company did not record any assets related to this service agreement. As of December 31, 2013, the Company recorded an asset of $97, related to certain prepayments under this services agreement.

FactoryMade also has a minority interest in Lucha Libre FMV LLC, which owns Lucha Underground, an original non-scripted program that premiered on El Rey Network in October 2014. El Rey has a one-year, renewable licensing agreement in place to premiere the program in the English language domestically. FactoryMade has significant decision making ability on the production of the program. As of December 31, 2014, the Company recorded a prepaid programming asset of $5,773, related to the licensing of this program and a programming asset of $192, related to an episode delivered but not aired as of December 31, 2014. The Company also recorded programming expense of $1,539 related to the episodes delivered and aired on El Rey Network as of December 31, 2014.

FactoryMade also has an economic interest in Skip Film Boutique FMV LLC (“Skip Film”), which the Company has engaged to produce “The Director’s Chair”, an original non-scripted program that premiered on El Rey Network in May 2014. The Company records these costs as an original programming asset and amortizes the costs as the episodes are aired. During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company recorded expense of $354, related to the amortization of the content aired during 2014. As of December 31, 2014, the Company recorded a prepaid programming asset of $247, related to the production of the content and has a recorded programming liability of $119 related to these costs. In addition, the Company engaged Skip Film to produce promos, movie hostings, electronic press kits and other services related to the promotion of El Rey Network content. During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company recorded an expense of $645 related to these services.

Under Robert Rodriguez’s services agreement, Mr. Rodriguez is entitled to compensation for any series he creates and develops, customary fixed per episode fees for non-writing executive producer fees for certain other Company programming, and reimbursement for direct costs and expenses in connection with his services. The Company also entered into a separate services agreement with Mr. Rodriguez to compensate him for writing and directing services, and related royalties for From Dusk Till Dawn: The Series and Matador. During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company recorded $2,160 of expense for these services. During the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013 the Company recorded $169 of expense for these services. As of December 31, 2014, the Company had a payable of $494, related to these services.

On April 1, 2014, the Company entered into an agreement with Mr. Rodriguez, pursuant to which the Company agreed to pay Mr. Rodriguez a monthly salary of $83 for his duties as chairman for the period commencing on April 1, 2014 and ending on December 31, 2016. The Company’s obligations under this agreement are independent of its financial obligations to Mr. Rodriguez under Mr. Rodriguez’s services agreement described above and will terminate upon Mr. Rodriguez’s death or permanent disability or upon certain “cause events” as defined in the agreement. During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company paid Mr. Rodriguez $750 pursuant to this agreement.

Upon formation, the Company paid $1,111 to El Rey Chingon and $1,957 to FactoryMade as reimbursement to the Founders for loans that they had made to El Rey Network LLC prior to the transaction with UCI. These loans bore interest at the rate of 0.05% per annum. The repayments of these loans are reflected in total members’ deficit as of December 31, 2013.

UCI

Under a Master Services Agreement with the Company dated May 14, 2013, UCI provides certain distribution, advertising sales and back office/technical services to the Company for fees generally based on incremental costs incurred by UCI in providing these services. The costs include compensation costs for certain dedicated UCI employees performing such services, allocation of certain UCI facilities costs and a use fee during the useful life of certain UCI assets used by the Company in connection with the provision of the services. The Company also pays UCI an annual $3,000 management fee which is paid in monthly installments. Upon certain terminations of the services agreement, the Company is obligated to reimburse UCI for reasonable one-time costs directly resulting from the termination. The back office/technical services include facilities, engineering and operations support, program scheduling, rights management, promotion support, human resources, finance, accounting, payroll, procurement, and risk management services.

Under other agreements with the Company, UCI has also agreed to provide certain English language soccer programming in exchange for a license fee equal to the Company's net advertising and sponsorship revenues, and promotional support to the El Rey Network.

Grupo Televisa S.A.B. and its affiliates (collectively "Televisa") holds equity and debt interests in certain UCI entities and provides a significant amount of programming to other UCI entities. As a result of this relationship, and in connection with the provision of promotional support, the Company has agreed to provide Televisa certain advertising spots on the El Rey Network. Additionally, the Company agreed to provide UCI and Televisa access to certain unsold advertising inventory on the El Rey Network.

During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company recognized $12,039, for the management and services fees and reimbursement of costs to UCI. During the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013, the Company recognized $4,743 for the management and services fees and reimbursement of costs to UCI. As of December 31, 2014, and December 31, 2013, the Company had a payable to UCI of $1,872, and $1,579, respectively, related to these management and services fees and costs.

Other transactions

The Founders also have controlling ownership interests or ownership interests with significant influence with companies that do business with the Company, primarily for rental of production studios, and as it pertains to the Founders Services Agreements, reimbursement of travel expenses and compensation for health benefits. These services totaled $697 during the year ended December 31, 2014; the Company recorded an asset of $83 related to these costs with the remaining amounts being expensed during fiscal 2014. During the period from May 8, 2013 (Inception) through December 31, 2013, the Company recorded an expense of $461 for these services.

The Company has a lease with FactoryMade for its production office in Los Angeles which expires in 2017. The Company pays an annual rent of $400 with a 3% escalation rate at each January. During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company recognized $326 in rent expense related to the space rental and recorded a security deposit of $53 in noncurrent other assets as of December 31, 2014. In July 2014, the Company entered into a space rental arrangement with Troublemaker Studios, L.P. of which Robert Rodriguez is one of the founders. The arrangement calls for a monthly fee per employee. During the year ended December 31, 2014 the Company incurred rent expense of $48 related to this arrangement.

7. Contingencies and Commitments

Contingencies

Liabilities for loss contingencies arising from claims, assessments, litigation, fines and penalties and other sources are recorded when the Company believes it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the contingency can be reasonably estimated. The Company has recorded no loss contingencies as of December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013.

Commitments

In the normal course of business, the Company enters into multi-year contracts for programming content and other service arrangements. The Company also has contractual commitments for creative talent and employment agreements, which may include obligations to actors, producers, television personalities and executives.

On March 14, 2014, the Company terminated a senior executive and entered into the 12-month separation agreement for salary and benefits contemplated by the executive's original employment agreement.

The following table is a summary of the Company's major contractual payment obligations as of December 31, 2014 and does not include obligations under its convertible notes with UCI and the Founders Services Agreements:

	Payments Due By Period
	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	Thereafter	Total
	(In thousands)
Programming	$3,465	$2,624	$ 605	$996	$732	$ —	$8,422
Severance	123	—	—	—	—	—	123
Operating leases	412	424	437	—	—	—	1,273
	$4,000	$3,048	$1,042	$996	$732	$ —	$9,818

As of December 31, 2014, the Company's balance sheet reflected contractual commitments related to programming inventory obligations of $972 due in 2015, $550 due in 2016, $605 due in 2017, $666 due in 2018 and $732 due in 2019. The Company also has off balance sheet programming inventory obligations of $2,493 due in 2015, $2,074 due in 2016, none due in 2017, and $330 due in 2018, because the license period had not started.

8. Income Taxes

The Company is treated as a partnership for federal and state tax purposes. Therefore, no provision has been recorded for federal or state income taxes as such taxes are the liability of the partners. The Company is however, subject to certain local income taxes including a New York City UBT.

The effective tax rate for the Company is different from the federal statutory rate primarily due to the fact that the majority of the income is not taxed at the partnership level; the effect of local taxes; permanent differences; and the valuation allowance on the Company's domestic deferred tax assets.

The table below summarizes the Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities:

	December 31, 2014	December 31, 2013
Deferred tax assets	$ 528	$ 109
Valuation allowance	(503)	(109)
Deferred tax liabilities	(25)	—
Net deferred tax asset	$ —	$ —

EL REY HOLDINGS LLC
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(Dollars in thousands, except unit data, unless otherwise indicated)

At December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, the Company's deferred tax assets primarily relate to UBT net operating losses ("NOL"). Realization of these deferred tax assets is dependent upon future earnings. Accordingly, a full valuation allowance was recorded against the assets for the UBT NOLs due to historical and projected losses at the Company. The UBT NOL carryforwards begin to expire in 2034.

The Company has not recorded any reserves for uncertain tax positions.

9. Subsequent events

On January 16, 2015, the Company entered into an agreement in principal with Miramax Film NY, LLC and Miramax Distribution Services LLC (collectively, "Miramax") with respect to, among other things, increasing Miramax's economic interest in From Dusk Till Dawn: The Series (the "Series") for Season 2 and Season 3. Pursuant to the agreement the Company will arrange production loans under the revolving credit facility for Season 2, and production approvals for Season 2 will be expanded to include mutual approval over all aspects of production. In addition, Miramax will assume responsibility for participations and residuals on a worldwide basis, and following full repayment of Season 2 production loans under the revolving credit facility, the Company will obtain a release from the liens held by the lenders under this facility over Season 2 rights. The Company will assign all of its rights, title and interest in Season 2 to Miramax, and Miramax will be the sole owner, producer and financier of Season 3 of the Series and subsequent seasons. Lastly, El Rey Network will have certain exhibition rights for Season 2 and Season 3 and certain subsequent seasons on substantially the same terms and conditions as Season 1.

On February 19, 2015, the Company's Board of Directors approved the purchase by the Class A Member of, and the issuance by the Company to the Class A Member of, a new $30,000 convertible note. The note will be convertible into a new class of units and will have similar terms as the existing convertible notes held by the Class A Member with certain differences, including the conversion price and certain amendments to the liquidation/sale waterfall provisions.

ITEM 14. INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS.

The Registrant is governed by the Delaware General Corporation Law, or DGCL. Section 145 of the DGCL provides that a corporation may indemnify any person, including an officer or director, who was or is, or is threatened to be made, a party to any threatened, pending or completed legal action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the right of such corporation), by reason of the fact that such person was or is an officer, director, employee or agent of such corporation or is or was serving at the request of such corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or enterprise. The indemnity may include expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by such person in connection with such action, suit or proceeding, provided such officer, director, employee or agent acted in good faith and in a manner such person reasonably believed to be in, or not opposed to, the corporation's best interest and, for criminal proceedings, had no reasonable cause to believe that such person's conduct was unlawful. A Delaware corporation may indemnify any person, including an officer or director, who was or is, or is threatened to be made, a party to any threatened, pending or contemplated action or suit by or in the right of such corporation, under the same conditions, except that such indemnification is limited to expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by such person, and except that no indemnification is permitted without judicial approval if such person is adjudged to be liable to such corporation. Where an officer or director of a corporation is successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any action, suit or proceeding referred to above, or any claim, issue or matter therein, the corporation must indemnify that person against the expenses (including attorneys' fees) which such officer or director actually and reasonably incurred in connection therewith.

The Registrant's amended and restated bylaws will authorize the indemnification of its officers and directors, consistent with Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, as amended. The Registrant intends to enter into indemnification agreements with each of its directors and executive officers. These agreements, among other things, will require the Registrant to indemnify each director and executive officer to the fullest extent permitted by Delaware law, including indemnification of expenses such as attorneys' fees, judgments, fines and settlement amounts incurred by the director or executive officer in any action or proceeding, including any action or proceeding by or in right of the Registrant, arising out of the person's services as a director or executive officer.

Reference is made to Section 102(b)(7) of the DGCL, which enables a corporation in its original certificate of incorporation or an amendment thereto to eliminate or limit the personal liability of a director for violations of the director's fiduciary duty, except (i) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) pursuant to Section 174 of the DGCL, which provides for liability of directors for unlawful payments of dividends of unlawful stock purchase or redemptions or (iv) for any transaction from which a director derived an improper personal benefit.

The Registrant expects to maintain standard policies of insurance that provide coverage (i) to its directors and officers against loss rising from claims made by reason of breach of duty or other wrongful act and (ii) to the Registrant with respect to indemnification payments that it may make to such directors and officers.

The proposed form of Underwriting Agreement to be filed as Exhibit 1.1 to this Registration Statement provides for indemnification to the Registrant's directors and officers by the underwriters against certain liabilities.

ITEM 15. RECENT SALES OF UNREGISTERED SECURITIES.

The following sets forth information regarding all unregistered securities sold by the Registrant since January 1, 2012:

Since January 1, 2015, the Registrant has granted to certain of the Registrant's employees (i) 30,708 stock options and (ii) 14,840 restricted stock units. These securities were issued under the Registrant's equity incentive plan without registration in reliance on the exemptions afforded by Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act and Rule 701 promulgated thereunder.

During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014, the Registrant granted to certain of the Registrant's employees 23,512 stock options. These securities were issued under the Registrant's equity incentive plan without registration in reliance on the exemptions afforded by Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act and Rule 701 promulgated thereunder.

On January 30, 2014, a group of institutional investors acquired 241,870 shares of the Registrant's Class A common stock for an aggregate purchase price of $125.0 million. The shares of Class A common stock in this transaction were issued in reliance on Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, as the sale of the security did not involve a public offering. Appropriate legends were affixed to the share certificate issued in each transaction.

During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013, the Registrant granted to certain of the Registrant's employees (i) 80,530 stock options and (ii) 92,850 restricted stock units. ### ITEM 17. UNDERTAKINGS.

The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to provide to the underwriters at the closing specified in the underwriting agreements, certificates in such denominations and registered in such names as required by the underwriters to permit prompt delivery to each purchaser.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the provisions referenced in Item 14 of this registration statement, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the SEC such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer, or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered hereunder, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question of whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that:

- (1) For purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, the information omitted from the form of prospectus filed as part of this registration statement in reliance upon Rule 430A and contained in a form of prospectus filed by the registrant pursuant to Rule 424(b)(1) or (4) or 497(h) under the Securities Act shall be deemed to be part of this registration statement as of the time it was declared effective.
- (2) For the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each post-effective amendment that contains a form of prospectus shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

SIGNATURES

Pursuant to the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, the registrant has duly caused this registration statement to be signed on its behalf by the undersigned, thereunto duly authorized, in the City of New York, State of New York, on July 2, 2015.

-----------	--------------------

FIRST-LIEN GUARANTEE AND COLLATERAL AGREEMENT dated as of March 29, 2007 (this “Agreement”), among BROADCAST MEDIA PARTNERS HOLDINGS, INC., a Delaware corporation (“Holdings”), UMBRELLA ACQUISITION, INC., a Delaware corporation (“Merger Sub”) to be merged with and into UNIVISION COMMUNICATIONS INC. (the “Company”), UNIVISION OF PUERTO RICO INC., a Delaware corporation (“Subsidiary Borrower” and together with the US Borrower (as defined in the Credit Agreement referred to below), the “Borrowers” and each, a “Borrower”), the subsidiaries of the US Borrower from time to time party hereto and DEUTSCHE BANK AG NEW YORK BRANCH, as first-lien collateral agent (in such capacity, the “First-Lien Collateral Agent”).

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

Reference is made to the Credit Agreement dated as of March 29, 2007 (as amended, restated, amended and restated, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the “Credit Agreement”), among the Borrowers, the lenders from time to time party thereto (the “Lenders”) and Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch, as administrative agent (in such capacity, the “Administrative Agent”), the First-Lien Collateral Agent and Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch, as second-lien collateral agent (in such capacity, the “Second-Lien Collateral Agent”).

The First-Lien Lenders and each Issuing Bank (such term and each other capitalized term used but not defined in this preliminary statement having the meaning given or ascribed to it in Article I) have agreed to extend credit to the Borrowers, in each case pursuant to, and upon the terms and conditions specified in, the Credit Agreement. The Hedge Creditors have agreed (or may in the future agree) to enter into Hedging Obligations with one or more Loan Parties. The obligations of the First-Lien Lenders and each Issuing Bank to extend credit to the Borrowers, and the agreement of the Hedge Creditors to enter into and maintain Hedging Obligations with one or more Loan Parties, are, in each case, conditioned upon, among other things, the execution and delivery of this Agreement by each Borrower and each Guarantor. Each Guarantor is an affiliate of the Borrowers, will derive substantial benefits from the extension of credit to the Borrowers pursuant to the Credit Agreement and from the entering into and/or maintaining of such Hedging Obligations and is willing to execute and deliver this Agreement in order to induce the First-Lien Lenders and the Issuing Banks to extend such credit or the Hedge Creditors to enter into and maintain such Hedging Obligations. Accordingly, the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

Definitions

SECTION 1.01. Credit Agreement. (a) Capitalized terms used in this Agreement and not otherwise defined herein have the meanings set forth in the Credit Agreement. All capitalized terms defined in the New York UCC (as such term is defined herein) and not defined in this Agreement have the meanings specified therein. All references to the Uniform Commercial Code shall mean the New York UCC unless the context requires otherwise; the term “Instrument” shall have the meaning specified in Article 9 of the New York UCC.

(b) The rules of construction specified in Section 1.02 of the Credit Agreement also apply to this Agreement.

SECTION 1.02. Other Defined Terms. As used in this Agreement, the following terms have the meanings specified below:

“ Account Debtor ” means any Person who is or who may become obligated to any Grantor under, with respect to or on account of an Account.

“ Administrative Agent ” shall have the meaning assigned to such term in the preliminary statement.

“ After-Acquired Intellectual Property ” shall have the meaning assigned to such term in Section 3.06(e) .

“ Bankruptcy Default ” shall mean an Event of Default of the type described in Sections 7.01(g) and (h) of the Credit Agreement.

“ Cash Collateral Account ” shall mean a non-interest bearing cash collateral account maintained with, and in the sole dominion and control of, the First-Lien Collateral Agent for the benefit of the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders) into which shall be deposited cash collateral in respect of Letters of Credit.

“ Commodity Exchange Act ” shall mean the Commodity Exchange Act (7 U.S.C. § 1 et seq.), as amended from time to time, and any successor statute.

“ Copyright License ” shall mean any written agreement, now or hereafter in effect, granting any right to any third person under any Copyright now or hereafter owned by any Grantor or that such Grantor otherwise has the right to license, or granting any right to any Grantor under any copyright now or hereafter owned by any third party, and all rights of such Grantor under any such agreement.

“Copyrights” shall mean all of the following now owned or hereafter acquired by any Grantor: (a) all copyright rights in any work subject to the copyright laws of the United States or any other country, whether as author, assignee, transferee or otherwise, (b) all registrations and applications for registration of any such copyright in the United States or any other country, including registrations, recordings, supplemental registrations and pending applications for registration in the United States Copyright Office (or any successor office or any similar office in any other country), including those listed on Schedule III and (c) all causes of action arising prior to or after the date hereof for infringement of any Copyright or unfair competition regarding the same.

“Credit Agreement” shall have the meaning assigned to such term in the preliminary statement.

“Domain Names” shall mean all Internet domain names and associated URL addresses in or to which any Grantor now or hereafter has any right, title or interest.

“ECP” shall have the meaning assigned to such term in the definition of Excluded Swap Obligation.

“Excluded Collateral” shall mean:

(a) all cash and cash equivalents;

(b) any Deposit Accounts and Securities Accounts;

(c) all vehicles the perfection of a security interest in which is excluded from the UCC in the relevant jurisdiction;

(d) subject in all respects to clause (h) of this definition below, any General Intangibles or other rights arising under contracts, Instruments, licenses, license agreements or other documents, to the extent (and only to the extent) that the grant of a security interest would (i) constitute a violation of a restriction in favor of a third party on such grant, unless and until any required consents shall have been obtained, (ii) give any other party to such contract, Instrument, license, license agreement or other document the right to terminate its obligations thereunder, or (iii) violate any law, provided, however, that (1) any portion of any such General Intangible or other right shall cease to constitute Excluded Collateral pursuant to this clause (d) at the time and to the extent that the grant of a security interest therein does not result in any of the consequences specified above and (2) the limitation set forth in this clause (d) above shall not affect, limit, restrict or impair the grant by a Grantor of a security interest pursuant to this Agreement in any such General Intangible or other right, to the extent that an otherwise applicable prohibition or restriction on such grant is rendered ineffective by any applicable law, including the UCC;

(e) any Letter-of-Credit Rights, to the extent the relevant Grantor is required by applicable law to apply the proceeds of such Letter of Credit Rights for a specified purpose;

(f) Investment Property consisting of voting Equity Interests of any non-U.S. subsidiary in excess of 65% of the Equity Interests representing the total combined voting power of all classes of Equity Interests of such non-U.S. subsidiary entitled to vote;

(g) as to which the Collateral Agent, at the request of the US Borrower, reasonably determines that the costs of obtaining a security interest in any specifically identified assets or category of assets (or perfecting the same) are excessive in relation to the benefit to the Secured Parties of the security afforded thereby;

(h) any FCC License, to the extent that any law, regulation, permit, order or decree of any Governmental Authority in effect at the time applicable thereto prohibits the creation of a security interest therein, provided, however, that (i) the right to receive any payment of money in respect of such FCC License (including, without limitation, general intangibles for money due or to become due), and (ii) any proceeds, products, offspring, accessions, rents, profits, income or benefits of any FCC License shall not constitute Excluded Collateral, provided further, however, that in the event that such law, regulation, permit, order or decree shall be amended, modified or interpreted to permit (or shall be replaced with another rule or regulation, or any other law, rule or regulation is adopted, which would permit) the creation of a security interest in such FCC License, such FCC License will automatically be deemed to be a part of the Collateral (and shall cease to be Excluded Collateral);

(i) Equipment owned by any Grantor on the date hereof or hereafter acquired that is subject to a Lien securing a purchase money obligation or Capitalized Lease Obligation permitted to be incurred pursuant to the Credit Agreement, if the contract or other agreement in which such Lien is granted (or the documentation providing for such purchase money obligation or Capitalized Lease Obligation) validly prohibits the creation of any other Lien on such Equipment;

(j) any interest in joint ventures and non-wholly owned subsidiaries which cannot be pledged without the consent of one or more third parties;

(k) applications filed in the United States Patent and Trademark Office to register trademarks or service marks on the basis of any Grantor's "intent to use" such trademarks or service marks unless and until the filing of a "Statement of Use" or "Amendment to Allege Use" has been filed and accepted, whereupon such applications shall be automatically subject to the Lien granted herein and deemed included in the Collateral;

(l) subject to Section 7.14(e), any Equity Interests in any subsidiary and/or other securities issued by any subsidiary to the extent that the pledge of such Equity Interests and/or such other securities would result in the US Borrower being required to file separate financial statements of such subsidiary with the SEC pursuant to Rule 3-10 or Rule 3-16 of Regulation S-X promulgated under the Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, but only to the extent necessary to not be subject to such requirement and only with respect to the relevant Existing Senior Notes affected; and

(m) any direct Proceeds, substitutions or replacements of any of the foregoing, but only to the extent such Proceeds, substitutions or replacements would otherwise constitute Excluded Collateral.

Furthermore, no term used in the definition of Collateral (or any component definition thereof) shall be deemed to include any Excluded Collateral.

“Excluded Swap Obligation” shall mean, with respect to any Guarantor, any Swap Obligation if, and to the extent that, all or a portion of the guarantee of such Guarantor of, or the grant by such Guarantor of a security interest to secure, such Swap Obligation (or any guarantee thereof) is or becomes illegal under the Commodity Exchange Act or any rule, regulation or order of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (or the application or official interpretation of any thereof) by virtue of such Guarantor’s failure for any reason to constitute an “eligible contract participant” as defined in the Commodity Exchange Act (each an “ECP”) at the time the guarantee of such Guarantor becomes effective with respect to such related Swap Obligation; provided that with the written consent of the Administrative Agent and the Borrowers, a given Excluded Swap Obligation (determined as provided above without regard to this proviso) may be excluded from this definition.

“Existing Senior Notes Indenture” shall mean the Indenture dated as of July 18, 2001, between the Company, as issuer, and The Bank of New York, as trustee, as supplemented and any Officer’s Certificate issued thereunder with respect to the Existing Senior Notes.

“Existing Senior Note Obligations” shall mean (a) the due and punctual payment of the unpaid principal amount of, and premium, if any, and interest (including interest accruing during the pendency of any bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or other similar proceeding, regardless of whether allowed or allowable in such proceeding) on, the Existing Senior Notes, when and as due, whether at maturity, by acceleration, upon one or more dates set for prepayment or otherwise and (b) the due and punctual performance of all other obligations of the Company under or pursuant to the Existing Senior Notes Indenture.

regardless of whether allowed or allowable in such proceeding) on any and all First-Lien Loans, in each case in accordance with the rate specified in the Credit Agreement as when and as due, whether at maturity, by acceleration, upon one or more dates set for prepayment or otherwise, (ii) each payment required to be made by a Borrower under the Credit Agreement in respect of any Letter of Credit, when and as due, including payments in respect of reimbursement of disbursements, interest thereon (including interest accruing during the pendency of any bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or other similar proceeding, regardless of whether allowed or allowable in such proceeding) and obligations to provide cash collateral in respect of any Letter of Credit, (iii) any and all sums advanced by the First-Lien Collateral Agent in order to preserve the Collateral or to preserve its security interest therein, in each case, to the extent permitted by the First-Lien Loan Documents and (iv) all other monetary obligations of the Borrowers to any of the Secured Parties under the Credit Agreement and each of the other First-Lien Loan Documents, including fees, costs, expenses and indemnities, whether primary, secondary, direct, contingent, fixed or otherwise (including monetary obligations incurred during the pendency of any bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or other similar proceeding, regardless of whether allowed or allowable in such proceeding), (b) the due and punctual performance of all other obligations of the Borrowers under or pursuant to the Credit Agreement and each of the other First-Lien Loan Documents, and (c) the due and punctual payment and performance of all the obligations of each other Loan Party under or pursuant to this Agreement and each of the other First-Lien Loan Documents, in each case, whether outstanding on the date hereof or incurred or arising from time to time after the date of this Agreement.

“New York UCC” shall mean the Uniform Commercial Code as from time to time in effect in the State of New York.

“Obligations” shall mean (a) the Loan Document Obligations and (b) the due and punctual payment and performance of all Secured Hedging Obligations of each Loan Party owing to a Hedge Creditor, in each case, whether outstanding on the date hereof or arising from time to time following the date of this Agreement.

“Patent License” shall mean any written agreement, now or hereafter in effect, granting to any third person any right to make, use or sell any invention on which a Patent, now or hereafter owned by any Grantor or that any Grantor otherwise has the right to license, is in existence, or granting to any Grantor any right to make, use or sell any invention on which a patent, now or hereafter owned by any third person, is in existence, and all rights of any Grantor under any such agreement.

“Patents” shall mean all of the following now owned or hereafter acquired by any Grantor: (a) all letters patent of the United States or the equivalent thereof in any other country, all registrations and recordings thereof, and all applications for letters patent of the United States or the equivalent thereof in any other country, including registrations, recordings and pending applications in the United States Patent and Trademark Office (or any successor or any similar offices in any other country), including those listed on Schedule III, and (b) all reissues, continuations, divisions, continuations-in-part, renewals or extensions thereof, and the inventions disclosed or claimed therein, including the right to make, use and/or sell the inventions disclosed or claimed therein.

“Permitted Liens” shall mean (a) with respect to the Obligations, all “Permitted Liens” as such term is defined in the Credit Agreement and (b) with respect to any series of Existing Senior Notes, all “Permitted Liens” as such term is defined in the Officer’s Certificate applicable for such series issued under the Existing Senior Notes Indenture.

“Pledged Collateral” shall mean (a) the Pledged Stock, (b) the Pledged Debt Securities, (c) subject to Section 3.05, all payments of principal or interest, dividends, cash, instruments and other property from time to time received, receivable or otherwise distributed in respect of, in exchange for or upon the conversion of, and all other Proceeds received in respect of, the securities referred to in clauses (a) and (b) above, (d) subject to Section 3.05, all rights of such Grantor with respect to the securities and other property referred to in clauses (a), (b) and (c) above and (e) all Proceeds of any of the foregoing.

“Pledged Debt Securities” shall mean (a) the debt securities and promissory notes held by any Grantor on the date hereof (including all such debt securities and promissory notes listed opposite the name of such Grantor on Schedule II), (b) any debt securities or promissory notes in the future issued to such Grantor and (c) any other instruments evidencing the debt securities described above, if any.

“Pledged Securities” shall mean any promissory notes, stock certificates or other securities now or hereafter included in the Pledged Collateral, including all certificates, instruments or other documents representing or evidencing any Pledged Collateral.

“Pledged Stock” shall mean (a) as of the Closing Date, the Equity Interests of the US Borrower and (b) thereafter, to the extent the same do not constitute Excluded Collateral, (i) the Equity Interests owned by any Grantor (including all such Equity Interests listed on Schedule II) and (ii) any other Equity Interest obtained in the future by such Grantor and (b) the certificates, if any, representing all such Equity Interests.

“Qualified ECP Guarantor” shall mean, in respect of any Swap Obligation, each Loan Party that has total assets exceeding $10,000,000 at the time such Swap Obligation is incurred or such other person as constitutes an ECP under the Commodity Exchange Act or any regulations promulgated thereunder.

“Secured Hedging Obligations” shall mean all Hedging Obligations; provided, that in no circumstances shall Excluded Swap Obligations constitute Secured Hedging Obligations.

“Secured Parties” shall mean (a) the First-Lien Lenders, (b) the Administrative Agent, (c) the First-Lien Collateral Agent, (d) the Issuing Banks, (e) each Hedge Creditor, (f) the beneficiaries of each indemnification obligation undertaken by any Loan Party under any First-Lien Loan Document and (g) the permitted successors and assigns of each of the foregoing.

“Security Interest” shall have the meaning assigned to such term in Section 3.01.

“Subsidiary Guarantor” shall mean any of the following: (a) the Subsidiaries identified on Schedule I hereto as Subsidiary Guarantors and (b) each other subsidiary that becomes a party to this Agreement as a Subsidiary Guarantor after the Closing Date.

“Swap Obligation” shall mean, with respect to any Guarantor, any obligation to pay or perform under any agreement, contract or transaction that constitutes a “swap” within the meaning of section 1a(47) of the Commodity Exchange Act.

“Termination Date” shall mean the date upon which all Commitments (other than the Second-Lien Commitments) have terminated, no Letters of Credit are outstanding (or if Letters of Credit remain outstanding, as to which an L/C Backstop exists), and the First-Lien Loans and L/C Exposure, together with all interest, Fees and other non-contingent First-Lien Obligations, have been paid in full in cash.

“Trademark License” shall mean any written agreement, now or hereafter in effect, granting to any third person any right to use any trademark now or hereafter owned by any Grantor or that any Grantor otherwise has the right to license, or granting to any Grantor any right to use any trademark now or hereafter owned by any third person, and all rights of any Grantor under any such agreement.

“Trademarks” shall mean all of the following now owned or hereafter acquired by any Grantor: (a) all trademarks, service marks, trade names, corporate names, company names, business names, fictitious business names, trade styles, trade dress, logos, other source or business identifiers, designs and general intangibles of like nature, now existing or hereafter adopted or acquired, all registrations and recordings thereof, and all registration and recording applications filed in connection therewith, including registrations and registration applications in the United States Patent and Trademark Office (or any successor office) or any similar offices in any State of the United States or any other country or any political subdivision thereof, and all extensions or renewals thereof, including those listed on Schedule III, (b) all goodwill associated therewith or symbolized thereby, (c) all other assets, rights and interests that uniquely reflect or embody such goodwill and (d) all causes of action arising prior to or after the date hereof for infringement of any trademark or unfair competition regarding the same.

SECTION 1.03. Intercreditor Agreement. All rights and obligations of the First-Lien Collateral Agent, the other Secured Parties, the Existing Senior Noteholders and the Existing Senior Note Trustee under this Agreement shall be subject to the Intercreditor Agreement. In the event of any conflict between the terms hereof and of the Intercreditor Agreement, the Intercreditor Agreement shall govern and control.

ARTICLE II

Guarantee

SECTION 2.01. Guarantee. Each Guarantor absolutely, irrevocably and unconditionally guarantees, jointly with the other Guarantors and severally, as a primary obligor and not merely as a surety, the due and punctual payment and performance of the Obligations. Each Guarantor further agrees that the Obligations may be extended or renewed, in whole or in part, without notice to or further assent from it, and that it will remain bound upon its guarantee notwithstanding any extension or renewal of any Obligation. Each Guarantor waives (to the extent permitted by applicable law) presentment to, demand of payment from and protest to the Borrowers or any other Loan Party of any Obligation, and also waives notice of acceptance of its guarantee and notice of protest for nonpayment.

Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, it is intended that this Agreement, and any Liens granted hereunder by each Guarantor to secure the obligations and liabilities arising pursuant to this Agreement, not constitute a “Fraudulent Conveyance” (as defined below). Consequently, each Guarantor agrees that if this Agreement, or any Liens securing the obligations and liabilities arising pursuant to this Agreement, would, but for the application of this sentence, constitute a Fraudulent Conveyance, this Agreement and each such Lien shall be valid and enforceable only to the maximum extent that would not cause this Agreement or such Lien to constitute a Fraudulent Conveyance, and this Agreement shall automatically be deemed to have been amended accordingly at all relevant times. For purposes hereof, “Fraudulent Conveyance” means a fraudulent conveyance or fraudulent transfer under Section 548 of the Bankruptcy Code or a fraudulent conveyance or fraudulent transfer under the provisions of any applicable fraudulent conveyance or fraudulent transfer law or similar law of any state, nation or other governmental unit, as in effect from time to time.

SECTION 2.02. Guarantee of Payment. Each Guarantor further agrees that its guarantee hereunder constitutes a guarantee of payment when due and not of collection, and waives any right (except such as shall be required by applicable law and cannot be waived) to require that any resort be had by the First-Lien Collateral Agent or any other Secured Party to any security held for the payment of the Obligations or to any balance of any Deposit Account or credit on the books of the First-Lien Collateral Agent or any other Secured Party in favor of the Borrowers or any other person.

SECTION 2.03. No Limitations, Etc. (a) Except for termination of a Guarantor’s obligations hereunder as expressly provided in Section 7.14, the obligations of each Guarantor hereunder shall not be subject to any reduction, limitation, impairment or termination for any reason, including any claim of waiver, release, surrender, alteration or compromise, and shall not be subject to any defense or setoff, counterclaim, recoupment or termination whatsoever by reason of the invalidity, illegality or unenforceability of the Obligations or otherwise. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the obligations of each Guarantor hereunder shall not be discharged or impaired or otherwise affected by (i) the failure of the First-Lien Collateral Agent or any other Secured Party to assert any claim or demand or to enforce any right or remedy under the provisions of any Loan Document or otherwise, (ii) any rescission, waiver, amendment or modification of, or any release from any of the terms or provisions of, any Loan Document (other than pursuant to the terms of a waiver, amendment, modification or release of this Agreement in accordance with the terms hereof) or any other agreement, including with respect to the release of any other Guarantor under this Agreement and so long as any such amendment, modification or waiver of any Loan Document is made in accordance with Section 9.08 of the Credit Agreement, (iii) the release of, or any impairment of or failure to perfect any Lien on or security interest in, any security held by the First-Lien Collateral Agent or any other Secured Party for the Obligations or any of them, (iv) any default, failure or delay, willful or otherwise, in the performance of the Obligations, or (v) any other act or omission that may or might in any manner or to any extent vary the risk of any Guarantor or otherwise operate as a discharge of any Guarantor as a matter of law or equity (other than the occurrence of the Termination Date). Each Guarantor expressly authorizes the First-Lien Collateral Agent, in accordance with the Credit Agreement and applicable law, to take and hold security for the payment and performance of the Obligations, to exchange, waive or release any or all such security (with or without consideration), to enforce or apply such security and direct the order and manner of any sale thereof in its sole discretion or to release or substitute any one or more other guarantors or obligors upon or in respect of the Obligations, all without affecting the obligations of any Guarantor hereunder.

(b) To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, each Guarantor waives any defense based on or arising out of any defense of either Borrower or any other Loan Party or the unenforceability of the Obligations or any part thereof from any cause, or the cessation from any cause of the liability of the Borrowers or any other Loan Party, other than the occurrence of the Termination Date. The First-Lien Collateral Agent and the other Secured Parties may, in accordance with the Credit Agreement and applicable law, at their election, foreclose on any security held by one or more of them by one or more judicial or nonjudicial sales, accept an assignment of any such security in lieu of foreclosure, compromise or adjust any part of the Obligations, make any other accommodation with either Borrower or any other Loan Party or exercise any other right or remedy available to them against either Borrower or any other Loan Party, without affecting or impairing in any way the liability of any Guarantor hereunder except to the extent the Termination Date has occurred. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, each Guarantor waives any defense arising out of any such election even though such election operates, pursuant to applicable law, to impair or to extinguish any right of reimbursement or subrogation or other right or remedy of such Guarantor against either Borrower or any other Loan Party, as the case may be, or any security.

SECTION 2.04. Reinstatement. Each Guarantor agrees that its guarantee hereunder shall continue to be effective or be reinstated, as the case may be, if at any time payment, or any part thereof, of any Obligation is rescinded or must otherwise be restored by the First-Lien Collateral Agent or any other Secured Party upon the bankruptcy or reorganization of either Borrower, any other Loan Party or otherwise, notwithstanding the occurrence of the Termination Date.

SECTION 2.05. Agreement To Pay; Subrogation. In furtherance of the foregoing and not in limitation of any other right that the First-Lien Collateral Agent or any other Secured Party has at law or in equity against any Guarantor by virtue hereof, upon the failure of either Borrower or any other Loan Party to pay any Obligation when and as the same shall become due, whether at maturity, by acceleration, after notice of prepayment or otherwise, each Guarantor hereby promises to and will forthwith pay, or cause to be paid, to the First-Lien Collateral Agent for distribution to the Secured Parties in cash the amount of such unpaid Obligation. Upon payment by any Guarantor of any sums to the First-Lien Collateral Agent as provided above, all rights of such Guarantor against either Borrower or any other Guarantor arising as a result thereof by way of right of subrogation, contribution, reimbursement, indemnity or otherwise shall in all respects be subject to Article VI.

SECTION 2.06. Information. Each Guarantor assumes all responsibility for being and keeping itself informed of each Borrower's and each other Loan Party's financial condition and assets and of all other circumstances bearing upon the risk of nonpayment of the Obligations and the nature, scope and extent of the risks that such Guarantor assumes and incurs hereunder, and agrees that neither the First-Lien Collateral Agent nor any other Secured Party will have any duty to advise such Guarantor of information known to it or any of them regarding such circumstances or risks.

SECTION 2.07. Keepwell. Each Qualified ECP Guarantor hereby jointly and severally absolutely, unconditionally and irrevocably undertakes to provide such funds or other support as may be needed from time to time by each other Loan Party to honor all of its obligations under this guarantee in respect of Swap Obligations constituting Hedging Obligations owing to a Hedge Creditor (provided, however, that each Qualified ECP Guarantor shall only be liable under this Section 2.07 for the maximum amount of such liability that can be hereby incurred without rendering its obligations under this Section 2.07, or otherwise under this guarantee, as it relates to such other Loan Party, voidable under applicable law relating to fraudulent conveyance or fraudulent transfer, and not for any greater amount). The obligations of each Qualified ECP Guarantor under this Section 2.07 shall remain in full force and effect until the Termination Date. Each Qualified ECP Guarantor intends that this Section 2.07 constitute, and this Section 2.07 shall be deemed to constitute, a "keepwell, support, or other agreement" for the benefit of each other Loan Party for all purposes of Section 1a(18)(A)(v)(II) of the Commodity Exchange Act."

ARTICLE III

Security Interests in Personal Property

SECTION 3.01. Security Interest. (a) As security for the payment or performance, as the case may be, in full of the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations), each Grantor hereby assigns and pledges to the First-Lien Collateral Agent, its successors and permitted assigns, for the ratable benefit of the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders), and hereby grants to the First-Lien Collateral Agent, its successors and permitted assigns, for the ratable benefit of the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders), a security interest (the "Security Interest"), in all right, title or interest in or to any and all of the following assets and properties now owned or at any time hereafter acquired by such Grantor or in which such Grantor now has or at any time in the future may acquire any right, title or interest (but excluding any Excluded Collateral, collectively, the "Collateral"):

- (i) all Accounts;
- (ii) the Cash Collateral Account and all cash, securities, Instruments and other property deposited or required to be deposited therein;
- (iii) all Commercial Tort Claims;
- (iv) all Chattel Paper;
- (v) all Documents;
- (vi) all Equipment;
- (vii) all General Intangibles;
- (viii) all Goods;
- (ix) all Instruments;
- (x) all Inventory;
- (xi) all Investment Property;
- (xii) all Intellectual Property;
- (xiii) all Letter-of-Credit Rights;
- (xiv) all Pledged Collateral;
- (xv) all books and records pertaining to the Collateral;

(xvi) all Supporting Obligations; and

(xvii) to the extent not otherwise included, all Proceeds and products of any and all of the foregoing and all collateral security and guarantees given by any person with respect to any of the foregoing.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Collateral shall include cash, cash equivalents and securities to the extent the same constitute Proceeds and products of any item set forth in clauses (i) through (xvii) above, but in no event shall any control agreements be required to be obtained in respect thereof.

(b) Each Grantor hereby authorizes the First-Lien Collateral Agent at any time and from time to time to file in any relevant jurisdiction any financing statements (including fixture filings) with respect to the Collateral or any part thereof and amendments thereto that (i) indicate the Collateral as all assets of such Grantor or words of similar effect, and (ii) contain the information required by Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code of each applicable jurisdiction for the filing of any financing statement or amendment, including (x) whether such Grantor is an organization, the type of organization and any organizational identification number issued to such Grantor and (y) in the case of a financing statement filed as a fixture filing, a sufficient description of the real property to which such Collateral relates. Each Grantor agrees to provide such information to the First-Lien Collateral Agent promptly upon written request. The First-Lien Collateral Agent agrees, upon request by the US Borrower and at its expense, to furnish copies of such filings to the US Borrower.

(c) The First-Lien Collateral Agent is further authorized to file with the United States Patent and Trademark Office or United States Copyright Office (or any successor office) such documents as may be necessary for the purpose of perfecting, confirming, continuing, enforcing or protecting the Security Interest granted by each Grantor, without the signature of any Grantor, and naming any Grantor or the Grantors as debtors and the First-Lien Collateral Agent as secured party. The First-Lien Collateral Agent agrees, upon request by the US Borrower and at its expense, to furnish copies of such filings to the US Borrower.

(d) The Security Interest is granted as security only and, except as otherwise required by applicable law, shall not subject the First-Lien Collateral Agent or any other Secured Party to, or in any way alter or modify, any obligation or liability of any Grantor with respect to or arising out of the Collateral. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be construed to make the First-Lien Collateral Agent or any other Secured Party liable as a member of any limited liability company or as a partner of any partnership, neither the First-Lien Collateral Agent nor any other Secured Party by virtue of this Agreement or otherwise (except as referred to in the following sentence) shall have any of the duties, obligations or liabilities of a member of any limited liability company or as a partner in any partnership. The parties hereto expressly agree that, unless the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall become the owner of Pledged Collateral consisting of a limited liability company interest or a partnership interest pursuant hereto, this Agreement shall not be construed as creating a partnership or joint venture among the First-Lien Collateral Agent, any other Secured Party, any Grantor and/or any other Person.

SECTION 3.02. Representations and Warranties. The Grantors jointly and severally represent and warrant to the First-Lien Collateral Agent and the Secured Parties that:

(a) Each Grantor has good and valid rights in and title to the Collateral with respect to which it has purported to grant a Security Interest hereunder and has full power and authority to grant to the First-Lien Collateral Agent, for the ratable benefit of the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders), the Security Interest in such Collateral pursuant hereto and to execute, deliver and perform its obligations in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

(b) Uniform Commercial Code financing statements (including fixture filings, as applicable) or other appropriate filings, recordings or registrations containing a description of the Collateral have been prepared by the First-Lien Collateral Agent based upon the information provided to the First-Lien Collateral Agent and the Secured Parties by the Grantors for filing in each governmental, municipal or other office specified on Schedule IV hereof (or specified by notice from the US Borrower to the First-Lien Collateral Agent after the Closing Date in the case of filings, recordings or registrations required by Section 5.09 of the Credit Agreement), which are all the filings, recordings and registrations (other than filings required to be made in the United States Patent and Trademark Office and the United States Copyright Office in order to perfect the Security Interest in the Collateral consisting of United States Patents, Trademarks and Copyrights) that are necessary as of the Closing Date (or after the Closing Date, in the case of filings, recordings or registrations required by Section 5.09 of the Credit Agreement) to publish notice of and protect the validity of and to establish a legal, valid and perfected security interest in favor of the First-Lien Collateral Agent (for the ratable benefit of the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders)) in respect of all Collateral in which the Security Interest may be perfected by filing, recording or registration in the United States (or any political subdivision thereof) and its territories and possessions, and no further or subsequent filing, refile, recording, rerecording, registration or reregistration is necessary in any such jurisdiction, except as provided under applicable law with respect to the filing of continuation statements. Each Grantor represents and warrants that, to the extent the Collateral consists of Intellectual Property, a fully executed agreement in the form hereof or, alternatively, each applicable short form security agreement in the form attached to the Credit Agreement as Exhibits F-A1, F-A2 and F-A3, and containing a description of all Collateral consisting of Intellectual Property with respect to United States Patents and United States registered Trademarks (and Trademarks for which United States registration applications are pending) and United States registered Copyrights has been or will be delivered to the First-Lien Collateral Agent for recording by the United States Patent and Trademark Office and the United States Copyright Office pursuant to 35 U.S.C. §261, 15 U.S.C. §1060 or 17 U.S.C. §205 and the regulations thereunder, as applicable, and otherwise as may be required pursuant to the laws of any other necessary jurisdiction, to protect the validity of and to establish a legal, valid and perfected security interest in favor of the First-Lien Collateral Agent (for the ratable benefit of the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders)) in respect of all Collateral consisting of Patents, Trademarks and Copyrights in which a security interest may be perfected by filing, recording or registration in the United States (or any political subdivision thereof) and its territories and possessions, and no further or subsequent filing, refile, recording, rerecording, registration or reregistration is necessary (other than such actions as are necessary to perfect the Security Interest with respect to any Collateral consisting of United States federally registered Patents, Trademarks and Copyrights (and applications therefor) acquired or developed after the date hereof).

(c) The Security Interest constitutes (i) a legal and valid security interest in all Collateral securing the payment and performance of the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations), (ii) subject to the filings described in Section 3.02(b), a perfected security interest in all Collateral in which a security interest may be perfected by filing, recording or registering a financing statement or analogous document in the United States (or any state thereof) pursuant to the Uniform Commercial Code and (iii) subject to the filings described in Section 3.02(b), a security interest that shall be perfected in all Collateral in which a security interest may be perfected upon the receipt and recording of this Agreement (or the applicable short form security agreement) with the United States Patent and Trademark Office and the United States Copyright Office, as applicable, within the three month period (commencing as of the date hereof) pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 261 or 15 U.S.C. § 1060 or the one month period (commencing as of the date hereof) pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 205. The Security Interest is and shall be prior to any other Lien on any of the Collateral, other than Permitted Liens.

(d) Schedule II correctly sets forth as of the Closing Date the percentage of the issued and outstanding shares or units of each class of the Equity Interests of the issuer thereof represented by the Pledged Stock and includes all Equity Interests, debt securities and promissory notes required to be pledged hereunder.

(e) The Pledged Stock and Pledged Debt Securities have been duly and validly authorized and issued by the issuers thereof and (i) in the case of Pledged Stock issued by a corporation, are fully paid and nonassessable and (ii) in the case of Pledged Debt Securities, are legal, valid and binding obligations of the issuers thereof, subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other loss affecting creditors' rights generally and general principles of equity or at law.

(f) Schedule V correctly sets forth as of the Closing Date (i) the exact legal name of each Grantor, as such name appears in its respective certificate or articles of incorporation or formation, (ii) the jurisdiction of organization of each Grantor, (iii) the mailing address of each Grantor, (iv) the organizational identification number, if any, issued by the jurisdiction of organization of each Grantor, (v) the identity or type of organization of each Grantor and (vi) the Federal Taxpayer Identification Number, if any, of each Grantor which is a Specified Loan Party. The US Borrower agrees to update the information required pursuant to the preceding sentence as provided in Sections 5.04(i) and 5.06 of the Credit Agreement.

(g) The Collateral is owned by the Grantors free and clear of any Lien, except for Permitted Liens.

(h) Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything else in this Agreement to the contrary, no representation, warranty or covenant is made with respect to the creation or perfection of a security interest in Collateral to the extent such creation or perfection would require (i) any filing other than a filing in the United States of America, any state thereof and the District of Columbia or (ii) other action under the laws of any jurisdiction other than the United States of America, any state thereof and the District of Columbia.

(i) As of the Closing Date, no Grantor holds (i) any Commercial Tort Claims or (ii) any interest in any Chattel Paper, in each case, in an amount in excess of $10,000,000 individually, except as described in Schedule VI hereto.

(j) Each Grantor represents and warrants that (x) the Trademarks, Patents and Copyrights listed on Schedule III include all United States federal registrations and pending applications for Trademarks, Patents and Copyrights, all as in effect as of the date hereof, that such Grantor owns and that are material to the conduct of its business as of the date hereof and (y) all Domain Names listed on Schedule III include all Domain Names in which such Grantor has rights as of the date hereof that are material to the conduct of its business as of the date hereof.

SECTION 3.03. Covenants.

(a) Subject to Section 3.02(h), each Grantor shall, at its own expense, take all commercially reasonable actions necessary to defend title to the Collateral against all persons and to defend the Security Interest of the Collateral Agent in the First-Lien Collateral and the priority thereof against any Lien which does not constitute a Permitted Lien.

(b) Subject to Section 3.02(h), each Grantor agrees, upon written request by the First-Lien Collateral Agent and at its own expense, to execute, acknowledge, deliver and cause to be duly filed all such further instruments and documents and take all such actions as the First-Lien Collateral Agent may from time to time reasonably deem necessary to obtain, preserve, protect and perfect the Security Interest and the rights and remedies created hereby, including the payment of any fees and Taxes required in connection with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the granting of the Security Interest and the filing of any financing or continuation statements (including fixture filings) or other documents in connection herewith or therewith.

(c) At its option, but only following 5 Business Days' written notice to each Grantor of its intent to do so, the First-Lien Collateral Agent may discharge past due Taxes, assessments, charges, fees or Liens at any time levied or placed on the Collateral which do not constitute a Permitted Lien, and may pay for the maintenance and preservation of the Collateral to the extent any Grantor fails to do so as required by the Credit Agreement, and each Grantor jointly and severally agrees to reimburse the First-Lien Collateral Agent within 30 days after demand for any reasonable payment made or any reasonable expense incurred by the First-Lien Collateral Agent pursuant to the foregoing authorization; provided, however, that nothing in this paragraph shall be interpreted as excusing any Grantor from the performance of, or imposing any obligation on the First-Lien Collateral Agent or any Secured Party to cure or perform, any covenants or other promises of any Grantor with respect to Taxes, assessments, charges, fees or Liens and maintenance as set forth herein or in the other Loan Documents.

(d) Each Grantor shall remain liable to observe and perform all conditions and obligations to be observed and performed by it under each contract, agreement or instrument relating to the Collateral, all in accordance with the terms and conditions thereof.

SECTION 3.04. *Other Actions. In order to further ensure the attachment, perfection and priority of, and the ability of the First-Lien Collateral Agent to enforce, the Security Interest in the Collateral, each Grantor agrees, in each case at such Grantor's own expense, to take the following actions with respect to the following Collateral:

(a) Instruments. If any Grantor shall at any time hold or acquire any Instruments in excess of $10,000,000 individually, such Grantor shall forthwith endorse, assign and deliver the same to the First-Lien Collateral Agent, accompanied by such undated instruments of endorsement, transfer or assignment duly executed in blank as the First-Lien Collateral Agent may from time to time reasonably specify.

(b) Investment Property. Subject to the terms hereof, if any Grantor shall at any time hold or acquire any Certificated Securities, such Grantor shall forthwith endorse, assign and deliver the same to the First-Lien Collateral Agent, accompanied by such undated instruments of transfer or assignment duly executed in blank as the First-Lien Collateral Agent may from time to time reasonably specify. Each delivery of Pledged Securities shall be accompanied by a schedule describing the securities, which schedule shall be attached hereto as Schedule II and made a part hereof and supplement any prior schedule so delivered; provided that failure to attach any such schedule hereto shall not affect the validity of such pledge of such Pledged Securities and shall not in and of itself result in any Default or Event of Default. Each certificate representing an interest in any limited liability company or limited partnership controlled by any Grantor and pledged under Section 3.01 shall be physically delivered to the First-Lien Collateral Agent in accordance with the terms of the Credit Agreement and endorsed to the First-Lien Collateral Agent or endorsed in blank.

(c) Electronic Chattel Paper and Transferable Records. If any Grantor at any time holds or acquires an interest in an amount in excess of $10,000,000 individually in any Electronic Chattel Paper or any "transferable record", as that term is defined in Section 201 of the Federal Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act, or in Section 16 of the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act as in effect in any relevant jurisdiction, such Grantor shall promptly notify the First-Lien Collateral Agent thereof and, at the request of the First-Lien Collateral Agent, shall take such action as the First-Lien Collateral Agent may reasonably request to vest in the First-Lien Collateral Agent control under New York UCC Section 9-105 of such Electronic Chattel Paper or control under Section 201 of the Federal Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act or, as the case may be, Section 16 of the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, as so in effect in such jurisdiction, of such transferable record. The First-Lien Collateral Agent agrees with such Grantor that the First-Lien Collateral Agent will arrange, pursuant to procedures reasonably satisfactory to the First-Lien Collateral Agent and so long as such procedures will not result in the First-Lien Collateral Agent's loss of control, for the Grantor to make alterations to the Electronic Chattel Paper or transferable record permitted under UCC Section 9-105 or, as the case may be, Section 201 of the Federal Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act or Section 16 of the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act for a party in control to allow without loss of control, unless an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing or would occur after taking into account any action by such Grantor with respect to such Electronic Chattel Paper or transferable record.

(d) Letter-of-Credit Rights. If any Grantor is at any time a beneficiary under a letter of credit in excess of $10,000,000 individually, now or hereafter issued in favor of such Grantor, such Grantor shall notify the First-Lien Collateral Agent thereof and, at the reasonable request and option of the First-Lien Collateral Agent, such Grantor shall, pursuant to an agreement in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the First-Lien Collateral Agent, use commercially reasonable efforts to either (i) arrange for the issuer and any confirmer of such letter of credit to consent to an assignment to the First-Lien Collateral Agent of the proceeds of any drawing under the letter of credit or (ii) arrange for the First-Lien Collateral Agent to become the transferee beneficiary of the letter of credit, with the First-Lien Collateral Agent agreeing, in each case, that the proceeds of any drawing under the letter of credit are to be paid to the applicable Grantor unless an Event of Default has occurred or is continuing.

(e) Commercial Tort Claims. If any Grantor shall at any time hold or acquire a Commercial Tort Claim in excess of $10,000,000 individually, the Grantor shall notify the First-Lien Collateral Agent thereof in a writing signed by such Grantor including a summary description of such claim and grant to the First-Lien Collateral Agent, for the ratable benefit of the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders), in such writing a security interest therein and in the proceeds thereof, all upon the terms of this Agreement, with such writing to be in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the First-Lien Collateral Agent.

(f) Security Interests in Property of Account Debtors. If at any time any Grantor shall take a security interest in any property of an Account

Debtor or any other Person the value of which equals or exceeds $10,000,000 to secure payment and performance of an Account, such Grantor shall promptly assign such security interest to the First-Lien Collateral Agent for the benefit of the Secured Parties. Such assignment need not be filed of public record unless necessary to continue the perfected status of the security interest against creditors of and transferees from the Account Debtor or other Person granting the security interest.

SECTION 3.05. *Voting Rights; Dividends and Interest, Etc. Unless and until an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing and, except in the case of a Bankruptcy Default, the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall have given the Grantors notice of its intent to exercise its rights under this Agreement:

(a) Each Grantor shall be entitled to exercise any and all voting and/or other consensual rights and powers inuring to an owner of the Pledged Collateral or any part thereof for any purpose consistent with the terms of this Agreement, the Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents and the Existing Senior Notes Indenture and applicable law.

(b) The First-Lien Collateral Agent shall execute and deliver to each Grantor, or cause to be executed and delivered to each Grantor, all such proxies, powers of attorney and other instruments as such Grantor may reasonably request for the purpose of enabling such Grantor to exercise the voting and/or consensual rights and powers it is entitled to exercise pursuant to paragraph (a) above.

(c) Each Grantor shall be entitled to receive and retain any and all dividends, interest, principal and other distributions paid on or distributed in respect of the Pledged Collateral to the extent and only to the extent that such dividends, interest, principal and other distributions are not prohibited by, and otherwise paid or distributed in accordance with, the terms and conditions of the Credit Agreement, the other Loan Documents, the Existing Senior Notes Indenture and applicable law; provided that any noncash dividends, interest, principal or other distributions that would constitute Pledged Collateral, shall be and become part of the Pledged Collateral, and, if received by any Grantor, shall be held in trust for the benefit of the First-Lien Collateral Agent and the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders) and shall be delivered to the First-Lien Collateral Agent in the same form as so received (with any necessary endorsement reasonably requested by the First-Lien Collateral Agent) on or prior to the later to occur of (i) 30 days following the receipt thereof and (ii) the earlier of the date of the required delivery of the Pricing Certificate following the receipt of such items and the date which is 45 days after the end of the most recently ended fiscal quarter.

SECTION 3.06. *Additional Covenants Regarding Patent, Trademark and Copyright Collateral. (a) Except as could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, each Grantor agrees that it will not, and will use commercially reasonable efforts to not permit any of its licensees to, do any act, or omit to do any act, whereby any Patent that is material to the conduct of such Grantor's business may become invalidated or dedicated to the public.

(b) Except as could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, each Grantor (either itself or through its licensees or its sublicensees) will, for each Trademark material to the conduct of such Grantor's business, use commercially reasonable efforts to maintain such Trademark in full force free from any claim of abandonment or invalidity for non-use.

(c) Except as could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect (and subject to Section 7.15(a) hereof), each Grantor (either itself or through its licensees or sublicensees) will, for each work covered by a material Copyright, use commercially reasonable efforts to continue to publish, reproduce, display, adopt and distribute the work with appropriate copyright notice as necessary to establish and preserve its rights under applicable copyright laws.

(d) Except to the extent failure to act could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, each Grantor will take all reasonable and necessary steps that are consistent with the practice in any proceeding before the United States Patent and Trademark Office, United States Copyright Office or any office or agency in any political subdivision of the United States or in any other country or any political subdivision thereof, to maintain and pursue each material application relating to the Patents, Trademarks and/or Copyrights (and to obtain the relevant grant or registration) and to maintain each issued Patent and each registration of the Trademarks and Copyrights that is material to the conduct of any Grantor's business, including timely filings of applications for renewal, affidavits of use, affidavits of incontestability and payment of maintenance fees, and, if consistent with good business judgment, to initiate opposition, interference and cancellation proceedings against third parties.

(e) Each Grantor agrees that, should it obtain an ownership or other interest in any Intellectual Property after the Closing Date ("After-Acquired Intellectual Property") (i) the provisions of this Agreement shall automatically apply thereto, and (ii) any such After-Acquired Intellectual Property and, in the case of Trademarks, the goodwill symbolized thereby, shall automatically become part of the Collateral subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. At the time of any required delivery of information pursuant to Section 5.04(i) of the Credit Agreement, the relevant Grantor shall sign and deliver to the First-Lien Collateral Agent an appropriate Intellectual Property Security Agreement with respect to all applicable U.S. federally registered (or application for U.S. federally registered) After-Acquired Intellectual Property owned by it as of the last day of applicable fiscal quarter, to the extent that such Intellectual Property is not covered by any previous Intellectual Property Security Agreement so signed and delivered by it.

ARTICLE IV

Remedies

SECTION 4.01. Pledged Collateral. (a) Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default and with notice to the US Borrower, the First-Lien Collateral Agent, on behalf of the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders), shall have the right (in its sole and absolute discretion) to hold the Pledged Securities in its own name as pledgee, the name of its nominee (as pledgee or as sub-agent) or the name of the applicable Grantor, endorsed or assigned in blank or in favor of the First-Lien Collateral Agent. Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default and with notice to the relevant Grantor, the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall at all times have the right to exchange the certificates representing any Pledged Securities for certificates of smaller or larger denominations for any purpose consistent with this Agreement.

(b) Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, after the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall have notified the US Borrower in writing of the suspension of their rights under paragraph (c) of Section 3.05, then all rights of any Grantor to dividends, interest, principal or other distributions that such Grantor is authorized to receive pursuant to paragraph (c) of Section 3.05 shall cease, and all such rights shall thereupon become vested in the First-Lien Collateral Agent, which shall have the sole and exclusive right and authority to receive and retain such dividends, interest, principal or other distributions. All dividends, interest, principal or other distributions received by any Grantor contrary to the provisions of Section 3.05 shall be held in trust for the benefit of the First-Lien Collateral Agent, shall be segregated from other property or funds of such Grantor and shall be forthwith delivered to the First-Lien Collateral Agent upon demand in the same form as so received (with any necessary endorsement or instrument of assignment). Any and all money and other property paid over to or received by the First-Lien Collateral Agent pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph (b) shall be retained by the First-Lien Collateral Agent in an account to be established by the First-Lien Collateral Agent upon receipt of such money or other property and shall be applied in accordance with the provisions of Section 4.03. After all Events of Default have been cured or waived, the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall promptly repay to each applicable Grantor (without interest) all dividends, interest, principal or other distributions that such Grantor would otherwise be permitted to retain pursuant to the terms of paragraph (c) of Section 3.05 and that remain in such account.

(c) Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default and with notice to the US Borrower, all rights of any Grantor to exercise the voting and consensual rights and powers it is entitled to exercise pursuant to paragraph (a) of Section 3.05, and the obligations of the First-Lien Collateral Agent under paragraph (b) of Section 3.05, shall cease, and all such rights shall thereupon become vested in the First-Lien Collateral Agent, which shall have the sole and exclusive right and authority to exercise such voting and consensual rights and powers; provided, however, that, unless otherwise directed by the Required First-Lien Lenders, the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall have the right from time to time following and during the continuation of an Event of Default and the provision of the notice referred to above to permit the Grantors to exercise such rights. To the extent the notice referred to in the first sentence of this paragraph (c) has been given, after all Events of Default have been cured or waived, each Grantor shall have the exclusive right to exercise the voting and/or consensual rights and powers that such Grantor would otherwise be entitled to exercise pursuant to the terms of paragraph (a) of Section 3.05, and the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall again have the obligations under paragraph (b) of Section 3.05.

(d) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section 4.01, if a Bankruptcy Default shall have occurred and be continuing, the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall not be required to give any notice referred to in Section 3.05 or this Section 4.01 in order to exercise any of its rights described in said Sections, and the suspension of the rights of each of the Grantors under said Sections shall be automatic upon the occurrence of such Bankruptcy Default.

SECTION 4.02. *Uniform Commercial Code and Other Remedies. Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, each Grantor agrees to deliver each item of Collateral to the First-Lien Collateral Agent on demand, and it is agreed that the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall have the right to take any of or all the following actions at the same or different times: (a) with respect to any Collateral consisting of Intellectual Property, on demand, to cause the Security Interest to become an assignment, transfer and conveyance of any of or all such Collateral by the applicable Grantor to the First-Lien Collateral Agent, or to license or sublicense, whether general, special or otherwise, and whether on an exclusive or nonexclusive basis, any such Collateral throughout the world on such terms and conditions and in such manner as the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall determine (other than in violation of any then-existing licensing arrangements), and (b) to withdraw any and all cash or other Collateral from the Cash Collateral Account and to apply such cash and other Collateral to the payment of any and all Obligations (and to the extent provided in Section 6.01, to the payment of any and all Existing Senior Note Obligations) in the manner provided in Section 4.03, (c) with or without legal process and with or without prior notice or demand for performance, to take possession of the Collateral without breach of the peace, and subject to the terms of any related lease agreement, to enter any premises where the Collateral may be located for the purpose of taking possession of or removing the Collateral, and (d) generally, to exercise any and all rights afforded to a secured party under the Uniform Commercial Code or other applicable law. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, each Grantor agrees that the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall have the right, subject to the mandatory requirements of applicable law, to sell or otherwise dispose of all or any part of the Collateral at a public or private sale or at any broker's board or on any securities exchange upon such commercially reasonable terms and conditions as it may deem advisable, for cash, upon credit or for future delivery as the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall deem appropriate. The First-Lien Collateral Agent shall be authorized at any such sale (if it deems it advisable to do so) to restrict the prospective bidders or purchasers to persons who will represent and agree that they are purchasing the Collateral for their own account for investment and not with a view to the distribution or sale thereof, and upon consummation of any such sale the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall have the right to assign, transfer and deliver to the purchaser or purchasers thereof the Collateral so sold. Each such purchaser at any such sale shall hold the property sold absolutely, free from any claim or right on the part of any Grantor, and each Grantor hereby waives (to the extent permitted by law) all rights of redemption, stay and appraisal which such Grantor now has or may at any time in the future have under any rule of law or statute now existing or hereafter enacted.

The First-Lien Collateral Agent shall give each applicable Grantor 10 Business Days' written notice (which each Grantor agrees is reasonable notice within the meaning of Section 9-611 of the New York UCC or its equivalent in other jurisdictions) of the First-Lien Collateral Agent's intention to make any sale of Collateral. Such notice, in the case of a public sale, shall state the time and place for such sale and, in the case of a sale at a broker's board or on a securities exchange, shall state the board or exchange at which such sale is to be made and the day on which the Collateral, or portion thereof, will first be offered for sale at such board or exchange. Any such public sale shall be held at such time or times within ordinary business hours and at such place or places as the First-Lien Collateral Agent may fix and state in the notice (if any) of such sale. At any such sale, the Collateral, or portion thereof, to be sold may be sold in one lot as an entirety or in separate parcels, as the First-Lien Collateral Agent may (in its sole and absolute discretion) determine. The First-Lien Collateral Agent shall not be obligated to make any sale of any Collateral if it shall determine not to do so, regardless of the fact that notice of sale of such Collateral shall have been given. The First-Lien Collateral Agent may, without notice or publication, adjourn any public or private sale or cause the same to be adjourned from time to time by announcement at the time and place fixed for sale, and such sale may, without further notice, be made at the time and place to which the same was so adjourned. In case any sale of all or any part of the Collateral is made on credit or for future delivery, the Collateral so sold may be retained by the First-Lien Collateral Agent until the sale price is paid by the purchaser or purchasers thereof, but the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall not incur any liability in case any such purchaser or purchasers shall fail to take up and pay for the Collateral so sold and, in case of any such failure, such Collateral may be sold again upon like notice. At any public (or, to the extent permitted by law, private) sale made pursuant to this Agreement, any Secured Party (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, any Existing Senior Note Holder) may bid for or purchase, free (to the extent permitted by applicable law) from any right of redemption, stay, valuation or appraisal on the part of any Grantor (all said rights being also hereby waived and released to the extent permitted by applicable law), the Collateral or any part thereof offered for sale and may make payment on account thereof by using any claim then due and payable to such Secured Party (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, such Existing Senior Note Holder) from any Grantor as a credit against the purchase price, and such Secured Party (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, such Existing Senior Note Holder) may, upon compliance with the terms of sale, hold, retain and dispose of such property without further accountability to any Grantor therefor. For purposes hereof, a written agreement to purchase the Collateral or any portion thereof shall be treated as a sale thereof; the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall be free to carry out such sale pursuant to such agreement and no Grantor shall be entitled to the return of the Collateral or any portion thereof subject thereto, notwithstanding the fact that after the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall have entered into such an agreement all Events of Default shall have been remedied and the Obligations (and to the extent required by Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations) paid in full. As an alternative to exercising the power of sale herein conferred upon it, the First-Lien Collateral Agent may proceed by a suit or suits at law or in equity to foreclose this Agreement and to sell the Collateral or any portion thereof pursuant to a judgment or decree of a court or courts having competent jurisdiction or pursuant to a proceeding by a court-appointed receiver.

Each Grantor irrevocably makes, constitutes and appoints the First-Lien Collateral Agent (and all officers, employees or agents designated by the First-Lien Collateral Agent) as such Grantor's true and lawful agent (and attorney-in-fact) for the purpose, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, of making, settling and adjusting claims in respect of Collateral under policies of insurance, endorsing the name of such Grantor on any check, draft, instrument or other item of payment for the proceeds of such policies of insurance and for making all determinations and decisions with respect thereto. In the event that any Grantor at any time or times shall fail to obtain or maintain any of the policies of insurance required under the Credit Agreement or to pay any premium in whole or part relating thereto, the First-Lien Collateral Agent may, without waiving or releasing any obligation or liability of any Grantor hereunder or any Default or Event of Default, in its sole discretion, obtain and maintain such policies of insurance and pay such premium and take any other actions with respect thereto as the First-Lien Collateral Agent deems advisable. All sums disbursed by the First-Lien Collateral Agent in connection with this paragraph, including attorneys' fees, court costs, expenses and other charges relating thereto, shall be payable, upon demand, by the Grantors to the First-Lien Collateral Agent and shall be additional Obligations secured hereby.

SECTION 4.03. Application of Proceeds. If an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall apply the proceeds of any collection, sale, foreclosure or other realization upon any Collateral in accordance with the requirements of the Intercreditor Agreement; provided that, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, in no circumstances shall proceeds of Collateral constituting an asset of a Loan Party which is not a Qualified ECP Guarantor be applied towards the payment of any Secured Hedging Obligations". Upon any sale of Collateral by the First-Lien Collateral Agent (including pursuant to a power of sale granted by statute or under a judicial proceeding), the receipt of the First-Lien Collateral Agent or of the officer making the sale shall be a sufficient discharge to the purchaser or purchasers of the Collateral so sold and such purchaser or purchasers shall not be obligated to see to the application of any part of the purchase money paid over to the First-Lien Collateral Agent or such officer or be answerable in any way for the misapplication thereof.

SECTION 4.04. Grant of License to Use Intellectual Property. For the purpose of enabling the First-Lien Collateral Agent to exercise rights and remedies under this Agreement at such time as the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall be lawfully entitled to exercise such rights and remedies, each Grantor hereby grants to the First-Lien Collateral Agent an irrevocable (until the termination of this Agreement), nonexclusive license, subject in all respects to any existing licenses (exercisable without payment of royalty or other compensation to the Grantors), to use, license or sublicense any of the Collateral consisting of Intellectual Property now owned or hereafter acquired by such Grantor, and wherever the same may be located, and including in such license access to all media in which any of the licensed items may be recorded or stored and to all computer software and programs used for the compilation or printout thereof. The use of such license by the First-Lien Collateral Agent may be exercised, at the option of the First-Lien Collateral Agent, only upon the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default; provided, however, that any license, sublicense or other transaction entered into by the First-Lien Collateral Agent in accordance herewith shall be binding upon each Grantor notwithstanding any subsequent cure of an Event of Default.

SECTION 4.05. Securities Act, Etc. In view of the position of the Grantors in relation to the Pledged Collateral, or because of other current or future circumstances, a question may arise under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as now or hereafter in effect, or any similar statute hereafter enacted analogous in purpose or effect (such Act and any such similar statute as from time to time in effect being called the “Federal Securities Laws”) with respect to any disposition of the Pledged Collateral permitted hereunder. Each Grantor understands that compliance with the Federal Securities Laws might very strictly limit the course of conduct of the First-Lien Collateral Agent if the First-Lien Collateral Agent were to attempt to dispose of all or any part of the Pledged Collateral, and might also limit the extent to which or the manner in which any subsequent transferee of any Pledged Collateral could dispose of the same. Similarly, there may be other legal restrictions or limitations affecting the First-Lien Collateral Agent in any attempt to dispose of all or part of the Pledged Collateral under applicable “blue sky” or other state securities laws or similar laws analogous in purpose or effect. Each Grantor recognizes that to the extent such restrictions and limitations apply to any proposed sale of Pledged Collateral, the First-Lien Collateral Agent may, with respect to any sale of such Pledged Collateral, limit the purchasers to those who will agree, among other things, to acquire such Pledged Collateral for their own account, for investment, and not with a view to the distribution or resale thereof. Each Grantor acknowledges and agrees that to the extent such restrictions and limitations apply to any proposed sale of Pledged Collateral, the First-Lien Collateral Agent, in its sole and absolute discretion (a) may proceed to make such a sale whether or not a registration statement for the purpose of registering such Pledged Collateral or part thereof shall have been filed under the Federal Securities Laws and (b) may approach and negotiate with a limited number of potential purchasers (including a single potential purchaser) to effect such sale. Each Grantor acknowledges and agrees that any such sale might result in prices and other terms less favorable to the seller than if such sale were a public sale without such restrictions. In the event of any such sale, the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall incur no responsibility or liability for selling all or any part of the Pledged Collateral at a price that the First-Lien Collateral Agent, in its sole and absolute discretion, may in good faith deem reasonable under the circumstances, notwithstanding the possibility that a substantially higher price might have been realized if the sale were deferred until after registration as aforesaid or if more than a limited number of purchasers (or a single purchaser) were approached. The provisions of this Section 4.05 will apply notwithstanding the existence of a public or private market upon which the quotations or sales prices may exceed substantially the price at which the First-Lien Collateral Agent sells.

ARTICLE V

Indemnity, Subrogation and Subordination

SECTION 5.01. Indemnity and Subrogation. In addition to all such rights of indemnity and subrogation as the Guarantors may have under applicable law (but subject to Section 5.03), the Borrowers agree that (a) in the event a payment shall be made by any Guarantor under this Agreement, the Borrowers shall indemnify such Guarantor for the full amount of such payment and such Guarantor shall be subrogated to the rights of the person to whom such payment shall have been made to the extent of such payment and (b) in the event any assets of any Guarantor shall be sold pursuant to this Agreement or any other Security Document to satisfy in whole or in part a claim of any Secured Party (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, any Existing Senior Note Holder), the Borrowers shall indemnify such Guarantor in an amount equal to the greater of the book value or the fair market value of the assets so sold.

SECTION 5.02. Contribution and Subrogation. Each Guarantor (a “Contributing Guarantor”) agrees (subject to Section 5.03) that, in the event a payment shall be made by any other Guarantor hereunder in respect of any Obligation, or assets of any other Guarantor shall be sold pursuant to any Security Document to satisfy any Obligation owed to any Secured Party (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, to the Existing Senior Note Holders), and such other Guarantor (the “Claiming Guarantor”) shall not have been fully indemnified by a Borrower as provided in Section 5.01, the Contributing Guarantor shall indemnify the Claiming Guarantor in an amount equal to (i) the amount of such payment or (ii) the greater of the book value or the fair market value of such assets, as the case may be, in each case multiplied by a fraction of which the numerator shall be the net worth of the Contributing Guarantor on the date hereof and the denominator shall be the aggregate net worth of all the Guarantors on the date hereof (or, in the case of any Guarantor becoming a party hereto pursuant to Section 7.16, the date of the supplement hereto executed and delivered by such Guarantor). Any Contributing Guarantor making any payment to a Claiming Guarantor pursuant to this Section 5.02 shall be subrogated to the rights of such Claiming Guarantor under Section 5.01 to the extent of such payment.

SECTION 5.03. Subordination. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, all rights of the Guarantors under Sections 5.01 and 5.02 and all other rights of indemnity, contribution or subrogation under applicable law or otherwise shall be fully subordinated to the Loan Document Obligations (and, to the extent Section 6.01 is applicable, the Existing Senior Note Obligations) until the Termination Date; provided, that if any amount shall be paid to such Grantor on account of such subrogation rights at any time prior to the Termination Date, such amount shall be held in trust for the benefit of the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders) and shall forthwith be paid to the First-Lien Collateral Agent to be credited and applied against the Obligations, whether matured or unmatured, in accordance with Section 4.03. No failure on the part of a Borrower or any Guarantor to make the payments required by Sections 5.01 and 5.02 (or any other payments required under applicable law or otherwise) shall in any respect limit the obligations and liabilities of any Guarantor with respect to its obligations hereunder, and each Guarantor shall remain liable for the full amount of its obligations hereunder.

ARTICLE VI

Equal and Ratable Provisions

SECTION 6.01. Equal and Ratable Security . This Agreement and the other Security Documents (a) secure the Existing Senior Note Obligations equally and ratably with all other Obligations to the extent (but only to the extent) required by Section 1008 of the Existing Senior Notes Indenture, (b) shall be construed and enforced accordingly and (c) shall be enforced in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement.

SECTION 6.02. Termination. This Article VI shall cease to apply if and when (i) all of the Existing Senior Note Obligations have been fully satisfied and discharged (including in accordance with Article XIII of the Existing Senior Notes Indenture) or (ii) the Existing Senior Notes Indenture shall have been amended such that the Existing Senior Note Obligations are no longer required to be secured equally and ratably with the Obligations.

ARTICLE VII

Miscellaneous

SECTION 7.01. Notices. All communications and notices hereunder shall (except as otherwise expressly permitted herein) be in writing and given as provided in Section 9.01 of the Credit Agreement. All communications and notices hereunder to any Subsidiary Guarantor shall be given to it in care of the US Borrower as provided in Section 9.01 of the Credit Agreement.

SECTION 7.02. Survival of Agreement. All covenants, agreements, representations and warranties made by the Loan Parties in the Loan Documents and in the certificates or other instruments prepared or delivered in connection with or pursuant to this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall be considered to have been relied upon by the First-Lien Lenders and the Issuing Banks and shall survive the execution and delivery of the Loan Documents and the making of any First-Lien Loans and issuance of any Letters of Credit, regardless of any investigation made by any First-Lien Lender or Issuing Bank or on their behalf and notwithstanding that the First-Lien Collateral Agent, any Issuing Bank or any First-Lien Lender may have had notice or knowledge of any Default or incorrect representation or warranty at the time any credit is extended under the Credit Agreement, and shall continue in full force and effect until the Termination Date.

SECTION 7.03. Binding Effect; Several Agreement. This Agreement shall become effective as to any Loan Party when a counterpart hereof executed on behalf of such Loan Party shall have been delivered to the First-Lien Collateral Agent and a counterpart hereof shall have been executed on behalf of the First-Lien Collateral Agent, and thereafter shall be binding upon such Loan Party and the First-Lien Collateral Agent and their respective permitted successors and assigns, and shall inure to the benefit of such Loan Party, the First-Lien Collateral Agent and the other Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Holders) and their respective successors and permitted assigns, except that no Loan Party shall have the right to assign or transfer its rights or obligations hereunder or any interest herein or in the Collateral (and any such assignment or transfer shall be void), except as contemplated or permitted by this Agreement or the Credit Agreement. This Agreement shall be construed as a separate agreement with respect to each Loan Party and may be amended, modified, supplemented, waived or released with respect to any Loan Party without the approval of any other Loan Party and without affecting the obligations of any other Loan Party hereunder.

SECTION 7.04. *Successors and Assigns. Whenever in this Agreement any of the parties hereto is referred to, such reference shall be deemed to include the permitted successors and assigns of such party; and all covenants, promises and agreements by or on behalf of any Grantor or the First-Lien Collateral Agent that are contained in this Agreement shall bind and inure to the benefit of their respective successors and assigns.

SECTION 7.05. *First-Lien Collateral Agent's Fees and Expenses; Indemnification . (a) The parties hereto agree that the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall be entitled to reimbursement of its expenses incurred hereunder as provided in Section 9.05 of the Credit Agreement.

(b) Without limitation of its indemnification obligations under the other Loan Documents, each Grantor jointly and severally agrees to indemnify the First-Lien Collateral Agent and the other Indemnitees against, and hold each Indemnitee harmless from, any and all costs, expenses (including reasonable fees, out-of-pocket disbursements and other charges of one primary counsel, one regulatory counsel and one local counsel to the Indemnitees (taken as a whole) in each relevant jurisdiction; provided, however, that if (i) one or more Indemnitees shall have reasonably concluded that there may be legal defenses available to it that are different from or in addition to those available to one or more other Indemnitees or (ii) the representation of the Indemnitees (or any portion thereof) by the same counsel would be inappropriate due to actual or potential differing interests between them, then such expenses shall include the reasonable fees, out-of-pocket disbursements and other charges of one separate counsel to such Indemnitees, taken as a whole, in each relevant jurisdiction) and liabilities arising out of or in connection with the execution, delivery or performance of this Agreement or any agreement or instrument contemplated hereby or any claim, litigation, investigation or proceeding relating to any of the foregoing or to the Collateral, regardless of whether any Indemnitee is a party thereto or whether initiated by a third party or by a Loan Party or any Affiliate thereof; provided, however, that such indemnity shall not, as to any Indemnitee, be available to the extent that such costs, expenses or liabilities (x) resulted from the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of such Indemnitee or material breach of its (or its Related Parties') obligations hereunder or (y) resulted from any dispute solely among Indemnitees and not involving the Grantors or their respective Affiliates. To the extent permitted by applicable law, no party hereto shall assert, and each party hereto hereby waives any claim against any Indemnitee, on any theory of liability, for special, indirect, consequential or punitive damages (as opposed to direct or actual damages) arising out of, in connection with, or as a result of, this Agreement or any agreement or instrument contemplated hereby, the Transactions, any Loan or Letter of Credit or the use of proceeds thereof.

(c) Any such amounts payable as provided hereunder shall be additional Obligations secured hereby and by the other First-Lien Security Documents. The provisions of this Section 7.05 shall survive the Termination Date.

SECTION 7.06. *First-Lien Collateral Agent Appointed Attorney-in-Fact. Each Grantor hereby appoints the First-Lien Collateral Agent as the attorney-in-fact of such Grantor for the purpose of, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, carrying out the provisions of this Agreement and taking any action and executing any instrument that the First-Lien Collateral Agent may deem necessary or advisable to accomplish the purposes hereof, which appointment is irrevocable and coupled with an interest; provided, however, that the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall not execute on behalf of Grantors any application or other instrument to be submitted to the FCC. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall have the right, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, with full power of substitution either in the First-Lien Collateral Agent's name or in the name of such Grantor (a) to receive, endorse, assign and/or deliver any and all notes, acceptances, checks, drafts, money orders or other evidences of payment relating to the Collateral or any part thereof, (b) to demand, collect, receive payment of, give receipt for and give discharges and releases of all or any of the Collateral, (c) to sign the name of any Grantor on any invoice or bill of lading relating to any of the Collateral, (d) to send verifications of Accounts to any Account Debtor, (e) to commence and prosecute any and all suits, actions or proceedings at law or in equity in any court of competent jurisdiction to collect or otherwise realize on all or any of the Collateral or to enforce any rights in respect of any Collateral, (f) to settle, compromise, compound, adjust or defend any actions, suits or proceedings relating to all or any of the Collateral, (g) to notify, or to require any Grantor to notify, Account Debtors to make payment directly to the First-Lien Collateral Agent or the Cash Collateral Account, and (h) to use, sell, assign, transfer, pledge, make any agreement with respect to or otherwise deal with all or any of the Collateral, and to do all other acts and things necessary to carry out the purposes of this Agreement in accordance with its terms, as fully and completely as though the First-Lien Collateral Agent were the absolute owner of the Collateral for all purposes; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as requiring or obligating the First-Lien Collateral Agent to make any commitment or to make any inquiry as to the nature or sufficiency of any payment received by the First-Lien Collateral Agent, or to present or file any claim or notice, or to take any action with respect to the Collateral or any part thereof or the moneys due or to become due in respect thereof or any property covered thereby. The First-Lien Collateral Agent and the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note

Holder(s) shall be accountable only for amounts actually received as a result of the exercise of the powers granted to them herein, and neither they nor their officers, directors, employees or agents shall be responsible to any Grantor for any act or failure to act hereunder, except for their own gross negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith. The foregoing powers of attorney being coupled with an interest, are irrevocable until the Security Interest shall have terminated in accordance with the terms hereof.

SECTION 7.07. *Applicable Law . THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH AND GOVERNED BY THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK (WITHOUT GIVING EFFECT TO THE CONFLICT OF LAWS PRINCIPLES THEREOF).

SECTION 7.08. *Waivers; Amendment. (a) No failure or delay by the First-Lien Collateral Agent, the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or any First-Lien Lender in exercising any right or power hereunder or under any other Loan Document shall operate as a waiver hereof or thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any such right or power, or any abandonment or discontinuance of steps to enforce such a right or power, preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right or power. The rights and remedies of the First-Lien Collateral Agent, the Administrative Agent, the Issuing Banks and the First-Lien Lenders hereunder and under the other Loan Documents are cumulative and are not exclusive of any rights or remedies that they would otherwise have. No waiver of any provision of any Loan Document or consent to any departure by any Loan Party therefrom shall in any event be effective unless the same shall be permitted by paragraph (b) of this Section 7.08, and then such waiver or consent shall be effective only in the specific instance and for the purpose for which given. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the making of a Loan or issuance of a Letter of Credit shall not be construed as a waiver of any Default, regardless of whether the First-Lien Collateral Agent, any First-Lien Lender or any Issuing Bank may have had notice or knowledge of such Default at the time. Except as otherwise provided herein, no notice or demand on any Loan Party in any case shall entitle any Loan Party to any other or further notice or demand in similar or other circumstances.

(b) Neither this Agreement nor any provision hereof may be waived, amended or modified except pursuant to an agreement or agreements in writing entered into by the First-Lien Collateral Agent and the Loan Party or Loan Parties with respect to which such waiver, amendment or modification is to apply, subject to any consent required in accordance with Section 9.08 of the Credit Agreement.

(c) In no event shall the consent of any Existing Senior Note Holder be required in connection with any amendment, amendment and restatement, supplement, waiver or other modification of this Agreement.

(d) Until such time as the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations) have been paid in full in cash, each Guarantor hereby waives all rights of subrogation which it may at any time otherwise have as a result of this Agreement (whether contractual, under Section 509 of the Bankruptcy Code, or otherwise) to the claims of the Secured Parties against Secured Parties or any other guarantor of the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations) and all contractual, statutory or common law rights of reimbursement, contribution or indemnity from any Borrower or any other guarantor which it may at any time otherwise have as a result of this Agreement.

(e) Each Guarantor hereby acknowledges and affirms that it understands that to the extent the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations) are secured by Real Property located in California, such Guarantor shall be liable for the full amount of the liability hereunder notwithstanding the foreclosure on such Real Property by trustee sale or any other reason impairing such Guarantor's or any Secured Party's right to proceed against any Borrower or any other guarantor of the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations). In accordance with Section 2856 of the California Code of Civil Procedure, each Guarantor hereby waives until such time as the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations) have been paid in full in cash:

(i) all rights of subrogation, reimbursement, indemnification, and contribution and any other rights and defenses that are or may become available to such Guarantor by reason of Sections 2787 to 2855, inclusive, 2899 and 3433 of the California Code of Civil Procedure;

(ii) all rights and defenses that such Guarantor may have because the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations) are secured by Real Property located in California, meaning, among other things, that: (A) the Secured Parties may collect from such Guarantor without first foreclosing on any real or personal property collateral pledged by any Borrower or any other Guarantor, and (B) if the Secured Parties foreclose on any Real Property collateral pledged by any Borrower or any other Guarantor, (1) the amount of the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations) may be reduced only by the price for which that collateral is sold at the foreclosure sale, even if the collateral is worth more than the sale price, and (2) the Secured Parties may collect from such Guarantor even if the Secured Parties, by foreclosing on the Real Property collateral, have destroyed any right such Guarantor may have to collect from any Borrower, it being understood that this is an unconditional and irrevocable waiver of any rights and defenses such Guarantor may have because the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations) are secured by Real Property (including, without limitation, any rights or defenses based upon Sections 580a, 580d or 726 of the California Code of Civil Procedure); and

(iii) all rights and defenses arising out of an election of remedies by the Secured Parties, even though that election of remedies, such as a nonjudicial foreclosure with respect to security for the Obligations (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Obligations), has destroyed such Guarantor's rights of subrogation and reimbursement against any Borrower by the operation of Section 580d of the California Code of Civil Procedure or otherwise.

(f) Each Guarantor warrants and agrees that each of the waivers set forth above is made with full knowledge of its significance and consequences and that if any of such waivers are determined to be contrary to any applicable law of public policy, such waivers shall be effective only to the maximum extent permitted by law.

SECTION 7.09. WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL. EACH PARTY HERETO (AND EACH OTHER SECURED PARTY AND EACH EXISTING SENIOR NOTE HOLDER, BY ITS ACCEPTANCE OF THE BENEFITS HEREOF) HEREBY WAIVES, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, ANY RIGHT IT MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF, UNDER OR IN CONNECTION WITH THIS AGREEMENT OR ANY OF THE OTHER LOAN DOCUMENTS. EACH PARTY HERETO (A) CERTIFIES THAT NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER AND (B) ACKNOWLEDGES THAT IT AND THE OTHER PARTIES HERETO HAVE BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT AND THE OTHER LOAN DOCUMENTS, AS APPLICABLE, BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 7.09.

SECTION 7.10. Severability. In the event any one or more of the provisions contained in this Agreement or in any other Loan Document should be held invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions contained herein and therein shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby (it being understood that the invalidity of a particular provision in a particular jurisdiction shall not in and of itself affect the validity of such provision in any other jurisdiction). The parties shall endeavor in good-faith negotiations to replace the invalid, illegal or unenforceable provisions with valid provisions the economic effect of which comes as close as possible to that of the invalid, illegal or unenforceable provisions.

SECTION 7.11. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts (and by different parties hereto on different counterparts), each of which shall constitute an original but all of which when taken together shall constitute a single contract, and shall become effective as provided in Section 7.03. Delivery of an executed signature page to this Agreement by facsimile transmission shall be as effective as delivery of a manually signed counterpart of this Agreement.

SECTION 7.12. Headings. Article and Section headings and the Table of Contents used herein are for convenience of reference only, are not part of this Agreement and are not to affect the construction of, or to be taken into consideration in interpreting, this Agreement.

SECTION 7.13. *Jurisdiction; Consent to Service of Process. (a) Each of the Grantors and the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided by Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Holders), by their acceptance of the benefits of this Agreement hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits, for itself and its property, to the nonexclusive jurisdiction of any New York State court or Federal court of the United States of America, sitting in New York City, and any appellate court from any thereof, in any action or proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement or any other Loan Document, or for recognition or enforcement of any judgment, and each of the Loan Parties and the Secured Parties, by their acceptance of the benefits of this Agreement hereby irrevocably and unconditionally agrees that all claims in respect of any such action or proceeding may be heard and determined in such New York State or, to the extent permitted by law, in such Federal court. Each of the Loan Parties and the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Holders), by their acceptance of the benefits of this Agreement agrees that a final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall be conclusive and may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by law. Nothing in this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall affect any right that the First-Lien Collateral Agent, the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or any First-Lien Lender may otherwise have to bring any action or proceeding relating to this Agreement or any other Loan Document against any Grantor or its properties in the courts of any jurisdiction.

(b) Each of the Loan Parties, the Secured Parties and, to the extent provided by Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Holders, by their acceptance of the benefits of this Agreement hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waives, to the fullest extent it may legally and effectively do so, any objection which it may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement or any other Loan Document in any court referred to in paragraph (a) of this Section. Each of the Loan Parties, the Secured Parties and, to the extent provided by Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Holders, by their acceptance of the benefits of this Agreement hereby irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the defense of an inconvenient forum to the maintenance of such action or proceeding in any such court.

(c) Each of the Loan Parties, the Secured Parties and, to the extent provided by Section 6.01, the Existing Senior Note Holders, by their acceptance of the benefits of this Agreement hereby irrevocably consents to service of process in the manner provided for notices in Section 8.01. Nothing in this Agreement or any other Loan Document will affect the right of the First-Lien Collateral Agent or the Grantors to serve process in any other manner permitted by law.

SECTION 7.14. *Termination or Release. (a) This Agreement, the Guarantees made herein, the Security Interest, the pledge of the Pledged Collateral and all other security interests granted hereby shall terminate on the Termination Date (other than to the extent any funds are on deposit in the Cash Collateral Account in respect of any L/C Backstop, in which case, the Security Interest in such Cash Collateral Account shall continue until released by the relevant Issuing Bank).

(b) A Subsidiary Guarantor shall automatically be released from its obligations hereunder and the Security Interests created hereunder in the Collateral of such Subsidiary Guarantor shall be automatically released upon the consummation of any transaction permitted by the Credit Agreement as a result of which such Subsidiary Guarantor ceases to be a subsidiary.

(c) Upon any sale or other transfer by any Grantor of any Collateral that is permitted under the Credit Agreement to any person that is not a Borrower or a Grantor, or, upon the effectiveness of any written consent to the release of the Security Interest granted hereby in any Collateral pursuant to Section 9.08 of the Credit Agreement, the Security Interest in such Collateral shall be automatically released.

(d) In connection with any termination or release pursuant to paragraph (a), (b) or (c) above, the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall promptly execute and deliver to any Grantor, at such Grantor's expense, all Uniform Commercial Code termination statements and similar documents that such Grantor shall reasonably request to evidence such termination or release. Any execution and delivery of documents pursuant to this Section 7.14 shall be without recourse to or representation or warranty by the First-Lien Collateral Agent (other than any representation and warranty that the First-Lien Collateral Agent has the authority to execute and deliver such documents) or any Secured Party, including the Existing Senior Note Holders as provided by Section 6.01. Without limiting the provisions of Section 7.05, the Borrowers shall reimburse the First-Lien Collateral Agent upon demand for all reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses, including the fees, charges and expenses of counsel, incurred by it in connection with any action contemplated by this Section 7.14.

(e) In the event that Rule 3-16 of Regulation S-X under the Securities Act is amended, modified or interpreted by the SEC to permit (or is replaced with another rule or regulation, or any other law, rule or regulation is adopted, which would permit) such subsidiary's Equity Interests and/or other securities issued by such subsidiary to secure the Obligations in excess of the amount then pledged without the filing with the SEC (or any other Governmental Authority) of separate financial statements of such subsidiary, then the Equity Interests and/or other securities issued by such subsidiary will automatically be deemed to be a part of the Collateral (and shall cease to be Excluded Collateral) for the relevant Obligations but only to the extent necessary to not be subject to any such financial statement requirement.

(f) At any time that the respective Grantor desires that the First-Lien Collateral Agent take any action described in preceding paragraph (d) above, it shall, upon request of the First-Lien Collateral Agent, deliver to the Collateral Agent an officer's certificate certifying that the release of the respective Collateral is permitted pursuant to paragraph (a), (b) or (c). The First-Lien Collateral Agent shall have no liability whatsoever to any Secured Party as the result of any release of Collateral by it as permitted (or which the First-Lien Collateral Agent in good faith believes to be permitted) by this Section 7.14.

SECTION 7.15. FCC Compliance . (a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein or in any other agreement, instrument or document executed in connection herewith, no party hereto shall take any actions hereunder that would constitute or result in a transfer or assignment of any FCC License or a change of control over such FCC License requiring the prior approval of the FCC without first obtaining such prior approval of the FCC. In addition, the parties acknowledge that the voting rights of the Pledged Stock shall remain with the relevant Grantor thereof even upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default until the FCC shall have given its prior consent to the exercise of stockholder rights by a purchaser at a public or private sale of such Pledged Stock or the exercise of such rights by the First-Lien Collateral Agent or by a receiver, trustee, conservator or other agent duly appointed pursuant to applicable law.

(b) If an Event of Default shall have occurred and is continuing, each Grantor shall take any action which the First-Lien Collateral Agent may reasonably request in the exercise of its rights and remedies under this Agreement in order to transfer or assign the Collateral to the First-Lien Collateral Agent or to such one or more third parties as the First-Lien Collateral Agent may designate, or to a combination of the foregoing. To enforce the provision of this Section 7.15, the First-Lien Collateral Agent is empowered to seek from the FCC and any other Governmental Authority, to the extent required, consent to or approval of any involuntary transfer of control of any entity whose Collateral is subject to this Agreement for the purpose of seeking a bona fide purchaser to whom control ultimately will be transferred. Each Grantor agrees to cooperate with any such purchaser and with the First-Lien Collateral Agent in the preparation, execution and filing of any forms and providing any information that may be necessary or helpful in obtaining the FCC's consent to the assignment to such purchaser of the Collateral. Each Grantor hereby agrees to consent to any such voluntary or involuntary transfer after and during the continuation of an Event of Default and, without limiting any rights of the First-Lien Collateral Agent under this Agreement, to authorize the First-Lien Collateral Agent to nominate a trustee or receiver to assume control of the Collateral, subject only to required judicial, FCC or other consents required by Governmental Authorities, in order to effectuate the transactions contemplated by this Section 7.15. Such trustee or receiver shall have all the rights and powers as provided to it by law or court order, or to the First-Lien Collateral Agent under this Agreement. Each Grantor shall cooperate fully in obtaining the consent of the FCC and the approval or consent of each other Governmental Authority required to effectuate the foregoing.

(c) Without limiting the obligations of any Grantor hereunder in any respect, each Grantor further agrees that if such Grantor, upon or after the occurrence (and during the continuance) of an Event of Default, should fail or refuse for any reason whatsoever, without limitation, including any refusal to execute any application necessary or appropriate to obtain any governmental consent necessary or appropriate for the exercise of any right of the First-Lien Collateral Agent hereunder, such Grantor agrees that such application may be executed on such Grantor's behalf by the clerk of any court of competent jurisdiction without notice to such Grantor pursuant to court order.

SECTION 7.16. Additional Subsidiaries. Pursuant to Section 5.09 of the Credit Agreement, each Restricted Subsidiary (other than a Foreign Subsidiary, an Excluded Subsidiary, or a Domestic Subsidiary that is a disregarded entity for U.S. federal income tax purposes owned by a non-disregarded non-U.S. entity) that was not in existence or not a subsidiary on the Closing Date is required to enter into this Agreement as a Subsidiary Guarantor and a Grantor upon becoming such a subsidiary. Upon execution and delivery by the First-Lien Collateral Agent and such subsidiary of a supplement in the form of Exhibit A hereto, such subsidiary shall become a Subsidiary Guarantor and a Grantor hereunder with the same force and effect as if originally named as a Subsidiary Guarantor and a Grantor herein. The execution and delivery of any such instrument shall not require the consent of any other Loan Party hereunder. The rights and obligations of each Loan Party hereunder shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the addition of any new Loan Party as a party to this Agreement.

SECTION 7.17. Security Interest and Obligations Absolute. Subject to Section 7.14 hereof, all rights of the First-Lien Collateral Agent hereunder, the Security Interest, the grant of a security interest in the Pledged Collateral and all obligations of each Grantor hereunder shall be absolute and unconditional irrespective of (a) any lack of validity or enforceability of the Credit Agreement, any other Loan Document, any agreement with respect to any of the Obligations or any other agreement or instrument relating to any of the foregoing, (b) any change in the time, manner or place of payment of, or in any other term of, all or any of the Obligations, or any other amendment or waiver of or any consent to any departure from the Credit Agreement, any other Loan Document, or any other agreement or instrument (so long as the same are made in accordance with the terms of Section 9.08 of the Credit Agreement), (c) any exchange, release or non-perfection of any Lien on other collateral, or any release or amendment or waiver of or consent under or departure from any guarantee, securing or guaranteeing all or any of the Obligations or (d) any other circumstance that might otherwise constitute a defense available to, or a discharge of, any Grantor in respect of the Obligations or this Agreement.

SECTION 7.18. Limitation on First-Lien Collateral Agent's Responsibilities with Respect to Existing Senior Notes Holders. The obligations of the First-Lien Collateral Agent to the Existing Senior Note Holders and the Existing Senior Note Trustee hereunder shall be limited as provided in the Intercreditor Agreement.

SECTION 7.19. Effectiveness of Merger. Upon the consummation of the Merger, the Company shall succeed to all the rights and obligations of Merger Sub under this Agreement, without any further action by any Person.

SECTION 7.20. Right of Setoff; Payments Set Aside . (a) If an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, each Lender is hereby authorized at any time and from time to time, except to the extent prohibited by law, without prior notice to any Guarantor or any other Loan Party, any such notice being waived by each Guarantor (on its own behalf and on behalf of each Loan Party and its subsidiaries) to set off and apply any and all deposits (general or special, time or demand, provisional or final) at any time held and other indebtedness at any time owing by such Lender to or for the credit or the account of the Guarantors against any of and all the obligations of the Borrowers now or hereafter existing under this Agreement and other Loan Documents held by such Lender, irrespective of whether or not such Lender shall have made any demand under this Agreement or such other Loan Document and although such obligations may be contingent or unmatured or denominated in a currency different from that of the applicable deposit or indebtedness. The rights of each Lender under this Section 7.20 are in addition to other rights and remedies (including other rights of setoff) which such Lender may have. Each Lender agrees promptly to notify the US Borrower and the Administrative Agent after any such set off and application made by such Lender; provided that the failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of such set off and application.

(b) To the extent that any payment by or on behalf of any Guarantor is made to any Agent or any Lender, or any Agent or any Lender exercises its right of setoff, and such payment or the proceeds of such setoff or any part thereof is subsequently invalidated, declared to be fraudulent or preferential, set aside or required (including pursuant to any settlement entered into by such Agent or such Lender in its discretion) to be repaid to a trustee, receiver or any other party, then (i) to the extent of such recovery the obligation or part thereof originally intended to be satisfied shall be revived and continued in full force and effect as if such payment had not been made or such setoff had not occurred, and (ii) each Lender severally agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent upon demand its applicable share of any amount so recovered from or repaid by any Agent, plus interest thereon from the date of such demand to the date such payment is made at a rate per annum equal to the Federal Funds Effective Rate from time to time in effect.

(c) NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING SECTION 7.20(a), AT ANY TIME THAT THE LOANS OR ANY OTHER OBLIGATION SHALL BE SECURED BY REAL PROPERTY LOCATED IN CALIFORNIA, NO LENDER SHALL EXERCISE A RIGHT OF SETOFF, LIEN OR COUNTERCLAIM OR TAKE ANY COURT OR ADMINISTRATIVE ACTION OR INSTITUTE ANY PROCEEDING TO ENFORCE ANY PROVISION OF THIS AGREEMENT OR ANY NOTE UNLESS IT IS TAKEN WITH THE CONSENT OF THE REQUIRED LENDERS OR APPROVED IN WRITING BY THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT, IF SUCH SETOFF OR ACTION OR PROCEEDING WOULD OR MIGHT (PURSUANT TO CALIFORNIA CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE SECTIONS 580a, 580b, 580d AND 726 OF THE CALIFORNIA CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE OR SECTION 2924 OF THE CALIFORNIA CIVIL CODE, IF APPLICABLE, OR OTHERWISE) AFFECT OR IMPAIR THE VALIDITY, PRIORITY OR ENFORCEABILITY OF THE LIENS GRANTED TO THE COLLATERAL AGENT PURSUANT TO THE SECURITY DOCUMENTS OR THE ENFORCEABILITY OF THE NOTES AND OTHER OBLIGATIONS UNDER ANY LOAN DOCUMENT, AND ANY ATTEMPTED EXERCISE BY ANY LENDER OF ANY SUCH RIGHT WITHOUT OBTAINING SUCH CONSENT OF THE REQUIRED LENDERS OR THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT SHALL BE NULL AND VOID. THIS SECTION 7.20(a) SHALL BE SOLELY FOR THE BENEFIT OF EACH OF THE LENDERS AND THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT HEREUNDER.

COMMERCIAL TORT CLAIMS AND CHATTEL PAPER

SUPPLEMENT NO. [●] (this “Supplement”) dated as of [●], to the First-Lien Guarantee and Collateral Agreement dated as of March 29, 2007 (the “Guarantee and Collateral Agreement”), among BROADCAST MEDIA PARTNERS HOLDINGS, INC., a Delaware corporation (“Holdings”), UMBRELLA ACQUISITION, INC., a Delaware corporation (“Merger Sub”) to be merged with and into UNIVISION COMMUNICATIONS INC. (the “Company”), UNIVISION OF PUERTO RICO INC., a Delaware corporation (“Subsidiary Borrower” and together with the US Borrower referred to in the Credit Agreement below, the “Borrowers” and each, a “Borrower”), each subsidiary of the Borrowers from time to time party thereto (each such subsidiary individually a “Subsidiary Guarantor” and collectively, the “Subsidiary Guarantors”; the Subsidiary Guarantors, the Borrowers and Holdings are referred to collectively herein as the “Grantors”) and DEUTSCHE BANK AG NEW YORK BRANCH, as First-Lien collateral agent (in such capacity, the “First-Lien Collateral Agent”) for the Secured Parties (as defined therein).

A. Reference is made to the Credit Agreement dated as of March 29, 2007 (as amended, restated, amended and restated, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the “Credit Agreement”), among the Borrowers, the lenders from time to time party thereto (the “Lenders”), and Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch, as administrative agent for the Lenders, as First-Lien Collateral Agent and as second-lien collateral agent.

B. Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings assigned to such terms in the Credit Agreement or the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement referred to therein, as applicable.

C. The Grantors have entered into the First Lien Guarantee and Collateral Agreement in order to induce the First-Lien Lenders to make First Lien Loans and the Issuing Banks to issue Letters of Credit. Section 7.16 of the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement provides that additional Restricted Subsidiaries of the Borrowers may become Subsidiary Guarantors and Grantors under the First Lien Guarantee and Collateral Agreement by execution and delivery of an instrument in the form of this Supplement. The undersigned subsidiary (the “New Subsidiary”) is executing this Supplement in accordance with the requirements of the Credit Agreement to become a Subsidiary Guarantor and a Grantor under the First Lien Guarantee and Collateral Agreement in order to induce the Lenders to make additional Loans and the Issuing Banks to issue additional Letters of Credit as consideration for Loans previously made and Letters of Credit previously issued, and to induce the Hedge Creditors to enter into and/or maintain Hedging Obligations with one or more Loan Parties.

Accordingly, the First-Lien Collateral Agent and the New Subsidiary agree as follows:

SECTION 1. In accordance with Section 7.16 of the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement, the New Subsidiary by its signature below becomes a Grantor and Subsidiary Guarantor under the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement with the same force and effect as if originally named therein as a Grantor and Subsidiary Guarantor and the New Subsidiary hereby (a) agrees to all the terms and provisions of the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement applicable to it as a Grantor and Subsidiary Guarantor thereunder and (b) represents and warrants that the representations and warranties made by it as a Grantor and Subsidiary Guarantor thereunder are true and correct in all material respects on and as of the date hereof (for this purpose, as though references therein to the Closing Date were to the date hereof). In furtherance of the foregoing, the New Subsidiary, as security for the payment and performance in full of the Obligations (as defined in the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement), does hereby create and grant to the First-Lien Collateral Agent, its successors and permitted assigns, for the ratable benefit of the Secured Parties (and, to the extent provided in Section 6.01 of the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement, for the equal and ratable benefit of the Existing Senior Note Holders), their successors and permitted assigns, a security interest in and lien on all of the New Subsidiary's right, title and interest in and to the Collateral (as defined in the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement) of the New Subsidiary. Each reference to a "Grantor" or a "Subsidiary Guarantor" in the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement shall be deemed to include the New Subsidiary. The Guarantee and Collateral Agreement is hereby incorporated herein by reference.

SECTION 2. The New Subsidiary represents and warrants to the First-Lien Collateral Agent and the other Secured Parties that this Supplement has been duly authorized, executed and delivered by it and constitutes its legal, valid and binding obligation, enforceable against it in accordance with its terms except as the enforceability thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and by general equitable principles.

SECTION 3. This Supplement may be executed in counterparts (and by different parties hereto on different counterparts), each of which shall constitute an original, but all of which when taken together shall constitute a single contract. This Supplement shall become effective when the First-Lien Collateral Agent shall have received counterparts of this Supplement that, when taken together, bear the signatures of the New Subsidiary and the First-Lien Collateral Agent. Delivery of an executed signature page to this Supplement by facsimile transmission shall be as effective as delivery of a manually signed counterpart of this Supplement.

SECTION 4. The New Subsidiary hereby represents and warrants that (a) set forth on Schedule I attached hereto is a true and correct schedule of (i) any and all Equity Interests and Pledged Debt Securities now owned by the New Subsidiary and

(ii) any and all Intellectual Property now owned by the New Subsidiary and (b) set forth under its signature hereto, is the true and correct legal name of the New Subsidiary and its jurisdiction of organization.

SECTION 5. Except as expressly supplemented hereby, the First-Lien Guarantee and Collateral Agreement shall remain in full force and effect.

SECTION 6. THIS SUPPLEMENT SHALL BE GOVERNED BY, AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH, THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK (WITHOUT GIVING EFFECT TO THE CONFLICTS OF LAWS PRINCIPLES THEREOF).

SECTION 7. In case any one or more of the provisions contained in this Supplement should be held invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions contained herein and in the First-Lien Guarantee and Collateral Agreement shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby (it being understood that the invalidity of a particular provision in a particular jurisdiction shall not in and of itself affect the validity of such provision in any other jurisdiction). The parties hereto shall endeavor in good-faith negotiations to replace the invalid, illegal or unenforceable provisions with valid provisions the economic effect of which comes as close as possible to that of the invalid, illegal or unenforceable provisions.

SECTION 8. All communications and notices hereunder shall (except as otherwise expressly permitted by the First-Lien Guarantee and Collateral Agreement) be in writing and given as provided in Section 9.01 of the Credit Agreement. All communications and notices hereunder to the New Subsidiary shall be given to it in care of the Borrowers as provided in Section 9.01 of the Credit Agreement.

SECTION 9. The New Subsidiary agrees to reimburse the First-Lien Collateral Agent for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses in connection with this Supplement, including the reasonable fees, other charges and disbursements of counsel for the First-Lien Collateral Agent.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the New Subsidiary and the First-Lien Collateral Agent have duly executed this Supplement to the First Lien Guarantee and Collateral Agreement as of the day and year first above written.

SENIOR NOTES INDENTURE, dated as of November 23, 2010, among Univision Communications Inc., a Delaware corporation, the Guarantors (as defined herein) listed on the signature pages hereto and Wilmington Trust FSB, as trustee.

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, the Issuer has duly authorized the creation of an issue of $500,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 8 1/2 % Senior Notes due 2021 (the “Initial Notes”); and

WHEREAS, the Issuer and each of the Guarantors have duly authorized the execution and delivery of this Indenture.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Issuer, the Guarantors and the Trustee agree as follows for the benefit of each other and for the equal and ratable benefit of the Holders of the Notes.

ARTICLE I

DEFINITIONS AND INCORPORATION BY REFERENCE

SECTION 1.01. Definitions.

“144A Global Note” means a Global Note substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto, bearing the Global Note Legend and the Private Placement Legend and deposited with or on behalf of, and registered in the name of, the Depository or its nominee that will be issued in a denomination equal to the outstanding principal amount of the Notes sold in reliance on Rule 144A.

“2011 Notes” means $500.0 million aggregate principal amount of the Issuer’s 7.85% Senior Notes due 2011 issued July 18, 2001.

“2014 Notes” means $545.0 million aggregate principal amount of the Issuer’s 12% Senior Secured Notes due 2014 issued July 9, 2009.

“2015 Notes” means $1.5 billion aggregate principal amount of the Issuer’s 9.75% /10.50% Senior Notes due 2015 issued March 29, 2007, including any additional 2015 Notes issued in connection with any payment of interest on the 2015 Notes made by increasing the outstanding principal amount of the 2015 Notes.

“2020 Notes” means $750.0 million aggregate principal amount of the Issuer’s 7 7/8% Senior Secured Notes due 2020 issued October 26, 2010.

“Acquired Indebtedness” means, with respect to any specified Person,

(1) Indebtedness of any other Person existing at the time such other Person is merged with or into or became a Restricted Subsidiary of such specified Person, including Indebtedness incurred in connection with, or in contemplation of, such other Person merging with or into or becoming a Restricted Subsidiary of such specified Person, and

“ Additional Notes ” means additional Notes (other than the Initial Notes) issued from time to time under this Indenture in accordance with Section 2.01(e) hereof.

“ Affiliate ” of any specified Person means any other Person directly or indirectly controlling or controlled by or under direct or indirect common control with such specified Person. For purposes of this definition, “control” (including, with correlative meanings, the terms “controlling,” “controlled by” and “under common control with”), as used with respect to any Person, shall mean the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of such Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by agreement or otherwise.

“ Applicable Premium ” means, with respect to any Note on any Redemption Date, the greater of:

(1) 1.0% of the principal amount of such Note on such Redemption Date; and

(2) the excess, if any, of (i) the present value at such Redemption Date of (A) the redemption price of such Note at November 15, 2015 (such redemption price being set forth in the table in Section 3.07(b)), plus (B) all required interest payments due on such Note through November 15, 2015 (excluding accrued but unpaid interest to the Redemption Date), computed using a discount rate equal to the Treasury Rate as of such Redemption Date plus 50 basis points; over (ii) the principal amount of such Note on such Redemption Date.

“ Applicable Procedures ” means, with respect to any transfer or exchange of or for beneficial interests in any Global Note, the rules and procedures of the Depository that apply to such transfer, redemption or exchange.

“ Asset Sale ” means:

(1) the sale, conveyance, transfer or other disposition, whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions, of property or assets (including by way of a Sale and Lease-Back Transaction) of the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries (each referred to in this definition as a “disposition”); or

(2) the issuance or sale of Equity Interests of any Restricted Subsidiary, whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions;

in each case, other than:

(a) any disposition of Cash Equivalents or Investment Grade Securities or obsolete or worn out equipment in the ordinary course of business or any disposition of inventory or goods (or other assets) held for sale in the ordinary course of business;

(b) the disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries in a manner permitted pursuant to the provisions described in Section 5.01 hereof or any disposition that constitutes a Change of Control pursuant to this Indenture;

(c) the making of any Restricted Payment or Permitted Investment that is permitted to be made, and is made, under Section 4.07 hereof;

(d) any disposition of assets or issuance or sale of Equity Interests of a Restricted Subsidiary in any transaction or series of related transactions with an aggregate fair market value of less than $50.0 million;

(e) any disposition of property or assets or issuance of securities by a Restricted Subsidiary of the Issuer to the Issuer or by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary of the Issuer to another Restricted Subsidiary of the Issuer;

(f) to the extent allowable under Section 1031 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, any exchange of like property (excluding any boot thereon) for use in a Similar Business;

(g) the sale, lease, assignment or sub-lease of any real or personal property in the ordinary course of business;

(h) any issuance or sale of Equity Interests in, or Indebtedness or other securities of, an Unrestricted Subsidiary;

(i) foreclosures on assets;

(j) sales of accounts receivable, or participations therein, in connection with any Receivables Facility;

(k) any financing transaction with respect to property built or acquired by the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary after the Issue Date, including Sale and Lease-Back Transactions and asset securitizations permitted by this Indenture;

(l) sales of accounts receivable, or participations therein, in connection with the collection or compromise thereof;

(m) transfers of property subject to casualty or condemnation proceedings (including in lieu thereof) upon the receipt of the net cash proceeds thereof; provided such net cash proceeds are deemed to be Net Proceeds and are applied in accordance with Section 4.10(b) hereof;

(n) the abandonment of intellectual property rights in the ordinary course of business, which in the reasonable good faith determination of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary are not material to the conduct of the business of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries taken as a whole;

(o) voluntary terminations of Hedging Obligations; and

“ Bankruptcy Law ” means Title 11, U.S. Code or any similar federal or state law for the relief of debtors.

“ Capital Stock ” means:

(1) in the case of a corporation, corporate stock;

(2) in the case of an association or business entity, any and all shares, interests, participations, rights or other equivalents (however designated) of corporate stock;

(3) in the case of a partnership or limited liability company, partnership or membership interests (whether general or limited); and

(4) any other interest or participation that confers on a Person the right to receive a share of the profits and losses of, or distributions of assets of, the issuing Person.

“Capitalized Lease Obligation” means, at the time any determination thereof is to be made, the amount of the liability in respect of a capital lease that would at such time be required to be capitalized and reflected as a liability on a balance sheet (excluding the footnotes thereto) in accordance with GAAP.

“Capitalized Software Expenditures” shall mean, for any period, the aggregate of all expenditures (whether paid in cash or accrued as liabilities) by a Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries during such period in respect of purchased software or internally developed software and software enhancements that, in conformity with GAAP, are or are required to be reflected as capitalized costs on the consolidated balance sheet of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries.

“Cash Equivalents” means:

(1) United States dollars;

(2) (a) euro or any national currency of any participating member state of the EMU; or

(b) in the case of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary, such local currencies held by them from time to time in the ordinary course of business;

(3) securities issued or directly and fully and unconditionally guaranteed or insured by the U.S. government or any agency or instrumentality thereof the securities of which are unconditionally guaranteed as a full faith and credit obligation of such government with maturities of 24 months or less from the date of acquisition;

(4) certificates of deposit, time deposits and eurodollar time deposits with maturities of one year or less from the date of acquisition, bankers' acceptances with maturities not exceeding one year and overnight bank deposits, in each case with any commercial bank having capital and surplus of not less than $500.0 million in the case of U.S. banks and $100.0 million (or the U. S. Dollar Equivalent as of the date of determination) in the case of non-U.S. banks;

(5) repurchase obligations for underlying securities of the types described in clauses (3) and (4) entered into with any financial institution meeting the qualifications specified in clause (4) above;

(6) commercial paper rated at least P-1 by Moody's or at least A-1 by S&P and in each case maturing within 24 months after the date of creation thereof;

(7) marketable short-term money market and similar securities having a rating of at least P-2 or A-2 from either Moody's or S&P, respectively (or, if at any time neither Moody's nor S&P shall be rating such obligations, an equivalent rating from another Rating Agency), and in each case maturing within 24 months after the date of creation thereof;

(8) investment funds investing 95% of their assets in securities of the types described in clauses (1) through (7) above;

(9) readily marketable direct obligations issued by any state, commonwealth or territory of the United States or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof, in each case, having an Investment Grade Rating from either Moody's or S&P with maturities of 24 months or less from the date of acquisition;

(10) Indebtedness or Preferred Stock issued by Persons with a rating of "A" or higher from S&P or "A2" or higher from Moody's with maturities of 24 months or less from the date of acquisition;

(11) Investments with average maturities of 12 months or less from the date of acquisition in money market funds rated AAA-(or the equivalent thereof) or better by S&P or Aaa3 (or the equivalent thereof) or better by Moody's; and

(12) solely for purposes of calculating the Consolidated Leverage Ratio and the Consolidated Secured Debt Ratio, the Equity Interests in Entravision Communications Corporation held by the Issuer on the Issue Date; provided that such common stock shall be valued at 90% of the average closing price over the last 30 trading days preceding on date of determination.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Cash Equivalents shall include amounts denominated in currencies other than those set forth in clauses (1) and (2) above, provided that such amounts are converted into any currency listed in clauses (1) and (2) as promptly as practicable and in any event within ten (10) Business Days following the receipt of such amounts.

"Change of Control" means the occurrence of any of the following:

(1) the sale, lease or transfer, in one or a series of related transactions, of all or substantially all of the assets of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, to any Person other than a Permitted Holder; or

(2) the Issuer becomes aware of (by way of a report or any other filing pursuant to Section 13(d) of the Exchange Act, proxy, vote, written notice or otherwise) the acquisition by any Person or group acting for the purpose of acquiring, holding or disposing of securities (within the meaning of Rule 13d-5(b)(1) under the Exchange Act), other than the Permitted Holders, in a single transaction or in a related series of transactions, by way of merger, consolidation or other business combination or purchase of "beneficial ownership" (within the meaning of Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act, or any successor provision) of more than 50% of the total voting power of the Voting Stock of the Issuer or any of its direct or indirect parent companies provided that for purposes of calculating the "beneficial ownership" of any group, any Voting Stock of which any Permitted Holder is the "beneficial owner" shall not be included in determining the amount of Voting Stock "beneficially owned" by such group and, provided, further, that notwithstanding the foregoing no Person or group shall be deemed to "beneficially own" any security it has a right to acquire to the extent the exercise of such right is prohibited by law or the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission or is subject to the Federal Communications Commission's approval.

“Clearstream” means Clearstream Banking, Société Anonyme.

“Consolidated Depreciation and Amortization Expense” means, with respect to any Person, for any period, the total amount of depreciation and amortization expense, including the amortization of deferred financing fees and Capitalized Software Expenditures and amortization of unrecognized prior service costs and actuarial gains and losses related to pensions and other post-employment benefits, of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period on a consolidated basis and otherwise determined in accordance with GAAP.

“Consolidated Indebtedness” means, as of any date of determination, the sum, without duplication, of (1) the total amount of Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, plus (2) the greater of the aggregate liquidation value and maximum fixed repurchase price without regard to any change of control or redemption premiums of all Disqualified Stock of the Issuer and the Restricted Guarantors and all Preferred Stock of its Restricted Subsidiaries that are not Guarantors, in each case, determined on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP.

“Consolidated Interest Expense” means, with respect to any Person for any period, without duplication, the sum of:

(1) consolidated interest expense of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period, to the extent such expense was deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income (including (a) amortization of original issue discount resulting from the issuance of Indebtedness at less than par, (b) all commissions, discounts and other fees and charges owed with respect to letters of credit or bankers acceptances, (c) non-cash interest expense (but excluding any non-cash interest expense attributable to the movement in the mark to market valuation of Hedging Obligations or other derivative instruments pursuant to GAAP), (d) the interest component of Capitalized Lease Obligations and (e) net payments, if any, pursuant to interest rate Hedging Obligations with respect to Indebtedness, and excluding (x) amortization of deferred financing fees, debt issuance costs, commissions, fees and expenses, (y) any expensing of bridge, commitment and other financing fees and (z) commissions, discounts, yield and other fees and charges (including any interest expense) related to any Receivables Facility); plus

(2) consolidated capitalized interest of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period, whether paid or accrued; plus

(3) solely for purposes of determining Consolidated Interest Expense for purposes of clause (a)(3)(A) of Section 4.07 hereof, such amount of Restricted Payments made during such period pursuant to clause (b)(17) of Section 4.07 hereof; less

(4) interest income of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period.

For purposes of this definition, interest on a Capitalized Lease Obligation shall be deemed to accrue at an interest rate reasonably determined by such Person to be the rate of interest implicit in such Capitalized Lease Obligation in accordance with GAAP.

“Consolidated Leverage Ratio” means, as of the date of determination, the ratio of (a) the Consolidated Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries on such date less the amount of cash and Cash Equivalents in excess of any Restricted Cash that would be stated on the balance sheet of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries and held by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries as of such date of determination, as determined in accordance with GAAP, to (b) EBITDA of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries for the most recently ended four fiscal quarters ending immediately prior to such date for which internal financial statements are available.

In the event that the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary (i) incurs, redeems, retires or extinguishes any Indebtedness or (ii) issues or redeems Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock subsequent to the commencement of the period for which the Consolidated Leverage Ratio is being calculated but prior to or simultaneously with the event for which the calculation of the Consolidated Leverage Ratio is made (the “Consolidated Leverage Ratio Calculation Date”), then the Consolidated Leverage Ratio shall be calculated giving pro forma effect to such incurrence, redemption, retirement or extinguishment of Indebtedness, or such issuance or redemption of Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock, as if the same had occurred at the beginning of the applicable four-quarter period.

For purposes of making the computation referred to above, Investments, acquisitions, dispositions, mergers, amalgamations, consolidations and discontinued operations (as determined in accordance with GAAP), in each case with respect to an operating unit of a business made (or committed to be made pursuant to a definitive agreement) during the four-quarter reference period or subsequent to such reference period and on or prior to or simultaneously with the Consolidated Leverage Ratio Calculation Date, and other operational changes that the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries has determined to make and/or made during the four-quarter reference period or subsequent to such reference period and on or prior to or simultaneously with the Consolidated Leverage Ratio Calculation Date shall be calculated on a pro forma basis in accordance with GAAP assuming that all such Investments, acquisitions, dispositions, mergers, amalgamations, consolidations, discontinued operations and other operational changes had occurred on the first day of the four-quarter reference period. If since the beginning of such period any Person that subsequently became a Restricted Subsidiary or was merged with or into the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries since the beginning of such period shall have made any Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, amalgamation, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change, in each case with respect to an operating unit of a business, that would have required adjustment pursuant to this definition, then the Consolidated Leverage Ratio shall be calculated giving pro forma effect thereto for such period as if such Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change had occurred at the beginning of the applicable four-quarter period.

For purposes of this definition, whenever pro forma effect is to be given to any Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, amalgamation, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change, the pro forma calculations shall be made in good faith by a responsible financial or accounting officer of the Issuer. Any such pro forma calculation may include adjustments appropriate, in the reasonable determination of the Issuer as set forth in an Officer’s Certificate, to reflect (1) operating expense reductions and other operating improvements or synergies reasonably expected to result from any acquisition, amalgamation, merger or operational change and (2) all adjustments of the nature used in connection with the calculation of “Adjusted EBITDA” as set forth in footnote (1) to the “Summary Historical and Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Data” under “Offering Circular Summary” in the offering circular with respect to the Issuer’s 2015 Notes dated March 1, 2007 to the extent such adjustments, without duplication, continue to be applicable to such four-quarter period; provided that (x) such operating expense reductions and other operating improvements or synergies are reasonably identifiable and factually supportable, (y) with respect to operational changes, such actions are taken no later than 48 months after the Issue Date and (z) the aggregate amount of projected operating expense reductions, operating improvements and synergies in respect of operational changes (not resulting from an acquisition) included in any pro forma calculation shall not exceed $80.0 million for any four consecutive quarter period.

For the purposes of this definition, any amount in a currency other than U.S. dollars will be converted to U.S. dollars based on the average exchange rate for such currency for the most recent twelve month period immediately prior to the date of determination determined in a manner consistent with that used in calculating EBITDA for the applicable period.

“Consolidated Net Income” means, with respect to any Person for any period, the aggregate of the Net Income of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period, on a consolidated basis, and otherwise determined in accordance with GAAP; provided, however, that, without duplication,

(1) any after-tax effect of extraordinary, non-recurring or unusual gains or losses (less all fees and expenses relating thereto) or expenses, severance, relocation costs and curtailments or modifications to pension and post-retirement employee benefit plans shall be excluded,

(2) the Net Income for such period shall not include the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principles during such period,

(3) any after-tax effect of income (loss) from disposed or discontinued operations and any net after-tax gains or losses on disposal of disposed, abandoned or discontinued operations shall be excluded,

(4) any after-tax effect of gains or losses (less all fees and expenses relating thereto) attributable to asset dispositions other than in the ordinary course of business, as determined in good faith by the Issuer, shall be excluded,

(5) the Net Income for such period of any Person that is not a Subsidiary, or is an Unrestricted Subsidiary, or that is accounted for by the equity method of accounting, shall be excluded; provided that Consolidated Net Income of such Person shall be increased by the amount of dividends or distributions or other payments that are actually paid in cash (or to the extent converted into cash) to such Person or a Subsidiary thereof that is the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary in respect of such period,

(6) solely for the purpose of determining the amount available for Restricted Payments under clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) hereof, the Net Income for such period of any Restricted Subsidiary (other than any Guarantor) shall be excluded if the declaration or payment of dividends or similar distributions by that Restricted Subsidiary of its Net Income is not at the date of determination wholly permitted without any prior governmental approval (which has not been obtained) or, directly or indirectly, by the operation of the terms of its charter or any agreement, instrument, judgment, decree, order, statute, rule, or governmental regulation applicable to that Restricted Subsidiary or its stockholders, unless such restriction with respect to the payment of dividends or similar distributions has been legally waived, provided that Consolidated Net Income of the Issuer will be increased by the amount of dividends or other distributions or other payments actually paid in cash (or converted into cash) to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary thereof in respect of such period, to the extent not already included therein,

(7) effects of purchase accounting adjustments (including the effects of such adjustments pushed down to such Person and such Subsidiaries) in component amounts required or permitted by GAAP, resulting from the application of purchase accounting in relation to any consummated acquisition (including prior to the Issue Date) or the amortization or write-off of any amounts thereof, net of taxes, shall be excluded,

(8) any after-tax effect of income (loss) from the early extinguishment of Indebtedness or Hedging Obligations or other derivative instruments shall be excluded,

(9) any impairment charge or asset write-off, in each case, pursuant to GAAP and the amortization of intangibles arising pursuant to GAAP shall be excluded,

(10) any non-cash compensation expense recorded from grants of stock appreciation or similar rights, stock options, restricted stock or other rights shall be excluded, and

(11) any fees and expenses incurred during such period, or any amortization thereof for such period, in connection with any acquisition, Investment, Asset Sale, issuance or repayment of Indebtedness, issuance of Equity Interests, refinancing transaction (including the refinancing contemplated by the Issuer's cash tender offer to purchase up to $460.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2015 Notes commenced on November 8, 2010) or amendment or modification of any debt instrument (in each case, including any such transaction consummated prior to the Issue Date and any such transaction undertaken but not completed) and any charges or non-recurring merger costs incurred during such period as a result of any such transaction shall be excluded.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, for the purpose of Section 4.07 hereof only (other than clause (a)(3)(D) thereof), there shall be excluded from Consolidated Net Income any income arising from any sale or other disposition of Restricted Investments made by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, any repurchases and redemptions of Restricted Investments from the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, any repayments of loans and advances which constitute Restricted Investments by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, any sale of the stock of an Unrestricted Subsidiary or any distribution or dividend from an Unrestricted Subsidiary, in each case only to the extent such amounts increase the amount of Restricted Payments permitted under Section 4.07(a)(3)(D) hereof.

“Consolidated Secured Debt Ratio” means, as of the date of determination, the ratio of (a) the Consolidated Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries on such date that is secured by Liens less the amount of cash and Cash Equivalents in excess of any Restricted Cash that would be stated on the balance sheet of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries and held by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries as of such date of determination, as determined in accordance with GAAP, to (b) EBITDA of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries for the most recently ended four fiscal quarters ending immediately prior to such date for which internal financial statements are available.

In the event that the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary (i) incurs, assumes, guarantees, redeems, retires or extinguishes any Indebtedness or (ii) issues or redeems Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock subsequent to the commencement of the period for which the Consolidated Secured Debt Ratio is being calculated but prior to or simultaneously with the event for which the calculation of the Consolidated Secured Debt Ratio is made (the “Consolidated Secured Debt Ratio Calculation Date”), then the Consolidated Secured Debt Ratio shall be calculated giving pro forma effect to such incurrence, assumption, guarantee, redemption, retirement or extinguishment of Indebtedness, or such issuance or redemption of Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock, as if the same had occurred at the beginning of the applicable four-quarter period.

For purposes of making the computation referred to above, Investments, acquisitions, dispositions, mergers, amalgamations, consolidations and discontinued operations (as determined in accordance with GAAP), in each case with respect to an operating unit of a business made (or committed to be made pursuant to a definitive agreement) during the four-quarter reference period or subsequent to such reference period and on or prior to or simultaneously with the Consolidated Secured Debt Ratio Calculation

Date, and other operational changes that the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries has determined to make and/or made during the four-quarter reference period or subsequent to such reference period and on or prior to or simultaneously with the Consolidated Secured Debt Ratio Calculation Date shall be calculated on a pro forma basis in accordance with GAAP assuming that all such Investments, acquisitions, dispositions, mergers, amalgamations, consolidations, discontinued operations and other operational changes had occurred on the first day of the four-quarter reference period. If since the beginning of such period any Person that subsequently became a Restricted Subsidiary or was merged with or into the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries since the beginning of such period shall have made any Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, amalgamation, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change, in each case with respect to an operating unit of a business, that would have required adjustment pursuant to this definition, then the Consolidated Secured Debt Ratio shall be calculated giving pro forma effect thereto for such period as if such Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change had occurred at the beginning of the applicable four-quarter period.

For purposes of this definition, whenever pro forma effect is to be given to any Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, amalgamation, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change, the pro forma calculations shall be made in good faith by a responsible financial or accounting officer of the Issuer. Any such pro forma calculation may include adjustments appropriate, in the reasonable determination of the Issuer as set forth in an Officer's Certificate, to reflect (1) operating expense reductions and other operating improvements or synergies reasonably expected to result from any acquisition, amalgamation, merger or operational change; and (2) all adjustments of the nature used in connection with the calculation of "Adjusted EBITDA" as set forth in footnote (1) to the "Summary Historical and Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Data" under "Offering Circular Summary" in the offering circular with respect to the Issuer's 2015 Notes dated March 1, 2007 to the extent such adjustments, without duplication, continue to be applicable to such four-quarter period; provided that (x) such operating expense reductions and other operating improvements or synergies are reasonably identifiable and factually supportable, (y) with respect to operational changes, such actions are taken no later than 48 months after the Issue Date and (z) the aggregate amount of projected operating expense reductions, operating improvements and synergies in respect of operational changes (not resulting from an acquisition) included in any pro forma calculation shall not exceed $80.0 million for any four consecutive quarter period.

For the purposes of this definition, any amount in a currency other than U.S. dollars will be converted to U.S. dollars based on the average exchange rate for such currency for the most recent twelve month period immediately prior to the date of determination determined in a manner consistent with that used in calculating EBITDA for the applicable period.

"Contingent Obligations" means, with respect to any Person, any obligation of such Person guaranteeing any leases, dividends or other obligations that do not constitute Indebtedness ("primary obligations") of any other Person (the "primary obligor") in any manner, whether directly or indirectly, including, without limitation, any obligation of such Person, whether or not contingent,

- (1) to purchase any such primary obligation or any property constituting direct or indirect security therefor,
- (2) to advance or supply funds
  - (a) for the purchase or payment of any such primary obligation, or
  - (b) to maintain working capital or equity capital of the primary obligor or otherwise to maintain the net worth or solvency of the primary obligor, or
- (3) to purchase property, securities or services primarily for the purpose of assuring the owner of any such primary obligation of the ability of the primary obligor to make payment of such primary obligation against loss in respect thereof.

“Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee” shall be at the address of the Trustee specified in Section 12.02 hereof or such other address as to which the Trustee may give notice to the Holders and the Issuer.

“Credit Facilities” means, with respect to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, one or more debt facilities, including the Senior Credit Facilities, or other financing arrangements (including, without limitation, commercial paper facilities or indentures) providing for revolving credit loans, term loans, letters of credit or other long-term indebtedness, including any notes, mortgages, guarantees, collateral documents, instruments and agreements executed in connection therewith, and any amendments, supplements, modifications, extensions, renewals, restatements or refundings thereof and any indentures or credit facilities or commercial paper facilities that replace, refund or refinance any part of the loans, notes, other credit facilities or commitments thereunder, including any such replacement, refunding or refinancing facility or indenture that increases the amount permitted to be borrowed thereunder or alters the maturity thereof ( provided that such increase in borrowings is permitted under Section 4.09 hereof) or adds Restricted Subsidiaries as additional borrowers or guarantors thereunder and whether by the same or any other agent, lender or group of lenders.

“Designated Preferred Stock” means Preferred Stock of the Issuer, a Restricted Subsidiary or any direct or indirect parent corporation thereof (in each case other than Disqualified Stock) that is issued for cash (other than to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary or an employee stock ownership plan or trust established by the Issuer or its Subsidiaries) and is so designated as Designated Preferred Stock, pursuant to an Officer’s Certificate executed by the principal financial officer of the Issuer, on the issuance date thereof, the cash proceeds of which are excluded from the calculation set forth in clause (3) of Section 4.07(a).

“Disqualified Stock” means, with respect to any Person, any Capital Stock of such Person which, by its terms, or by the terms of any security into which it is convertible or for which it is putable or exchangeable, or upon the happening of any event, matures or is mandatorily redeemable (other than solely as a result of a change of control or asset sale) pursuant to a sinking fund obligation or otherwise, or is redeemable at the option of the holder thereof (other than solely as a result of a change of control or asset sale), in whole or in part, in each case prior to the date 91 days after the earlier of the maturity date of the Notes or the date the Notes are no longer outstanding; provided, however, that if such Capital Stock is issued to any plan for the benefit of employees of the Issuer or its Subsidiaries or by any such plan to such employees, such Capital Stock shall not constitute Disqualified Stock solely because it may be required to be repurchased in order to satisfy applicable statutory or regulatory obligations.

“EBITDA” means, with respect to any Person for any period, the Consolidated Net Income of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period

(1) increased (without duplication) by:

(a) provision for taxes based on income or profits or capital, including, without limitation, state, franchise and similar taxes, foreign withholding taxes and foreign unreimbursed value added taxes of such Person and such Subsidiaries paid or accrued during such period deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; provided that the aggregate amount of unreimbursed value added taxes to be added back for any four consecutive quarter period shall not exceed $2.0 million; plus

(b) Fixed Charges of such Person and such Subsidiaries for such period (including (x) net losses on Hedging Obligations or other derivative instruments entered into for the purpose of hedging interest rate risk, (y) fees payable in respect of letters of credit and (z) costs of surety bonds in connection with financing activities, in each case, to the extent included in Fixed Charges) to the extent the same was deducted (and not added back) in calculating such Consolidated Net Income; plus

(c) Consolidated Depreciation and Amortization Expense of such Person and such Subsidiaries for such period to the extent the same were deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; plus

(d) any expenses or charges (other than depreciation or amortization expense) related to any Equity Offering, Permitted Investment, acquisition, disposition, re-capitalization or the incurrence or repayment of Indebtedness permitted to be incurred by this Indenture (including a refinancing thereof) (whether or not successful), including (i) such fees, expenses or charges related to the offering of the Notes, (ii) any amendment or other modification of the Senior Credit Facilities, the Existing Senior Notes and the Notes and (iii) commissions, discounts, yield and other fees and charges (including any interest expense) related to any Receivables Facility, and, in each case, deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; plus

(e) other than for the purpose of determining the amount available for Restricted Payments under clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) hereof, the amount of any business optimization expense and restructuring charge or reserve deducted (and not added back) in such period in computing Consolidated Net Income, including any restructuring costs incurred in connection with acquisitions after March 29, 2007, costs related to the closure and/or consolidation of facilities, retention charges, systems establishment costs, conversion costs and excess pension charges and consulting fees incurred in connection with any of the foregoing; plus

(f) any other non-cash charges, including any write offs or write downs, reducing Consolidated Net Income for such period ( provided that if any such non-cash charges represent an accrual or reserve for potential cash items in any future period, the cash payment in respect thereof in such future period shall be subtracted from EBITDA in such future period to the extent paid, and excluding amortization of a prepaid cash item that was paid in a prior period); plus

(g) the amount of any minority interest expense consisting of Subsidiary income attributable to minority equity interests of third parties in any non-Wholly Owned Subsidiary deducted (and not added back) in such period in calculating Consolidated Net Income; plus

(h) other than for the purpose of determining the amount available for Restricted Payments under clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) hereof, the amount of management, monitoring, consulting, transaction and advisory fees and related expenses paid in such period to the extent otherwise permitted under Section 4.11 hereof deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; plus

(i) the amount of loss on sale of receivables and related assets to the Receivables Subsidiary in connection with a Receivables Facility deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; plus

(j) any costs or expense deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income by such Person or any such Subsidiary pursuant to any management equity plan or stock option plan or any other management or employee benefit plan or agreement or any stock subscription or shareholder agreement, to the extent that such cost or expenses are funded with cash proceeds contributed to the capital of the Issuer or net cash proceeds of an issuance of Equity Interest of the Issuer (other than Disqualified Stock) solely to the extent that such net cash proceeds are excluded from the calculation set forth in clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) hereof; plus

(k) (i) other than for the purpose of determining the amount available for Restricted Payments under clause (3) of Section 4.07 (a) hereof, any costs or expense (other than those described in clause (ii) of this paragraph (k)) deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income by such Person or any such Subsidiary relating to the defense of the pending litigation proceedings with Televisa, S.A. de C.V. and any future claims related thereto and (ii) any program license fee overcharges and any program license fee payments under protest in connection with such litigation, in each case deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; provided that, with respect to clause (ii) only, if either (1) a final decision shall have been determined and such decision either is not subject to appeal or an appeal of such decision is not filed by such Person with 30 days of such decision or (2) such litigation has been settled by the parties, then EBITDA shall be increased by the amount of such program license fee overcharges and such program license payments under protest less the amount, if any, of any of such payments which are retained by Televisa, S.A. De C.V. or its Affiliates pursuant to the decision or settlement;

(2) decreased by (without duplication) (a) non-cash gains increasing Consolidated Net Income of such Person and such Subsidiaries for such period, excluding any non-cash gains to the extent they represent the reversal of an accrual or reserve for a potential cash item that reduced EBITDA in any prior period and (b) the minority interest income consisting of subsidiary losses attributable to minority equity interests of third parties in any non-Wholly Owned Subsidiary to the extent such minority interest income is included in Consolidated Net Income; and

(3) increased or decreased by (without duplication):

(a) any net gain or loss resulting in such period from Hedging Obligations and the application of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 133 and International Accounting Standards No. 39 and their respective related pronouncements and interpretations; plus or minus, as applicable,

SECTION 1.03. Incorporation by Reference of Trust Indenture Act. Whenever this Indenture refers to a provision of the Trust Indenture Act, the provision is incorporated by reference in and made a part of this Indenture.

“obligor” on the Notes and the Guarantees means the Issuer and the Guarantors, respectively, and any successor obligor upon the Notes and the Guarantees, respectively. All other terms used in this Indenture that are defined by the Trust Indenture Act, defined by Trust Indenture Act reference to another statute or defined by SEC rule under the Trust Indenture Act have the meanings so assigned to them.

SECTION 1.04. Rules of Construction. Unless the context otherwise requires:

- (a) a term has the meaning assigned to it;
- (b) an accounting term not otherwise defined has the meaning assigned to it in accordance with GAAP;
- (c) “or” is not exclusive;
- (d) “including” means including without limitation;
- (e) words in the singular include the plural, and in the plural include the singular;
- (f) “will” shall be interpreted to express a command;
- (g) provisions apply to successive events and transactions;
- (h) references to sections of, or rules under, the Securities Act shall be deemed to include substitute, replacement or successor sections or rules adopted by the SEC from time to time;
- (i) unless the context otherwise requires, any reference to an “Article,” “Section” or “clause” refers to an Article, Section or clause, as the case may be, of this Indenture; and
- (j) the words “herein,” “hereof” and “hereunder” and other words of similar import refer to this Indenture as a whole and not any particular Article, Section, clause or other subdivision.

SECTION 1.05. Acts of Holders.

(a) Any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided by this Indenture to be given or taken by Holders may be embodied in and evidenced by one or more instruments of substantially similar tenor signed by such Holders in person or by an agent duly appointed in writing. Except as herein otherwise expressly provided, such action shall become effective when such instrument or instruments or record or both are delivered to the Trustee and, where it is hereby expressly required, to the Issuer. Proof of execution of any such instrument or of a writing appointing any such agent, or the holding by any Person of a Note, shall be sufficient for any purpose of this Indenture and (subject to Section 7.01) conclusive in favor of the Trustee and the Issuer, if made in the manner provided in this Section 1.05.

(b) The fact and date of the execution by any Person of any such instrument or writing may be proved by the affidavit of a witness of such execution or by the certificate of any notary public or other officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments of deeds, certifying that the individual signing such instrument or writing acknowledged to him the execution thereof. Where such execution is by or on behalf of any legal entity other than an individual, such certificate or affidavit shall also constitute proof of the authority of the Person executing the same. The fact and date of the execution of any such instrument or writing, or the authority of the Person executing the same, may also be proved in any other manner that the Trustee deems sufficient.

(c) The ownership of Notes shall be proved by the Note Register.

(d) Any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action by the Holder of any Note shall bind every future Holder of the same Note and the Holder of every Note issued upon the registration of transfer thereof or in exchange therefor or in lieu thereof, in respect of any action taken, suffered or omitted by the Trustee or the Issuer in reliance thereon, whether or not notation of such action is made upon such Note.

(e) The Issuer may, at its option in the circumstances permitted by the Trust Indenture Act, set a record date for purposes of determining the identity of Holders entitled to give any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or take any other act, or to vote or consent to any action by vote or consent authorized or permitted to be given or taken by Holders, but the Issuer shall have no obligation to do so.

(f) Without limiting the foregoing, a Holder entitled to take any action hereunder with regard to any particular Note may do so with regard to all or any part of the principal amount of such Note or by one or more duly appointed agents, each of which may do so pursuant to such appointment with regard to all or any part of such principal amount. Any notice given or action taken by a Holder or its agents with regard to different parts of such principal amount pursuant to this paragraph shall have the same effect as if given or taken by separate Holders of each such different part.

(g) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, a Holder, including the Depositary, may make, give or take, by a proxy or proxies duly appointed in writing, any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided in this Indenture to be made, given or taken by Holders, and the Depositary may provide its proxy to the beneficial owners of interests in any such Global Note through such Depositary's standing instructions and customary practices.

(h) The Issuer may fix a record date for the purpose of determining the Persons who are beneficial owners of interests in any Global Note held by DTC entitled under the procedures of such Depository to make, give or take, by a proxy or proxies duly appointed in writing, any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided in this Indenture to be made, given or taken by Holders. If such a record date is fixed, the Holders on such record date or their duly appointed proxy or proxies, and only such Persons, shall be entitled to make, give or take such request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action, whether or not such Holders remain Holders after such record date. No such request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action shall be valid or effective if made, given or taken more than 90 days after such record date.

ARTICLE II

THE NOTES

SECTION 2.01. Form and Dating; Terms.

(a) General. The Notes and the Trustee's certificate of authentication shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto. The Notes may have notations, legends or endorsements required by law, stock exchange rules or usage. Each Note shall be dated the date of its authentication. The Notes shall be in minimum denominations of $2,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof.

(b) Global Notes. Notes issued in global form shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto (including the Global Note Legend thereon and the "Schedule of Exchanges of Interests in the Global Note" attached thereto). Notes issued in definitive form shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto (but without the Global Note Legend thereon and without the "Schedule of Exchanges of Interests in the Global Note" attached thereto). Each Global Note shall represent such of the outstanding Notes as shall be specified on the face of such Global Note, as increased or decreased in the "Schedule of Exchanges of Interests in the Global Note" attached thereto and each shall provide that it shall represent up to the aggregate principal amount of Notes from time to time endorsed thereon and that the aggregate principal amount of outstanding Notes represented thereby may from time to time be reduced or increased, as applicable, to reflect exchanges and redemptions by increasing the aggregate principal amount of such Global Note. Any endorsement of a Global Note to reflect the amount of any increase or decrease in the aggregate principal amount of outstanding Notes represented thereby shall be made by the Trustee or the Custodian, at the direction of the Trustee, in accordance with instructions given by the Holder thereof as required by Section 2.06 hereof.

(c) Temporary Global Notes. Notes offered and sold in reliance on Regulation S shall be issued initially in the form of the Regulation S Temporary Global Note, which shall be deposited on behalf of the purchasers of the Notes represented thereby with the Custodian and registered in the name of the Depository or the nominee of the Depository for the accounts of designated agents holding on behalf of Euroclear or Clearstream, duly executed by the Issuer and authenticated by the Trustee as hereinafter provided. The Restricted Period shall be terminated upon the receipt by the Trustee of:

(i) a written certificate from the Depository, together with copies of certificates from Euroclear and Clearstream certifying that they have received certification of non-United States beneficial ownership of 100% of the aggregate principal amount of each Regulation S Temporary Global Note (except to the extent of any beneficial owners thereof who acquired an interest therein during the Restricted Period pursuant to another exemption from registration under the Securities Act and who shall take delivery of a beneficial ownership interest in a 144A Global Note bearing a Private Placement Legend, all as contemplated by Section 2.06(b) hereof); and

Within a reasonable period after expiration or termination of the Restricted Period, beneficial interests in each Regulation S Temporary Global Note shall be exchanged for beneficial interests in a Regulation S Permanent Global Note upon delivery to DTC of the certification of compliance and the transfer of applicable Notes pursuant to the Applicable Procedures. Simultaneously with the authentication of the corresponding Regulation S Permanent Global Note, the Trustee shall cancel the corresponding Regulation S Temporary Global Note. The aggregate principal amount of a Regulation S Temporary Global Note and a Regulation S Permanent Global Note may from time to time be increased or decreased by adjustments made on the records of the Trustee and the Depository or its nominee, as the case may be, in connection with transfers of interest as hereinafter provided.

(d) Terms. The aggregate principal amount of Notes that may be authenticated and delivered under this Indenture is unlimited.

The terms and provisions contained in the Notes shall constitute, and are hereby expressly made, a part of this Indenture and the Issuer, the Guarantors and the Trustee, by their execution and delivery of this Indenture, expressly agree to such terms and provisions and to be bound thereby. However, to the extent any provision of any Note conflicts with the express provisions of this Indenture, the provisions of this Indenture shall govern and be controlling.

The Notes shall be subject to repurchase by the Issuer pursuant to an Asset Sale Offer as provided in Section 4.10 hereof or a Change of Control Offer as provided in Section 4.14 hereof. The Notes shall not be redeemable, other than as provided in Article III hereof.

(e) Issuance of Additional Notes. Additional Notes ranking pari passu with the Initial Notes may be created and issued from time to time by the Issuer without notice to or consent of the Holders and shall be consolidated with and form a single class with the Initial Notes and shall have the same terms as to status, redemption or otherwise as the Initial Notes; provided that the Issuer's ability to issue Additional Notes shall be subject to the Issuer's compliance with Section 4.09 hereof.

SECTION 2.02. Execution and Authentication. At least one Officer of the Issuer shall execute the Notes on behalf of the Issuer by manual, facsimile or electronic (e.g. .pdf) signature.

If an Officer of the Issuer whose signature is on a Note no longer holds that office at the time the Trustee authenticates the Note, the Note shall nevertheless be valid.

A Note shall not be entitled to any benefit under this Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose until authenticated substantially in the form of Exhibit A attached hereto, as the case may be, by the manual signature of the Trustee. The signature shall be conclusive evidence that the Note has been duly authenticated and delivered under this Indenture.

On the Issue Date, the Trustee shall, upon receipt of an Issuer Order (an “Authentication Order”), which order shall set forth the number of separate Note certificates, the principal amount of each of the Notes to be authenticated, the date on which the Notes are to be authenticated, the registered holder of each Note and delivery instructions, authenticate and deliver the Initial Notes. In addition, at any time, from time to time, the Trustee shall upon an Authentication Order authenticate and deliver any Additional Notes.

The Trustee may appoint an authenticating agent acceptable to the Issuer to authenticate Notes. An authenticating agent may authenticate Notes whenever the Trustee may do so. Each reference in this Indenture to authentication by the Trustee includes authentication by such agent. An authenticating agent has the same rights as an Agent to deal with Holders or an Affiliate of the Issuer.

SECTION 2.03. Registrar and Paying Agent. The Issuer shall maintain (i) an office or agency where Notes may be presented for registration of transfer or for exchange (“Registrar”) and (ii) an office or agency where Notes may be presented for payment (“Paying Agent”). The Registrar shall keep a register of the Notes (“Note Register”) reflecting the ownership of the Notes outstanding from time to time and of their transfer. The Registrar shall also facilitate the transfer of the Notes on behalf of the Issuer in accordance with Section 2.06 hereof. The Issuer may appoint one or more co-registrars and one or more additional paying agents. The term “Registrar” includes any co-registrar, and the term “Paying Agent” includes any additional paying agents. The Issuer initially appoints the Trustee as Paying Agent. The Issuer may change any Paying Agent or Registrar without prior notice to any Holder. The Issuer shall notify the Trustee in writing of the name and address of any Agent not a party to this Indenture. If the Issuer fails to appoint or maintain another entity as Registrar or Paying Agent, the Trustee shall, to the extent that it is capable, act as such. The Issuer or any of its domestic Subsidiaries may act as Paying Agent or Registrar.

The Issuer initially appoints The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”) to act as Depository with respect to the Global Notes representing the Notes.

The Issuer initially appoints the Trustee to act as the Registrar for the Notes and the Trustee agrees to initially so act.

SECTION 2.04. Paying Agent to Hold Money in Trust. The Issuer shall require each Paying Agent other than the Trustee to agree in writing that the Paying Agent shall hold in trust for the benefit of Holders or the Trustee all money held by the Paying Agent for the payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest on the Notes, and will notify the Trustee of any default by the Issuer in making any such payment. While any such default continues, the Trustee may require a Paying Agent to pay all money held by it to the Trustee. The Issuer at any time may require a Paying Agent to pay all money held by it to the Trustee. Upon payment over to the Trustee, the Paying Agent (if other than the Issuer or a Subsidiary) shall have no further liability for such funds. If the Issuer or a Subsidiary acts as Paying Agent, it shall segregate and hold in a separate trust fund for the benefit of the Holders all funds held by it as Paying Agent. Upon any Event of Default pursuant to Section 6.01(6) or (7), the Trustee shall serve as Paying Agent for the Notes.

SECTION 2.05. Holder Lists. The Trustee shall preserve in as current a form as is reasonably practicable the most recent list available to it of the names and addresses of all Holders and shall otherwise comply with Trust Indenture Act Section 312(a). If the Trustee is not the Registrar, the Issuer shall furnish to the Trustee at least five (5) Business Days before each Interest Payment Date and at such other times as the Trustee may request in writing, a list in such form and as of such date as the Trustee may reasonably require of the names and addresses of the Holders of Notes and the Issuer shall otherwise comply with Trust Indenture Act Section 312(a).

SECTION 2.06. Transfer and Exchange.

(a) Transfer and Exchange of Global Notes. Except as otherwise set forth in this Section 2.06, a Global Note may be transferred, in whole and not in part, only to another nominee of the Depository or to a successor thereto or a nominee of such successor thereto. A beneficial interest in a Global Note may not be exchanged for a Definitive Note of the same series unless (A) the Depository (x) notifies the Issuer that it is unwilling or unable to continue as Depository for such Global Note or (y) has ceased to be a clearing agency registered under the Exchange Act, and, in either case, a successor

Depository is not appointed by the Issuer within 120 days or (B) there shall have occurred and be continuing an Event of Default with respect to the Notes. Upon the occurrence of any of the preceding events in (A) above, Definitive Notes delivered in exchange for any Global Note of the same series or beneficial interests therein will be registered in the names, and issued in any approved denominations, requested by or on behalf of the Depository (in accordance with its customary procedures). Global Notes also may be exchanged or replaced, in whole or in part, as provided in Sections 2.07 and 2.10 hereof. Every Note authenticated and delivered in exchange for, or in lieu of, a Global Note of the same series or any portion thereof, pursuant to this Section 2.06 or Section 2.07 or 2.10 hereof, shall be authenticated and delivered in the form of, and shall be, a Global Note, except for Definitive Notes issued subsequent to any of the preceding events in (A) or (B) above and pursuant to Section 2.06(c) hereof. A Global Note may not be exchanged for another Note other than as provided in this Section 2.06(a); and beneficial interests in a Global Note may not be transferred and exchanged other than as provided in Section 2.06(b) or (c) hereof.

(b) Transfer and Exchange of Beneficial Interests in the Global Notes. The transfer and exchange of beneficial interests in the Global Notes shall be effected through the Depository in accordance with the provisions of this Indenture and the Applicable Procedures. Beneficial interests in the Restricted Global Notes shall be subject to restrictions on transfer comparable to those set forth herein to the extent required by the Securities Act. Transfers of beneficial interests in the Global Notes also shall require compliance with either subparagraph (i) or (ii) below, as applicable, as well as one or more of the other following subparagraphs, as applicable:

(i) Transfer of Beneficial Interests in the Same Global Note. Beneficial interests in any Restricted Global Note may be transferred to Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in the same Restricted Global Note in accordance with the transfer restrictions set forth in the Private Placement Legend; provided, that prior to the expiration of the Restricted Period, transfers of beneficial interests in the Regulation S Temporary Global Note may not be made to a U.S. Person or for the account or benefit of a U.S. Person other than to a “distributor” (as defined in Rule 902(d) of Regulation S) and other than pursuant to Rule 144A. No written orders or instructions shall be required to be delivered to the Registrar to effect the transfers described in this Section 2.06(b)(i).

(ii) All Other Transfers and Exchanges of Beneficial Interests in Global Notes. In connection with all transfers and exchanges of beneficial interests that are not subject to Section 2.06(b)(i) hereof, the transferor of such beneficial interest must deliver to the Registrar either (A) (1) a written order from a Participant or an Indirect Participant given to the Depository in accordance with the Applicable Procedures directing the Depository to credit or cause to be credited a beneficial interest in another Global Note in an amount equal to the beneficial interest to be transferred or exchanged and (2) instructions given in accordance with the Applicable Procedures containing information regarding the Participant account to be credited with such increase or (B) (1) a written order from a Participant or an Indirect Participant given to the Depository in accordance with the Applicable Procedures directing the Depository to cause to be issued a Definitive Note of the same series in an amount equal to the beneficial interest to be transferred or exchanged and (2) instructions given by the Depository to the Registrar containing information regarding the Person in whose name such Definitive Note shall be registered to effect the transfer or exchange referred to in (B)(1) above; provided that in no event shall Definitive Notes be issued upon the transfer or exchange of beneficial interests in a Regulation S Temporary Global Note prior to (A) the expiration of the Restricted Period and (B) the receipt by the Registrar of any certificates required pursuant to Rule 903(b)(3)(ii)(B). Upon satisfaction of all of the requirements for transfer or exchange of beneficial interests in Global Notes contained in this Indenture and the Notes or otherwise applicable under the Securities Act, the Trustee shall adjust the principal amount of the relevant Global Note(s) pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof.

(iii) Transfer of Beneficial Interests in a Restricted Global Note to Another Restricted Global Note. A beneficial interest in any Global Note may be transferred to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in another Restricted Global Note if the transfer complies with the requirements of Section 2.06(b)(ii) hereof and the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the transferee will take delivery in the form of a beneficial interest in a 144A Global Note, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof or, if permitted by the Applicable Procedures, item 3 thereof; or

(B) if the transferee will take delivery in the form of a beneficial interest in a Regulation S Global Note, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof.

(iv) Transfer or Exchange of Beneficial Interests in a Restricted Global Note for Beneficial Interests in an Unrestricted Global Note. A Holder of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note may exchange such beneficial interest for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note or may transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note only if the exchange or transfer complies with the requirements of Section 2.06(b)(ii) above and the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the Holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1)(a) thereof; or

(B) if the Holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof; and, in each such case, if the Registrar so requests or if the Applicable Procedures so require, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer complies with the Securities Act and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend are no longer required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

If any such transfer is effected at a time when an Unrestricted Global Note has not yet been issued, the Issuer shall execute and, upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate one or more Unrestricted Global Notes in an aggregate principal amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of beneficial interests transferred.

(v) Transfer or Exchange of Beneficial Interests in an Unrestricted Global Note for Beneficial Interests in a Restricted Global Note Prohibited. Beneficial interests in an Unrestricted Global Note may not be exchanged for, or transferred to Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of, beneficial interests in a Restricted Global Note.

(c) Transfer or Exchange of Beneficial Interests in Global Notes for Definitive Notes.

(i) Beneficial Interests in Restricted Global Notes to Restricted Definitive Notes. If any holder of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for a Restricted Definitive Note or to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a Restricted Definitive Note, then, upon the occurrence of any of the events in subsection (A) of Section 2.06(a) hereof and receipt by the Registrar of the following documentation:

(A) if the holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for a Restricted Definitive Note, a certificate from such holder substantially in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (2) (a) thereof;

(B) if such beneficial interest is being transferred to a QIB in accordance with Rule 144A, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof;

(C) if such beneficial interest is being transferred to a Non-U.S. Person in an offshore transaction in accordance with Rule 903 or Rule 904, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof;

(D) if such beneficial interest is being transferred pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act in accordance with Rule 144, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3)(a) thereof;

(E) if such beneficial interest is being transferred to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3)(b) thereof; or

(F) if such beneficial interest is being transferred pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3)(c) thereof,

the Trustee shall cause the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Global Note to be reduced accordingly pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof, and the Issuer shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and mail to the Person designated by the Holder of such beneficial interest in the instructions delivered to the Registrar by the Depository and the applicable Participant or Indirect Participant on behalf of such Holder a Restricted Definitive Note in the applicable principal amount. Any Restricted Definitive Note issued in exchange for a beneficial interest in a Global Note pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(i) shall be registered in such name or names and in such authorized denomination or denominations as the holder of such beneficial interest shall designate in such instructions. The Trustee shall mail such Restricted Definitive Notes to the Persons in whose names such Notes are so registered. Any Restricted Definitive Note issued in exchange for a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(i) shall bear the Private Placement Legend and shall be subject to all restrictions on transfer contained therein.

(ii) Beneficial Interests in Regulation S Temporary Global Note to Definitive Notes. Notwithstanding Sections 2.06(c)(i)(A) and (C) hereof, a beneficial interest in the Regulation S Temporary Global Note may not be exchanged for a Definitive Note or transferred to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a Definitive Note prior to (A) the expiration of the Restricted Period and (B) the receipt by the Registrar of any certificates required pursuant to Rule 903(b)(3)(ii)(B) of the Securities Act, except in the case of a transfer pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act other than Rule 903 or Rule 904.

(iii) Beneficial Interests in Restricted Global Notes to Unrestricted Definitive Notes. Subject to Section 2.06(a) hereof, a Holder of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note may exchange such beneficial interest for an Unrestricted Definitive Note or may transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note only if the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the Holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for an Unrestricted Definitive Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1) (b) thereof; or

(B) if the Holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof;

and, in each such case, if the Registrar so requests or if the Applicable Procedures so require, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer complies with the Securities Act and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend are no longer required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

Upon satisfaction of any of the conditions of any of the clauses of this Section 2.06(c)(iii), the Issuer shall execute and, upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver an Unrestricted Definitive Note in the appropriate principal amount to the Person designated by the Holder of such beneficial interest in instructions delivered to the Registrar by the Depository and the applicable Participant or Indirect Participant on behalf of such Holder, and the Trustee shall reduce or cause to be reduced in a corresponding amount pursuant to Section 2.06(g), the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Restricted Global Note.

(iv) Beneficial Interests in Unrestricted Global Notes to Unrestricted Definitive Notes. Subject to Section 2.06(a) hereof, if any Holder of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for an Unrestricted Definitive Note or to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note, then, upon satisfaction of the applicable conditions set forth in Section 2.06(b)(ii) hereof, the Trustee shall reduce or cause to be reduced in a corresponding amount pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof, the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Unrestricted Global Note, and the Issuer shall execute, and, upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver an Unrestricted Definitive Note in the appropriate principal amount to the Person designated by the Holder of such beneficial interest in instructions delivered to the Registrar by the Depository and the applicable Participant or Indirect Participant on behalf of such Holder. Any Unrestricted Definitive Note issued in exchange for a beneficial interest pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(iv) shall be registered in such name or names and in such authorized denomination or denominations as the Holder of such beneficial interest shall designate in such instructions. The Trustee shall deliver such Unrestricted Definitive Notes to the Persons in whose names such Notes are so registered. Any Unrestricted Definitive Note issued in exchange for a beneficial interest pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(iv) shall not bear the Private Placement Legend.

(i) Restricted Definitive Notes to Beneficial Interest in Restricted Global Notes. If any Holder of a Restricted Definitive Note proposes to exchange such Note for a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note or to transfer such Restricted Definitive Note to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note, then, upon receipt by the Registrar of the following documentation:

(A) if the Holder of such Definitive Note proposes to exchange such Note for a beneficial interest in a Global Note, a certificate from such Holder substantially in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (2)(b) thereof;

(B) if such Definitive Note is being transferred to a QIB in accordance with Rule 144A, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof;

(C) if such Definitive Note is being transferred to a Non-U.S. Person in an offshore transaction in accordance with Rule 903 or Rule 904, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof;

(D) if such Definitive Note is being transferred pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act in accordance with Rule 144, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3)(a) thereof; or

(E) if such Definitive Note is being transferred to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3)(b) thereof,

the Trustee shall cancel the Restricted Definitive Note, increase or cause to be increased in a corresponding amount pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof the aggregate principal amount of, in the case of clause (A) above, the applicable Restricted Global Note, in the case of clause (B) above, the applicable 144A Global Note, and in the case of clause (C) above, the applicable Regulation S Global Note.

(ii) Restricted Definitive Notes to Beneficial Interests in Unrestricted Global Notes. A Holder of a Restricted Definitive Note may exchange such Restricted Definitive Note for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note or transfer such Restricted Definitive Note to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note only if the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Note proposes to exchange such Restricted Definitive Note for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1) (c) thereof; or

(B) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Note proposes to transfer such Restricted Definitive Note to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof;

and, in each such case, if the Registrar so requests or if the Applicable Procedures so require, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer shall be effected in compliance with the Securities Act and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend shall no longer be required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

Upon satisfaction of the conditions of any of the clauses in this Section 2.06(d)(ii), the Trustee shall cancel such Restricted Definitive Note and increase or cause to be increased in a corresponding amount pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof, the aggregate principal amount of the Unrestricted Global Note.

(iii) Unrestricted Definitive Notes to Beneficial Interests in Unrestricted Global Notes. A Holder of an Unrestricted Definitive Note may exchange such Unrestricted Definitive Note for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note or transfer such Unrestricted Definitive Note to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note at any time. Upon receipt of a request for such an exchange or transfer, the Trustee shall cancel the applicable Unrestricted Definitive Note and increase or cause to be increased in a corresponding amount pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof the aggregate principal amount of one of the Unrestricted Global Notes.

(iv) Unrestricted Definitive Notes to Beneficial Interests in Restricted Global Notes Prohibited. An Unrestricted Definitive Note may not be exchanged for, or transferred to Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of, beneficial interests in a Restricted Global Note.

(v) Issuance of Unrestricted Global Notes. If any such exchange or transfer of a Definitive Note for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note is effected pursuant to clause (ii) or (iii) above at a time when an Unrestricted Global Note has not yet been issued, the Issuer shall issue and, upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate one or more Unrestricted Global Notes in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of Definitive Notes so transferred.

(i) Upon request by a Holder of Definitive Notes and such Holder's compliance with the provisions of this Section 2.06(e), the Registrar shall register the transfer or exchange of Definitive Notes. Prior to such registration of transfer or exchange, the requesting Holder shall present or surrender to the Registrar the Definitive Notes duly endorsed or accompanied by a written instruction of transfer in form satisfactory to the Registrar duly executed by such Holder. In addition, the requesting Holder shall provide any additional certifications, documents and information, as applicable, required pursuant to the following provisions of this Section 2.06(e):

(ii) Restricted Definitive Notes to Restricted Definitive Notes. Any Restricted Definitive Note may be transferred to and registered in the name of Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of a Restricted Definitive Note if the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the transfer will be made pursuant to a QIB in accordance with Rule 144A, then the transferor must deliver a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof;

(B) if the transfer will be made pursuant to Rule 903 or Rule 904 then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof; or

(C) if the transfer will be made pursuant to any other exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications required by item (3) thereof, if applicable.

(iii) Transfer or Exchange of Restricted Definitive Notes to Unrestricted Definitive Notes. Any Restricted Definitive Note may be exchanged by the Holder thereof for an Unrestricted Definitive Note or transferred to a Person or Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note only if the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Note proposes to exchange such Restricted Definitive Notes for an Unrestricted Definitive Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1)(d) thereof; or

(B) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Notes proposes to transfer such Restricted Definitive Notes to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof;

and, in each such case, if the Registrar so requests, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer complies with the Securities Act and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend are no longer required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

Upon satisfaction of the conditions of any of the clauses of this Section 2.06(e)(iii), the Trustee shall cancel the prior Restricted Definitive Note and the Issuer shall execute, and upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver an Unrestricted Definitive Note in the appropriate aggregate principal amount to the Person designated by the Holder of such prior Restricted Definitive Note in instructions delivered to the Registrar by such Holder.

(iv) Transfer of Unrestricted Definitive Notes to Unrestricted Definitive Notes. A Holder of Unrestricted Definitive Notes may transfer such Unrestricted Definitive Notes to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note. Upon receipt of a request to register such a transfer, the Registrar shall register the Unrestricted Definitive Notes pursuant to the instructions from the Holder thereof.

(f) Legends. The following legends shall appear on the face of all Global Notes and Definitive Notes issued under this Indenture unless specifically stated otherwise in the applicable provisions of this Indenture:

(i) Private Placement Legend.

(A) Except as permitted by clause (B) below, each Global Note and each Definitive Note (and all Notes issued in exchange therefor or substitution thereof) shall bear the legend in substantially the following form:

“THIS SECURITY HAS NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”) AND ACCORDINGLY, MAY NOT BE OFFERED SOLD, PLEDGED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED WITHIN THE UNITED STATES OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, U.S. PERSONS, EXCEPT AS SET FORTH IN THE FOLLOWING SENTENCE. BY ITS ACQUISITION HEREOF OR OF A BENEFICIAL INTEREST HEREIN, THE HOLDER:

(1) REPRESENTS THAT (A) IT IS A “QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER” (AS DEFINED IN RULE 144A UNDER THE “SECURITIES ACT”) (A “QIB”) OR (B) IT IS NOT A U.S. PERSON, IS NOT ACQUIRING THIS SECURITY FOR THE ACCOUNT OR FOR THE BENEFIT OF A U.S. PERSON AND IS ACQUIRING THIS SECURITY IN AN OFF-SHORE TRANSACTION IN COMPLIANCE WITH REGULATIONS UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT,

(2) AGREES THAT IT WILL NOT, WITHIN [IN THE CASE OF THE RULE 144A GLOBAL NOTE: THE TIME PERIOD REFERRED TO UNDER RULE 144(d)(1) UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT AS IN EFFECT ON THE DATE OF TRANSFER OF THIS SECURITY] / [IN THE CASE OF THE REGULATION S GLOBAL NOTE: 40 DAYS AFTER THE ISSUE DATE] RESELL OR OTHERWISE TRANSFER THIS SECURITY EXCEPT (A) TO THE ISSUER OR ANY SUBSIDIARY THEREOF, (B) TO A PERSON WHOM THE HOLDER REASONABLY BELIEVES IS A QIB OR AN ACCREDITED INVESTOR PURCHASING FOR ITS OWN ACCOUNT OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OF A QIB OR AN ACCREDITED INVESTOR, RESPECTIVELY, IN COMPLIANCE WITH RULE 144A UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OR AN AVAILABLE EXEMPTION FROM THE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF THE SECURITIES ACT, (C) OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION IN COMPLIANCE WITH RULE 904 UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT, (D) PURSUANT TO THE EXEMPTION FROM REGISTRATION PROVIDED BY RULE 144 UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT (IF AVAILABLE AND PROVIDED THAT PRIOR TO SUCH TRANSFER, THE TRUSTEE IS FURNISHED WITH AN OPINION OF COUNSEL ACCEPTABLE TO THE ISSUER THAT SUCH TRANSFER IS IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE SECURITIES ACT) OR (E) PURSUANT TO AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT AND, IN EACH CASE, IN ACCORDANCE WITH APPLICABLE STATE SECURITIES LAWS, AND

(3) AGREES THAT IT WILL DELIVER TO EACH PERSON TO WHOM THIS SECURITY OR AN INTEREST HEREIN IS TRANSFERRED (OTHER THAN A TRANSFER PURSUANT TO CLAUSE (2)(D) OR (2)(E) ABOVE) A NOTICE SUBSTANTIALLY TO THE EFFECT OF THIS LEGEND.

IN CONNECTION WITH ANY TRANSFER OF THIS SECURITY OR ANY INTEREST HEREIN WITHIN THE TIME PERIOD REFERRED TO ABOVE, THE HOLDER MUST CHECK THE APPROPRIATE BOX SET FORTH ON THE REVERSE HEREOF RELATING TO THE MANNER OF SUCH TRANSFER AND SUBMIT THIS CERTIFICATE TO THE TRUSTEE. AS USED HEREIN THE TERMS "OFFSHORE TRANSACTION," "UNITED STATES" AND "U.S. PERSON" HAVE THE MEANING GIVEN TO THEM BY RULE 902 OF REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT.

(B) Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Global Note or Definitive Note issued pursuant to clauses (b)(iv), (c)(iii), (c)(iv), (d)(i)(B), (d)(i)(C), (e)(iii) or (e)(iv) to this Section 2.06 (and all Notes issued in exchange therefor or substitution thereof) shall not bear the Private Placement Legend.

(ii) Global Note Legend. Each Global Note shall bear a legend in substantially the following form (with appropriate changes in the last sentence if DTC is not the Depository):

“THIS GLOBAL NOTE IS HELD BY THE DEPOSITARY (AS DEFINED IN THE INDENTURE GOVERNING THIS NOTE) OR ITS NOMINEE IN CUSTODY FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE BENEFICIAL OWNERS HEREOF, AND IS NOT TRANSFERABLE TO ANY PERSON UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES EXCEPT THAT (I) THE TRUSTEE MAY MAKE SUCH NOTATIONS HEREON AS MAY BE REQUIRED PURSUANT TO SECTION 2.06(g) OF THE INDENTURE, (II) THIS GLOBAL NOTE MAY BE EXCHANGED IN WHOLE BUT NOT IN PART PURSUANT TO SECTION 2.06(a) OF THE INDENTURE, (III) THIS GLOBAL NOTE MAY BE DELIVERED TO THE TRUSTEE FOR CANCELLATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 2.11 OF THE INDENTURE AND (IV) THIS GLOBAL NOTE MAY BE TRANSFERRED TO A SUCCESSOR DEPOSITARY WITH THE PRIOR WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE ISSUER. UNLESS AND UNTIL IT IS EXCHANGED IN WHOLE OR IN PART FOR NOTES IN DEFINITIVE FORM, THIS NOTE MAY NOT BE TRANSFERRED EXCEPT AS A WHOLE BY THE DEPOSITARY TO A NOMINEE OF THE DEPOSITARY OR BY A NOMINEE OF THE DEPOSITARY TO THE DEPOSITARY OR ANOTHER NOMINEE OF THE DEPOSITARY OR BY THE DEPOSITARY OR ANY SUCH NOMINEE TO A SUCCESSOR DEPOSITARY OR A NOMINEE OF SUCH SUCCESSOR DEPOSITARY. UNLESS THIS NOTE IS PRESENTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF THE DEPOSITARY TRUST COMPANY (55 WATER STREET, NEW YORK, NEW YORK) (“DTC”) TO THE ISSUER OR ITS AGENT FOR REGISTRATION OF TRANSFER, EXCHANGE OR PAYMENT, AND ANY NOTE ISSUED IS REGISTERED IN THE NAME OF CEDE & CO. OR SUCH OTHER NAME AS MAY BE REQUESTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF DTC (AND ANY PAYMENT IS MADE TO CEDE & CO. OR SUCH OTHER ENTITY AS MAY BE REQUESTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF DTC), ANY TRANSFER, PLEDGE OR OTHER USE HEREOF FOR VALUE OR OTHERWISE BY OR TO ANY PERSON IS WRONGFUL INASMUCH AS THE REGISTERED OWNER HEREOF, CEDE & CO., HAS AN INTEREST HEREIN.”

(iii) Regulation S Temporary Global Note Legend. The Regulation S Temporary Global Note shall bear a legend in substantially the following form:

“THIS NOTE (OR ITS PREDECESSOR) WAS ORIGINALLY ISSUED IN A TRANSACTION ORIGINALLY EXEMPT FROM REGISTRATION UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES

ACT”), AND MAY NOT BE TRANSFERRED IN THE UNITED STATES OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, ANY U.S. PERSON EXCEPT PURSUANT TO AN AVAILABLE EXEMPTION FROM THE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF THE SECURITIES ACT AND ALL APPLICABLE STATE SECURITIES LAWS. TERMS USED ABOVE HAVE THE MEANINGS GIVEN TO THEM IN REGULATIONS UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT.”

(g) Cancellation and/or Adjustment of Global Notes. At such time as all beneficial interests in a particular Global Note have been exchanged for Definitive Notes or a particular Global Note has been redeemed, repurchased or canceled in whole and not in part, each such Global Note shall be returned to or retained and canceled by the Trustee in accordance with Section 2.11 hereof. At any time prior to such cancellation, if any beneficial interest in a Global Note is exchanged for or transferred to a Person who will take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in another Global Note or for Definitive Notes, the aggregate principal amount of Notes represented by such Global Note shall be reduced accordingly and an endorsement shall be made on such Global Note by the Trustee or by the Depositary at the direction of the Trustee to reflect such reduction; and if the beneficial interest is being exchanged for or transferred to a Person who will take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in another Global Note, such other Global Note shall be increased accordingly and an endorsement shall be made on such Global Note by the Trustee or by the Depositary at the direction of the Trustee to reflect such increase.

(h) General Provisions Relating to Transfers and Exchanges.

(i) To permit registrations of transfers and exchanges, the Issuer shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate Global Notes and Definitive Notes upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof or at the Registrar’s request.

(ii) No service charge shall be made to a holder of a beneficial interest in a Global Note or to a Holder of a Definitive Note for any registration of transfer or exchange, but the Issuer may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any transfer tax or similar governmental charge payable in connection therewith (other than any such transfer taxes or similar governmental charge payable upon exchange or transfer pursuant to Sections 2.07, 2.10, 3.06, 3.09, 4.10, 4.14 and 9.05 hereof).

(iii) All Global Notes and Definitive Notes issued upon any registration of transfer or exchange of Global Notes or Definitive Notes shall be the valid obligations of the Issuer, evidencing the same debt, and entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture, as the Global Notes or Definitive Notes surrendered upon such registration of transfer or exchange.

(iv) Neither the Registrar nor the Issuer shall not be required (A) to issue, to register the transfer of or to exchange any Notes during a period beginning at the opening of business 15 days before the day of any selection of Notes for redemption under Section 3.02 hereof and ending at the close of business on the day of selection, (B) to register the transfer of or to exchange any Note so selected for redemption in whole or in part, except the unredeemed portion of any Note being redeemed in part or (C) to register the transfer of or to exchange a Note between a Record Date with respect to such Note and the next succeeding Interest Payment Date with respect to such Note.

(v) Prior to due presentment for the registration of a transfer of any Note, the Trustee, any Agent and the Issuer may deem and treat the Person in whose name any Note is registered as the absolute owner of such Note for the purpose of receiving payment of principal of (and premium, if any) and interest on such Notes and for all other purposes, and none of the Trustee, any Agent or the Issuer shall be affected by notice to the contrary.

(vi) Upon surrender for registration of transfer of any Note at the office or agency of the Issuer designated pursuant to Section 4.02 hereof, the Issuer shall execute, and the Trustee shall authenticate and mail, in the name of the designated transferee or transferees, one or more replacement Notes of any authorized denomination or denominations of a like aggregate principal amount.

(vii) At the option of the Holder, Notes may be exchanged for other Notes of any authorized denomination or denominations of a like aggregate principal amount upon surrender of the Notes to be exchanged at such office or agency. Whenever any Global Notes or Definitive Notes are so surrendered for exchange, the Issuer shall execute, and the Trustee shall authenticate and mail, the replacement Global Notes and Definitive Notes which the Holder making the exchange is entitled to in accordance with the provisions of Section 2.02 hereof.

(viii) All certifications, certificates and Opinions of Counsel required to be submitted to the Registrar pursuant to this Section 2.06 to effect a registration of transfer or exchange may be submitted by facsimile (with originals to follow promptly thereafter).

(ix) The Trustee is hereby authorized and directed to enter into a letter of representation with the Depository in the form provided by the Issuer and to act in accordance with such letter.

SECTION 2.07. Replacement Notes. If any mutilated Note is surrendered to the Trustee, the Registrar or the Issuer and the Trustee receives evidence to its satisfaction of the ownership and destruction, loss or theft of any Note, the Issuer shall issue and the Trustee, upon receipt of an Authentication Order, shall authenticate a replacement Note if the Trustee's requirements are met. If required by the Trustee or the Issuer, an indemnity bond must be supplied by the Holder that is sufficient in the judgment of the Trustee and the Issuer to protect the Issuer, the Trustee, any Agent and any authenticating agent from any loss that any of them may suffer if a Note is replaced. The Issuer and the Trustee may charge the Holder for their expenses in replacing a Note.

Every replacement Note issued in accordance with this Section 2.07 is a contractual obligation of the Issuer and shall be entitled to all of the benefits of this Indenture equally and proportionately with all other Notes duly issued hereunder.

SECTION 2.08. Outstanding Notes. The Notes outstanding at any time are all the Notes authenticated by the Trustee except for those canceled by it, those delivered to it for cancellation, those reductions in the interest in a Global Note effected by the Trustee in accordance with the provisions hereof and those described in this Section 2.08 as not outstanding. Except as set forth in Section 2.09 hereof, a Note does not cease to be outstanding because the Issuer, a Guarantor or an Affiliate of the Issuer or a Guarantor holds the Note.

If a Note is replaced pursuant to Section 2.07 hereof, it ceases to be outstanding unless the Trustee receives proof satisfactory to it that the replaced Note is held by a protected purchaser (as defined in Section 8-303 of the Uniform Commercial Code).

If the principal amount of any Note is considered paid under Section 4.01 hereof, it ceases to be outstanding and interest on it ceases to accrue.

If the Paying Agent (other than the Issuer, a Guarantor or an Affiliate of the Issuer or a Guarantor) holds, on a Redemption Date or maturity date, money sufficient to pay Notes (or portions thereof) payable on that date, then on and after that date such Notes (or portions thereof) shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding and shall cease to accrue interest.

SECTION 2.09. Treasury Notes. In determining whether the Holders of the required principal amount of Notes have concurred in any direction, waiver or consent, Notes owned by the Issuer, a Guarantor or by any Affiliate of the Issuer or a Guarantor, shall be considered as though not outstanding, except that for the purposes of determining whether the Trustee shall be protected in relying on any such direction, waiver or consent, only Notes that a Responsible Officer of the Trustee knows are so owned shall be so disregarded. Notes so owned which have been pledged in good faith shall not be disregarded if the pledgee establishes to the satisfaction of the Trustee the pledgee's right to deliver any such direction, waiver or consent with respect to the Notes and that the pledgee is not the Issuer, a Guarantor or any obligor upon the Notes or any Affiliate of the Issuer, a Guarantor or of such other obligor.

SECTION 2.10. Temporary Notes. Until certificates representing Notes are ready for delivery, the Issuer may prepare and the Trustee, upon receipt of an Authentication Order, shall authenticate temporary Notes. Temporary Notes shall be substantially in the form of Definitive Notes but may have variations that the Issuer considers appropriate for temporary Notes and as shall be reasonably acceptable to the Trustee. Without unreasonable delay, the Issuer shall prepare and the Trustee shall authenticate Definitive Notes in exchange for temporary Notes.

Holder and beneficial holders, as the case may be, of temporary Notes shall be entitled to all of the benefits accorded to Holders, or beneficial holders, respectively, of Notes under this Indenture.

SECTION 2.11. Cancellation. The Issuer at any time may deliver Notes to the Trustee for cancellation. The Registrar and Paying Agent shall forward to the Trustee any Notes surrendered to them for registration of transfer, exchange or payment. The Trustee or, at the direction of the Trustee, the Registrar or the Paying Agent and no one else shall cancel all Notes surrendered for registration of transfer, exchange, payment, replacement or cancellation and shall destroy cancelled Notes (subject to the record retention requirement of the Exchange Act). Certification of the destruction of all cancelled Notes shall be delivered to the Issuer. The Issuer may not issue new Notes to replace Notes that it has paid or that have been delivered to the Trustee for cancellation.

SECTION 2.12. Defaulted Interest. If the Issuer defaults in a payment of interest on the Notes, it shall pay the defaulted interest in any lawful manner plus, to the extent lawful, interest payable on the defaulted interest, in each case at the rate provided in the Notes and in Section 4.01 hereof. The Issuer may pay the defaulted interest to the Persons who are Holders on a subsequent special record date. The Issuer shall notify the Trustee in writing of the amount of defaulted interest proposed to be paid on each Note and the date of the proposed payment, and at the same time the Issuer shall deposit with the Trustee an amount of money equal to the aggregate amount proposed to be paid in respect of such defaulted interest or shall make arrangements satisfactory to the Trustee for such deposit prior to the date of the proposed payment, such money when deposited to be held in trust for the benefit of the Persons entitled to such defaulted interest as provided in this Section 2.12. The Issuer shall fix or cause to be fixed any such special record date and payment date; provided that no such special record date shall be less than 10 days prior to the related payment date for such defaulted interest. At least 15 days before any such special record date, the Issuer (or, upon the written request of the Issuer, the Trustee in the name and at the expense of the Issuer) shall mail or cause to be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to each Holder, with a copy to the Trustee, a notice at his or her address as it appears in the Note Register that states the special record date, the related payment date and the amount of such interest to be paid.

Subject to the foregoing provisions of this Section 2.12 and for greater certainty, each Note delivered under this Indenture upon registration of transfer of or in exchange for or in lieu of any other Note shall carry the rights to interest accrued and unpaid, and to accrue, which were carried by such other Note.

SECTION 2.13. CUSIP/ISIN Numbers. The Issuer in issuing the Notes may use CUSIP and ISIN numbers (in each case, if then generally in use) and, if so, the Trustee shall use CUSIP and ISIN numbers in notices of redemption as a convenience to Holders; provided, that any such notice may state that no representation is made as to the correctness of such numbers either as printed on the Notes or as contained in any notice of redemption and that reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers printed on the Notes, and any such redemption shall not be affected by any defect in or omission of such numbers. The Issuer will as promptly as practicable notify the Trustee in writing of any change in the CUSIP and ISIN numbers.

SECTION 2.14. Calculation of Principal Amount of Securities. The aggregate principal amount of the Notes, at any date of determination, shall be the principal amount of the Notes at such date of determination. With respect to any matter requiring consent, waiver, approval or other action of the Holders of a specified percentage of the principal amount of all the Notes, such percentage shall be calculated, on the relevant date of determination, by dividing (a) the principal amount, as of such date of determination, of Notes, the Holders of which have so consented by (b) the aggregate principal amount, as of such date of determination, of the Notes then outstanding, in each case, as determined in accordance with the preceding sentence, Section 2.08 and Section 2.09 of this Indenture. Any such calculation made pursuant to this Section 2.14 shall be made by the Issuer and delivered to the Trustee pursuant to an Officer's Certificate.

ARTICLE III

REDEMPTION

SECTION 3.01. Notices to Trustee. If the Issuer elects to redeem the Notes pursuant to Section 3.07 hereof, it shall furnish to the Trustee, at least two (2) Business Days (or such shorter period as allowed by the Trustee) before notice of redemption is required to be mailed or caused to be mailed to Holders pursuant to Section 3.03 hereof but not more than 60 days before a Redemption Date, an Officer's Certificate of the Issuer setting forth (i) the paragraph or subparagraph of such Note and/or Section of this Indenture pursuant to which the redemption shall occur, (ii) the Redemption Date, (iii) the principal amount of the Notes, to be redeemed and (iv) the redemption price.

SECTION 3.02. Selection of Notes to Be Redeemed. If less than all of the Notes are to be redeemed at any time, the Trustee shall select the Notes to be redeemed (a) if the Notes are listed on any national securities exchange, in compliance with the requirements of the principal national securities exchange on which the Notes are listed or (b) on a pro rata basis to the extent practicable, or, if the pro rata basis is not practicable for any reason, by lot or by such other method the Trustee shall deem fair and appropriate. In the event of partial redemption by lot, the particular Notes to be redeemed shall be selected, unless otherwise provided herein, not less than 30 nor more than 60 days prior to the Redemption Date by the Trustee from the outstanding Notes not previously called for redemption.

The Trustee shall promptly notify the Issuer in writing of the Notes selected for redemption and, in the case of any Note selected for partial redemption, the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. Notes and portions of Notes selected shall be in amounts of $2,000 or whole multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof; no Notes of less than $2,000 can be redeemed in part, except that if all of the Notes of a Holder are to be redeemed, the entire outstanding amount of Notes held by such Holder, even if not a multiple of $1,000 shall be redeemed. Except as provided in the preceding sentence, provisions of this Indenture that apply to Notes called for redemption also apply to portions of Notes called for redemption.

SECTION 3.03. Notice of Redemption. Subject to Section 3.09 hereof, the Issuer shall mail or cause to be mailed by first-class mail notices of redemption at least 30 days but not more than 60 days before the Redemption Date to each Holder of Notes to be redeemed at such Holder's registered address appearing in the Note Register or otherwise in accordance with Applicable Procedures, except that redemption notices may be mailed more than 60 days prior to a Redemption Date if the notice is issued in connection with Article VIII or Article XI hereof. Except pursuant to a notice of redemption delivered in accordance with a redemption pursuant to Sections 3.07(c) hereof, notices of redemption may not be conditional.

The notice shall identify the Notes to be redeemed and shall state:

(a) the Redemption Date;

(b) the appropriate method for calculation of the redemption price, but need not include the redemption price itself; the actual redemption price shall be set forth in an Officer's Certificate delivered to the Trustee no later than two (2) Business Days prior to the Redemption Date unless the redemption is pursuant to Section 3.07(a) hereof, in which case such Officer's Certificate should be delivered on the Redemption Date;

(c) if any Note is to be redeemed in part only, the portion of the principal amount of that Note that is to be redeemed and that, after the Redemption Date upon surrender of such Note, a new Note or Notes in principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion of the original Note representing the same indebtedness to the extent not redeemed will be issued in the name of the Holder of the Notes upon cancellation of the original Note;

(d) the name and address of the Paying Agent;

(e) that Notes called for redemption must be surrendered to the Paying Agent to collect the redemption price;

(f) that, unless the Issuer defaults in making such redemption payment, interest on Notes called for redemption ceases to accrue on and after the Redemption Date;

(g) the paragraph or subparagraph of the Notes and/or Section of this Indenture pursuant to which the Notes called for redemption are being redeemed;

(h) the CUSIP and ISIN number, if any, printed on the Notes being redeemed and that no representation is made as to the correctness or accuracy of any such CUSIP and ISIN number that is listed in such notice or printed on the Notes; and

(i) if in connection with a redemption pursuant to Section 3.07(c) hereof, any condition to such redemption.

At the Issuer's request, the Trustee shall give the notice of redemption in the Issuer's name and at its expense; provided that the Issuer shall have delivered to the Trustee, at least ten days before notice of redemption is required to be mailed or caused to be mailed to Holders pursuant to this Section 3.03 (unless a shorter notice shall be agreed to by the Trustee), an Officer's Certificate of the Issuer requesting that the Trustee give such notice (in which case the Issuer shall provide to the Trustee the complete form of such notice in the name and at the expense of the Issuer) and setting forth the information to be stated in such notice as provided in the preceding paragraph.

The Issuer may provide in the notice of redemption that payment of the redemption price and performance of the Issuer's obligations with respect to such redemption or purchase may be performed by another Person.

SECTION 3.04. Effect of Notice of Redemption. Once notice of redemption is mailed in accordance with Section 3.03 hereof, Notes called for redemption become irrevocably due and payable on the Redemption Date at the redemption price (except as provided for in Sections 3.07(c) hereof). The notice, if mailed in a manner herein provided, shall be conclusively presumed to have been given, whether or not the Holder receives such notice. In any case, failure to give such notice by mail or any defect in the notice to the Holder of any Note designated for redemption in whole or in part shall not affect the validity of the proceedings for the redemption of any other Note. Subject to Section 3.05 hereof, on and after the Redemption Date, interest ceases to accrue on Notes or portions of Notes called for redemption.

SECTION 3.05. Deposit of Redemption Price.

(a) Prior to 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the Redemption Date, the Issuer shall deposit with the Trustee or with the Paying Agent money sufficient to pay the redemption price of and accrued and unpaid interest on all Notes to be redeemed on that Redemption Date. The Trustee or the Paying Agent shall promptly, and in any event within two (2) Business Days after the Redemption Date, return to the Issuer any money deposited with the Trustee or the Paying Agent by the Issuer in excess of the amounts necessary to pay the redemption price of, and accrued and unpaid interest on, all Notes to be redeemed.

(b) If the Issuer complies with the provisions of the preceding paragraph (a), on and after the Redemption Date, interest shall cease to accrue on the applicable series of Notes or the portions of Notes called for redemption, whether or not such Notes are presented for payment. If a Note is redeemed on or after a Record Date but on or prior to the related Interest Payment Date, then any accrued and unpaid interest to the Redemption Date shall be paid to the Person in whose name such Note was registered at the close of business on such Record Date. If any Note called for redemption shall not be so paid upon surrender for redemption because of the failure of the Issuer to comply with the preceding paragraph, interest shall be paid on the unpaid principal, from the Redemption Date until such principal is paid, and to the extent lawful on any interest accrued to the Redemption Date not paid on such unpaid principal, in each case at the rate provided in the Notes and in Section 4.01 hereof.

SECTION 3.06. Notes Redeemed in Part. Upon surrender of a Note that is redeemed in part, the Issuer shall issue and the Trustee shall authenticate for the Holder at the expense of the Issuer a new Note equal in principal amount to the unredeemed portion of the Note surrendered representing the same indebtedness to the extent not redeemed; provided that each new Note will be in a principal amount of $2,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof. It is understood that, notwithstanding anything in this Indenture to the contrary, only an Authentication Order and not an Opinion of Counsel or Officer's Certificate of the Issuer is required for the Trustee to authenticate such new Note.

SECTION 3.07. Optional Redemption.

(a) At any time prior to November 15, 2015, the Notes may be redeemed or purchased (by the Issuer or any other Person), in whole or in part, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of Notes redeemed plus the Applicable Premium as of the date of redemption (the "Redemption").

Date”), and, without duplication, accrued and unpaid interest to the Redemption Date, subject to the rights of Holders on the relevant Record Date to receive interest due on the relevant Interest Payment Date.

(b) On and after November 15, 2015 the Notes may be redeemed, at the Issuer’s option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the applicable redemption price set forth below. The Notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as a percentage of principal amount of the Notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable Redemption Date, subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant Record Date to receive interest due on the relevant Interest Payment Date, if redeemed during the twelve-month period beginning on November 15 of each of the years indicated below:

Year	Percentage
2015	104.250%
2016	102.833%
2018 and thereafter	100.000%

(c) Until November 15, 2013, the Issuer may, at its option, redeem up to 35% of the then outstanding aggregate principal amount of Notes at a redemption price equal to 108.500% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable Redemption Date, subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant Record Date to receive interest due on the relevant Interest Payment Date, with the net cash proceeds of one or more Equity Offerings to the extent such net cash proceeds are contributed to the Issuer; provided that at least 50% of the sum of the aggregate principal amount of Notes originally issued under this Indenture and any Additional Notes issued under this Indenture after the Issue Date remains outstanding immediately after the occurrence of each such redemption; provided, further, that each such redemption occurs within 180 days of the date of closing of each such Equity Offering. Notice of any redemption upon any Equity Offering may be given prior to the redemption thereof, and any such redemption or notice may, at the Issuer’s discretion, be subject to one or more conditions precedent, including, but not limited to, completion of the related Equity Offering.

(d) Any redemption pursuant to this Section 3.07 shall be made pursuant to the provisions of Sections 3.01 through 3.06 hereof.

SECTION 3.08. Mandatory Redemption. The Issuer shall not be required to make any mandatory redemption or sinking fund payments with respect to the Notes.

SECTION 3.09. Asset Sale Offers to Purchase.

(a) In the event that, pursuant to Section 4.10 hereof, the Issuer shall be required to commence an Asset Sale Offer, it shall follow the procedures specified below.

(b) The Asset Sale Offer shall remain open for a period of 20 Business Days following its commencement and no longer, except to the extent that a longer period is required by applicable law (the “Offer Period”). No later than five (5) Business Days after the termination of the Offer Period (the “Purchase Date”), the Issuer shall apply all Excess Proceeds (the “Offer Amount”) to the purchase of Notes and, if required, Pari Passu Indebtedness (on a pro rata basis, if applicable), or, if less than the Offer Amount has been tendered, all Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness, as the case may be, tendered in response to the Asset Sale Offer. Payment for any Notes so purchased shall be made in the same manner as interest payments are made.

(c) If the Purchase Date is on or after a Record Date and on or before the related Interest Payment Date, any accrued and unpaid interest, up to but excluding the Purchase Date, shall be paid to the Person in whose name a Note is registered at the close of business on such Record Date, and no additional interest shall be payable to Holders who tender Notes pursuant to the Asset Sale Offer.

(d) Upon the commencement of an Asset Sale Offer, the Issuer shall send, by first-class mail, postage prepaid, a notice to each of the Holders, with a copy to the Trustee. The notice shall contain all instructions and materials necessary to enable such Holders to tender Notes pursuant to the Asset Sale Offer. The Asset Sale Offer shall be made to all Holders and holders of Pari Passu Indebtedness, as the case may be. The notice, which shall govern the terms of the Asset Sale Offer, shall state:

(i) that the Asset Sale Offer is being made pursuant to this Section 3.09 and Section 4.10 hereof and the length of time the Asset Sale Offer shall remain open;

(ii) the Offer Amount, the purchase price and the Purchase Date;

(iii) that any Note not tendered or accepted for payment shall continue to accrue interest;

(iv) that, unless the Issuer defaults in making such payment, any Note accepted for payment pursuant to the Asset Sale Offer shall cease to accrue interest on and after the Purchase Date;

(v) that any Holder electing to have less than all of the aggregate principal amount of its Notes purchased pursuant to an Asset Sale Offer may elect to have Notes purchased in denominations of $2,000 or whole multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof;

(vi) that Holders electing to have a Note purchased pursuant to any Asset Sale Offer shall be required to surrender the Note, with the form entitled "Option of Holder to Elect Purchase" attached to the Note completed, or transfer by book-entry transfer, to the Issuer, the Depository, if appointed by the Issuer, or a Paying Agent at the address specified in the notice at least two (2) Business Days before the Purchase Date;

(vii) that Holders shall be entitled to withdraw their election if the Issuer, the Depository or the Paying Agent, as the case may be, receives, not later than the expiration of the Offer Period, a facsimile transmission or letter setting forth the name of the Holder, the principal amount of the Note the Holder delivered for purchase and a statement that such Holder is withdrawing his election to have such Note purchased;

(viii) that, if the aggregate principal amount of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness, as the case may be, surrendered pursuant to such Asset Sale Offer by the Holders thereof exceeds the Offer Amount, the Trustee shall select the Notes and the Issuer or the agent for such Pari Passu Indebtedness, as the case may be, will select such Pari Passu Indebtedness to be purchased on a pro rata basis based on the accreted value or principal amount of the Notes or such Pari Passu Indebtedness, as the case may be, surrendered (with such adjustments as may be deemed appropriate by the Trustee so that only Notes in denominations of $2,000 or whole multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof are purchased);

(ix) that Holders whose Notes were purchased only in part shall be issued new Notes equal in principal amount to the unpurchased portion of the Notes surrendered (or transferred by book-entry transfer) representing the same indebtedness to the extent not repurchased; and

(x) any other procedures the Holders must follow in order to tender their Notes (or portions thereof) for payment and the procedures that Holders must follow in order to withdraw an election to tender Notes (or portions thereof) for payment.

(e) On or before the Purchase Date, the Issuer shall, to the extent lawful, (1) accept for payment, on a pro rata basis as described in clause (d)(viii) of this Section 3.09, the Offer Amount of Notes or portions thereof validly tendered pursuant to the Asset Sale Offer, or if less than the Offer Amount has been tendered, all Notes tendered and (2) deliver or cause to be delivered to the Trustee the Notes properly accepted together with an Officer's Certificate stating the aggregate principal amount of Notes or portions thereof so tendered.

(f) The Issuer, the Depositary or the Paying Agent, as the case may be, shall promptly mail or deliver to each tendering Holder an amount equal to the purchase price of the Notes properly tendered by such Holder and accepted by the Issuer for purchase, and the Issuer shall promptly issue a new Note, and the Trustee, upon receipt of an Authentication Order, shall authenticate and mail or deliver (or cause to be transferred by book-entry) such new Note to such Holder (it being understood that, notwithstanding anything in this Indenture to the contrary, no Opinion of Counsel or Officer's Certificate of the Issuer is required for the Trustee to authenticate and mail or deliver such new Note) in a principal amount equal to any unpurchased portion of the Note surrendered representing the same indebtedness to the extent not repurchased. Any Note not so accepted shall be promptly mailed or delivered by the Issuer to the Holder thereof. The Issuer shall publicly announce the results of the Asset Sale Offer on or as soon as practicable after the Purchase Date.

(g) Prior to 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the purchase date, the Issuer shall deposit with the Trustee or with the Paying Agent money sufficient to pay the purchase price of and accrued and unpaid interest on all Notes to be purchased on that purchase date. The Trustee or the Paying Agent shall promptly, and in any event within two Business Days, return to the Issuer any money deposited with the Trustee or the Paying Agent by the Issuer in excess of the amounts necessary to pay the purchase price of, and accrued and unpaid interest on, all Notes to be redeemed.

Other than as specifically provided in this Section 3.09 or Section 4.10 hereof, any purchase pursuant to this Section 3.09 shall be made pursuant to the applicable provisions of Sections 3.01 through 3.06 hereof, and references therein to "redeem," "redemption" and similar words shall be deemed to refer to "purchase," "repurchase" and similar words, as applicable. To the extent that the provisions of any securities laws or regulations conflict with Section 4.10, this Section 3.09 or other provisions of this Indenture, the Issuer shall comply with applicable securities laws and regulations and shall not be deemed to have breached its obligations under Section 4.10, this Section 3.09 or such other provision by virtue of such compliance.

ARTICLE IV

COVENANTS

SECTION 4.01. Payment of Notes. The Issuer shall pay or cause to be paid the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Notes on the dates and in the manner provided in the Notes. Principal, premium, if any, and interest shall be considered paid on the date due if the Paying Agent, if other than the Issuer, a Guarantor or an Affiliate of the Issuer or a Guarantor, holds as of 11:00 a.m. Eastern Time on the due date money deposited by the Issuer in immediately available funds and designated for and sufficient to pay all principal, premium, if any, and interest then due.

The Issuer shall pay interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on overdue principal at the rate equal to the then applicable interest rate on the Notes to the extent lawful; it shall pay interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on overdue installments of interest (without regard to any applicable grace period) at the same rate to the extent lawful.

SECTION 4.02. Maintenance of Office or Agency . The Issuer shall maintain the offices or agencies (which may be an office of the Trustee or an affiliate of the Trustee, Registrar or co-registrar) required under Section 2.03 where Notes may be surrendered for registration of transfer or for exchange and where notices and demands to or upon the Issuer in respect of the Notes and this Indenture may be served. The Issuer shall give prompt written notice to the Trustee of the location, and any change in the location, of such office or agency. If at any time the Issuer shall fail to maintain any such required office or agency or shall fail to furnish the Trustee with the address thereof, such presentations, surrenders, notices and demands may be made or served at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee.

The Issuer may also from time to time designate one or more other offices or agencies where the Notes may be presented or surrendered for any or all such purposes and may from time to time rescind such designations; provided that no such designation or rescission shall in any manner relieve the Issuer of its obligation to maintain such offices or agencies as required by Section 2.03 for such purposes. The Issuer shall give prompt written notice to the Trustee of any such designation or rescission and of any change in the location of any such other office or agency.

The Issuer hereby designates the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee as one such office or agency of the Issuer in accordance with Section 2.03 hereof.

SECTION 4.03. Reports and Other Information .

(a) From and after the Issue Date, for so long as the Notes remain outstanding, unless the Issuer is subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act or otherwise complies with such reporting requirements, the Issuer will furnish without cost to each Holder and file with the Trustee,

(i) within 90 days after the end of each fiscal year of the Issuer:

(A) audited year-end consolidated financial statements of the Issuer and its Subsidiaries (including balance sheets, statements of operations and statements of cash flows which would be required from an SEC registrant in an Annual Report Form 10-K, including pursuant to Rule 3-10 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC) prepared in accordance with GAAP; provided, however, the Issuer will have no obligation to provide financial statements of affiliates pursuant to Rule 3-16 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC;

(B) the information described in Item 303 of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act (“ Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations ”) with respect to such period, to the extent such information would otherwise be required to be filed in an Annual Report on Form 10-K;

(C) a presentation of OIBDA and EBITDA of the Issuer derived from such financial statements referred to in clause (i)(A) above; and

(D) all pro forma and historical information in respect of any significant transaction (as determined in accordance with Rule 3-05 of Regulation S-X under the Securities Act) consummated more than 75 days prior to the date such information is furnished for the time periods for which such financial information would be required (if the Issuer were subject to the filing requirements of the Exchange Act) in a filing on Form 8-K with the SEC at such time;

(ii) within 45 days after the end of each of the first three fiscal quarters of each fiscal year of the Issuer:

(A) unaudited quarterly consolidated financial statements of the Issuer and its Subsidiaries (including balance sheets, statements of operations and statements of cash flows which would be required from a SEC registrant in a Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, including pursuant to Rule 3-10 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC) and a SAS 100 or AU §722, as applicable, review by the Issuer's independent accountants) prepared in accordance with GAAP, subject to normal year-end adjustments; provided, however, the Issuer will have no obligation to provide financial statements of affiliates pursuant to Rule 3-16 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC;

(B) the information described in Item 303 of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act with respect to such period to the extent such information would otherwise be required to be filed in a Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q;

(C) a presentation of OIBDA and EBITDA of the Issuer derived from such financial statements referred to in clause (ii)(A) above; and

(D) all pro forma and historical financial information in respect of any significant transaction (as determined in accordance with Rule 3-05 of Regulation S-X under the Securities Act) consummated more than 75 days prior to the date such information is furnished to the extent not previously provided and for the time periods such financial information would be required (if the Issuer were subject to the filing requirements of the Exchange Act) in a filing on Form 8-K with the SEC at such time; and

(iii) within five (5) Business Days following the occurrence of any of the following events, a description in reasonable detail of such event: (A) any change in the executive officers or directors of the Issuer, (B) any incurrence of any material on-balance sheet or material off-balance sheet long-term debt obligation or capital lease obligation (each as defined in Item 303 of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act) of or relating to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, (C) the acceleration of any Indebtedness of the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, (D) any issuance or sale by the Issuer of Equity Interests of the Issuer (excluding any issuance or sale pursuant to any stock option plan in the ordinary course of business), (E) the entry into of any agreement by the Issuer or any of its Subsidiaries relating to a transaction that has resulted or may result in a Change of Control, (F) any resignation or termination of the independent accountants of the Issuer or any engagement of any new independent accountants of the Issuer, (G) any determination by the Issuer or the receipt of advice or notice by the Issuer from its independent accountants, in either case, relating to non-reliance on previously issued financial statements, a related audit opinion or a completed interim review and (H) the completion by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries of the acquisition or disposition of a significant amount of assets, otherwise than in the ordinary course of business, in each case to the extent such information would be required from an SEC registrant in a Form 8-K.

Delivery of such reports, information and documents to the Trustee is for informational purposes only and the Trustee's receipt of such shall not constitute constructive notice of any information contained therein, including compliance with any of the covenants hereunder (as to which the Trustee is entitled to rely exclusively on Officer's Certificates). The Trustee is under no duty to examine such reports, information or documents to ensure compliance with the provisions of this Indenture or to ascertain the correctness or otherwise of the information or statements contained therein. The Trustee is entitled to assume such compliance and correctness unless a Responsible Officer of the Trustee is informed in writing otherwise.

(b) The Issuer shall provide S&P and Moody's (and their respective successors) with information on a periodic basis as S&P or Moody's, as the case may be, shall reasonably require in order to maintain public ratings of the Notes. In addition, the Issuer has agreed that, for so long as any Notes remain outstanding, it will furnish to the Holders and to securities analysts and prospective investors that certify that they are qualified institutional buyers, upon their request, the information described above as well as all information required to be delivered pursuant to Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act.

(c) The Issuer shall either (1) maintain a website (which may be non-public) to which Holders, prospective investors that certify that they are qualified institutional buyers, securities analysts and market makers ("Permitted Parties") are given access and to which such information is posted or (2) file such information with the SEC.

(d) For so long as any Notes are outstanding, the Issuer shall also:

(A) within 15 Business Days after filing with the Trustee the annual and quarterly information required pursuant to clauses (1) and (2) above, hold a conference call for Permitted Parties to discuss such reports and the results of operations for the relevant reporting period; and

(B) employ commercially reasonable means expected to reach Permitted Parties no fewer than three (3) Business Days prior to the date of the conference call required to be held in accordance with clause (A) above, to announce the time and date of such conference call and either include all information necessary to access the call or direct Permitted Parties to contact the appropriate person at the Issuer to obtain such information.

(e) If at any time any direct or indirect parent becomes a Guarantor (there being no obligation of any such parent to do so), such entity holds no material assets other than cash, Cash Equivalents and the Capital Stock of the Issuer or any other direct or indirect parent of the Issuer (and performs the related incidental activities associated with such ownership) and would comply with the requirements of Rule 3-10 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC (or any successor provision), the reports, information and other documents required to be furnished to Holders of the Notes pursuant to this covenant may, at the option of the Issuer, be furnished by and be those of parent rather than the Issuer.

SECTION 4.04. Compliance Certificate.

(a) The Issuer shall deliver to the Trustee, within 90 days after the end of each fiscal year ending after the Issue Date, a certificate from the principal executive officer, principal financial officer or principal accounting officer stating that a review of the activities of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries during the preceding fiscal year has been made under the supervision of the signing Officer with a view to determining whether the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries have kept, observed, performed and fulfilled their obligations under this Indenture, and further stating, as to such Officer signing such certificate, that to the best of his or her knowledge the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries have kept, observed, performed and fulfilled each and every condition and covenant contained in this Indenture and is not in default in the performance or observance of any of the terms, provisions, covenants and conditions of this Indenture (or, if a Default shall have occurred, describing all such Defaults of which he or she may have knowledge and what action the Issuer is taking or proposes to take with respect thereto). Except with respect to receipt of payment on Notes required by this Indenture and any Default or Event of Default information contained in an Officer's Certificate delivered to it pursuant to this Section 4.04, the Trustee shall have no duty to review, ascertain or confirm the Issuer's compliance with or breach of any representation, warranty or covenant made in this Indenture.

(b) When any Default has occurred and is continuing under this Indenture, or if the Trustee or the holder of any other evidence of Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Subsidiary gives any notice or takes any other action with respect to a claimed Default, the Issuer shall, within five (5) Business Days after becoming aware of such Default, deliver to the Trustee by registered or certified mail or by facsimile transmission an Officer's Certificate specifying such event.

SECTION 4.05. Taxes. The Issuer shall pay, and shall cause each of its Restricted Subsidiaries to pay, prior to delinquency, all material taxes, assessments, and governmental levies except such as are contested in good faith and by appropriate negotiations or proceedings or where the failure to effect such payment is not adverse in any material respect to the Holders of the Notes.

SECTION 4.06. Stay, Extension and Usury Laws. The Issuer and each of the Guarantors covenant (to the extent that they may lawfully do so) that they shall not at any time insist upon, plead, or in any manner whatsoever claim or take the benefit or advantage of, any stay, extension or usury law wherever enacted, now or at any time hereafter in force, that may affect the covenants or the performance of this Indenture; and the Issuer and each of the Guarantors (to the extent that they may lawfully do so) hereby expressly waive all benefit or advantage of any such law, and covenant that they shall not, by resort to any such law, hinder, delay or impede the execution of any power herein granted to the Trustee, but shall suffer and permit the execution of every such power as though no such law has been enacted.

SECTION 4.07. Limitation on Restricted Payments.

(a) The Issuer shall not, and shall not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly:

(i) declare or pay any dividend or make any payment or distribution on account of the Issuer's or any Restricted Subsidiary's Equity Interests, including any dividend or distribution payable in connection with any merger or consolidation other than:

(A) dividends or distributions payable solely in Equity Interests (other than Disqualified Stock) of the Issuer; or

(B) dividends or distributions by a Restricted Subsidiary so long as, in the case of any dividend or distribution payable on or in respect of any class or series of securities issued by a Restricted Subsidiary other than a Wholly Owned Subsidiary of the Issuer, the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary receives at least its pro rata share of such dividend or distribution in accordance with its Equity Interests in such class or series of securities;

(ii) purchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire or retire for value any Equity Interests of the Issuer or any direct or indirect parent of the Issuer, including in connection with any merger or consolidation;

(iii) make any principal payment on, or redeem, repurchase, defease or otherwise acquire or retire for value in each case, prior to any scheduled repayment, sinking fund payment or maturity, any Subordinated Indebtedness other than:

(A) Indebtedness permitted under clause (7) of Section 4.09(b) hereof; or

(B) the purchase, repurchase or other acquisition of Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries purchased in anticipation of satisfying a sinking fund obligation, principal installment or final maturity, in each case due within one year of the date of purchase, repurchase or acquisition; or

(iv) make any Restricted Investment

(all such payments and other actions set forth in clauses (i) through (iv) above being collectively referred to as “Restricted Payments”), unless, at the time of such Restricted Payment:

(1) no Default shall have occurred and be continuing or would occur as a consequence thereof;

(2) immediately after giving effect to such transaction on a pro forma basis, the Issuer could incur $1.00 of additional Indebtedness pursuant to the Consolidated Leverage Ratio test set forth in Section 4.09(a) hereof; and

(3) such Restricted Payment, together with the aggregate amount of all other Restricted Payments made by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries after the Issue Date (including Restricted Payments permitted by clauses (1), (2) (with respect to the payment of dividends on Refunding Capital Stock pursuant to clause (c) thereof only), (6)(c) and (9) of Section 4.07(b) hereof, but excluding all other Restricted Payments permitted by Section 4.07(b) hereof), is less than the sum of (without duplication):

(A) EBITDA of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis for the period beginning on the first day of the first full fiscal quarter of the Issuer commencing after June 30, 2010, to the end of the Issuer’s most recently ended fiscal quarter for which internal financial statements are available at the time of such Restricted Payment, less the product of 1.4 times the Consolidated Interest Expense of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries for the same period; plus

(B) 100% of the aggregate net cash proceeds and the fair market value, as determined in good faith by the Issuer, of marketable securities or other property received by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary (without the issuance of additional Equity Interests in such Restricted Subsidiary) since immediately after July 1, 2010 (other than net cash proceeds to the extent such net cash proceeds have been used to incur Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock pursuant to clause 11(a) of Section 4.09(b) hereof) from the issue or sale of:

(i) (A) Equity Interests of the Issuer, including Treasury Capital Stock, but excluding cash proceeds and the fair market value, as determined in good faith by the Issuer, of marketable securities or other property received from the sale of:

(x) Equity Interests to members of management, directors or consultants of the Issuer, Restricted Subsidiaries and any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer, after the Issue Date to the extent such amounts have been applied to Restricted Payments made in accordance with clause (4) of Section 4.07(b) hereof; and

(y) Designated Preferred Stock; and

(B) to the extent such net cash proceeds or other property are actually contributed to the capital of Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary (without the issuance of additional Equity Interests of such Restricted Subsidiary), Equity Interests of the Issuer's direct or indirect parent companies (excluding contributions of the proceeds from the sale of Designated Preferred Stock of such companies or contributions to the extent such amounts have been applied to Restricted Payments made in accordance with clause (4) of Section 4.07(b) hereof; or

(ii) debt of the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary that has been converted into or exchanged for such Equity Interests of the Issuer or a direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer;

provided, however, that this clause (B) shall not include the proceeds from (W) Refunding Capital Stock, (X) Equity Interests or convertible debt securities sold to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, (Y) Disqualified Stock or debt securities that have been converted into Disqualified Stock or (Z) Excluded Contributions; plus

(C) 100% of the aggregate amount of cash and the fair market value, as determined in good faith by the Issuer, of marketable securities or other property contributed to the capital of the Issuer following July 1, 2010 (other than (i) net cash proceeds to the extent such net cash proceeds have been used to incur Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock pursuant to clause (11)(a) of Section 4.09(b) hereof, (ii) by a Restricted Subsidiary and (iii) any Excluded Contributions); plus

(D) 100% of the aggregate amount received in cash and the fair market value, as determined in good faith by the Issuer, of marketable securities or other property received by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary by means of:

(i) the sale or other disposition (other than to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) of Restricted Investments made by the Issuer or its Restricted Subsidiaries and repurchases and redemptions of such Restricted Investments from the Issuer or its Restricted Subsidiaries and repayments of loans or advances, and releases of guarantees, which constitute Restricted Investments by the Issuer or its Restricted Subsidiaries, in each case after the Issue Date; or

(ii) the sale or other disposition (other than to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) of the stock of an Unrestricted Subsidiary (other than to the extent the Investment in such Unrestricted Subsidiary was made by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary pursuant to clause (7) of Section 4.07(b) or to the extent such Investment constituted a Permitted Investment) or a dividend or distribution from an Unrestricted Subsidiary after the Issue Date; plus

(E) in the case of the redesignation of an Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary after the Issue Date, the fair market value of the Investment in such Unrestricted Subsidiary, as determined by the Issuer in good faith or if such fair market value may exceed $100.0 million, in writing by an Independent Financial Advisor, at the time of the redesignation of such Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary, other than an Unrestricted Subsidiary to the extent the Investment in such Unrestricted Subsidiary was made by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary pursuant to clause (7) of Section 4.07(b) hereof or to the extent such Investment constituted a Permitted Investment; provided, however, that, with respect to clauses (B), (C) and (D) above, to the extent the property received or contributed includes a “stick” station or stations or Equity Interests of a Person whose assets include a “stick” station or stations, the fair market value of such property shall be determined in good faith by the board of directors of the Issuer.

(b) The foregoing provisions of Section 4.07(a) hereof will not prohibit:

(1) the payment of any dividend within 60 days after the date of declaration thereof, if at the date of declaration such payment would have complied with the provisions of this Indenture;

(2) (a) the redemption, repurchase, retirement or other acquisition of any (i) Equity Interests (“Treasury Capital Stock”) of the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary or Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Guarantor or (ii) Equity Interests of any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer, in the case of each of clause (i) and (ii), in exchange for, or out of the proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale (other than to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) of, Equity Interests of the Issuer, or any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer to the extent contributed to the capital of the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary (in each case, other than any Disqualified Stock) (“Refunding Capital Stock”), (b) the declaration and payment of dividends on the Treasury Capital Stock out of the proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale (other than to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) of the Refunding Capital Stock, and (c) if immediately prior to the retirement of Treasury Capital Stock, the declaration and payment of dividends thereon was permitted under clause (6)(A) or (B) of this paragraph, the declaration and payment of dividends on the Refunding Capital Stock (other than Refunding Capital Stock the proceeds of which were used to redeem, repurchase, retire or otherwise acquire any Equity Interests of any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer) in an aggregate amount per year no greater than the aggregate amount of dividends per annum that were declarable and payable on such Treasury Capital Stock immediately prior to such retirement;

(3) the redemption, repurchase or other acquisition or retirement of Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Restricted Guarantor made by exchange for, or out of the proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale of, new Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Restricted Guarantor, as the case may be, which is incurred in compliance with Section 4.09 hereof so long as:

(A) the principal amount (or accreted value, if applicable) of such new Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount of (or accreted value, if applicable), plus any accrued and unpaid interest on, the Subordinated Indebtedness being so redeemed, repurchased, acquired or retired for value, plus the amount of any premium required to be paid under the terms of the instrument governing the Subordinated Indebtedness being so redeemed, repurchased, acquired or retired and any fees and expenses incurred in connection with the issuance of such new Indebtedness;

(B) such new Indebtedness is subordinated to the Notes or the applicable Guarantee at least to the same extent as such Subordinated Indebtedness so purchased, exchanged, redeemed, repurchased, acquired or retired for value;

(C) such new Indebtedness has a final scheduled maturity date equal to or later than the final scheduled maturity date of the Subordinated Indebtedness being so redeemed, repurchased, acquired or retired; and

(D) such new Indebtedness has a Weighted Average Life to Maturity equal to or greater than the remaining Weighted Average Life to Maturity of the Subordinated Indebtedness being so redeemed, repurchased, acquired or retired;

(4) a Restricted Payment to pay for the repurchase, retirement or other acquisition or retirement for value of Equity Interests (other than Disqualified Stock) of the Issuer or any of its direct or indirect parent companies held by any future, present or former employee, director or consultant of the Issuer, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective direct or indirect parent companies pursuant to any management equity plan or stock option plan or any other management or employee benefit plan or agreement; provided, however, that the aggregate Restricted Payments made under this clause (4) do not exceed $150.0 million in the calendar year ending December 31, 2010 or $75.0 million in each succeeding calendar year (with unused amounts in any calendar year being carried over to succeeding calendar years subject to a maximum of $150.0 million in any calendar year); provided, further, that such amount in any calendar year may be increased by an amount not to exceed:

(A) the cash proceeds from the sale of Equity Interests (other than Disqualified Stock) of the Issuer and, to the extent contributed to the capital of the Issuer, Equity Interests of any of the direct or indirect parent companies of the Issuer, in each case to members of management, directors or consultants of the Issuer, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective direct or indirect parent companies that occurs after the Issue Date, to the extent the cash proceeds from the sale of such Equity Interests have not otherwise been applied to the payment of Restricted Payments by virtue of clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) hereof; plus

(B) the cash proceeds of key man life insurance policies received by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries after the Issue Date; less

(C) the amount of any Restricted Payments previously made with the cash proceeds described in clauses (A) and (B) of this clause (4);

and provided, further, that cancellation of Indebtedness owing to the Issuer from members of management of the Issuer, any of its Subsidiaries or its direct or indirect parent companies in connection with a repurchase of Equity Interests of the Issuer or any of the Issuer's direct or indirect parent companies will not be deemed to constitute a Restricted Payment for purposes of this covenant or any other provision of this Indenture;

(5) the declaration and payment of dividends to holders of any class or series of Disqualified Stock of the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries issued in accordance with Section 4.09 hereof;

(6) (A) the declaration and payment of dividends to holders of any class or series of Designated Preferred Stock (other than Disqualified Stock) issued by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries after the Issue Date, provided that the amount of dividends paid pursuant to this clause (A) shall not exceed the aggregate amount of cash actually received by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary from the issuance of such Designated Preferred Stock;

(B) a Restricted Payment to a direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer, the proceeds of which will be used to fund the payment of dividends to holders of any class or series of Designated Preferred Stock (other than Disqualified Stock) of such parent corporation issued after the Issue Date, provided that the amount of Restricted Payments paid pursuant to this clause (B) shall not exceed the aggregate amount of cash actually contributed to the capital of the Issuer from the sale of such Designated Preferred Stock; or provided, in the case of each of (A), (B) and (C) of this clause (6), that for the most recently ended four full fiscal quarters for which internal financial statements are available immediately preceding the date of issuance of such Designated Preferred Stock or the declaration of such dividends on Refunding Capital Stock that is Preferred Stock, after giving effect to such issuance or declaration on a pro forma basis, the Issuer could incur $1.00 of additional Indebtedness pursuant to the Consolidated Leverage Ratio test set forth in Section 4.09(a) hereof;

(7) Investments in Unrestricted Subsidiaries having an aggregate fair market value, taken together with all other Investments made pursuant to this clause (7) that are at the time outstanding, without giving effect to any distribution pursuant to clause (15) of this Section 4.07(b) or the sale of an Unrestricted Subsidiary to the extent the proceeds of such sale do not consist of cash or marketable securities, not to exceed 1.5% of Total Assets at the time of such Investment (with the fair market value of each Investment being measured at the time made and without giving effect to subsequent changes in value);

(8) repurchases of Equity Interests deemed to occur upon exercise of stock options or warrants if such Equity Interests represent a portion of the exercise price of such options or warrants;

(9) the declaration and payment of dividends on the Issuer's common stock (or a Restricted Payment to any direct or indirect parent entity to fund a payment of dividends on such entity's common stock), following the first public Equity Offering of such common stock after the Issue Date, of up to 6% per annum of the net cash proceeds received by (or, in the case of a Restricted Payment to a direct or indirect parent entity, contributed to the capital of) the Issuer in or from any such public Equity Offering;

(10) Restricted Payments that are made with Excluded Contributions;

(11) other Restricted Payments in an aggregate amount taken together with all other Restricted Payments made pursuant to this clause (11) not to exceed $150.0 million, or if the Consolidated Leverage Ratio is less than 9.5 to 1.0 on a pro forma basis after giving effect to such transaction, 3.0% of Total Assets at the time made;

(12) distributions or payments of Receivables Fees;

(13) the repurchase, redemption or other acquisition or retirement for value of any Subordinated Indebtedness pursuant to the provisions similar to those described under Section 4.10 and Section 4.14 hereof; provided that all Notes tendered by Holders in connection with a Change of Control Offer or Asset Sale Offer, as applicable, have been repurchased, redeemed or acquired for value;

(14) the declaration and payment of dividends or the payment of other distributions by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary to, or the making of loans or advances to, any of their respective direct or indirect parents in amounts required for any direct or indirect parent companies to pay, in each case without duplication,

(A) franchise taxes and other fees, taxes and expenses required to maintain their corporate existence;

(B) federal, foreign, state and local income or franchise taxes; provided that, in each fiscal year, the amount of such payments shall be equal to the amount that the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries would be required to pay in respect of federal, foreign, state and local income or franchise taxes if such entities were corporations paying taxes separately from any parent entity at the highest combined applicable federal, foreign, state, local or franchise tax rate for such fiscal year;

(C) customary salary, bonus and other benefits payable to officers and employees of any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer to the extent such salaries, bonuses and other benefits are attributable to the ownership or operation of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries;

(D) general corporate operating and overhead costs and expenses of any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer to the extent such costs and expenses are attributable to the ownership or operation of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries;

(E) amounts payable to the Investors pursuant to the Sponsor Management Agreement or any similar agreement, so long as such amount does not exceed the amounts otherwise payable under the Sponsor Management Agreement as in effect on the Issue Date (subject to the right to include additional designees to receive payment thereunder);

(F) fees and expenses other than to Affiliates of the Issuer related to (i) any equity or debt offering of such parent entity (whether or not successful) and (ii) any Investment otherwise permitted under this covenant (whether or not successful);

(G) cash payments in lieu of issuing fractional shares in connection with the exercise of warrants, options or other securities convertible into or exchangeable for Equity Interests of the Issuer or any direct or indirect parent; and

(H) to finance Investments otherwise permitted to be made pursuant to this covenant; provided that (A) such Restricted Payment shall be made substantially concurrently with the closing of such Investment, (B) such direct or indirect parent company shall, immediately following the closing thereof, cause (1) all property acquired (whether assets or Equity Interests) to be contributed to the capital of the Issuer or one of its Restricted Subsidiaries or (2) the merger of the Person formed or acquired into the Issuer or one of its Restricted Subsidiaries (to the extent not prohibited by Section 5.01 hereof) in order to consummate such Investment, (C) such direct or indirect parent company and its Affiliates (other than the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) receives no consideration or other payment in connection with such transaction except to the extent the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary could have given such consideration or made such payment in compliance with this Indenture, (D) any property received by the Issuer shall not increase amounts available for Restricted Payments pursuant to clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) and (E) such Investment shall be deemed to be made by the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary by another provision of this covenant (other than pursuant to clause (10) of this Section 4.07(b)) or pursuant to the definition of "Permitted Investments" (other than clause (9) thereof);

(15) the distribution, by dividend or otherwise, of shares of Capital Stock of, or Indebtedness owed to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary by, Unrestricted Subsidiaries (other than Unrestricted Subsidiaries, the primary assets of which are cash and/or Cash Equivalents that were contributed to such Unrestricted Subsidiaries as an Investment pursuant to clause (7) of this Section 4.07(b));

(16) payments or distributions to dissenting stockholders pursuant to applicable law, pursuant to or in connection with a consolidation, merger or transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, that complies with Section 5.01 hereof; provided that as a result of such consolidation, merger or transfer of assets, the Issuer shall have made a Change of Control Offer and that all Notes tendered by Holders in connection with such Change of Control Offer have been repurchased, redeemed or acquired for value; and

(17) payments, distributions or dividends payable to the direct or indirect parent of the Issuer to service cash interest and/or cash dividends when and as due on any notes issued by the Issuer or the direct or indirect parent of the Issuer pursuant to the Televisa MOU, provided, however, the aggregate Restricted Payments made under this clause (17) shall not exceed $20.0 million in any fiscal year;

provided, however, that at the time of, and after giving effect to, any Restricted Payment permitted under clauses (11) and (15) of this Section 4.07(b), no Default shall have occurred and be continuing or would occur as a consequence thereof.

(c) As of the Issue Date, all of the Subsidiaries of the Issuer will be Restricted Subsidiaries. The Issuer will not permit any Unrestricted Subsidiary to become a Restricted Subsidiary except pursuant to the last sentence of the definition of "Unrestricted Subsidiary." For purposes of designating any Restricted Subsidiary as an Unrestricted Subsidiary, all outstanding Investments by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries (except to the extent repaid) in the Subsidiary so designated will be deemed to be Restricted Payments in an amount determined as set forth in the last sentence of the definition of "Investment." Such designation will be permitted only if a Restricted Payment in such amount would be permitted at such time, whether pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant or under clause (7), (10) or (11) of Section 4.07(b) hereof, or pursuant to the definition of "Permitted Investments," and if such Subsidiary otherwise meets the definition of an Unrestricted Subsidiary.

SECTION 4.08. Dividend and Other Payment Restrictions Affecting Restricted Subsidiaries.

(a) The Issuer shall not, and shall not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries that are not Guarantors to, directly or indirectly, create or otherwise cause or suffer to exist or become effective any consensual encumbrance or consensual restriction on the ability of any such Restricted Subsidiary to:

(1) (A) pay dividends or make any other distributions to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries on its Capital Stock or with respect to any other interest or participation in, or measured by, its profits, or (B) pay any Indebtedness owed to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries;

(2) make loans or advances to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries; or

(3) sell, lease or transfer any of its properties or assets to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries.

(b) The restrictions in Section 4.08(a) hereof shall not apply to encumbrances or restrictions existing under or by reason of:

(1) contractual encumbrances or restrictions pursuant to the Senior Credit Facilities and the Existing Senior Notes and the related documentation and contractual encumbrances or restrictions in effect on the Issue Date;

(2) this Indenture and the Notes;

(3) purchase money obligations for property acquired in the ordinary course of business that impose restrictions of the nature discussed in clause (3) of Section 4.08(a) hereof on the property so acquired;

(4) applicable law or any applicable rule, regulation or order;

(5) any agreement or other instrument of a Person acquired by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries in existence at the time of such acquisition (but not created in contemplation thereof), which encumbrance or restriction is not applicable to any Person, or the properties or assets of any Person, other than the Person and its Subsidiaries, or the property or assets of the Person and its Subsidiaries, so acquired;

(6) contracts for the sale of assets, including customary restrictions with respect to a Subsidiary of (i) the Issuer or (ii) a Restricted Subsidiary, pursuant to an agreement that has been entered into for the sale or disposition of all or substantially all of the Capital Stock or assets of such Subsidiary that impose restrictions on the assets to be sold;

(7) Secured Indebtedness otherwise permitted to be incurred pursuant to Section 4.09 hereof and Section 4.12 hereof that limit the right of the debtor to dispose of the assets securing such Indebtedness;

(8) restrictions on cash or other deposits or net worth imposed by customers under contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business;

(9) other Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of Foreign Subsidiaries permitted to be incurred subsequent to the Issue Date pursuant to the provisions of Section 4.09 hereof;

(10) customary provisions in joint venture agreements and other similar agreements relating solely to such joint venture;

(11) customary provisions contained in leases or licenses of intellectual property and other agreements, in each case, entered into in the ordinary course of business;

(12) any encumbrances or restrictions of the type referred to in clauses (1), (2) and (3) of Section 4.08(a) hereof imposed by any amendments, modifications, restatements, renewals, increases, supplements, refundings, replacements or refinancings of the contracts, instruments or obligations referred to in clauses (1) through (11) of this Section 4.08(b); provided that such amendments, modifications, restatements, renewals, increases, supplements, refundings, replacements or refinancings are, in the good faith judgment of the Issuer, no more restrictive with respect to such encumbrance and other restrictions taken as a whole than those prior to such amendment, modification, restatement, renewal, increase, supplement, refunding, replacement or refinancing; and

(13) restrictions created in connection with any Receivables Facility that, in the good faith determination of the Issuer, are necessary or advisable to effect such Receivables Facility.

SECTION 4.09. Limitation on Incurrence of Indebtedness and Issuance of Disqualified Stock and Preferred Stock .

(a) The Issuer will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, create, incur, issue, assume, guarantee or otherwise become directly or indirectly liable, contingently or otherwise (collectively, “incur” and collectively, an “incurrence”) with respect to any Indebtedness (including Acquired Indebtedness) and the Issuer and the Restricted Guarantors will not issue any shares of Disqualified Stock and will not permit any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor to issue any shares of Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock; provided, however, that the Issuer and the Restricted Guarantors may incur Indebtedness (including Acquired Indebtedness) or issue shares of Disqualified Stock, and any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor may incur Indebtedness (including Acquired Indebtedness), issue shares of Disqualified Stock and issue shares of Preferred Stock, if the Consolidated Leverage Ratio at the time such additional Indebtedness is incurred or such Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock is issued would have been no greater than 8.5 to 1.0, determined on a pro forma basis (including a pro forma application of the net proceeds therefrom), as if the additional Indebtedness had been incurred, or the Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock had been issued, as the case may be, and the application of proceeds therefrom had occurred at the beginning of the most recently ended four fiscal quarters for which internal financial statements are available.

(b) The provisions of Section 4.09(a) hereof shall not apply to:

(1) the incurrence of Indebtedness under Credit Facilities by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries and the issuance and creation of letters of credit and bankers’ acceptances thereunder (with letters of credit and bankers’ acceptances being deemed to have a principal amount equal to the face amount thereof), up to an aggregate principal amount of $7,500 million outstanding at any one time;

(2) the incurrence by the Issuer and any Restricted Guarantor of Indebtedness represented by the Notes (including any Guarantee, but excluding any Additional Notes);

(3) Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries in existence on the Issue Date (other than Indebtedness described in clauses (1) and (2) of this Section 4.09(b));

(4) Indebtedness (including Capitalized Lease Obligations), Disqualified Stock and Preferred Stock incurred by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, to finance the purchase, lease or improvement of property (real or personal) or equipment that is used or useful in a Similar Business, whether through the direct purchase of assets or the Capital Stock of any Person owning such assets in an aggregate principal amount, together with any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect thereof and all other Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock and/or Preferred Stock incurred and outstanding under this clause (4), not to exceed $150.0 million at any time outstanding; so long as such Indebtedness exists at the date of such purchase, lease or improvement, or is created within 270 days thereafter;

(5) Indebtedness incurred by the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary constituting reimbursement obligations with respect to bankers' acceptances and letters of credit issued in the ordinary course of business, including letters of credit in respect of workers' compensation claims, or other Indebtedness with respect to reimbursement type obligations regarding workers' compensation claims; provided, however, that upon the drawing of such bankers' acceptances and letters of credit or the incurrence of such Indebtedness, such obligations are reimbursed within 30 days following such drawing or incurrence;

(6) Indebtedness arising from agreements of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary providing for indemnification, adjustment of purchase price or similar obligations, in each case, incurred or assumed in connection with the disposition of any business, assets or a Subsidiary, other than guarantees of Indebtedness incurred by any Person acquiring all or any portion of such business, assets or a Subsidiary for the purpose of financing such acquisition; provided, however, that such Indebtedness is not reflected on the balance sheet (other than by application of FIN 45 as a result of an amendment to an obligation in existence on the Issue Date) of the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary (contingent obligations referred to in a footnote to financial statements and not otherwise reflected on the balance sheet will not be deemed to be reflected on such balance sheet for purposes of this clause (6));

(7) Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary to another Restricted Subsidiary; provided that any such Indebtedness owing by the Issuer or a Guarantor to a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor is expressly subordinated in right of payment to the Notes or the Guarantee of the Notes, as the case may be; provided, further, that any subsequent issuance or transfer of any Capital Stock or any other event which results in any Restricted Subsidiary ceasing to be a Restricted Subsidiary or any other subsequent transfer of any such Indebtedness (except to the Issuer or another Restricted Subsidiary or any pledge of such Indebtedness constituting a Permitted Lien) shall be deemed, in each case, to be an incurrence of such Indebtedness not permitted by this clause (7);

(8) shares of Preferred Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary issued to the Issuer or another Restricted Subsidiary, provided that any subsequent issuance or transfer of any Capital Stock or any other event which results in any such Restricted Subsidiary ceasing to be a Restricted

Subsidiary or any other subsequent transfer of any such shares of Preferred Stock (except to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) shall be deemed in each case to be an issuance of such shares of Preferred Stock not permitted by this clause (8);

(9) Hedging Obligations (excluding Hedging Obligations entered into for speculative purposes) for the purpose of limiting interest rate risk with respect to any Indebtedness permitted to be incurred pursuant to this covenant, exchange rate risk or commodity pricing risk;

(10) obligations in respect of customs, stay, performance, bid, appeal and surety bonds and completion guarantees and other obligations of a like nature provided by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries in the ordinary course of business;

(11) (a) Indebtedness or Disqualified Stock of the Issuer or any Restricted Guarantor and Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor in an aggregate principal amount or liquidation preference equal to 200.0% of the net cash proceeds received by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries since immediately after the Issue Date from the issue or sale of Equity Interests of the Issuer or cash contributed to the capital of the Issuer (in each case, other than proceeds of Disqualified Stock or sales of Equity Interests to, or contributions received from, the Issuer or any of its Subsidiaries) as determined in accordance with clauses (3)(B) and (3)(C) of Section 4.07(a) hereof to the extent such net cash proceeds or cash have not been applied pursuant to such clauses to make Restricted Payments or to make other Investments, payments or exchanges pursuant to Section 4.07(b) hereof or to make Permitted Investments (other than Permitted Investments specified in clauses (1) and (3) of the definition thereof) and (b) Indebtedness or Disqualified Stock of the Issuer or a Restricted Guarantor and Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor not otherwise permitted hereunder in an aggregate principal amount or liquidation preference, which when aggregated with the principal amount and liquidation preference of all other Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock and Preferred Stock then outstanding and incurred pursuant to this clause (11)(b), does not at any one time outstanding exceed $500.0 million (it being understood that any Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock incurred pursuant to this clause (11)(b) shall cease to be deemed incurred or outstanding for purposes of this clause (11)(b) but shall be deemed incurred for the purposes of Section 4.09(a) from and after the first date on which the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary could have incurred such Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock under Section 4.09(a) without reliance on this clause (11)(b));

(12) the incurrence by the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary of Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock which serves to refund or refinance:

(a) any Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock incurred as permitted under Section 4.09(a) and clauses (2), (3), (4), (11)(a) and (13) of this Section 4.09(b), or

(b) any Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock issued to so refund or refinance the Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock described in clause (12)(a) above including, in each case, additional Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock incurred to pay premiums (including tender premiums), defeasance costs and fees and expenses in connection therewith

(collectively, the “Refinancing Indebtedness”) prior to its respective maturity; provided, however, that such Refinancing Indebtedness

(A) has a Weighted Average Life to Maturity at the time such Refinancing Indebtedness is incurred which is not less than the remaining Weighted Average Life to Maturity of, the Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock being refunded or refinanced,

(B) to the extent such Refinancing Indebtedness refinances (i) Indebtedness subordinated or pari passu to the Notes or any Guarantee thereof, such Refinancing Indebtedness is subordinated or pari passu to the Notes or the Guarantee at least to the same extent as the Indebtedness being refinanced or refunded or (ii) Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock, such Refinancing Indebtedness must be Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock, respectively, and

(C) shall not include:

(i) Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor that refinances Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of the Issuer;

(ii) Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor that refinances Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of a Restricted Guarantor; or

(iii) Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary that refinances Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of an Unrestricted Subsidiary;

and provided, further, that subclause (A) of this clause (12) will not apply to any refunding or re-financing of Indebtedness under a Credit Facility;

(13) Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of (x) the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary incurred to finance an acquisition or (y) Persons that are acquired by the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary or merged into the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary in accordance with the terms of this Indenture; provided that either

(a) such Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock:

(A) is not Secured Indebtedness and is Subordinated Indebtedness;

(B) is not incurred while a Default exists and no Default shall result therefrom; and

(C) matures and does not require any payment of principal prior to the final maturity or the Notes (other than in a manner consistent with the terms of this Indenture); or

(b) after giving effect to such acquisition or merger, either

(A) the Issuer would be permitted to incur at least $1.00 of additional Indebtedness pursuant to the Consolidated Leverage Ratio test set forth in the clause (a) of this Section 4.09, or

(B) the Consolidated Leverage Ratio is less than the Consolidated Leverage Ratio immediately prior to such acquisition or merger;

(14) Indebtedness arising from the honoring by a bank or other financial institution of a check, draft or similar instrument drawn against insufficient funds in the ordinary course of business, provided that such Indebtedness is extinguished within two (2) Business Days of its incurrence;

(15) Indebtedness of the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries supported by a letter of credit issued pursuant to the Credit Facilities, in a principal amount not in excess of the stated amount of such letter of credit;

(16) (A) any guarantee by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary of Indebtedness or other obligations of any Restricted Subsidiary so long as the incurrence of such Indebtedness incurred by such Restricted Subsidiary is permitted under the terms of this Indenture, or

(B) any guarantee by a Restricted Subsidiary of Indebtedness of the Issuer; provided that such Restricted Subsidiary shall comply with Section 4.15 hereof;

(17) Indebtedness of Foreign Subsidiaries of the Issuer in an amount not to exceed at any one time outstanding and together with any other Indebtedness incurred under this clause (17) 5.0% of the Foreign Subsidiary Total Assets (it being understood that any Indebtedness incurred pursuant to this clause (17) shall cease to be deemed incurred or outstanding for purposes of this clause (17) but shall be deemed incurred for the purposes of Section 4.09(a) from and after the first date on which such Foreign Subsidiary could have incurred such Indebtedness under Section 4.09(a) without reliance on this clause (17));

(18) Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary incurred to finance or assumed in connection with an acquisition in a principal amount not to exceed $200.0 million in the aggregate at any one time outstanding together with all other Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock and/or Preferred Stock issued under this clause (18) (it being understood that any Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock incurred pursuant to this clause (18) shall cease to be deemed incurred or outstanding for purposes of this clause (18) but shall be deemed incurred for the purposes of Section 4.09(a) from and after the first date on which such Restricted Subsidiary could have incurred such Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock under Section 4.09(a) without reliance on this clause (18));

(19) Indebtedness consisting of Indebtedness issued by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to future, current or former officers, directors, employees and consultants thereof or any direct or indirect parent thereof, their respective estates, heirs, family members, spouses or former spouses, in each case to finance the purchase or redemption of Equity Interests of the Issuer, a Restricted Subsidiary or any of their respective direct or indirect parent companies to the extent described in clause (4) of Section 4.07(b) hereof; and

(20) cash management obligations and Indebtedness in respect of netting services, employee credit card programs and similar arrangements in connection with cash management and deposit accounts.

(c) For purposes of determining compliance with this Section 4.09:

(1) in the event that an item of Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock (or any portion thereof) meets the criteria of more than one of the categories of permitted Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock described in clauses (1) through (20) of Section 4.09(b) or is entitled to be incurred pursuant to Section 4.09(a) hereof, the Issuer, in its sole discretion, may classify or reclassify such item of Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock (or any portion thereof) and will only be required to include the amount and type of such Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock in one of the above clauses; provided that all Indebtedness outstanding under the Senior Credit Facilities on the Issue Date will be treated as incurred on the Issue Date under clause (1) of Section 4.09(b) hereof; and

(2) at the time of incurrence or reclassification, the Issuer will be entitled to divide and classify an item of Indebtedness in more than one of the types of Indebtedness described in Section 4.09(a) or (b) hereof.

Accrual of interest, the accretion of accreted value and the payment of interest or dividends in the form of additional Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock, as applicable, will not be deemed to be an incurrence of Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock for purposes of this Section 4.09.

For purposes of determining compliance with any U.S. dollar-denominated restriction on the incurrence of Indebtedness, the U.S. dollar-equivalent principal amount of Indebtedness denominated in a foreign currency shall be calculated based on the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date such Indebtedness was incurred, in the case of term debt, or first committed, in the case of revolving credit debt; provided that if such Indebtedness is incurred to refinance other Indebtedness denominated in a foreign currency, and such refinancing would cause the applicable U.S. dollar-denominated restriction to be exceeded if calculated at the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date of such refinancing, such U.S. dollar-denominated restriction shall be deemed not to have been exceeded so long as the principal amount of such Refinancing Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount of such Indebtedness being refinanced.

The principal amount of any Indebtedness incurred to refinance other Indebtedness, if incurred in a different currency from the Indebtedness being refinanced, shall be calculated based on the currency exchange rate applicable to the currencies in which such respective Indebtedness is denominated that is in effect on the date of such refinancing.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, the Issuer will not, and will not permit any Restricted Guarantor to, directly or indirectly, incur any Indebtedness (including Acquired Indebtedness) that is subordinated or junior in right of payment to any Indebtedness of the Issuer or such Restricted Guarantor, as the case may be, unless such Indebtedness is expressly subordinated in right of payment to the Notes or such Restricted Guarantor's Guarantee to the extent and in the same manner as such Indebtedness is subordinated to other Indebtedness of the Issuer or such Restricted Guarantor, as the case may be. For the purposes of this Indenture, (1) unsecured Indebtedness is not deemed to be subordinated or junior to Secured Indebtedness merely because it is unsecured or (2) Senior Indebtedness is not deemed to be subordinated or junior to any other Senior Indebtedness merely because it has a junior priority with respect to the same collateral.

SECTION 4.10. Asset Sales.

(a) The Issuer shall not, and shall not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, cause, make or suffer to exist an Asset Sale, unless:

(1) the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, receives consideration at the time of such Asset Sale at least equal to the fair market value (as determined in good faith by the Issuer) of the assets sold or otherwise disposed of; and

(2) except in the case of a Permitted Asset Swap, at least 75% of the consideration therefor received by the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, is in the form of cash or Cash Equivalents; provided that the amount of:

(A) any liabilities (as shown on the Issuer's or such Restricted Subsidiary's most recent balance sheet or in the footnotes thereto) of the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary, other than liabilities that are by their terms subordinated to the Notes or that are owed to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary, that are assumed by the transferee of any such assets and for which the Issuer and all of its Restricted Subsidiaries have been validly released by all creditors in writing,

(B) any securities received by the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary from such transferee that are converted by the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary into cash (to the extent of the cash received) within 180 days following the closing of such Asset Sale, and shall be deemed to be cash for purposes of this Section 4.10(a)(2) and for no other purpose.

(C) any Designated Non-cash Consideration received by the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary in such Asset Sale having an aggregate fair market value, taken together with all other Designated Non-cash Consideration received pursuant to this clause (C) that is at that time outstanding, not to exceed 5.0% of Total Assets at the time of the receipt of such Designated Non-cash Consideration, with the fair market value of each item of Designated Non-cash Consideration being measured at the time received and without giving effect to subsequent changes in value,

(b) Within 15 months after the receipt of any Net Proceeds of any Asset Sale, the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary, at its option, may apply the Net Proceeds from such Asset Sale,

(1) to permanently reduce:

(A) Obligations under the Senior Credit Facilities and to correspondingly reduce commitments with respect thereto;

(B) Obligations under Senior Indebtedness that is secured by a Lien, which Lien is permitted by this Indenture, and to correspondingly reduce commitments with respect thereto;

(C) Obligations under (i) Notes (to the extent such purchases are at or above 100% of the principal amount thereof) or (ii) any other Senior Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Restricted Guarantor (and to correspondingly reduce commitments with respect thereto); provided, that the Issuer shall equally and ratably reduce Obligations under the

Notes pursuant to Section 3.07 through open-market purchases (to the extent such purchases are at or above 100% of the principal amount thereof) or by making an offer (in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 3.09) to all Holders of Notes to purchase their Notes at 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued but unpaid interest; and

(D) Indebtedness of a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor, other than Indebtedness owed to the Issuer or another Restricted Subsidiary; or

(2) to (a) make an Investment in any one or more businesses, provided that such Investment in any business is in the form of the acquisition of Capital Stock and results in the Issuer or Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, owning an amount of the Capital Stock of such business such that it constitutes a Restricted Subsidiary, (b) acquire properties, (c) make capital expenditures or (d) acquire other assets that, in the case of each of clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) either (x) are used or useful in a Similar Business or (y) replace the businesses, properties and/or assets that are the subject of such Asset Sale; provided that, in the case of clause (2) of this Section 4.10(b), a binding commitment shall be treated as a permitted application of the Net Proceeds from the date of such commitment so long as the Issuer or such other Restricted Subsidiary enters into such commitment with the good faith expectation that such Net Proceeds will be applied to satisfy such commitment within 180 days of such commitment (an “Acceptable Commitment”) and, in the event any Acceptable Commitment is later cancelled or terminated for any reason before the Net Proceeds are applied in connection therewith, the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary enters into another Acceptable Commitment (a “Second Commitment”) within 180 days of such cancellation or termination; provided, further, that if any Second Commitment is later cancelled or terminated for any reason before such Net Proceeds are applied, then such Net Proceeds shall constitute Excess Proceeds, as the case may be.

(c) Any Net Proceeds from the Asset Sale that are not invested or applied as provided and within the time period set forth in the first sentence of Section 4.10(b) will be deemed to constitute “Excess Proceeds.” When the aggregate amount of Excess Proceeds exceeds $100.0 million, the Issuer shall make an offer to all Holders of the Notes and, if required by the terms of any Indebtedness that is pari passu in right of payment with the Notes (“Pari Passu Indebtedness”), to the holders of such Pari Passu Indebtedness (an “Asset Sale Offer”), to purchase the maximum aggregate principal amount of the Notes and such Pari Passu Indebtedness that is a minimum of $2,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof that may be purchased out of the Excess Proceeds at an offer price in cash in an amount equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof (or, in the event such Pari Passu Indebtedness provided for the accretion of original issue discount, 100% of the accreted value thereof) plus accrued and unpaid interest (or, in respect of such Pari Passu Indebtedness, such lesser price, if any, as may be provided for by the terms of such Pari Passu Indebtedness) to the date fixed for the closing of such offer, in accordance with the procedures set forth herein. The Issuer will commence an Asset Sale Offer with respect to Excess Proceeds within ten (10) Business Days after the date that Excess Proceeds exceed $100.0 million in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 3.09.

To the extent that the aggregate principal amount of Notes and such Pari Passu Indebtedness tendered pursuant to an Asset Sale Offer is less than the Excess Proceeds, the Issuer may use any remaining Excess Proceeds for general corporate purposes, subject to the other covenants contained in this Indenture. If the aggregate principal amount of the Notes and the Pari Passu Indebtedness surrendered in an Asset Sale Offer exceeds the amount of Excess Proceeds, the Trustee shall select the Notes and the Issuer or the agent for such Pari Passu Indebtedness will select such other Pari Passu Indebtedness to be purchased on a pro rata basis (with such adjustments for authorized determinations) based on the principal amount of the Notes and such Pari Passu Indebtedness tendered. Upon completion of any such Asset Sale Offer, the amount of Excess Proceeds shall be reset at zero.

(d) Pending the final application of any Net Proceeds pursuant to this Section 4.10, the holder of such Net Proceeds may apply such Net Proceeds temporarily to reduce Indebtedness outstanding under a revolving credit facility or otherwise invest such Net Proceeds in any manner not prohibited by this Indenture.

(e) The Issuer will comply with the requirements of Rule 14e-1 under the Exchange Act and any other securities laws and regulations thereunder to the extent such laws or regulations are applicable in connection with the repurchase of the Notes pursuant to an Asset Sale Offer. To the extent that the provisions of any securities laws or regulations conflict with the provisions of this Section 4.10 or Section 3.09, the Issuer will comply with the applicable securities laws and regulations and shall not be deemed to have breached its obligations under this Section 4.10 by virtue thereof.

SECTION 4.11. Transactions with Affiliates .

(a) The Issuer will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, make any payment to, or sell, lease, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of its properties or assets to, or purchase any property or assets from, or enter into or make or amend any transaction, contract, agreement, understanding, loan, advance or guarantee with, or for the benefit of, any Affiliate of the Issuer (each of the foregoing, an “Affiliate Transaction”) involving aggregate payments or consideration in excess of $25.0 million, unless:

(1) such Affiliate Transaction is on terms that are not materially less favorable to the Issuer or the relevant Restricted Subsidiary than those that would have been obtained in a comparable transaction by the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary with an unrelated Person on an arm’s-length basis; and

(2) the Issuer delivers to the Trustee with respect to any Affiliate Transaction or series of related Affiliate Transactions involving aggregate payments or consideration in excess of $75.0 million, a resolution adopted by the majority of the board of directors of the Issuer approving such Affiliate Transaction and set forth in an Officer’s Certificate certifying that such Affiliate Transaction complies with clause (1) of this Section 4.11(a).

(b) The provisions of Section 4.11(a) will not apply to the following:

(1) transactions between or among the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries;

(2) Restricted Payments permitted by Section 4.07 hereof and the definition of “Permitted Investments”;

(3) the payment of management, consulting, monitoring, transaction, advisory and termination fees and related expenses and indemnities, directly or indirectly, to the Investors or such other persons as they designate, in each case pursuant to the Sponsor Management Agreement or any similar agreement so long as such amount does not exceed the amounts otherwise payable under the Sponsor Management Agreement as in effect on the Issue Date (subject to the right to include additional designees to receive payment thereunder);

(4) the payment of reasonable and customary fees paid to, and indemnities provided on behalf of, officers, directors, employees or consultants of the Issuer, any of its direct or indirect parent companies or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries;

(5) transactions in which the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, as the case may be, delivers to the Trustee a letter from an Independent Financial Advisor stating that such transaction is fair to the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary from a financial point of view or stating that the terms are not materially less favorable to the Issuer or the relevant Restricted Subsidiary than those that would have been obtained in a comparable transaction by the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary with an unrelated Person on an arm's-length basis;

(6) any agreement as in effect as of the Issue Date (other than the Sponsor Management Agreement), or any amendment thereto (so long as any such amendment is not disadvantageous to the Holders when taken as a whole as compared to the applicable agreement as in effect on the Issue Date);

(7) the existence of, or the performance by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries of its obligations under the terms of, any stockholders agreement, principal investors agreement (including any registration rights agreement or purchase agreement related thereto) to which it is a party as of the Issue Date and any similar agreements which it may enter into thereafter; provided, however, that the existence of, or the performance by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries of obligations under any future amendment to any such existing agreement or under any similar agreement entered into after the Issue Date shall only be permitted by this clause (7) to the extent that the terms of any such amendment or new agreement are not otherwise disadvantageous to the Holders when taken as a whole;

(8) transactions with customers, clients, suppliers, or purchasers or sellers of goods or services, in each case in the ordinary course of business and otherwise in compliance with the terms of this Indenture which are fair to the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, in the reasonable determination of the board of directors of the Issuer or the senior management thereof, or are on terms at least as favorable as might reasonably have been obtained at such time from an unaffiliated party;

(9) the issuance of Equity Interests (other than Disqualified Stock) by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary;

(10) sales of accounts receivable, or participations therein, in connection with any Receivables Facility;

(11) payments by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to any of the Investors made for any financial advisory, financing, underwriting or placement services or in respect of other investment banking activities, including, without limitation, in connection with acquisitions or divestitures which payments are approved by a majority of the board of directors of the Issuer in good faith;

(12) payments or loans (or cancellation of loans) to employees or consultants of the Issuer, any of its direct or indirect parent companies or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries and employment agreements, severance arrangements, stock option plans and other similar arrangements with such employees or consultants which, in each case, are approved by a majority of the board of directors of the Issuer in good faith; and

(13) Investments by the Investors in debt securities of the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries so long as (i) the investment is being offered generally to other investors on the same or more favorable terms and (ii) the investment constitutes less than 5.0% of the proposed or outstanding issue amount of such class of securities.

SECTION 4.12. Liens. The Issuer will not, and will not permit any Restricted Guarantor to, directly or indirectly, create, incur, assume or suffer to exist any Lien (except Permitted Liens) that secures obligations under any Indebtedness or any related guarantee, on any asset or property of the Issuer or any Restricted Guarantor, or any income or profits therefrom, or assign or convey any right to receive income therefrom, unless:

(a) in the case of Liens securing Subordinated Indebtedness, the Notes and the related Guarantees are secured by a Lien on such property, assets or proceeds that is senior in priority to such Liens; or

(b) in all other cases, the Notes or the Guarantees are equally and ratably secured.

The foregoing shall not apply to (a) Liens securing the Notes and the related Guarantees, (b) Liens securing Indebtedness permitted to be incurred under Credit Facilities, including any letter of credit facility relating thereto, that was permitted by the terms of this Indenture to be incurred pursuant to clause (1) of Section 4.09(b) hereof and (c) Liens incurred to secure Obligations in respect of any Indebtedness permitted to be incurred pursuant to Section 4.09 hereof; provided that, with respect to Liens securing Obligations permitted under this subclause (c), at the time of incurrence of such Obligations and after giving pro forma effect thereto, the Consolidated Secured Debt Ratio would be no greater than 7.0 to 1.0.

SECTION 4.13. Corporate Existence. Subject to Article V hereof, the Issuer shall do or cause to be done all things necessary to preserve and keep in full force and effect (i) its corporate existence, and the corporate, partnership or other existence of each of its Restricted Subsidiaries, in accordance with the respective organizational documents (as the same may be amended from time to time) of the Issuer or any such Restricted Subsidiary and (ii) the rights (charter and statutory), licenses and franchises of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries; provided that the Issuer shall not be required to preserve any such right, license or franchise, or the corporate, partnership or other existence of any of its Restricted Subsidiaries (other than the Issuer), if the Issuer in good faith shall determine that the preservation thereof is no longer desirable in the conduct of the business of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, taken as a whole.

SECTION 4.14. Offer to Repurchase Upon Change of Control.

(a) If a Change of Control occurs, unless the Issuer has previously or concurrently sent a redemption notice with respect to all the outstanding Notes pursuant to Section 3.07 hereof, the Issuer shall make an offer to purchase all of the Notes pursuant to the offer described below (the “Change of Control Offer”) at a price in cash (the “Change of Control Payment”) equal to 101% of the aggregate principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date of purchase, subject to the right of Holders of the Notes of record on the relevant Record Date to receive interest due on the relevant Interest Payment Date. Within 30 days following any Change of Control, the Issuer shall send notice of such Change of Control Offer by electronic transmission or by first-class mail, with a copy to the Trustee, to each Holder of Notes to the address of such Holder appearing in the Note Register or otherwise in accordance with Applicable Procedures, with a copy to the Trustee or otherwise in accordance with Applicable Procedures, with the following information:

(1) that a Change of Control Offer is being made pursuant to this Section 4.14 and that all Notes properly tendered pursuant to such Change of Control Offer will be accepted for payment by the Issuer;

(2) the purchase price and the purchase date, which will be no earlier than 30 days nor later than 60 days from the date such notice is sent (the “Change of Control Payment Date”);

(3) that any Note not properly tendered will remain outstanding and continue to accrue interest;

(4) that unless the Issuer defaults in the payment of the Change of Control Payment, all Notes accepted for payment pursuant to the Change of Control Offer will cease to accrue interest on the Change of Control Payment Date;

(5) that Holders electing to have any Notes purchased pursuant to a Change of Control Offer will be required to surrender such Notes, with the form entitled “Option of Holder to Elect Purchase” on the reverse of such Notes completed, to the paying agent specified in the notice at the address specified in the notice prior to the close of business on the third Business Day preceding the Change of Control Payment Date;

(6) that Holders will be entitled to withdraw their tendered Notes and their election to require the Issuer to purchase such Notes, provided that the paying agent receives, not later than the close of business on the fifth Business Day preceding the Change of Control Payment Date, a telegram, telex, facsimile transmission or letter setting forth the name of the Holder of the Notes, the principal amount of Notes tendered for purchase, and a statement that such Holder is withdrawing its tendered Notes and its election to have such Notes purchased;

(7) that the Holders whose Notes are being repurchased only in part will be issued new Notes equal in principal amount to the unpurchased portion of the Notes surrendered. The unpurchased portion of the Notes must be equal to a minimum of $2,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in principal amount in excess thereof;

(8) if such notice is mailed prior to the occurrence of a Change of Control, stating that the Change of Control Offer is conditional on the occurrence of such Change of Control; and

(9) the other instructions, as determined by the Issuer, consistent with this Section 4.14, that a Holder must follow.

The notice, if mailed in a manner herein provided, shall be conclusively presumed to have been given, whether or not the Holder receives such notice. If (a) the notice is mailed in a manner herein provided and (b) any Holder fails to receive such notice or a Holder receives such notice but it is defective, such Holder’s failure to receive such notice or such defect shall not affect the validity of the proceedings for the purchase of the Notes as to all other Holders that properly received such notice without defect. The Issuer shall comply with the requirements of Rule 14e-1 under the Exchange Act and any other securities laws and regulations thereunder to the extent such laws or regulations are applicable in connection with the repurchase of Notes pursuant to a Change of Control Offer. To the extent that the provisions of any securities laws or regulations conflict with the provisions of this Section 4.14, the Issuer will comply with the applicable securities laws and regulations and shall not be deemed to have breached its obligations under this Section 4.14 by virtue thereof.

- (b) On the Change of Control Payment Date, the Issuer shall, to the extent permitted by law,
- (1) accept for payment all Notes issued by it or portions thereof properly tendered pursuant to the Change of Control Offer,
  - (2) deposit with the Paying Agent an amount equal to the aggregate Change of Control Payment in respect of all Notes or portions thereof so tendered, and
  - (3) deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Trustee for cancellation the Notes so accepted together with an Officer's Certificate to the Trustee stating that such Notes or portions thereof have been tendered to and purchased by the Issuer.

(c) The Issuer shall not be required to make a Change of Control Offer following a Change of Control if a third party makes the Change of Control Offer in the manner, at the times and otherwise in compliance with the requirements set forth in this Indenture applicable to a Change of Control Offer made by the Issuer and purchases all Notes validly tendered and not withdrawn under such Change of Control Offer. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, a Change of Control Offer may be made in advance of a Change of Control, conditional upon such Change of Control, if a definitive agreement is in place for the Change of Control at the time of making of the Change of Control Offer.

(d) Other than as specifically provided in this Section 4.14, any purchase pursuant to this Section 4.14 shall be made pursuant to the provisions of Sections 3.02, 3.05 and 3.06 hereof, and references therein to "redeem," "redemption" and similar words shall be deemed to refer to "purchase," "repurchase" and similar words, as applicable.

SECTION 4.15. Limitation on Guarantees of Indebtedness by Restricted Subsidiaries. The Issuer shall not permit any Restricted Subsidiary that is a Wholly Owned Subsidiary of the Issuer (and non-Wholly Owned Subsidiaries if such non-Wholly Owned Subsidiaries guarantee other capital markets debt securities), other than a Guarantor or a Foreign Subsidiary, to guarantee the payment of any Indebtedness of the Issuer or any other Guarantor unless:

(a) such Restricted Subsidiary within 30 days executes and delivers a supplemental indenture to this Indenture in form attached hereto as Exhibit D providing for a Guarantee by such Restricted Subsidiary except that with respect to a guarantee of Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Guarantor, if such Indebtedness is by its express terms subordinated in right of payment to the Notes or such Guarantor's Guarantee, any such guarantee by such Restricted Subsidiary with respect to such Indebtedness shall be subordinated in right of payment to such Guarantee substantially to the same extent as such Indebtedness is subordinated to the Notes or such Guarantor's Guarantee; and provided that this covenant shall not be applicable to any guarantee of any Restricted Subsidiary that existed at the time such Person became a Restricted Subsidiary and was not incurred in connection with, or in contemplation of, such Person becoming a Restricted Subsidiary.

(b) such Restricted Subsidiary shall within 30 days deliver to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee stating that the execution and delivery of the supplemental indenture and the Guarantor's Guarantee have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by such Guarantor in accordance with the terms of this Indenture and that such supplemental indenture and Guarantee constitute legal, valid, binding and enforceable obligations of the Guarantor party thereto;

SECTION 4.16. Suspension of Covenants.

(a) If on any date following the Issue Date (the “Suspension Date”) (i) the Notes have Investment Grade Ratings from both Rating Agencies and (ii) no Default has occurred and is continuing under this Indenture (the occurrence of the events described in the foregoing clauses (i) and (ii) being collectively referred to as a “Covenant Suspension Event”), the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries will not be subject to the following covenants (collectively, the “Suspended Covenants”):

- (1) Section 4.07 hereof;
- (2) Section 4.08 hereof;
- (3) Section 4.09 hereof;
- (4) Section 4.10 hereof;
- (5) Section 4.11 hereof;
- (6) Section 4.14 hereof;
- (7) Section 4.15 hereof; and
- (8) clause (4) of Section 5.01(a) hereof.

(b) In the event that the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries are not subject to the Suspended Covenants under this Indenture for any period of time as a result of the foregoing, and on any subsequent date (the “Reversion Date”) one or both of the Rating Agencies (a) withdraw their Investment Grade Rating or downgrade the rating assigned to the Notes below an Investment Grade Rating and/or (b) the Issuer or any of its Affiliates enter into an agreement to effect a transaction that would result in a Change of Control and one or more of the Rating Agencies indicate that if consummated, such transaction (alone or together with any related recapitalization or refinancing transactions) would cause such Rating Agency to withdraw its Investment Grade Rating or downgrade the ratings assigned to the Notes below an Investment Grade Rating, then the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries will thereafter again be subject to the Suspended Covenants under this Indenture with respect to future events, including, without limitation, a proposed transaction described in clause (b) above.

(c) The period of time between the occurrence of a Covenant Suspension Event and the Reversion Date is referred to in this description as the “Suspension Period.” Additionally, upon the occurrence of a Covenant Suspension Event, the amount of Excess Proceeds from Net Proceeds shall be reset at zero. In the event of any such reinstatement, no action taken or omitted to be taken by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries prior to such reinstatement and available will give rise to a Default or Event of Default under this Indenture with respect to Notes; provided that (1) with respect to Restricted Payments made after any such reinstatement, the amount of Restricted Payments made will be calculated as though Section 4.07 hereof had been in effect prior to, but not during the Suspension Period, provided, further, that any Subsidiaries designated as Unrestricted Subsidiaries during the Suspension Period shall automatically become Restricted Subsidiaries on the Reversion Date (subject to the Issuer’s right to subsequently designate them as Unrestricted Subsidiaries in compliance with this Indenture and (2) all Indebtedness incurred, or Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock issued, during the Suspension Period will be classified as having been incurred or issued pursuant to clause (3) of Section 4.09(b) hereof.

(d) The Issuer shall deliver promptly to the Trustee an Officer’s Certificate of the Issuer notifying it of any event set forth under this Section 4.16 specifying, without limitation, the commencement and cessation of any Suspension Period.

ARTICLE V

SUCCESSORS

SECTION 5.01. Merger, Consolidation or Sale of All or Substantially All Assets .

(a) The Issuer shall not consolidate or merge with or into or wind up into (whether or not the Issuer is the surviving corporation), and shall not sell, assign, transfer, lease, convey or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, in one or more related transactions, to any Person unless:

(1) the Issuer is the surviving corporation or the Person formed by or surviving any such consolidation or merger (if other than the Issuer) or to which such sale, assignment, transfer, lease, conveyance or other disposition will have been made, is a Person organized or existing under the laws of the United States, any state thereof, the District of Columbia, or any territory thereof (such Person, as the case may be, being herein called the “Successor Company”); provided that in the case where the Successor Company is not a corporation, a co-obligor of the Notes is a corporation;

(2) the Successor Company, if other than the Issuer, expressly assumes all the obligations of the Issuer under this Indenture and the Notes pursuant to a supplemental indenture or other documents or instruments in form reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee;

(3) immediately after such transaction, no Default exists;

(4) immediately after giving pro forma effect to such transaction and any related financing transactions, as if such transactions had occurred at the beginning of the applicable four-quarter period,

(A) the Successor Company or the Issuer would be permitted to incur at least $1.00 of additional Indebtedness pursuant to the Consolidated Leverage Ratio test set forth in Section 4.09(a) hereof, or

(B) the Consolidated Leverage Ratio would be equal to or less than the Consolidated Leverage Ratio immediately prior to such transaction;

(5) each Guarantor, unless it is the other party to the transactions described above, in which case clause (b)(1)(B) of this Section 5.01 hereof shall apply, shall have by supplemental indenture confirmed that its Guarantee shall apply to such Person's Obligations under this Indenture and the Notes; and

(6) the Issuer shall have delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel, each stating that such consolidation, merger or transfer and such supplemental indentures, if any, comply with this Indenture and the Notes.

Notwithstanding clauses (3) and (4) above:

(1) the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary may consolidate with or merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to the Issuer or a Restricted Guarantor; and

(2) the Issuer may merge with an Affiliate of the Issuer solely for the purpose of reorganizing the Issuer in a State of the United States so long as the amount of Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries is not increased thereby.

(b) Subject to Section 10.06 hereof, no Restricted Guarantor shall, and the Issuer shall not permit any Restricted Guarantor to, consolidate or merge with or into or wind up into (whether or not the Issuer or Restricted Guarantor is the surviving corporation), or sell, assign, transfer, lease, convey or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its properties or assets, in one or more related transactions, to any Person unless:

(1) (A) such Restricted Guarantor is the surviving corporation or the Person formed by or surviving any such consolidation or merger (if other than such Restricted Guarantor) or to which such sale, assignment, transfer, lease, conveyance or other disposition will have been made is organized or existing under the laws of the jurisdiction of organization of such Restricted Guarantor, as the case may be, or the laws of the United States, any state thereof, the District of Columbia, or any territory thereof (such Restricted Guarantor or such Person, as the case may be, being herein called the “Successor Person”);

(B) the Successor Person, if other than such Restricted Guarantor, expressly assumes all the obligations of such Restricted Guarantor under this Indenture and such Restricted Guarantor’s related Guarantee pursuant to supplemental indentures or other documents or instruments in form reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee;

(C) immediately after such transaction, no Default exists; and

(D) the Issuer shall have delivered to the Trustee an Officer’s Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel, each stating that such consolidation, merger or transfer and such supplemental indentures, if any, comply with this Indenture; or

(2) the transaction is made in compliance with Section 4.10 hereof.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Restricted Guarantor may merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to another Restricted Guarantor or the Issuer.

SECTION 5.02. Successor Corporation Substituted. Upon any consolidation or merger, or any sale, assignment, transfer, lease, conveyance or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Issuer or a Restricted Guarantor in accordance with Section 5.01(a) or Section 5.01(b)(1) hereof, the successor corporation formed by such consolidation or into or with which the Issuer or such Restricted Guarantor, as applicable, is merged or to which such sale, assignment, transfer, lease, conveyance or other disposition is made shall succeed to, and be substituted for (so that from and after the date of such consolidation, merger, sale, lease, conveyance or other disposition, the provisions of this Indenture referring to the Issuer or such Restricted Guarantor, as applicable, shall refer instead to the successor corporation and not to the Issuer or such Restricted Guarantor, as applicable), and may exercise every right and power of the Issuer or such Restricted Guarantor, as applicable, under this Indenture with the same effect as if such successor Person had been named as the Issuer or a Restricted Guarantor, as applicable, herein and therein; provided that the predecessor Issuer shall not be relieved from the obligation to pay the principal of and interest on the Notes except in the case of a sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance or other disposition of all of the Issuer's assets that meets the requirements of Section 5.01 hereof.

ARTICLE VI

DEFAULTS AND REMEDIES

SECTION 6.01. Events of Default. An “Event of Default” wherever used herein, means any one of the following events (whatever the reason for such Event of Default and whether it shall be voluntary or involuntary or be effected by operation of law or pursuant to any judgment, decree or order of any court or any order, rule or regulation of any administrative or governmental body):

(1) default in payment when due and payable, upon redemption, acceleration or otherwise, of principal of, or premium, if any, on the Notes;

(2) default for 30 days or more in the payment when due of interest on or with respect to the Notes;

(3) failure by the Issuer or any Guarantor for 60 days after receipt of written notice given by the Trustee or the Holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Notes to comply with any of its obligations, covenants or agreements (other than a default referred to in clauses (1) and (2) above) contained in this Indenture or the Notes;

(4) default under any mortgage, indenture or instrument under which there is issued or by which there is secured or evidenced any Indebtedness for money borrowed by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries or the payment of which is guaranteed by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, other than Indebtedness owed to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary, whether such Indebtedness or guarantee now exists or is created after the issuance of the Notes, if both:

(A) such default either results from the failure to pay any principal of such Indebtedness at its stated final maturity (after giving effect to any applicable grace periods) or relates to an obligation other than the obligation to pay principal of any such Indebtedness at its stated final maturity and results in the holder or holders of such Indebtedness causing such Indebtedness to become due prior to its stated maturity; and

(B) the principal amount of such Indebtedness, together with the principal amount of any other such Indebtedness in default for failure to pay principal at stated final maturity (after giving effect to any applicable grace periods), or the maturity of which has been so accelerated, aggregate $100.0 million or more at any one time outstanding;

(5) failure by the Issuer or any Significant Party to pay final non-appealable judgments aggregating in excess of $100.0 million, which final judgments remain unpaid, undischarged and unstayed for a period of more than 90 days after such judgment becomes final, and in the event such judgment is covered by insurance, an enforcement proceeding have been commenced by any creditor upon such judgment or decree which is not promptly stayed;

(6) the Issuer or any Significant Party, pursuant to or within the meaning of any Bankruptcy Law:

(A) commences proceedings to be adjudicated bankrupt or insolvent;

(B) consents to the institution of bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings against it, or the filing by it of a petition or answer or consent seeking reorganization or relief under applicable Bankruptcy law;

(C) consents to the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, sequestrator or other similar official of it or for all or substantially all of its property; or

(D) makes a general assignment for the benefit of its creditors;

(7) a court of competent jurisdiction enters an order or decree under any Bankruptcy Law that:

(A) is for relief against the Issuer or any Significant Party, in a proceeding in which the Issuer or any Significant Party, is to be adjudicated bankrupt or insolvent;

(B) appoints a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, sequestrator or other similar official of the Issuer or any Significant Party, or for all or substantially all of the property of the Issuer or any Significant Party; or

(C) orders the liquidation the Issuer or any Significant Party; and the order or decree remains unstayed and in effect for 60 consecutive days; and

(8) the Guarantee of any Significant Party shall for any reason cease to be in full force and effect or be declared null and void or any responsible officer of any Guarantor that is a Significant Party, as the case may be, denies that it has any further liability under its Guarantee or gives notice to such effect, other than by reason of the termination of this Indenture or the release of any such Guarantee in accordance with this Indenture.

SECTION 6.02. Acceleration.

(a) If any Event of Default (other than an Event of Default specified in clause (6) or (7) of Section 6.01 hereof) occurs and is continuing under this Indenture, the Trustee by notice to the Issuer or the Holders of at least 25% in principal amount of the then total outstanding Notes by notice to the Issuer and the Trustee, in either case specifying in such notice the respective Event of Default and that such notice is a "notice of acceleration," may declare the principal, interest and premium, if any, on all the then outstanding Notes to be due and payable. The Trustee shall have no obligation to accelerate the Notes if the Trustee determines that acceleration is not in the best interests of the Holders of the Notes. Upon the effectiveness of such declaration, such principal and interest shall be due and payable immediately. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the case of an Event of Default arising under clause (6) or (7) of Section 6.01 hereof, all outstanding Notes shall be due and payable immediately without further action or notice.

(b) The Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes by written notice to the Trustee may on behalf of the Holders of all of the Notes rescind any acceleration with respect to the Notes and its consequences if such rescission would not conflict with any judgment or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction and if all existing Events of Default (except non-payment of principal, interest or premium that has become due solely because of the acceleration) have been cured or waived. In the event of any Event of Default specified in clause (4) of Section 6.01 hereof, such Event of Default and all consequences thereof (excluding any resulting payment default, other than as a result of acceleration of the Notes) shall be annulled, waived and rescinded, automatically and without any action by the Trustee or the Holders, if within 20 days after such Event of Default arose:

- (1) the Indebtedness or guarantee that is the basis for such Event of Default has been discharged; or
- (2) holders thereof have rescinded or waived the acceleration, notice or action (as the case may be) giving rise to such Event of Default; or
- (3) the default that is the basis for such Event of Default has been cured.

SECTION 6.03. Other Remedies. If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the Trustee may pursue any available remedy to collect the payment of principal, premium, if any, and interest on the Notes or to enforce the performance of any provision of the Notes or this Indenture.

The Trustee may maintain a proceeding even if it does not possess any of the Notes or does not produce any of them in the proceeding. A delay or omission by the Trustee or any Holder of a Note in exercising any right or remedy accruing upon an Event of Default shall not impair the right or remedy or constitute a waiver of or acquiescence in the Event of Default. All remedies are cumulative to the extent permitted by law.

SECTION 6.04. Waiver of Past Defaults. Subject to Section 6.02 hereof, Holders of not less than a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes by notice to the Trustee may on behalf of the Holders of all of the Notes waive any existing Default and its consequences hereunder (except a continuing Default in the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, or interest on, any Note held by a non-consenting Holder). Upon any such waiver, such Default shall cease to exist, and any Event of Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been cured for every purpose of this Indenture; but no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other Default or impair any right consequent thereon.

SECTION 6.05. Control by Majority. Holders of a majority in principal amount of the then total outstanding Notes may direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Trustee or of exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee. The Trustee, however, may refuse to follow any direction that conflicts with law or this Indenture or that the Trustee determines is unduly prejudicial to the rights of any other Holder of a Note or that would involve the Trustee in personal liability.

SECTION 6.06. Limitation on Suits. Subject to Section 6.07 hereof, no Holder of a Note may pursue any remedy with respect to this Indenture or the Notes unless:

- (a) such Holder has previously given the Trustee notice that an Event of Default is continuing;
- (b) Holders of at least 25% in principal amount of the total outstanding Notes have requested the Trustee to pursue the remedy;

- (c) Holders of the Notes have offered the Trustee satisfactory security or indemnity against any loss, liability or expense;
  - (d) the Trustee has not complied with such request within 60 days after the receipt thereof and the offer of security or indemnity; and
  - (e) Holders of a majority in principal amount of the total outstanding Notes have not given the Trustee a direction inconsistent with such request within such 60-day period.

A Holder of a Note may not use this Indenture to prejudice the rights of another Holder of a Note or to obtain a preference or priority over another Holder of a Note.

SECTION 6.07. Rights of Holders of Notes to Receive Payment. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Indenture, the right of any Holder of a Note to receive payment of principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Note, on or after the respective due dates expressed in the Note (including in connection with an Asset Sale Offer or a Change of Control Offer), or to bring suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after such respective dates, shall not be impaired or affected without the consent of such Holder.

SECTION 6.08. Collection Suit by Trustee. If an Event of Default specified in Section 6.01(1) or (2) hereof occurs and is continuing, the Trustee is authorized to recover judgment in its own name and as trustee of an express trust against the Issuer for the whole amount of principal of, premium, if any, and interest remaining unpaid on the Notes and interest on overdue principal and, to the extent lawful, interest and such further amount as shall be sufficient to cover the costs and expenses of collection, including the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee, its agents and counsel.

SECTION 6.09. Restoration of Rights and Remedies. If the Trustee or any Holder has instituted any proceeding to enforce any right or remedy under this Indenture and such proceeding has been discontinued or abandoned for any reason, or has been determined adversely to the Trustee or to such Holder, then and in every such case, subject to any determination in such proceedings, the Issuer, the Trustee and the Holders shall be restored severally and respectively to their former positions hereunder and thereafter all rights and remedies of the Trustee and the Holders shall continue as though no such proceeding has been instituted.

SECTION 6.10. Rights and Remedies Cumulative. Except as otherwise provided with respect to the replacement or payment of mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Notes in Section 2.07 hereof, no right or remedy herein conferred upon or reserved to the Trustee or to the Holders is intended to be exclusive of any other right or remedy, and every right and remedy shall, to the extent permitted by law, be cumulative and in addition to every other right and remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or otherwise. The assertion or employment of any right or remedy hereunder or otherwise, shall not prevent the concurrent assertion or employment of any other appropriate right or remedy.

SECTION 6.11. Delay or Omission Not Waiver. No delay or omission of the Trustee or of any Holder of any Note to exercise any right or remedy accruing upon any Event of Default shall impair any such right or remedy or constitute a waiver of any such Event of Default or an acquiescence therein. Every right and remedy given by this Article or by law to the Trustee or to the Holders may be exercised from time to time, and as often as may be deemed expedient, by the Trustee or by the Holders, as the case may be.

SECTION 6.12. Trustee May File Proofs of Claim. The Trustee is authorized to file such proofs of claim and other papers or documents as may be necessary or advisable in order to have the claims of the Trustee (including any claim for the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee, its agents and counsel) and the Holders of the Notes allowed in any judicial proceedings relative to the Issuer (or any other obligor upon the Notes including the Guarantors), its creditors or its property and to collect, receive and distribute any money or other property payable or deliverable on any such claims and any custodian in any such judicial proceeding is hereby authorized by each Holder to make such payments to the Trustee, and in the event that the Trustee shall consent to the making of such payments directly to the Holders, to pay to the Trustee any amount due to it for the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee, its agents and counsel, and any other amounts due the Trustee under Section 7.07 hereof. To the extent that the payment of any such compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee, its agents and counsel, and any other amounts due the Trustee under Section 7.07 hereof out of the estate in any such proceeding, shall be denied for any reason, payment of the same shall be secured by a Lien on, and shall be paid out of, any and all distributions, dividends, money, securities and other properties that the Holders may be entitled to receive in such proceeding whether in liquidation or under any plan of reorganization or arrangement or otherwise. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the Trustee to authorize or consent to or accept or adopt on behalf of any Holder any plan of reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition affecting the Notes or the rights of any Holder, or to authorize the Trustee to vote in respect of the claim of any Holder in any such proceeding.

SECTION 6.13. Priorities. If the Trustee or any Agent collects any money or property pursuant to this Article VI, it shall pay out the money in the following order:

(a) First, to the Trustee, such Agent, their agents and attorneys for amounts due under Section 7.07 hereof, including payment of all compensation, expenses and liabilities incurred, and all advances made, by the Trustee or such Agent and the costs and expenses of collection;

(b) Second, to Holders of Notes for amounts due and unpaid on the Notes for principal, premium, if any, and interest, ratably, without preference or priority of any kind, according to the amounts due and payable on the Notes for principal, premium, if any, and interest, respectively; and

(c) Third, to the Issuer or to such party as a court of competent jurisdiction shall direct including a Guarantor, if applicable.

The Trustee may fix a record date and payment date for any payment to Holders of Notes pursuant to this Section 6.13.

SECTION 6.14. Undertaking for Costs. In any suit for the enforcement of any right or remedy under this Indenture or in any suit against the Trustee for any action taken or omitted by it as a Trustee, a court in its discretion may require the filing by any party litigant in the suit of an undertaking to pay the costs of the suit, and the court in its discretion may assess reasonable costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, against any party litigant in the suit, having due regard to the merits and good faith of the claims or defenses made by the party litigant. This Section 6.14 does not apply to a suit by the Trustee, a suit by a Holder of a Note pursuant to Section 6.07 hereof, or a suit by Holders of more than 10% in principal amount of the then outstanding Notes.

ARTICLE VII

TRUSTEE

SECTION 7.01. Duties of Trustee.

(a) If an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Trustee shall exercise such of the rights and powers vested in it by this Indenture, and use the same degree of care and skill in its exercise, as a prudent person would exercise or use under the circumstances in the conduct of such person's own affairs.

(b) Except during the continuance of an Event of Default:

(i) the duties of the Trustee shall be determined solely by the express provisions of this Indenture and the Trustee need perform only those duties that are specifically set forth in this Indenture and no others, and no implied covenants or obligations shall be read into this Indenture against the Trustee; and

(ii) in the absence of bad faith on its part, the Trustee may conclusively rely, as to the truth of the statements and the correctness of the opinions expressed therein, upon certificates or opinions furnished to the Trustee and conforming to the form required in this Indenture. However, in the case of any such certificates or opinions which by any provision hereof are specifically required to be furnished to the Trustee, the Trustee shall examine the certificates and opinions to determine whether or not they conform to the requirements of this Indenture (but need not confirm or investigate the accuracy of mathematical calculations or other facts stated therein).

(c) The Trustee may not be relieved from liabilities for its own negligent action, its own negligent failure to act, or its own willful misconduct, except that:

(i) this paragraph does not limit the effect of paragraph (b) of this Section 7.01;

(ii) the Trustee shall not be liable for any error of judgment made in good faith by a Responsible Officer, unless it is proved in a court of competent jurisdiction that the Trustee was negligent in ascertaining the pertinent facts; and

(iii) the Trustee shall not be liable with respect to any action it takes or omits to take in good faith in accordance with a direction received by it pursuant to Section 6.02, 6.04 or 6.05 hereof.

(d) Whether or not therein expressly so provided, every provision of this Indenture that in any way relates to the Trustee is subject to paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this Section 7.01.

(e) The Trustee shall be under no obligation to exercise any of its rights or powers under this Indenture at the request or direction of any of the Holders of the Notes unless the Holders have offered to the Trustee indemnity or security satisfactory to the Trustee against any loss, liability or expense.

(f) The Trustee shall not be liable for interest on any money received by it except as the Trustee may agree in writing with the Issuer. Money held in trust by the Trustee need not be segregated from other funds except to the extent required by law.

SECTION 7.02. Rights of Trustee.

(a) The Trustee may conclusively rely upon any document believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper Person. The Trustee need not investigate any fact or matter stated in the document, but the Trustee, in its discretion, may make such further inquiry or investigation into such facts or matters as it may see fit, and, if the Trustee shall determine to make such further inquiry or investigation, it shall be entitled to examine the books, records and premises of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, personally or by agent or attorney at the sole cost of the Issuer and shall incur no liability or additional liability of any kind by reason of such inquiry or investigation.

(b) Before the Trustee acts or refrains from acting, it may require an Officer's Certificate of the Issuer or an Opinion of Counsel or both. The Trustee shall not be liable for any action it takes or omits to take in good faith in reliance on such Officer's Certificate or Opinion of Counsel. The Trustee may consult with counsel of its selection and the advice of such counsel or any Opinion of Counsel shall be full and complete authorization and protection from liability in respect of any action taken, suffered or omitted by it hereunder in good faith and in reliance thereon.

(c) The Trustee may act through its attorneys and agents and shall not be responsible for the misconduct or negligence of any agent or attorney appointed with due care.

(d) The Trustee shall not be liable for any action it takes or omits to take in good faith that it believes to be authorized or within the rights or powers conferred upon it by this Indenture.

(e) Unless otherwise specifically provided in this Indenture, any demand, request, direction or notice from the Issuer shall be sufficient if signed by an Officer of the Issuer.

(f) None of the provisions of this Indenture shall require the Trustee to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise to incur any liability, financial or otherwise, in the performance of any of its duties hereunder, or in the exercise of any of its rights or powers if it shall have reasonable grounds for believing that repayment of such funds or indemnity satisfactory to it against such risk or liability is not assured to it.

(g) The Trustee shall not be deemed to have notice of any Default or Event of Default unless a Responsible Officer of the Trustee has actual knowledge thereof or unless written notice of any event which is in fact such a Default is received by the Trustee at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee, and such notice references the Notes and this Indenture.

(h) The rights, privileges, protections, immunities and benefits given to the Trustee, including, without limitation, its right to be indemnified, are extended to, and shall be enforceable by, the Trustee in each of its capacities hereunder, and each agent, custodian and other Person employed to act hereunder.

(i) In no event shall the Trustee be responsible or liable for special, indirect, or consequential loss or damage of any kind whatsoever (including, but not limited to, loss of profit) irrespective of whether the Trustee has been advised of the likelihood of such loss or damage and regardless of the form of action.

SECTION 7.03. Individual Rights of Trustee. The Trustee in its individual or any other capacity may become the owner or pledgee of Notes and may otherwise deal with the Issuer or any Affiliate of the Issuer with the same rights it would have if it were not Trustee. However, in the event that the Trustee acquires any conflicting interest it must eliminate such conflict within 90 days, apply to the SEC for permission to continue as trustee or resign. Any Agent may do the same with like rights and duties. The Trustee is also subject to Sections 7.10 and 7.11 hereof.

SECTION 7.04. Trustee's Disclaimer. The Trustee shall not be responsible for and makes no representation as to the validity or adequacy of this Indenture or the Notes, it shall not be accountable for the Issuer's use of the proceeds from the Notes or any money paid to the Issuer or upon the Issuer's direction under any provision of this Indenture, it shall not be responsible for the use or application of any money received by any Paying Agent other than the Trustee, and it shall not be responsible for any statement or recital herein or any statement in the Notes or any other document in connection with the sale of the Notes or pursuant to this Indenture other than its certificate of authentication. The recitals and statements contained herein and in the Notes, except those contained in any Trustee's certificate of authentication, shall be taken as the recitals and statements of the Issuer, and the Trustee or any authenticating agent assumes no responsibility for their correctness.

SECTION 7.05. Notice of Defaults. If a Default occurs and is continuing and if it is known to the Trustee, the Trustee shall mail to Holders of Notes a notice of the Default within 90 days after it occurs. Except in the case of a Default relating to the payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest on any Note, the Trustee may withhold from the Holders notice of any continuing Default if and so long as a committee of its Responsible Officers in good faith determines that withholding the notice is in the interests of the Holders of the Notes. The Trustee shall not be deemed to know of any Default unless a Responsible Officer of the Trustee has actual knowledge thereof or unless written notice of any event which is such a Default is received by the Trustee in accordance with Section 12.02 hereof at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee and such notice references the Notes and this Indenture.

SECTION 7.06. Reports by Trustee to Holders of the Notes. Within 60 days after each October 15, beginning with the October 15 following the date of this Indenture, and for so long as Notes remain outstanding, the Trustee shall mail to the Holders of the Notes a brief report dated as of such reporting date that complies with Trust Indenture Act Section 313(a) (but if no event described in Trust Indenture Act Section 313(a) has occurred within the twelve months preceding the reporting date, no report need be transmitted). The Trustee also shall comply with Trust Indenture Act Section 313(b)(2) (to the extent applicable). The Trustee shall also transmit by mail all reports as required by Trust Indenture Act Section 313(c).

A copy of each report at the time of its mailing to the Holders of Notes shall be mailed to the Issuer and each stock exchange on which the Notes are listed in accordance with Trust Indenture Act Section 313(d). The Issuer shall promptly notify the Trustee when the Notes are listed on any stock exchange.

SECTION 7.07. Compensation and Indemnity. The Issuer shall pay to the Trustee from time to time such compensation for its acceptance of this Indenture and services hereunder as the parties shall agree in writing from time to time. The Trustee's compensation shall not be limited by any law on compensation of a trustee of an express trust. The Issuer shall reimburse the Trustee promptly upon request for all reasonable disbursements, advances and expenses incurred or made by it in addition to the compensation for its services. Such expenses shall include the reasonable compensation, disbursements and expenses of the Trustee's agents and counsel.

The Issuer and the Guarantors, jointly and severally, shall indemnify the Trustee and its officers, directors, employees, agents and any predecessor trustee (in its capacity as trustee) and its officers, directors, employees and agents for, and hold the Trustee harmless against, any and all loss, damage, claims, liability or expense (including reasonable attorneys' fees) incurred by it in connection with the acceptance or administration of this trust and the performance of its duties hereunder (including the costs and expenses of enforcing this Indenture against the Issuer or any of the Guarantors (including this Section 7.07) or defending itself against any claim whether asserted by any Holder, the Issuer or any Guarantor, or liability in connective with the acceptance, exercise or performance of any of its powers or duties hereunder). The Trustee shall notify the Issuer promptly of any claim for which it may seek indemnity. Failure by the Trustee to so notify the Issuer shall not relieve the Issuer of its obligations hereunder except to the extent the Issuer has been materially prejudiced thereby. The Issuer shall defend the claim and the Trustee may have separate counsel and the Issuer shall pay the fees and expenses of such counsel. The Issuer need not pay for any settlement made without its consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. The Issuer need not reimburse any expense or indemnify against any loss, liability or expense incurred by the Trustee through the Trustee's own willful misconduct or negligence.

The obligations of the Issuer under this Section 7.07 shall survive the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture or the earlier resignation or removal of the Trustee.

To secure the payment obligations of the Issuer and the Guarantors in this Section 7.07, the Trustee shall have a Lien prior to the Notes on all money or property held or collected by the Trustee. Such Lien shall survive the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture.

When the Trustee incurs expenses or renders services after an Event of Default specified in Section 6.01(6) or (7) hereof occurs, the expenses and the compensation for the services (including the fees and expenses of its agents and counsel) are intended to constitute expenses of administration under any Bankruptcy Law.

SECTION 7.08. Replacement of Trustee . A resignation or removal of the Trustee and appointment of a successor Trustee shall become effective only upon the successor Trustee's acceptance of appointment as provided in this Section 7.08. The Trustee may resign in writing at any time and be discharged from the trust hereby created by so notifying the Issuer. The Holders of a majority in principal amount of the then outstanding Notes may remove the Trustee by so notifying the Trustee and the Issuer in writing. The Issuer may remove the Trustee if:

- (a) the Trustee fails to comply with Section 7.10 hereof or Section 310 of the Trust Indenture Act;
- (b) the Trustee is adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or an order for relief is entered with respect to the Trustee under any Bankruptcy Law;
- (c) a custodian or public officer takes charge of the Trustee or its property; or
- (d) the Trustee becomes incapable of acting.

If the Trustee resigns or is removed or if a vacancy exists in the office of Trustee for any reason, the Issuer shall promptly appoint a successor Trustee. Within one year after the successor Trustee takes office, the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the then outstanding Notes may appoint a successor Trustee to replace the successor Trustee appointed by the Issuer.

If a successor Trustee does not take office within 60 days after the retiring Trustee resigns or is removed, the retiring Trustee (at the Issuer's expense), the Issuer or the Holders of at least 10% in principal amount of the then outstanding Notes may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Trustee.

If the Trustee, after written request by any Holder who has been a Holder for at least six months, fails to comply with Section 7.10 hereof, such Holder may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of the Trustee and the appointment of a successor Trustee.

A successor Trustee shall deliver a written acceptance of its appointment to the retiring Trustee and to the Issuer. Thereupon, the resignation or removal of the retiring Trustee shall become effective, and the successor Trustee shall have all the rights, powers and duties of the Trustee under this Indenture. The successor Trustee shall mail a notice of its succession to Holders. The retiring Trustee shall promptly transfer all property held by it as Trustee to the successor Trustee; provided all sums owing to the Trustee hereunder have been paid and subject to the Lien provided for in Section 7.07 hereof. Notwithstanding replacement of the Trustee pursuant to this Section 7.08, the Issuer's obligations under Section 7.07 hereof shall continue for the benefit of the retiring Trustee.

SECTION 7.09. Successor Trustee by Merger, etc. If the Trustee consolidates, merges or converts into, or transfers all or substantially all of its corporate trust business to, another corporation, the successor corporation without any further act shall be the successor Trustee.

SECTION 7.10. Eligibility; Disqualification. There shall at all times be a Trustee hereunder that is a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of the United States of America or of any state thereof that is authorized under such laws to exercise corporate trustee power, that is subject to supervision or examination by federal or state authorities and that has, together with its parent, a combined capital and surplus of at least $50,000,000 as set forth in its most recent published annual report of condition.

This Indenture shall always have a Trustee who satisfies the requirements of Trust Indenture Act Sections 310(a)(1), (2) and (5). The Trustee is subject to Trust Indenture Act Section 310(b).

SECTION 7.11. Preferential Collection of Claims Against Issuer. The Trustee is subject to Trust Indenture Act Section 311(a), excluding any creditor relationship listed in Trust Indenture Act Section 311(b). A Trustee who has resigned or been removed shall be subject to Trust Indenture Act Section 311(a) to the extent indicated therein.

ARTICLE VIII

LEGAL DEFEASANCE AND COVENANT DEFEASANCE

SECTION 8.01. Option to Effect Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance. The Issuer may, at its option and at any time, elect to have either Section 8.02 or 8.03 hereof applied to all outstanding Notes upon compliance with the conditions set forth below in this Article VIII.

SECTION 8.02. Legal Defeasance and Discharge. Upon the Issuer's exercise under Section 8.01 hereof of the option applicable to this Section 8.02, the Issuer and the Guarantors shall, subject to the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Section 8.04 hereof, be deemed to have been discharged from their Obligations with respect to all outstanding Notes and Guarantees on the date the conditions set forth below are satisfied ("Legal Defeasance"). For this purpose, Legal Defeasance means that the Issuer shall be deemed to have paid and discharged the entire Indebtedness represented by the outstanding Notes, which shall thereafter be deemed to be "outstanding" only for the purposes of Section 8.05 hereof and the other Sections of this Indenture referred to in (a) and (b) below, and to have satisfied all its other Obligations under such Notes and this Indenture including that of the Guarantors (and the Trustee, on demand of and at the expense of the Issuer, shall execute proper instruments acknowledging the same), except for the following provisions which shall survive until otherwise terminated or discharged hereunder:

(a) the rights of Holders of Notes to receive payments in respect of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Notes when such payments are due solely out of the trust created pursuant to this Indenture referred to in Section 8.04 hereof;

- (b) the Issuer's obligations with respect to Notes concerning issuing temporary Notes, registration of such Notes, mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Notes and the maintenance of an office or agency for payment and money for security payments held in trust;
  - (c) the rights, powers, trusts, duties and immunities of the Trustee, and the Issuer's obligations in connection therewith; and
  - (d) this Section 8.02.

If the Issuer exercises under Section 8.01 the option applicable to this Section 8.02, subject to satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Section 8.04 hereof, payment of the Notes may not be accelerated because of an Event of Default under clauses (3), (4), (5), (6) (solely with respect to a Significant Party) and (7) (solely with respect to a Significant Party) of Section 6.01. Subject to compliance with this Article VIII, the Issuer may exercise its option under this Section 8.02 notwithstanding the prior exercise of its option under Section 8.03 hereof.

SECTION 8.03. Covenant Defeasance. Upon the Issuer's exercise under Section 8.01 hereof of the option applicable to this Section 8.03, the Issuer and the Guarantors shall, subject to the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Section 8.04 hereof, be released from their obligations under the covenants contained in Sections 4.03, 4.04, 4.05, 4.07, 4.08, 4.09, 4.10, 4.11, 4.12, 4.13, 4.14 and 4.15, hereof and clauses (4), (5) and (6) of Section 5.01(a) and Section 5.01(b) hereof with respect to the outstanding Notes on and after the date the conditions set forth in Section 8.04 hereof are satisfied ("Covenant Defeasance"), and the Notes shall thereafter be deemed not "outstanding" for the purposes of any direction, waiver, consent or declaration or act of Holders (and the consequences of any thereof) in connection with such covenants, but shall continue to be deemed "outstanding" for all other purposes hereunder (it being understood that such Notes shall not be deemed outstanding for accounting purposes). For this purpose, Covenant Defeasance means that, with respect to the outstanding Notes, the Issuer may omit to comply with and shall have no liability in respect of any term, condition or limitation set forth in any such covenant, whether directly or indirectly, by reason of any reference elsewhere herein to any such covenant or by reason of any reference in any such covenant to any other provision herein or in any other document and such omission to comply shall not constitute a Default or an Event of Default under Section 6.01 hereof, but, except as specified above, the remainder of this Indenture and such Notes shall be unaffected thereby. In addition, upon the Issuer's exercise under Section 8.01 hereof of the option applicable to this Section 8.03 hereof, subject to the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Section 8.04 hereof, Sections 6.01(3) (solely with respect to the covenants that are released upon a Covenant Defeasance), 6.01(4), 6.01(5), 6.01(6) (solely with respect to a Significant Party), 6.01(7) (solely with respect to a Significant Party), 6.01(8) hereof shall not constitute Events of Default.

SECTION 8.04. Conditions to Legal or Covenant Defeasance. The following shall be the conditions to the application of either Section 8.02 or 8.03 hereof to the outstanding Notes:

In order to exercise either Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance with respect to the Notes:

(a) the Issuer must irrevocably deposit with the Trustee, in trust, for the benefit of the Holders of the Notes, cash in U.S. dollars, Government Securities, or a combination thereof, in such amounts as will be sufficient, in the opinion of a nationally recognized firm of independent public accountants, to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest due on the Notes on the stated maturity date or on the Redemption Date, as the case may be, of such principal, premium, if any, or interest on such Notes and the Issuer must specify whether such Notes are being defeased to maturity or to a particular Redemption Date.

(b) in the case of Legal Defeasance, the Issuer shall have delivered to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel reasonably acceptable to the Trustee confirming that, subject to customary assumptions and exclusions,

(i) the Issuer has received from, or there has been published by, the United States Internal Revenue Service a ruling, or

(ii) since the issuance of the Notes, there has been a change in the applicable U.S. federal income tax law, in either case to the effect that, and based thereon such Opinion of Counsel shall confirm that, subject to customary assumptions and exclusions, the Holders of the Notes will not recognize income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes, as applicable, as a result of such Legal Defeasance and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the same amounts, in the same manner and at the same times as would have been the case if such Legal Defeasance had not occurred;

(c) in the case of Covenant Defeasance, the Issuer shall have delivered to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel reasonably acceptable to the Trustee confirming that, subject to customary assumptions and exclusions, the Holders of the Notes will not recognize income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of such Covenant Defeasance and will be subject to such tax on the same amounts, in the same manner and at the same times as would have been the case if such Covenant Defeasance had not occurred;

(d) no Default (other than that resulting from borrowing funds to be applied to make such deposit and any similar and simultaneous deposit relating to other Indebtedness and, in each case, the granting of Liens in connection therewith) shall have occurred and be continuing on the date of such deposit;

(e) such Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance shall not result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under the Senior Credit Facilities, the Existing Senior Notes, the indenture pursuant to which the Existing Senior Notes were issued or any other material agreement or instrument (other than this Indenture) to which, the Issuer or any Guarantor is a party or by which the Issuer or any Guarantor is bound (other than that resulting from any borrowing of funds to be applied to make the deposit required to effect such Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance and any similar and simultaneous deposit relating to other Indebtedness, and the granting of Liens in connection therewith);

(f) the Issuer shall have delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate stating that the deposit was not made by the Issuer with the intent of defeating, hindering, delaying or defrauding any creditors of the Issuer or any Guarantor or others; and

(g) the Issuer shall have delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel (which Opinion of Counsel may be subject to customary assumptions and exclusions) each stating that all conditions precedent provided for or relating to the Legal Defeasance or the Covenant Defeasance, as the case may be, have been complied with.

SECTION 8.05. Deposited Money and Government Securities to Be Held in Trust; Other Miscellaneous Provisions. Subject to Section 8.06 hereof, all money and Government Securities (including the proceeds thereof) deposited with the Trustee (or other qualifying trustee, collectively for purposes of this Section 8.05, the "Trustee") pursuant to Section 8.04 hereof in respect of the outstanding Notes shall be held in trust and applied by the Trustee, in accordance with the provisions of such Notes and this Indenture, to the payment, either directly or through any Paying Agent (including the Issuer or a Guarantor acting as Paying Agent) as the Trustee may determine, to the Holders of such Notes of all sums due and to become due thereon in respect of principal, premium and interest, but such money need not be segregated from other funds except to the extent required by law.

The Issuer shall pay and indemnify the Trustee against any tax, fee or other charge imposed on or assessed against the cash or Government Securities deposited pursuant to Section 8.04 hereof or the principal and interest received in respect thereof other than any such tax, fee or other charge which by law is for the account of the Holders of the outstanding Notes. Anything in this Article VIII to the contrary notwithstanding, the Trustee shall deliver or pay to the Issuer from time to time upon the request of the Issuer any money or Government Securities held by it as provided in Section 8.04 hereof which, in the opinion of a nationally recognized firm of independent public accountants expressed in a written certification thereof delivered to the Trustee (which may be the opinion delivered under Section 8.04(a) hereof), are in excess of the amount thereof that would then be required to be deposited to effect an equivalent Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance.

SECTION 8.06. Repayment to Issuer. Subject to any applicable abandoned property law, any money deposited with the Trustee or any Paying Agent, or then held by the Issuer, in trust for the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, or interest on any Note and remaining unclaimed for two years after such principal, and premium, if any, or interest has become due and payable shall be paid to the Issuer on its request or (if then held by the Issuer) shall be discharged from such trust; and the Holder of such Note shall thereafter look only to the Issuer for payment thereof, and all liability of the Trustee or such Paying Agent with respect to such trust money, and all liability of the Issuer as trustee thereof, shall thereupon cease.

SECTION 8.07. Reinstatement. If the Trustee or Paying Agent is unable to apply any United States dollars or Government Securities in accordance with Section 8.02 or 8.03 hereof, as the case may be, by reason of any order or judgment of any court or governmental authority enjoining, restraining or otherwise prohibiting such application, then the Issuer's obligations under this Indenture and the Notes shall be revived and reinstated as though no deposit had occurred pursuant to Section 8.02 or 8.03 hereof until such time as the Trustee or Paying Agent is permitted to apply all such money in accordance with Section 8.02 or 8.03 hereof, as the case may be; provided that, if the Issuer makes any payment of principal of, premium, if any, or interest on any Note following the reinstatement of its obligations, the Issuer shall be subrogated to the rights of the Holders of such Notes to receive such payment from the money held by the Trustee or Paying Agent.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT, SUPPLEMENT AND WAIVER

SECTION 9.01. Without Consent of Holders of Notes. Notwithstanding Section 9.02 hereof, the Issuer, the Guarantors and the Trustee may amend or supplement this Indenture, the Notes or any Guarantee without the consent of any Holder:

- (a) to cure any ambiguity, omission, mistake, defect or inconsistency;
- (b) to provide for uncertificated Notes of such series in addition to or in place of Definitive Notes;
- (c) to comply with Section 5.01 hereof;
- (d) to provide the assumption of the Issuer's or any Guarantor's obligations to the Holders;
- (e) to make any change that would provide any additional rights or benefits to the Holders or that does not adversely affect the legal rights under this Indenture, the Notes or the Guarantee;
- (f) to add covenants for the benefit of the Holders or to surrender any right or power conferred upon the Issuer or any Guarantor;
- (g) to comply with requirements of the SEC in order to effect or maintain the qualification of this Indenture under the Trust Indenture Act;
- (h) to evidence and provide for the acceptance and appointment under this Indenture of a successor Trustee hereunder pursuant to the requirements hereof;
- (i) to provide for the issuance of exchange notes or private exchange notes, which are identical to exchange notes except that they are not freely transferable;
- (j) to add a Guarantor under this Indenture;
- (k) to conform the text of this Indenture, Guarantees or the Notes to any provision of the "Description of the Notes" section of the Offering Memorandum to the extent that such provision in such "Description of the Notes" section was intended to be a verbatim recitation of a provision of this Indenture, the Guarantee or Notes; and
- (l) to make any amendment to the provisions of this Indenture relating to the transfer and legending of Notes as permitted by this Indenture, including, without limitation to facilitate the issuance and administration of the Notes; provided, however, that (i) compliance with this Indenture as so amended would not result in Notes being transferred in violation of the Securities Act or any applicable securities law and (ii) such amendment does not materially and adversely affect the rights of Holders to transfer Notes.

Upon the request of the Issuer accompanied by a resolution of its board of directors authorizing the execution of any such amended or supplemental indenture, and upon receipt by the Trustee of the documents described in Section 7.02 hereof, the Trustee shall join with the Issuer and the Guarantors in the execution of any amended or supplemental indenture authorized or permitted by the terms of this Indenture and to make any further appropriate agreements and stipulations that may be therein contained, but the Trustee shall have the right, but not be obligated to, enter into such amended or supplemental indenture that affects its own rights, duties or immunities under this Indenture or otherwise. Notwithstanding the foregoing, an Opinion of Counsel shall not be required in connection with the addition of a Guarantor under this Indenture upon execution and delivery by such Guarantor and the Trustee of a supplemental indenture to this Indenture, the form of which is attached as Exhibit D hereto.

SECTION 9.02. With Consent of Holders of Notes. Except as provided below in this Section 9.02, the Issuer, the Guarantors and the Trustee may amend or supplement this Indenture, the Notes or the Guarantees with the consent of the Holders of at least a majority in principal amount of the Notes (including Additional Notes, if any) then outstanding voting as a single class (including consents obtained in connection with a tender offer or exchange offer for, or purchase of, the Notes), and, subject to Sections 6.04 and 6.07 hereof, any existing Default or Event of Default (other than a Default or Event of Default in the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, or interest on the Notes, except a payment default resulting from an acceleration that has been rescinded) or compliance with any provision of this Indenture, the Guarantees or the Notes may be waived with the consent of the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the then outstanding Notes (including Additional Notes, if any) voting as a single class (including consents obtained in connection with a tender offer or exchange offer for, or purchase of, the Notes). Section 2.08 hereof, Section 2.09 hereof and Section 2.14 hereof shall determine which Notes are considered to be “outstanding” for the purposes of this Section 9.02.

Upon the request of the Issuer accompanied by a resolution of its board of directors authorizing the execution of any such amended or supplemental indenture, and upon the filing with the Trustee of evidence satisfactory to the Trustee of the consent of the Holders of Notes as aforesaid, and upon receipt by the Trustee of the documents described in Section 7.02 hereof, the Trustee shall join with the Issuer in the execution of such amended or supplemental indenture unless such amended or supplemental indenture directly affects the Trustee’s own rights, duties or immunities under this Indenture or otherwise, in which case the Trustee may in its discretion, but shall not be obligated to, enter into such amended or supplemental indenture.

It shall not be necessary for the consent of the Holders of Notes under this Section 9.02 to approve the particular form of any proposed amendment or waiver, but it shall be sufficient if such consent approves the substance thereof.

After an amendment, supplement or waiver under this Section 9.02 becomes effective, the Issuer shall mail to the Holders of Notes affected thereby a notice briefly describing the amendment, supplement or waiver. Any failure of the Issuer to mail such notice, or any defect therein, shall not, however, in any way impair or affect the validity of any such amended or supplemental indenture or waiver.

Without the consent of each affected Holder of Notes, an amendment or waiver under this Section 9.02 may not, with respect to any Notes held by a non-consenting Holder:

- (a) reduce the principal amount of such Notes whose Holders must consent to an amendment, supplement or waiver;
- (b) reduce the principal amount of or change the fixed final maturity of any such Note or alter or waive the provisions with respect to the redemption of such Note (other than provisions relating to Section 3.09, Section 4.10 and Section 4.14 hereof);
- (c) reduce the rate of or change the time for payment of interest on any Note;

(d) waive a Default in the payment of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Notes (except a rescission of acceleration of the Notes by the Holders of at least a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Notes and a waiver of the payment default that resulted from such acceleration) or in respect of a covenant or provision contained in this Indenture or any Guarantee which cannot be amended or modified without the consent of all Holders;

(e) make any Note payable in money other than that stated therein;

(f) make any change in the provisions of this Indenture relating to waivers of past Defaults or the rights of Holders to receive payments of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Notes;

(g) make any change in these amendment and waiver provisions;

(h) impair the right of any Holder to receive payment of principal of, or interest on such Holder's Notes on or after the due dates therefor or to institute suit for the enforcement of any payment on or with respect to such Holder's Notes;

(i) make any change to the ranking in right of payment of the Notes that would adversely affect the Holders; or

(j) except as expressly permitted by this Indenture, modify the Guarantees of any Significant Party in any manner adverse to the Holders of the Notes.

SECTION 9.03. Compliance with Trust Indenture Act. Every amendment or supplement to this Indenture or the Notes shall be set forth in an amended or supplemental indenture that complies in all material respects with the Trust Indenture Act as then in effect.

SECTION 9.04. Revocation and Effect of Consents. Until an amendment, supplement or waiver becomes effective, a consent to it by a Holder of a Note is a continuing consent by the Holder of a Note and every subsequent Holder of a Note or portion of a Note that evidences the same debt as the consenting Holder's Note, even if notation of the consent is not made on any Note. However, any such Holder of a Note or subsequent Holder of a Note may revoke the consent as to its Note if the Trustee receives written notice of revocation before the date the waiver, supplement or amendment becomes effective. An amendment, supplement or waiver becomes effective in accordance with its terms and thereafter binds every Holder.

The Issuer may, but shall not be obligated to, fix a record date for the purpose of determining the Holders entitled to consent to any amendment, supplement, or waiver. If a record date is fixed, then, notwithstanding the preceding paragraph, those Persons who were Holders at such record date (or their duly designated proxies), and only such Persons, shall be entitled to consent to such amendment, supplement, or waiver or to revoke any consent previously given, whether or not such Persons continue to be Holders after such record date. No such consent shall be valid or effective for more than 120 days after such record date unless the consent of the requisite number of Holders has been obtained.

SECTION 9.05. Notation on or Exchange of Notes. The Trustee may place an appropriate notation about an amendment, supplement or waiver on any Note thereafter authenticated. The Issuer in exchange for all Notes may issue and the Trustee shall, upon receipt of an Authentication Order, authenticate new Notes that reflect the amendment, supplement or waiver.

Failure to make the appropriate notation or issue a new Note shall not affect the validity and effect of such amendment, supplement or waiver.

SECTION 9.06. Trustee to Sign Amendments, etc. The Trustee shall sign any amendment, supplement or waiver authorized pursuant to this Article IX if the amendment or supplement does not adversely affect the rights, duties, liabilities or immunities of the Trustee. None of the Issuer nor any Guarantor may sign an amendment, supplement or waiver until the board of directors (or similar governing body) approves it. In executing any amendment, supplement or waiver, the Trustee shall be entitled to receive, and (subject to Section 7.01 hereof) shall be fully protected in relying upon, in addition to the documents required by Section 12.04 hereof, an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel stating that the execution of such amended or supplemental indenture is authorized or permitted by this Indenture and that such amendment, supplement or waiver is the legal, valid and binding obligation of the Issuer and any Guarantors party thereto, enforceable against them in accordance with its terms, subject to customary exceptions, and complies with the provisions hereof (including Section 9.03). Notwithstanding the foregoing, an Opinion of Counsel shall not be required in connection with the addition of a Guarantor under this Indenture upon execution and delivery by such Guarantor and the Trustee of a supplemental indenture to this Indenture, the form of which is attached as Exhibit D.

SECTION 9.07. Payment for Consent. Neither the Issuer nor any Affiliate of the Issuer shall, directly or indirectly, pay or cause to be paid any consideration, whether by way of interest, fee or otherwise, to any Holder for or as an inducement to any consent, waiver or amendment of any of the terms or provisions of this Indenture or the Notes unless such consideration is offered to all Holders and is paid to all Holders that so consent, waive or agree to amend in the time frame set forth in solicitation documents relating to such consent, waiver or agreement.

ARTICLE X

GUARANTEES

SECTION 10.01. Guarantee. Subject to this Article X, each of the Guarantors hereby, jointly and severally, unconditionally guarantees to each Holder of a Note authenticated and delivered by the Trustee and to the Trustee and its successors and assigns, that: (a) the principal of and interest and premium, if any, on the Notes shall be promptly paid in full when due, whether at maturity, by acceleration, redemption or otherwise, and interest on the overdue principal of and interest on the Notes, if any, if lawful, and all other obligations of the Issuer to the Holders or the Trustee hereunder or thereunder shall be promptly paid in full or performed, all in accordance with the terms hereof and thereof; and (b) in case of any extension of time of payment or renewal of any Notes or any of such other obligations, that same shall be promptly paid in full when due or performed in accordance with the terms of the extension or renewal, whether at stated maturity, by acceleration or otherwise. Failing payment when due of any amount so guaranteed or any performance so guaranteed for whatever reason, the Guarantors shall be jointly and severally obligated to pay the same immediately. Each Guarantor agrees that this is a guarantee of payment and not a guarantee of collection.

The Guarantors hereby agree that their obligations hereunder shall be unconditional, irrespective of the validity, regularity or enforceability of this Indenture, the Notes or the obligations of Issuer hereunder or thereunder, the absence of any action to enforce the same, any waiver or consent by any Holder of the Notes with respect to any provisions hereof or thereof, the recovery of any judgment against the Issuer or any Guarantor, any action to enforce the same or any other circumstance which might otherwise constitute a legal or equitable discharge or defense of a Guarantor. Each Guarantor hereby waives diligence, presentment, demand of payment, filing of claims with a court in the event of insolvency or bankruptcy of the Issuer, any right to require a proceeding first against the Issuer, protest, notice and all demands whatsoever and covenants that this Guarantee shall not be discharged except by complete performance of the obligations contained in the Notes and this Indenture.

Each Guarantor also agrees to pay any and all costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) incurred by the Trustee or any Holder in enforcing any rights under this Section 10.01.

If any Holder or the Trustee is required by any court or otherwise to return to the Issuer, the Guarantors or any custodian, trustee, liquidator or other similar official acting in relation to either the Issuer or the Guarantors, any amount paid either to the Trustee or such Holder, this Guarantee, to the extent theretofore discharged, shall be reinstated in full force and effect.

Each Guarantor agrees that it shall not be entitled to any right of subrogation in relation to the Holders in respect of any obligations guaranteed hereby until payment in full of all obligations guaranteed hereby. Each Guarantor further agrees that, as between the Guarantors, on the one hand, and the Holders and the Trustee, on the other hand, (x) the maturity of the obligations guaranteed hereby may be accelerated as provided in Article VI hereof for the purposes of this Guarantee, notwithstanding any stay, injunction or other prohibition preventing such acceleration in respect of the obligations guaranteed hereby, and (y) in the event of any declaration of acceleration of such obligations as provided in Article VI hereof, such obligations (whether or not due and payable) shall forthwith become due and payable by the Guarantors for the purpose of this Guarantee. The Guarantors shall have the right to seek contribution from any non-paying Guarantor so long as the exercise of such right does not impair the rights of the Holders under the Guarantees.

Unless and until released in accordance with Section 10.06, each Guarantee shall remain in full force and effect and continue to be effective should any petition be filed by or against the Issuer for liquidation, reorganization, should the Issuer become insolvent or make an assignment for the benefit of creditors or should a receiver or trustee be appointed for all or any significant part of the Issuer's assets, and shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, continue to be effective or be reinstated, as the case may be, if at any time payment and performance of the Notes are, pursuant to applicable law, rescinded or reduced in amount, or must otherwise be restored or returned by any obligee on the Notes or Guarantees, whether as a "voidable preference," "fraudulent transfer" or otherwise, all as though such payment or performance had not been made. In the event that any payment or any part thereof, is rescinded, reduced, restored or returned, the Notes shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, be reinstated and deemed reduced only by such amount paid and not so rescinded, reduced, restored or returned.

In case any provision of any Guarantee shall be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the validity, legality, and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

Each payment to be made by a Guarantor in respect of its Guarantee shall be made without set-off, counterclaim, reduction or diminution of any kind or nature.

SECTION 10.02. Limitation on Guarantor Liability. Each Guarantor, and by its acceptance of Notes, each Holder, hereby confirms that it is the intention of all such parties that the Guarantee of such Guarantor not constitute a fraudulent transfer or conveyance for purposes of Bankruptcy Law, the Uniform Fraudulent Conveyance Act, the Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act or any similar federal or state law to the extent applicable to any Guarantee. To effectuate the foregoing intention, the Trustee, the Holders and the Guarantors hereby irrevocably agree that the obligations of each Guarantor shall be limited to the maximum amount as will, after giving effect to such maximum amount and all other contingent and fixed liabilities of such Guarantor that are relevant under such laws and after giving effect to any collections from, rights to receive contribution from or payments made by or on behalf of any other Guarantor in respect of the obligations of such other Guarantor under this Article X, result in the obligations of such Guarantor under its Guarantee not constituting a fraudulent conveyance or fraudulent transfer under applicable law. Each Guarantor that makes a payment under its Guarantee shall be entitled upon payment in full of all guaranteed obligations under this Indenture to a contribution from each other Guarantor in an amount equal to such other Guarantor's pro rata portion of such payment based on the respective net assets of all the Guarantors at the time of such payment determined in accordance with GAAP.

SECTION 10.03. Execution and Delivery. To evidence its Guarantee set forth in Section 10.01 hereof, each Guarantor hereby agrees that this Indenture or a supplement indenture hereto in substantially the form of Exhibit D hereto, as the case may be, shall be executed on behalf of such Guarantor by its President, one of its Vice Presidents or one of its Assistant Vice Presidents.

Each Guarantor hereby agrees that its Guarantee set forth in Section 10.01 hereof shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the absence of the endorsement of any notation of such Guarantee on the Notes.

If an Officer whose signature is on this Indenture no longer holds that office at the time the Trustee authenticates the Note, the Guarantee shall be valid nevertheless.

The delivery of any Note by the Trustee, after the authentication thereof hereunder, shall constitute due delivery of the Guarantee set forth in this Indenture on behalf of the Guarantors.

If required by Section 4.15 or Section 10.01 hereof, the Issuer shall cause any newly created or acquired Restricted Subsidiary to comply with the provisions of Section 4.15 hereof and this Article X, to the extent applicable.

SECTION 10.04. Subrogation. Each Guarantor shall be subrogated to all rights of Holders of Notes against the Issuer in respect of any amounts paid by any Guarantor pursuant to the provisions of Section 10.01 hereof; provided that, if an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, no Guarantor shall be entitled to enforce or receive any payments arising out of, or based upon, such right of subrogation until all amounts then due and payable by the Issuer under this Indenture or the Notes shall have been paid in full.

SECTION 10.05. Benefits Acknowledged. Each Guarantor acknowledges that it will receive direct and indirect benefits from the financing arrangements contemplated by this Indenture and that the guarantee and waivers made by it pursuant to its Guarantee are knowingly made in contemplation of such benefits.

SECTION 10.06. Release of Guarantees. A Guarantee by a Guarantor shall be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged, and no further action by the Guaranteeing Subsidiary, the Issuer or the Trustee is required for the release of the Guaranteeing Subsidiary's Guarantee, upon:

(a) (A) any sale, exchange or transfer (by merger or otherwise) of (i) the Capital Stock of such Guarantor (including any sale, exchange or transfer), after which the applicable Guarantor is no longer a Restricted Subsidiary or (ii) all or substantially all the assets of such Guarantor, in each case made in compliance with the applicable provisions of this Indenture;

(B) the release or discharge of the guarantee by such Guarantor of Indebtedness under the Senior Credit Facilities or such other guarantee that resulted in the creation of such Guarantee, except a discharge or release by or as a result of payment under such guarantee;

(C) the designation of any Restricted Subsidiary that is a Guarantor as an Unrestricted Subsidiary in compliance with Section 4.07 and the definition of "Unrestricted Subsidiary"; or

(D) the exercise by the Issuer of its Legal Defeasance option or Covenant Defeasance option in accordance with Article VIII hereof or the discharge of the Issuer's obligations under this Indenture in accordance with the terms of this Indenture; and

(b) such Guarantor delivering to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate of such Guarantor and an Opinion of Counsel, each stating that all conditions precedent provided for in this Indenture relating to such transaction have been complied with.

ARTICLE XI

SATISFACTION AND DISCHARGE

SECTION 11.01. Satisfaction and Discharge. This Indenture shall be discharged and shall cease to be of further effect as to all Notes, when either:

(a) all Notes heretofore authenticated and delivered, except lost, stolen or destroyed Notes which have been replaced or paid and Notes for whose payment money has heretofore been deposited in trust, have been delivered to the Trustee for cancellation; or

(b) (A) all Notes not heretofore delivered to the Trustee for cancellation have become due and payable by reason of the making of a notice of redemption or otherwise, will become due and payable within one year or are to be called for redemption within one year under arrangements satisfactory to the Trustee for the giving of notice of redemption by the Trustee in the name, and at the expense, of the Issuer, and the Issuer or any Guarantor has irrevocably deposited or caused to be deposited with the Trustee as trust funds in trust solely for the benefit of the Holders of the Notes, cash in U.S. dollars, Government Securities, or a combination thereof, in such amounts as will be sufficient without consideration of any reinvestment of interest to pay and discharge the entire indebtedness on the Notes not heretofore delivered to the Trustee for cancellation for principal, premium, if any, and accrued interest to the date of maturity or redemption;

(B) no Default (other than that resulting from borrowing funds to be applied to make such deposit or any similar and simultaneous deposit relating to other Indebtedness and the granting of Liens in connection therewith) with respect to this Indenture or the Notes shall have occurred and be continuing on the date of such deposit or shall occur as a result of such deposit and such deposit will not result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under the Senior Credit Facilities, the Existing Senior Notes, the indentures governing the Existing Senior Notes or any other material agreement or instrument governing Indebtedness (other than this Indenture) to which the Issuer or any Guarantor is a party or by which the Issuer or any Guarantor is bound;

(C) the Issuer has paid or caused to be paid all sums payable by it under this Indenture; and

(D) the Issuer has delivered irrevocable instructions to the Trustee to apply the deposited money toward the payment of the Notes at maturity or the Redemption Date, as the case may be.

In addition, the Issuer shall deliver an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel to the Trustee stating that all conditions precedent to satisfaction and discharge have been satisfied.

Notwithstanding the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture, if money shall have been deposited with the Trustee pursuant to subclause (A) of clause (b) of this Section 11.01, the provisions of Section 11.02 and Section 8.06 hereof shall survive.

SECTION 11.02. Application of Trust Money . Subject to the provisions of Section 8.06 hereof, all money deposited with the Trustee pursuant to Section 11.01 hereof shall be held in trust and applied by it, in accordance with the provisions of the Notes and this Indenture, to the payment, either directly or through any Paying Agent (including the Issuer acting as its own Paying Agent) as the Trustee may determine, to the Persons entitled thereto, of the principal (and premium, if any) and interest for whose payment such money has been deposited with the Trustee; but such money need not be segregated from other funds except to the extent required by law.

If the Trustee or Paying Agent is unable to apply any money or Government Securities in accordance with Section 11.01 hereof by reason of any legal proceeding or by reason of any order or judgment of any court or governmental authority enjoining, restraining or otherwise prohibiting such application, the Issuer's and any Guarantor's obligations under this Indenture and the Notes shall be revived and reinstated as though no deposit had occurred pursuant to Section 11.01 hereof; provided that if the Issuer has made any payment of principal of, premium, if any, or interest on any Notes because of the reinstatement of its obligations, the Issuer shall be subrogated to the rights of the Holders of such Notes to receive such payment from the money or Government Securities held by the Trustee or Paying Agent.

ARTICLE XII

MISCELLANEOUS

SECTION 12.01. Trust Indenture Act Controls . If any provision of this Indenture limits, qualifies or conflicts with the duties imposed by Trust Indenture Act Section 318(c), the imposed duties shall control.

SECTION 12.02. Notices . Any notice or communication by the Issuer, any Guarantor or the Trustee to the others is duly given if in writing and delivered in person or mailed by first-class mail (registered or certified, return receipt requested), fax or overnight air courier guaranteeing next day delivery, to the others' address:

If to the Issuer and/or any Guarantor:

Univision Communications Inc.
1999 Avenue of the Stars, Suite 3050
Los Angeles, CA 90067
Attention: General Counsel

with a copy to:

Weil Gotshal & Manges LLP
767 Fifth Avenue
New York, NY 10153
Attention: Todd R. Chandler

If to the Trustee:

Wilmington Trust FSB
246 Goose Lane, Suite 105
Guilford, CT 06437
Attention: Corporate Capital Market — Univision Administrator

The Issuer, any Guarantor or the Trustee, by notice to the others, may designate additional or different addresses for subsequent notices or communications.

All notices and communications (other than those sent to Holders) shall be deemed to have been duly given: at the time delivered by hand, if personally delivered; five calendar days after being deposited in the mail, postage prepaid, if mailed by first-class mail; when receipt acknowledged, if faxed; and the next Business Day after timely delivery to the courier, if sent by overnight air courier guaranteeing next day delivery; provided that any notice or communication delivered to the Trustee shall be deemed effective upon actual receipt thereof.

Any notice or communication to a Holder shall be mailed by first-class mail, certified or registered, return receipt requested, or by overnight air courier guaranteeing next day delivery to its address shown on the Note Register kept by the Registrar. Any notice or communication shall also be so mailed to any Person described in Trust Indenture Act Section 313(c), to the extent required by the Trust Indenture Act. Failure to mail a notice or communication to a Holder or any defect in it shall not affect its sufficiency with respect to other Holders.

If a notice or communication is mailed in the manner provided above within the time prescribed, it is duly given, whether or not the addressee receives it.

If the Issuer mails a notice or communication to Holders, it shall mail a copy to the Trustee and each Agent at the same time.

SECTION 12.03. Communication by Holders of Notes with Other Holders of Notes. Holders may communicate pursuant to Trust Indenture Act Section 312(b) with other Holders with respect to their rights under this Indenture or the Notes. The Issuer, the Trustee, the Registrar and anyone else shall have the protection of Trust Indenture Act Section 312(c).

SECTION 12.04. Certificate and Opinion as to Conditions Precedent. Upon any request or application by the Issuer or any of the Guarantors to the Trustee to take any action under this Indenture, the Issuer or such Guarantor, as the case may be, shall furnish to the Trustee:

(a) an Officer's Certificate of the Issuer in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee (which shall include the statements set forth in Section 12.05 hereof) stating that, in the opinion of the signers, all conditions precedent and covenants, if any, provided for in this Indenture relating to the proposed action have been satisfied; and

(b) an Opinion of Counsel in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee (which shall include the statements set forth in Section 12.05 hereof) stating that, in the opinion of such counsel, all such conditions precedent and covenants have been satisfied.

SECTION 12.05. Statements Required in Certificate or Opinion. Each certificate or opinion with respect to compliance with a condition or covenant provided for in this Indenture (other than a certificate provided pursuant to Section 4.04 hereof or Trust Indenture Act Section 314(a)(4)) shall comply with the provisions of Trust Indenture Act Section 314(e) and shall include:

- (a) a statement that the Person making such certificate or opinion has read such covenant or condition;
- (b) a brief statement as to the nature and scope of the examination or investigation upon which the statements or opinions contained in such certificate or opinion are based;
- (c) a statement that, in the opinion of such Person, he or she has made such examination or investigation as is necessary to enable him to express an informed opinion as to whether or not such covenant or condition has been complied with (and, in the case of an Opinion of Counsel, may be limited to reliance on an Officer's Certificate, certificates of public officials or reports or opinions of experts as to matters of fact); and
- (d) a statement as to whether or not, in the opinion of such Person, such condition or covenant has been complied with.

SECTION 12.06. Rules by Trustee and Agents. The Trustee may make reasonable rules for action by or at a meeting of Holders. The Registrar or Paying Agent may make reasonable rules and set reasonable requirements for its functions.

SECTION 12.07. No Personal Liability of Directors, Officers, Employees and Stockholders. No past, present or future director, officer, employee, incorporator or stockholder of the Issuer or any Guarantor or any of their parent companies shall have any liability for any obligations of the Issuer or the Guarantors under the Notes, the Guarantees or this Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting Notes waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the Notes.

SECTION 12.08. Governing Law. THIS INDENTURE, THE NOTES AND ANY GUARANTEE WILL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

SECTION 12.09. Waiver of Jury Trial. EACH OF THE ISSUER, THE GUARANTORS AND THE TRUSTEE HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS INDENTURE, THE NOTES OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY.

SECTION 12.10. Force Majeure. In no event shall the Trustee be responsible or liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations under this Indenture arising out of or caused by, directly or indirectly, forces beyond its reasonable control, including without limitation strikes, work stoppages, accidents, acts of war or terrorism, civil or military disturbances, nuclear or natural catastrophes or acts of God, and interruptions, loss or malfunctions of utilities, communications or computer (software or hardware) services.

SECTION 12.11. No Adverse Interpretation of Other Agreements. This Indenture may not be used to interpret any other indenture, loan or debt agreement of the Issuer or its Subsidiaries or of any other Person. Any such indenture, loan or debt agreement may not be used to interpret this Indenture.

SECTION 12.12. Successors. All agreements of the Issuer in this Indenture and the Notes shall bind its successors. All agreements of the Trustee in this Indenture shall bind its successors. All agreements of each Guarantor in this Indenture shall bind its successors, except as otherwise provided in Sections 5.01(b)(1), 5.02 and 10.06 hereof.

SECTION 12.13. Severability. In case any provision in this Indenture or in the Notes shall be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

SECTION 12.14. Counterpart Originals. The parties may sign any number of copies of this Indenture. Each signed copy shall be an original, but all of them together represent the same agreement.

SECTION 12.15. Table of Contents, Headings, etc. The Table of Contents, Cross-Reference Table and headings of the Articles and Sections of this Indenture have been inserted for convenience of reference only, are not to be considered a part of this Indenture and shall in no way modify or restrict any of the terms or provisions hereof.

8 1/2 % Senior Note due 2021

Capitalized terms used herein shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Indenture referred to below unless otherwise indicated.

1. Interest. Univision Communications Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Issuer”), promises to pay interest on the principal amount of this Note at a rate per annum set forth below from the Issue Date until maturity. The Issuer will pay interest on this Note semi-annually in arrears on May 15 and November 15 of each year, commencing on May 15, 2011, or if any such day is not a Business Day, on the next succeeding Business Day (each, an “Interest Payment Date”), and no interest shall accrue on such payment for the intervening period. The Issuer will make each interest payment to the Holder of record of this Note on the immediately preceding May 1 and November 1 (each, a “Record Date”). Interest on this Note will accrue from the most recent date to which interest has been paid or, if no interest has been paid, from and including the Issue Date. The Issuer will pay interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on overdue principal at the rate then applicable to this Note; it shall pay interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on overdue installments of interest (without regard to any applicable grace periods) at the rate then applicable to this Note to the extent lawful. Interest will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year comprised of twelve 30-day months.

Interest on this Note will accrue at the rate of 8 1/2 % per annum.

2. Method of Payment. The Issuer will pay interest on this Note to the Person who is the registered Holder of this Note at the close of business on the Record Date (whether or not a Business Day) next preceding the Interest Payment Date, even if this Note is canceled after such record date and on or before such Interest Payment Date, except as provided in Section 2.12 of the Indenture with respect to defaulted interest. Cash payment of interest may be made by check mailed to the Holders at their addresses set forth in the Register, provided that [all cash payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest on, this Note will be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the accounts specified by the Holder or Holders thereof] <sup>1</sup> [all cash payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest on, this Note will be made by wire transfer to a U.S. dollar account maintained by the payee with a bank in the United States if such Holder elects payment by wire transfer by giving written notice to the Trustee or the Paying Agent to such effect designating such account no later than 30 days immediately preceding the relevant due date for payment (or such other date as the Trustee may accept in its discretion)]. <sup>2</sup> Such payment shall be in such coin or currency of the United States of America as at the time of payment is legal tender for payment of public and private debts.

3. Paying Agent and Registrar. Initially, Wilmington Trust FSB, the Trustee under the Indenture, will act as Paying Agent and Registrar. The Issuer may change any Paying Agent or Registrar without notice to the Holders. The Issuer or any of its Subsidiaries may act as Paying Agent or Registrar.

4. Indenture. The Issuer issued the Notes under a Senior Notes Indenture, dated as of November 23, 2010 (the “Indenture”), among Univision Communications Inc., the Guarantors and the Trustee. This Note is one of a duly authorized issue of notes of the Issuer designated as its 8 1/2 % Senior Notes due 2021. The Issuer shall be entitled to issue Additional Notes pursuant to Section 2.01 of the Indenture. The Notes and any Additional Notes issued under the Indenture shall be treated as a single class of securities under the Indenture. The terms of the Notes include those stated in the Indenture and those incorporated by reference into the Indenture from the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended (the “Trust Indenture Act”). The Notes are subject to all such terms, and Holders are referred to the Indenture and such Act for a statement of such terms. To the extent any provision of this Note conflicts with the express provisions of the Indenture, the provisions of the Indenture shall govern and be controlling.

5. Optional Redemption .

(a) Except as described below under clauses 5(b), 5(c) and 5(d) hereof, the Notes will not be redeemable at the Issuer’s option.

(b) At any time prior to November 15, 2015 the Notes may be redeemed or purchased (by the Issuer or any other Person) at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of Notes redeemed plus the Applicable Premium as of, and accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date of redemption (the “Redemption Date”), subject to the rights of Holders of Notes on the relevant Record Date to receive interest due on the relevant Interest Payment Date.

(c) Until November 15, 2013, the Issuer may, at its option on one or more occasions, redeem up to 35% of the aggregate principal amount of Notes issued by it at a redemption price equal to 108.500% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the Redemption Date, subject to the right of Holders of Notes of record on the relevant Record Date to receive interest due on the relevant Interest Payment Date, with the net cash proceeds of one or more Equity Offerings to the extent such net cash proceeds are contributed to the Issuer; provided that at least 50% of the sum of the aggregate principal amount of Notes originally issued under the Indenture and any Additional Notes issued under the Indenture after the Issue Date remains outstanding immediately after the occurrence of each such redemption; provided, further, that each such redemption occurs within 180 days of the date of closing of each such Equity Offering. Notice of any redemption upon any Equity Offering may be given prior to the redemption thereof, and any such redemption or notice may, at the Issuer’s discretion, be subject to one or more conditions precedent, including, but not limited to, completion of the related Equity Offering.

(d) On and after November 15, 2015 the Issuer may redeem the Notes, in whole or in part at the redemption prices (expressed as a percentage of principal amount of the Notes to be redeemed) set forth below, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the Redemption Date, subject to the right of Holders of Notes of record on the relevant Record Date to receive interest due on the relevant Interest Payment Date, if redeemed during the twelve-month period beginning on November 15 of each of the years indicated below:

Year	Percentage
2015	104.250%
2016	102.833%
2017	101.417%
2018 and thereafter	100.000%

(e) Any redemption pursuant to this paragraph 5 shall be made pursuant to the provisions of Sections 3.01 through 3.06 of the Indenture.

6. Notice of Redemption . Subject to Section 3.03 of the Indenture, notice of redemption will be mailed by first-class mail at least 30 days but not more than 60 days before the redemption date (except that redemption notices may be mailed more than 60 days prior to a redemption date if the notice is issued in connection with Article VIII or Article XI of the Indenture) to each Holder whose

Notes are to be redeemed at its registered address. Notes in denominations larger than $2,000 may be redeemed in part but only in whole multiples of $1,000, unless all of the Notes held by a Holder are to be redeemed. On and after the Redemption Date, interest ceases to accrue on this Note or portions thereof called for redemption.

7. Offers to Repurchase. Upon the occurrence of a Change of Control, the Issuer shall make a Change of Control Offer in accordance with Section 4.14 of the Indenture. In connection with certain Asset Sales, the Issuer shall make an Asset Sale Offer as and when provided in accordance with Section 4.10 of the Indenture.

8. Denominations, Transfer, Exchange. The Notes are in registered form without coupons in denominations of $2,000 and integral multiples of $1,000. The transfer of Notes may be registered and Notes may be exchanged as provided in the Indenture. The Registrar and the Trustee may require a Holder, among other things, to furnish appropriate endorsements and transfer documents and the Issuer may require a Holder to pay any taxes and fees required by law or permitted by the Indenture. The Issuer need not exchange or register the transfer of any Note or portion of a Note selected for redemption, except for the unredeemed portion of any Note being redeemed in part. Also, the Issuer need not exchange or register the transfer of any Notes for a period of 15 days before a selection of Notes to be redeemed.

9. Persons Deemed Owners. The registered Holder of a Note may be treated as its owner for all purposes.

10. Amendment, Supplement and Waiver. The Indenture, the Guarantees and the Notes, may be amended or supplemented as provided in the Indenture.

11. Defaults and Remedies. The Events of Default relating to the Notes are defined in Section 6.01 of the Indenture. If any Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the Trustee or the Holders of at least 25% in principal amount of the then outstanding Notes may declare the principal, premium, if any, interest and any other monetary obligations on all the then outstanding Notes to be due and payable immediately. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the case of an Event of Default arising from certain events of bankruptcy or insolvency, all outstanding Notes will become due and payable immediately without further action or notice. Holders may not enforce the Indenture, the Notes or the Guarantees except as provided in the Indenture. Subject to certain limitations, Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes may direct the Trustee in its exercise of any trust or power. The Trustee may withhold from Holders of the Notes notice of any continuing Default (except a Default relating to the payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest) if it determines that withholding notice is in their interest. The Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Notes then outstanding by notice to the Trustee may on behalf of the Holders of all of the Notes waive any existing Default or and its consequences under the Indenture except a continuing Default in payment of the principal of, premium, if any, or interest on, any of the Notes held by a non-consenting Holder. The Issuer is required to deliver to the Trustee annually a statement regarding compliance with the Indenture, and the Issuer is required within five (5) Business Days after becoming aware of any Default, to deliver to the Trustee a statement specifying such Default.

12. Authentication. This Note shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose until authenticated by the manual signature of the Trustee.

13. GOVERNING LAW. THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK SHALL GOVERN AND BE USED TO CONSTRUCT THE INDENTURE, THE NOTES AND THE GUARANTEES.

14. CUSIP and ISIN Numbers. Pursuant to a recommendation promulgated by the Committee on Uniform Security Identification Procedures, the Issuer has caused CUSIP and ISIN numbers to be printed on the Notes and the Trustee may use CUSIP and ISIN numbers in notices of redemption as a convenience to Holders. No representation is made as to the accuracy of such numbers either as printed on the Notes or as contained in any notice of redemption and reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers placed thereon.

The Issuer will furnish to any Holder upon written request and without charge a copy of the Indenture. Requests may be made to the Issuer at the following address:

Re: 8 1/2 % Senior Notes due 2021

Reference is hereby made to the Senior Notes Indenture, dated as of November 23, 2010 (the “Indenture”), between Univision Communications Inc., the Guarantors and the Trustee. Capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the meanings given to them in the Indenture.

(the “Transferor”) owns and proposes to transfer the Note[s] or interest in such Note[s] specified in Annex A hereto, in the principal amount of $ _____ in such Note[s] or interests (the “Transfer”), to _____ (the “Transferee”), as further specified in Annex A hereto. In connection with the Transfer, the Transferor hereby certifies that:

[CHECK ALL THAT APPLY]

1. [  ] CHECK IF TRANSFEREE WILL TAKE DELIVERY OF A BENEFICIAL INTEREST IN THE RELEVANT 144A GLOBAL NOTE OR RELEVANT DEFINITIVE NOTE PURSUANT TO RULE 144A. The Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 144A under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), and, accordingly, the Transferor hereby further certifies that the beneficial interest or Definitive Note is being transferred to a Person that the Transferor reasonably believes is purchasing the beneficial interest or Definitive Note for its own account, or for one or more accounts with respect to which such Person exercises sole investment discretion, and such Person and each such account is a “qualified institutional buyer” within the meaning of Rule 144A in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A and such Transfer is in compliance with any applicable blue sky securities laws of any state of the United States.

2. [  ] CHECK IF TRANSFEREE WILL TAKE DELIVERY OF A BENEFICIAL INTEREST IN THE RELEVANT REGULATION S GLOBAL NOTE OR RELEVANT DEFINITIVE NOTE PURSUANT TO REGULATION S. The Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 903 or Rule 904 under the Securities Act and, accordingly, the Transferor hereby further certifies that (i) the Transfer is not being made to a person in the United States and (x) at the time the buy order was originated, the Transferee was outside the United States or such Transferor and any Person acting on its behalf reasonably believed and believes that the Transferee was outside the United States or (y) the transaction was executed in, on or through the facilities of a designated offshore securities market and neither such Transferor nor any Person acting on its behalf knows that the transaction was prearranged with a buyer in the United States, (ii) no directed selling efforts have been made in contravention of the requirements of Rule 903(b) or Rule 904(a) of Regulation S under the Securities Act, (iii) the transaction is not part of a plan or scheme to evade the registration requirements of the Securities Act and (iv)

if the proposed transfer is being made prior to the expiration of the Restricted Period, the transfer is not being made to a U.S. Person or for the account or benefit of a U.S. Person (other than an Initial Purchaser). Upon consummation of the proposed transfer in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the transferred beneficial interest or Definitive Note will be subject to the restrictions on Transfer enumerated in the Indenture and the Securities Act.

3. [ ] CHECK AND COMPLETE IF TRANSFEREE WILL TAKE DELIVERY OF A BENEFICIAL INTEREST IN THE RELEVANT DEFINITIVE NOTE PURSUANT TO ANY PROVISION OF THE SECURITIES ACT OTHER THAN RULE 144A OR REGULATION S. The Transfer is being effected in compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to beneficial interests in Restricted Global Notes and Restricted Definitive Notes and pursuant to and in accordance with the Securities Act and any applicable blue sky securities laws of any state of the United States, and accordingly the Transferor hereby further certifies that (check one):

(a) [ ] such Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 144 under the Securities Act; or

(b) [ ] such Transfer is being effected to the Issuer or a subsidiary thereof;

or

(c) [ ] such Transfer is being effected pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act and in compliance with the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act.

4. [ ] CHECK IF TRANSFEREE WILL TAKE DELIVERY OF A BENEFICIAL INTEREST IN AN UNRESTRICTED GLOBAL NOTE OR OF AN UNRESTRICTED DEFINITIVE NOTE.

(a) [ ] CHECK IF TRANSFER IS PURSUANT TO RULE 144. (i) The Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 144 under the Securities Act and in compliance with the transfer restrictions contained in the Indenture and any applicable blue sky securities laws of any state of the United States and (ii) the restrictions on transfer contained in the Indenture and the Private Placement Legend are not required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act. Upon consummation of the proposed Transfer in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the transferred beneficial interest or Definitive Note will no longer be subject to the restrictions on transfer enumerated in the Private Placement Legend printed on the Restricted Global Notes, on Restricted Definitive Notes and in the Indenture.

(b) [ ] CHECK IF TRANSFER IS PURSUANT TO REGULATION S. (i) The Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 903 or Rule 904 under the Securities Act and in compliance with the transfer restrictions contained in the Indenture and any applicable blue sky securities laws of any state of the United States and (ii) the restrictions on transfer contained in the Indenture and the Private Placement Legend are not required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act. Upon consummation of the proposed Transfer in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the transferred beneficial interest or Definitive Note will no longer be subject to the restrictions on transfer enumerated in the Private Placement Legend printed on the Restricted Global Notes, on Restricted Definitive Notes and in the Indenture.

(c) [ ] CHECK IF TRANSFER IS PURSUANT TO OTHER EXEMPTION. (i) The Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in compliance with an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act other than Rule 144, Rule 903 or Rule 904 and in compliance with the transfer restrictions contained in the Indenture and any applicable blue sky securities laws of any State of the United States and (ii) the restrictions on transfer contained in the Indenture and the Private Placement Legend are not required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act. Upon consummation of the proposed Transfer in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the transferred beneficial interest or Definitive Note will not be subject to the restrictions on transfer enumerated in the Private Placement Legend printed on the Restricted Global Notes or Restricted Definitive Notes and in the Indenture.

[FORM OF SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE
TO BE DELIVERED BY SUBSEQUENT GUARANTORS]

Supplemental Indenture (this “Supplemental Indenture”), dated as of _____, among (the “Guaranteeing Subsidiary”), a subsidiary of Univision Communications Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Issuer”), and Wilmington Trust FSB, as trustee (the “Trustee”).

W I T N E S S E T H

WHEREAS, the Issuer has heretofore executed and delivered to the Trustee a Senior Notes Indenture (the “Indenture”), dated as of November 23, 2010, providing for the issuance of $500,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 8 1/2 % Senior Notes due 2021 (the “Notes”);

WHEREAS, the Indenture provides that under certain circumstances the Guaranting Subsidiary shall execute and deliver to the Trustee a supplemental indenture pursuant to which the Guaranting Subsidiary shall unconditionally guarantee all of the Issuer’s Obligations under the Notes and the Indenture on the terms and conditions set forth herein and under the Indenture (the “Guarantee”); and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 9.01 of the Indenture, the Trustee is authorized to execute and deliver this Supplemental Indenture.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties mutually covenant and agree for the equal and ratable benefit of the Holders of the Notes as follows:

- (1) Capitalized Terms. Capitalized terms used herein without definition shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Indenture.
- (2) Agreement to Guarantee. The Guaranting Subsidiary accepts all obligations applicable to a Guarantor under the Indenture, including Article X of the Indenture (which is deemed incorporated in this Supplemental Indenture and applicable to this Guarantee) and, as applicable, Sections 5.01(b) and Section 5.02 of the Indenture. The Guaranting Subsidiary acknowledges that by executing this Supplemental Indenture, it will become a Guarantor under the Indenture and subject to all the terms and conditions applicable to Guarantors contained therein.
- (3) Execution and Delivery. The Guaranting Subsidiary agrees that the Guarantee shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the absence of the endorsement of any notation of such Guarantee on the Notes.
- (4) Releases. The Guarantee of the Guaranting Subsidiary shall be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged, and no further action by the Guaranting Subsidiary, the Issuer or the Trustee is required for the release of the Guaranting Subsidiary’s Guarantee, upon satisfaction of all of the conditions set forth in Section 10.06 of the Indenture.
- (5) No Recourse Against Others. No past, present or future director, officer, employee, incorporator or stockholder of the Issuer or the Guaranting Subsidiary shall have any liability for any obligations of the Issuer or the Guarantors (including the Guaranting Subsidiary) under the Notes, any Guarantees, the Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of, such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting Notes waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the Notes.

(6) Governing Law. THIS SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE WILL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

(7) Counterparts. The parties may sign any number of copies of this Supplemental Indenture. Each signed copy shall be an original, but all of them together represent the same agreement.

(8) Effect of Headings. The Section headings herein have been inserted for convenience of reference only, are not considered a part of this Supplemental Indenture and shall in no way modify or restrict any of the terms or provisions hereof.

(9) The Trustee. The Trustee shall not be responsible in any manner whatsoever for or in respect of the validity or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture or for or in respect of the recitals contained herein, all of which recitals are made solely by the Guaranteeing Subsidiary.

(10) Benefits Acknowledged. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary's Guarantee is subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Indenture. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary acknowledges that it will receive direct and indirect benefits from the financing arrangements contemplated by the Indenture and this Supplemental Indenture and that the guarantee and waivers made by it pursuant to this Guarantee are knowingly made in contemplation of such benefits.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Supplemental Indenture to be duly executed, all as of the date first above written.

SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE

Supplemental Indenture (this “Supplemental Indenture”), dated as of March 16, 2011, among TuTV LLC (the “Guaranteeing Subsidiary”), a subsidiary of Univision Communications Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Issuer”), and Wilmington Trust FSB, as trustee (the “Trustee”).

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, the Issuer has heretofore executed and delivered to the Trustee a Senior Notes Indenture (the “Indenture”), dated as of November 23, 2010, providing for the issuance of $815,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 8 1/2 % Senior Notes due 2021 (the “Notes”);

WHEREAS, the Indenture provides that under certain circumstances the Guaranting Subsidiary shall execute and deliver to the Trustee a supplemental indenture pursuant to which the Guaranting Subsidiary shall unconditionally guarantee all of the Issuer’s Obligations under the Notes and the Indenture on the terms and conditions set forth herein and under the Indenture (the “Guarantee”); and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 9.01 of the Indenture, the Trustee is authorized to execute and deliver this Supplemental Indenture.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties mutually covenant and agree for the equal and ratable benefit of the Holders of the Notes as follows:

- (1) Capitalized Terms. Capitalized terms used herein without definition shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Indenture.
- (2) Agreement to Guarantee. The Guaranting Subsidiary accepts all obligations applicable to a Guarantor under the Indenture, including Article X of the Indenture (which is deemed incorporated in this Supplemental Indenture and applicable to this Guarantee) and, as applicable, Sections 5.01(b) and Section 5.02 of the Indenture. The Guaranting Subsidiary acknowledges that by executing this Supplemental Indenture, it will become a Guarantor under the Indenture and subject to all the terms and conditions applicable to Guarantors contained therein.
- (3) Execution and Delivery. The Guaranting Subsidiary agrees that the Guarantee shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the absence of the endorsement of any notation of such Guarantee on the Notes.
- (4) Releases. The Guarantee of the Guaranting Subsidiary shall be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged, and no further action by the Guaranting Subsidiary, the Issuer or the Trustee is required for the release of the Guaranting Subsidiary’s Guarantee, upon satisfaction of all of the conditions set forth in Section 10.06 of the Indenture.

(5) No Recourse Against Others. No past, present or future director, officer, employee, incorporator or stockholder of the Issuer or the Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall have any liability for any obligations of the Issuer or the Guarantors (including the Guaranteeing Subsidiary) under the Notes, any Guarantees, the Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of, such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting Notes waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the Notes.

(6) Governing Law. THIS SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE WILL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

(7) Counterparts. The parties may sign any number of copies of this Supplemental Indenture. Each signed copy shall be an original, but all of them together represent the same agreement.

(8) Effect of Headings. The Section headings herein have been inserted for convenience of reference only, are not considered a part of this Supplemental Indenture and shall in no way modify or restrict any of the terms or provisions hereof.

(9) The Trustee. The Trustee shall not be responsible in any manner whatsoever for or in respect of the validity or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture or for or in respect of the recitals contained herein, all of which recitals are made solely by the Guaranteeing Subsidiary.

(10) Benefits Acknowledged. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary's Guarantee is subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Indenture. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary acknowledges that it will receive direct and indirect benefits from the financing arrangements contemplated by the Indenture and this Supplemental Indenture and that the guarantee and waivers made by it pursuant to this Guarantee are knowingly made in contemplation of such benefits.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Supplemental Indenture to be duly executed, all as of the date first above written.

SECOND SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE

Second Supplemental Indenture (this “Supplemental Indenture”), dated as of September 15, 2011, among Univision Local Media Inc. (the “Guaranteeing Subsidiary”), a subsidiary of Univision Communications Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Issuer”), and Wilmington Trust, National Association, as successor by merger to Wilmington Trust FSB, as trustee (the “Trustee”).

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, the Issuer has heretofore executed and delivered to the Trustee a Senior Notes Indenture (the “Indenture”), dated as of November 23, 2010, providing for the issuance of $815,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 8 1/2 % Senior Notes due 2021 (the “Notes”);

WHEREAS, the Indenture provides that under certain circumstances the Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall execute and deliver to the Trustee a supplemental indenture pursuant to which the Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall unconditionally guarantee all of the Issuer’s Obligations under the Notes and the Indenture on the terms and conditions set forth herein and under the Indenture (the “Guarantee”); and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 9.01 of the Indenture, the Trustee is authorized to execute and deliver this Supplemental Indenture.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties mutually covenant and agree for the equal and ratable benefit of the Holders of the Notes as follows:

(1) Capitalized Terms. Capitalized terms used herein without definition shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Indenture.

(2) Agreement to Guarantee. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary accepts all obligations applicable to a Guarantor under the Indenture, including Article X of the Indenture (which is deemed incorporated in this Supplemental Indenture and applicable to this Guarantee) and, as applicable, Sections 5.01(b) and Section 5.02 of the Indenture. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary acknowledges that by executing this Supplemental Indenture, it will become a Guarantor under the Indenture and subject to all the terms and conditions applicable to Guarantors contained therein.

(3) Execution and Delivery. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary agrees that the Guarantee shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the absence of the endorsement of any notation of such Guarantee on the Notes.

(4) Releases. The Guarantee of the Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged, and no further action by the Guaranteeing Subsidiary, the Issuer or the Trustee is required for the release of the Guaranteeing Subsidiary’s Guarantee, upon satisfaction of all of the conditions set forth in Section 10.06 of the Indenture.

(5) No Recourse Against Others. No past, present or future director, officer, employee, incorporator or stockholder of the Issuer or the Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall have any liability for any obligations of the Issuer or the Guarantors (including the Guaranteeing Subsidiary) under the Notes, any Guarantees, the Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of, such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting Notes waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the Notes.

(6) Governing Law. THIS SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE WILL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

(7) Counterparts. The parties may sign any number of copies of this Supplemental Indenture. Each signed copy shall be an original, but all of them together represent the same agreement.

(8) Effect of Headings. The Section headings herein have been inserted for convenience of reference only, are not considered a part of this Supplemental Indenture and shall in no way modify or restrict any of the terms or provisions hereof.

(9) The Trustee. The Trustee shall not be responsible in any manner whatsoever for or in respect of the validity or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture or for or in respect of the recitals contained herein, all of which recitals are made solely by the Guaranteeing Subsidiary.

(10) Benefits Acknowledged. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary's Guarantee is subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Indenture. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary acknowledges that it will receive direct and indirect benefits from the financing arrangements contemplated by the Indenture and this Supplemental Indenture and that the guarantee and waivers made by it pursuant to this Guarantee are knowingly made in contemplation of such benefits.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Second Supplemental Indenture to be duly executed, all as of the date first above written.

FOURTH SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE

Fourth Supplemental Indenture (this “Supplemental Indenture”), dated as of March 29, 2013, among New Univision Deportes, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, New Univision Enterprises, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, Univision 24/7, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, and Univision tlnovelas, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, (each, a “Guaranteeing Subsidiary”), each a direct or indirect subsidiary of Univision Communications Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Issuer”), and Wilmington Trust, National Association, as trustee (the “Trustee”).

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, the Issuer has heretofore executed and delivered to the Trustee a Senior Notes Indenture (as amended and supplemented, the “Indenture”), dated as of November 23, 2010, providing for the issuance of $815,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 8 1/2 % Senior Notes due 2021 (the “Notes”);

WHEREAS, the Indenture provides that under certain circumstances each Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall execute and deliver to the Trustee a supplemental indenture pursuant to which such Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall unconditionally guarantee all of the Issuer’s Obligations under the Notes and the Indenture on the terms and conditions set forth herein and under the Indenture (the “Guarantee”); and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 9.01 of the Indenture, the Trustee is authorized to execute and deliver this Supplemental Indenture.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties mutually covenant and agree for the equal and ratable benefit of the Holders of the Notes as follows:

- (1) Capitalized Terms. Capitalized terms used herein without definition shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Indenture.
- (2) Agreement to Guarantee. Each Guaranteeing Subsidiary accepts all obligations applicable to a Guarantor under the Indenture, including Article X of the Indenture (which is deemed incorporated in this Supplemental Indenture and applicable to this Guarantee) and, as applicable, Sections 5.01(b) and Section 5.02 of the Indenture. Each Guaranteeing Subsidiary acknowledges that by executing this Supplemental Indenture, it will become a Guarantor under the Indenture and subject to all the terms and conditions applicable to Guarantors contained therein.
- (3) Execution and Delivery. Each Guaranteeing Subsidiary agrees that the Guarantee shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the absence of the endorsement of any notation of such Guarantee on the Notes.
- (4) Releases. The Guarantee of each Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged, and no further action by such Guaranteeing Subsidiary, the Issuer or the Trustee is required for the release of such Guaranteeing Subsidiary’s Guarantee, upon satisfaction of all of the conditions set forth in Section 10.06 of the Indenture.

(5) No Recourse Against Others. No past, present or future director, officer, employee, incorporator or stockholder of the Issuer or each Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall have any liability for any obligations of the Issuer or the Guarantors (including each Guaranteeing Subsidiary) under the Notes, any Guarantees, the Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of, such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting Notes waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the Notes.

(6) Governing Law. THIS SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE WILL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

FIFTH SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE

Fifth Supplemental Indenture (this “Supplemental Indenture”), dated as of November 13, 2013, between Univision Deportes, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “Guaranteeing Subsidiary”), an indirect subsidiary of Univision Communications Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Issuer”), and Wilmington Trust, National Association, as trustee (the “Trustee”).

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, the Issuer has heretofore executed and delivered to the Trustee a Senior Notes Indenture (as amended and supplemented, the “Indenture”), dated as of November 23, 2010, providing for the issuance of $815,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 8 1/2 % Senior Notes due 2021 (the “Notes”);

WHEREAS, the Indenture provides that under certain circumstances the Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall execute and deliver to the Trustee a supplemental indenture pursuant to which such Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall unconditionally guarantee all of the Issuer’s Obligations under the Notes and the Indenture on the terms and conditions set forth herein and under the Indenture (the “Guarantee”); and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 9.01 of the Indenture, the Trustee is authorized to execute and deliver this Supplemental Indenture.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties mutually covenant and agree for the equal and ratable benefit of the Holders of the Notes as follows:

(1) Capitalized Terms. Capitalized terms used herein without definition shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Indenture.

(2) Agreement to Guarantee. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary accepts all obligations applicable to a Guarantor under the Indenture, including Article X of the Indenture (which is deemed incorporated in this Supplemental Indenture and applicable to this Guarantee) and, as applicable, Sections 5.01(b) and Section 5.02 of the Indenture. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary acknowledges that by executing this Supplemental Indenture, it will become a Guarantor under the Indenture and subject to all the terms and conditions applicable to Guarantors contained therein.

(3) Execution and Delivery. The Guaranteeing Subsidiary agrees that the Guarantee shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the absence of the endorsement of any notation of such Guarantee on the Notes.

(4) Releases. The Guarantee of the Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged, and no further action by such Guaranteeing Subsidiary, the Issuer or the Trustee is required for the release of such Guaranteeing Subsidiary’s Guarantee, upon satisfaction of all of the conditions set forth in Section 10.06 of the Indenture.

(5) No Recourse Against Others. No past, present or future director, officer, employee, incorporator or stockholder of the Issuer or the Guaranteeing Subsidiary shall have any liability for any obligations of the Issuer or the Guarantors (including the Guaranteeing Subsidiary) under the Notes, any Guarantees, the Indenture or this Supplemental Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of, such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting Notes waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the Notes.

(6) Governing Law. THIS SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE WILL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

(7) Counterparts. The parties may sign any number of copies of this Supplemental Indenture. Each signed copy shall be an original, but all of them together represent the same agreement.

SENIOR SECURED NOTES INDENTURE, dated as of August 29, 2012, among Univision Communications Inc., a Delaware corporation, the Guarantors (as defined herein) listed on the signature pages hereto and Wilmington Trust, National Association, as trustee.

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, the Issuer has duly authorized the creation of an issue of $625,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 6 <sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub> % Senior Secured Notes due 2022 (the “Initial Notes”); and

WHEREAS, the Issuer and each of the Guarantors have duly authorized the execution and delivery of this Indenture.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Issuer, the Guarantors and the Trustee agree as follows for the benefit of each other and for the equal and ratable benefit of the Holders of the Notes.

ARTICLE I

DEFINITIONS AND INCORPORATION BY REFERENCE

SECTION 1.01. Definitions.

“144A Global Note” means a Global Note substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto, bearing the Global Note Legend and the Private Placement Legend and deposited with or on behalf of, and registered in the name of, the Depositary or its nominee that will be issued in a denomination equal to the outstanding principal amount of the Notes sold in reliance on Rule 144A.

“2014 Notes” means $545.0 million aggregate principal amount of the Issuer’s 12.0% Senior Secured Notes due 2014 issued July 9, 2009.

“2015 Notes” means $1.5 billion aggregate principal amount of the Issuer’s 9.75%/10.50% Senior Notes due 2015 issued March 29, 2007.

“2019 Notes” means $1.200.0 million aggregate principal amount of the Issuer’s 6.875% Senior Secured Notes due 2019 issued May 9, 2011.

“2019 Notes Obligations” means Obligations in respect of the 2019 Notes, including for the avoidance of doubt, Obligations in respect of guarantees thereof.

“2020 Notes” means $750.0 million aggregate principal amount of the Issuer’s 7.875% Senior Secured Notes due 2020 issued October 26, 2010.

“2020 Notes Obligations” means Obligations in respect of the 2020 Notes, including for the avoidance of doubt, Obligations in respect of guarantees thereof.

“2021 Notes” means $815.0 million aggregate principal amount of the Issuer’s 8.50% Senior Notes due 2021 issued under an indenture dated as of November 23, 2010, among the Issuer, the Guarantors (as defined therein) and Wilmington Trust FSB, as trustee.

“Acquired Indebtedness” means, with respect to any specified Person,

(1) Indebtedness of any other Person existing at the time such other Person is merged with or into or became a Restricted Subsidiary of such specified Person, including Indebtedness incurred in connection with, or in contemplation of, such other Person merging with or into or becoming a Restricted Subsidiary of such specified Person, and

“ Additional First Lien Secured Party ” means the holders of any Additional First Priority Lien Obligations, including the Holders of Notes, and any Authorized Representative with respect thereto, including the Trustee.

“ Additional Notes ” means additional Notes (other than the Initial Notes) issued from time to time under this Indenture in accordance with Section 2.01(e) hereof.

“ Affiliate ” of any specified Person means any other Person directly or indirectly controlling or controlled by or under direct or indirect common control with such specified Person. For purposes of this definition, “control” (including, with correlative meanings, the terms “controlling,” “controlled by” and “under common control with”), as used with respect to any Person, shall mean the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of such Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by agreement or otherwise.

“ Agent ” means any Registrar or Paying Agent.

“ Applicable Premium ” means, with respect to any Note on any Redemption Date, the greater of:

(1) 1.0% of the principal amount of such Note on such Redemption Date; and

(2) the excess, if any, of (i) the present value at such Redemption Date of (A) the redemption price of such Note at September 15, 2017 (such redemption price being set forth in the table in Section 3.07(b)), plus (B) all required interest payments due on such Note through September 15, 2017 (excluding accrued but unpaid interest to the Redemption Date), computed using a discount rate equal to the Treasury Rate as of such Redemption Date plus 50 basis points; over (ii) the principal amount of such Note on such Redemption Date.

“ Applicable Procedures ” means, with respect to any transfer or exchange of or for beneficial interests in any Global Note, the rules and procedures of the Depository that apply to such transfer, redemption or exchange.

“ Asset Sale ” means:

(1) the sale, conveyance, transfer or other disposition, whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions, of property or assets (including by way of a Sale and Lease-Back Transaction) of the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries (each referred to in this definition as a “disposition”); or

---

(2) the issuance or sale of Equity Interests of any Restricted Subsidiary, whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions;

in each case, other than:

(a) any disposition of Cash Equivalents or Investment Grade Securities or obsolete or worn out equipment in the ordinary course of business or any disposition of inventory or goods (or other assets) held for sale in the ordinary course of business;

(b) the disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries in a manner permitted pursuant to the provisions described in Section 5.01 hereof or any disposition that constitutes a Change of Control pursuant to this Indenture;

(c) the making of any Restricted Payment or Permitted Investment that is permitted to be made, and is made, under Section 4.07 hereof;

(d) any disposition of assets or issuance or sale of Equity Interests of a Restricted Subsidiary in any transaction or series of related transactions with an aggregate fair market value of less than $50.0 million;

(e) any disposition of property or assets or issuance of securities by a Restricted Subsidiary of the Issuer to the Issuer or by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary of the Issuer to another Restricted Subsidiary of the Issuer;

(f) to the extent allowable under Section 1031 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, any exchange of like property (excluding any boot thereon) for use in a Similar Business;

(g) the sale, lease, assignment or sub-lease of any real or personal property in the ordinary course of business;

(h) any issuance or sale of Equity Interests in, or Indebtedness or other securities of, an Unrestricted Subsidiary;

(i) foreclosures on assets;

(j) sales of accounts receivable, or participations therein, in connection with any Receivables Facility;

(k) any financing transaction with respect to property built or acquired by the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary after the Issue Date, including Sale and Lease-Back Transactions and asset securitizations permitted by this Indenture;

(l) sales of accounts receivable, or participations therein, in connection with the collection or compromise thereof;

(m) transfers of property subject to casualty or condemnation proceedings (including in lieu thereof) upon the receipt of the net cash proceeds thereof; provided such net cash proceeds are deemed to be Net Proceeds and are applied in accordance with Section 4.10(b) hereof;

(n) the abandonment of intellectual property rights in the ordinary course of business, which in the reasonable good faith determination of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary are not material to the conduct of the business of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries taken as a whole;

- (o) voluntary terminations of Hedging Obligations; and
  - (p) any disposition of Specified Assets.

“ Authorized Representative ” means (i) in the case of any Senior Credit Facilities Obligations or the Senior Credit Facilities Secured Parties, the administrative agent and/or collateral agent under the Senior Credit Facilities, (ii) in the case of 2019 Notes Obligations or the holders of 2019 Notes Obligations, the trustee for the 2019 Notes, (iii) in the case of 2020 Notes Obligations or the holders of 2020 Notes Obligations, the trustee for the 2020 Notes, (iv) in the case of the Notes Obligations or the Holders, the Trustee and (v) in the case of any other Series of Additional First Priority Lien Obligations or Additional First Lien Secured Parties that become subject to the Intercreditor Agreement, the Authorized Representative named for such Series in the applicable joinder agreement.

“ Capital Stock ” means:

- (1) in the case of a corporation, corporate stock;
- (2) in the case of an association or business entity, any and all shares, interests, participations, rights or other equivalents (however designated) of corporate stock;
- (3) in the case of a partnership or limited liability company, partnership or membership interests (whether general or limited); and
- (4) any other interest or participation that confers on a Person the right to receive a share of the profits and losses of, or distributions of assets of, the issuing Person.

“ Capitalized Lease Obligation ” means, at the time any determination thereof is to be made, the amount of the liability in respect of a capital lease that would at such time be required to be capitalized and reflected as a liability on a balance sheet (excluding the footnotes thereto) in accordance with GAAP.

“ Capitalized Software Expenditures ” shall mean, for any period, the aggregate of all expenditures (whether paid in cash or accrued as liabilities) by a Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries during such period in respect of purchased software or internally developed software and software enhancements that, in conformity with GAAP, are or are required to be reflected as capitalized costs on the consolidated balance sheet of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries.

“ Cash Equivalents ” means:

- (1) United States dollars;
- (2) (a) euro or any national currency of any participating member state of the EMU; or
- (b) in the case of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary, such local currencies held by them from time to time in the ordinary course of business;

(3) securities issued or directly and fully and unconditionally guaranteed or insured by the U.S. government or any agency or instrumentality thereof the securities of which are unconditionally guaranteed as a full faith and credit obligation of such government with maturities of 24 months or less from the date of acquisition;

(4) certificates of deposit, time deposits and eurodollar time deposits with maturities of one year or less from the date of acquisition, bankers' acceptances with maturities not exceeding one year and overnight bank deposits, in each case with any commercial bank having capital and surplus of not less than $500.0 million in the case of U.S. banks and $100.0 million (or the U.S. Dollar Equivalent as of the date of determination) in the case of non-U.S. banks;

(5) repurchase obligations for underlying securities of the types described in clauses (3) and (4) entered into with any financial institution meeting the qualifications specified in clause (4) above;

(6) commercial paper rated at least P-1 by Moody's or at least A-1 by S&P and in each case maturing within 24 months after the date of creation thereof;

(7) marketable short-term money market and similar securities having a rating of at least P-2 or A-2 from either Moody's or S&P, respectively (or, if at any time neither Moody's nor S&P shall be rating such obligations, an equivalent rating from another Rating Agency), and in each case maturing within 24 months after the date of creation thereof;

(8) investment funds investing 95% of their assets in securities of the types described in clauses (1) through (7) above;

(9) readily marketable direct obligations issued by any state, commonwealth or territory of the United States or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof, in each case, having an Investment Grade Rating from either Moody's or S&P with maturities of 24 months or less from the date of acquisition;

(10) Indebtedness or Preferred Stock issued by Persons with a rating of "A" or higher from S&P or "A2" or higher from Moody's with maturities of 24 months or less from the date of acquisition;

(11) Investments with average maturities of 12 months or less from the date of acquisition in money market funds rated AAA-(or the equivalent thereof) or better by S&P or Aaa3 (or the equivalent thereof) or better by Moody's; and

(12) solely for purposes of calculating the Consolidated Leverage Ratio and the Consolidated First Lien Secured Debt Ratio, the Equity Interests in Entravision Communications Corporation held by the Issuer on the Issue Date; provided that such common stock shall be valued at 90% of the average closing price over the last 30 trading days preceding on date of determination.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Cash Equivalents shall include amounts denominated in currencies other than those set forth in clauses (1) and (2) above, provided that such amounts are converted into any currency listed in clauses (1) and (2) as promptly as practicable and in any event within ten (10) Business Days following the receipt of such amounts.

“Cash Tender Offers” means the Issuer’s cash tender offer to purchase (i) up to $460.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2015 Notes commenced on November 8, 2010; (ii) up to $1,005.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2015 Notes commenced on December 22, 2010; (iii) any and all of the aggregate principal amount of the 2015 Notes commenced January 24, 2011; and (iv) any and all of the aggregate principal amount of the 2014 Notes commenced April 25, 2011.

“Change of Control” means the occurrence of any of the following:

(1) the sale, lease or transfer, in one or a series of related transactions, of all or substantially all of the assets of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, to any Person other than a Permitted Holder; or

(2) the Issuer becomes aware of (by way of a report or any other filing pursuant to Section 13(d) of the Exchange Act, proxy, vote, written notice or otherwise) the acquisition by any Person or group acting for the purpose of acquiring, holding or disposing of securities (within the meaning of Rule 13d-5(b)(1) under the Exchange Act), other than the Permitted Holders, in a single transaction or in a related series of transactions, by way of merger, consolidation or other business combination or purchase of “beneficial ownership” (within the meaning of Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act, or any successor provision) of more than 50% of the total voting power of the Voting Stock of the Issuer or any of its direct or indirect parent companies provided that for purposes of calculating the “beneficial ownership” of any group, any Voting Stock of which any Permitted Holder is the “beneficial owner” shall not be included in determining the amount of Voting Stock “beneficially owned” by such group and, provided, further, that notwithstanding the foregoing no Person or group shall be deemed to “beneficially own” any security it has a right to acquire to the extent the exercise of such right is prohibited by law or the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission or is subject to the Federal Communications Commission’s approval.

“Clearstream” means Clearstream Banking, Société Anonyme.

“Collateral” means all assets and property in which a security interest is granted to secure the Notes Obligations.

“Collateral Agent” means Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch, in its capacity as collateral agent under the Security Documents, together with its successors and permitted assigns in such capacity under the Intercreditor Agreement.

“Common Collateral” means, at any time, Collateral in which the holders of two or more Series of First Priority Lien Obligations (or their respective Authorized Representatives or the Collateral Agent on behalf of such holders) hold a valid and perfected security interest at such time. If more than two Series of First Priority Lien Obligations are outstanding at any time and the holders of less than all Series of First Priority Lien Obligations hold a valid and perfected security interest in any Collateral at such time, then such Collateral shall constitute Common Collateral for those Series of First Priority Lien Obligations that hold a valid security interest in such Collateral at such time and shall not constitute Common Collateral for any Series that does not have a valid and perfected security interest in such Collateral at such time.

“Consolidated Depreciation and Amortization Expense” means, with respect to any Person, for any period, the total amount of depreciation and amortization expense, including the amortization of deferred financing fees and Capitalized Software Expenditures and amortization of unrecognized prior service costs and actuarial gains and losses related to pensions and other post-employment benefits, of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period on a consolidated basis and otherwise determined in accordance with GAAP.

“Consolidated First Lien Secured Debt Ratio” means, as of the date of determination, the ratio of (a) the Consolidated Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries on such date constituting First Priority Lien Obligations less the amount of cash and Cash Equivalents in excess of any Restricted Cash that would be stated on the balance sheet of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries and held by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries as of such date of determination, as determined in accordance with GAAP, to (b) EBITDA of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries for the most recently ended four fiscal quarters ending immediately prior to such date for which internal financial statements are available.

In the event that the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary (i) incurs, assumes, guarantees, redeems, retires or extinguishes any Indebtedness or (ii) issues or redeems Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock subsequent to the commencement of the period for which the Consolidated First Lien Secured Debt Ratio is being calculated but prior to or simultaneously with the event for which the calculation of the Consolidated First Lien Secured Debt Ratio is made (the “Consolidated First Lien Secured Debt Ratio Calculation Date”), then the Consolidated First Lien Secured Debt Ratio shall be calculated giving pro forma effect to such incurrence, assumption, guarantee, redemption, retirement or extinguishment of Indebtedness, or such issuance or redemption of Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock, as if the same had occurred at the beginning of the applicable four-quarter period.

For purposes of making the computation referred to above, Investments, acquisitions, dispositions, mergers, amalgamations, consolidations and discontinued operations (as determined in accordance with GAAP), in each case with respect to an operating unit of a business made (or committed to be made pursuant to a definitive agreement) during the four-quarter reference period or subsequent to such reference period and on or prior to or simultaneously with the Consolidated First Lien Secured Debt Ratio Calculation Date, and other operational changes that the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries has determined to make and/or made during the four-quarter reference period or subsequent to such reference period and on or prior to or simultaneously with the Consolidated First Lien Secured Debt Ratio Calculation Date shall be calculated on a pro forma basis in accordance with GAAP assuming that all such Investments, acquisitions, dispositions, mergers, amalgamations, consolidations, discontinued operations and other operational changes had occurred on the first day of the four-quarter reference period. If since the beginning of such period any Person that subsequently became a Restricted Subsidiary or was merged with or into the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries since the beginning of such period shall have made any Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, amalgamation, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change, in each case with respect to an operating unit of a business, that would have required adjustment pursuant to this definition, then the Consolidated First Lien Secured Debt Ratio shall be calculated giving pro forma effect thereto for such period as if such Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change had occurred at the beginning of the applicable four-quarter period.

For purposes of this definition, whenever pro forma effect is to be given to any Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, amalgamation, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change, the pro forma calculations shall be made in good faith by a responsible financial or accounting officer of the Issuer. Any such pro forma calculation may include adjustments appropriate, in the reasonable determination of the Issuer as set forth in an Officer’s Certificate, to reflect (1) operating expense reductions and other operating improvements or synergies reasonably expected to result from any acquisition, amalgamation, merger or operational change; and (2) all adjustments of the nature used in connection with the calculation of “Adjusted EBITDA” as set forth in footnote (1) to the “Summary Historical and Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Data” under “Offering Circular Summary” in the offering circular with respect to the Issuer's 2015 Notes dated March 1, 2007 to the extent such adjustments, without duplication, continue to be applicable to such four-quarter period; provided that (x) such operating expense reductions and other operating improvements or synergies are reasonably identifiable and factually supportable, (y) with respect to operational changes, such actions are taken no later than 48 months after the Issue Date and (z) the aggregate amount of projected operating expense reductions, operating improvements and synergies in respect of operational changes (not resulting from an acquisition) included in any pro forma calculation shall not exceed $80.0 million for any four consecutive quarter period.

For the purposes of this definition, any amount in a currency other than U.S. dollars will be converted to U.S. dollars based on the average exchange rate for such currency for the most recent twelve month period immediately prior to the date of determination determined in a manner consistent with that used in calculating EBITDA for the applicable period.

“Consolidated Indebtedness” means, as of any date of determination, the sum, without duplication, of (1) the total amount of Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, plus (2) the greater of the aggregate liquidation value and maximum fixed repurchase price without regard to any change of control or redemption premiums of all Disqualified Stock of the Issuer and the Restricted Guarantors and all Preferred Stock of its Restricted Subsidiaries that are not Guarantors, in each case, determined on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP.

“Consolidated Interest Expense” means, with respect to any Person for any period, without duplication, the sum of:

(1) consolidated interest expense of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period, to the extent such expense was deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income (including (a) amortization of original issue discount resulting from the issuance of Indebtedness at less than par, (b) all commissions, discounts and other fees and charges owed with respect to letters of credit or bankers acceptances, (c) non-cash interest expense (but excluding any non-cash interest expense attributable to the movement in the mark to market valuation of Hedging Obligations or other derivative instruments pursuant to GAAP), (d) the interest component of Capitalized Lease Obligations and (e) net payments, if any, pursuant to interest rate Hedging Obligations with respect to Indebtedness, and excluding (x) amortization of deferred financing fees, debt issuance costs, commissions, fees and expenses, (y) any expensing of bridge, commitment and other financing fees and (z) commissions, discounts, yield and other fees and charges (including any interest expense) related to any Receivables Facility); plus

(2) consolidated capitalized interest of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period, whether paid or accrued; plus

(3) solely for purposes of determining Consolidated Interest Expense for purposes of clause (a)(3)(A) of Section 4.07 hereof, such amount of Restricted Payments made during such period pursuant to clause (b)(17) of Section 4.07 hereof; less

(4) interest income of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period.

For purposes of this definition, interest on a Capitalized Lease Obligation shall be deemed to accrue at an interest rate reasonably determined by such Person to be the rate of interest implicit in such Capitalized Lease Obligation in accordance with GAAP.

“Consolidated Leverage Ratio” means, as of the date of determination, the ratio of (a) the Consolidated Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries on such date less the amount of cash and Cash Equivalents in excess of any Restricted Cash that would be stated on the balance sheet of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries and held by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries as of such date of determination, as determined in accordance with GAAP, to (b) EBITDA of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries for the most recently ended four fiscal quarters ending immediately prior to such date for which internal financial statements are available.

In the event that the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary (i) incurs, redeems, retires or extinguishes any Indebtedness or (ii) issues or redeems Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock subsequent to the commencement of the period for which the Consolidated Leverage Ratio is being calculated but prior to or simultaneously with the event for which the calculation of the Consolidated Leverage Ratio is made (the “Consolidated Leverage Ratio Calculation Date”), then the Consolidated Leverage Ratio shall be calculated giving pro forma effect to such incurrence, redemption, retirement or extinguishment of Indebtedness, or such issuance or redemption of Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock, as if the same had occurred at the beginning of the applicable four-quarter period.

For purposes of making the computation referred to above, Investments, acquisitions, dispositions, mergers, amalgamations, consolidations and discontinued operations (as determined in accordance with GAAP), in each case with respect to an operating unit of a business made (or committed to be made pursuant to a definitive agreement) during the four-quarter reference period or subsequent to such reference period and on or prior to or simultaneously with the Consolidated Leverage Ratio Calculation Date, and other operational changes that the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries has determined to make and/or made during the four-quarter reference period or subsequent to such reference period and on or prior to or simultaneously with the Consolidated Leverage Ratio Calculation Date shall be calculated on a pro forma basis in accordance with GAAP assuming that all such Investments, acquisitions, dispositions, mergers, amalgamations, consolidations, discontinued operations and other operational changes had occurred on the first day of the four-quarter reference period. If since the beginning of such period any Person that subsequently became a Restricted Subsidiary or was merged with or into the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries since the beginning of such period shall have made any Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, amalgamation, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change, in each case with respect to an operating unit of a business, that would have required adjustment pursuant to this definition, then the Consolidated Leverage Ratio shall be calculated giving pro forma effect thereto for such period as if such Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change had occurred at the beginning of the applicable four-quarter period.

For purposes of this definition, whenever pro forma effect is to be given to any Investment, acquisition, disposition, merger, amalgamation, consolidation, discontinued operation or operational change, the pro forma calculations shall be made in good faith by a responsible financial or accounting officer of the Issuer. Any such pro forma calculation may include adjustments appropriate, in the reasonable determination of the Issuer as set forth in an Officer’s Certificate, to reflect (1) operating expense reductions and other operating improvements or synergies reasonably expected to result from any acquisition, amalgamation, merger or operational change and (2) all adjustments of the nature used in connection with the calculation of “Adjusted EBITDA” as set forth in footnote (1) to the “Summary Historical and Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Data” under “Offering Circular Summary” in the offering circular with respect to the Issuer’s 2015 Notes dated March 1, 2007 to the extent such adjustments, without duplication, continue to be applicable to such four-quarter period; provided that (x) such operating expense reductions and other operating improvements or synergies are reasonably identifiable and factually supportable, (y) with respect to operational changes, such actions are taken no later than 48 months after the Issue Date and (z) the aggregate amount of projected operating expense reductions, operating improvements and synergies in respect of operational changes (not resulting from an acquisition) included in any pro forma calculation shall not exceed $80.0 million for any four consecutive quarter period.

For the purposes of this definition, any amount in a currency other than U.S. dollars will be converted to U.S. dollars based on the average exchange rate for such currency for the most recent twelve month period immediately prior to the date of determination determined in a manner consistent with that used in calculating EBITDA for the applicable period.

“Consolidated Net Income” means, with respect to any Person for any period, the aggregate of the Net Income of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period, on a consolidated basis, and otherwise determined in accordance with GAAP; provided, however, that, without duplication,

(1) any after-tax effect of extraordinary, non-recurring or unusual gains or losses (less all fees and expenses relating thereto) or expenses, severance, relocation costs and curtailments or modifications to pension and post-retirement employee benefit plans shall be excluded,

(2) the Net Income for such period shall not include the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principles during such period,

(3) any after-tax effect of income (loss) from disposed or discontinued operations and any net after-tax gains or losses on disposal of disposed, abandoned or discontinued operations shall be excluded,

(4) any after-tax effect of gains or losses (less all fees and expenses relating thereto) attributable to asset dispositions other than in the ordinary course of business, as determined in good faith by the Issuer, shall be excluded,

(5) the Net Income for such period of any Person that is not a Subsidiary, or is an Unrestricted Subsidiary, or that is accounted for by the equity method of accounting, shall be excluded; provided that Consolidated Net Income of such Person shall be increased by the amount of dividends or distributions or other payments that are actually paid in cash (or to the extent converted into cash) to such Person or a Subsidiary thereof that is the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary in respect of such period,

(6) solely for the purpose of determining the amount available for Restricted Payments under clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) hereof, the Net Income for such period of any Restricted Subsidiary (other than any Guarantor) shall be excluded if the declaration or payment of dividends or similar distributions by that Restricted Subsidiary of its Net Income is not at the date of determination wholly permitted without any prior governmental approval (which has not been obtained) or, directly or indirectly, by the operation of the terms of its charter or any agreement, instrument, judgment, decree, order, statute, rule, or governmental regulation applicable to that Restricted Subsidiary or its stockholders, unless such restriction with respect to the payment of dividends or similar distributions has been legally waived, provided that Consolidated Net Income of the Issuer will be increased by the amount of dividends or other distributions or other payments actually paid in cash (or converted into cash) to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary thereof in respect of such period, to the extent not already included therein,

(7) effects of purchase accounting adjustments (including the effects of such adjustments pushed down to such Person and such Subsidiaries) in component amounts required or permitted by GAAP, resulting from the application of purchase accounting in relation to any consummated acquisition (including prior to the Issue Date) or the amortization or write-off of any amounts thereof, net of taxes, shall be excluded,

(8) any after-tax effect of income (loss) from the early extinguishment of Indebtedness or Hedging Obligations or other derivative instruments shall be excluded,

(9) any impairment charge or asset write-off, in each case, pursuant to GAAP and the amortization of intangibles arising pursuant to GAAP shall be excluded,

(10) any non-cash compensation expense recorded from grants of stock appreciation or similar rights, stock options, restricted stock or other rights shall be excluded, and

(11) any fees and expenses incurred during such period, or any amortization thereof for such period, in connection with any acquisition, Investment, Asset Sale, issuance or repayment of Indebtedness, issuance of Equity Interests, refinancing transaction (including the Cash Tender Offers and the amendment and extension of the Senior Credit Facilities) or amendment or modification of any debt instrument (in each case, including any such transaction consummated prior to the Issue Date and any such transaction undertaken but not completed) and any charges or non-recurring merger costs incurred during such period as a result of any such transaction shall be excluded.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, for the purpose of Section 4.07 hereof only (other than clause (a)(3)(D) thereof), there shall be excluded from Consolidated Net Income any income arising from any sale or other disposition of Restricted Investments made by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, any repurchases and redemptions of Restricted Investments from the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, any repayments of loans and advances which constitute Restricted Investments by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, any sale of the stock of an Unrestricted Subsidiary or any distribution or dividend from an Unrestricted Subsidiary, in each case only to the extent such amounts increase the amount of Restricted Payments permitted under Section 4.07(a)(3)(D) hereof.

“Contingent Obligations” means, with respect to any Person, any obligation of such Person guaranteeing any leases, dividends or other obligations that do not constitute Indebtedness (“primary obligations”) of any other Person (the “primary obligor”) in any manner, whether directly or indirectly, including, without limitation, any obligation of such Person, whether or not contingent,

(1) to purchase any such primary obligation or any property constituting direct or indirect security therefor,

(2) to advance or supply funds

(a) for the purchase or payment of any such primary obligation, or

(b) to maintain working capital or equity capital of the primary obligor or otherwise to maintain the net worth or solvency of the primary obligor, or

(3) to purchase property, securities or services primarily for the purpose of assuring the owner of any such primary obligation of the ability of the primary obligor to make payment of such primary obligation against loss in respect thereof.

“Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee” shall be at the address of the Trustee specified in Section 13.02 hereof or such other address as to which the Trustee may give notice to the Holders and the Issuer.

“Credit Facilities” means, with respect to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, one or more debt facilities, including the Senior Credit Facilities, or other financing arrangements (including, without limitation, commercial paper facilities or indentures) providing for revolving credit loans, term loans, letters of credit or other long-term indebtedness, including any notes, mortgages, guarantees, collateral documents, instruments and agreements executed in connection therewith, and any amendments, supplements, modifications, extensions, renewals, restatements or refundings thereof and any indentures or credit facilities or commercial paper facilities that replace, refund or refinance any part of the loans, notes, other credit facilities or commitments thereunder, including any such replacement, refunding or refinancing facility or indenture that increases the amount permitted to be borrowed thereunder or alters the maturity thereof ( provided that such increase in borrowings is permitted under Section 4.09 hereof) or adds Restricted Subsidiaries as additional borrowers or guarantors thereunder and whether by the same or any other agent, lender or group of lenders.

“Designated Preferred Stock” means Preferred Stock of the Issuer, a Restricted Subsidiary or any direct or indirect parent corporation thereof (in each case other than Disqualified Stock) that is issued for cash (other than to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary or an employee stock ownership plan or trust established by the Issuer or its Subsidiaries) and is so designated as Designated Preferred Stock, pursuant to an Officer’s Certificate executed by the principal financial officer of the Issuer, on the issuance date thereof, the cash proceeds of which are excluded from the calculation set forth in clause (3) of Section 4.07(a).

“Disqualified Stock” means, with respect to any Person, any Capital Stock of such Person which, by its terms, or by the terms of any security into which it is convertible or for which it is putable or exchangeable, or upon the happening of any event, matures or is mandatorily redeemable (other than solely as a result of a change of control or asset sale) pursuant to a sinking fund obligation or otherwise, or is redeemable at the option of the holder thereof (other than solely as a result of a change of control or asset sale), in whole or in part, in each case prior to the date 91 days after the earlier of the maturity date of the Notes or the date the Notes are no longer outstanding; provided, however, that if such Capital Stock is issued to any plan for the benefit of employees of the Issuer or its Subsidiaries or by any such plan to such employees, such Capital Stock shall not constitute Disqualified Stock solely because it may be required to be repurchased in order to satisfy applicable statutory or regulatory obligations.

“ EBITDA ” means, with respect to any Person for any period, the Consolidated Net Income of such Person and its Restricted Subsidiaries for such period

(1) increased (without duplication) by:

(a) provision for taxes based on income or profits or capital, including, without limitation, state, franchise and similar taxes, foreign withholding taxes and foreign unreimbursed value added taxes of such Person and such Subsidiaries paid or accrued during such period deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; provided that the aggregate amount of unreimbursed value added taxes to be added back for any four consecutive quarter period shall not exceed $2.0 million; plus

(b) Fixed Charges of such Person and such Subsidiaries for such period (including (x) net losses on Hedging Obligations or other derivative instruments entered into for the purpose of hedging interest rate risk, (y) fees payable in respect of letters of credit and (z) costs of surety bonds in connection with financing activities, in each case, to the extent included in Fixed Charges) to the extent the same was deducted (and not added back) in calculating such Consolidated Net Income; plus

(c) Consolidated Depreciation and Amortization Expense of such Person and such Subsidiaries for such period to the extent the same were deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; plus

(d) any expenses or charges (other than depreciation or amortization expense) related to any Equity Offering, Permitted Investment, acquisition, disposition, recapitalization or the incurrence or repayment of Indebtedness permitted to be incurred by this Indenture (including a refinancing thereof) (whether or not successful), including (i) such fees, expenses or charges related to the offering of the Notes, (ii) any amendment or other modification of the Senior Credit Facilities, the Existing Senior Notes and the Notes and (iii) commissions, discounts, yield and other fees and charges (including any interest expense) related to any Receivables Facility, and, in each case, deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; plus

(e) other than for the purpose of determining the amount available for Restricted Payments under clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) hereof, the amount of any business optimization expense and restructuring charge or reserve deducted (and not added back) in such period in computing Consolidated Net Income, including any restructuring costs incurred in connection with acquisitions after March 29, 2007, costs related to the closure and/or consolidation of facilities, retention charges, systems establishment costs, conversion costs and excess pension charges and consulting fees incurred in connection with any of the foregoing; plus

(f) any other non-cash charges, including any write offs or write downs, reducing Consolidated Net Income for such period ( provided that if any such non-cash charges represent an accrual or reserve for potential cash items in any future period, the cash payment in respect thereof in such future period shall be subtracted from EBITDA in such future period to the extent paid, and excluding amortization of a prepaid cash item that was paid in a prior period); plus

(g) the amount of any minority interest expense consisting of Subsidiary income attributable to minority equity interests of third parties in any non-Wholly Owned Subsidiary deducted (and not added back) in such period in calculating Consolidated Net Income; plus

(h) other than for the purpose of determining the amount available for Restricted Payments under clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) hereof, the amount of management, monitoring, consulting, transaction and advisory fees and related expenses paid in such period to the extent otherwise permitted under Section 4.11 hereof deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; plus

(i) the amount of loss on sale of receivables and related assets to the Receivables Subsidiary in connection with a Receivables Facility deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; plus

(j) any costs or expense deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income by such Person or any such Subsidiary pursuant to any management equity plan or stock option plan or any other management or employee benefit plan or agreement or any stock subscription or shareholder agreement, to the extent that such cost or expenses are funded with cash proceeds contributed to the capital of the Issuer or net cash proceeds of an issuance of Equity Interest of the Issuer (other than Disqualified Stock) solely to the extent that such net cash proceeds are excluded from the calculation set forth in clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) hereof; plus

(k) (i) other than for the purpose of determining the amount available for Restricted Payments under clause (3) of Section 4.07 (a) hereof, any costs or expense (other than those described in clause (ii) of this paragraph (k)) deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income by such Person or any such Subsidiary relating to the defense of the pending litigation proceedings with Televisa, S.A. de C.V. as of December 20, 2010 and any future claims related thereto and (ii) any program license fee overcharges and any program license fee payments under protest in connection with such litigation, in each case deducted (and not added back) in computing Consolidated Net Income; provided that, with respect to clause (ii) only, if either (1) a final decision shall have been determined and such decision either is not subject to appeal or an appeal of such decision is not filed by such Person with 30 days of such decision or (2) such litigation has been settled by the parties, then EBITDA shall be increased by the amount of such program license fee overcharges and such program license payments under protest less the amount, if any, of any of such payments which are retained by Televisa, S.A. De C.V. or its Affiliates pursuant to the decision or settlement;

(2) decreased by (without duplication) (a) non-cash gains increasing Consolidated Net Income of such Person and such Subsidiaries for such period, excluding any non-cash gains to the extent they represent the reversal of an accrual or reserve for a potential cash item that reduced EBITDA in any prior period and (b) the minority interest income consisting of subsidiary losses attributable to minority equity interests of third parties in any non-Wholly Owned Subsidiary to the extent such minority interest income is included in Consolidated Net Income; and

(3) increased or decreased by (without duplication):

All other terms used in this Indenture that are defined by the Trust Indenture Act, defined by Trust Indenture Act reference to another statute or defined by SEC rule under the Trust Indenture Act have the meanings so assigned to them.

SECTION 1.04. Rules of Construction. Unless the context otherwise requires:

- (a) a term has the meaning assigned to it;
- (b) an accounting term not otherwise defined has the meaning assigned to it in accordance with GAAP;
- (c) “or” is not exclusive;
- (d) “including” means including without limitation;
- (e) words in the singular include the plural, and in the plural include the singular;
- (f) “will” shall be interpreted to express a command;
- (g) provisions apply to successive events and transactions;
- (h) references to sections of, or rules under, the Securities Act shall be deemed to include substitute, replacement or successor sections or rules adopted by the SEC from time to time;
- (i) unless the context otherwise requires, any reference to an “Article,” “Section” or “clause” refers to an Article, Section or clause, as the case may be, of this Indenture; and

(j) the words “herein,” “hereof” and “hereunder” and other words of similar import refer to this Indenture as a whole and not any particular Article, Section, clause or other subdivision.

SECTION 1.05. Acts of Holders.

(a) Any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided by this Indenture to be given or taken by Holders may be embodied in and evidenced by one or more instruments of substantially similar tenor signed by such Holders in person or by an agent duly appointed in writing. Except as herein otherwise expressly provided, such action shall become effective when such instrument or instruments or record or both are delivered to the Trustee and, where it is hereby expressly required, to the Issuer. Proof of execution of any such instrument or of a writing appointing any such agent, or the holding by any Person of a Note, shall be sufficient for any purpose of this Indenture and (subject to Section 7.01) conclusive in favor of the Trustee and the Issuer, if made in the manner provided in this Section 1.05.

(b) The fact and date of the execution by any Person of any such instrument or writing may be proved by the affidavit of a witness of such execution or by the certificate of any notary public or other officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments of deeds, certifying that the individual signing such instrument or writing acknowledged to him the execution thereof. Where such execution is by or on behalf of any legal entity other than an individual, such certificate or affidavit shall also constitute proof of the authority of the Person executing the same. The fact and date of the execution of any such instrument or writing, or the authority of the Person executing the same, may also be proved in any other manner that the Trustee deems sufficient.

(c) The ownership of Notes shall be proved by the Note Register.

(d) Any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action by the Holder of any Note shall bind every future Holder of the same Note and the Holder of every Note issued upon the registration of transfer thereof or in exchange therefor or in lieu thereof, in respect of any action taken, suffered or omitted by the Trustee or the Issuer in reliance thereon, whether or not notation of such action is made upon such Note.

(e) The Issuer may, at its option in the circumstances permitted by the Trust Indenture Act, set a record date for purposes of determining the identity of Holders entitled to give any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or take any other act, or to vote or consent to any action by vote or consent authorized or permitted to be given or taken by Holders, but the Issuer shall have no obligation to do so.

(f) Without limiting the foregoing, a Holder entitled to take any action hereunder with regard to any particular Note may do so with regard to all or any part of the principal amount of such Note or by one or more duly appointed agents, each of which may do so pursuant to such appointment with regard to all or any part of such principal amount. Any notice given or action taken by a Holder or its agents with regard to different parts of such principal amount pursuant to this paragraph shall have the same effect as if given or taken by separate Holders of each such different part.

(g) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, a Holder, including the Depositary, may make, give or take, by a proxy or proxies duly appointed in writing, any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided in this Indenture to be made, given or taken by Holders, and the Depositary may provide its proxy to the beneficial owners of interests in any such Global Note through such Depositary’s standing instructions and customary practices.

(h) The Issuer may fix a record date for the purpose of determining the Persons who are beneficial owners of interests in any Global Note held by DTC entitled under the procedures of such Depository to make, give or take, by a proxy or proxies duly appointed in writing, any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided in this Indenture to be made, given or taken by Holders. If such a record date is fixed, the Holders on such record date or their duly appointed proxy or proxies, and only such Persons, shall be entitled to make, give or take such request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action, whether or not such Holders remain Holders after such record date. No such request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action shall be valid or effective if made, given or taken more than 90 days after such record date.

ARTICLE II

THE NOTES

SECTION 2.01. Form and Dating; Terms.

(a) General. The Notes and the Trustee's certificate of authentication shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto. The Notes may have notations, legends or endorsements required by law, stock exchange rules or usage. Each Note shall be dated the date of its authentication. The Notes shall be in minimum denominations of $2,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof.

(b) Global Notes. Notes issued in global form shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto (including the Global Note Legend thereon and the "Schedule of Exchanges of Interests in the Global Note" attached thereto). Notes issued in definitive form shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto (but without the Global Note Legend thereon and without the "Schedule of Exchanges of Interests in the Global Note" attached thereto). Each Global Note shall represent such of the outstanding Notes as shall be specified on the face of such Global Note, as increased or decreased in the "Schedule of Exchanges of Interests in the Global Note" attached thereto and each shall provide that it shall represent up to the aggregate principal amount of Notes from time to time endorsed thereon and that the aggregate principal amount of outstanding Notes represented thereby may from time to time be reduced or increased, as applicable, to reflect exchanges and redemptions by increasing the aggregate principal amount of such Global Note. Any endorsement of a Global Note to reflect the amount of any increase or decrease in the aggregate principal amount of outstanding Notes represented thereby shall be made by the Trustee or the Custodian, at the direction of the Trustee, in accordance with instructions given by the Holder thereof as required by Section 2.06 hereof.

(c) Temporary Global Notes. Notes offered and sold in reliance on Regulation S shall be issued initially in the form of the Regulation S Temporary Global Note, which shall be deposited on behalf of the purchasers of the Notes represented thereby with the Custodian and registered in the name of the Depository or the nominee of the Depository for the accounts of designated agents holding on behalf of Euroclear or Clearstream, duly executed by the Issuer and authenticated by the Trustee as hereinafter provided. The Restricted Period shall be terminated upon the receipt by the Trustee of:

(i) a written certificate from the Depository, together with copies of certificates from Euroclear and Clearstream certifying that they have received certification of non-United States beneficial ownership of 100% of the aggregate principal amount of each Regulation S Temporary Global Note (except to the extent of any beneficial owners thereof who acquired an interest therein during the Restricted Period pursuant to another exemption from registration under the Securities Act and who shall take delivery of a beneficial ownership interest in a 144A Global Note bearing a Private Placement Legend, all as contemplated by Section 2.06(b) hereof); and

Within a reasonable period after expiration or termination of the Restricted Period, beneficial interests in each Regulation S Temporary Global Note shall be exchanged for beneficial interests in a Regulation S Permanent Global Note upon delivery to DTC of the certification of compliance and the transfer of applicable Notes pursuant to the Applicable Procedures. Simultaneously with the authentication of the corresponding Regulation S Permanent Global Note, the Trustee shall cancel the corresponding Regulation S Temporary Global Note. The aggregate principal amount of a Regulation S Temporary Global Note and a Regulation S Permanent Global Note may from time to time be increased or decreased by adjustments made on the records of the Trustee and the Depository or its nominee, as the case may be, in connection with transfers of interest as hereinafter provided.

(d) Terms. The aggregate principal amount of Notes that may be authenticated and delivered under this Indenture is unlimited.

The terms and provisions contained in the Notes shall constitute, and are hereby expressly made, a part of this Indenture and the Issuer, the Guarantors and the Trustee, by their execution and delivery of this Indenture, expressly agree to such terms and provisions and to be bound thereby. However, to the extent any provision of any Note conflicts with the express provisions of this Indenture, the provisions of this Indenture shall govern and be controlling.

The Notes shall be subject to repurchase by the Issuer pursuant to a Collateral Asset Sale Offer or an Asset Sale Offer as provided in Section 4.10 hereof or a Change of Control Offer as provided in Section 4.14 hereof. The Notes shall not be redeemable, other than as provided in Article III hereof.

(e) Issuance of Additional Notes. Additional Notes ranking pari passu with the Initial Notes may be created and issued from time to time by the Issuer without notice to or consent of the Holders and shall be consolidated with and form a single class with the Initial Notes and shall have the same terms as to status, redemption or otherwise as the Initial Notes; provided that the Issuer's ability to issue Additional Notes shall be subject to the Issuer's compliance with Sections 4.09 and 4.12 hereof.

SECTION 2.02. Execution and Authentication. At least one Officer of the Issuer shall execute the Notes on behalf of the Issuer by manual, facsimile or electronic (e.g. .pdf) signature.

If an Officer of the Issuer whose signature is on a Note no longer holds that office at the time the Trustee authenticates the Note, the Note shall nevertheless be valid.

A Note shall not be entitled to any benefit under this Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose until authenticated substantially in the form of Exhibit A attached hereto, as the case may be, by the manual signature of the Trustee. The signature shall be conclusive evidence that the Note has been duly authenticated and delivered under this Indenture.

On the Issue Date, the Trustee shall, upon receipt of an Issuer Order (an "Authentication Order"), which order shall set forth the number of separate Note certificates, the principal amount of each of the Notes to be authenticated, the date on which the Notes are to be authenticated, the registered holder of each Note and delivery instructions, authenticate and deliver the Initial Notes. In addition, at any time, from time to time, the Trustee shall upon an Authentication Order authenticate and deliver any Additional Notes.

The Trustee may appoint an authenticating agent acceptable to the Issuer to authenticate Notes. An authenticating agent may authenticate Notes whenever the Trustee may do so. Each reference in this Indenture to authentication by the Trustee includes authentication by such agent. An authenticating agent has the same rights as an Agent to deal with Holders or an Affiliate of the Issuer.

SECTION 2.03. Registrar and Paying Agent. The Issuer shall maintain (i) an office or agency where Notes may be presented for registration of transfer or for exchange (“Registrar”) and (ii) an office or agency where Notes may be presented for payment (“Paying Agent”). The Registrar shall keep a register of the Notes (“Note Register”) reflecting the ownership of the Notes outstanding from time to time and of their transfer. The Registrar shall also facilitate the transfer of the Notes on behalf of the Issuer in accordance with Section 2.06 hereof. The Issuer may appoint one or more co-registrars and one or more additional paying agents. The term “Registrar” includes any co-registrar, and the term “Paying Agent” includes any additional paying agents. The Issuer initially appoints the Trustee as Paying Agent. The Issuer may change any Paying Agent or Registrar without prior notice to any Holder. The Issuer shall notify the Trustee in writing of the name and address of any Agent not a party to this Indenture. If the Issuer fails to appoint or maintain another entity as Registrar or Paying Agent, the Trustee shall, to the extent that it is capable, act as such. The Issuer or any of its domestic Subsidiaries may act as Paying Agent or Registrar.

The Issuer initially appoints The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”) to act as Depository with respect to the Global Notes representing the Notes.

The Issuer initially appoints the Trustee to act as the Registrar for the Notes and the Trustee agrees to initially so act.

SECTION 2.04. Paying Agent to Hold Money in Trust. The Issuer shall require each Paying Agent other than the Trustee to agree in writing that the Paying Agent shall hold in trust for the benefit of Holders or the Trustee all money held by the Paying Agent for the payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest on the Notes, and will notify the Trustee of any default by the Issuer in making any such payment. While any such default continues, the Trustee may require a Paying Agent to pay all money held by it to the Trustee. The Issuer at any time may require a Paying Agent to pay all money held by it to the Trustee. Upon payment over to the Trustee, the Paying Agent (if other than the Issuer or a Subsidiary) shall have no further liability for such funds. If the Issuer or a Subsidiary acts as Paying Agent, it shall segregate and hold in a separate trust fund for the benefit of the Holders all funds held by it as Paying Agent. Upon any Event of Default pursuant to Section 6.01(6) or (7), the Trustee shall serve as Paying Agent for the Notes.

SECTION 2.05. Holder Lists. The Trustee shall preserve in as current a form as is reasonably practicable the most recent list available to it of the names and addresses of all Holders and shall otherwise comply with Trust Indenture Act Section 312(a). If the Trustee is not the Registrar, the Issuer shall furnish to the Trustee at least five (5) Business Days before each Interest Payment Date and at such other times as the Trustee may request in writing, a list in such form and as of such date as the Trustee may reasonably require of the names and addresses of the Holders of Notes and the Issuer shall otherwise comply with Trust Indenture Act Section 312(a).

SECTION 2.06. Transfer and Exchange.

(a) Transfer and Exchange of Global Notes. Except as otherwise set forth in this Section 2.06, a Global Note may be transferred, in whole and not in part, only to another nominee of the Depository or to a successor thereto or a nominee of such successor thereto. A beneficial interest in a Global Note may not be exchanged for a Definitive Note of the same series unless (A) the Depository (x) notifies the Issuer that it is unwilling or unable to continue as Depository for such Global Note or (y) has ceased to be a clearing agency registered under the Exchange Act, and, in either case, a successor

Depository is not appointed by the Issuer within 120 days or (B) there shall have occurred and be continuing an Event of Default with respect to the Notes. Upon the occurrence of any of the preceding events in (A) above, Definitive Notes delivered in exchange for any Global Note of the same series or beneficial interests therein will be registered in the names, and issued in any approved denominations, requested by or on behalf of the Depository (in accordance with its customary procedures). Global Notes also may be exchanged or replaced, in whole or in part, as provided in Sections 2.07 and 2.10 hereof. Every Note authenticated and delivered in exchange for, or in lieu of, a Global Note of the same series or any portion thereof, pursuant to this Section 2.06 or Section 2.07 or 2.10 hereof, shall be authenticated and delivered in the form of, and shall be, a Global Note, except for Definitive Notes issued subsequent to any of the preceding events in (A) or (B) above and pursuant to Section 2.06(c) hereof. A Global Note may not be exchanged for another Note other than as provided in this Section 2.06(a); and beneficial interests in a Global Note may not be transferred and exchanged other than as provided in Section 2.06(b) or (c) hereof.

(b) Transfer and Exchange of Beneficial Interests in the Global Notes. The transfer and exchange of beneficial interests in the Global Notes shall be effected through the Depository in accordance with the provisions of this Indenture and the Applicable Procedures. Beneficial interests in the Restricted Global Notes shall be subject to restrictions on transfer comparable to those set forth herein to the extent required by the Securities Act. Transfers of beneficial interests in the Global Notes also shall require compliance with either subparagraph (i) or (ii) below, as applicable, as well as one or more of the other following subparagraphs, as applicable:

(i) Transfer of Beneficial Interests in the Same Global Note. Beneficial interests in any Restricted Global Note may be transferred to Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in the same Restricted Global Note in accordance with the transfer restrictions set forth in the Private Placement Legend; provided, that prior to the expiration of the Restricted Period, transfers of beneficial interests in the Regulation S Temporary Global Note may not be made to a U.S. Person or for the account or benefit of a U.S. Person other than to a “distributor” (as defined in Rule 902(d) of Regulation S) and other than pursuant to Rule 144A. No written orders or instructions shall be required to be delivered to the Registrar to effect the transfers described in this Section 2.06(b)(i).

(ii) All Other Transfers and Exchanges of Beneficial Interests in Global Notes. In connection with all transfers and exchanges of beneficial interests that are not subject to Section 2.06(b)(i) hereof, the transferor of such beneficial interest must deliver to the Registrar either (A) (1) a written order from a Participant or an Indirect Participant given to the Depository in accordance with the Applicable Procedures directing the Depository to credit or cause to be credited a beneficial interest in another Global Note in an amount equal to the beneficial interest to be transferred or exchanged and (2) instructions given in accordance with the Applicable Procedures containing information regarding the Participant account to be credited with such increase or (B) (1) a written order from a Participant or an Indirect Participant given to the Depository in accordance with the Applicable Procedures directing the Depository to cause to be issued a Definitive Note of the same series in an amount equal to the beneficial interest to be transferred or exchanged and (2) instructions given by the Depository to the Registrar containing information regarding the Person in whose name such Definitive Note shall be registered to effect the transfer or exchange referred to in (B)(1) above; provided that in no event shall Definitive Notes be issued upon the transfer or exchange of beneficial interests in a Regulation S Temporary Global Note prior to (A) the expiration of the Restricted Period and (B) the receipt by the Registrar of any certificates required pursuant to Rule 903(b)(3)(ii)(B). Upon satisfaction of all of the requirements for transfer or exchange of beneficial interests in Global Notes contained in this Indenture and the Notes or otherwise applicable under the Securities Act, the Trustee shall adjust the principal amount of the relevant Global Note(s) pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof.

(iii) Transfer of Beneficial Interests in a Restricted Global Note to Another Restricted Global Note. A beneficial interest in any Global Note may be transferred to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in another Restricted Global Note if the transfer complies with the requirements of Section 2.06(b)(ii) hereof and the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the transferee will take delivery in the form of a beneficial interest in a 144A Global Note, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof or, if permitted by the Applicable Procedures, item 3 thereof; or

(B) if the transferee will take delivery in the form of a beneficial interest in a Regulation S Global Note, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof.

(iv) Transfer or Exchange of Beneficial Interests in a Restricted Global Note for Beneficial Interests in an Unrestricted Global Note. A Holder of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note may exchange such beneficial interest for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note or may transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note only if the exchange or transfer complies with the requirements of Section 2.06(b)(ii) above and the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the Holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1)(a) thereof; or

(B) if the Holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof; and, in each such case, if the Registrar so requests or if the Applicable Procedures so require, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer complies with the Securities Act and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend are no longer required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

If any such transfer is effected at a time when an Unrestricted Global Note has not yet been issued, the Issuer shall execute and, upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate one or more Unrestricted Global Notes in an aggregate principal amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of beneficial interests transferred.

(v) Transfer or Exchange of Beneficial Interests in an Unrestricted Global Note for Beneficial Interests in a Restricted Global Note Prohibited. Beneficial interests in an Unrestricted Global Note may not be exchanged for, or transferred to Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of, beneficial interests in a Restricted Global Note.

(c) Transfer or Exchange of Beneficial Interests in Global Notes for Definitive Notes.

(i) Beneficial Interests in Restricted Global Notes to Restricted Definitive Notes. If any holder of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for a Restricted Definitive Note or to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a Restricted Definitive Note, then, upon the occurrence of any of the events in subsection (A) of Section 2.06(a) hereof and receipt by the Registrar of the following documentation:

(A) if the holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for a Restricted Definitive Note, a certificate from such holder substantially in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (2) (a) thereof;

(B) if such beneficial interest is being transferred to a QIB in accordance with Rule 144A, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof;

(C) if such beneficial interest is being transferred to a Non-U.S. Person in an offshore transaction in accordance with Rule 903 or Rule 904, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof;

(D) if such beneficial interest is being transferred pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act in accordance with Rule 144, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3)(a) thereof;

(E) if such beneficial interest is being transferred to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3)(b) thereof; or the Trustee shall cause the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Global Note to be reduced accordingly pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof, and the Issuer shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and mail to the Person designated by the Holder of such beneficial interest in the instructions delivered to the Registrar by the Depositary and the applicable Participant or Indirect Participant on behalf of such Holder a Restricted Definitive Note in the applicable principal amount. Any Restricted Definitive Note issued in exchange for a beneficial interest in a Global Note pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(i) shall be registered in such name or names and in such authorized denomination or denominations as the holder of such beneficial interest shall designate in such instructions. The Trustee shall mail such Restricted Definitive Notes to the Persons in whose names such Notes are so registered. Any Restricted Definitive Note issued in exchange for a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(i) shall bear the Private Placement Legend and shall be subject to all restrictions on transfer contained therein.

(ii) Beneficial Interests in Regulation S Temporary Global Note to Definitive Notes. Notwithstanding Sections 2.06(c)(i)(A) and (C) hereof, a beneficial interest in the Regulation S Temporary Global Note may not be exchanged for a Definitive Note or transferred to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a Definitive Note prior to (A) the expiration of the Restricted Period and (B) the receipt by the Registrar of any certificates required pursuant to Rule 903(b)(3)(ii)(B) of the Securities Act, except in the case of a transfer pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act other than Rule 903 or Rule 904.

(iii) Beneficial Interests in Restricted Global Notes to Unrestricted Definitive Notes. Subject to Section 2.06(a) hereof, a Holder of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note may exchange such beneficial interest for an Unrestricted Definitive Note or may transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note only if the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the Holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for an Unrestricted Definitive Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1) (b) thereof; or

(B) if the Holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note proposes to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof;

and, in each such case, if the Registrar so requests or if the Applicable Procedures so require, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer complies with the Securities Act and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend are no longer required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

Upon satisfaction of any of the conditions of any of the clauses of this Section 2.06(c)(iii), the Issuer shall execute and, upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver an Unrestricted Definitive Note in the appropriate principal amount to the Person designated by the Holder of such beneficial interest in instructions delivered to the Registrar by the Depository and the applicable Participant or Indirect Participant on behalf of such Holder, and the Trustee shall reduce or cause to be reduced in a corresponding amount pursuant to Section 2.06(g), the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Restricted Global Note.

(iv) Beneficial Interests in Unrestricted Global Notes to Unrestricted Definitive Notes. Subject to Section 2.06(a) hereof, if any Holder of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for an Unrestricted Definitive Note or to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note, then, upon satisfaction of the applicable conditions set forth in Section 2.06(b)(ii) hereof, the Trustee shall reduce or cause to be reduced in a corresponding amount pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof, the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Unrestricted Global Note, and the Issuer shall execute, and, upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver an Unrestricted Definitive Note in the appropriate principal amount to the Person designated by the Holder of such beneficial interest in instructions delivered to the Registrar by the Depository and the applicable Participant or Indirect Participant on behalf of such Holder. Any Unrestricted Definitive Note issued in exchange for a beneficial interest pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(iv) shall be registered in such name or names and in such authorized denomination or denominations as the Holder of such beneficial interest shall designate in such instructions. The Trustee shall deliver such Unrestricted Definitive Notes to the Persons in whose names such Notes are so registered. Any Unrestricted Definitive Note issued in exchange for a beneficial interest pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(iv) shall not bear the Private Placement Legend.

(i) Restricted Definitive Notes to Beneficial Interest in Restricted Global Notes. If any Holder of a Restricted Definitive Note proposes to exchange such Note for a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note or to transfer such Restricted Definitive Note to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Note, then, upon receipt by the Registrar of the following documentation:

(A) if the Holder of such Definitive Note proposes to exchange such Note for a beneficial interest in a Global Note, a certificate from such Holder substantially in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (2)(b) thereof;

(B) if such Definitive Note is being transferred to a QIB in accordance with Rule 144A, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof;

(C) if such Definitive Note is being transferred to a Non-U.S. Person in an offshore transaction in accordance with Rule 903 or Rule 904, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof;

(D) if such Definitive Note is being transferred pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act in accordance with Rule 144, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3)(a) thereof; or

(E) if such Definitive Note is being transferred to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3)(b) thereof,

the Trustee shall cancel the Restricted Definitive Note, increase or cause to be increased in a corresponding amount pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof the aggregate principal amount of, in the case of clause (A) above, the applicable Restricted Global Note, in the case of clause (B) above, the applicable 144A Global Note, and in the case of clause (C) above, the applicable Regulation S Global Note.

(ii) Restricted Definitive Notes to Beneficial Interests in Unrestricted Global Notes. A Holder of a Restricted Definitive Note may exchange such Restricted Definitive Note for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note or transfer such Restricted Definitive Note to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note only if the Registrar receives the following:

(F) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Note proposes to exchange such Restricted Definitive Note for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1) (c) thereof; or

(G) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Note proposes to transfer such Restricted Definitive Note to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof;

and, in each such case, if the Registrar so requests or if the Applicable Procedures so require, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer shall be effected in compliance with the Securities Act and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend shall no longer be required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

Upon satisfaction of the conditions of any of the clauses in this Section 2.06(d)(ii), the Trustee shall cancel such Restricted Definitive Note and increase or cause to be increased in a corresponding amount pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof, the aggregate principal amount of the Unrestricted Global Note.

(iii) Unrestricted Definitive Notes to Beneficial Interests in Unrestricted Global Notes. A Holder of an Unrestricted Definitive Note may exchange such Unrestricted Definitive Note for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note or transfer such Unrestricted Definitive Note to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note at any time. Upon receipt of a request for such an exchange or transfer, the Trustee shall cancel the applicable Unrestricted Definitive Note and increase or cause to be increased in a corresponding amount pursuant to Section 2.06(g) hereof the aggregate principal amount of one of the Unrestricted Global Notes.

(iv) Unrestricted Definitive Notes to Beneficial Interests in Restricted Global Notes Prohibited. An Unrestricted Definitive Note may not be exchanged for, or transferred to Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of, beneficial interests in a Restricted Global Note.

(v) Issuance of Unrestricted Global Notes. If any such exchange or transfer of a Definitive Note for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Note is effected pursuant to clause (ii) or (iii) above at a time when an Unrestricted Global Note has not yet been issued, the Issuer shall issue and, upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate one or more Unrestricted Global Notes in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of Definitive Notes so transferred.

(i) Upon request by a Holder of Definitive Notes and such Holder's compliance with the provisions of this Section 2.06(e), the Registrar shall register the transfer or exchange of Definitive Notes. Prior to such registration of transfer or exchange, the requesting Holder shall present or surrender to the Registrar the Definitive Notes duly endorsed or accompanied by a written instruction of transfer in form satisfactory to the Registrar duly executed by such Holder. In addition, the requesting Holder shall provide any additional certifications, documents and information, as applicable, required pursuant to the following provisions of this Section 2.06(e):

(ii) Restricted Definitive Notes to Restricted Definitive Notes. Any Restricted Definitive Note may be transferred to and registered in the name of Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of a Restricted Definitive Note if the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the transfer will be made pursuant to a QIB in accordance with Rule 144A, then the transferor must deliver a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof;

(B) if the transfer will be made pursuant to Rule 903 or Rule 904 then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof; or

(C) if the transfer will be made pursuant to any other exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications required by item (3) thereof, if applicable.

(iii) Transfer or Exchange of Restricted Definitive Notes to Unrestricted Definitive Notes. Any Restricted Definitive Note may be exchanged by the Holder thereof for an Unrestricted Definitive Note or transferred to a Person or Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note only if the Registrar receives the following:

(D) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Note proposes to exchange such Restricted Definitive Notes for an Unrestricted Definitive Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1)(d) thereof; or

(E) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Notes proposes to transfer such Restricted Definitive Notes to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof;

and, in each such case, if the Registrar so requests, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer complies with the Securities Act and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend are no longer required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

Upon satisfaction of the conditions of any of the clauses of this Section 2.06(e)(iii), the Trustee shall cancel the prior Restricted Definitive Note and the Issuer shall execute, and upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver an Unrestricted Definitive Note in the appropriate aggregate principal amount to the Person designated by the Holder of such prior Restricted Definitive Note in instructions delivered to the Registrar by such Holder.

(iv) Transfer of Unrestricted Definitive Notes to Unrestricted Definitive Notes. A Holder of Unrestricted Definitive Notes may transfer such Unrestricted Definitive Notes to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Note. Upon receipt of a request to register such a transfer, the Registrar shall register the Unrestricted Definitive Notes pursuant to the instructions from the Holder thereof.

(f) Legends. The following legends shall appear on the face of all Global Notes and Definitive Notes issued under this Indenture unless specifically stated otherwise in the applicable provisions of this Indenture:

(i) Private Placement Legend.

(A) Except as permitted by clause (B) below, each Global Note and each Definitive Note (and all Notes issued in exchange therefor or substitution thereof) shall bear the legend in substantially the following form:

“THIS SECURITY HAS NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”) AND, ACCORDINGLY, MAY NOT BE OFFERED, SOLD, PLEDGED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED WITHIN THE UNITED STATES OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, U.S. PERSONS, EXCEPT AS SET FORTH IN THE FOLLOWING SENTENCE. BY ITS ACQUISITION HEREOF OR OF A BENEFICIAL INTEREST HEREIN, THE HOLDER:

- (1) REPRESENTS THAT (A) IT IS A “QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER” (AS DEFINED IN RULE 144A UNDER THE “SECURITIES ACT”) (A “QIB”) OR (B) IT IS NOT A U.S. PERSON, IS NOT ACQUIRING THIS SECURITY FOR THE ACCOUNT OR FOR THE BENEFIT OF A U.S. PERSON AND IS ACQUIRING THIS SECURITY IN AN OFF-SHORE TRANSACTION IN COMPLIANCE WITH REGULATIONS UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT,
- (2) AGREES THAT IT WILL NOT, WITHIN [IN THE CASE OF THE RULE 144A GLOBAL NOTE: THE TIME PERIOD REFERRED TO UNDER RULE 144(d)(1) UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT AS IN EFFECT ON THE DATE OF TRANSFER OF THIS SECURITY] / [IN THE CASE OF THE REGULATIONS GLOBAL NOTE: 40 DAYS AFTER THE ISSUE DATE] RESELL OR OTHERWISE TRANSFER THIS SECURITY EXCEPT (A) TO THE ISSUER OR ANY SUBSIDIARY THEREOF, (B) TO A PERSON WHOM THE HOLDER REASONABLY BELIEVES IS A QIB OR AN ACCREDITED INVESTOR PURCHASING FOR ITS OWN ACCOUNT OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OF A QIB OR AN ACCREDITED INVESTOR, RESPECTIVELY, IN COMPLIANCE WITH RULE 144A UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OR AN AVAILABLE EXEMPTION FROM THE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF THE SECURITIES ACT, (C) OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION IN COMPLIANCE WITH RULE 904 UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT, (D) PURSUANT TO THE EXEMPTION FROM REGISTRATION PROVIDED BY RULE 144 UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT (IF AVAILABLE AND PROVIDED THAT PRIOR TO SUCH TRANSFER, THE TRUSTEE IS FURNISHED WITH AN OPINION OF COUNSEL ACCEPTABLE TO THE ISSUER THAT SUCH TRANSFER IS IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE SECURITIES ACT) OR (E) PURSUANT TO AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT AND, IN EACH CASE, IN ACCORDANCE WITH APPLICABLE STATE SECURITIES LAWS, AND
- (3) AGREES THAT IT WILL DELIVER TO EACH PERSON TO WHOM THIS SECURITY OR AN INTEREST HEREIN IS TRANSFERRED (OTHER THAN A TRANSFER PURSUANT TO CLAUSE (2)(D) OR (2)(E) ABOVE) A NOTICE SUBSTANTIALLY TO THE EFFECT OF THIS LEGEND.

IN CONNECTION WITH ANY TRANSFER OF THIS SECURITY OR ANY INTEREST HEREIN WITHIN THE TIME PERIOD REFERRED TO ABOVE, THE HOLDER MUST CHECK THE APPROPRIATE BOX SET FORTH ON THE REVERSE HEREOF RELATING TO THE MANNER OF SUCH TRANSFER AND SUBMIT THIS CERTIFICATE TO THE TRUSTEE. AS USED HEREIN THE TERMS “OFFSHORE TRANSACTION,” “UNITED STATES” AND “U.S. PERSON” HAVE THE MEANING GIVEN TO THEM BY RULE 902 OF REGULATIONS UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT.

(B) Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Global Note or Definitive Note issued pursuant to clauses (b)(iv), (c)(iii), (c)(iv), (d)(i)(B), (d)(i)(C), (e)(iii) or (e)(iv) to this Section 2.06 (and all Notes issued in exchange therefor or substitution thereof) shall not bear the Private Placement Legend.

(ii) Global Note Legend. Each Global Note shall bear a legend in substantially the following form (with appropriate changes in the last sentence if DTC is not the Depository):

“THIS GLOBAL NOTE IS HELD BY THE DEPOSITARY (AS DEFINED IN THE INDENTURE GOVERNING THIS NOTE) OR ITS NOMINEE IN CUSTODY FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE BENEFICIAL OWNERS HEREOF, AND IS NOT TRANSFERABLE TO ANY PERSON UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES EXCEPT THAT (I) THE TRUSTEE MAY MAKE SUCH NOTATIONS HEREON AS MAY BE REQUIRED PURSUANT TO SECTION 2.06(g) OF THE INDENTURE, (II) THIS GLOBAL NOTE MAY BE EXCHANGED IN WHOLE BUT NOT IN PART PURSUANT TO SECTION 2.06(a) OF THE INDENTURE, (III) THIS GLOBAL NOTE MAY BE DELIVERED TO THE TRUSTEE FOR CANCELLATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 2.11 OF THE INDENTURE AND (IV) THIS GLOBAL NOTE MAY BE TRANSFERRED TO A SUCCESSOR DEPOSITARY WITH THE PRIOR WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE ISSUER. UNLESS AND UNTIL IT IS EXCHANGED IN WHOLE OR IN PART FOR NOTES IN DEFINITIVE FORM, THIS NOTE MAY NOT BE TRANSFERRED EXCEPT AS A WHOLE BY THE DEPOSITARY TO A NOMINEE OF THE DEPOSITARY OR BY A NOMINEE OF THE DEPOSITARY TO THE DEPOSITARY OR ANOTHER NOMINEE OF THE DEPOSITARY OR BY THE DEPOSITARY OR ANY SUCH NOMINEE TO A SUCCESSOR DEPOSITARY OR A NOMINEE OF SUCH SUCCESSOR DEPOSITARY. UNLESS THIS NOTE IS PRESENTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF THE DEPOSITARY TRUST COMPANY (55 WATER STREET, NEW YORK, NEW YORK) (“DTC”) TO THE ISSUER OR ITS AGENT FOR REGISTRATION OF TRANSFER, EXCHANGE OR PAYMENT, AND ANY NOTE ISSUED IS REGISTERED IN THE NAME OF CEDE & CO. OR SUCH OTHER NAME AS MAY BE REQUESTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF DTC (AND ANY PAYMENT IS MADE TO CEDE & CO. OR SUCH OTHER ENTITY AS MAY BE REQUESTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF DTC), ANY TRANSFER, PLEDGE OR OTHER USE HEREOF FOR VALUE OR OTHERWISE BY OR TO ANY PERSON IS WRONGFUL INASMUCH AS THE REGISTERED OWNER HEREOF, CEDE & CO., HAS AN INTEREST HEREIN.”

(iii) Regulation S Temporary Global Note Legend. The Regulation S Temporary Global Note shall bear a legend in substantially the following form:

“THIS NOTE (OR ITS PREDECESSOR) WAS ORIGINALLY ISSUED IN A TRANSACTION ORIGINALLY EXEMPT FROM REGISTRATION UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”), AND MAY NOT BE TRANSFERRED IN THE UNITED STATES OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, ANY U.S. PERSON EXCEPT PURSUANT TO AN AVAILABLE EXEMPTION FROM THE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF THE SECURITIES ACT AND ALL APPLICABLE STATE SECURITIES LAWS. TERMS USED ABOVE HAVE THE MEANINGS GIVEN TO THEM IN REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT.”

(g) Cancellation and/or Adjustment of Global Notes. At such time as all beneficial interests in a particular Global Note have been exchanged for Definitive Notes or a particular Global Note has been redeemed, repurchased or canceled in whole and not in part, each such Global Note shall be returned to or retained and canceled by the Trustee in accordance with Section 2.11 hereof. At any time prior to such cancellation, if any beneficial interest in a Global Note is exchanged for or transferred to a Person who will take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in another Global Note or for Definitive Notes, the aggregate principal amount of Notes represented by such Global Note shall be reduced accordingly and an endorsement shall be made on such Global Note by the Trustee or by the Depositary at the direction of the Trustee to reflect such reduction; and if the beneficial interest is being exchanged for or transferred to a Person who will take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in another Global Note, such other Global Note shall be increased accordingly and an endorsement shall be made on such Global Note by the Trustee or by the Depositary at the direction of the Trustee to reflect such increase.

(h) General Provisions Relating to Transfers and Exchanges.

(i) To permit registrations of transfers and exchanges, the Issuer shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate Global Notes and Definitive Notes upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof or at the Registrar's request.

(ii) No service charge shall be made to a holder of a beneficial interest in a Global Note or to a Holder of a Definitive Note for any registration of transfer or exchange, but the Issuer may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any transfer tax or similar governmental charge payable in connection therewith (other than any such transfer taxes or similar governmental charge payable upon exchange or transfer pursuant to Sections 2.07, 2.10, 3.06, 3.09, 4.10, 4.14 and 9.05 hereof).

(iii) All Global Notes and Definitive Notes issued upon any registration of transfer or exchange of Global Notes or Definitive Notes shall be the valid obligations of the Issuer, evidencing the same debt, and entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture, as the Global Notes or Definitive Notes surrendered upon such registration of transfer or exchange.

(iv) Neither the Registrar nor the Issuer shall not be required (A) to issue, to register the transfer of or to exchange any Notes during a period beginning at the opening of business 15 days before the day of any selection of Notes for redemption under Section 3.02 hereof and ending at the close of business on the day of selection, (B) to register the transfer of or to exchange any Note so selected for redemption in whole or in part, except the unredeemed portion of any Note being redeemed in part or (C) to register the transfer of or to exchange a Note between a Record Date with respect to such Note and the next succeeding Interest Payment Date with respect to such Note.

(v) Prior to due presentment for the registration of a transfer of any Note, the Trustee, any Agent and the Issuer may deem and treat the Person in whose name any Note is registered as the absolute owner of such Note for the purpose of receiving payment of principal of (and premium, if any) and interest on such Notes and for all other purposes, and none of the Trustee, any Agent or the Issuer shall be affected by notice to the contrary.

(vi) Upon surrender for registration of transfer of any Note at the office or agency of the Issuer designated pursuant to Section 4.02 hereof, the Issuer shall execute, and the Trustee shall authenticate and mail, in the name of the designated transferee or transferees, one or more replacement Notes of any authorized denomination or denominations of a like aggregate principal amount.

(vii) At the option of the Holder, Notes may be exchanged for other Notes of any authorized denomination or denominations of a like aggregate principal amount upon surrender of the Notes to be exchanged at such office or agency. Whenever any Global Notes or Definitive Notes are so surrendered for exchange, the Issuer shall execute, and the Trustee shall authenticate and mail, the replacement Global Notes and Definitive Notes which the Holder making the exchange is entitled to in accordance with the provisions of Section 2.02 hereof.

(viii) All certifications, certificates and Opinions of Counsel required to be submitted to the Registrar pursuant to this Section 2.06 to effect a registration of transfer or exchange may be submitted by facsimile (with originals to follow promptly thereafter).

(ix) The Trustee is hereby authorized and directed to enter into a letter of representation with the Depositary in the form provided by the Issuer and to act in accordance with such letter.

SECTION 2.07. Replacement Notes. If any mutilated Note is surrendered to the Trustee, the Registrar or the Issuer and the Trustee receives evidence to its satisfaction of the ownership and destruction, loss or theft of any Note, the Issuer shall issue and the Trustee, upon receipt of an Authentication Order, shall authenticate a replacement Note if the Trustee's requirements are met. If required by the Trustee or the Issuer, an indemnity bond must be supplied by the Holder that is sufficient in the judgment of the Trustee and the Issuer to protect the Issuer, the Trustee, any Agent and any authenticating agent from any loss that any of them may suffer if a Note is replaced. The Issuer and the Trustee may charge the Holder for their expenses in replacing a Note.

Every replacement Note issued in accordance with this Section 2.07 is a contractual obligation of the Issuer and shall be entitled to all of the benefits of this Indenture equally and proportionately with all other Notes duly issued hereunder.

SECTION 2.08. Outstanding Notes. The Notes outstanding at any time are all the Notes authenticated by the Trustee except for those canceled by it, those delivered to it for cancellation, those reductions in the interest in a Global Note effected by the Trustee in accordance with the provisions hereof and those described in this Section 2.08 as not outstanding. Except as set forth in Section 2.09 hereof, a Note does not cease to be outstanding because the Issuer, a Guarantor or an Affiliate of the Issuer or a Guarantor holds the Note.

If a Note is replaced pursuant to Section 2.07 hereof, it ceases to be outstanding unless the Trustee receives proof satisfactory to it that the replaced Note is held by a protected purchaser (as defined in Section 8-303 of the Uniform Commercial Code).

If the principal amount of any Note is considered paid under Section 4.01 hereof, it ceases to be outstanding and interest on it ceases to accrue.

If the Paying Agent (other than the Issuer, a Guarantor or an Affiliate of the Issuer or a Guarantor) holds, on a Redemption Date or maturity date, money sufficient to pay Notes (or portions thereof) payable on that date, then on and after that date such Notes (or portions thereof) shall be deemed to be no longer outstanding and shall cease to accrue interest.

SECTION 2.09. Treasury Notes. In determining whether the Holders of the required principal amount of Notes have concurred in any direction, waiver or consent, Notes owned by the Issuer, a Guarantor or by any Affiliate of the Issuer or a Guarantor, shall be considered as though not outstanding, except that for the purposes of determining whether the Trustee shall be protected in relying on any such direction, waiver or consent, only Notes that a Responsible Officer of the Trustee knows are so owned shall be so disregarded. Notes so owned which have been pledged in good faith shall not be disregarded if the pledgee establishes to the satisfaction of the Trustee the pledgee's right to deliver any such direction, waiver or consent with respect to the Notes and that the pledgee is not the Issuer, a Guarantor or any obligor upon the Notes or any Affiliate of the Issuer, a Guarantor or of such other obligor.

SECTION 2.10. Temporary Notes. Until certificates representing Notes are ready for delivery, the Issuer may prepare and the Trustee, upon receipt of an Authentication Order, shall authenticate temporary Notes. Temporary Notes shall be substantially in the form of Definitive Notes but may have variations that the Issuer considers appropriate for temporary Notes and as shall be reasonably acceptable to the Trustee. Without unreasonable delay, the Issuer shall prepare and the Trustee shall authenticate Definitive Notes in exchange for temporary Notes.

Holder and beneficial holders, as the case may be, of temporary Notes shall be entitled to all of the benefits accorded to Holders, or beneficial holders, respectively, of Notes under this Indenture.

SECTION 2.11. Cancellation. The Issuer at any time may deliver Notes to the Trustee for cancellation. The Registrar and Paying Agent shall forward to the Trustee any Notes surrendered to them for registration of transfer, exchange or payment. The Trustee or, at the direction of the Trustee, the Registrar or the Paying Agent and no one else shall cancel all Notes surrendered for registration of transfer, exchange, payment, replacement or cancellation and shall destroy cancelled Notes (subject to the record retention requirement of the Exchange Act). Certification of the destruction of all cancelled Notes shall be delivered to the Issuer. The Issuer may not issue new Notes to replace Notes that it has paid or that have been delivered to the Trustee for cancellation.

SECTION 2.12. Defaulted Interest. If the Issuer defaults in a payment of interest on the Notes, it shall pay the defaulted interest in any lawful manner plus, to the extent lawful, interest payable on the defaulted interest, in each case at the rate provided in the Notes and in Section 4.01 hereof. The Issuer may pay the defaulted interest to the Persons who are Holders on a subsequent special record date. The Issuer shall notify the Trustee in writing of the amount of defaulted interest proposed to be paid on each Note and the date of the proposed payment, and at the same time the Issuer shall deposit with the Trustee an amount of money equal to the aggregate amount proposed to be paid in respect of such defaulted interest or shall make arrangements satisfactory to the Trustee for such deposit prior to the date of the proposed payment, such money when deposited to be held in trust for the benefit of the Persons entitled to such defaulted interest as provided in this Section 2.12. The Issuer shall fix or cause to be fixed any such special record date and payment date; provided that no such special record date shall be less than 10 days prior to the related payment date for such defaulted interest. At least 15 days before any such special record date, the Issuer (or, upon the written request of the Issuer, the Trustee in the name and at the expense of the Issuer) shall mail or cause to be mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to each Holder, with a copy to the Trustee, a notice at his or her address as it appears in the Note Register that states the special record date, the related payment date and the amount of such interest to be paid.

Subject to the foregoing provisions of this Section 2.12 and for greater certainty, each Note delivered under this Indenture upon registration of transfer of or in exchange for or in lieu of any other Note shall carry the rights to interest accrued and unpaid, and to accrue, which were carried by such other Note.

SECTION 2.13. CUSIP/ISIN Numbers. The Issuer in issuing the Notes may use CUSIP and ISIN numbers (in each case, if then generally in use) and, if so, the Trustee shall use CUSIP and ISIN numbers in notices of redemption as a convenience to Holders; provided, that any such notice may state that no representation is made as to the correctness of such numbers either as printed on the Notes or as contained in any notice of redemption and that reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers printed on the Notes, and any such redemption shall not be affected by any defect in or omission of such numbers. The Issuer will as promptly as practicable notify the Trustee in writing of any change in the CUSIP and ISIN numbers.

SECTION 2.14. Calculation of Principal Amount of Securities. The aggregate principal amount of the Notes, at any date of determination, shall be the principal amount of the Notes at such date of determination. With respect to any matter requiring consent, waiver, approval or other action of the Holders of a specified percentage of the principal amount of all the Notes, such percentage shall be calculated, on the relevant date of determination, by dividing (a) the principal amount, as of such date of determination, of Notes, the Holders of which have so consented by (b) the aggregate principal amount, as of such date of determination, of the Notes then outstanding, in each case, as determined in accordance with the preceding sentence, Section 2.08 and Section 2.09 of this Indenture. Any such calculation made pursuant to this Section 2.14 shall be made by the Issuer and delivered to the Trustee pursuant to an Officer's Certificate.

ARTICLE III

REDEMPTION

SECTION 3.01. Notices to Trustee. If the Issuer elects to redeem the Notes pursuant to Section 3.07 hereof, it shall furnish to the Trustee, at least two (2) Business Days (or such shorter period as allowed by the Trustee) before notice of redemption is required to be mailed or caused to be mailed to Holders pursuant to Section 3.03 hereof but not more than 60 days before a Redemption Date, an Officer's Certificate of the Issuer setting forth (i) the paragraph or subparagraph of such Note and/or Section of this Indenture pursuant to which the redemption shall occur, (ii) the Redemption Date, (iii) the principal amount of the Notes, to be redeemed and (iv) the redemption price.

SECTION 3.02. Selection of Notes to Be Redeemed. If less than all of the Notes are to be redeemed at any time, the Trustee shall select the Notes of such series to be redeemed (a) if the Notes are listed on any national securities exchange, in compliance with the requirements of the principal national securities exchange on which the Notes are listed or (b) on a pro rata basis to the extent practicable, or, if the pro rata basis is not practicable for any reason, by lot or by such other method the Trustee shall deem fair and appropriate. In the event of partial redemption by lot, the particular Notes to be redeemed shall be selected, unless otherwise provided herein, not less than 30 nor more than 60 days prior to the Redemption Date by the Trustee from the outstanding Notes not previously called for redemption.

The Trustee shall promptly notify the Issuer in writing of the Notes selected for redemption and, in the case of any Note selected for partial redemption, the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. Notes and portions of Notes selected shall be in amounts of $2,000 or whole multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof; no Notes of less than $2,000 can be redeemed in part, except that if all of the Notes of a Holder are to be redeemed, the entire outstanding amount of Notes held by such Holder, even if not a multiple of $1,000 shall be redeemed. Except as provided in the preceding sentence, provisions of this Indenture that apply to Notes called for redemption also apply to portions of Notes called for redemption.

SECTION 3.03. Notice of Redemption. Subject to Section 3.09 hereof, the Issuer shall mail or cause to be mailed by first-class mail notices of redemption at least 30 days but not more than 60 days before the Redemption Date to each Holder of Notes to be redeemed at such Holder's registered address appearing in the Note Register or otherwise in accordance with Applicable Procedures, provided, that redemption notices may be mailed more than 60 days prior to a Redemption Date if the notice is issued in connection with Article VIII or Article XI hereof. Except pursuant to a notice of redemption delivered in accordance with a redemption pursuant to Sections 3.07(c) hereof, notices of redemption may not be conditional.

The notice shall identify the Notes to be redeemed and shall state:

(a) the Redemption Date;

(b) the appropriate method for calculation of the redemption price, but need not include the redemption price itself; the actual redemption price shall be set forth in an Officer's Certificate delivered to the Trustee no later than two (2) Business Days prior to the Redemption Date unless the redemption is pursuant to Section 3.07(a) hereof, in which case such Officer's Certificate should be delivered on the Redemption Date;

(c) if any Note is to be redeemed in part only, the portion of the principal amount of that Note that is to be redeemed and that, after the Redemption Date upon surrender of such Note, a new Note or Notes in principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion of the original Note representing the same indebtedness to the extent not redeemed will be issued in the name of the Holder of the Notes upon cancellation of the original Note;

(d) the name and address of the Paying Agent;

(e) that Notes called for redemption must be surrendered to the Paying Agent to collect the redemption price;

(f) that, unless the Issuer defaults in making such redemption payment, interest on Notes called for redemption ceases to accrue on and after the Redemption Date;

(g) the paragraph or subparagraph of the Notes and/or Section of this Indenture pursuant to which the Notes called for redemption are being redeemed;

(h) the CUSIP and ISIN number, if any, printed on the Notes being redeemed and that no representation is made as to the correctness or accuracy of any such CUSIP and ISIN number that is listed in such notice or printed on the Notes; and

(i) if in connection with a redemption pursuant to Section 3.07(c) hereof, any condition to such redemption.

At the Issuer's request, the Trustee shall give the notice of redemption in the Issuer's name and at its expense; provided that the Issuer shall have delivered to the Trustee, at least ten days before notice of redemption is required to be mailed or caused to be mailed to Holders pursuant to this Section 3.03 (unless a shorter notice shall be agreed to by the Trustee), an Officer's Certificate of the Issuer requesting that the Trustee give such notice (in which case the Issuer shall provide to the Trustee the complete form of such notice in the name and at the expense of the Issuer) and setting forth the information to be stated in such notice as provided in the preceding paragraph.

The Issuer may provide in the notice of redemption that payment of the redemption price and performance of the Issuer's obligations with respect to such redemption or purchase may be performed by another Person.

SECTION 3.04. Effect of Notice of Redemption. Once notice of redemption is mailed in accordance with Section 3.03 hereof, Notes called for redemption become irrevocably due and payable on the Redemption Date at the redemption price (except as provided for in Sections 3.07(c) hereof). The notice, if mailed in a manner herein provided, shall be conclusively presumed to have been given, whether or not the Holder receives such notice. In any case, failure to give such notice by mail or any defect in the notice to the Holder of any Note designated for redemption in whole or in part shall not affect the validity of the proceedings for the redemption of any other Note. Subject to Section 3.05 hereof, on and after the Redemption Date, interest ceases to accrue on Notes or portions of Notes called for redemption.

SECTION 3.05. Deposit of Redemption Price.

(a) Prior to 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the Redemption Date, the Issuer shall deposit with the Trustee or with the Paying Agent money sufficient to pay the redemption price of and accrued and unpaid interest on all Notes to be redeemed on that Redemption Date. The Trustee or the Paying Agent shall promptly, and in any event within two (2) Business Days after the Redemption Date, return to the Issuer any money deposited with the Trustee or the Paying Agent by the Issuer in excess of the amounts necessary to pay the redemption price of, and accrued and unpaid interest on, all Notes to be redeemed.

(b) If the Issuer complies with the provisions of the preceding paragraph (a), on and after the Redemption Date, interest shall cease to accrue on the applicable series of Notes or the portions of Notes called for redemption, whether or not such Notes are presented for payment. If a Note is redeemed on or after a Record Date but on or prior to the related Interest Payment Date, then any accrued and unpaid interest to the Redemption Date shall be paid to the Person in whose name such Note was registered at the close of business on such Record Date. If any Note called for redemption shall not be so paid upon surrender for redemption because of the failure of the Issuer to comply with the preceding paragraph, interest shall be paid on the unpaid principal, from the Redemption Date until such principal is paid, and to the extent lawful on any interest accrued to the Redemption Date not paid on such unpaid principal, in each case at the rate provided in the Notes and in Section 4.01 hereof.

SECTION 3.06. Notes Redeemed in Part. Upon surrender of a Note that is redeemed in part, the Issuer shall issue and the Trustee shall authenticate for the Holder at the expense of the Issuer a new Note equal in principal amount to the unredeemed portion of the Note surrendered representing the same indebtedness to the extent not redeemed; provided that each new Note will be in a principal amount of $2,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof. It is understood that, notwithstanding anything in this Indenture to the contrary, only an Authentication Order and not an Opinion of Counsel or Officer's Certificate of the Issuer is required for the Trustee to authenticate such new Note.

SECTION 3.07. Optional Redemption.

(a) At any time prior to September 15, 2017, the Notes may be redeemed or purchased (by the Issuer or any other Person), in whole or in part, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of Notes redeemed plus the Applicable Premium as of the date of redemption (the "Redemption Date"), and, without duplication, accrued and unpaid interest to the Redemption Date, subject to the rights of Holders on the relevant Record Date to receive interest due on the relevant Interest Payment Date.

(b) On and after September 15, 2017 the Notes may be redeemed, at the Issuer's option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time at the applicable redemption price set forth below. The Notes will be redeemable at the applicable redemption price (expressed as a percentage of principal amount of the Notes to be redeemed) plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the applicable Redemption Date, subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant Record Date to receive interest due on the relevant Interest Payment Date, if redeemed during the twelve-month period beginning on September 15 of each of the years indicated below:

Year	Percentage
2017	103.375%
2018	102.250%
2019	101.125%
2020 and thereafter	100.000%

(c) Until September 15, 2015, the Issuer may, at its option on one or more occasions, redeem up to 40% of the then outstanding aggregate principal amount of Notes at a redemption price equal to 106.750% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon, if any, to the applicable Redemption Date, subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant Record Date to receive interest due on the relevant Interest Payment Date, with the net cash proceeds of one or more Equity Offerings to the extent such net cash proceeds are contributed to the Issuer; provided that at least 50% of the sum of the aggregate principal amount of Notes originally issued under this Indenture and any Additional Notes issued under this Indenture, after the Issue Date remains outstanding immediately after the occurrence of each such redemption; provided, further, that each such redemption occurs within 180 days of the date of closing of each such Equity Offering. Notice of any redemption upon any Equity Offering may be given prior to the completion of the related Equity Offering, and any such redemption or notice may, at the Issuer's discretion, be subject to one or more conditions precedent, including, but not limited to, completion of the related Equity Offering.

(d) Any redemption pursuant to this Section 3.07 shall be made pursuant to the provisions of Sections 3.01 through 3.06 hereof.

SECTION 3.08. Mandatory Redemption. The Issuer shall not be required to make any mandatory redemption or sinking fund payments with respect to the Notes.

SECTION 3.09. Collateral Asset Sale and Asset Sale Offers to Purchase.

(a) In the event that, pursuant to Section 4.10 hereof, the Issuer shall be required to commence a Collateral Asset Sale Offer or an Asset Sale Offer, it shall follow the procedures specified below.

(b) The Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer shall remain open for a period of 20 Business Days following its commencement and no longer, except to the extent that a longer period is required by applicable law (the "Offer Period"). No later than five (5) Business Days after the termination of the Offer Period (the "Purchase Date"), the Issuer shall apply all Excess Proceeds or Collateral Excess Proceeds, as the case may be, (the "Offer Amount") to the purchase of Notes and, if required, Pari Passu Indebtedness or other First Priority Lien Obligations, as the case may be, (on a pro rata basis, if applicable), or, if less than the Offer Amount has been tendered, all Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness or other First Priority Lien Obligations, as the case may be, tendered in response to the Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer. Payment for any Notes so purchased shall be made in the same manner as interest payments are made.

(c) If the Purchase Date is on or after a Record Date and on or before the related Interest Payment Date, any accrued and unpaid interest, up to but excluding the Purchase Date, shall be paid to the Person in whose name a Note is registered at the close of business on such Record Date, and no additional interest shall be payable to Holders who tender Notes pursuant to the Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer.

(d) Upon the commencement of a Collateral Asset Sale Offer or an Asset Sale Offer, the Issuer shall send, by first-class mail, postage prepaid, a notice to each of the Holders, with a copy to the Trustee. The notice shall contain all instructions and materials necessary to enable such Holders to tender Notes pursuant to the Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer. The Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer shall be made to all Holders and holders of Pari Passu Indebtedness or other First Priority Lien Obligations, as the case may be. The notice, which shall govern the terms of the Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer, shall state:

(i) that the Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer is being made pursuant to this Section 3.09 and Section 4.10 hereof and the length of time the Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer shall remain open;

(ii) the Offer Amount, the purchase price and the Purchase Date;

(iii) that any Note not tendered or accepted for payment shall continue to accrue interest;

(iv) that, unless the Issuer defaults in making such payment, any Note accepted for payment pursuant to the Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer shall cease to accrue interest on and after the Purchase Date;

(v) that any Holder electing to have less than all of the aggregate principal amount of its Notes purchased pursuant to a Collateral Asset Sale Offer or an Asset Sale Offer may elect to have Notes purchased in denominations of $2,000 or whole multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof;

(vi) that Holders electing to have a Note purchased pursuant to any Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer shall be required to surrender the Note, with the form entitled "Option of Holder to Elect Purchase" attached to the Note completed, or transfer by book-entry transfer, to the Issuer, the Depository, if appointed by the Issuer, or a Paying Agent at the address specified in the notice at least two (2) Business Days before the Purchase Date;

(vii) that Holders shall be entitled to withdraw their election if the Issuer, the Depository or the Paying Agent, as the case may be, receives, not later than the expiration of the Offer Period, a facsimile transmission or letter setting forth the name of the Holder, the principal amount of the Note the Holder delivered for purchase and a statement that such Holder is withdrawing his election to have such Note purchased;

(viii) that, if the aggregate principal amount of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness or other First Priority Lien Obligations, as the case may be, surrendered pursuant to such Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer by the Holders thereof exceeds the Offer Amount, the Trustee shall select the Notes and the Issuer or the agent for such Pari Passu Indebtedness or other First Priority Lien Obligations, as the case may be, will select such Pari Passu Indebtedness or other First Priority Lien Obligations, as the case may be, to be purchased on a pro rata basis based on the accreted value or principal amount of the Notes or such Pari Passu Indebtedness or other First Priority Lien Obligations, as the case may be, surrendered (with such adjustments as may be deemed appropriate by the Trustee so that only Notes in denominations of $2,000 or whole multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof are purchased);

(ix) that Holders whose Notes were purchased only in part shall be issued new Notes equal in principal amount to the unpurchased portion of the Notes surrendered (or transferred by book-entry transfer) representing the same indebtedness to the extent not repurchased; and

(x) any other procedures the Holders must follow in order to tender their Notes (or portions thereof) for payment and the procedures that Holders must follow in order to withdraw an election to tender Notes (or portions thereof) for payment.

(e) On or before the Purchase Date, the Issuer shall, to the extent lawful, (1) accept for payment, on a pro rata basis as described in clause (d)(viii) of this Section 3.09, the Offer Amount of Notes or portions thereof validly tendered pursuant to the Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer, or if less than the Offer Amount has been tendered, all Notes tendered and (2) deliver or cause to be delivered to the Trustee the Notes properly accepted together with an Officer's Certificate stating the aggregate principal amount of Notes or portions thereof so tendered.

(f) The Issuer, the Depositary or the Paying Agent, as the case may be, shall promptly mail or deliver to each tendering Holder an amount equal to the purchase price of the Notes properly tendered by such Holder and accepted by the Issuer for purchase, and the Issuer shall promptly issue a new Note, and the Trustee, upon receipt of an Authentication Order, shall authenticate and mail or deliver (or cause to be transferred by book-entry) such new Note to such Holder (it being understood that, notwithstanding anything in this Indenture to the contrary, no Opinion of Counsel or Officer's Certificate of the Issuer is required for the Trustee to authenticate and mail or deliver such new Note) in a principal amount equal to any unpurchased portion of the Note surrendered representing the same indebtedness to the extent not repurchased. Any Note not so accepted shall be promptly mailed or delivered by the Issuer to the Holder thereof. The Issuer shall publicly announce the results of the Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer on or as soon as practicable after the Purchase Date.

(g) Prior to 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the purchase date, the Issuer shall deposit with the Trustee or with the Paying Agent money sufficient to pay the purchase price of and accrued and unpaid interest on all Notes to be purchased on that purchase date. The Trustee or the Paying Agent shall promptly, and in any event within two Business Days, return to the Issuer any money deposited with the Trustee or the Paying Agent by the Issuer in excess of the amounts necessary to pay the purchase price of, and accrued and unpaid interest on, all Notes to be redeemed.

Other than as specifically provided in this Section 3.09 or Section 4.10 hereof, any purchase pursuant to this Section 3.09 shall be made pursuant to the applicable provisions of Sections 3.01 through 3.06 hereof, and references therein to "redeem," "redemption" and similar words shall be deemed to refer to "purchase," "repurchase" and similar words, as applicable. To the extent that the provisions of any securities laws or regulations conflict with Section 4.10, this Section 3.09 or other provisions of this Indenture, the Issuer shall comply with applicable securities laws and regulations and shall not be deemed to have breached its obligations under Section 4.10, this Section 3.09 or such other provision by virtue of such compliance.

ARTICLE IV

COVENANTS

SECTION 4.01. Payment of Notes . The Issuer shall pay or cause to be paid the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Notes on the dates and in the manner provided in the Notes. Principal, premium, if any, and interest shall be considered paid on the date due if the Paying Agent, if other than the Issuer, a Guarantor or an Affiliate of the Issuer or a Guarantor, holds as of 11:00 a.m. Eastern Time on the due date money deposited by the Issuer in immediately available funds and designated for and sufficient to pay all principal, premium, if any, and interest then due.

The Issuer shall pay interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on overdue principal at the rate equal to the then applicable interest rate on the Notes to the extent lawful; it shall pay interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on overdue installments of interest (without regard to any applicable grace period) at the same rate to the extent lawful.

SECTION 4.02. Maintenance of Office or Agency . The Issuer shall maintain the offices or agencies (which may be an office of the Trustee or an affiliate of the Trustee, Registrar or co-registrar) required under Section 2.03 where Notes may be surrendered for registration of transfer or for exchange and where notices and demands to or upon the Issuer in respect of the Notes and this Indenture may be served. The Issuer shall give prompt written notice to the Trustee of the location, and any change in the location, of such office or agency. If at any time the Issuer shall fail to maintain any such required office or agency or shall fail to furnish the Trustee with the address thereof, such presentations, surrenders, notices and demands may be made or served at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee.

The Issuer may also from time to time designate one or more other offices or agencies where the Notes may be presented or surrendered for any or all such purposes and may from time to time rescind such designations; provided that no such designation or rescission shall in any manner relieve the Issuer of its obligation to maintain such offices or agencies as required by Section 2.03 for such purposes. The Issuer shall give prompt written notice to the Trustee of any such designation or rescission and of any change in the location of any such other office or agency.

The Issuer hereby designates the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee as one such office or agency of the Issuer in accordance with Section 2.03 hereof.

SECTION 4.03. Reports and Other Information .

(a) From and after the Issue Date, for so long as the Notes remain outstanding, unless the Issuer is subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act or otherwise complies with such reporting requirements, the Issuer will furnish without cost to each Holder and file with the Trustee,

(i) within 90 days after the end of each fiscal year of the Issuer:

(A) audited year-end consolidated financial statements of the Issuer and its Subsidiaries (including balance sheets, statements of operations and statements of cash flows which would be required from an SEC registrant in an Annual Report Form 10-K, including pursuant to Rule 3-10 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC) prepared in accordance with GAAP; provided, however, the Issuer will have no obligation to provide financial statements of affiliates pursuant to Rule 3-16 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC;

(B) the information described in Item 303 of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act (“Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations”) with respect to such period, to the extent such information would otherwise be required to be filed in an Annual Report on Form 10-K;

(C) a presentation of OIBDA and EBITDA of the Issuer derived from such financial statements referred to in clause (i)(A) above; and

(D) all pro forma and historical information in respect of any significant transaction (as determined in accordance with Rule 3-05 of Regulation S-X under the Securities Act) consummated more than 75 days prior to the date such information is furnished for the time periods for which such financial information would be required (if the Issuer were subject to the filing requirements of the Exchange Act) in a filing on Form 8-K with the SEC at such time;

(ii) within 45 days after the end of each of the first three fiscal quarters of each fiscal year of the Issuer:

(A) unaudited quarterly consolidated financial statements of the Issuer and its Subsidiaries (including balance sheets, statements of operations and statements of cash flows which would be required from a SEC registrant in a Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, including pursuant to Rule 3-10 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC) and a SAS 100 or AU Section 722, as applicable, review by the Issuer’s independent accountants) prepared in accordance with GAAP, subject to normal year-end adjustments; provided, however, the Issuer will have no obligation to provide financial statements of affiliates pursuant to Rule 3-16 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC;

(B) the information described in Item 303 of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act with respect to such period to the extent such information would otherwise be required to be filed in a Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q;

(C) a presentation of OIBDA and EBITDA of the Issuer derived from such financial statements referred to in clause (ii)(A) above; and

(D) all pro forma and historical financial information in respect of any significant transaction (as determined in accordance with Rule 3-05 of Regulation S-X under the Securities Act) consummated more than 75 days prior to the date such information is furnished to the extent not previously provided and for the time periods such financial information would be required (if the Issuer were subject to the filing requirements of the Exchange Act) in a filing on Form 8-K with the SEC at such time; and

(iii) within five (5) Business Days following the occurrence of any of the following events, a description in reasonable detail of such event: (A) any change in the executive officers or directors of the Issuer, (B) any incurrence of any material on-balance sheet or material off balance sheet long-term debt obligation or capital lease obligation (each as defined in Item 303 of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act) of or relating to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, (C) the acceleration of any Indebtedness of the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, (D) any issuance or sale by the Issuer of Equity Interests of the Issuer (excluding any issuance or sale pursuant to any stock option plan in the ordinary course of business), (E) the entry into of any agreement by the Issuer or any of its Subsidiaries relating to a transaction that has resulted or may result in a Change of Control, (F) any resignation or termination of the independent accountants of the Issuer or any engagement of any new independent accountants of the Issuer, (G) any determination by the Issuer or the receipt of advice or notice by the Issuer from its independent accountants, in either case, relating to non-reliance on previously issued financial statements, a related audit opinion or a completed interim review and (H) the completion by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries of the acquisition or disposition of a significant amount of assets, otherwise than in the ordinary course of business, in each case to the extent such information would be required from an SEC registrant in a Form 8-K.

Delivery of such reports, information and documents to the Trustee is for informational purposes only and the Trustee's receipt of such shall not constitute constructive notice of any information contained therein, including compliance with any of the covenants hereunder (as to which the Trustee is entitled to rely exclusively on Officer's Certificates). The Trustee is under no duty to examine such reports, information or documents to ensure compliance with the provisions of this Indenture or to ascertain the correctness or otherwise of the information or statements contained therein. The Trustee is entitled to assume such compliance and correctness unless a Responsible Officer of the Trustee is informed in writing otherwise.

(b) The Issuer shall provide S&P and Moody's (and their respective successors) with information on a periodic basis as S&P or Moody's, as the case may be, shall reasonably require in order to maintain public ratings of the Notes. In addition, the Issuer has agreed that, for so long as any Notes remain outstanding, it will furnish to the Holders and to securities analysts and prospective investors that certify that they are qualified institutional buyers, upon their request, the information described above as well as all information required to be delivered pursuant to Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act.

(c) The Issuer shall either (1) maintain a website (which may be non-public) to which Holders, prospective investors that certify that they are qualified institutional buyers, securities analysts and market makers ("Permitted Parties") are given access and to which such information is posted or (2) file such information with the SEC.

(d) For so long as any Notes are outstanding, the Issuer shall also:

(A) within 15 Business Days after filing with the Trustee the annual and quarterly information required pursuant to clauses (1) and (2) above, hold a conference call for Permitted Parties to discuss such reports and the results of operations for the relevant reporting period; and

(B) employ commercially reasonable means expected to reach Permitted Parties no fewer than three (3) Business Days prior to the date of the conference call required to be held in accordance with clause (A) above, to announce the time and date of such conference call and either include all information necessary to access the call or direct Permitted Parties to contact the appropriate person at the Issuer to obtain such information.

(e) If at any time any direct or indirect parent becomes a Guarantor (there being no obligation of any such parent to do so), such entity holds no material assets other than cash, Cash Equivalents and the Capital Stock of the Issuer or any other direct or indirect parent of the Issuer (and performs the related incidental activities associated with such ownership) and would comply with the requirements of Rule 3-10 of Regulation S-X promulgated by the SEC (or any successor provision), the reports, information and other documents required to be furnished to Holders of the Notes pursuant to this covenant may, at the option of the Issuer, be furnished by and be those of parent rather than the Issuer.

SECTION 4.04. Compliance Certificate.

(a) The Issuer shall deliver to the Trustee, within 90 days after the end of each fiscal year ending after the Issue Date, a certificate from the principal executive officer, principal financial officer or principal accounting officer stating that a review of the activities of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries during the preceding fiscal year has been made under the supervision of the signing Officer with a view to determining whether the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries have kept, observed, performed and fulfilled their obligations under this Indenture, and further stating, as to such Officer signing such certificate, that to the best of his or her knowledge the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries have kept, observed, performed and fulfilled each and every condition and covenant contained in this Indenture and is not in default in the performance or observance of any of the terms, provisions, covenants and conditions of this Indenture (or, if a Default shall have occurred, describing all such Defaults of which he or she may have knowledge and what action the Issuer is taking or proposes to take with respect thereto). Except with respect to receipt of payment on Notes required by this Indenture and any Default or Event of Default information contained in an Officer's Certificate delivered to it pursuant to this Section 4.04, the Trustee shall have no duty to review, ascertain or confirm the Issuer's compliance with or breach of any representation, warranty or covenant made in this Indenture.

(b) When any Default has occurred and is continuing under this Indenture, or if the Trustee or the holder of any other evidence of Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Subsidiary gives any notice or takes any other action with respect to a claimed Default, the Issuer shall, within five (5) Business Days after becoming aware of such Default, deliver to the Trustee by registered or certified mail or by facsimile transmission an Officer's Certificate specifying such Default and what action the Issuer is taking or proposes to take with respect thereto.

SECTION 4.05. Taxes. The Issuer shall pay, and shall cause each of its Restricted Subsidiaries to pay, prior to delinquency, all material taxes, assessments, and governmental levies except such as are contested in good faith and by appropriate negotiations or proceedings or where the failure to effect such payment is not adverse in any material respect to the Holders of the Notes.

SECTION 4.06. Stay, Extension and Usury Laws. The Issuer and each of the Guarantors covenant (to the extent that they may lawfully do so) that they shall not at any time insist upon, plead, or in any manner whatsoever claim or take the benefit or advantage of, any stay, extension or usury law wherever enacted, now or at any time hereafter in force, that may affect the covenants or the performance of this Indenture; and the Issuer and each of the Guarantors (to the extent that they may lawfully do so) hereby expressly waive all benefit or advantage of any such law, and covenant that they shall not, by resort to any such law, hinder, delay or impede the execution of any power herein granted to the Trustee, but shall suffer and permit the execution of every such power as though no such law has been enacted.

SECTION 4.07. Limitation on Restricted Payments.

(a) The Issuer shall not, and shall not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly:

(i) declare or pay any dividend or make any payment or distribution on account of the Issuer's or any Restricted Subsidiary's Equity Interests, including any dividend or distribution payable in connection with any merger or consolidation other than:

(A) dividends or distributions payable solely in Equity Interests (other than Disqualified Stock) of the Issuer; or

(B) dividends or distributions by a Restricted Subsidiary so long as, in the case of any dividend or distribution payable on or in respect of any class or series of securities issued by a Restricted Subsidiary other than a Wholly Owned Subsidiary of the Issuer, the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary receives at least its pro rata share of such dividend or distribution in accordance with its Equity Interests in such class or series of securities;

(ii) purchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire or retire for value any Equity Interests of the Issuer or any direct or indirect parent of the Issuer, including in connection with any merger or consolidation;

(iii) make any principal payment on, or redeem, repurchase, defease or otherwise acquire or retire for value in each case, prior to any scheduled repayment, sinking fund payment or maturity, any Subordinated Indebtedness other than:

(A) Indebtedness permitted under clause (7) of Section 4.09(b) hereof; or

(B) the purchase, repurchase or other acquisition of Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries purchased in anticipation of satisfying a sinking fund obligation, principal installment or final maturity, in each case due within one year of the date of purchase, repurchase or acquisition; or

(iv) make any Restricted Investment

(all such payments and other actions set forth in clauses (i) through (iv) above being collectively referred to as “Restricted Payments”), unless, at the time of such Restricted Payment:

(1) no Default shall have occurred and be continuing or would occur as a consequence thereof;

(2) immediately after giving effect to such transaction on a pro forma basis, the Issuer could incur $1.00 of additional Indebtedness pursuant to the Consolidated Leverage Ratio test set forth in Section 4.09(a) hereof; and

(3) such Restricted Payment, together with the aggregate amount of all other Restricted Payments made by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries after the Issue Date (including Restricted Payments permitted by clauses (1), (2) (with respect to the payment of dividends on Refunding Capital Stock pursuant to clause (c) thereof only), (6)(C) and (9) of Section 4.07(b) hereof, but excluding all other Restricted Payments permitted by Section 4.07(b) hereof), is less than the sum of (without duplication):

(A) EBITDA of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis for the period beginning on the first day of the first full fiscal quarter of the Issuer commencing after June 30, 2010, to the end of the Issuer’s most recently ended fiscal quarter for which internal financial statements are available at the time of such Restricted Payment, less the product of 1.4 times the Consolidated Interest Expense of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries for the same period; plus

(B) 100% of the aggregate net cash proceeds and the fair market value, as determined in good faith by the Issuer, of marketable securities or other property received by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary (without the issuance of additional Equity

Interests in such Restricted Subsidiary) since July 1, 2010 (other than net cash proceeds to the extent such net cash proceeds have been used to incur Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock pursuant to clause 11(a) of Section 4.09(b) hereof) from the issue or sale of:

(i) (A) Equity Interests of the Issuer, including Treasury Capital Stock, but excluding cash proceeds and the fair market value, as determined in good faith by the Issuer, of marketable securities or other property received from the sale of:

(x) Equity Interests to members of management, directors or consultants of the Issuer, Restricted Subsidiaries and any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer, after the Issue Date to the extent such amounts have been applied to Restricted Payments made in accordance with clause (4) of Section 4.07(b) hereof; and

(y) Designated Preferred Stock; and

(B) to the extent such net cash proceeds or other property are actually contributed to the capital of Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary (without the issuance of additional Equity Interests of such Restricted Subsidiary), Equity Interests of the Issuer's direct or indirect parent companies (excluding contributions of the proceeds from the sale of Designated Preferred Stock of such companies or contributions to the extent such amounts have been applied to Restricted Payments made in accordance with clause (4) of Section 4.07(b) hereof; or

(ii) debt of the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary that has been converted into or exchanged for such Equity Interests of the Issuer or a direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer;

provided, however, that this clause (B) shall not include the proceeds from (W) Refunding Capital Stock, (X) Equity Interests or convertible debt securities sold to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, (Y) Disqualified Stock or debt securities that have been converted into Disqualified Stock or (Z) Excluded Contributions; plus

(C) 100% of the aggregate amount of cash and the fair market value, as determined in good faith by the Issuer, of marketable securities or other property contributed to the capital of the Issuer following July 1, 2010 (other than (i) net cash proceeds to the extent such net cash proceeds have been used to incur Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock pursuant to clause (11)(a) of Section 4.09(b) hereof, (ii) by a Restricted Subsidiary and (iii) any Excluded Contributions); plus

(D) 100% of the aggregate amount received in cash and the fair market value, as determined in good faith by the Issuer, of marketable securities or other property received by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary by means of:

(i) the sale or other disposition (other than to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) of Restricted Investments made by the Issuer or its Restricted Subsidiaries and repurchases and redemptions of such Restricted

Investments from the Issuer or its Restricted Subsidiaries and repayments of loans or advances, and releases of guarantees, which constitute Restricted Investments by the Issuer or its Restricted Subsidiaries, in each case after the Issue Date; or

(ii) the sale or other disposition (other than to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) of the stock of an Unrestricted Subsidiary (other than to the extent the Investment in such Unrestricted Subsidiary was made by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary pursuant to clause (7) of Section 4.07(b) or to the extent such Investment constituted a Permitted Investment) or a dividend or distribution from an Unrestricted Subsidiary after the Issue Date; plus

(E) in the case of the redesignation of an Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary after the Issue Date, the fair market value of the Investment in such Unrestricted Subsidiary, as determined by the Issuer in good faith or if such fair market value may exceed $100.0 million, in writing by an Independent Financial Advisor, at the time of the redesignation of such Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary, other than an Unrestricted Subsidiary to the extent the Investment in such Unrestricted Subsidiary was made by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary pursuant to clause (7) of Section 4.07(b) hereof or to the extent such Investment constituted a Permitted Investment; provided, however, that, with respect to clauses (B), (C) and (D) above, to the extent the property received or contributed includes a “stick” station or stations or Equity Interests of a Person whose assets include a “stick” station or stations, the fair market value of such property shall be determined in good faith by the board of directors of the Issuer.

(b) The foregoing provisions of Section 4.07(a) hereof will not prohibit:

(1) the payment of any dividend within 60 days after the date of declaration thereof, if at the date of declaration such payment would have complied with the provisions of this Indenture;

(2) (a) the redemption, repurchase, retirement or other acquisition of any (i) Equity Interests (“Treasury Capital Stock”) of the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary or Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Guarantor or (ii) Equity Interests of any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer, in the case of each of clause (i) and (ii), in exchange for, or out of the proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale (other than to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) of, Equity Interests of the Issuer, or any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer to the extent contributed to the capital of the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary (in each case, other than any Disqualified Stock) (“Refunding Capital Stock”), (b) the declaration and payment of dividends on the Treasury Capital Stock out of the proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale (other than to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) of the Refunding Capital Stock, and (c) if immediately prior to the retirement of Treasury Capital Stock, the declaration and payment of dividends thereon was permitted under clause (6)(A) or (B) of this paragraph, the declaration and payment of dividends on the Refunding Capital Stock (other than Refunding Capital Stock the proceeds of which were used to redeem, repurchase, retire or otherwise acquire any Equity Interests of any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer) in an aggregate amount per year no greater than the aggregate amount of dividends per annum that were declarable and payable on such Treasury Capital Stock immediately prior to such retirement;

(3) the redemption, repurchase or other acquisition or retirement of Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Restricted Guarantor made by exchange for, or out of the proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale of, new Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Restricted Guarantor, as the case may be, which is incurred in compliance with Section 4.09 hereof so long as:

(A) the principal amount (or accreted value, if applicable) of such new Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount of (or accreted value, if applicable), plus any accrued and unpaid interest on, the Subordinated Indebtedness being so redeemed, repurchased, acquired or retired for value, plus the amount of any premium required to be paid under the terms of the instrument governing the Subordinated Indebtedness being so redeemed, repurchased, acquired or retired and any fees and expenses incurred in connection with the issuance of such new Indebtedness;

(B) such new Indebtedness is subordinated to the Notes or the applicable Guarantee at least to the same extent as such Subordinated Indebtedness so purchased, exchanged, redeemed, repurchased, acquired or retired for value;

(C) such new Indebtedness has a final scheduled maturity date equal to or later than the final scheduled maturity date of the Subordinated Indebtedness being so redeemed, repurchased, acquired or retired; and

(D) such new Indebtedness has a Weighted Average Life to Maturity equal to or greater than the remaining Weighted Average Life to Maturity of the Subordinated Indebtedness being so redeemed, repurchased, acquired or retired;

(4) a Restricted Payment to pay for the repurchase, retirement or other acquisition or retirement for value of Equity Interests (other than Disqualified Stock) of the Issuer or any of its direct or indirect parent companies held by any future, present or former employee, director or consultant of the Issuer, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective direct or indirect parent companies pursuant to any management equity plan or stock option plan or any other management or employee benefit plan or agreement; provided, however, that the aggregate Restricted Payments made under this clause (4) do not exceed $150.0 million in the calendar year ending December 31, 2012 or $75.0 million in each succeeding calendar year (with unused amounts in any calendar year being carried over to succeeding calendar years subject to a maximum of $150.0 million in any calendar year); provided, further, that such amount in any calendar year may be increased by an amount not to exceed:

(A) the cash proceeds from the sale of Equity Interests (other than Disqualified Stock) of the Issuer and, to the extent contributed to the capital of the Issuer, Equity Interests of any of the direct or indirect parent companies of the Issuer, in each case to members of management, directors or consultants of the Issuer, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective direct or indirect parent companies that occurs after the Issue Date, to the extent the cash proceeds from the sale of such Equity Interests have not otherwise been applied to the payment of Restricted Payments by virtue of clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) hereof; plus

(B) the cash proceeds of key man life insurance policies received by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries after the Issue Date; less

(C) the amount of any Restricted Payments previously made with the cash proceeds described in clauses (A) and (B) of this clause (4);

and provided, further, that cancellation of Indebtedness owing to the Issuer from members of management of the Issuer, any of its Subsidiaries or its direct or indirect parent companies in connection with a repurchase of Equity Interests of the Issuer or any of the Issuer's direct or indirect parent companies will not be deemed to constitute a Restricted Payment for purposes of this covenant or any other provision of this Indenture;

(5) the declaration and payment of dividends to holders of any class or series of Disqualified Stock of the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries issued in accordance with Section 4.09 hereof;

(6) (A) the declaration and payment of dividends to holders of any class or series of Designated Preferred Stock (other than Disqualified Stock) issued by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries after the Issue Date, provided that the amount of dividends paid pursuant to this clause (A) shall not exceed the aggregate amount of cash actually received by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary from the issuance of such Designated Preferred Stock;

(B) a Restricted Payment to a direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer, the proceeds of which will be used to fund the payment of dividends to holders of any class or series of Designated Preferred Stock (other than Disqualified Stock) of such parent corporation issued after the Issue Date, provided that the amount of Restricted Payments paid pursuant to this clause (B) shall not exceed the aggregate amount of cash actually contributed to the capital of the Issuer from the sale of such Designated Preferred Stock; or provided, however, in the case of each of (A), (B) and (C) of this clause (6), that for the most recently ended four full fiscal quarters for which internal financial statements are available immediately preceding the date of issuance of such Designated Preferred Stock or the declaration of such dividends on Refunding Capital Stock that is Preferred Stock, after giving effect to such issuance or declaration on a pro forma basis, the Issuer could incur $1.00 of additional Indebtedness pursuant to the Consolidated Leverage Ratio test set forth in Section 4.09(a) hereof;

(7) Investments in Unrestricted Subsidiaries having an aggregate fair market value, taken together with all other Investments made pursuant to this clause (7) that are at the time outstanding, without giving effect to any distribution pursuant to clause (15) of this Section 4.07(b) or the sale of an Unrestricted Subsidiary to the extent the proceeds of such sale do not consist of cash or marketable securities, not to exceed 1.5% of Total Assets at the time of such Investment (with the fair market value of each Investment being measured at the time made and without giving effect to subsequent changes in value);

(8) repurchases of Equity Interests deemed to occur upon exercise of stock options or warrants if such Equity Interests represent a portion of the exercise price of such options or warrants;

(9) the declaration and payment of dividends on the Issuer's common stock (or a Restricted Payment to any direct or indirect parent entity to fund a payment of dividends on such entity's common stock), following the first public Equity Offering of such common stock after the Issue Date, of up to 6% per annum of the net cash proceeds received by (or, in the case of a Restricted Payment to a direct or indirect parent entity, contributed to the capital of) the Issuer in or from any such public Equity Offering;

(10) Restricted Payments that are made with Excluded Contributions;

(11) other Restricted Payments in an aggregate amount taken together with all other Restricted Payments made pursuant to this clause (11) not to exceed $150.0 million, or if the Consolidated Leverage Ratio is less than 9.5 to 1.0 on a pro forma basis after giving effect to such transaction, 3.0% of Total Assets at the time made;

(12) distributions or payments of Receivables Fees;

(13) the repurchase, redemption or other acquisition or retirement for value of any Subordinated Indebtedness pursuant to the provisions similar to those described under Section 4.10 and Section 4.14 hereof; provided that all Notes tendered by Holders in connection with a Change of Control Offer, Collateral Asset Sale Offer or Asset Sale Offer, as applicable, have been repurchased, redeemed or acquired for value;

(14) the declaration and payment of dividends or the payment of other distributions by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary to, or the making of loans or advances to, any of their respective direct or indirect parents in amounts required for any direct or indirect parent companies to pay, in each case without duplication,

(A) franchise taxes and other fees, taxes and expenses required to maintain their corporate existence;

(B) federal, foreign, state and local income or franchise taxes; provided that, in each fiscal year, the amount of such payments shall be equal to the amount that the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries would be required to pay in respect of federal, foreign, state and local income or franchise taxes if such entities were corporations paying taxes separately from any parent entity at the highest combined applicable federal, foreign, state, local or franchise tax rate for such fiscal year;

(C) customary salary, bonus and other benefits payable to officers and employees of any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer to the extent such salaries, bonuses and other benefits are attributable to the ownership or operation of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries;

(D) general corporate operating and overhead costs and expenses of any direct or indirect parent company of the Issuer to the extent such costs and expenses are attributable to the ownership or operation of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries;

(E) amounts payable to the Investors pursuant to the Sponsor Management Agreement or any similar agreement, so long as such amount does not exceed the amounts otherwise payable under the Sponsor Management Agreement as in effect on the Issue Date (subject to the right to include additional designees to receive payment thereunder);

(F) fees and expenses other than to Affiliates of the Issuer related to (i) any equity or debt offering of such parent entity (whether or not successful) and (ii) any Investment otherwise permitted under this covenant (whether or not successful);

(G) cash payments in lieu of issuing fractional shares in connection with the exercise of warrants, options or other securities convertible into or exchangeable for Equity Interests of the Issuer or any direct or indirect parent; and

(H) to finance Investments otherwise permitted to be made pursuant to this covenant; provided that (A) such Restricted Payment shall be made substantially concurrently with the closing of such Investment, (B) such direct or indirect parent company shall, immediately following the closing thereof, cause (1) all property acquired (whether assets or Equity Interests) to be contributed to the capital of the Issuer or one of its Restricted Subsidiaries or (2) the merger of the Person formed or acquired into the Issuer or one of its Restricted Subsidiaries (to the extent not prohibited by Section 5.01 hereof) in order to consummate such Investment, (C) such direct or indirect parent company and its Affiliates (other than the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) receives no consideration or other payment in connection with such transaction except to the extent the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary could have given such consideration or made such payment in compliance with this Indenture, (D) any property received by the Issuer shall not increase amounts available for Restricted Payments pursuant to clause (3) of Section 4.07(a) and (E) such Investment shall be deemed to be made by the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary by another provision of this covenant (other than pursuant to clause (10) of this Section 4.07(b)) or pursuant to the definition of "Permitted Investments" (other than clause (9) thereof);

(15) the distribution, by dividend or otherwise, of shares of Capital Stock of, or Indebtedness owed to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary by, Unrestricted Subsidiaries (other than Unrestricted Subsidiaries, the primary assets of which are cash and/or Cash Equivalents that were contributed to such Unrestricted Subsidiaries as an Investment pursuant to clause (7) of this Section 4.07(b));

(16) payments or distributions to dissenting stockholders pursuant to applicable law, pursuant to or in connection with a consolidation, merger or transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, that complies with Section 5.01 hereof; provided that as a result of such consolidation, merger or transfer of assets, the Issuer shall have made a Change of Control Offer and that all Notes tendered by Holders in connection with such Change of Control Offer have been repurchased, redeemed or acquired for value; and

(17) payments, distributions or dividends payable to the direct or indirect parent of the Issuer to service cash interest and/or cash dividends when and as due on the 1.5% Convertible Debenture issued by Broadcasting Media Partners, Inc., dated December 20, 2010; provided, however, the aggregate Restricted Payments made under this clause (17) shall not exceed $20.0 million in any fiscal year;

provided, however, that at the time of, and after giving effect to, any Restricted Payment permitted under clauses (11) and (15) of this Section 4.07(b), no Default shall have occurred and be continuing or would occur as a consequence thereof.

(c) The Issuer will not permit any Unrestricted Subsidiary to become a Restricted Subsidiary except pursuant to the last sentence of the definition of “Unrestricted Subsidiary.” For purposes of designating any Restricted Subsidiary as an Unrestricted Subsidiary, all outstanding Investments by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries (except to the extent repaid) in the Subsidiary so designated will be deemed to be Restricted Payments in an amount determined as set forth in the last sentence of the definition of “Investment.” Such designation will be permitted only if a Restricted Payment in such amount would be permitted at such time, whether pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant or under clause (7), (10) or (11) of Section 4.07(b) hereof, or pursuant to the definition of “Permitted Investments,” and if such Subsidiary otherwise meets the definition of an Unrestricted Subsidiary.

SECTION 4.08. Dividend and Other Payment Restrictions Affecting Restricted Subsidiaries.

(a) The Issuer shall not, and shall not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries that are not Guarantors to, directly or indirectly, create or otherwise cause or suffer to exist or become effective any consensual encumbrance or consensual restriction on the ability of any such Restricted Subsidiary to:

(1) (A) pay dividends or make any other distributions to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries on its Capital Stock or with respect to any other interest or participation in, or measured by, its profits, or (B) pay any Indebtedness owed to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries;

(2) make loans or advances to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries; or

(3) sell, lease or transfer any of its properties or assets to the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries.

(b) The restrictions in Section 4.08(a) hereof shall not apply to encumbrances or restrictions existing under or by reason of:

(1) contractual encumbrances or restrictions pursuant to the Senior Credit Facilities and the Existing Senior Notes and the related documentation and contractual encumbrances or restrictions in effect on the Issue Date;

(2) this Indenture and the Notes;

(3) purchase money obligations for property acquired in the ordinary course of business that impose restrictions of the nature discussed in clause (3) of Section 4.08(a) hereof on the property so acquired;

(4) applicable law or any applicable rule, regulation or order;

(5) any agreement or other instrument of a Person acquired by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries in existence at the time of such acquisition (but not created in contemplation thereof), which encumbrance or restriction is not applicable to any Person, or the properties or assets of any Person, other than the Person and its Subsidiaries, or the property or assets of the Person and its Subsidiaries, so acquired;

(6) contracts for the sale of assets, including customary restrictions with respect to a Subsidiary of (i) the Issuer or (ii) a Restricted Subsidiary, pursuant to an agreement that has been entered into for the sale or disposition of all or substantially all of the Capital Stock or assets of such Subsidiary that impose restrictions on the assets to be sold;

(7) Secured Indebtedness otherwise permitted to be incurred pursuant to Section 4.09 hereof and Section 4.12 hereof that limit the right of the debtor to dispose of the assets securing such Indebtedness;

(8) restrictions on cash or other deposits or net worth imposed by customers under contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business;

(9) other Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of Foreign Subsidiaries permitted to be incurred subsequent to the Issue Date pursuant to the provisions of Section 4.09 hereof;

(10) customary provisions in joint venture agreements and other similar agreements relating solely to such joint venture;

(11) customary provisions contained in leases or licenses of intellectual property and other agreements, in each case, entered into in the ordinary course of business;

(12) any encumbrances or restrictions of the type referred to in clauses (1), (2) and (3) of Section 4.08(a) hereof imposed by any amendments, modifications, restatements, renewals, increases, supplements, refundings, replacements or refinancings of the contracts, instruments or obligations referred to in clauses (1) through (11) of this Section 4.08(b); provided that such amendments, modifications, restatements, renewals, increases, supplements, refundings, replacements or refinancings are, in the good faith judgment of the Issuer, no more restrictive with respect to such encumbrance and other restrictions taken as a whole than those prior to such amendment, modification, restatement, renewal, increase, supplement, refunding, replacement or refinancing; and

(13) restrictions created in connection with any Receivables Facility that, in the good faith determination of the Issuer, are necessary or advisable to effect such Receivables Facility.

SECTION 4.09. Limitation on Incurrence of Indebtedness and Issuance of Disqualified Stock and Preferred Stock.

(a) The Issuer will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, create, incur, issue, assume, guarantee or otherwise become directly or indirectly liable, contingently or otherwise (collectively, “incur” and collectively, an “incurrence”) with respect to any Indebtedness (including Acquired Indebtedness) and the Issuer and the Restricted Guarantors will not issue any shares of Disqualified Stock and will not permit any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor to issue any shares of Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock; provided, however, that the Issuer and the Restricted Guarantors may incur Indebtedness (including Acquired Indebtedness) or issue shares of Disqualified Stock, and any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor may incur Indebtedness (including Acquired Indebtedness), issue shares of Disqualified Stock and issue shares of Preferred Stock, if the Consolidated Leverage Ratio at the time such additional Indebtedness is incurred or such Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock is issued would have been no greater than 8.5 to 1.0, determined on a pro forma basis (including a pro forma application of the net proceeds therefrom), as if the additional Indebtedness had been incurred, or the Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock had been issued, as the case may be, and the application of proceeds therefrom had occurred at the beginning of the most recently ended four fiscal quarters for which internal financial statements are available.

(b) The provisions of Section 4.09(a) hereof shall not apply to:

(1) the incurrence of Indebtedness under Credit Facilities by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries and the issuance and creation of letters of credit and bankers' acceptances thereunder (with letters of credit and bankers' acceptances being deemed to have a principal amount equal to the face amount thereof), up to an aggregate principal amount of $7,500.0 million outstanding at any one time;

(2) [Intentionally Omitted];

(3) Indebtedness of the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries in existence on the Issue Date (other than Indebtedness described in clause (1) of this Section 4.09(b));

(4) Indebtedness (including Capitalized Lease Obligations), Disqualified Stock and Preferred Stock incurred by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, to finance the purchase, lease or improvement of property (real or personal) or equipment that is used or useful in a Similar Business, whether through the direct purchase of assets or the Capital Stock of any Person owning such assets in an aggregate principal amount, together with any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect thereof and all other Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock and/or Preferred Stock incurred and outstanding under this clause (4), not to exceed $150.0 million at any time outstanding; so long as such Indebtedness exists at the date of such purchase, lease or improvement, or is created within 270 days thereafter;

(5) Indebtedness incurred by the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary constituting reimbursement obligations with respect to bankers' acceptances and letters of credit issued in the ordinary course of business, including letters of credit in respect of workers' compensation claims, or other Indebtedness with respect to reimbursement type obligations regarding workers' compensation claims; provided, however, that upon the drawing of such bankers' acceptances and letters of credit or the incurrence of such Indebtedness, such obligations are reimbursed within 30 days following such drawing or incurrence;

(6) Indebtedness arising from agreements of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary providing for indemnification, adjustment of purchase price or similar obligations, in each case, incurred or assumed in connection with the disposition of any business, assets or a Subsidiary, other than guarantees of Indebtedness incurred by any Person acquiring all or any portion of such business, assets or a Subsidiary for the purpose of financing such acquisition; provided, however, that such Indebtedness is not reflected on the balance sheet (other than by application of FIN 45 as a result of an amendment to an obligation in existence on the Issue Date) of the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary (contingent obligations referred to in a footnote to financial statements and not otherwise reflected on the balance sheet will not be deemed to be reflected on such balance sheet for purposes of this clause (6));

(7) Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary to another Restricted Subsidiary; provided that any such Indebtedness owing by the Issuer or a Guarantor to a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor is expressly subordinated in right of payment to the Notes or the Guarantee of the Notes, as the case may be; provided, further, that any subsequent issuance or transfer of any Capital Stock or any other event which results in any Restricted Subsidiary ceasing to be a Restricted Subsidiary or any other subsequent transfer of any such Indebtedness (except to the Issuer or another Restricted Subsidiary or any pledge of such Indebtedness constituting a Permitted Lien) shall be deemed, in each case, to be an incurrence of such Indebtedness not permitted by this clause (7);

(8) shares of Preferred Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary issued to the Issuer or another Restricted Subsidiary, provided that any subsequent issuance or transfer of any Capital Stock or any other event which results in any such Restricted Subsidiary ceasing to be a Restricted Subsidiary or any other subsequent transfer of any such shares of Preferred Stock (except to the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary) shall be deemed in each case to be an issuance of such shares of Preferred Stock not permitted by this clause (8);

(9) Hedging Obligations (excluding Hedging Obligations entered into for speculative purposes) for the purpose of limiting interest rate risk with respect to any Indebtedness permitted to be incurred pursuant to this covenant, exchange rate risk or commodity pricing risk;

(10) obligations in respect of customs, stay, performance, bid, appeal and surety bonds and completion guarantees and other obligations of a like nature provided by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries in the ordinary course of business;

(11) (a) Indebtedness or Disqualified Stock of the Issuer or any Restricted Guarantor and Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor in an aggregate principal amount or liquidation preference equal to 200.0% of the net cash proceeds received by the Issuer and its Restricted Subsidiaries since immediately after October 26, 2010 from the issue or sale of Equity Interests of the Issuer or cash contributed to the capital of the Issuer (in each case, other than proceeds of Disqualified Stock or sales of Equity Interests to, or contributions received from, the Issuer or any of its Subsidiaries) as determined in accordance with clauses (3)(B) and (3)(C) of Section 4.07(a) hereof to the extent such net cash proceeds or cash have not been applied pursuant to such clauses to make Restricted Payments or to make other Investments, payments or exchanges pursuant to Section 4.07(b) hereof or to make Permitted Investments (other than Permitted Investments specified in clauses (1) and (3) of the definition thereof) and (b) Indebtedness or Disqualified Stock of the Issuer or a Restricted Guarantor and Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor not otherwise permitted hereunder in an aggregate principal amount or liquidation preference, which when aggregated with the principal amount and liquidation preference of all other Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock and Preferred Stock then outstanding and incurred pursuant to this clause (11)(b), does not at any one time outstanding exceed $500.0 million (it being understood that any Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock incurred pursuant to this clause (11)(b) shall cease to be deemed incurred or outstanding for purposes of this clause (11)(b) but shall be deemed incurred for the purposes of Section 4.09(a) from and after the first date on which the Issuer or such Restricted Subsidiary could have incurred such Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock under Section 4.09(a) without reliance on this clause (11)(b));

(12) the incurrence by the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary of Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock which serves to refund or refinance:

(a) any Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock incurred as permitted under Section 4.09(a) and clauses (3), (4), (11)(a) and (13) of this Section 4.09(b), or

(b) any Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock issued to so refund or refinance the Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock described in clause (12)(a) above including, in each case, additional Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock incurred to pay premiums (including tender premiums), accrued and unpaid interest with respect to such Indebtedness,

Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock being refunded or refinanced, defeasance costs and fees and expenses in connection therewith (collectively, the “Refinancing Indebtedness”) prior to its respective maturity; provided, however, that such Refinancing Indebtedness

(A) has a Weighted Average Life to Maturity at the time such Refinancing Indebtedness is incurred which is not less than the remaining Weighted Average Life to Maturity of the Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock being refunded or refinanced,

(B) to the extent such Refinancing Indebtedness refinances (i) Indebtedness subordinated or pari passu to the Notes or any Guarantee thereof, such Refinancing Indebtedness is subordinated or pari passu to the Notes or the Guarantee at least to the same extent as the Indebtedness being refinanced or refunded or (ii) Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock, such Refinancing Indebtedness must be Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock, respectively, and

(C) shall not include:

(i) Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor that refinances Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of the Issuer;

(ii) Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor that refinances Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of a Restricted Guarantor; or

(iii) Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary that refinances Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of an Unrestricted Subsidiary;

and provided, further, that subclause (A) of this clause (12) will not apply to any refunding or refinancing of Indebtedness under a Credit Facility;

(13) Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of (x) the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary incurred to finance an acquisition or (y) Persons that are acquired by the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary or merged into the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary in accordance with the terms of this Indenture; provided that either

(a) such Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock:

(A) is not Secured Indebtedness and is Subordinated Indebtedness;

(B) is not incurred while a Default exists and no Default shall result therefrom; and

(C) matures and does not require any payment of principal prior to the final maturity of the Notes (other than in a manner consistent with the terms of this Indenture); or

---

(b) after giving effect to such acquisition or merger, either

(A) the Issuer would be permitted to incur at least $1.00 of additional Indebtedness pursuant to the Consolidated Leverage Ratio test set forth in the clause (a) of this Section 4.09, or

(B) the Consolidated Leverage Ratio is less than the Consolidated Leverage Ratio immediately prior to such acquisition or merger;

(14) Indebtedness arising from the honoring by a bank or other financial institution of a check, draft or similar instrument drawn against insufficient funds in the ordinary course of business, provided that such Indebtedness is extinguished within two (2) Business Days of its incurrence;

(15) Indebtedness of the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries supported by a letter of credit issued pursuant to the Credit Facilities, in a principal amount not in excess of the stated amount of such letter of credit;

(16) (A) any guarantee by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary of Indebtedness or other obligations of any Restricted Subsidiary so long as the incurrence of such Indebtedness incurred by such Restricted Subsidiary is permitted under the terms of this Indenture, or

(B) any guarantee by a Restricted Subsidiary of Indebtedness of the Issuer; provided that such Restricted Subsidiary shall comply with Section 4.15 hereof;

(17) Indebtedness of Foreign Subsidiaries of the Issuer in an amount not to exceed at any one time outstanding and together with any other Indebtedness incurred under this clause (17) 5.0% of the Foreign Subsidiary Total Assets (it being understood that any Indebtedness incurred pursuant to this clause (17) shall cease to be deemed incurred or outstanding for purposes of this clause (17) but shall be deemed incurred for the purposes of Section 4.09(a) from and after the first date on which such Foreign Subsidiary could have incurred such Indebtedness under Section 4.09(a) without reliance on this clause (17));

(18) Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary incurred to finance or assumed in connection with an acquisition in a principal amount not to exceed $200.0 million in the aggregate at any one time outstanding together with all other Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock and/or Preferred Stock issued under this clause (18) (it being understood that any Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock incurred pursuant to this clause (18) shall cease to be deemed incurred or outstanding for purposes of this clause (18) but shall be deemed incurred for the purposes of Section 4.09(a) from and after the first date on which such Restricted Subsidiary could have incurred such Indebtedness, Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock under Section 4.09(a) without reliance on this clause (18));

(19) Indebtedness consisting of Indebtedness issued by the Issuer or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to future, current or former officers, directors, employees and consultants thereof or any direct or indirect parent thereof, their respective estates, heirs, family members, spouses or former spouses, in each case to finance the purchase or redemption of Equity Interests of the Issuer, a Restricted Subsidiary or any of their respective direct or indirect parent companies to the extent described in clause (4) of Section 4.07(b) hereof; and

(20) cash management obligations and Indebtedness in respect of netting services, employee credit card programs and similar arrangements in connection with cash management and deposit accounts.
